§ 95-76. Institution of foreign suit, etc., evidence of intent to violate.—In any civil or criminal action instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state for any violation of the provisions of §§ 95-73 and 95-74, proof of the institution or prosecution of any action, suit, or proceeding in violation of the provisions of § 95-73, or the issuance of service therein of any warrant of attachment, notice, or garnishment or other like writ for the garnishment of earnings of the defendant therein, or of the payment by the garnishee therein of any final judgment rendered in any such action, suit, or proceeding shall be deemed prima facie evidence of the intent of the creditor or other holder of the debt sued upon to deprive such debtor of his personal earnings and property exempt from application to the payment of his debts under the laws of this state, in violation of the provisions of this article. (1909, c. 504, s. 4; C. S. 6571.)

§ 95-77. Construction of article.—No provision of this article shall be so construed as to deprive any person entitled to its benefits of any legal or equitable remedy already possessed under the laws of this state. (1909, c. 504, s. 5; C. S. 6572.)

Art. 1. Unemployment Compensation Commission.

§ 96-1. Title. — This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Unemployment Compensation Law." (Ex. Sess., 1936, c. 1, s. 1.)

§ 96-2. Declaration of state public policy. — As a guide to the interpretation and application of this chapter, the public policy of this state is declared to be as follows: Economic insecurity due to unemployment is a serious menace to the health, morals, and welfare of the people of this state. Involuntary unemployment is therefore a subject of general interest and concern which requires appropriate action by the legislature to prevent its spread and to lighten its burden which now so often falls with crushing force upon the unemployed worker and his family. The achievement of social security requires protection against this greatest hazard of our economic life. This can be provided by encouraging employers to provide more stable employment and by the systematic accumulation of funds during periods of employment to provide benefits for periods of unemployment, thus maintaining purchasing power and limiting the serious social consequences of poor relief assistance. The legislature, therefore, declares that in its considered judgment the public good and the general welfare of the citizens of this state require the enactment of this measure, under the police powers of the state, for the compulsory setting aside of unemployment reserves to be used for the benefit of persons unemployed through no fault of their own. (Ex. Sess., 1936, c. 1, s. 2.)

§ 96-3. Unemployment compensation commission.—(a) Organization.—There is hereby created a commission to be known as the unemployment compensation commission of North Carolina. The commission shall consist of seven (7) members to be appointed by the governor on or before July 1, 1941. The governor shall have the power to designate the member of said commission who shall act as the chairman thereof. The chairman of the commission shall not engage in any other business, vocation or employment, and no member of the commision shall serve as an officer or a committee member of any political party organization. Three (3) members of the commission shall be appointed by the governor to serve for a term of two (2) years. Three (3) members shall be appointed to serve for a term of four (4) years, and upon the expiration of the respective terms, the successors of said members shall be appointed for a term of four (4) years each, thereafter, and the member of said commission designated by the governor as chairman shall be appointed for a term of four (4) years from and after his appointment. Any member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring in any of the appointments made by the governor prior to the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed shall be appointed for the remainder of such term. The governor may at any time after notice and hearing, remove any commissioner for gross inefficiency, neglect of duty, malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance in office.

(b) Divisions.—The commission shall establish two co-ordinate divisions: the North Carolina state employment service division, created pursuant to § 96-20, and the unemployment compensation division. Each division shall be responsible for the discharge of its distinctive functions. Each division shall be a separate administrative unit with respect to personnel and duties, except in so far as the commission may find that such separation is impracticable.

(c) Salaries.—The chairman of the unemployment compensation commission of North Carolina, appointed by the governor, shall be paid from the unemployment compensation administration fund a salary payable on a monthly basis, which salary shall be fixed by the governor with the approval of the council of state; and the members of the commission other than the chairman shall each receive ten dollars ($10) per day while engaged in the discharge of the duties of his office and his actual traveling expenses, the same to be paid from the aforesaid fund.

(d) Quorum.—The chairman and three (3) members of the commission shall constitute a quorum. (Ex. Sess., 1936, c. 1, s. 10; 1941, c. 108, s. 10, c. 279, ss. 1-3.)

§ 96-4. Administration.—(a) Duties and Powers of Commission. — It shall be the duty of the commission to administer this chapter. The commission shall meet at least once in each sixty days and may hold special meetings at any time at the call of the chairman or any three (3) members of the commission, and the commission shall have power and authority to adopt, amend, or rescind such rules and regulations, to employ such persons, make such expenditures, require such reports, make such investigations, and take such other action as it deems necessary or suitable in the administration of this chapter. Such rules and regulations shall be effective upon publication in the manner, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, which the commission shall prescribe. The commission shall determine its own organization and methods of procedure in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and shall have an official seal which shall be judicially noticed. The chairman of said commission shall, except as otherwise provided by the commission, be vested with all authority of the commission when the commission is not in session and shall execute all orders, rules and regulations established by said commission. Not later than the first day of February of each year, the commission shall submit to the governor a report covering the administration and operation of this chapter during the preceding calendar year, and shall make such recommendations for amendments to this chapter as the commission deems proper. Such report shall include a balance sheet of the moneys in the fund in which there shall be provided, if possible, a reserve against the liability in future years to pay benefits in excess of the then current contributions which reserve shall be set up by the commission in accordance with accepted actuarial principles on the basis of statistics of employment, business activity, and other relevant factors for the longest possible period. Whenever the commission believes that a change in contribution or benefit rates will become necessary to protect the solvency of the fund, it shall promptly so inform the governor and the legislature, and make recommendations with respect thereto.

(b) Regulations and General and Special Rules. —General and special rules may be adopted, amended, or rescinded by the commission only after public hearing or opportunity to be heard thereon, of which proper notice has been given by mail to the last known address in cases of special rules, or by publication as herein provided, and by one publication as herein provided as to general rules. General rules shall become effective ten days after filing with the secretary of state and publication in one or more newspapers of general circulation in this state. Special rules shall become effective ten days after notification to or mailing to the last known address of the individuals or concerns affected thereby. Regulations may be adopted, amended, or rescinded by the commission and shall become effective in the manner and at the time prescribed by the commission.

(c) Publication.—The commission shall cause to be printed for distribution to the public the text of this chapter, the commission's regulations and general rules, its annual reports to the governor, and any other material the commission deems relevant and suitable, and shall furnish the same to any person upon application therefor.

(d) Personnel.—Subject to other provisions of this chapter, the commission is authorized to appoint, fix the compensation, and prescribe the duties and powers of such officers, accountants, attorneys, experts, and other persons as may be necessary in the performance of its duties. It shall provide for the holding of examinations to determine the qualifications of applicants for the positions so classified, and except for temporary appointments, not to exceed six months in duration, shall appoint its personnel on the basis of efficiency and fitness as determined in such examinations; provided, however, that under any merit system provided, the employees of the commission who have given satisfactory service for a period of six months prior to certification of eligible employees under a merit system shall be certified as eligible for their present position without examination, and the commission may retain such employees in such position as they may hold at the time of the certification. All positions shall be filled by persons selected and appointed on a non-partisan merit basis. The commission shall not employ or pay any person who is an officer or committee member of any political party organization. The commission may delegate to any such person so appointed such power and authority as it deems reasonable and proper for the effective administration of this chapter, and may, in its discretion, bond any person handling moneys or signing checks hereunder.

(e) Local Advisory Councils.—The commission shall appoint local advisory councils composed in each case of an equal number of employer representatives and employee representatives who may fairly be regarded as representatives because of their vocation, employment, affiliations, and of such members representing the general public as the commission may designate. Such councils shall aid the commission in formulating policies and discussing problems related to the administration of this chapter, and in assuring impartiality and freedom from political influence in the solution of such problems. Such local advisory councils shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for any necessary expenses.

(f) Employment Stabilization. — The commission, with the advice and aid of its advisory councils, and through its appropriate divisions, shall take all appropriate steps to reduce and prevent unemployment; to encourage and assist in the adoption of practical methods of vocational training, retraining and vocational guidance; to investigate, recommend, advise, and assist in the establishment and operation, by municipalities, counties, school districts, and the state, of reserves for public works to be used in times of business depression and unemployment; to promote the re-employment of unemployed workers throughout the state in every other way that may be feasible; and to these ends to carry on and publish the results of investigations and research studies.

(g) Records and Reports. — Each employing unit shall keep true and accurate employment records, containing such information as the commission may prescribe. Such records shall be open to inspection and be subject to being copied by the commission or its authorized representatives at any reasonable time and as often as may be necessary. The commission may require from any employing unit any sworn or unsworn reports, with respect to persons employed by it, which the commission deems necessary for the effective administration of this chapter. Information thus obtained shall not be published or be open to public inspection (other than to public employees in the performance of their public duties) in any manner revealing the employing unit's identity, but any claimant at a hearing before an appeal tribunal or the commission shall be supplied with information from such records to the extent necessary for the proper presentation of his claim. Any employee or member of the commission who violates any provision of this section shall be fined not less than twenty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or imprisoned for not longer than ninety days, or both. All reports, statements, information and communications of every character so made or given to the commission, its deputies, agents, examiners and employees, whether same be written, oral or in the form of testimony at any hearing, or whether obtained by the commission from the employing unit's books and records shall be absolute privileged communications in any civil or criminal proceedings other than proceedings instituted pursuant to this chapter and proceedings involving the administration of this chapter; provided, nothing herein contained shall operate to relieve any employing unit from disclosing any information required by this chapter or as prescribed by the commission involving the administration of this chapter.

(h) Oaths and Witnesses.—In the discharge of the duties imposed by this chapter, the chairman of an appeal tribunal and any duly authorized representative or member of the commission shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, take depositions, certify to official acts, and issue subpœnas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and other records deemed necessary as evidence in connection with a disputed claim or the administration of this chapter.

(i) Subpœnas.—In case of contumacy by, or refusal to obey a subpœna issued to any person, any court of this state, within the jurisdiction of which the inquiry is carried on or within the jurisdiction of which said person guilty of contumacy or refusal to obey is found or resides or transacts business, upon application by the commission or its duly authorized representative, shall have jurisdiction to issue to such person an order requiring such person to appear before a commissioner, the commission, or its duly authorized representative, there to produce evidence if so ordered, or there to give testimony touching the matter under investigation or in question; and any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by said court as a contempt thereof. Any person who shall without just cause fail or refuse to attend and testify or to answer any lawful inquiry or to produce books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and other records, if it is in his power so to do, in obedience to a subpœna of the commission, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day such violation continues shall be deemed to be a separate offense.

(j) Protection against Self-Incrimination. — No person shall be excused from attending and testifying or from producing books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and other records before the commission or in obedience to the subpœna of the commission or any member thereof, or any duly authorized representative of the commission, in any cause or proceeding before the commission, on the ground that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture; but no individual shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he is compelled, after having claimed his privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, except that such individual so testifying shall not be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

(k) State-Federal Co-Operation.—In the administration of this chapter, the commission shall cooperate, to the fullest extent consistent with the provisions of this chapter, with the social security board, created by the Social Security Act, approved August fourteenth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, as amended; shall make such reports, in such form and containing such information as the social security board may from time to time require, and shall comply with such provisions as the social security board may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports; and shall comply with the regulations prescribed by the social security board governing the expenditures of such sums as may be allotted and paid to this state under Title III of the Social Security Act for the purpose of assisting in the administration of this chapter. The commission shall further make its records available to the railroad retirement board, created by the Railroad Retirement Act and the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, and shall furnish to the railroad retirement board at the expense of the railroad retirement board, such copies thereof as the board shall deem necessary for its purposes in accordance with the provisions of section three hundred three (c) of the Social Security Act as amended.

Upon request therefor, the commission shall furnish to any agency of the United States charged with the administration of public works or assistance through public employment, the name, address, ordinary occupation, and employment status of each recipient of benefits, and such recipient's rights to further benefits under this chapter.

(l) Reciprocal Benefit Arrangements. — The commission is hereby authorized to enter into arrangements with the appropriate agencies of other states or the federal government whereby potential rights to benefits accumulated under the unemployment compensation laws of several states or under such a law of the federal government, or both, may constitute the basis for the payment of benefits through a single appropriate agency under terms which the commission finds will be fair and reasonable as to all affected interests and will not result in any substantial loss to the fund.

(m) The commission after due notice shall have the right and power to hold and conduct hearings for the purpose of determining the rights, status and liabilities of any "employing unit" or "employer" as said terms are defined by § 96-8(e) and § 96-8(f) and subsections thereunder of this chapter. The commission shall have the power and authority to determine any and all questions and issues of fact or questions of law that may arise under the Unemployment Compensation Law that may affect the rights, liabilities and status of any employing unit or employer as heretofore defined by the Unemployment Compensation Law including the right to determine the amount of contributions, if any, which may be due the commission by any employer. All hearings shall be conducted and held at the office of the commission and shall be open to the public and shall be stenographically reported and the commission shall provide for the preparation of a record of all hearings and other proceedings. The commission may provide for the taking of evidence by a deputy in which event he shall swear or cause the witnesses to be sworn and shall transmit all testimony to the commission for its determination. From all decisions or determinations made by the commission any party affected thereby shall be entitled to an appeal to the superior court. Before such party shall be allowed to appeal, he shall within ten days after notice of such decision or determination, file with the commission exceptions to the decision or the determination of the commission, which exceptions will state the grounds of objection to such decision or determination. If any one of such exceptions shall be overruled then such party may appeal from the order overruling the exceptions, and shall, within ten days after the decision overruling the exceptions, give notice of his appeal. When an exception is made to the facts as found by the commission, the appeal shall be to the superior court in term time but the decision or determination of the commission upon such review in the superior court shall be conclusive and binding as to all questions of fact supported by any competent evidence. When an exception is made to any rulings of law, as determined by the commission, the appeal shall be to the judge of the superior court at chambers. The party appealing shall, within ten days after the notice of appeal has been served, file with the commission exceptions to the decision or determination overruling the exception which statement shall assign the errors complained of and the grounds of the appeal. Upon the filing of such statement the commission shall, within ten days, transmit all the papers and evidence considered by it, together with the assignments of errors filed by the appellant to a judge of the superior court holding court or residing in some district in which such appellant either resides, maintains a place of business or conducts business. If there be no exceptions to any facts as found by the commission the facts so found shall be binding upon the court and it shall be heard by the judge at chambers at some place in the district, above mentioned, of which all parties shall have ten days notice.

(n) The cause shall be entitled "State of North Carolina on Relationship of the Unemployment Compensation Commission of North Carolina against (here insert name of appellant)," and if there are exceptions to any facts found by the commission it shall be placed on the civil issue docket of such court and shall have precedence over other civil actions except those described in § 96-10(b), and such cause shall be tried under such rules and regulations as are prescribed for the trial of other civil causes. By consent of all parties the appeal may be held and determined at chambers before any judge of a district in which the appellant either resides, maintains a place of business or conducts business, or said appeal may be heard before any judge holding court therein, or in any district in which the appellant either resides, maintains a place of business or conducts business. Either party may appeal to the supreme court from the judgment of the superior court under the same rules and regulations as are prescribed by law for appeals, except that if an appeal shall be taken on behalf of the Unemployment Compensation Commission of North Carolina it shall not be required to give any undertaking or make any deposit to secure the cost of such appeal and such court may advance the cause on its docket so as to give the same a speedy hearing.

(o) The decision or determination of the commission when docketed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of any county and when properly indexed and cross indexed shall have the same force and effect as a judgment rendered by the superior court, and if it shall be adjudged in the decision or determination of the commission that any employer is indebted to the commission for contributions, penalties and interest or either of the same, then said judgment shall constitute a lien upon any realty owned by said employer in the county only from the date of docketing of such decision or determination in the office of the clerk of the superior court and upon personalty owned by said employer in said county only from the date of levy on such personalty, and upon the execution thereon no homestead or personal property exemptions shall be allowed; provided, that nothing herein shall affect any rights accruing to the commission under § 96-10. The provisions of this section, however, shall not have the effect of releasing any liens for contributions, penalties or interest, or either of the same, imposed by other law, nor shall they have the effect of postponing the payment of said contributions, penalties or interest, or depriving the said Unemployment Compensation Commission of North Carolina of any priority in order of payment provided in any other statute under which payment of the said contributions, penalties and interest or either of the same may be required. The superior court or any appellate court shall have full power and authority to issue any and all executions, orders, decrees, or writs that may be necessary to carry out the terms of said decision or determination of the commission or to collect any amount of contribution, penalty or interest adjudged to be due the commission by said decision or determination. In case of an appeal from any decision or determination of the commission to the superior court or from any judgment of the superior court to the supreme court all proceedings to enforce said judgment, decision, or determination shall be stayed until final determination of such appeal but no proceedings for the collection of any amount of contribution, penalty or interest due on same shall be suspended or stayed unless the employer or party adjudged to pay the same shall file with the clerk of the superior court a bond in such amount not exceeding double the amount of contribution, penalty, interest or amount due and with such sureties as the clerk of the superior court deems necessary conditioned upon the payment of the contribution, penalty, interest or amount due when the appeal shall be finally decided or terminated.

(p) The conduct of hearings shall be governed by suitable rules and regulations established by the commission. The manner in which appeals and hearings shall be presented and conducted before the commission shall be governed by suitable rules and regulations established by it. The commission shall not be bound by common law or statutory rules of evidence or by technical or formal rules of procedure but shall conduct hearings in such manner as to ascertain the substantial rights of the parties.

(q) All subpoenas for witnesses to appear before the commission, and all notices to employing units, employers, persons, firms or corporations shall be issued by the commission or its secretary and be directed to any sheriff, constable or to the marshal of any city or town, who shall execute the same and make due return thereof as directed therein, under the penalties prescribed by law for a failure to execute and return the process of any court. All bonds or undertakings required to be given for the purpose of suspending or staying execution shall be payable to the Unemployment Compensation Commission of North Carolina, and may be sued on as are other undertakings which are payable to the state.

(r) None of the provisions or sections herein set forth in this amendment shall have the force and effect nor shall the same be construed or interpreted as repealing any of the provisions of § 96-15 which provide for the procedure and determination of all claims for benefits and such claims for benefits shall be prosecuted and determined as provided by said § 96-15. (Ex. Sess., 1936, c. 1, s. 11; 1939, c. 2, c. 27, s. 8, c. 52, s. 5, cc. 207, 209; 1941, c. 279, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 96-5. Unemployment compensation administration fund.—(a) Special Fund.—There is hereby created in the state treasury a special fund to be known as the unemployment compensation administration fund. All moneys which are deposited or paid into this fund shall be continuously available to the commission for expenditure in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and shall not lapse at any time or be transferred to any other fund. The unemployment compensation administration fund, except as otherwise provided in this chapter, shall be subject to the provisions of the Executive Budget Act (§ 143-1 et seq.) and the Personnel Act (§ 143-35 et seq.). All moneys in this fund which are received from the federal government or any agency thereof or which are appropriated by this state for the purpose described in § 96-20 shall be expended solely for the purposes and in the amounts found necessary by the Social Security Board for the proper and efficient administration of this chapter. The fund shall consist of all moneys appropriated by this state, all moneys received from the United States of America, or any agency thereof, including the Social Security Board, and all moneys received from any other source for such purpose, and shall also include any moneys received from any agency of the United States or any other state as compensation for services or facilities supplied to such agency, any amounts received pursuant to any surety bond or insurance policy or from other sources for losses sustained by the unemployment compensation administration fund or by reason of damage to equipment or supplies purchased from moneys in such fund, and any proceeds realized from the sale or disposition of any such equipment or supplies which may no longer be necessary for the proper administration of this chapter. All moneys in this fund shall be deposited, administered, and disbursed in the same manner and under the same conditions and requirements as is provided by law for other special funds in the state treasury, and shall be maintained in a separate account on the books of the state treasury. The state treasurer shall be liable on his official bond for the faithful performance of his duties in connection with the unemployment compensation administration fund provided for under this chapter. Such liability on the official bond shall be effective immediately upon the enactment of this provision, and such liability shall exist in addition to any liability upon any separate bond existent on the effective date of this provision, or which may be given in the future. All sums recovered on any surety bond for losses sustained by the unemployment compensation administration fund shall be deposited in said fund.

(b) Replacement of Funds Lost or Improperly Expended.—If any moneys received after June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, from the Social Security Board under Title III of the Social Security Act, or any unencumbered balances in the unemployment compensation administration fund as of that date, or any moneys granted after that date to this state pursuant to the provisions of the Wagner-Peyser Act, or any moneys made available by this state or its political subdivisions and matched by such moneys granted to this state pursuant to the provisions of the Wagner-Peyser Act, are found by the Social Security Board, because of any action or contingency, to have been lost or been expended for purposes other than, or in amounts in excess of, those found necessary by the Social Security Board for the proper administration of this chapter, it is the policy of this state that such moneys shall be replaced by moneys appropriated for such purpose from the general funds of this state to the unemployment compensation administration fund for expenditure as provided in subsection (a) of this section. Upon receipt of notice of such a finding by the Social Security Board, the commission shall promptly report the amount required for such replacement to the governor and the governor shall at the earliest opportunity, submit to the legislature a request for the appropriation of such amount. This subsection shall not be construed to relieve this state of its obligation with respect to funds received prior to July first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, pursuant to the provisions of Title III of the Social Security Act. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 13; 1941, c. 108, ss. 12, 13.)

§ 96-6. Unemployment compensation fund. — (a) Establishment and Control.—There is hereby established as a special fund, separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this state, an unemployment compensation fund, which shall be administered by the commission exclusively for the purposes of this chapter. This fund shall consist of (1) all contributions collected under this chapter, together with any interest thereon collected pursuant to § 96-10; (2) all fines and penalties collected pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; (3) interest earned upon any moneys in the fund; (4) any property or securities acquired through the use of moneys belonging to the fund; and (5) all earnings of such property or securities. All moneys in the fund shall be mingled and undivided, except that within the unemployment compensation fund "reserve accounts" and a "partially pooled account" shall be maintained as provided in § 96-9. To the "reserve accounts" established under § 96-9 shall be credited such portion of the contributions computed as provided in § 96-9, and the "partially pooled account" to be credited with the balance of such contributions paid as well as the remaining portions and additions thereto of the unemployment compensation fund which have not heretofore been set aside as employer "reserve accounts" within the fund under prior amendments to this chapter. Provided, however, that the "partially pooled account" established hereunder and the "reserve accounts of employer," as defined by section one (a) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, shall be subject to such withdrawals and transfers as are provided for by this section.

(b) Accounts and Deposit.—The state treasurer shall be ex officio the treasurer and custodian of the fund who shall disburse such fund in accordance with the directions of the commission and in accordance with such regulations as the commission shall prescribe. He shall maintain within the fund three separate accounts: (1) a clearing account, (2) an unemployment trust fund account, and (3) a benefit account. All moneys payable to the fund, upon receipt thereof by the commission, shall be forwarded immediately to the treasurer who shall immediately deposit them in the clearing account. Refunds payable pursuant to § 96-10 may be paid from the clearing account upon warrants issued upon the treasurer by the state auditor under the requisition of the commission. After clearance thereof, all other moneys in the clearing account shall be immediately deposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America to the credit of the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund, established and maintained pursuant to section nine hundred and four of the Social Security Act, as amended, any provision of law in this state relating to the deposit, administration, release, or disbursement of moneys in the possession or custody of this state to the contrary notwithstanding. The benefit account shall consist of all moneys requisitioned from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund. Moneys in the clearing and benefit accounts may be deposited by the treasurer, under the direction of the commission, in any bank or public depository in which general funds of the state may be deposited, but no public deposit insurance charge or premium shall be paid out of the fund. The treasurer shall give a separate bond, conditioned upon the faithful performance of those duties as custodian of the fund, in an amount fixed by the commission and in a form prescribed by law or approved by the attorney-general. Premiums for said bond shall be paid from the administration fund.

(c) Withdrawals. — Moneys shall be requisitioned from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund solely for the payment of benefits and in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commission. The commission shall, from time to time, requisition from the unemployment trust fund such amounts, not exceeding the amounts standing to its account therein, as it deems necessary for the payment of benefits for a reasonable future period. Upon receipt thereof the treasurer shall deposit such moneys in the benefit account and shall pay all warrants drawn thereon by the state auditor requisitioned by the commission for the payment of benefits solely from such benefit account. Expenditures of such moneys in the benefit account and refunds from the clearing account shall not be subject to approval of the budget bureau or any provisions of law requiring specific appropriations or other formal release by state officers of money in their custody. All warrants issued upon the treasurer for the payment of benefits and refunds shall bear the signature of the state auditor, as requisitioned by a member of the commission or its duly authorized agent for that purpose. Any balance of moneys requisitioned from the unemployment trust fund which remains unclaimed or unpaid in the benefit account after the expiration of the period for which such sums were requisitioned shall either be deducted from estimates for, and may be utilized for the payment of, benefits during succeeding periods, or, in the discretion of the commission, shall be re-deposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America, to the credit of this state's account in the unemployment trust fund, as provided in subsection (b) of this section.

(d) Management of Funds upon Discontinuance of Unemployment Trust Fund.—The provisions of subsections (a), (b), and (c), to the extent that they relate to the unemployment trust fund, shall be operative only so long as such unemployment trust fund continues to exist, and so long as the secretary of the treasury of the United States of America continues to maintain for this state a separate book account of all funds deposited therein by this state for benefit purposes, together with this state's proportionate share of the earnings of such unemployment trust fund, from which no other state is permitted to make withdrawals. If and when such unemployment trust fund ceases to exist, or such separate book account is no longer maintained, all moneys, properties, or securities therein belonging to the unemployment compensation fund of this state shall be transferred to the treasurer of the unemployment compensation fund, who shall hold, invest, transfer, sell, deposit, and release such moneys, properties, or securities in a manner approved by the commission, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter: Provided, that such moneys shall be invested in the following readily marketable classes of securities: Bonds or other interest-bearing obligations of the United States of America or such investments as are now permitted by law for sinking funds of the state of North Carolina; and provided further, that such investment shall at all times be so made that all the assets of the fund shall always be readily convertible into cash when needed for the payment of benefits. The treasurer shall dispose of securities or other properties belonging to the unemployment compensation fund only under the direction of the commission.

(e) Benefits shall be deemed to be due and payable under this chapter only to the extent provided in this chapter and to the extent that moneys are available therefor to the credit of the unemployment compensation fund, and neither the state nor the commission shall be liable for any amount in excess of such sums. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, ss. 9, 18; 1939, c. 27, s. 7, c. 52, s. 4, c. 208; 1941, c. 108.)

§ 96-7. Representation in court.—(a) In any civil action to enforce the provisions of this chapter, the commission and the state may be represented by any qualified attorney who is designated by it for this purpose.

(b) All criminal actions for violation of any provision of this chapter, or of any rules or regulations issued pursuant thereto, shall be prosecuted as now provided by law by the solicitor or by the prosecuting attorney of any county or city in which the violation occurs. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 17; 1937, c. 150.)

Art. 2. Unemployment Compensation Division.

§ 96-8. Definitions.—As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) (1) On and after January first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, "annual pay roll" means the total amount of wages paid by an employer (regardless of the time of payment) for employment during a calendar year.

(2) "Average annual pay roll" means the average of the annual pay rolls of any employer for the last three or five preceding calendar years, whichever average is higher.

(b) "Benefits" means the money payments payable to an individual, as provided in this chapter, with respect to his unemployment.

(c) "Commission" means the unemployment compensation commission established by this chapter.

(d) "Contributions" means the money payments to the state unemployment compensation fund required by this chapter.

(e) "Employing unit" means any individual or type of organization, including any partnership, association, trust, estate, joint-stock company, insurance company, or corporation, whether domestic or foreign, or the receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, trustee or successor thereof, or the legal representative of a deceased person which has, on or subsequent to January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, had in its employ one or more individuals performing services for it within this state. All individuals performing services within this state for any employing unit which maintains two or more separate establishments within this state shall be deemed to be employed by a single employing unit for all the purposes of this chapter. Whenever any employing unit contracts with or has under it any contractor or subcontractor for any employment which is part of its usual trade, occupation, profession, or business, unless the employing unit as well as each such contractor or subcontractor is an employer by reason of subsection (f) of this section, or § 96-11 (c), the employing unit shall, for all the purposes of this chapter, be deemed to employ each individual in the employ of each such contractor or subcontractor for each day during which such individual is engaged in performing such employment, except that each such contractor or subcontractor who is an employer by reason of subsection (f) of this section or § 96-11 (c) shall alone be liable for the contributions measured by wages paid to individuals in his employ, and except that any employing unit who shall become liable for and pay contributions with respect to individuals in the employ of any such contractor or subcontractor who is not an employer by reason of subsection (f) of this section or § 96-11

(c), may recover the same from such contractor or subcontractor. Each individual employed to perform or to assist in performing the work of any agent or employee of an employing unit shall be deemed to be employed by such employing unit for all the purposes of this chapter, whether such individual was hired or paid directly by such employing unit or by such agent or employee, provided the employing unit had actual or constructive knowledge of such work: Provided, however, that nothing herein, on or after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, shall be construed to apply to that part of the business of such "employers" as may come within the meaning of that term as it is defined in section one (a) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.

(f) "Employer" means (1) Any employing unit which in each of twenty different weeks within either the current or the preceding calendar year (whether or not such weeks are or were consecutive) has, or had in employment, eight or more individuals (not necessarily simultaneously and irrespective of whether the same individuals are or were employed in each such week);

(2) Any employing unit which acquired the organization, trade or business or substantially all the assets thereof, of another which at the time of such acquisition was an employer subject to this chapter;

(3) Any employing unit which acquired the organization, trade, or business, or substantially all the assets thereof, of another employing unit and which, if treated as a single unit with such other employing unit, would be an employer under paragraph (1) of this subsection;

(4) Any employing unit which, having become an employer under paragraphs (1), (2), or (3), has not, under § 96-11, ceased to be an employer subject to this chapter; or

(5) For the effective period of its election pursuant to § 96-11 (c) any other employing unit which has elected to become fully subject to this chapter.

(g) (1) "Employment" means service, including service in interstate commerce, except "employment" as defined in the Railroad Retirement Act and the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, performed for remuneration or under any contract of hire, written or oral, express or implied.

(2) The term "employment" shall include an individual's entire service, performed within or both within and without this state if:

(A) The service is localized in this state; or

(B) The service is not localized in any state but some of the service is performed in this state, and (i) the base of operations, or, if there is no base of operations, then the place from which such service is directed or controlled, is in this state; or (ii) the base of operations or place from which such service is directed or controlled is not in any state in which some part of the service is performed, but the individual's residence is in this state.

(3) Services performed within this state but not covered under paragraph (2) of this subsection shall be deemed to be employment subject to this chapter, if contributions are not required and paid with respect to such services under an unemployment compensation law of any other state or of the federal government.

(4) Services not covered under paragraph (2) of this subsection, and performed entirely without this state, with respect to no part of which contributions are required and paid under an unemployment compensation law of any other state or of the federal government, shall be deemed to be employment subject to this chapter if the individual performing such service is a resident of this state and the commission approves the election of the employing unit for whom such services are performed that the entire service of such individual shall be deemed to be employment subject to this chapter.

(5) Service shall be deemed to be localized within a state if

(A) The service is performed entirely within such state; or

(B) The service is performed both within and without such state, but the service performed without such state is incidental to the individual's service within the state; for example, is temporary or transitory in nature or consists of isolated transactions.

(6) Services performed by an individual for remuneration shall be deemed to be employment subject to this chapter unless and until it is shown to the satisfaction of the commission that:

(A) Such individual has been and will continue to be free from control or direction over the performance of such services, both under his contract of service and in fact; and

(B) Such service is either outside the usual course of the business for which such service is performed, or that such service is performed outside of all the places of business of the enterprise for which such service is performed; and

(C) Such individual is customarily engaged in an independently established trade, occupation, profession, or business.

(7) The term "employment" shall not include:

(A) Service performed in the employ of this state, or of any political subdivision thereof, or of any instrumentality of this state or its political subdivisions;

(B) Service performed in the employ of any other state or its political subdivisions, or of the United States government, or of an instrumentality of any other state or states or their political subdivisions or of the United States. From and after March 10, 1941, service performed in the employ of the United States government or an instrumentality of the United States exempt under the Constitution of the United States from the contributions imposed by this chapter, except that to the extent that the Congress of the United States shall permit states to require any instrumentalities of the United States to make payments into an unemployment fund under a State Unemployment Compensation Law, all of the provisions of this Chapter shall be applicable to such instrumentalities, and to services performed for such instrumentalities, in the same manner, to the same extent and on the same terms as to all other employers, employing units, individuals and services: Provided, that if this state shall not be certified for any year by the Social Security Board under section one thousand six hundred and three (c) of the Federal Internal Revenue Code, the payments required of such instrumentalities with respect to such year shall be refunded by the commission from the fund in the same manner and within the same period as is provided in § 96-10(e) with respect to contributions erroneously collected.

(C) Service with respect to which unemployment compensation is payable under an unemployment compensation system established by an act of congress: Provided, that the commission is hereby authorized and directed to enter into agreements with the proper agencies under such act of congress, which agreements shall become effective ten days after publication thereof in the manner provided in § 96-4 (b) for general rules, to provide reciprocal treatment to individuals who have, after acquiring potential rights to benefits under this chapter, acquired rights to unemployment compensation under act of congress, or who have, after acquiring potential rights to unemployment compensation under such act of congress, acquired rights to benefits under this chapter;

(D) Agricultural labor;

(E) Domestic service in a private home;

(F) Service performed as an officer or member of the crew of a vessel on the navigable waters of the United States;

(G) Service performed by an individual in the employ of his son, daughter, or spouse, and service performed by a child under the age of twenty-one in the employ of his father or mother;

(H) Service performed in the employ of a corporation, community chest, fund, or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual;

(I) Service performed on and after March 10, 1941 by an individual for an employing unit or an employer as an insurance agent or as an insurance solicitor or as a securities salesman if all such service performed by such individual for such employing unit or employer is performed for remuneration solely by way of commission;

(J) From and after March 10, 1941 service performed in any calendar quarter by any officer, individual or commiteeman of any building and loan association organized under the laws of this state, or any federal savings and loan association, where the remuneration for such service does not exceed forty-five dollars in any calendar quarter;

(K) From and after March 10, 1941 service in connection with the collection of dues or premiums for a fraternal benefit society, order or association performed away from the home office, or its ritulistic service in connection with any such society, order or associations;

(L) Service performed by an individual under the age of eighteen in the delivery or distribution of newspapers or shopping news, not including delivery or distribution to any point for subsequent delivery or distribution.

(h) "Employment office" means a free public employment office, or branch thereof, operated by this state or maintained as a part of a state-controlled system of public employment offices.

(i) "Fund" means the unemployment compensation fund established by this chapter, to which all contributions required and from which all benefits provided under this chapter shall be paid.

(j) "State" includes, in addition to the states of the United States of America, Alaska, Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(k) "Total and partial unemployment."

(1) An individual shall be deemed "totally unemployed" in any week with respect to which no remuneration is payable to him and during which he performs no services (other than odd jobs or subsidiary work for which no remuneration, as used in this subsection, is payable to him).

(2) An individual shall be deemed "partially unemployed" in any week in which he has worked less than sixty per cent of scheduled full-time work for the industry or plant in which the individual was last employed and if his remuneration payable for such week is less than the ineligible amount shown in Column III of the table set forth in § 96-12 (b).

(3) As used in this sub-section, the term "remuneration" shall include only that part of remuneration for odd jobs or subsidiary work, or both, which is in excess of $3.00 in any one week.

(4) An individual's week of unemployment shall be deemed to commence only after his registration at an employment office, except as the commission may by regulation otherwise prescribe.

(l) "Unemployment compensation administration fund" means the unemployment compensation administration fund established by this chapter, from which administrative expenses under this chapter shall be paid.

(m) From and after March 10, 1941, "wages" means all remuneration for services from whatever source.

(n) From and after March 10, 1941, "wages" shall include commissions and bonuses and the cash value of all remuneration in any medium other than cash. Gratuities customarily received by an individual in the course of his work from persons other than his employing unit shall be treated as wages received from his employing unit. The reasonable cash value of remuneration in any medium other than cash, and the reasonable amount of gratuities, shall be estimated and determined in accordance with rules prescribed by the commission: Provided, that the term "wages" shall not include the amount of any payment with respect to services performed from and after March 10, 1941 to, or on behalf of, an individual in its employ under a plan or system established by an employing unit which makes provision for individuals in its employ generally or for a class or classes of such individuals (including any amount paid by an employing unit for insurance or annuities, or into a fund, to provide for any such payment), on account of (A) retirement, or (B) sickness or accident disability, or (C) medical and hospitalization expenses in connection with sickness or accident disability, or (D) death: Provided, the individual in its employ (i) has not the option to receive, instead of provision for such death benefit, any part of such payment, or, if such death benefit is insured, any part of the premiums (or contributions to premiums) paid by his employing unit, and (ii) has not the right under the provisions of the plan or system or policy of insurance providing for such death benefit, to assign such benefit, or to receive cash consideration in lieu of such benefit either upon his withdrawal from the plan or system providing for such benefit or upon termination of such plan or system or policy of insurance or of his services with such employing unit.

(o) "Week" means such period or periods of seven consecutive calendar days ending at midnight as the commission may by regulations prescribe.

(p) "Calendar quarter" means the period of three consecutive calendar months ending on March thirty-first, June thirtieth, September thirtieth or December thirty-first, excluding, however, any calendar quarter or portion thereof which occurs prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, or the equivalent thereof as the commission may by regulation prescribe.

(q) "Weekly benefit amount." An individual's "weekly benefit amount" means the amount of benefits he would be entitled to receive for one week of total unemployment.

(r) "Benefit year" with respect to any individual who is otherwise eligible means the three hundred and sixty-five (or three hundred and sixty-six if February 29th is included in the year) consecutive day period beginning with the first day on which the claimant registered for work and filed a claim for benefits for total unemployment, or beginning with the day of the week in which the claimant was partially unemployed as defined herein and with respect to which a claim is filed, and thereafter the next benefit year shall be the next three hundred and sixty-five (or three hundred and sixty-six if February twenty-ninth is included in the year) consecutive day period beginning with the first day on which the claimant registers for work and files a claim for benefits for total unemployment or beginning with the day of the week in which the claimant was partially unemployed as defined herein and with respect to which a claim is filed, provided, however, that any individual whose employment under this chapter prior to July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, shall have been for an employer subject after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, to the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act and some other employer subject to this chapter, such individual's benefit year, if established before July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, shall terminate on that date and if again unemployed after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, he shall establish another benefit year after such date with respect to employment subject to this chapter.

(s) For benefit years beginning on or after February fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, the term "base period" shall mean the completed calendar year immediately preceding the first day of an individual's benefit year as defined in subsection (r) of this section, if the benefit year begins subsequent to July first; and if the benefit year begins prior to July first, the base period shall be the next to the last completed calendar year, notwithstanding the fact that an otherwise eligible individual may have exhausted wage credits to his account prior to February fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, for any such calendar year. Except that for weeks of unemployment of any individual after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, who has worked in employment for an employer which after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, is subject to the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, then only the wages payable to such an individual earned in employment during the base period for an employer other than one subject to the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act shall be used in determining his weekly benefit amount after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

(t) Wages payable to an individual with respect to covered employment performed prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, shall, for the purpose of § 96-12 and § 96-9, be deemed to be wages paid within the calendar quarter with respect to which such wages were payable. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 19; 1937, c. 448, s. 5; 1939, c. 27, ss. 11-13, c. 52, ss. 6, 7, c. 141; 1941, cc. 108, 198.)

§ 96-9. Contributions. — (a) Payment.—(1) On and after January 1, 1936, contributions shall accrue and become payable by each employer for each calendar year in which he is subject to this act, with respect to wages for employment (as defined in § 96-8 (g)). Such contributions shall become due and be paid by each employer to the commission for the fund in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe, and shall not be deducted in whole or in part from the remuneration of individuals in his employ, provided that, on and after July 1, 1941, contributions shall be paid for each calendar quarter with respect to wages paid for employment in all pay periods ending within such calendar quarter. Contributions shall become due on and shall be paid on or before the twenty-fifth day of the month following the close of the calendar quarter in which such wages are paid and such contributions shall be paid by each employer to the commission for the fund in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe, and shall not be deducted in whole or in part from the remuneration of individuals in his employ, provided, further, that if the commission shall be advised by its duly authorized officers or agents that the collection of any contribution under any provision of this chapter will be jeopardized by delay, the commission shall, whether or not the time otherwise prescribed by law for making returns and paying such tax has expired, immediately assess such contributions (together with all interests and penalties, the assessment of which is provided for by law). Such contributions, penalties and interest shall thereupon become immediately due and payable, and immediate notice and demand shall be made by the commission for the payment thereof. Upon failure or refusal to pay such contributions, penalties, and interest, it shall be lawful to make collection thereof as provided by § 96-10 and such collection shall be lawful without regard to the due date of contributions herein prescribed, provided, further that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as permitting any refund of contributions heretofore paid under the law and regulations in effect at the time such contribution were paid.

(2) In the payment of any contributions a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to one cent. For the purposes of this section, the term "wages" shall not include that part of the remuneration which, after remuneration equal to $3,000 has become payable to an individual by an employer with respect to employment during the calendar year 1940, becomes payable to such individual by such employer with respect to employment during such calendar year, and which, after remuneration equal to $3,000 has been paid to an individual by an employer with respect to employment during the calendar year 1941, and during any calendar year thereafter, is paid to such individual by such employer with respect to employment occurring during such calendar year but after December 31, 1940.

(b) Rate of Contributions.—Each employer shall pay contributions equal to the following percentages of wages payable by him with respect to employment:

(1) Nine-tenths of one percentum with respect to employment during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six;

(2) One and eight-tenths percentum with respect to employment during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven;

(3) Two and seven-tenths percentum with respect to employment during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, and each year thereafter: Provided, however, that each employer shall pay contributions equal to two and seven-tenths percentum of wages paid by him during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, and during each calendar year thereafter, with respect to employment occurring after December thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and forty, which shall be deemed the standard rate of contributions payable by each employer except as provided herein.

(4) Variations from the standard rate of contributions shall be determined in accordance with the following requirements:

(A) If, as of any computation date, the commission finds that: Compensation has been payable from an employer's account throughout the year preceding the computation date; and the balance of such account amounts to not less than five times the largest amount of compensation paid from such account within any one of the three years preceding such date; and the balance of such account as of the computation date amounts to not less than two and one-half percentum of that part of the payroll or payrolls in the three years preceding such date by which contributions were measured; and such contributions were payable to such account with respect to the three years preceding the computation date, contribution rates for the calendar year following such computation date shall be determined pursuant to paragraph (B) of this subsection. The term "year" as used in this section (except when preceded by the word "calendar") means the twelve month period ending on June 30th of any calendar year.

(B) If, as of any computation date, the cumulative total of all an employer's contributions which were paid and accredited to his "reserve account" before such computation date exceeds the cumulative total benefits which were chargeable to his "reserve account" and were paid before such computation date; and if such excess of contributions over benefits paid and chargeable to such account exceeds that percentage of his wages by which contributions were measured, during the thirty-six consecutive calendar month period preceding such computation date, which percentage is shown in Column 1 of the table below, and does not exceed the percentage opposite thereto in Column 2 of the table below, his contribution rate in the ensuing calendar year shall be equal to that percentum of the wages for employment, paid by him during such ensuing year, which is shown in Column 3 of the table below. Of the payments so made, there shall be credited to the "partially pooled account" the percentage shown opposite thereto in Column 4 of the table below, and there shall be credited to the "reserve account" of the employer that percentage of the wages for employment, paid by him during such calendar year, which is shown opposite thereto in Column 5 of the table below:

Column 1 Over but	Column 2 not to exceed	Column 3 Rate of Contribution	Column 4 Cr. Pool Account	Column 5 Credit Reserve Account
2.5%	2.8%	2.50%	.27%	2.23%
2.8	3.1	2.13	.27	1.86
3.1	3.4	1.76	.27	1.49
3.4	3.8	1.39	.27	1.12
3.8	4.2	1.02	.27	.75
4.2	4.6	.65	.27	.38
4.6	5.	.27	.27	.0
5% & in excess thereof		.27	.27	.0

(C) The computation date for any contribution rates shall be July first of the calendar year preceding the calendar year with respect to which such rates are effective.

(D) Should the commission be of the opinion that the balance to the credit of the "partially pooled account" is insufficient to provide adequate security in the payment of all compensation to all eligible individuals, it shall direct such fact to the attention of the council of state, and, upon finding of the council that such a situation exists and a declaration that emergency steps are advisable, the commission is hereby authorized and empowered to require the payment by all employers of as much as 60% of the standard rate to be credited entirely to the "partially pooled account," and if such additional credit to the "partially pooled account" as required by this section exceeds the rate for any employer as fixed under § 96-9 (b) (4) (B), his rate shall be such percentage of the standard rate with no credit to his reserve account. If the additional credit to the "partially pooled account" as required by this subsection is less than the standard rate or rate for any employer as fixed under § 96-9 (b), (4), (B), such employer shall pay the standard rate or the rate of contributions as provided in § 96-9 (b), (4), (B) and his reserve account be credited with the balance of payment after crediting the "partially pooled account" with the additional credit as provided in this subsection. Any increased contribution rate thus required by the commission shall be applicable with respect to contributions on wages paid during the quarter in which such finding of the council of state occurred, and shall continue to be applicable with respect to contributions on wages paid up to the last day of the calendar quarter preceding the quarter in which, upon recommendation by the commission, the council of state shall find that the balance to the credit of the "partially pooled account" is sufficient to provide adequate security for the payment of all compensation to all eligible individuals.

(E) Any employer may at any time make voluntary contributions, additional to the contributions required under this act, to the fund to be credited to his reserve account and such voluntary contributions when made shall for all intents and purposes be deemed "contributions required" as said term is used in § 96-8 (d).

(F) If within the calendar month next following the computation date, the commission finds that any employing unit failed to file any report required in connection therewith, or has filed a report which the commission finds incorrect or insufficient, the commission shall make an estimate of the information required from such employing unit on the basis of the best evidence reasonably available to him at the time, and shall notify the employing unit thereof by registered mail addressed to its last known address. Unless such employing unit shall file the report or a corrected or sufficient report as the case may be, within fifteen days after the mailing of such notice, the commission shall compute such employing unit's rate of contributions on the basis of such estimates, and the rate as so determined shall be subject to increases but not to reduction, on the basis of subsequently ascertained information.

(c) (1) The commission shall maintain a separate fiscal account for each employer and shall credit his account with all the contributions which he has paid or is paid on his own behalf. On and after January 1, 1939, the commission shall establish and maintain an employer's "reserve account" for each employer subject to this chapter, to which account the commission shall credit out of the unemployment compensation fund an amount equal to fifty percent of the contributions paid by such employers pursuant to § 96-9 (b) with respect to employment during the calendar year 1938 for the purpose of paying out of such accounts compensation payable to all eligible individuals in accord with the provisions of paragraph (2) of this subsection. To these "reserve accounts" shall also be credited seventy-five per cent of all contributions paid each year pursuant to this act from and after January 1, 1939, the remaining twenty-five per cent of the contributions to be credited to the "partially pooled account" and for each calendar year, beginning January 1, 1941, to these "reserve accounts" shall be credited ninety percentum of all contributions paid each calendar year pursuant to the act, the remaining ten percentum to be credited to the "partially pooled account," except as provided in subsection (b) (4) hereof, and as hereinafter provided. Provided further, that no provision of this section shall in any way be subject to or affected by any provisions of the Executive Budget Act, as amended.

(2) All benefits for weeks of unemployment paid during the twelve months preceding June thirtieth of each year to any eligible individual shall be paid out of the reserve account of such individual's employer or employers by whom he was employed during his base period. In accordance with the regulations of the commission, such payments shall be charged against all employers of such individual during his base period in the same ratio that the wages paid to such individual by each base period employer bears to the total wages paid him by all his employers during the base period. In the event that an employer's credits in his reserve account become exhausted through the payment of benefits chargeable to such account, the benefit payments which are chargeable to such account shall be paid out of the "partially pooled account" and at the same time the reserve account of the employer shall be debited accordingly. Whenever through inadvertence or mistake erroneous charges or credits are found to have been made to reserve accounts, the same shall be readjusted as of the date of discovery and such readjustment shall not affect any computation made under this section prior to the date of discovery.

(3) As of June thirtieth of each year, and at least fifteen days prior to the effective date of any variation from standard rate of contributions, the commission shall determine the balance of each employer in his reserve account and shall furnish him with a statement of all charges and credits thereto. At the same time the commission shall notify each employer of his rate of contributions as determined for the succeeding calendar year pursuant to this section. Such determination shall become final unless the employer files an application for review or redetermination within thirty days after the effective date of such rates.

(4) The commission may prescribe regulations for the establishment, maintenance, and dissolution of joint accounts by one or more employers having the relationship of parent and subsidiary companies. Any employer who is or becomes subject to the provisions of this chapter under the terms of § 96-8 (f), whose organization, trade or business, or substantially all the assets thereof are transferred by sale, lease or otherwise shall have the privilege of transferring to his successor or assignee the reserve account herein established for such employer except that the purchaser, lessee or assignee shall not be entitled to any credit as provided herein except where compensation has been payable from such account throughout one previous calendar year, and that after such condition has been met the reserve account then meets all other conditions as prescribed hereinbefore. Notice of such transfers shall be given to the commission immediately. The commission may make regulations to govern such transfers of reserve accounts. In the event any employer subject to this chapter ceases to be such an employer through the termination of coverage as provided in § 96-11, the reserve account standing to the credit of such employer shall immediately upon such termination of coverage revert to the pooled fund established herein and the reserve account shall be closed.

(d) In order that the commission shall be kept informed at all times on the circumstances and conditions of unemployment within the state and as to whether the stability of the fund is being impaired under the operation and effect of the system provided in subsection (c) of this section, the actuarial study now in progress shall be continued and such other investigations and studies of a similar nature as the commission may deem necessary shall be made. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 7; 1939, c. 27, s. 6; 1941, c. 108, ss. 6, 8, c. 320.)

§ 96-10. Collection of contributions.—(a) Interest on Past-Due Contributions.—Contributions unpaid on the date on which they are due and payable, as prescribed by the commission, shall bear interest at the rate of one-half of one per centum per month from and after such date until payment plus accrued interest is received by the commission. Interest collected pursuant to this subsection shall be paid into the unemployment compensation fund.

(b) Collection.—If, after due notice, any employer defaults in any payment of contributions or interest thereon, the amount due shall be collected by civil action in the name of the commission, and the employer adjudged in default shall pay the costs of such action. Civil actions brought under this section to collect contributions or interest thereon from an employer shall be heard by the court at the earliest possible date, and shall be entitled to preference upon the calendar of the court over all other civil actions except petitions for judicial review under this chapter and cases arising under the Workmen's Compensation Law of this state; or if any contribution imposed by this chapter, or any portion thereof, and/or penalties duly provided for the nonpayment thereof shall not be paid within thirty days after the same become due and payable, the commission under the hand of its chairman, may certify the same in duplicate and forward one copy thereof to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the delinquent resides or has property, and additional copies for each county in which the commission has reason to believe such delinquent has property located, which copy so forwarded to the clerk of the superior court shall be immediately docketed by said clerk and indexed on the cross-index of judgments, and from the date of such docketing shall constitute a preferred lien upon any property which said delinquent may own in said county, with the same force and effect as a judgment rendered by the superior court. The duplicate of said certificate shall be forwarded by the commission to the sheriff or sheriffs of such county, or counties, and in the hands of such sheriff shall have all the force and effect of an execution issued to him by the clerk of the superior court upon the judgment of the superior court duly docketed in said county. A return of such execution shall be made to the commission together with all moneys collected thereunder.

(c) Priorities under Legal Dissolution or Distributions.—In the event of any distribution of an employer's assets pursuant to an order of any court under the laws of this state, including any receivership, assignment for benefit of creditors, adjudicated insolvency, composition, or similar proceeding, contributions then or thereafter due shall be paid in full prior to all other claims except taxes, and claims for remuneration of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars to each claimant, earned within six months of the commencement of the proceeding. In the event of an employer's adjudication in bankruptcy, judicially confirmed extension proposal, or composition, under the Federal Bankruptcy Act of one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, as amended, contributions then or thereafter due shall be entitled to such priority as is provided in section sixty-four (b) of that act (U. S. C., Title II, sec. 104 (b), as amended.

(d) Collections of Contributions upon Transfer or Cessation of Business.—The contribution or tax imposed by § 96-9, and subsections thereunder, of this chapter shall be a lien upon the assets of the business of any employer subject to the provisions hereof who shall lease, transfer or sell out his business, or shall cease to do business and such employer shall be required, by the next reporting date as prescribed by the commission, to file with the commission all reports and pay all contributions due with respect to wages payable for employment up to the date of such lease, transfer, sale or cessation of the business and such employer's successor in business shall be required to withhold sufficient of the purchase money to cover the amount of said contributions due and unpaid until such time as the former owner or employer shall produce a receipt from the commission showing that the contributions have been paid, or a certificate that no contributions are due. If the purchaser of a business or a successor of such employer shall fail to withhold purchase money or any money due to such employer in consideration of a lease or other transfer and the contributions shall be due and unpaid after the next reporting date, as above set forth, such successor shall be personally liable to the extent of the assets of the business so acquired for the payment of the contributions accrued and unpaid on account of the operation of the business by the former owner or employer.

(e) Refunds.—If not later than one year after the date on which any contributions or interest thereon became due, an employer who has paid such contributions or interest thereon shall make application for an adjustment thereof in connection with subsequent contribution payments, or for a refund thereof because such adjustment cannot be made, and the commission shall determine that such contributions or interest or any portion thereof was erroneously collected, the commission shall allow such employer to make an adjustment thereof, without interest, in connection with subsequent contribution payments by him, or if such adjustment cannot be made, the commission shall refund said amount, without interest, from the fund. For like cause and within the same period, adjustment or refund may be so made on the commission's own initiative: Provided, that nothing in this section or in any other section of this chapter shall be construed as permitting refund of moneys due and payable under the law and regulations in effect at the time such moneys were paid.

(f) No injunction shall be granted by any court or judge to restrain the collection of any tax or contribution or any part thereof levied under the provisions of this chapter nor to restrain the sale of any property under writ of execution, judgment, decree or order of court for the non-payment thereof. Whenever any employer, person, firm or corporation against whom taxes or contributions provided for in this chapter have been assessed, shall claim to have a valid defense to the enforcement of the tax or contribution so assessed or charged, such employer, person, firm or corporation shall pay the tax or contribution so assessed to the commission; but if at the time of such payment he shall notify the commission in writing that the same is paid under protest, such payment shall be without prejudice to any defenses or rights he may have in the premises, and he may, at any time within thirty days after such payment, demand the same in writing from the commission; and if the same shall not be refunded within ninety days thereafter, he may sue the commission for the amount so demanded; and if, upon the trial it shall be determined that such tax or contribution or any part thereof was for any reason invalid, excessive or contrary to the provisions of this chapter, the amount paid shall be refunded by the commission accordingly. The remedy provided by this subsection shall be deemed to be cumulative and in addition to such other remedies as are provided by other subsections of this chapter. No suit, action or proceeding for refund or to recover contributions or payroll taxes paid under protest according to the provisions of this subsection shall be maintained unless such suit, action or proceeding is commenced within three years after the expiration of the ninety days mentioned in this subsection, or within three years from the date of the refusal of said commission to make refund should such refusal be made before the expiration of said ninety days abovementioned. The three year limitation here imposed shall not be retroactive in its effect, shall not apply to pending litigation nor shall the same be construed as repealing, abridging or extending any other limitation or condition imposed by this chapter. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 14; 1939, c. 27, ss. 9, 10; 1941, c. 108, ss. 14-16.)

§ 96-11. Period, election, and termination of employer's coverage.—(a) Any employing unit which is or becomes an employer subject to this chapter within any calendar year shall be subject to this chapter during the whole of such calendar year; provided, however, that on and after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, this section shall not be construed to apply to any part of the business of an employer as may come within the terms of section one (a) of the Federal Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (a) and (c) of this section, an employing unit shall cease to be an employer subject to this act only as of the first day of January of any calendar year, if it files with the commission prior to the thirty-first day of January of such year a written application for termination of coverage and the commission finds that there were no twenty different weeks within the preceding calendar year (whether or not such weeks are or were consecutive) within which said employing unit employed eight or more individuals in employment (not necessarily simultaneously and irrespective of whether the same individuals were employed in each such week). For the purpose of this subsection, the two or more employing units mentioned in paragraphs two or three of § 96-8, subsection (f), of this chapter shall be treated as a single employing unit.

(c) (1) An employing unit, not otherwise subject to this chapter, which files with the commission its written election to become an employer subject hereto for not less than two calendar years shall, with the written approval of such election by the commission, become an employer subject hereto to the same extent as all other employers, as of the date stated in such approval, and shall cease to be subject hereto as of January one of any calendar year subsequent to such two calendar years only if, at least thirty days prior to such first day of January, it has filed with the commission a written notice to that effect.

(2) Any employing unit for which services that do not constitute employment as defined in this chapter are performed may file with the commission a written election that all such services performed by individuals in its employ, in one or more distinct establishments or places of business, shall be deemed to constitute employment for all the purposes of this chapter for not less than two calendar years. Upon the written approval of such election by the commission such services shall be deemed to constitute employment subject to this chapter from and after the date stated in such approval. Such services shall cease to be deemed employment, subject hereto as of January one of any calendar year subsequent to such two calendar years only if, at least thirty days prior to such first day of January, such employing unit has filed with the commission a written notice to that effect. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 8; 1939, c. 52, ss. 2, 3; 1941, c. 108, s. 9.)

§ 96-12. Benefits. — (a) Payment of Benefits. —Twenty-four months after the date when contributions first accrue under this chapter benefits shall become payable from the fund. All benefits shall be paid through employment offices, in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe.

(b) Each eligible individual whose benefit year begins on or after March 10, 1941 and who is totally unemployed in any week (as defined by § 96-8 (k) (1)) shall be paid with respect to such week or weeks benefits at the rate per week appearing in the following table in Column II opposite which in Column I appear the wages paid to such individual during his base period with respect to "employment": Provided, however, after July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, for any individual whose employment prior to such date was in employment for an employer who after such date was or is subject to the Railroad

Unemployment Insurance Act, and who worked for some other employer subject to this act, only the wages payable to such individual for employment performed for an employer not subject to said Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act after July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, shall be used in determining wages paid during his base period.

(c) Weekly Benefit for Partial Unemployment.—Each eligible individual who is partially unemployed (as defined in § 96-8 (k) (2)) in any week shall be paid with respect to such week a partial benefit. Such partial benefit shall be an amount, figured to the nearest multiple of fifty cents (0.50), equal to the difference between his weekly benefit amount (as defined in § 96-8 (q)) and five-sixths of his remuneration (as defined in § 96-8 (n)) for such week.

(d) The maximum benefits payable to any eligible individual whose benefit year begins after February fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine shall be sixteen times his weekly benefit amount during any benefit year. After February fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine the commission shall maintain accounts for each individual who earns wages in such manner and form as the commission may prescribe as being adequate to administer the provisions of this chapter.

(e) Benefit Rights of Trainees in Military Service.—(1) Notwithstanding any inconsistent provisions of this chapter, the benefit rights of trainees shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions of this subsection for the periods and with respect to the matters specified herein. Except as herein otherwise provided, all other provisions of this chapter shall continue to be applicable in connection with such benefits.

(2) The term "military service" as used in this subsection means active service in the land or naval forces of the United States, but the service of an individual in any reserve component of the land or naval forces of the United States who is ordered to active duty in any such force for a period of thirty days or less shall not be deemed to be active service in any such force during such period.

(3) The term "trainee" as used in this subsection means an individual who entered military service after July 1, 1940, who continued in such service for not less than ninety consecutive days and whose military service was terminated on or before July 1, 1943.

(4) With respect to any trainee, the first benefit year following the termination of his military service shall be the fifty-two consecutive week period beginning with the first day of the first week following the date of such termination; and the second benefit year following the termination of his military service shall be the fifty-two consecutive week period beginning with the first day of the first week following the termination of such first benefit year.

(5) With respect to the first benefit year defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection, the base period shall be the two completed calendar years preceding the date of the trainee's entry into military service; and with respect to the second benefit year defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection, the base period shall be the complete calendar year preceding the date of the trainee's entry into military service plus the portion of a calendar year intervening between the end of such completed calendar year and the date of the trainee's entry into military service, plus (but only in the event that the military service ends between July 1 and December 31 of any year) the portion of a calendar year intervening between the date of the trainee's termination of service and the last day of such calendar year; provided that for the purposes of this subsection such portion of a calendar year intervening between the date of a trainee's termination of service and the last day of such calendar year shall be deemed to be included in the calendar year in which the trainee entered military service.

(6) The provisions of § 96-13 (d) with respect to waiting period shall not be applicable to the first benefit year defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection.

(7) An otherwise eligible trainee shall be eligible to receive benefits with respect to any week beginning in either of the benefit years defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection only if he has earned wages in an amount of $130 or more in either of the two calendar years included within the base period for that benefit year in which occurs the week with respect to which benefits are claimed.

(8) A trainee's weekly benefits amount with respect to each of the two benefit years defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection shall be the amount appearing in Column II of the table of subsection (b) opposite which amount there appears in Column I of such table the wages payable to such individual with respect to "employment" during that calendar year of the base period of such benefit year in which such trainee's wages payable with respect to "employment" were greatest.

(9) An otherwise eligible trainee shall be entitled during the first benefit year defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection to a total amount of benefits equal to whichever is the lesser of (a) sixteen times his weekly benefit amount and (b) thirty-two times his weekly benefit amount less the amount of any benefits paid him under this act for unemployment prior to his entry into military service on the basis of his wages in any part of the base period of such benefit year.

(10) An otherwise eligible trainee shall be entitled during the second benefit year defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection to a total amount of benefits equal to whichever is the lesser of (a) sixteen times his weekly benefit amount, and (b) four times his weekly benefit amount times the number of calendar quarters (completed or uncompleted) in the base period of such benefit year and less the amount of any benefits paid him under this act for unemployment prior to his entry into military service on the basis of his wages in any part of the base period of such benefit year.

(11) With respect to any benefit year of a trainee as defined in § 96-8 (r) which begins subsequent to the second benefit year defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection and has a base period containing less than four completed calendar quarters in which no military service was performed, the term "wages payable during base period" as used in subsection (b) shall be deemed to mean the wages payable to such individual during such base period with respect to "employment" divided by the number of completed calendar quarters in such base period in which no military service was performed and multiplied by four.

(12) If under an Act of Congress, payments with respect to the unemployment of individuals who have completed a period of military service are payable by the United States, a trainee shall be disqualified for benefits with respect to any week beginning within a benefits year as defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection until he has exhausted all his rights to such payments from the United States. (Ex. Sess., 1936, c. 1, s. 3; 1937, c. 448, s. 1; 1939, c. 27, ss. 1-3, 14, c. 141; 1941, c. 108, s. 1, c. 276.)

§ 96-13. Benefit eligibility conditions.—An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive benefits with respect to any week only if the commission finds that—

(a) He has registered for work at and thereafter has continued to report at an employment office in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe;

(b) He has made a claim for benefits in accordance with the provisions of § 96-15 (a);

(c) He is able to work, and is available for work;

(d) Prior to any week for which he claims benefits he has been totally unemployed for a waiting period of one week (and for the purposes of this subsection two weeks of partial unemployment shall be deemed to be equivalent to one week of total unemployment. Such weeks of partial unemployment need not be consecutive.) No week shall be counted as a week of total unemployment for the purposes of this subsection;

(1) If benefits have been paid with respect thereto;

(2) Unless the individual was eligible for benefits with respect thereto in all respects except for the requirements of subsection (b) of this section.

Any individual whose benefit year begins on or after February fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, who has accumulated such one waiting period week within his benefit year, as provided in subsection (d) hereof, shall not be required to accumulate any more waiting period weeks during his benefit year. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 4; 1939, c. 27, ss. 4, 5, c. 141; 1941, c. 108, s. 2.)

§ 96-14. Disqualification for benefits.—An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

(a) For the week in which he has left work voluntarily without good cause, if so found by the commission, and for not less than the four nor more than the seven weeks which immediately follow such week (in addition to the waiting period), as determined by the commission, according to the circumstances in each case: Provided, however, that if it shall be determined by the commission that an individual shall be disqualified for a week or weeks within the limits above fixed, then no payment of benefits shall be made during any such week or weeks of disqualification, and in addition thereto, the maximum amount of benefits due said individual during his then current benefit year shall be reduced by an amount determined by multiplying the number of weeks of disqualification imposed by the weekly benefit amount, excluding any of such weeks with respect to which the individual shows to the satisfaction of the commission in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe, that he was not totally or partially unemployed.

(b) For the week in which he has been discharged for misconduct connected with his work, if so found by the commission, and for not less than the five nor more than the ten weeks which immediately follow such week (in addition to the waiting period), as determined by the commission according to the circumstances in each case: Provided, however, that if it shall be determined by the commission that an individual shall be disqualified for a week or weeks within the limits above fixed, then, no payment of benefits shall be made during any such week or weeks of disqualification, and in addition thereto, the maximum amount of benefits due said individual during his then current benefit year shall be reduced by an amount determined by multiplying the number of weeks of disqualification imposed by the weekly benefit amount, excluding any of such weeks with respect to which the individual shows to the satisfaction of the commission, in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe, that he was not totally or partially unemployed.

(c) If the commission finds that he has failed, without good cause, either to apply for available, suitable work when so directed by the employment office or the commission or to accept suitable work when offered him, or to return to his customary self-employment (if any) when so directed by the commission. Such disqualification shall continue for the week in which such failure occurred and for not less than the four nor more than the seven weeks which immediately follow such week (in addition to the waiting period) as determined by the commission according to the circumstances in each case: Provided, however, that if it shall be determined by the commission that an individual shall be disqualified for a week or weeks within the limits above fixed, then no payment of benefits shall be made during any such week or weeks of disqualification, and in addition thereto, the maximum amount of benefits due said individual during his then current benefit year shall be reduced by an amount determined by multiplying the number of weeks of disqualification imposed by the weekly benefit amount, excluding any of such weeks with respect to which the individual shows to the satisfaction of the commission and in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe, that he was not totally or partially unemployed.

(1) In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual, the commission shall consider the degree of risk involved to his health, safety, and morals, his physical fitness and prior training, his experience and prior earnings, his length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in his customary occupation, and the distance of the available work from his residence.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, no work shall be deemed suitable and benefits shall not be denied under this chapter to any otherwise eligible individual for refusing to accept new work under any of the following conditions: (a) If the position offered is vacant due directly to a strike, lockout, or other labor dispute; (b) if the remuneration, hours, or other conditions of the work offered are substantially less favorable to the individual than those prevailing for similar work in the locality; (c) if as a condition of being employed the individual would be required to join a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona-fide labor organization.

(d) For any week with respect to which the commission finds that his total or partial unemployment is due to a stoppage of work which exists because of a labor dispute at the factory, establishment, or other premises at which he is or was last employed, provided that this subsection shall not apply if it is shown to the satisfaction of the commission that—

(1) He is not participating in or financing or directly interested in the labor dispute which caused the stoppage of work; and

(2) He does not belong to a grade or class of workers of which, immediately before the commencement of the stoppage, there were members employed at the premises at which the stoppage occurs, any of whom are participating in or financing or directly interested in the dispute: Provided, for the purpose of this subsection (d), that if in any case separate branches of work which are commonly conducted as separate business in separate premises are conducted in separate departments of the same premises, each such department shall be deemed to be a separate factory, establishment, or other premises.

(e) For any week with respect to which he is receiving or has received remuneration in the form of—

(1) Remuneration in lieu of notice; or

(2) Primary insurance payments with respect to Old Age Benefits under Title II of the Social Security Act, as amended: Provided, that if such remuneration is less than the benefits which would otherwise be due under this act he shall be entitled to receive for such week, if otherwise eligible, benefits reduced by the amount of such remuneration.

(f) If the commission finds he is customarily self-employed and can reasonably return to self-employment.

(g) For any week after June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine with respect to which he shall have or assert any right to unemployment benefits under an unemployment compensation law of either the federal or a state government, other than the state of North Carolina. (Ex. Sess., 1936, c. 1, s. 5; 1937, c. 448, ss. 2, 3; 1939, c. 52, s. 1; 1941, c. 108, ss. 3, 4.)

§ 96-15. Claims for benefits. — (a) Filing. — Claims for benefits shall be made in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe. Each employer shall post and maintain printed statements of such regulations in places readily accessible to individuals in his service, and shall make available to each such individual, at the time he becomes unemployed, a printed statement of such regulations. Such printed statements shall be supplied by the commission to each employer without cost to him.

(b) Initial Determination of Validity of Claims. —A representative designated by the commission and hereinafter referred to as a deputy shall promptly examine the claim and, on the basis of the facts found by him, shall either determine whether or not such claim is valid, and if valid, the week with respect to which benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable and the maximum duration thereof, or shall refer such claim or any question involved therein to an appeal tribunal or to the commission, which shall make its determination with respect thereto in accordance with the procedure described in subsection (c) of this section. The deputy shall promptly notify the claimant and any other interested party of his decision and the reasons therefor. Unless the claimant or any such interested party, within five calendar days after such notification was mailed to his last known address, files an appeal from such decision, such decision shall be final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith. If an appeal is duly filed, benefits with respect to the period prior to the final determination of the commission shall be paid only after such determination: Provided, however, that if an appeal tribunal affirms a decision of a deputy, or the commission affirms a decision of an appeal tribunal, allowing benefits, such benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which may thereafter be taken, but if such decision is finally reversed, no employer's reserve account shall be charged with benefits so paid and such payments shall be charged to the pooled account.

(c) Appeals.—Unless such appeal is withdrawn, an appeal tribunal, after affording the parties reasonable opportunity for fair hearing, shall affirm or modify the findings of fact and decision of the deputy. The parties shall be duly notified of such tribunal's decision, together with its reasons therefor, which shall be deemed to be the final decision of the commission, unless within ten days after the date of notification or mailing of such decision further appeal is initiated pursuant to subsection (e) of this section.

(d) Appeal Tribunals.—To hear and decide disputed claims, the commission shall establish one or more impartial appeal tribunals consisting in each case of either a salaried examiner or a body consisting of three members, one of whom shall be a salaried examiner, who shall serve as chairman, one of whom shall be a representative of employers and the other of whom shall be a representative of employees; each of the latter two members shall serve at the pleasure of the commission and be paid a fee of not more than five dollars per day of active service on such tribunal plus necessary expenses. No person shall participate on behalf of the commission in any case in which he is an interested party. The commission may designate alternates to serve in the absence or disqualification of any member of an appeal tribunal. The chairman shall act alone in the absence or disqualification of any other member and his alternates. In no case shall the hearings proceed unless the chairman of the appeal tribunal is present.

(e) Commission Review.—The commission may on its own motion affirm, modify, or set aside any decision of an appeal tribunal on the basis of the evidence previously submitted in such case, or direct the taking of additional evidence, or may permit any of the parties to such decision to initiate further appeals before it, or may provide for group hearings in such cases as the commission may deem expedient. The commission shall permit such further appeal by any of the parties interested in a decision of an appeal tribunal which is not unanimous and by the deputy whose decision has been overruled or modified by an appeal tribunal. The commission may remove to itself or transfer to another appeal tribunal the proceedings on any claim pending before an appeal tribunal. Any proceeding so removed to the commission shall be heard by a quorum thereof in accordance with the requirements in sub-section (c) of this section. The commission shall promptly notify the interested parties of its findings and decision.

(f) Procedure.—The manner in which disputed claims shall be presented, the reports thereon required from the claimant and from employers, and the conduct of hearings and appeals shall be in accordance with rules prescribed by the commission for determining the rights of the parties, whether or not such rules conform to common law or statutory rules of evidence and other technical rules of procedure. A full and complete record shall be kept of all proceedings in connection with a disputed claim. All testimony at any hearing upon a disputed claim shall be recorded, but need not be transcribed unless the disputed claim is further appealed.

(g) Witness Fees.—Witnesses subpœnaed pursuant to this section shall be allowed fees at a rate fixed by the commission. Such fees and all expenses of proceedings involving disputed claims shall be deemed a part of the expense of administering this chapter.

(h) Appeal to Courts.—Any decision of the commission, in the absence of an appeal therefrom as herein provided, shall become final ten days after the date of notification or mailing thereof, and judicial review thereof shall be permitted only after any party claiming to be aggrieved thereby has exhausted his remedies before the commission as provided by this chapter. The commission shall be deemed to be a party to any judicial action involving any such decision, and may be represented in any such judicial action by any qualified attorney who has been designated by it for that purpose.

(i) Appeal Proceedings. — The decision of the commission shall be final, subject to appeal as herein provided. Within ten days after the decision of the commission has become final, any party aggrieved thereby may appeal to the superior court of the county of his residence. In case of such appeal, the court shall have power to make party-defendant any other party which it may deem necessary or proper to a just and fair determination of the case. In every case in which appeal is demanded, the appealing party shall file a statement with the commission within the time allowed for appeal, in which shall be plainly stated the grounds upon which a review is sought and the particulars in which it is claimed the commission is in error with respect to its decision. The commission shall make a return to the notice of appeal, which shall consist of all documents and papers necessary to an understanding of the appeal, and a transcript of all testimony taken in the matter, together with its findings of fact and decision thereon, which shall be certified and filed with the superior court to which appeal is taken within thirty days of said notice of appeal. The commission may also, in its discretion, certify to such court questions of law involved in any decision by it. In any judicial proceeding under this section the findings of the commission as to the facts, if there is evidence to support it, and in the absence of fraud, shall be conclusive, and the jurisdiction of said court shall be confined to questions of law. Such actions and the questions so certified shall be heard in a summary manner, and shall be given precedence over all civil cases, except cases arising under the Workmen's Compensation Law of this state. An appeal may be taken from the decision of the superior court, as provided in civil cases. No bond shall be required upon such appeal. Upon the final determination of the case or proceeding the commission shall enter an order in accordance with such determination. Such an appeal shall not act as a supersedeas or stay of any judgment, order, or decision of the court below, or of the commission unless the commission or the court shall so order as to the decision rendered by it. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 6; 1937, cc. 150, 448, s. 4; 1941, c. 108, s. 5.)

§ 96-16. Seasonal industries. — Whenever the commission finds that on account of seasonal conditions it is highly impracticable or impossible for an employer in a particular industry or branch thereof to operate for a period or periods of not less than four weeks nor more than thirty-six weeks in a calendar year and the employer customarily operates entirely or in a branch of his industry only during a regularly recurring period or periods of not less than four weeks nor more than thirty-six weeks in a calendar year, then the rights to benefits payable to an otherwise eligible individual engaged in such a seasonal industry, or branch thereof, who earned as much as ten ($10.00) dollars during the preceding seasonal period, shall be limited in each calendar year to weeks of unemployment during the longest seasonal period or periods as determined by the commission, upon application by the employer, to be customary in such industry or branch of such industry; provided only that the employer tenders at the beginning of each season, and throughout such season makes work available to each individual employed by him who earned as much as ten ($10.00) dollars during the preceding seasonal period. The employer shall tender work to such individual prior to the commencement of the seasonal period at such time and in such manner as the commission may by regulation prescribe. Notice when given in accordance with such regulations shall be conclusive as to the fact of tender of work by the employer to the employee; and provided further, that if such individual fails without good cause to report for and accept such work at the time when tendered his rght to compensation shall be barred for the duration of the season, but no individual shall be disqualified for benefits for failing to report for or refuse to accept work if such work is not suitable work as provided in § 96-14 (c) of this chapter. It shall be the duty of the commission, upon request and application of each employer, to ascertain and determine, or redetermine, such seasonal period or periods for each such seasonal employer. During a current season an otherwise eligible individual previously employed in a prior season and unemployed during such subsequent season through no fault of his own, shall be paid benefits for each week of such unemployment within the seasonal period, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and all such benefits thus paid for unemployment during the current season shall be paid out of and charged against the "reserve" account of the employer by whom he was employed during the previous season. The maximum benefits payable to an otherwise eligible individual whose employment is only in a seasonal industry shall be limited to sixteen times his weekly benefit amount in a benefit year; however, any individual who during a current calendar year is eligible for payment of compensation during any week or weeks other than weeks of the calendar year embracing the seasonal period, and who, during the preceding calendar year was employed in a seasonal industry or branch thereof, shall only be entitled to maximum benefit payments as follows:

If for any weeks of total unemployment which occur and for which benefits are payable during any period not within the seasonal period as prescribed by the commission the maximum benefit amount shall be an amount equal to sixteen times his weekly benefit amount divided by his total wages in the base period and multiplied by the wages paid in his base period in covered employment not within the seasonal period, and the maximum benefits payable for such individual during the seasonal period shall be an amount equal to sixteen times the individual's weekly benefit amount divided by the wages paid in the base period and multiplied by the wages paid within the seasonal period in covered employment in the base period. The earnings of a worker who has earned wages in seasonal employment shall be taken into consideration together with all other wages earned in employment subject to this chapter in determining his qualifications and eligibility for benefits. Where an employer in its branches or divisions carries on both seasonal and full-time operations, this section shall apply only to that portion of such industry or occupation as is determined by the commission to be seasonal after application for such determination has been made by the employer, and notice thereof posted conspicuously by the employer in his seasonal establishments. (1939, c. 28; 1941, c. 108, s. 7.)

§ 96-17. Protection of rights and benefits.— (a) Waiver of Rights Void.—Any agreement by an individual to waive, release, or commute his rights to benefits or any other rights under this chapter shall be void. Any agreement by any individual in the employ of any person or concern to pay all or any portion of an employer's contributions, required under this chapter from such employer, shall be void. No employer shall directly or indirectly make or require or accept any deduction from the remuneration of individuals in his employ to finance the employer's contributions required from him, or require or accept any waiver of any right hereunder by any individual in his employ. Any employer or officer or agent of an employer who violates any provision of this subsection shall, for each offense, be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars or be imprisoned for not more than six months, or both.

(b) Limitation of Fees.—No individual claiming benefits shall be charged fees of any kind in any proceeding under this chapter by the commission or its representatives or by any court or any officer thereof. Any individual claiming benefits in any proceeding before the commission or a court may be represented by counsel; but no such counsel shall either charge or receive for such services more than an amount approved by the commission. Any person who violates any provision of this subsection shall, for each such offense, be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned for not more than six months, or both.

(c) No Assignment of Benefits; Exemptions.— Any assignment, pledge, or encumbrance of any right to benefits which are or may become due or payable under this chapter shall be void; and such rights to benefits shall be exempt from levy, execution, attachment, or any other remedy whatsoever provided for the collection of debt; and benefits received by any individual, so long as they are not mingled with other funds of the recipient, shall be exempt from any remedy whatsoever for the collection of all debts except debts incurred for necessaries furnished to such individual or his spouse or dependents during the time when such individual was unemployed. Any waiver of any exemption provided for in this subsection shall be void. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 15; 1937, c. 150.)

§ 96-18. Penalties. — (a) Whoever makes a false statement or representation, knowing it to be false or knowingly fails to disclose a material fact, to obtain or increase any benefit or other payment under this chapter, either for himself or for any other person, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for not longer than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and each such false statement or representation or failure to disclose a material fact shall constitute a separate offense.

(b) Any employing unit or any officer or agent of an employing unit or any other person who makes a false statement or representation knowing it to be false, or who knowingly fails to disclose a material fact, to prevent or reduce the payment of benefits to any individual entitled thereto, or to avoid becoming or remaining subject hereto, or to avoid or reduce any contribution or other payment required from an employing unit under this chapter, or who wilfully fails or refuses to make any such contributions or other payment or to furnish any reports required hereunder, or to produce or permit the inspection or copying of records as required hereunder, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and each such false statement or representation or failure to disclose a material fact, and each day of such failure or refusal, shall constitute a separate offense.

(c) Any person who shall wilfully violate any provision of this chapter or any rule or regulation thereunder, the violation of which is made unlawful or the observance of which is required under the terms of this chapter, and for which a penalty is neither prescribed herein nor provided by any other applicable statute, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day such violation continues shall be deemed to be a separate offense.

(d) Any person who, by reason of the non-disclosure or misrepresentation by him or by another of a material fact (irrespective of whether such non-disclosure or misrepresentation was known or fraudulent), has received any sum as benefits under this chapter while any conditions for the receipt of benefits imposed by this chapter were not fulfilled in his case, or while he was disqualified from receiving benefits, shall, in the discretion of the commission, either be liable to have such sum deducted from any future benefits payable to him under this chapter, or shall be liable to repay to the commission for the unemployment compensation fund a sum equal to the amount so received by him, and such sum shall be collectible in the manner provided in § 96-10 (b) for the collection of past-due contributions. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 16.)

§ 96-19. Enforcement of unemployment compensation law discontinued upon repeal or invalidation of federal acts.—It is the purpose of this chapter to secure for employers and employees the benefits of Title III and Title IX of the Federal Social Security Act, approved August fourteenth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, as to credit on payment of federal taxes, of state contributions, the receipt of federal grants for administrative purposes, and all other provisions of the said Federal Social Security Act; and it is intended as a policy of the state that this chapter and its requirements for contributions by employers shall continue in force only so long as such employers are required to pay the federal taxes imposed in said Federal Social Security Act by a valid act of congress. Therefore, if Title III and Title IX of the said Federal Social Security Act shall be declared invalid by the United States supreme court, or if such law be repealed by congressional action so that the federal tax cannot be further levied, from and after the declaration of such invalidity by the United States supreme court, or the repeal of said law by congressional action, as the case may be, no further levy or collection of contributions shall be made hereunder. The enactment by the Congress of the United States of the Railroad Retirement Act and the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act shall in no way affect the administration of this law except as herein expressly provided.

All federal grants and all contributions theretofore collected, and all funds in the treasury by virtue of this chapter, shall, nevertheless, be disbursed and expended, as far as may be possible, under the terms of this chapter: Provided, however, that contributions already due from any employer shall be collected and paid into the said fund, subject to such distribution; and provided further, that the personnel of the state unemployment commission shall be reduced as rapidly as possible.

The funds remaining available for use by the North Carolina unemployment commission shall be expended, as necessary, in making payment of all such awards as have been made and are fully approved at the date aforesaid, and the payment of the necessary costs for the further administration of this chapter, and the final settlement of all affairs connected with same. After complete payment of all administrative costs and full payment of all awards made as aforesaid, any and all moneys remaining to the credit of any employer shall be refunded to such employer, or his duly authorized assignee: Provided, that the state employment service, created by chapter one hundred six, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, and transferred by chapter one, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, Extra Session, and made a part of the unemployment compensation commission of North Carolina, shall in such event return to and have the same status as it had prior to enactment of chapter one, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, Extra Session, and under authority of chapter one hundred six, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, shall carry on the duties therein prescribed; but, pending a final settlement of the affairs of the unemployment compensation commission of North Carolina, the said state employment service shall render such service in connection therewith as shall be demanded or required under the provisions of this chapter or the provisions of chapter one, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, Extra Session. (1937, c. 363; 1939, c. 52, s. 8.)

Art. 3. Employment Service Division.

§ 96-20. Duties of division; conformance to Wagner-Peyser Act; organization; director; employees.—The employment service division of the Unemployment Compensation Commission shall establish and maintain free public employment offices in such number and in such places as may be necessary for the proper administration of this article, and for the purpose of performing such duties as are within the purview of the act of Congress entitled "An act to provide for the establishment of a national employment system and for cooperation with the states in the promotion of such system and for other purposes," approved June sixth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (48 Stat., 113; U. S. C., Title 29, sec. 49(c)), as amended. The said division shall be administered by a full-time salaried director, who shall be charged with the duty to cooperate with any official or agency of the United States having powers or duties under the provisions of the said act of congress, as amended, and to do and perform all things necessary to secure to this state the benefits of the said act of congress, as amended, in the promotion and maintenance of a system of public employment offices. The provisions of the said act of congress, as amended, are hereby accepted by this state, in conformity with section four of said act, and this state will observe and comply with the requirements thereof. The state employment service division is hereby designated and constituted the agency of this state for the purpose of said act. The commission is directed to appoint the director, other officers, and employees of the state employment service. Such appointments shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the director of the United States employment service. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 12; 1941, c. 108, s. 11.)

§ 96-21. Cooperation with federal board for vocational education.—The employment service division shall cooperate with the federal board for vocational education, division for rehabilitation of crippled soldiers and sailors, in endeavoring to secure suitable employment and fair treatment of the veterans of the world war. (1921, c. 131, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 12; C. S. 7312(c).)

§ 96-22. Employment of minors; farm employment; promotion of Americanism.—The employment service division shall have jurisdiction over all matters contemplated in this article pertaining to securing employment for all minors who avail themselves of the free employment service. The employment service division shall have power to so conduct its affairs that at all times it shall be in harmony with laws relating to child labor and compulsory education; to aid in inducing minors over sixteen, who cannot or do not for various reasons attend day school, to undertake promising skilled employment; to aid in influencing minors who do not come within the purview of compulsory education laws, and who do not attend day school, to avail themselves of continuation or special courses in existing night schools, vocational schools, part-time schools, trade schools, business schools, library schools, university extension courses, etc., so as to become more skilled in such occupation or vocation to which they are respectively inclined or particularly adapted; to aid in securing vocational employment on farms for town and city boys who are interested in agricultural work, and particularly town and city high school boys who include agriculture as an elective study; to cooperate with various social agencies, schools, etc., in group organization of employed minors, particularly those of foreign parentage, in order to promote the development of real, practical Americanism through a broader knowledge of the duties of citizenship; to investigate methods of vocational rehabilitation of boys and girls who are maimed or crippled and ways and means for minimizing such handicap. (1921, c. 131, s. 4; Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 12; C. S. 7312(d).)

§ 96-23. Job placement; information; research and reports.—The employment service division shall make public, through the newspapers and other media, information as to situations it may have applicants to fill, and establish relations with employers for the purpose of supplying demands for labor. The division shall collect, collate, and publish statistical and other information relating to the work under its jurisdiction; investigate economic developments, and the extent and causes of unemployment and remedies therefor within and without the state, with the view of preparing for the information of the general assembly such facts as in its opinion may make further legislation desirable. (1921, c. 131, s. 5; Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 12; C. S. 7312(e).)

§ 96-24. Local offices; cooperation with United States service; financial aid from United States.—The employment service division is authorized to enter into agreement with the governing authorities of any municipality, county, township, or school corporation in the state for such period of time as may be deemed desirable for the purpose of establishing and maintaining local free employment offices, and for the extension of vocational guidance in cooperation with the United States employment service, and under and by virtue of any such agreement as aforesaid to pay, from any funds appropriated by the state for the purposes of this article, any part or the whole of the salaries, expenses or rent, maintenance, and equipment of offices and other expenses. (1921, c. 131, s. 6; 1935, c. 106, s. 4; 1931, c. 312, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 12; C. S. 7312(f).)

§ 96-25. Acceptance and use of donations.—It shall be lawful for the employment service division to receive, accept, and use, in the name of the people of the state, or any community or municipal corporation, as the donor may designate, by gift or devise, any moneys, buildings, or real estate for the purpose of extending the benefits of this article and for the purpose of giving assistance to deserving maimed or crippled boys and girls through vocational rehabilitation. (1921, c. 131, s. 7; 1931, c. 312, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 12; C. S. 7312(g).)

§ 96-26. Cooperation of towns, townships, and counties with division.—It shall be lawful for the governing authorities of any municipality, county, township, or school corporation in the state to enter into cooperative agreement with the employment service division and to appropriate and expend the necessary money upon such conditions as may be approved by the employment service division and to permit the use of public property for the joint establishment and maintenance of such offices as may be mutually agreed upon, and which will further the purpose of this article. (1921, c. 131, s. 8; 1931, c. 312, s. 3; 1935, c. 106, s. 5; Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 12; C. S. 7312(h).)

§ 96-27. Method of handling employment service funds.—All federal funds received by this state under the Wagner-Peyser Act (48 Stat. 113; Title 29, U. S. C., § 49) as amended, and all state funds appropriated or made available to the employment service division shall be paid into the unemployment compensation administration fund, and said moneys are hereby made available to the state employment service to be expended as provided in this article and by said act of Congress. For the purpose of establishing and maintaining free public employment offices, said division is authorized to enter into agreements with any political subdivision of this state or with any private, nonprofit organization, and as a part of any such agreement the commission may accept moneys, services, or quarters as a contribution to the unemployment compensation administration fund. (1935, c. 106, s. 7; Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 12; 1941, c. 108, s. 11.)

§ 96-28. Annual appropriation.—There is hereby appropriated to the unemployment compensation commission seventy-five thousand dollars annually, for the purpose of paying the state's contribution towards the expenses of the employment service division. (Ex. Sess. 1936, c. 1, s. 13; 1941, c. 108, s. 12.)

Art. 1. Workmen's Compensation Act.

§ 97-1. Official title.—This article shall be known and cited as "The North Carolina Workmen's Compensation Act." (1929, c. 120, s. 1.)

§ 97-2. Definitions.—When used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires—

(a) The term "employment" includes employment by the State and all political subdivisions thereof, and all public and quasi-public corporations therein and all private employments in which five or more employees are regularly employed in the same business or establishment, except agriculture and domestic service and sawmills and logging operators in which less than fifteen employees are regularly employed.

(b) The term "employee" means every person engaged in an employment under any appointment or contract of hire or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, including aliens, and also minors, whether lawfully or unlawfully employed, but excluding persons whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer, and as relating to those so employed by the State, the term "employee" shall include all officers and employees of the State, except only such as are elected by the people, or by the General Assembly, or appointed by the Governor, either with or without the confirmation of the Senate; as relating to municipal corporations and political subdivisions of the State, the term "employee" shall include all officers and employees thereof, except such as are elected by the people or elected by the council or other governing body of said municipal corporation or political subdivision, who act in purely administrative capacities, and to serve for a definite term of office. The term "employee" shall include deputy sheriffs and all persons acting in the capacity of deputy sheriffs, whether appointed by the sheriff or by the governing body of the county and whether serving on a fee basis or on a salary basis, or whether deputy sheriffs serving upon a full time basis or a part time basis, and including deputy sheriffs appointed to serve in an emergency, but as to those so appointed, only during the continuation of the emergency. The sheriff shall furnish to the board of county commissioners a complete list of all deputy sheriffs named or appointed by him immediately after their appointment, and notify the board of commissioners of any changes made therein promptly after such changes are made. Any reference to an employee who has been injured shall, when the employee is dead, include also his legal representative, dependents, and other persons to whom compensation may be payable.

(c) The term "employer" means the State and all political subdivisions thereof, all public and quasi-public corporations therein, every person carrying on any employment and the legal representative of a deceased person or the receiver or trustee of any person. The board of commissioners of each county of the state, for the purposes of this law, shall be considered as "employer" of all deputy sheriffs serving within such county, or persons serving or performing the duties of a deputy sheriff, whether such persons are appointed by the sheriff or by the board of commissioners and whether serving on a fee basis or salary basis. Each county is authorized to insure its compensation liability for deputy sheriffs to the same extent it is authorized to insure other compensation liability for employees thereof.

(d) The term "person" means individual, partnership, association or corporation.

(e) "Average weekly wages" shall mean the earnings of the injured employee in the employment in which he was working at the time of the injury during the period of fifty-two weeks immediately preceding the date of the injury, divided by fifty-two; but if the injured employee lost more than seven consecutive calendar days at one or more times during such period, although not in the same week, then the earnings for the remainder of such fifty-two weeks shall be divided by the number of weeks remaining after the time so lost has been deducted. Where the employment prior to the injury extended over a period of less than fifty-two weeks, the method of dividing the earnings during that period by the number of weeks and parts thereof during which the employee earned wages shall be followed; provided, results fair and just to both parties will be thereby obtained. Where, by reason of a shortness of time during which the employee has been in the employment of his employer or the casual nature or terms of his employment, it is impracticable to compute the average weekly wages as above defined, regard shall be had to the average weekly amount which during the fifty-two weeks previous to the injury was being earned by a person of the same grade and character employed in the same class of employment in the same locality or community.

But where for exceptional reasons the foregoing would be unfair, either to the employer or employee, such other method of computing average weekly wages may be resorted to as will most nearly approximate the amount which the injured employee would be earning were it not for the injury.

Wherever allowances of any character made to an employee in lieu of wages are specified part of the wage contract they shall be deemed a part of his earnings.

(f) "Injury and personal injury" shall mean only injury by accident arising out of and in the course of the employment, and shall not include a disease in any form, except where it results naturally and unavoidably from the accident.

(g) The term "carrier" or "insurer" means any person or fund authorized under § 97-68 to insure under this article, and includes self-insurers.

(h) The term "commission" means the North Carolina Industrial Commission, to be created under the provisions of this article.

(i) The term "disability" means incapacity because of injury to earn the wages which the employee was receiving at the time of injury in the same or any other employment.

(j) The term "death" as a basis for a right to compensation means only death resulting from an injury.

(k) The term "compensation" means the money allowance payable to an employee or to his dependents as provided for in this article, and includes funeral benefits provided herein.

(l) The term "child" shall include a posthumous child, a child legally adopted prior to the injury of the employee, and a stepchild or acknowledged illegitimate child dependent upon the deceased, but does not include married children unless wholly dependent upon him. "Grandchild" means a child as above defined of a child as above defined. "Brother" and "sister" include stepbrothers and stepsisters, half brothers and half sisters, and brothers and sisters by adoption, but does not include married brothers nor married sisters unless wholly dependent on the employee. "Child," "grandchild," "brother," and "sister" include only persons who at the time of the death of the deceased employee are under eighteen years of age.

(m) The term "parent" includes step-parents and parents by adoption, parents-in-law, and any person who for more than three years prior to the death of the deceased employee stood in the place of a parent to him, if dependent on the injured employee.

(n) The term "widow" includes only the decedent's wife living with or dependent for support upon him at the time of his death; or living apart for justifiable cause or by reason of his desertion at such time.

(o) The term "widower" includes only the decedent's husband who at the time of her death lived with her and was dependent for support upon her.

(p) The term "adoption" or "adopted" means legal adoption prior to the time of the injury.

(q) The singular includes the plural and the masculine includes the feminine and neuter.

(r) In all claims for compensation for hernia or rupture, resulting from injury by accident arising out of and in the course of the employee's employment, it must be definitely proven to the satisfaction of the Industrial Commission:

First. That there was an injury resulting in hernia or rupture.

Second. That the hernia or rupture appeared suddenly.

Third. That it was accompanied by pain.

Fourth. That the hernia or rupture immediately followed an accident.

Fifth. That the hernia or rupture did not exist prior to the accident for which compensation is claimed.

All hernia or rupture, inguinal, femeral or otherwise, so proven to be the result of an injury by accident arising out of and in the course of employment, shall be treated in a surgical manner by a radical operation. If death results from such operation, the death shall be considered as a result of the injury, and compensation paid in accordance with the provisions of § 97-38. In non-fatal cases, if it is shown by special examination, as provided in § 97-27, that the injured employee has a disability resulting after the operation, compensation for such disability shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of this article.

In case the injured employee refuses to undergo the radical operation for the cure of said hernia or rupture, no compensation will be allowed during the time such refusal continues. If, however, it is shown that the employee has some chronic disease, or is otherwise in such physical condition that the Commission considers it unsafe for the employee to undergo said operation, the employee shall be paid compensation in accordance with the provisions of this article. (1929, c. 120, s. 2; 1933, c. 448; 1939, c. 277, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Ashe, Avery, Bladen, Carteret, Caswell, Cherokee, Gates, Hyde, Macon, Pender, Perquimans, Union, Watauga, Wilkes: 1939, c. 277, s. 3.

§ 97-3. Presumption that all employers and employees have come under provisions of chapter.—From and after July 1, 1929, every employer and employee, except as herein stated, shall be presumed to have accepted the provisions of this article respectively to pay and accept compensation for personal injury or death by accident arising out of and in the course of the employment, and shall be bound thereby, unless he shall have given, prior to any accident resulting in injury or death, notice to the contrary in the manner herein provided. (1929, c. 120, s. 4.)

§ 97-4. Notice of non-acceptance and waiver of exemption.—Either an employer or an employee, who has exempted himself by proper notice from the operation of this article, may at any time waive such exemption, and thereby accept the provisions of this article by giving notice as herein provided.

The notice of non-acceptance of the provisions of this article and notice of waiver of exemption heretofore referred to shall be given thirty days prior to any accident resulting in injury or death: Provided, that if any such accident occurred less than thirty days after the date of employment, notice of such exemption or acceptance given at the time of employment shall be sufficient notice thereof. The notice shall be in writing or print, in substantially the form prescribed by the Industrial Commission, and shall be given by the employer by posting the same in a conspicuous place in the shop, plant, office, room, or place where the employee is employed, or by serving it personally upon him; and shall be given by the employee by sending the same in registered letter, addressed to the employer at his last known residence or place of business, or by giving it personally to the employer or any of his agents upon whom a summons in civil action may be served under the laws of the State. A copy of the notice in prescribed form shall also be filed with the Industrial Commission.

In any suit by an employer or an employee who has exempted himself by proper notice from the application of this article, a copy of such notice duly certified by the Industrial Commission shall be admissible in evidence as proof of such exemption. (1929, c. 120, s. 5.)

§ 97-5. Presumption as to contract of service.— Every contract of service between any employer and employee covered by this article, written or implied, now in operation or made or implied prior to July 1, 1929, shall, after that date, be presumed to continue, subject to the provisions of this article; and every such contract made subsequent to that date shall be presumed to have been made subject to the provisions of this article, unless either party shall give notice, as provided in § 97-4, to the other party to such contract that the provisions of this article other than §§ 97-14, 97-15, 97-16, and 97-67 are not intended to apply.

A like presumption shall exist equally in the case of all minors, unless notice of the same character be given by or to the parent or guardian of the minor. (1929, c. 120, s. 6.)

§ 97-6. No special contract can relieve an employer of obligations.—No contract or agreement, written or implied, no rule, regulation, or other device shall in any manner operate to relieve an employer, in whole or in part, of any obligation created by this article, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. (1929, c. 120, s. 7.)

§ 97-7. State or subdivision and employees thereof.—Neither the State nor any municipal corporation within the State, nor any political subdivision thereof, nor any employee of the State or of any such corporation or subdivision, shall have the right to reject the provisions of this article relative to payment and acceptance of compensation, and the provisions of §§ 97-4, 97-5, 97-14, 97-15, and 97-16 shall not apply to them: Provided, however, that any county or special school district may, at its option, by action of the governing body of such county or school district at a regular meeting of such governing body, exempt itself entirely from the operation of this article: Provided, however, that such action on the part of such governing body shall not become effective until thirty days after such action is taken, and notice thereof filed with the Industrial Commission: and, Provided further, that such action on the part of any county or special school district exempting itself from the operation of this article shall not have the effect of relieving such county or school district in any degree from any liability against such county or school district already accrued prior to the taking of such action, or accruing during the said thirty-day period after the taking of such action. (1929, c. 120, s. 8; 1931, c. 274, s. 1.)

§ 97-8. Prior injuries and deaths unaffected. — The provisions of this article shall not apply to injuries or deaths, nor to accidents which occurred prior to July 1, 1929. (1920, c. 120, s. 9.)

§ 97-9. Employer to secure payment of compensation. — Every employer who accepts the compensation provisions of this article shall secure the payment of compensation to his employees in the manner hereinafter provided; and while such security remains in force, he or those conducting his business shall only be liable to any employee who elects to come under this article for personal injury or death by accident to the extent and in the manner herein specified. (1929, c. 120, s. 10.)

§ 97-10. Other rights and remedies against employer excluded; employer or insurer may sue third party tort-feasor; subrogation; amount of compensation as evidence; minors illegally employed.—The rights and remedies herein granted to an employee where he and his employer have accepted the provisions of this article, respectively, to pay and accept compensation on account of personal injury or death by accident, shall exclude all other rights and remedies of such employee, his personal representative, parents, dependents or next of kin, as against his employer at common law, or otherwise, on account of such injury, loss of service, or death: Provided, however, that in any case where such employee, his personal representative, or other person may have a right to recover damages for such injury, loss of service, or death from any person other than the employer, compensation shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of this chapter: Provided, further, that after the industrial commission shall have issued an award, the employer may commence an action in his own name and/or in the name of the injured employee or his personal representative for damages on account of such injury or death, and any amount recovered by the employer shall be applied as follows: First to the payment of actual court costs, then to the payment of attorneys' fees when approved by the industrial commission; the remainder or so much thereof as is necessary shall be paid to the employer to reimburse him for any amount paid and/or to be paid by him under the award of the industrial commission; if there then remain any excess, the amount thereof shall be paid to the injured employee or other person entitled thereto. If, however, the employer does not commence such action within six months from the date of such injury or death, the employee, or his personal representative, shall thereafter have the right to bring the action in his own name, and any amount recovered shall be paid in the same manner as if the employer had brought the action.

The amount of compensation paid by the employer, or the amount of compensation to which the injured employee or his dependents are entitled, shall not be admissible as evidence in any action against a third party.

When any employer is insured against liability for compensation with any insurance carrier, and such insurance carrier shall have paid any compensation for which the employer is liable or shall have assumed the liability of the employer therefor, it shall be subrogated to all rights and duties of the employer, and may enforce any such rights in the name of the injured employee or his personal representative; but nothing herein shall be construed as conferring upon the insurance carrier any other or further rights than those existing in the employer at the time of the injury to or death of the employee, anything in the policy of insurance to the contrary notwithstanding.

In all cases where an employer and employee have accepted the workmen's compensation act, any injury to a minor while employed contrary to the laws of this state shall be compensable under this article the same and to the same extent as if said minor were an adult. (1929, c. 120, s. 11; 1933, c. 449, s. 1.)

§ 97-11. Employer not relieved of statutory duty. — Nothing in this article shall be construed to relieve any employer or employee from penalty for failure or neglect to perform any statutory duty. (1929, c. 120, s. 12.)

§ 97-12. Intoxication or willful neglect of employee; willful disobedience of statutory duty. —No compensation shall be payable if the injury or death was occasioned by the intoxication of the employee or by the wilful intention of the employee to injure or kill himself or another. When the injury or death is caused by the wilful failure of the employer to comply with any statutory requirement or any lawful order of the Commission, compensation shall be increased ten per cent. When the injury or death is caused by the wilful failure of the employee to use a safety appliance or perform a statutory duty or by the wilful breach of any rule or regulation adopted by the employer and approved by the Commission and brought to the knowledge of the employee prior to the injury, compensation shall be reduced ten per cent. The burden of proof shall be upon him who claims an exemption or forfeiture under this section. (1929, c. 120, s. 13.)

§ 97-13. Exceptions from provisions of article.—(a) This article shall not apply to railroads or railroad employees nor in any way repeal, amend, alter or affect article seven (7) of chapter sixty (60), or any section thereof, relating to the liability of railroads for injuries to employees; nor, upon the trial of any action in tort for injuries not coming under the provisions of this article, shall any provision herein be placed in evidence or be permitted to be argued to the jury: Provided, however, that the foregoing exemption to railroads and railroad employees shall not apply to electric street railroads or employees thereof; and this article shall apply to electric street railroads and employees thereof, and to this extent the provisions of article seven, of chapter sixty (60) are hereby amended.

(b) This article shall not apply to casual employees, farm laborers, federal government employees in North Carolina, and domestic servants, nor to employees of such persons, nor to any person, firm or private corporation that has regularly in service less than five employees in the same business within this state, unless such employees and their employers voluntarily elect, in the manner hereinafter specified, to be bound by this article: Provided, however, that when an employee files a claim with the North Carolina industrial commission and it shall appear that the employer has insured his liability under the Workmen's Compensation Act in any authorized corporation, association, or in any mutual insurance association formed by a group of employers so authorized, this shall be prima facie evidence that such employer and his employees have elected to be bound by this article, and, in such cases upon failure of the defendant and/or the insurance carrier to show by competent and sufficient evidence that the defendant employer was not bound by, or subject to the provisions of, the Workmen's Compensation Act at the time of the injury, compensation may be awarded by the industrial commission without any express findings in their award as to acceptance of the article by the parties.

(c) This article shall not apply to prisoners being worked by the State or any subdivision thereof, except to the following extent: Whenever any prisoner assigned to the State Highway and Public Works Commission shall suffer accidental injury arising out of and in the course of the employment to which he had been assigned, if the results of such injury continue until after the date of the lawful discharge of such prisoner to such an extent as to amount to a disability as defined in this article, then such discharged prisoner may have the benefit of this article by applying to the Industrial Commission as any other employee; provided, such application is made within twelve months from the date of discharge; and provided, further, that the maximum compensation to any prisoner shall not exceed fifteen dollars per month and the period of compensation shall relate to the date of his discharge rather than to the date of the accident, and prisoners who have been discharged prior to March 15, 1941, who are covered by the terms of the subsection may have twelve months from March 15, 1941, in which to apply for its benefits, but as to such prisoners their compensation shall be computed only from the date of their application and shall not be cumulative for any prior period; and no award shall be made for facial disfigurement, and no award other than burial expenses shall be made for any prisoner whose accident results in death; and no award shall be made for any injury where there is no apparent or outward physical evidence of such injury, unless it is clearly established by medical opinion and supporting testimony that the matter complained of results solely from the accident arising out of and in the course of employment. If any person who has been awarded compensation under the provisions of this section shall be recommitted to prison upon conviction for an offense committed subsequent to the award, such compensation shall immediately cease and determine. Any awards made under the terms of this subsection shall be paid by the State Highway and Public Works Commission from the funds available for the operation of the Prison Department.

(d) This article shall not apply to persons, firms or corporations engaged in selling agricultural products for the producers thereof on commission or for other compensation, paid by the producers, provided the product is prepared for sale by the producer. (1929, c. 120, s. 14; 1933, c. 401; 1935, c. 150; 1941, c. 295.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg: 1933, c. 401.

§ 97-14. Employers not bound by article may not use certain defenses in damage suit.—An employer who elects not to operate under this article shall not, in any suit at law instituted by an employee subject to this article to recover damages for personal injury or death by accident, be permitted to defend any such suit at law upon any or all of the following grounds:

(a) That the employee was negligent.

(b) That the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow employee.

(c) That the employee has assumed the risk of the injury. (1929, c. 120, s. 15.)

§ 97-15. Adhering employer may use such defenses against non-adhering employee.—An employee who elects not to operate under this article shall, in any action to recover damages for personal injury or death brought against an employer accepting the compensation provisions of this article, proceed at common law, and the employer may avail himself of the defenses of contributory negligence, negligence of a fellow servant, and assumption of risk, as such defenses exist at common law. (1929, c. 120, s. 16.)

§ 97-16. Defenses denied to non-adhering employer as against non-adhering employee.—When both the employer and employee elect not to operate under this article, the liability of the employer shall be the same as though he alone rejected the terms of this article, and in any suit brought against him by such employee the employer shall not be permitted to avail himself of any of the common-law defenses cited in § 97-14. (1929, c. 120, s. 17; 1931, c. 274, s. 2; 1939, c. 277, s. 2.)

§ 97-17. Settlements allowed in accordance with article. — Nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to prevent settlements made by and between the employee and employer so long as the amount of compensation and the time and manner of payment are in accordance with the provisions of this article. A copy of such settlement agreement shall be filed by employer with and approved by the Industrial Commission. (1929, c. 120, s. 18.)

§ 97-18. Prompt payment of compensation required; installments; notice to commission; penalties.—Compensation under this article shall be paid periodically, promptly and directly to the person entitled thereto unless otherwise specifically provided.

(a) The first installment of compensation payable under the terms of an agreement shall become due on the fourteenth day after the employer has knowledge of the injury or death, on which date all compensation then due shall be paid. Thereafter compensation shall be paid in installments weekly except where the Commission determines that payment in installments should be made monthly or at some other period.

(b) The first installment of compensation payable under the terms of an award by the Commission, or under the terms of a judgment of the court upon an appeal from such an award, shall become due seven days from the date of such an award or from the date of such a judgment of the court, on which date all compensation then due shall be paid. Thereafter compensation shall be paid in installments weekly, except where the Commission determines that payment in installments shall be made monthly or in some other manner.

(c) Upon making the first payment, and upon suspension of payment for any cause, the employer shall immediately notify the Commission, in accordance with the form prescribed by the Commission, that payment of compensation has begun or has been suspended, as the case may be.

(d) If any installment of compensation payable in accordance with the terms of an agreement approved by the Commission without an award is not paid within fourteen days after it becomes due, as provided in sub-division (a) of this section, or if any installment of compensation payable in accordance with the terms of an award by the Commission is not paid within fourteen days after it becomes due, as provided in subdivision (b) of this section, there shall be added to such unpaid installment an amount equal to 10 per centum thereof, which shall be paid at the same time as, but in addition to, such installment, unless such non-payment is excused by the Commission after a showing by the employer that owing to conditions over which he had no control such installment could not be paid within the period prescribed for the payment.

(e) Within sixteen days after final payment of compensation has been made, the employer shall send to the Commission a notice, in accordance with a form prescribed by the Commission, stating that such final payment has been made, the total amount of compensation paid, the name of the employee and of any other person to whom compensation has been paid, the date of the injury or death, and the date to which compensation has been paid. If the employer fails to so notify the Commission within such time, the Commission shall assess against such employer a civil penalty in the amount of $25.00. (1929, c. 120, s. 18½.)

§ 97-19. Liability of principal contractors; certificate that sub-contractor has complied with law; right to recover compensation of those who would have been liable; order of liability.—Any principal contractor, intermediate contractor, or sub-contractor who shall sublet any contract for the performance of any work without requiring from such sub-contractor or obtaining from the Industrial Commission a certificate, issued by the Industrial Commission, stating that such sub-contractor has complied with § 97-68 hereof, shall be liable, irrespective of whether such sub-contractor has regularly in service less than five employees in the same business within this state, to the same extent as such sub-contractor would be if he had accepted the provisions of this article for the payment of compensation and other benefits under this article on account of the injury or death of any employee of such sub-contractor, due to an accident arising out of and in the course of the performance of the work covered by such sub-contract. If the principal contractor, intermediate contractor, or sub-contractor shall obtain such certificate at the time of sub-letting such contract to sub-contractor, he shall not thereafter be held liable to any employee of such sub-contractor for compensation or other benefits under this article. The Industrial Commission, upon demand, shall furnish such certificate, and may charge therefor the cost thereof, not to exceed twenty-five (25) cents.

Any principal contractor, intermediate contractor, or sub-contractor paying compensation or other benefits under this article, under the foregoing provisions of this section, may recover the amount so paid from any person, persons, or corporation who, independently of such provision, would have been liable for the payment thereof.

Every claim filed with the Industrial Commission under this section shall be instituted against all parties liable for payment, and said Commission, in its award, shall fix the order in which said parties shall be exhausted, beginning with the immediate employer. (1929, c. 120, s. 19; 1941, c. 358, s. 1.)

§ 97-20. Priority of compensation claims against assets of employer.—All rights of compensation granted by this article shall have the same preference or priority for the whole thereof against the assets of the employer as is allowed by law for any unpaid wages for labor. (1929, c. 120, s. 20.)

§ 97-21. Claims unassignable and exempt from taxes and debts; agreement of employee to contribute to premium or waive right to compensation; unlawful deduction by employer.—No claim for compensation under this article shall be assignable, and all compensation and claims therefor shall be exempt from all claims of creditors and from taxes.

No agreement by an employee to pay any portion of premium paid by his employer to a carrier or to contribute to a benefit fund or department maintained by such employer for the purpose of providing compensation or medical services and supplies as required by this article shall be valid, and any employer who makes a deduction for such purpose from the pay of any employee entitled to the benefits of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500.00. No agreement by an employee to waive his right to compensation under this chapter shall be valid. (1929, c. 120, s. 21.)

§ 97-22. Written notice of accident to employer.—Every injured employee or his representative shall immediately on the occurrence of an accident, or as soon thereafter as practicable, give or cause to be given to the employer a written notice of the accident, and the employee shall not be entitled to physician's fees nor to any compensation which may have accrued under the terms of this article prior to the giving of such notice, unless it can be shown that the employer, his agent or representative, had knowledge of the accident, or that the party required to give such notice had been prevented from doing so by reason of physical or mental incapacity, or the fraud or deceit of some third person; but no compensation shall be payable unless such written notice is given within thirty days after the occurrence of the accident or death, unless reasonable excuse is made to the satisfaction of the Industrial Commission for not giving such notice, and the Commission is satisfied that the employer has not been prejudiced thereby. (1929, c. 120, s. 22.)

§ 97-23. What notice is to contain; defects no bar; notice personally or by registered letter.—The notice provided in the foregoing section shall state in ordinary language the name and address of the employee, the time, place, nature, and cause of the accident, and of the resulting injury or death; and shall be signed by the employee or by a person on his behalf, or, in the event of his death, by any one or more of his dependents, or by a person in their behalf.

No defect or inaccuracy in the notice shall be a bar to compensation unless the employer shall prove that his interest was prejudiced thereby, and then only to such extent as the prejudice.

Said notice shall be given personally to the employer or any of his agents upon whom a summons in civil action may be served under the laws of the State, or may be sent by registered letter addressed to the employer at his last known residence or place of business. (1929, c. 120, s. 23.)

§ 97-24. Right to compensation barred after one year.—(a) The right to compensation under this article shall be forever barred unless a claim be filed with the industrial commission within one year after the accident, and if death results from the accident, unless a claim be filed with the commission within one year thereafter.

(b) If any claim for compensation is hereafter made upon the theory that such claim or the injury upon which said claim is based is within the jurisdiction of the industrial commission under the provisions of this article, and if the commission, or the supreme court on appeal, shall adjudge that such claim is not within the article, the claimant, or if he dies, his personal representative, shall have one year after the rendition of a final judgment in the case within which to commence an action at law. (1929, c. 120, s. 24; 1933, c. 449, s. 2.)

§ 97-25. Medical treatment and supplies. — Medical, surgical, hospital, and other treatment, including medical and surgical supplies as may reasonably be required, for a period not exceeding ten weeks from date of injury to effect a cure or give relief and for such additional time as in the judgment of the commission will tend to lessen the period of disability, and in addition thereto such original artificial members as may be reasonably necessary at the end of the healing period shall be provided by the employer. In case of a controversy arising between the employer and employee relative to the continuance of medical, surgical, hospital, or other treatment, the industrial commission may order such further treatments as may in the discretion of the commission be necessary.

The commission may at any time upon the request of an employee order a change of treatment and designate other treatment suggested by the injured employee subject to the approval of the commission, and in such a case the expense thereof shall be borne by the employer upon the same terms and conditions as hereinbefore provided in this section for medical and surgical treatment and attendance.

The refusal of the employee to accept any medical, hospital, surgical or other treatment when ordered by the industrial commission, shall bar said employee from further compensation until such refusal ceases, and no compensation shall at any time be paid for the period of suspension unless in the opinion of the industrial commission the circumstances justified the refusal, in which case, the industrial commission may order a change in the medical or hospital service.

If in an emergency on account of the employer's failure to provide the medical or other care as herein specified, a physician other than provided by the employer is called to treat the injured employee, the reasonable cost of such service shall be paid by the employer if so ordered by the industrial commission: Provided, however, if he so desires, an injured employee may select a physician of his own choosing to attend, prescribe and assume the care and charge of his case, subject to the approval of the industrial commission. (1929, c. 120, s. 25; 1931, c. 274, s. 4; 1933, c. 506.)

§ 97-26. Liability for medical treatment measured by average cost in community; malpractice of physician.—The pecuniary liability of the employer for medical, surgical, hospital service or other treatment required, when ordered by the Commission, shall be limited to such charges as prevail in the same community for similar treatment of injured persons of a like standard of living when such treatment is paid for by the injured person, and the employer shall not be liable in damages for malpractice by a physician or surgeon furnished by him pursuant to the provisions of this section, but the consequences of any such malpractice shall be deemed part of the injury resulting from the accident, and shall be compensated for as such. (1929, c. 120, s. 26.)

§ 97-27. Medical examination; facts not privileged; refusal to be examined suspends compensation; autopsy.—After an injury, and so long as he claims compensation, the employee, if so requested by his employer or ordered by the Industrial Commission, shall submit himself to examination, at reasonable times and places, by a duly qualified physician or surgeon designated and paid by the employer or the Industrial Commission. The employee shall have the right to have present at such examination any duly qualified physician or surgeon provided and paid by him. No fact communicated to or otherwise learned by any physician or surgeon who may have attended or examined the employee, or who may have been present at any examination, shall be privileged, either in hearings provided for by this article or any action at law brought to recover damages against any employer who may have accepted the compensation provisions of this article. If the employee refuses to submit himself to or in any way obstructs such examination requested by and provided for by the employer, his right to compensation and his right to take or prosecute any proceedings under this article shall be suspended until such refusal or objection ceases, and no compensation shall at any time be payable for the period of obstruction, unless in the opinion of the Industrial Commission the circumstances justify the refusal or obstruction. The employer, or the Industrial Commission, shall have the right in any case of death to require an autopsy at the expense of the party requesting the same. (1929, c. 120, s. 27.)

§ 97-28. Compensation allowed for first seven days.—No compensation shall be allowed for the first seven calendar days of disability resulting from an injury, except the benefits provided for in § 97-25. Provided, however, that in the case the injury results in disability of more than twenty-eight (28) days, the compensation shall be allowed from the date of the disability. (1929, c. 120, s. 28.)

§ 97-29. Compensation for total incapacity or death.—Where the incapacity for work resulting from the injury is total, the employer shall pay, or cause to be paid, as hereinafter provided, to the injured employee during such total disability, a weekly compensation equal to 60 per centum of his average weekly wages, but not more than eighteen dollars, nor less than seven dollars, a week; and in no case shall the period covered by such compensation be greater than four hundred weeks, nor shall the total amount of all compensation exceed six thousand dollars. In case of death the total sum paid shall be six thousand dollars less any amount that may have been paid as partial compensation during the period of disability, payable in one sum to the personal representative of deceased. The basis for compensation of deputy sheriffs, or those acting in the capacity of deputy sheriffs, who serve upon a fee basis shall be the minimum amount of seven dollars a week as fixed herein. (1929, c. 120, s. 29; 1939, c. 277, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Ashe, Avery, Bladen, Carteret, Caswell, Cherokee, Gates, Hyde, Macon, Pender, Perquimans, Union, Watauga, Wilkes: 1939, c. 277, s. 3.

§ 97-30. Partial incapacity; pro-rating where total disability results in partial. — Except as otherwise provided in § 97-31, where the incapacity for work resulting from the injury is partial, the employer shall pay, or cause to be paid, as hereinafter provided, to the injured employee during such disability, a weekly compensation equal to 60 per centum of the difference between his average weekly wages before the injury and the average weekly wages which he is able to earn thereafter, but not more than eighteen dollars a week, and in no case shall the period covered by such compensation be greater than three hundred weeks from the date of injury. In case the partial disability begins after a period of total disability, the latter period shall be deducted from the maximum period herein allowed for partial disability. (1929, c. 120, s. 30.)

§ 97-31. Other rates of compensation. — In cases included by the following schedule, the disability in each case shall be deemed to continue for the period specified, and the compensation so paid for such injury shall be specified therein, to-wit:

(a) For the loss of a thumb, sixty per centum of the average weekly wages during sixty weeks.

(b) For the loss of a first finger, commonly called the index finger, sixty per centum of the average weekly wages during thirty-five weeks.

(c) For the loss of a second finger, sixty per centum of average weekly wages during thirty weeks.

(d) For the loss of a third finger, sixty per centum of average weekly wages during twenty weeks.

(e) For the loss of a fourth finger, commonly called the little finger, sixty per centum of average weekly wages during fifteen weeks.

(f) The loss of the first phalange of the thumb or any finger shall be considered to be equal to the loss of one-half of such thumb or finger, and the compensation shall be for one-half of the periods of time above specified.

(g) The loss of more than one phalange shall be considered the loss of the entire finger or thumb: Provided, however, that in no case shall the amount received for more than one finger exceed the amount provided in this schedule for the loss of a hand.

(h) For the loss of a great toe, sixty per centum of the average weekly wages during thirty weeks.

(j) For the loss of one of the toes other than a great toe, sixty per centum of average weekly wages during ten weeks.

(k) The loss of the first phalange of any toe shall be considered to be equal to the loss of one-half of such toe, and the compensation shall be for one-half of the periods of time above specified.

(l) The loss of more than one phalange shall be considered as the loss of the entire toe.

(m) For the loss of a hand, sixty per centum of the average weekly wages during one hundred and fifty weeks.

(n) For the loss of an arm, sixty per centum of average weekly wages during two hundred weeks.

(o) For the loss of a foot, sixty per centum of average weekly wages during one hundred and twenty-five weeks.

(p) For the loss of a leg, sixty per centum of average weekly wages during one hundred and seventy-five weeks.

(q) For the loss of an eye, sixty per centum of the average weekly wages during one hundred weeks.

(r) The loss of both hands or both arms, or both feet, or both legs or both eyes, or any two thereof shall constitute total and permanent disability, to be compensated according to the provisions of § 97-29.

(s) For the complete loss of hearing in one ear, sixty per centum of average weekly wages during seventy weeks; for the complete loss of hearing in both ears, sixty per centum of average weekly wages during one hundred and fifty weeks.

(t) Total loss of use of a member or loss of vision of an eye shall be considered as equivalent to the loss of such member or eye. The compensation for partial loss of or for partial loss of use of a member or for partial loss of vision of an eye shall be such proportion of the payments above provided for total loss as such partial loss bears to total loss. Loss of both arms, hands, legs, or vision in both eyes shall be deemed permanent total disability, and shall be compensated under § 97-29.

In case of serious facial or head disfigurement, the Industrial Commission shall award proper and equitable compensation not to exceed $2,500.00.

The weekly compensation payments referred to in this section shall all be subject to the same limitations as to maximum and minimum as set out in § 97-29; provided, however, that the foregoing schedule of compensation shall not be deemed to apply and compensate for serious disfigurement resulting from any injury to any employee received while in and about the duties of his employment. And provided, further, that the Industrial Commission created by this article shall have power and authority to make and award a reasonable compensation for any serious bodily disfigurement received by any employee within the meaning of this article, not to exceed twenty-five hundred ($2500) dollars. And provided, further, that disfigurement shall also include the loss or serious or permanent injury of any member or organ of the body for which no compensation is payable under the schedule of specific injuries set out in this section. (1929, c. 120, s. 31; 1931, c. 164.)

§ 97-32. Refusal of injured employee to accept suitable employment as suspending compensation. —If an injured employee refuses employment procured for him suitable to his capacity he shall not be entitled to any compensation at any time during the continuance of such refusal, unless in the opinion of the Industrial Commission such refusal was justified. (1929, c. 120, s. 32.)

§ 97-33. Prorating permanent disability received in other employment. — If any employee has a permanent disablity or has sustained a permanent injury in service in the Army or Navy of the United States, or in another employment other than that in which he received a subsequent permanent injury by accident, such as specified in § 97-31 he shall be entitled to compensation only for the degree of disability which would have resulted from the later accident if the earlier disability or injury had not existed. (1929, c. 120, s. 33.)

sation is payable, while he is still receiving or entitled to compensation for a previous injury in the same employment, he shall not at the same time be entitled to compensation for both injuries, unless the later injury be a permanent injury such as specified in § 97-31; but he shall be entitled to compensation for that injury and from the time of that injury which will cover the longest period and the largest amount payable under this article. (1929, c. 120, s. 34.)

§ 97-35. How compensation paid for two injuries; employer liable only for subsequent injury. — If any employee receives a permanent injury as specified in § 97-31 after having sustained another permanent injury in the same employment, he shall be entitled to compensation for both injuries, but the total compensation shall be paid by extending the period and not by increasing the amount of weekly compensation, and in no case exceeding five hundred weeks.

If an employee has previously incurred permanent partial disability through the loss of a hand, arm, foot, leg, or eye, and by subsequent accident incurs total permanent disability through the loss of another member, the employer's liability is for the subsequent injury only. (1929, c. 120, s. 35.)

§ 97-36. Accidents taking place outside state; employee receiving compensation from another state.—Where an accident happens while the employee is employed elsewhere than in this State which would entitle him or his dependents to compensation if it had happened in this State, the employee or his dependents shall be entitled to compensation, if the contract of employment was made in this State, if the employer's place of business is in this State, and if the residence of the employee is in this State; provided his contract of employment was not expressly for service exclusively outside of the State; provided, however, if an employee shall receive compensation or damages under the laws of any other State nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to permit a total compensation for the same injury greater than is provided for in this article. (1929, c. 120, s. 36.)

§ 97-37. Where injured employee dies before total compensation is paid.—When an employee receives or is entitled to compensation under this article for an injury covered by § 97-31 and dies from any other cause than the injury for which he was entitled to compensation, payment of the unpaid balance of compensation shall be made to his next of kin dependent upon him for support, in lieu of the compensation the employee would have been entitled to had he lived.

Provided, however, that if the death is due to a cause that is compensable under this article, and the dependents of such employee are awarded compensation therefor, all right to unpaid compensation provided by this section shall cease and determine. (1929, c. 120, s. 37.)

§ 97-38. Where death results proximately from accident; prorating as to persons partially dependent; compensation to aliens.—If death results proximately from the accident and within two years thereafter, or while total disability still continues, and within six years after the accident, the employer shall pay for or cause to be paid, subject, however, to the provisions of the other sections of this article in one of the methods hereinafter provided, to the dependents of the employee, wholly dependent upon his earnings for support at the time of accident, a weekly payment equal to 60 per centum of his average weekly wages, but not more than eighteen dollars, nor less than seven dollars, a week for a period of three hundred and fifty weeks from the date of the injury, and burial expenses not exceeding two hundred dollars. If the employee leaves dependents only partly dependent upon his earnings for support at the time of the injury, the weekly compensation to be paid, as aforesaid, shall equal the same proportion of the weekly payments for the benefit of persons wholly dependent as the amount contributed by the employee to such partial dependents bears to the annual earnings of the deceased at the time of his injury. When weekly payments have been made to an injured employee before his death, the compensation to dependents shall begin from the date of the last of such payments, but shall not continue more than three hundred and fifty weeks from the date of the injury. Compensation under this article to aliens not residents (or about to become non-residents) of the United States or Canada shall be the same in amount as provided for residents, except that dependents in any foreign country shall be limited to surviving wife and child or children, or if there be no surviving wife or child, or children, to surviving father or mother whom the employee has supported, either wholly or in part for the period of one year prior to the date of the injury, and except that the Commission may, at its option, or upon the application of the insurance carrier shall, commute all future installments of compensation to be paid to such aliens by paying or causing to be paid to them one-half of the commuted amount of such future installments of compensation as determined by the Commission. (1929, c. 120, s. 38.)

§ 97-39. Spouse and child to be conclusively presumed to be dependent; other cases determined upon facts; division of death benefits among those wholly dependent; when division among partially dependent. — A widow, a widower, and/or a child shall be conclusively presumed to be wholly dependent for support upon the deceased employee. In all other cases questions of dependency, in whole or in part, shall be determined in accordance with the facts as the facts may be at the time of the accident; but no allowance shall be made for any payment made in lieu of board and lodging or services, and no compensation shall be allowed unless the dependency existed for a period of three months or more prior to the accident. If there is more than one person wholly dependent, the death benefit shall be divided among them; the persons partly dependent, if any, shall receive no part thereof. If there is no one wholly dependent, and more than one person partially dependent, the death benefit shall be divided among them according to the relative extent of their dependency.

The widow, or widower and all children of deceased employees shall be conclusively presumed to be dependents of deceased and shall be entitled to receive the benefits of this article for the full periods specified herein. (1929, c. 120, s. 39.)

§ 97-40. Commutation of benefit and payment on failure of dependents; second injury fund. —If the deceased employee leaves no dependents the employer shall pay to the next of kin as herein defined the commuted amount provided for in § 97-38 for whole dependents; but if the deceased left no next of kin as herein defined, then said commuted amount shall be paid to the Industrial Commission to be held and disbursed by it in the manner hereinafter provided; one-half of said commuted amount shall be retained by the Industrial Commission and the other one-half paid to the personal representative of the deceased to be by him distributed to the next of kin as defined in the Statutes of Distribution; but if there be no next of kin as defined in the Statutes of Distribution, then the personal representative shall pay the same to the Industrial Commission after payment of costs of administration. For the purpose of this section the term "next of kin" shall include only the father, mother, widow, child, brother or sister of the deceased.

Amounts paid to the Industrial Commission under this section shall constitute a Second Injury Fund, to be held by the commission and disbursed by it in unusual cases of second injuries as follows: (1) To provide additional compensation in case of second injuries referred to in § 97-33: Provided, however, such additional compensation when added to the compensation awarded under said section shall not exceed the amount which would have been payable for both injuries had both been sustained in the subsequent accident. (2) To provide for an injured employee who has sustained permanent total disability, in the manner referred to in § 97-35, compensation in addition to the compensation which shall be awarded under said section; such additional compensation, however, when added to the compensation awarded under said section shall not exceed the compensation for permanent total disability as provided in § 97-29.

The additional compensation herein provided for is to be paid out of the Second Injury Fund exclusively and only to the extent which the assets of said fund shall permit. (1929, c. 120, s. 40; 1931, c. 274, s. 5; 1931, c. 319.)

§ 97-41. Total compensation not to exceed $6,000.—The total compensation payable under this article shall in no case exceed Six Thousand ($6,000) Dollars. (1929, c. 120, s. 41.)

§ 97-42. Deduction of unauthorized payments. —Any payments made by the employer to the injured employee during the period of his disability, or to his dependents, which by the terms of this article were not due and payable when made, may, subject to the approval of the Industrial Commission be deducted from the amount to be paid as compensation: Provided, that in the case of disability such deductions shall be made by shortening the period during which compensation must be paid, and not by reducing the amount of the weekly payment. (1929, c. 120, s. 42.)

§ 97-43. Commission may prescribe monthly or quarterly payments.—The Industrial Commission, upon application of either party, may, in its discretion, having regard to the welfare of the employee and the convenience of the employer, authorize compensation to be paid monthly or quarterly instead of weekly. (1929, c. 120, s. 43.)

§ 97-44. Lump sums.—Whenever any weekly payment has been continued for not less than six weeks, the liability therefor may, in unusual cases, where the parties agree and the Industrial Commission deems it to be to the best interest of the employee or his dependents, or where it will prevent undue hardships on the employer or his insurance carrier, without prejudicing the interests of the employee or his dependents, be redeemed, in whole or in part, by the payment by the employer of a lump sum which shall be fixed by the Commission, but in no case to exceed the commutable value of the future installments which may be due under this article. The Commission, however, in its discretion, may at any time in the case of a minor who has received permanently disabling injuries, either partial or total, provide that he be compensated, in whole or in part, by the payment of a lump sum, the amount of which shall be fixed by the Commission, but in no case to exceed the commutable value of the future installments which may be due under this article. (1929, c. 120, s. 44.)

§ 97-45. Reducing to judgment outstanding liability of insurance carriers withdrawing from state. — Upon the withdrawal of any insurance carrier from doing business in the state that has any outstanding liability under the workmen's compensation act, the insurance commissioner shall immediately notify the North Carolina industrial commission, and thereupon the said North Carolina industrial commission shall issue an award against said insurance carrier and commute the installments due the injured employee, or employees, and immediately have said award docketed in the superior court of the county in which the claimant resides, and the said North Carolina industrial commission shall then cause suit to be brought on said judgment in the state of the residence of any such insurance carrier, and the proceeds from said judgment after deducting the cost, if any, of the proceeding, shall be turned over to the injured employee, or employees, taking from such employee, or employees, the proper receipt in satisfaction of his claim. (1933, c. 474.)

§ 97-46. To receive lump sum payments; receipt to discharge employer. — Whenever the Industrial Commission deems it expedient, any lump sum, subject to the provisions of § 97-45, shall be paid by the employer to some suitable person or corporation appointed by the Superior Court in the county wherein the accident occurred, as trustee, to administer the same for the benefit of the person entitled thereto, in the manner provided by the Commission. The receipt of such trustee for the amount as paid shall discharge the employer or any one else who is liable therefor. (1929, c. 120, s. 45.)

§ 97-47. Right of Commission to review awards and change same.—Upon its own motion or upon the application of any party in interest on the grounds of a change in condition, the Industrial Commission may review any award, and on such review may make an award ending, diminishing, or increasing the compensation previously awarded, subject to the maximum or minimum provided in this article, and shall immediately send to the parties a copy of the award. No such review shall affect such award as regards any moneys paid but no such review shall be made after twelve months from the date of the last payment of compensation pursuant to an award under this article. (1929, c. 120, s. 46; 1931, c. 274, s. 6.)

§ 97-48. Receipts relieving employer; payment to minors; when payment of claims to dependents subsequent in right discharges employer.—(a) Whenever payment of compensation is made to a widow or widower for her or his use, or for her or his use and the use of the child or children, the written receipt thereof of such widow or widower shall acquit the employer: Provided, however, that in order to protect the interests of minors or incompetents the Industrial Commission may at its discretion change the terms of any award with respect to whom compensation for the benefit of such minors or incompetents shall be paid.

(b) Whenever payment is made to any person eighteen years of age or over, the written receipt of such person shall acquit the employer.

(c) Payment of death benefits by an employer in good faith to a dependent subsequent in right to another or other dependents shall protect and discharge the employer, unless and until such dependent or dependents prior in right shall have given notice of his or their claims. In case the employer is in doubt as to the respective rights of rival claimants, he may apply to the Industrial Commission to decide between them. (1929, c. 120, s. 47; 1931, c. 274, s. 7.)

§ 97-49. Benefits of mentally incompetent or minor employees under 18 to be paid to a trustee, etc.—If an injured employee is mentally incompetent or is under eighteen years of age at the time when any right or privilege accrues to him under this article, his guardian, trustee, or committee may in his behalf claim and exercise such right or privilege. (1929, c. 120, s. 48.)

§ 97-50. Limitation as against minors or mentally incompetent.—No limitation of time provided in this article for the giving of notice or making claim under this article shall run against any person who is mentally incompetent, or a minor dependent, as long as he has no guardian, trustee, or committee. (1929, c. 120, s. 49.)

§ 97-51. Contribution allowed employers of same injured employee.—Whenever an employee, for whose injury or death compensation is payable under this article, shall at the time of the injury be in joint service of two or more employers subject to this article, such employers shall contribute to the payment of such compensation in proportion to their wages liability to such employee; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall prevent any reasonable arrangement between such employers for a different distribution as between themselves of the ultimate burden of compensation. (1929, c. 120, s. 50.)

§ 97-52. North Carolina Industrial Commission created; members appointed by Governor; terms of office; chairman.—There is hereby created a commission to be known as the North Carolina Industrial Commission, consisting of three commissioners who shall devote their entire time to the duties of the Commission. The Governor shall appoint the members of the Commission, one for a term of two years, one for a term of four years, and one for a term of six years. Upon the expiration of each term as above mentioned, the Governor shall appoint a successor for a term of six years, and thereafter the term of office of each commissioner shall be six years. Not more than one appointee shall be a person who, on account of his previous vocation, employment or affiliations, can be classed as a representative of employers, and not more than one appointee shall be a person who, on account of his previous vocation, employment or affiliations, can be classed as a representative of employees. One member, to be designated by the Governor, shall act as chairman. (1929, c. 120, s. 51; 1931, c. 274, s. 8.)

§ 97-53. Salaries and expenses; secretary and other clerical assistance; annual report.—(a) The salaries of the chairman and each of the other Commissioners shall be fixed by the Governor, subject to the approval of the Advisory Budget Commission, such salaries to be payable in monthy installments.

(b) The Commission may appoint a secretary whose duties shall be prescribed by the Commission, and whose salary shall be fixed by the Governor and Council of the State and who, upon entering upon his duties, shall give bond in such sum as may be fixed by the Commission, and who may be removed at the will of the Commission. The Commission may also employ such clerical or other assistance as it may deem necessary, and fix the compensation of all persons so employed, such compensation to be in keeping with the compensation paid to the persons employed to do similar work in other State departments.

(c) The members of the Commission and its assistants shall be entitled to receive from the State their actual and necessary expenses while traveling on the business of the Commission, but such expenses shall be sworn to by the person who incurred the same, and shall be approved by the chairman of the Commission before payment is made.

(d) All salaries and expenses of the Commission shall be audited and paid out of the State Treasury, in the manner prescribed for similar expenses in other departments or branches of the State service, and to defray such salaries and expenses a sufficient appropriation shall be made under the general appropriation act as made to other departments, commissions and agencies of the State government.

(e) The Commission shall publish annually for free distribution a report of the administration of this article, together with such recommendations as the Commission deems advisable. (1929, c. 120, s. 52; 1931, c. 274, s. 9; 1941, c. 358, s. 2.)

§ 97-54. Offices and supplies; deputies with power to subpoena witnesses and to take testimony; meetings; hearings.—(a) The Commission shall be provided with adequate offices in which the records shall be kept and its official business transacted during regular business hours; it shall also be provided with necessary office furniture, stationery, and other supplies.

(b) The Commission may appoint deputies, who shall have the power to subpoena witnesses and administer oaths, and who may take testimony in such cases as the Commission may deem proper. Such testimony shall be transmitted in writing to the Commission, and the Commission shall fix the compensation of such deputies.

(c) The Commission or any member thereof may hold sessions at any place within the State as may be deemed necessary by the Commission.

(d) Hearings before the Commission shall be open to the public and shall be stenographically reported, and the Commission is authorized to contract for the reporting of such hearings. The Commission shall by regulation provide for the preparation of a record of the hearings and other proceedings. (1929, c. 120, s. 53; 1931, c. 274, s. 10.)

§ 97-55. Rules and regulations; subpoena of witnesses; examination of books and records; depositions; costs.—(a) The Commission may make rules, not inconsistent with this article, for carrying out the provisions of this article. Processes and procedure under this article shall be as summary and simple as reasonably may be. The Commission or any member thereof, or any person deputized by it, shall have the power, for the purpose of this article, to subpoena witnesses, administer or cause to have administered oaths, and to examine or cause to be examined such parts of the books and records of the parties to a proceeding as relate to questions in dispute. Any party to a proceeding under this article may, upon application to the Commission, which application shall set forth the materiality of the evidence to be given, cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the State to be taken, the costs to be taxed as other costs by Commission. Such depositions shall be taken after giving the notice and in the manner prescribed by law for depositions in actions at law, except that they shall be directed to the Commission, the Commissioner, or the Deputy Commissioner before whom the proceedings may be pending.

(b) The County Sheriffs and their respective deputies shall serve all subpoenas of the Commission or its deputies, and shall receive the same fees as are now provided by law for like services; each witness who appears in obedience to such subpoena of the Commission shall receive for attendance the fees and mileage for witnesses in civil cases in courts of the county where the hearing is held.

(c) The Superior Court shall, on application of the Commission or any member or deputy thereof, enforce by proper proceedings the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production and examination of books, papers and records. (1929, c. 120, s. 54.)

§ 97-56. Blank forms and literature; accident reports; studies and investigations and recommendations to General Assembly; to co-operate with agencies of U. S. for prevention of injury.—(a) The Commission shall prepare and cause to be printed, and upon request furnish, free of charge to any employee or employer, such blank forms and literature as it shall deem requisite to facilitate or prompt the efficient administration of this article.

(b) The Commission shall tabulate the accident reports received from employers in accordance with § 97-67 and shall publish the same in the annual report of the Commission and as often as it may deem advisable, in such detailed or aggregate form as it may deem best. The name of the employer or employee shall not appear in such publications, and the employers' reports shall be private records of the Commission, and shall not be open for public inspection except for the inspection of the parties directly involved, and only to the extent of such interest. These reports shall not be used as evidence against any employer in any suit at law brought by any employee for the recovery of damages.

(c) The Commission shall make studies and investigations with respect to safety provisions and the causes of injuries in employments covered by this article, and shall from time to time make to the General Assembly and to employers and carriers such recommendations as it may deem proper as to the best means of preventing such injuries.

(d) In making such studies and investigations the Commission is authorized (1) to co-operate with any agency of the United States charged with the duty of enforcing any law securing safety against injury in any employment covered by this article, or with any State agency engaged in enforcing any laws to assure safety for employees, and (2) to permit any such agency to have access to the records of the Commission. In carrying out the provisions of this section the Commission or any officer or employee of the Commission is authorized to enter at any reasonable time upon any premises, tracks, wharf, dock, or other landing place, or to enter any building, where an employment covered by this article is being carried on, and to examine any tool, appliance, or machinery used in such employment. (1929, c. 120, s. 55.)

§ 97-57. Memorandum of agreement between employer and employee to be submitted to Commission on prescribed forms for approval. — If after seven days after the date of the injury, or at any time in case of death, the employer and the injured employee or his dependents reach an agreement in regard to compensation under this article, a memorandum of the agreement in the form prescribed by the Industrial Commission, accompanied by a full and complete medical report, shall be filed with and approved by the Commission; otherwise such agreement shall be voidable by the employee or his dependents.

If approved by the Commission, thereupon the memorandum shall for all purposes be enforceable by the court's decree as hereinafter specified. (1929, c. 120, s. 56.)

§ 97-58. In event of disagreement, Commission is to make award after hearing.—If the employer and the injured employee or his dependents fail to reach an agreement, in regard to compensation under this article within fourteen days after the employee has knowledge of the injury or death, or if they have reached such an agreement which has been signed and filed with the Commission, and compensation has been paid or is due in accordance therewith, and the parties thereto then disagree as to the continuance of any weekly payment under such agreement, either party may make application to the Industrial Commission for a hearing in regard to the matters at issue, and for a ruling thereon.

Immediately after such application has been received the Commission shall set the date for a hearing, which shall be held as soon as practicable, and shall notify the parties at issue of the time and place of such hearing. The hearing shall be held in the city or county where the injury occurred, unless otherwise agreed to by the parties and authorized by the Industrial Commission. (1929, c. 120, s. 57.)

§ 97-59. Determination of disputes by Commission.—The Commission or any of its members shall hear the parties at issue and their representatives and witnesses, and shall determine the dispute in a summary manner. The award, together with a statement of the findings of fact, rulings of law, and other matters pertinent to the questions at issue shall be filed with the record of the proceedings, and a copy of the award shall immediately be sent to the parties in dispute. The parties may be heard by a deputy, in which event he shall swear or cause the witnesses to be sworn, and shall transmit all testimony to the Commission for its determination and award. (1929, c. 120, s. 58.)

§ 97-60. Review of award.—If application is made to the Commission within seven days from the date when notice of the award shall have been given, the full Commission shall review the award, and, if good ground be shown therefor, reconsider the evidence, receive further evidence, rehear the parties or their representatives, and, if proper, amend the award. (1929, c. 120, s. 59.)

§ 97-61. Award conclusive as to facts; or certified questions of law. — The award of the Commission, as provided in § 97-59, if not reviewed in due time, or an award of the Commission upon such review, as provided in § 97-60, shall be conclusive and binding as to all questions of fact; but either party to the dispute may, within thirty days from the date of such award, or within thirty days after receipt of notice to be sent by registered mail of such award, but not thereafter, appeal from the decision of said Commission to the Superior Court of the county in which the alleged accident happened, or in which the employer resides or has his principal office, for errors of law, under the same terms and conditions as govern appeals in ordinary civil actions. The Commission, of its own motion, may certify questions of law to the Supreme Court, for decision and determination by the said Court. In case of an appeal from the decision of the Commission, or of a certification by said Commission of questions of law, to the Supreme Court, said appeal or certification shall operate as a supersedeas, and no employer shall be required to make payment of the award involved in said appeal or certification until the questions at issue therein shall have been fully determined in accordance with the provisions of this article. (1929, c. 120, s. 60.)

§ 97-62. Agreements approved by Commission or awards may be filed as judgments; discharge or restoration of lien. — Any party in interest may file in the Superior Court of the county in which the injury occurred a certified copy of a memorandum of agreement approved by the Commission, or of an order or decision of the Commission, or of an award of the Commission unappealed from or of an award of the Commission affirmed upon appeal; whereupon said court shall render judgment in accordance therewith, and notify the parties. Such judgment shall have the same effect, and all proceedings in relation thereto shall thereafter be the same, as though said judgment had been rendered in a suit duly heard and determined by said court: Provided, if the judgment debtor shall file a certificate duly issued by the Industrial Commission, showing compliance with § 97-68, with the Clerk of the Superior Court in the county or counties where such judgment is docketed, then such clerk shall make upon the judgment roll an entry showing the filing of such certificate, which shall operate as a discharge of the lien of the said judgment, and no execution shall be issued thereon; provided, further, that if at any time there is default in the payment of any installment due under the award set forth in said judgment the court may, upon application for cause and after ten days' notice to judgment debtor, order the lien of such judgment restored, and execution may be immediately issued thereon for past due installments and for future installments as they may become due. (1929, c. 120, s. 61.)

§ 97-63. Expenses of appeals brought by insurers.—If the Industrial Commission at a hearing on review or any court before which any proceedings are brought on appeal under this article, shall find that such hearing or proceedings were brought by the insurer, and the Commission or court by its decision orders the insurer to make, or to continue, payments of compensation to the injured employee, the Commission or court may further order that the cost to the injured employee of such hearing or proceedings, including therein reasonable attorney's fee to be determined by the Commission shall be paid by the insurer as a part of the bill of costs. (1929, c. 120, s. 62; 1931, c. 274, s. 11.)

§ 97-64. Commission may appoint qualified physician to make necessary examinations; expenses; fees. — The Commission or any member thereof may, upon the application of either party, or upon its own motion, appoint a disinterested and duly qualified physician or surgeon to make any necessary medical examination of the employee, and to testify in respect thereto. Said physician or surgeon shall be allowed traveling expenses and a reasonable fee to be fixed by the Commission, not exceeding ten dollars for each examination and report, but the Commission may allow additional reasonable amounts in extraordinary cases. The fees and expenses of such physician or surgeon shall be paid by the employer. (1929, c. 120, s. 63; 1931, c. 274, s. 12.)

§ 97-65. Legal and medical fees to be approved by Commission; misdemeanor to receive fees unapproved by Commission, or to solicit employment in adjusting claims.—(a) Fees for attorneys and physicians and charges of hospitals for services under this article shall be subject to the approval of the Commission; but no physician shall be entitled to collect fees from an employer or insurance carrier until he has made the reports required by the Industrial Commission in connection with the case.

(b) Any person (1) who receives any fee, other consideration, or any gratuity on account of services so rendered, unless such consideration or gratuity is approved by the Commission or such court, or (2) who makes it a business to solicit employment for a lawyer or for himself in respect of any claim or award for compensation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall, for each offense, be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment not to exceed one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (1929, c. 120, s. 64.)

§ 97-66. Commission to determine all questions.—All questions arising under this article if not settled by agreements of the parties interested therein, with the approval of the Commission, shall be determined by the Commission, except as otherwise herein provided. (1929, c. 120, s. 65.)

§ 97-67. Employer's record and report of accidents; records of Commission not open to public; supplementary report upon termination of disability; penalty for refusal to make report; when insurance carrier liable.—(a) Every employer shall hereafter keep a record of all injuries, fatal or otherwise, received by his employees in the course of their employment on blanks approved by the Commission. Within ten days after the occurrence and knowledge thereof, as provided in § 97-22, of an injury to an employee, causing his absence from work for more than three days, a report thereof shall be made in writing and mailed to the Industrial Commission on blanks to be procured from the Commission for this purpose.

(b) The records of the Commission, in so far as they refer to accidents, injuries, and settlements, shall not be open to the public, but only to the parties satisfying the Commission of their interest in such records and the right to inspect them.

(c) Upon the termination of the disability of the injured employee, or if the disability extends beyond a period of sixty days, then, also, at the expiration of such period the employer shall make a supplementary report to the Commission on blanks to be procured from the Commission for the purpose.

(d) The said report shall contain the name, nature, and location of the business of the employer, and name, age, sex, and wages and occupation of the injured employee; and shall state the date and hour of the accident causing injury, the nature and cause of the injury, and such other information as may be required by the Commission.

(e) Any employer who refuses or neglects to make the report required by this section shall be liable for a penalty of not less than five dollars and not more than twenty-five dollars for each refusal or neglect. The fine herein provided may be assessed by the Commission in an open hearing, with the right of review and appeal as in other cases. In the event the employer has transmitted the report to the insurance carrier for transmission by such insurance carrier to the Industrial Commission, the insurance carrier wilfully neglecting or failing to transmit the report shall be liable for the said penalty. (1929, c. 120, s. 66.)

§ 97-68. Adhering employers required to carry group insurance; prove financial ability to pay for benefits.—Every employer who accepts the provisions of this article relative to the payment of compensation shall insure and keep insured his ability thereunder in any authorized corporation, association, organization, or in any mutual insurance association formed by a group of employers so authorized, or shall furnish to the Industrial Commission satisfactory proof of his financial ability to pay direct the compensation in the amount and manner and when due, as provided for in this article. In the latter case the Commission may require the deposit of an acceptable security, indemnity or bond to secure the payment of the compensation liabilities as they are incurred. (1929, c. 120, s. 67.)

§ 97-69. Adhering employers required to give proof within 30 days that they have complied with preceding section; fine for not keeping liability insured; review; liability for compensation.—(a) Every employer accepting the compensation provisions of this article shall, within thirty days, after this article takes effect, file with the Commission, in form prescribed by it, and thereafter, annually or as often as may be necessary, evidence of his compliance with the provisions of § 97-68 and all others relating thereto.

(b) Any employer required to secure the payment of compensation under this article who refuses or neglects to secure such compensation shall be punished by a fine of ten cents for each employee at the time of the insurance becoming due, but not less than one dollar nor more than fifty dollars for each day of such refusal or neglect, and until the same ceases; and he shall be liable during continuance of such refusal or neglect to an employee either for compensation under this article or at law in the same manner as provided in § 97-14.

The fine herein provided may be assessed by the Commission in an open hearing, with the right of review and appeal as in other cases. (1929, c. 120, s. 68.)

§ 97-70. Actions against employers failing to effect insurance or qualify as self-insurer.—As to every employer subject to the provisions of this article who shall fail or neglect to keep in effect a policy of insurance against compensation liability arising hereunder with some insurance carrier, as provided in § 97-68, or who shall fail to qualify as a self-insurer as provided in the chapter, in addition to other penalties provided by this chapter, such employer shall be liable in a civil action which may be instituted by the claimant for all such compensation as may be awarded by the industrial commission in a proceeding properly instituted before said commission, and such action may be brought by the claimant in the county of his residence or in any county in which the defendant has any property in this state; and in said civil action, ancillary remedies provided by law in civil actions of attachment, receivership, and other appropriate ancillary remedies shall be available to the plaintiff therein. Said action may be instituted before the award shall be made by the industrial commission in such case for the purpose of preventing the defendant from disposing of or removing from the state of North Carolina for the purpose of defeating the payment of compensation any property which the defendant may own in this state. In said action, after being instituted, the court may, after proper amendment to the pleadings therein, permit the recovery of a judgment against the defendant for the amount of compensation duly awarded by the North Carolina industrial commission, and subject any property seized in said action for payment of the judgment so awarded. The institution of said action shall in no wise interfere with the jurisdiction of said industrial commission in hearing and determining the claim for compensation in full accord with the provisions of this chapter. That nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or abridge the rights of an employee as provided in subsection (b) of § 97-69. (1941, c. 352.)

§ 97-71. Certificate of compliance with law; revocation and new certificate. — Whenever an employer has complied with the provisions of § 97-68, relating to self-insurance, the Industrial Commission shall issue to such employer a certificate, which shall remain in force for a period fixed by the Commission, but the Commission may, upon at least sixty days' notice and a hearing to the employer, revoke the certificate upon satisfactory evidence for such revocation having been presented. At any time after such revocation the Commission may grant a new certificate to the employer upon his petition. (1929, c. 120, s. 69.)

§ 97-72. Insurance policies must contain clause that notice of employer is notice to insurer; etc. —All policies insuring the payment of compensation under this article must contain a clause to the effect that, as between the employer and the insurer, the notice to or acknowledgment of the occurrence of the injury on the part of the insured employer shall be deemed notice or knowledge as the case may be, on the part of the insurer; that jurisdiction of the insured for the purposes of this article shall be jurisdiction of the insurer, that the insurer shall in all things be bound by and subject to the awards, judgments, or decrees rendered against such insured employer, and that insolvency or bankruptcy of the employer and/or discharge therein shall not relieve the insurer from the payment of compensation for disability or death sustained by an employee during the life of such policy or contract. (1929, c. 120, s. 70.)

§ 97-73. Policy must contain agreement promptly to pay benefits; continuance of obligation of insurer in event of default.—No policy of insurance against liability arising under this article shall be issued unless it contains the agreement of the insurer that it will promptly pay to the person entitled to same all benefits conferred by this article, and all installments of the compensation that may be awarded or agreed upon, and that the obligation shall not be affected by any default of the insured after the injury or by any default in giving notice required by such policy or otherwise. Such agreement shall be construed to be a direct promise by the insurer to the person entitled to compensation enforceable in his name. (1929, c. 120, s. 71.)

§ 97-74. Law written into each insurance policy; form of policy to be approved by Insurance Commissioner; law inapplicable to single catastrophe hazards.—(a) Every policy for the insurance of the compensation herein provided, or against liability therefor, shall be deemed to be made subject to the provisions of this article. No corporation, association, or organization shall enter into any such policy of insurance unless its form shall have been approved by the Insurance Commissioner.

(b) This article shall not apply to policies of insurance against loss from explosion of boilers or fly-wheels or other similar single catastrophe hazards: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to relieve the employer from liability for injury or death of an employee as a result of such explosion or catastrophe. (1929, c. 120, s. 72.)

§ 97-75. Rates for insurance; carrier to make reports for determination of solvency; tax upon premium; returned or canceled premiums; reports of premiums collected; wrongful or fraudulent representation of carrier punishable as misdemeanor; notices to carrier; employer who carries own risk shall make report on payroll.—(a) The rates charged by all carriers of insurance, including the parties to any mutual insurance association writing insurance against the liability for compensation under this article, shall be fair, reasonable, and adequate, with due allowance for merit rating; and all risks of the same kind and degree of hazard shall be written at the same rate by the same carrier. No policy of insurance against liability for compensation under this article shall be valid until the rate thereof has been approved by the Commissioner of Insurance; nor shall any such carrier of insurance write any such policy or contract until its basic and merit rating schedules have been filed with, approved, and not subsequently disapproved by the Commissioner of Insurance.

(b) Each such insurance carrier shall report to the Commissioner of Insurance, in accordance with such reasonable rules as the Commissioner of Insurance may at any time prescribe, for the purpose of determining the solvency of the carrier and the adequacy of its rates; for such purpose the Commissioner of Insurance may inspect the books and records of such insurance carrier, and examine its agents, officers, and directors under oath.

(c) Every person, partnership, association, corporation, whether organized under the laws of this or any other state or country, every mutual company or association and every other insurance carrier insuring employers in this State against liability for personal injuries to their employees, or death caused thereby, under the provisions of this article, shall, as hereinafter provided, pay a tax upon the premium received, whether in cash or notes, in this State, or on account of business done in this State, for such insurance in this State, at the rate provided in the Revenue Act then in force, which tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes on such premiums, which tax shall be assessed and collected as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that such insurance carriers shall be credited with all canceled or returned premiums actually refunded during the year on such insurance.

(d) Every such insurance carrier shall, for the six months ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and twenty-nine, and semi-annually thereafter, make a return, verified by the affidavit of its president and secretary, or other chief officers or agents, to the Commissioner of Insurance, stating the amount of all such premiums and credits during the period covered by such return. Every insurance carrier required to make such return shall file the same with the Commissioner of Insurance within thirty days after the close of the period covered thereby, and shall at the same time pay to the State Insurance Commissioner the tax provided in the Revenue Act then in force on such premium ascertained, as provided in sub-section (c) hereof, less returned premium on canceled policies.

(e) If any such insurance carrier shall fail or refuse to make the return required by this article, the said Commissioner of Insurance shall assess the tax against such insurance carrier at the rate herein provided for, on such amount of premium as he may deem just, and the proceedings thereon shall be the same as if the return had been made.

(f) If any such insurance carrier shall withdraw from business in this State before the tax shall fall due, as herein provided, or shall fail or neglect to pay such tax, the Commissioner of Insurance shall at once proceed to collect the same; and he is hereby empowered and authorized to employ such legal process as may be necessary for that purpose, and when so collected he shall pay the same into the State Treasury. The suit may be brought by the Commissioner of Insurance, in his official capacity, in any court of this State having jurisdiction. Reasonable attorney's fees may be taxed as costs therein, and process may issue to any county of the State, and may be served as in civil actions, or in case of unincorporated associations, partnerships, inter-indemnity contracts, upon any agent of the parties thereto upon whom process may be served under the laws of this State.

(g) Any person or persons who shall in this State act or assume to act as agent for any such insurance carrier whose authority to do business in this State has been suspended, while such suspension remains in force, or shall neglect or refuse to comply with any of the provisions of this section obligatory upon such person or party, or who shall wilfully make a false or fraudulent statement of the business or condition of any such insurance carrier, or false or fraudulent return as herein provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than ten nor more than ninety days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

(h) Whenever by this article, or the terms of any policy contract, any officer is required to give any notice to an insurance carrier, the same may be given by delivery, or by mailing by registered letter properly addressed and stamped, to the principal office or general agent of such insurance carrier within this State, or to its home office, or to the secretary, general agent, or chief officer thereof in the United States, or the State Insurance Commissioner.

(i) Any insurance carrier liable to pay a tax upon premiums under this article shall not be liable to pay any other or further tax upon such premiums, under any other law of this State.

(j) Every employer carrying his own risk under the provisions of § 97-68 shall, under oath, report to the Commission his payroll, subject to the provisions of this article. Such report shall be made in form prescribed by the Commission, and at the times herein provided for premium reports by insurer. The Commission shall assess against such payroll a maintenance fund tax computed by taking such per cent of the basic premiums charged against the same or most similar industry or business taken from the manual insurance rate then in force in this State as is assessed in the Revenue Act against the insurance carriers for premiums collected on compensation insurance policies. (1929, c. 120, s. 73; 1931, c. 274, s. 13.)

§ 97-76. Collection of fines and penalties.—The Industrial Commission shall have the power by civil action brought in its own name to enforce the collection of any fines or penalties provided by this article, and fines or penalties collected by the Commission shall become a part of the maintenance fund referred to in sub-section (j) of § 97-75. (1931, c. 274, s. 14.)

Art. 2. Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau.

§ 97-77. Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau created; objects, functions, etc.—There is hereby created a Bureau to be known as the Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau of North Carolina, with the following objects, functions and sources of income:

(a) To maintain rules and regulations and fix premium rates for Workmen's Compensation Insurance and equitably adjust the same as far as practicable, in accordance with the hazards of individual risks by inspection by the Bureau.

(b) To furnish upon request of any employer in the State of North Carolina or to any member of the compensation rating and Inspection Bureau of North Carolina, upon whose risk a compensation rate has been promulgated, information as to the rating, including the method of its compilation, and to encourage employers to reduce the number and severity of accidents by offering reduced premium rates for improved working conditions under such uniform system of merit or schedule rating as may be approved by the Insurance Commissioner of the State of North Carolina.

(c) The Bureau shall make a rating survey of each risk inspected which survey shall clearly show the location of all ratable items: Provided, however, that the Bureau shall not describe the items or make any recommendations for accident prevention, such service being reserved as a proper and essential field for the competitive enterprise of its individual members. (1931, c. 279, s. 1.)

§ 97-78. Membership in Bureau of carriers of insurance; acceptance of rejected risks; rules and regulations for maintenance; Insurance Commissioner or deputy ex-officio Chairman. — Before the Insurance Commissioner shall grant permission to any mutual association, reciprocal or stock company, or any other insurance organization to write compensation or employers' liability insurance in this State, it shall be a requisite that they shall subscribe to and become members of the Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau of North Carolina.

It shall be the duty of all companies underwriting workmen's compensation insurance in this State and being members of the compensation rating and inspection bureau of North Carolina, as defined in this section, to insure and accept any workmen's compensation insurance risk which shall have been tendered to and rejected by any three members of said bureau in the manner hereinafter provided. When any such rejected risk is called to the attention of the compensation rating and inspection bureau of North Carolina and it appearing that said risk is in good faith entitled to such coverage, the bureau shall fix the initial premium therefor, (subject to the approval of the insurance commissioner), and upon its payment said bureau shall designate a member whose duty it shall be to issue a standard workmen's compensation policy of insurance containing the usual and customary provisions found in such policies therefor. Before any such risk shall be assigned under the provisions of this section such risk shall, if demanded, furnish the bureau a certificate of the division of standards and inspection of the department of labor that he is complying with the rules and regulations of that department. The bureau shall within thirty days after March 8, 1935, make and adopt such rules as may be necessary to carry this article into effect, subject to final approval of the insurance commissioner. As a prerequisite to the transaction of workmen's compensation insurance in this State every member of said bureau shall file with the insurance commissioner written authority permitting said bureau to act in its behalf as provided in this section, and an agreement to accept such risks as are assigned to said insurance by said bureau, as provided in this section.

(a) Each member of the Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau writing compensation insurance in the State of North Carolina shall, as a requisite thereto, be represented in the aforesaid Bureau and shall be entitled to one representative and one vote in the administration of the affairs of the Bureau. They shall, upon organization, elect a governing committee, which governing committee shall be composed of equal representation by participating and non-participating members.

(b) The Bureau, when created, shall adopt such rules and regulations for its procedure as may be necessary for its maintenance and operation. The expense of such bureau shall be borne by its members by quarterly contributions to be made in advance, such necessary expense to be advanced by prorating such expense among the members in accordance with the amount of gross Workmen's Compensation premiums written in North Carolina during the preceding year ending December the thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty, and members entering since that date to advance an amount to be fixed by the governing committee. After the first fiscal year of operation of the bureau the necessary expenses of the bureau shall be advanced by the members in accordance with rules and regulations to be established and adopted by the governing committee.

(c) The Insurance Commissioner of the State of North Carolina, or such deputy as he may appoint, shall be ex officio chairman of the Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau of North Carolina, and the Insurance Commissioner or such deputy designated by him shall preside over all meetings of the governing committee or other meetings of the Bureau and it shall be his duty to determine any controversy that may arise by reason of a tie vote between the members of the governing committee. (1931, c. 279, s. 2; 1935, c. 76.)

§ 97-79. Governing committee; production of books and records for compilation of appropriate statistics; rates subject to approval of Insurance Commissioner.—In order to carry into effect the objects of this article the Bureau members shall immediately elect its governing committee who shall employ and fix the salaries of such personnel and assistance as is necessary, subject to the approval of the Insurance Commissioner, and the Insurance Commissioner is hereby authorized to compel the production of books, data, papers, and records relating to or bearing upon such data as is necessary to compile statistics for the purpose of determining the pure cost and expense loading of Workmen's Compensation Insurance in North Carolina and this information shall be available and for the use of the Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau, for the compilation and promulgation of rates on Workmen's Compensation Insurance. All such rates compiled and promulgated by such Bureau shall be submitted to the Insurance Commissioner for approval as provided in § 97-75. (1931, c. 279, s. 3.)

Art. 3. Occupational Diseases.

§ 97-80. Occupational disease made compensable; "accident" defined; diseases excepted under certain conditions. — Disablement or death of an employee resulting from an occupational disease described in § 97-81 shall be treated as the happening of an injury by accident within the meaning of the North Carolina Workmen's Compensation Act and the procedure and practice and compensation and other benefits provided by said act shall apply in all such cases except as hereinafter otherwise provided. The word "accident," as used in the Workmen's Compensation Act, shall not be construed to mean a series of events in employment, of a similar or like nature, occurring regularly, continuously or at frequent intervals in the course of such employment, over extended periods of time, whether such events may or may not be attributable to fault of the employer, and disease attributable to such causes shall be compensable only if culminating in an occupational disease mentioned in and compensable under this article: Provided, however, no compensation shall be payable for asbestosis and/or silicosis as hereinafter defined if the employee, at the time of entering into the employment of the employer by whom compensation would otherwise be payable, falsely represented himself in writing as not having previously been disabled or laid off because of asbestosis or silicosis. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-81. Occupational diseases enumerated; when due to exposure to chemicals.—The following diseases and conditions only shall be deemed to be occupational diseases within the meaning of this article:

1. Anthrax.
2. Arsenic poisoning.
3. Brass poisoning.
4. Zinc poisoning.
5. Manganese poisoning.
6. Lead poisoning. Provided the employee shall have been exposed to the hazard of lead poisoning for at least thirty days in the preceding twelve months' period, and; provided further only the employer in whose employment such employee was last injuriously exposed shall be liable.
7. Mercury poisoning.
8. Phosphorus poisoning.
9. Poisoning by carbon bisulphide, methanol, naphtha or volatile halogenated hydrocarbons.
10. Chrome ulceration.
11. Compressed-air illness.
12. Poisoning by benzol, or by nitro and amido derivatives of benzol (dinitrol-benzol, anilin, and others).
13. Infection or inflammation of the skin or eyes or other external contact surfaces or oral or nasal cavities due to irritating oils, cutting compounds, chemical dust, liquids, fumes, gases or vapors.
14. Epitheliomatous cancer or ulceration of the skin or of the corneal surface of the eye due to tar, pitch, bitumen, mineral oil, or paraffin, or any compound, product, or residue of any of these substances.
15. Radium poisoning or injury by X-rays.
16. Blisters due to use of tools or appliances in the employment.
17. Bursitis, of the knee or elbow, due to intermittent pressure in the employment.
18. Miner's nystagmus.
19. Bone felon due to constant or intermittent pressure in employment.
20. Synovitis, caused by trauma in employment.
21. Tenosynovitis, caused by trauma in employment.
22. Carbon monoxide poisoning.
23. Poisoning by sulphuric, hydrochloric or hydrofluoric acid.
24. Asbestosis.
25. Silicosis.

Occupational diseases caused by chemicals shall be deemed to be due to exposure of an employee to the chemicals herein mentioned only when as a part of the employment such employee is exposed to such chemicals in such form and quantity, and used with such frequency as to cause the occupational disease mentioned in connection with such chemicals. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-82. "Disablement" defined. — The term "disablement" as used in this article as applied to cases of asbestosis and silicosis means the event of becoming actually incapacitated, because of such occupational disease, from performing normal labor in the last occupation in which remuneratively employed; but in all other cases of occupational disease shall be equivalent to "disability" as defined in § 97-2, paragraph (i). (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-83. "Disability" defined.—The term "disability" as used in this article means the state of being incapacitated as the term is used in defining "disablement" in § 97-82. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-84. Limitation on compensable diseases. —The provisions of this article shall apply only to cases of occupational disease in which the last exposure in an occupation subject to the hazards of such diseases occurred on or after March 26, 1935. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-85. Persons liable.—In any case where compensation is payable for an occupational disease, the employer in whose employment the employee was last injuriously exposed to the hazards of such disease, and the insurance carrier, if any, which was on the risk when the employee was so last exposed under such employer, shall be liable. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-86. Claims for certain diseases restricted; time limit for filing claims.—An employer shall not be liable for any compensation for asbestosis, silicosis or lead poisoning unless disablement or death results within three years after the last exposure to such disease, or, in case of death, unless death follows continuous disability from such disease, commencing within the period of three years limited herein, and for which compensation has been paid or awarded or timely claim made as hereinafter provided and results within seven years after such last exposure. Claims for all other occupational diseases shall be barred unless claims shall be filed with the industrial commission within one year from the disablement or death caused by such occupational disease. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-87. Employer to provide treatment.—In the event of disability from an occupational disease, the employer shall provide reasonable medical and/or other treatment for such time as in the judgment of the industrial commission will tend to lessen the period of disability or provide needed relief; provided, however, medical and/or other treatment for asbestosis and/or silicosis shall not exceed a period of three years nor cost in excess of three hundred thirty-four ($334.00) dollars in any one year; and, provided further, all such treatment shall be first authorized by the industrial commission after consulting with the advisory medical committee. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-88. Compulsory examination of employees. —The compulsory examination of employees and prospective employees as herein provided applies only to persons engaged or about to engage in an occupation which has been found by the industrial commission to expose them to the hazards of asbestosis and/or silicosis. The industrial commission shall designate by order each industry found subject to any such hazard and shall notify the employers therein before such examinations are required. On and after March 26, 1935, it shall be the duty of every employer, in the conduct of whose business his employees or any of them are subjected to the hazards of asbestosis and/or silicosis, to provide prior to employment necessary examinations of all new employees for the purpose of ascertaining if any of them are in any degree affected by asbestosis and/or silicosis or peculiarly susceptible thereto; and every such employer shall from time to time, as ordered by the industrial commission, provide similar examinations for all of his employees whose employment exposes them to the hazards of asbestosis and/or silicosis. At least one member of the advisory medical committee or other physician designated by the industrial commission shall make such examinations or be present when any such examination is made. The refusal of an employee to submit to any such examination shall bar such employee from compensation or other benefits provided by this article in the event of disablement and/or death resulting from exposure to the hazards of asbestosis and/or silicosis subsequent to such refusal. It shall be the duty of the industrial commission to make and/or order inspections of employments and to keep a record of all employments subjecting employees to the hazards of asbestosis and/or silicosis, and to notify the employer in any case where such hazard shall have been found to exist. The unreasonable failure of an employer to provide for any examination or his unreasonable refusal to permit any inspection herein authorized shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall be punishable as such. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-89. Compensation for employee temporarily removed from hazardous employment; payment for training for readjustment to other work; waiver of right to compensation.—Where an employee, though not actually disabled, is found by the industrial commission to be affected by asbestosis and/or silicosis, and it is also found by the industrial commission that such employee would be benefited by being taken out of his employment and that such disease with such employee has progressed to such a degree as to make it hazardous for him to continue in his employment and is in consequence removed therefrom by order of the industrial commission, he shall be paid compensation as for temporary total or partial disability, as the case may be, until he can obtain employment in some other occupation in which there are no hazards of such occupational disease: Provided, however, compensation in no such case shall be paid for a longer period than twenty weeks to an employee without dependents, nor for a longer period than forty weeks to an employee with dependents, and in either case said period shall begin from the date of removal from the employment, unless actual disablement from such disease results later and within the time limited in § 97-86. When in any such case the forced change of occupation shall in the opinion of the industrial commission require that the employee be given special training in order to properly readjust himself there shall be paid for such training and incidental traveling and living expenses an additional sum which shall not exceed three hundred ($300.00) dollars, in the case of an employee without dependents, and which shall not exceed five hundred ($500.00) dollars in the case of an employee with dependents, such payment to be made for the benefit of the employee to such person or persons as the industrial commission may direct; provided, however, no such payment shall be made unless the employee accepts the special training herein provided, nor shall payment be made for a longer period of time than the employee shall accept such special training. If an employee has been so compensated, and whether or not specially trained for another occupation, and he thereafter engages in any occupation which exposes him to hazards of silicosis and/or asbestosis without first having obtained the written approval of the industrial commission, neither he, his dependents, personal representative nor any other person shall be entitled to any compensation for disablement or death from silicosis and/or asbestosis: Provided, however, that an employee so affected, as an alternative to forced change of occupation, may, subject to the approval of the industrial commission, waive in writing his right to compensation for any aggravation of his condition that may result from his continuing in his hazardous occupation; but in the event of total disablement and/or death as a result of asbestosis and/or silicosis with which the employee was so affected compensation shall nevertheless be payable, but in no case, whether for disability or death or both, for a longer period than one hundred (100) weeks. Such written waiver must be filed with the industrial commission, and the commission shall keep a record of each waiver, which record shall be open to the inspection of any interested person. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-91. Period necessary for employee to be exposed. — Compensation shall not be payable for disability or death due to silicosis and/or asbestosis unless the employee shall have been exposed to the inhalation of dust of silica or silicates or asbestos dust in employment for a period of not less than two years in this state, provided no part of such period of two years shall have been more than ten years prior to the last exposure. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-92. General act to control as regards benefits. — Except as herein otherwise provided, in case of disablement or death from silicosis and/or asbestosis, compensation shall be payable in accordance with the provisions of the North Carolina Workmen's Compensation Act. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-93. Reduction of rate where tuberculosis develops.—In case of disablement or death due primarily from silicosis and/or asbestosis and complicated with tuberculosis of the lungs compensation shall be payable as hereinbefore provided, except that the rate of payments may be reduced one-sixth. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-94. Requirement as to written notice of disease to employer or industrial commission; waiver of notice and claim where payments are made; claim where benefits are discontinued. — Unless written notice of the first distinct manifestation of an occupational disease shall be given to the employer in whose employment the employee was last injuriously exposed to the hazards of such disease or to the industrial commission within thirty (30) days after such manifestation, and, in case of death, unless also written notice of such death shall be given by the beneficiary hereunder to the employer or the industrial commission within ninety (90) days after occurrence, and unless claim for disability and/or death shall be made within one (1) year after the disablement or death, respectively, all rights to compensation for disability or death from an occupational disease shall be forever barred: Provided, however, that notice and/or claim shall be deemed waived in case of disability or death where the employer or insurance carrier voluntarily makes compensation payments therefor, or, within the time above limited, has actual knowledge of the incurrence of the disease or of the death and its cause, or by his or its conduct misleads the injured employee or claimant reasonably to believe that notice and/or claim has or have been waived; and, Provided further, that where compensation payments have been made and discontinued, and further compensation is claimed, whether for disability or death from asbestosis, silicosis or lead poisoning, the claim for such further compensation shall be made within two years after the last payment, but in all other cases of occupational disease claim for further compensation shall be made within one year after the last payment. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-95. Post-mortem examinations; notice to next of kin and insurance carrier.—Upon the filing of a claim for death from an occupational disease where in the opinion of the industrial commission a post-mortem examination is necessary to accurately ascertain the cause of death, such examination shall be ordered by the industrial commission. A full report of such examination shall be certified to the industrial commission. The surviving spouse or next kin and the employer or his insurance carrier, if their identity and whereabouts can be reasonably ascertained, shall be given reasonable notice of the time and place of such post-mortem examination, and, if present at such examination, shall be given an opportunity to witness the same. Any such person may be present at and witness such examination either in person or through a duly authorized representative. If such examination is not consented to by the surviving husband or wife or next of kin, all right to compensation shall cease. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-96. Controverted medical questions. — If on the hearing of a claim for compensation for asbestosis and/or silicosis, any controverted medical question or questions shall arise, the industrial commission shall reserve its decision and award until it shall have received a report from the advisory medical committee; and the industrial commission may in its discretion refer to said committee controverted medical questions arising out of other occupational disease claims. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-97. Hearing before advisory medical committee; inspection of medical reports.—The advisory medical committee, upon reference to it of a case of occupational disease shall notify the employee, or, in case he is dead, his dependents or personal representative, and his employer to appear before the advisory medical committee at a time and place stated in the notice. If the employee be living, he shall appear before the advisory medical committee at the time and place specified then or thereafter and he shall submit to such examinations including clinical and x-ray examinations as the advisory medical committee may require. The employee, or, if he be dead, the claimant and the employer shall be entitled to have present at all such examinations, a physician admitted to practice medicine in the state who shall be given every reasonable facility for observing every such examination whose services shall be paid for by the claimant or by the employer who engaged his services. If a physician admitted to practice medicine in the state shall certify that the employee is physically unable to appear at the time and place designated by the advisory medical committee, such committee may, upon the advice of the industrial commission, and on notice to the employer, change the place and/or time of the examination so as to reasonably facilitate the examination of the employee, and in any such case the employer shall furnish transportation and provide for other reasonably necessary expenses incidental to necessary travel. The claimant and the employer shall produce to the advisory medical committee all reports of medical and x-ray examinations which may be in their respective possession or control showing the past or present condition of the employee to assist the advisory medical committee in reaching its conclusions. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-98. Report of committee to industrial commission.—The advisory medical committee, shall, as soon as practicable after it has completed its consideration of a case, report to the industrial commission its opinion regarding all medical questions involved in the case. The advisory medical committee shall include in its report a statement of what, if any, physician or physicians were present at the examination on behalf of the claimant or employer and what, if any, medical reports and x-rays were produced by or on behalf of the claimant or employer. (1935, c. 123.)

mission, which shall send one copy thereof to the claimant and one copy to the employer by registered mail. Unless within thirty days from receipt of the copy of said report the claimant and/or employer shall request the industrial commission in writing to set the case for further hearing for the purpose of examining and/or cross-examining the members of the advisory medical committee respecting the report of said committee, said report shall become a part of the record of the case and shall be accepted by the industrial commission as expert medical testimony to be considered as such in connection with all the evidence in the case in arriving at its decision. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-100. Appointment of advisory medical committee; terms of office; duties and functions; salaries and expenses.—There shall be an advisory medical committee consisting of three members, who shall be licensed physicians in good professional standing and peculiarly qualified in the diagnosis and/or treatment of occupational diseases. They shall be appointed by the industrial commission with the approval of the governor, and one of them shall be designated as chairman of the committee by the industrial commission. The members of committee shall be appointed to serve terms as follows: One for a term of two years, one for a term of four years, and one for a term of six years. Upon the expiration of each term as above mentioned the industrial commission shall appoint a successor for a term of six years; except that the terms of the members first appointed shall expire June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six. The function of the committee shall be to conduct examinations and make reports as required by §§ 97-96 to 97-99, and to assist in any post-mortem examinations provided for in § 97-95 when so directed by the industrial commission. Members of the committee shall devote to the duties of the office so much of their time as may be required in the conducting of examinations with reasonable promptness, and they shall attend hearings as scheduled by the industrial commission when their attendance is desired for the purpose of examining and cross-examining them respecting any report or reports made by them.

The members of the advisory medical committee shall be paid such salaries and/or fees and expenses, and in monthly installments or in such other manner as may be determined by the governor and approved by the advisory budget commission. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-101. Expenses of making examinations.—The industrial commission shall establish a schedule of reasonable charges to defray expenses incurred in making examinations pursuant to §§ 97-88 and 97-95, such charges to be collected in accordance with rules and regulations which shall be adopted by the industrial commission. Said charges shall be collected from employers who by order of the industrial commission are determined to be subject to the hazards of asbestosis and/or silicosis. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-102. Expense of hearings taxed as costs in compensation cases; fees collected directed to general fund.—In hearings arising out of claims for disability and/or death resulting from occupational diseases the industrial commission shall tax as a part of the costs in cases in which compensation is awarded a reasonable allowance for the services of members of the advisory medical committee attending such hearings and reasonable allowances for the services of members of the advisory medical committee for making investigations in connection with all claims for compensation on account of occupational diseases, including uncontested cases, as well as contested cases, and whether or not hearings shall have been conducted in connection therewith. All such charges, fees and allowances to be collected by the industrial commission shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury to constitute a fund out of which to pay the expenses of the advisory medical committee. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-103. Making up deficiency by assessment upon employers in hazardous industries; provision for annual fund.—In the event the amount appropriated by the general assembly and the charges, fees and allowances so assessed and collected and paid into the state treasury shall not be sufficient to pay the full cost incurred by the advisory medical committee in making examinations of employees, and conducting post-mortem examinations, and in making investigations of claims arising under this article, and in testifying before the industrial commission, the industrial commission shall assess against the employers found by the industrial commission to be subject to the hazards of asbestosis and/or silicosis an amount sufficient to pay such cost, said amount to be assessed against such employers pro rata on the basis of annual payroll. The industrial commission is authorized to assess and collect in advance in the beginning of any year from the employers subject to such hazard an amount estimated as necessary to pay such cost. Said amount when so assessed shall be paid by such employers within ten days after the notice of assessment, and when collected by the industrial commission shall be paid into the state treasury as a part of the fund out of which to pay the expenses of the advisory medical committee. In the event such amount so assessed shall be found to be in excess of the cost incurred by such advisory medical committee in the performance of its duties under this article, such excess shall be credited against the estimate of the cost to be incurred by said committee for the succeeding year. In case the amount so assessed shall be insufficient to pay such cost the industrial commission is authorized to make an additional assessment to be made at the end of the regular assessment period and to be collected from the employers subject to the hazards of asbestosis and/or silicosis. (1935, c. 123.)

§ 97-104. Inspection of hazardous employments; refusal to allow inspection made misdemeanor.—The industrial commission shall make inspections of employments for the purpose of ascertaining whether such employments, or any of them, are subject to the hazards of asbestosis and/or silicosis, and for the purpose of making studies and recommendations with a view to reducing and/or eliminating such hazards. The industrial commission, and/or any person selected by it, is authorized to enter upon the premises of employers where employments covered by this article are being carried on to make examinations and studies as aforesaid. Any employer, or any officer or agent of an employer, who unreasonably prevents or obstructs any such examinations or study shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1935, c. 123.)

Art. 4. Security Funds.

§ 97-105. Title of article.—This article shall be known as the Workmen's Compensation Security Fund Act. (1935, c. 228, s. 1.)

§ 97-106. Definitions.—As hereafter used in this article, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires:

"Stock fund" means the stock workmen's compensation security fund created by this article.

"Mutual fund" means the mutual workmen's compensation security fund created by this article.

"Funds" means the stock fund and the mutual fund.

"Fund" means either the stock fund or the mutual fund as the context may require.

"Fund year" means the calendar year.

"Stock carrier" means any stock corporation authorized to transact the business of workmen's compensation insurance in this State, except an insolvent stock carrier.

"Mutual carrier" means any mutual corporation or association and any reciprocal or inter-insurance exchange authorized to transact the business of workmen's compensation insurance in this State, except an insolvent mutual carrier.

"Carrier" means either a stock carrier or a mutual carrier, as the context may require.

"Insolvent stock carrier" or "insolvent mutual carrier" means a stock carrier or a mutual carrier, as the case may be, which has been determined to be insolvent, or for which or for the assets of which a receiver has been appointed by a court or public officer of competent jurisdiction and authority.

"Commissioner" means the Insurance Commissioner of this State.

"Workmen's compensation act" means the workmen's compensation act of the State of North Carolina, being §§ 97-1 to 97-76 as amended and supplemented. (1935, c. 228, s. 2; 1941, c. 298, s. 1.)

§ 97-107. Stock workmen's compensation security fund created.—There is hereby created a fund to be known as "The Stock Workmen's Compensation Security Fund," for the purpose of assuring to persons entitled thereto the compensation provided by the workmen's compensation act for employments insured in insolvent stock carriers. Such fund shall be applicable to the payment of valid claims for compensation or death benefits heretofore or hereafter made pursuant to the workmen's compensation act, and remaining unpaid, in whole or in part, by reason of the default, after the effective date of this article, of an insolvent stock carrier. Expenses of administration also shall be paid from the fund as herein provided. Such fund shall consist of all contributions received and paid into the fund by stock carriers, as herein defined, all property and securities acquired by and through the use of moneys belonging to the fund, and of interest earned upon moneys deposited or invested as herein provided. The fund shall be administered by the commissioner of this State in accordance with the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 228, s. 3.)

§ 97-108. Verified report of premiums to be filed by stock carrier.—Every stock carrier shall, on or before the first day of September, nineteen hundred and thirty-five, file with the treasurer of the State and with the commissioner identical returns, under oath, on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the commissioner, stating the amount of net written premiums for the six months' period ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred thirty-five on policies issued, renewed or extended by such carrier, to insure payment of compensation pursuant to the workmen's compensation act. For the purposes of this article "net written premiums" shall mean gross written premiums less return premiums on policies returned not taken, and on policies canceled. Thereafter, on or before the first day of March and September of each year, each such carrier shall file similar identical returns, stating the amount of such net written premiums for the six months' period ending, respectively, on the preceding December thirty-first and June thirtieth, on policies issued, renewed or extended by such carrier. (1935, c. 228, s. 4.)

§ 97-109. Contributions by stock carriers of 1% of net written premiums.—For the privilege of carrying on the business of workmen's compensation insurance in this State, every stock carrier shall pay into the stock fund on the first day of September, nineteen hundred thirty-five, a sum equal to one per centum (1%) of its net written premiums as shown by the return hereinbefore prescribed for the period ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred thirty-five, and thereafter each such stock carrier, upon filing each semi-annual return, shall pay a sum equal to one per centum (1%) of its net written premiums for the period covered by such return. (1935, c. 228, s. 5.)

§ 97-110. Contributions to stop when stock fund equals 5% of loss reserves; resumption of contributions. — When the aggregate amount of all such payments into the stock fund, together with accumulated interest thereon, less all its expenditures and known liabilities, becomes equal to five per centum (5%) of the loss reserves of all stock carriers for the payment of benefits under the workmen's compensation act as of December thirty-first, next preceding, no further contributions to said fund shall be required to be made; provided, however, that whenever, thereafter, the amount of said fund shall be reduced below five per centum (5%) of such loss reserves as of said date by reason of payments from and known liabilities of said stock fund, then such contribution to said fund shall be resumed forthwith, and shall continue until said fund, over and above its known liabilities, shall be equal to five per centum (5%) of such reserves. (1935, c. 228, s. 6.)

§ 97-111. Rules and regulations for administration of stock fund; examination of books and records; penalty for failure to file report or pay

assessment; revocation of license.—The commissioner may adopt, amend and enforce rules and regulations necessary for the proper administration of said stock fund. In the event any stock carrier shall fail to file any return or make any payment required by this article, or in case the commissioner shall have cause to believe that any return or other statement filed is false or inaccurate in any particular, or that any payment made is incorrect, he shall have full authority to examine all the books and records of the carrier for the purpose of ascertaining the facts and shall determine the correct amount to be paid and may proceed in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover for the benefit of the fund any sums shown to be due upon such examination and determination. Any stock carrier which fails to make any statement as required by this article, or to pay any contribution to the stock fund when due, shall thereby forfeit to said fund a penalty of five per centum (5%) of the amount of unpaid contribution determined to be due as provided by this article plus one per centum (1%) of such amount for each month of delay, or fraction thereof, after the expiration of the first month of such delay, but the commissioner may upon good cause shown extend the time for filing of such return or payment. The commissioner shall revoke the certificate of authority to do business in this State of any carrier which shall fail to comply with the provisions of this article or to pay any penalty imposed in accordance with this article. (1935, c. 228, s. 7.)

§ 97-112. Separation of stock fund; disbursements; investment; sale of securities.—The stock fund created by this article shall be separate and apart from any other fund so created and from all other state moneys. The state treasurer shall be the custodian of said fund; and all disbursements from said fund shall be made by the state treasurer upon vouchers signed by the commissioner as hereinafter provided. The moneys of said fund may be invested by the state treasurer only in the bonds or securities which are the direct obligations of or which are guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States or this State. The state treasurer may sell any of the securities in which said fund is invested, if advisable for its proper administration or in the best interests of such fund, and all earnings from the investments of such fund shall be credited to such fund. (1935, c. 228, s. 8.)

§ 97-113. Payment of claim from stock fund when carrier insolvent; subrogation of employer paying claim; recovery against employer or receiver of insolvent carrier.—A. A valid claim for compensation or death benefits, or installments thereof, heretofore or hereafter made pursuant to the workmen's compensation act, which has remained or shall remain due and unpaid for sixty days, by reason of default by an insolvent stock carrier, shall be paid from the stock fund in the manner provided in this section. Any person in interest may file with the commissioner an application for payment of compensation or death benefits from the stock fund on a form prescribed and furnished by the commissioner. If there has been an award, final or otherwise, a certified copy thereof shall accompany the application. The commissioner shall thereupon certify to the state treasurer such award for payment according to the terms of the same, whereupon payment shall be made by the state treasurer.

B. Payment of compensation from the stock fund shall give the fund no right of recovery against the employer.

C. An employer may pay such award or part thereof in advance of payment from the stock fund and shall thereupon be subrogated to the rights of the employee or other party in interest against such fund to the extent of the amount so paid.

D. The state treasurer as custodian of the stock fund shall be entitled to recover the sum of all liabilities of such insolvent carrier assumed by such fund from such carrier, its receiver, liquidator, rehabilitator or trustee in bankruptcy and may prosecute an action or other proceedings therefor. All moneys recovered in any such action or proceedings shall forthwith be placed to the credit of the stock fund by the state treasurer to reimburse the stock fund to the extent of the moneys so recovered and paid. (1935, c. 228, s. 9.)

§ 97-114. Mutual workmen's compensation security fund created. — There is hereby created a fund to be known as "The Mutual Workmen's Compensation Security Fund," for the purpose of assuring to persons entitled thereto the compensation provided by the workmen's compensation act for employments insured in insolvent mutual carriers. Such fund shall be applicable to the payment of valid claims for compensation or death benefits heretofore or hereafter made pursuant to the workmen's compensation act, and remaining unpaid, in whole or in part, by reason of the default, after the effective date of this article, of an insolvent mutual carrier. Expenses of administration also shall be paid from the fund as herein provided. Such fund shall consist of all contributions received and paid into the fund by mutual carriers, as herein defined, of property and securities acquired by and through the use of moneys belonging to the fund and of interest earned upon moneys deposited or invested as herein provided. The fund shall be administered by the commissioner in accordance with the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 228, s. 10.)

§ 97-115. Verified report of premiums to be filed by mutual carrier; equalization of payments by reciprocal or inter-insurance exchanges.—Every mutual carrier shall, on or before the first day of September, nineteen hundred thirty-five, file with the treasurer of the State and with the commissioner identical returns, under oath, on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the commissioner of insurance, stating the amount of net written premiums for the six months' period ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred thirty-five, on policies issued, renewed or extended by such carrier, to insure payment of compensation pursuant to the workmen's compensation act during said period. For the purpose of this article "net written premiums" shall mean gross written premiums less return premiums on policies returned not taken and on policies cancelled. Thereafter, on or before the first day of March and September, of each year, each such carrier shall file similar identical returns, stating the amount of such net written premiums for the six months' periods ending, respectively, on the preceding December thirty-first and June thirtieth, on such policies issued, renewed or extended by such carrier.

Any reciprocal or inter-insurance exchange writing workmen's compensation insurance in North Carolina on September first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and continuing to underwrite this class of insurance shall, upon the fund reaching its maximum contribution and the discontinuance of any collection thereof, continue to pay into said mutual fund as provided in this section for a period of six years after the other members of the mutual fund have discontinued said payments in order to equalize the contribution of all members of the mutual fund, and thereafter such reciprocal or inter-insurance exchanges shall be subject to the provisions of this section. (1935, c. 228, s. 11; 1941, c. 298, s. 2.)

§ 97-116. Contributions by mutual carriers of 1% of net written premiums.—For the privilege of carrying on the business of workmen's compensation insurance in this State, every mutual carrier shall pay into the mutual fund on the first day of September, nineteen hundred thirty-five, a sum equal to one per centum (1%) of its net written premiums, as shown by the return hereinbefore prescribed for the period ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred thirty-five, and thereafter each such mutual carrier, upon filing each semi-annual return, shall pay a sum equal to one per centum (1%) of its net written premiums, as shown for the period covered by such return. (1935, c. 228, s. 12.)

§ 97-117. Distribution of excess when mutual fund equals to 5% of loss reserves; distribution of fund when liabilities liquidated. — Whenever the mutual fund, less all its known liabilities, shall exceed five percentum (5%) of the loss reserves of all mutual carriers for the payments of losses under the workmen's compensation act, as of December thirty-first next preceding, distribution of such excess shall be made as repayments for successive fund years, commencing with the first fund year, to the mutual carriers in the proportion in which they respectively made contributions for such fund year: Provided, however, no such distribution shall reduce the fund, less all its known liabilities, below an amount equal to five per centum (5%) of such loss reserves as of said date. Such repayments shall be made from time to time until the mutual carriers for the first fund year shall have received their proportionate shares of the contributions for the first fund year including interest, if any. Such repayments for succeeding fund years in their order shall be made on the same basis. The insolvency of any mutual carrier shall automatically terminate its right to such repayments and the withdrawal of any mutual carrier from the transaction of workmen's compensation insurance business in this State shall automatically suspend its right to such repayments until all its liabilities for workmen's compensation losses in this State shall have been fully liquidated. If and when all liabilities of all mutual carriers for workmen's compensation losses in this State shall have been fully liquidated, distribution shall be made of the remaining balance of the mutual fund in the proportion in which each such mutual carrier made contributions to the mutual fund. (1935, c. 228, s. 13.)

§ 97-118. Administration, custody, etc., of mutual fund. — The provisions of §§ 97-111, 97-112, and 97-113 shall apply to the administration, custody and investment of and payments from the mutual fund and to this end those sections shall be read with the necessary changes in detail to adopt their provisions to mutual funds. (1935, c. 228, s. 14.)

§ 97-119. Notice of insolvency; report of claims and unpaid awards.—Forthwith upon any carrier becoming an insolvent stock carrier, or an insolvent mutual carrier, as the case may be, the commissioner shall so notify the North Carolina industrial commission, and the North Carolina industrial commission shall immediately advise the commissioner (a) of all claims for compensation pending or thereafter made against an employer insured by such insolvent carrier, or against such insolvent carrier; (b) of all unpaid or continuing agreements, awards or decisions made upon claims prior to or after the date of such notice from the commissioner; and (c) of all appeals from or applications for modifications or rescission or review of such agreements, awards or decisions. (1935, c. 228, s. 15.)

§ 97-120. Right of commissioner to defend claims against insolvent carriers; arrangement with other carriers to pay claims.—The commissioner or his duly authorized representative may investigate and may defend before the North Carolina industrial commission or any court any or all claims for compensation against an employer insured by an insolvent carrier or against such insolvent carrier and may prosecute any pending appeal or may appeal from or make application for modification or rescission or review of an agreement, award or decision against such employer or insolvent carrier. Until all such claims for compensation are closed and all such awards thereon are paid, the commissioner, the administrator of the funds, shall be a party in interest in respect to all such claims, agreements and awards. For the purposes of this article the commissioner shall have exclusive power to select and employ such counsel, clerks and assistants as may be deemed necessary and to fix and determine their powers and duties, and he may also, in his discretion, arrange with any carrier or carriers to investigate and defend any or all such claims and to liquidate and pay such as are valid and the commissioner may from time to time reimburse, from the appropriate fund, such carrier or carriers for compensation payments so made, together with reasonable allowance for the services so rendered. (1935, c. 228, s. 16.)

§ 97-121. Expenses of administering funds.—The expense of administering the stock fund shall be paid out of the stock fund and the expense of administering the mutual fund shall be paid out of the mutual fund. The commissioner shall serve as administrator of each fund without additional compensation, but may be allowed and paid from either fund expenses incurred in the performance of his duties in connection with that fund. The compensation of those persons employed by the commissioner shall be deemed administration expenses payable from the fund in the manner provided in § 97-112. The commissioner shall include in his regular report to the legislature a statement of the expense of administering each of such funds for the preceding year. (1935, c. 228, s. 17.)

§ 97-122. Contributions relieving carrier of posting bond or making special deposit.—Contributions made by any stock or mutual carrier to the funds created by this article shall relieve such carriers from filing any surety bond or making any deposit of securities required under the provisions of any law of this State for the purpose of securing the payment of workmen's compensation benefits only. (1935, c. 228, s. 18.)

98-10. Destroyed witness tickets; duplicates may be filed.
98-11. Replacing lost official conveyances.
98-12. Court records as proof of destroyed instruments set out therein.
98-13. Copies contained in court records may be recorded.
98-14. Rules for petitions and motions.
98-15. Records allowed under this chapter to have effect of original records.
98-16. Destroyed court records proved prima facie by recitals in conveyances executed before their destruction.
98-17. Conveyances reciting court records prima facie evidence thereof.
98-18. Court records and conveyances to which chapter extends.
98-19. Replacement of stolen, lost or destroyed state or municipal bonds; indemnity bond.
98-20. Expenses borne by applicant.

§ 98-1. Copy of destroyed record as evidence; may be recorded.—When the office of any registry is destroyed by fire or other accident, and the records and other papers thereof are burnt or destroyed, the copies of all such proceedings, instruments and papers as are of record or registry, certified by the proper officer, though without the seal of office, shall be received in evidence whenever the original or duly certified exemplications would be. Such copies, when the court is satisfied of their genuineness, may be ordered to be recorded or registered. (Rev., s. 327; Code, s. 55; C. S. 365.)

§ 98-2. Originals may be again recorded.—All original papers, once admitted to record or registry, whereof the record or registry is destroyed, may, on motion, be again recorded or registered, on such proof as the court shall require. (Rev., s. 328; Code, s. 56; C. S. 366.)

§ 98-3. Establishing boundaries and interest, where conveyance and copy lost. — When any conveyance of real estate, or of any right or interest therein, is lost, the registry thereof being also destroyed, any person claiming under the same may cause the boundaries thereof to be established in the manner provided in the chapter entitled Boundaries, or he may proceed in the following manner to establish both the boundaries and the nature of his estate:

He shall file his petition before the clerk of the superior court, setting forth the whole substance of the conveyance as truly and specifically as he can, the location and boundaries of his land, whose land it adjoins, the estate claimed therein, and a prayer to have his own boundaries established and the nature of his estate declared.

All persons claiming any estate in the premises, and those whose lands adjoin, shall be notified of the proceedings. Unless they or some of them, by answer on oath, deny the truth of all or some of the matters alleged, the clerk shall order a surveyor to run and designate the boundaries of the petitioner's land, and return his survey, with a plot thereof, to the court. This, when confirmed, shall, with the declaration of the court as to the nature of the estate of the petitioner, be registered and have, as to the persons notified, the effect of a deed for the same, executed by the person possessed of the same next before the petitioner. But in all cases, however, wherein the process of surveying is disputed, and the surveyor is forbidden to proceed by any person interested, the same proceedings shall be had as under the chapter entitled Boundaries.

If any of the persons notified deny by answer the truth of the conveyance, the clerk shall transfer the issues of fact to the superior court at term, to be tried as other issues of fact are required by law to be tried; and on the verdict and the pleadings the judge shall adjudge the rights of the parties, and declare the contents of the deed, if any deed is found by the jury, and allow the registration of such judgment and declaration, which shall have the force and effect of a deed. (Rev., s. 328; Code, s. 56; C. S. 367.)

§ 98-4. Copy of lost will may be probated.—In counties where the original wills on file in the office of the clerk of superior court, and will-books containing copies, are lost or destroyed, if the executor or any other person has preserved a copy of a will (the original being so lost or destroyed) with a certificate appended, signed by a clerk of the court in whose office the will was, or is required to be filed, stating that said copy is a correct one, this copy may be admitted to probate, under the same rules and in the same manner as now prescribed by law for proving wills. The proceedings in such cases shall be the same as though such copy was the original offered for the first time for probate, except that the clerk who signed such certificate shall, on oath, acknowledge his signature, or in case it appears that he has died or left the state, then his signature shall be proved by a competent witness; and the witness or witnesses to the original, who may be examined, shall be required to swear that he or they signed in the presence of the testator and by his direction a paper-writing purporting to be his last will and testament. (Rev., s. 329; Code, s. 57; C. S. 368.)

of the will and of the record of the probate, with a certificate signed by the clerk of the superior court for the county where the will may be recorded, stating that said record and copy are full and correct, shall be admitted as competent evidence; and when a copy of a will is admitted to probate, the clerk shall thereupon issue letters testamentary. (Rev., s. 330; Code, s. 58; C. S. 369.)

§ 98-6. Establishing contents of will, where original and copy destroyed.—Any person desirous of establishing the contents of a will destroyed as aforesaid, there being no copy thereof, may file his petition in the office of the clerk of the superior court, setting forth the entire contents thereof, according to the best of his knowledge, information and belief. All persons having an interest under the same shall be made parties, and if the truth of such petition is denied, the issues of fact shall be transferred to the superior court at term for trial by a jury, whether the will was recorded, and if so recorded, the contents thereof, and the declarations of the judge shall be recorded as the will of the testator. Any devisee or legatee is a competent witness as to the contents of every part of said will, except such as may concern his own interest in the same. (Rev., s. 331; Code, s. 59; C. S. 370.)

§ 98-7. Perpetuating destroyed judgments and proceedings.—Every person desirous of perpetuating the contents of destroyed judgments, orders or proceedings of court, or any paper admitted to record or registration, or directed to be filed for safe keeping, other than wills or conveyances of real estate, or some right or interest therein, or any deed or other instrument of writing, required to be recorded or registered, but not having been recorded or registered, it being competent to register or record said deed or other instrument at the time of its loss or destruction, may file his petition in the court having jurisdiction of like matters with the original proceeding, setting forth the substance of the whole record, deed, proceeding, or paper, which he desires to perpetuate. If, on the hearing, the court shall declare the existence of such record, deed, or proceeding, or paper at the time of the burning of the office wherein the same was lodged or kept, or other destruction thereof, and that the same was there destroyed, and shall declare the contents thereof, such declaration shall be recorded or registered, or filed, according to the nature of the paper destroyed. (Rev., s. 332; Code, s. 60; C. S. 371.)

§ 98-8. Color of title under destroyed instrument.—Every person who has been in the continual, peaceable and quiet possession of land, tenements, or hereditaments, situated in the county, claiming, using and occupying them as his own, for the space of seven years, under known boundaries, the title thereto being out of the state, is deemed to have been lawfully possessed, under color of title, of such estate therein as has been claimed by him during his possession, although he may exhibit no conveyance therefor: Provided, that such possession commenced before the destruction of the registry office, or other destruction as aforesaid, and also that any such person, or any person claiming by, through or under him, makes affidavit and produces such proof as is satisfactory to the court that the possession was rightfully taken; and if taken under a written conveyance, that the registry thereof was destroyed by fire or other means, or was destroyed before registry as aforesaid, and that neither the original nor any copy thereof is in existence: Provided further, that such presumption shall not arise against infants, persons of nonsane memory, and persons residing out of the state, who were such at the time of possession taken, and were not therefore barred, nor were so barred at the time of the burning of the office or other destruction. (Rev., s. 333; Code, s. 61; C. S. 372.)

§ 98-9. Action on destroyed bond.—Actions on official or other bonds lodged in any office which are destroyed with the registry thereof may be prosecuted by petition against the principal and sureties thereto, and the proceedings shall be as in the former courts of equity. (Rev., s. 334; Code, s. 62; C. S. 373.)

§ 98-10. Destroyed witness tickets; duplicates may be filed.—The court having jurisdiction of the action may allow other witness tickets to be filed in place of such as may be destroyed, upon the oath of the witness or other satisfactory proof. (Rev., s. 335; Code, s. 63; C. S. 374.)

§ 98-11. Replacing lost official conveyances.—Where any conveyance executed by any person, sheriff, clerk and master, or commissioner of court has been lost, and registry thereof destroyed as aforesaid, and there is no copy thereof, such persons, whether in or out of office, may execute another of like tenor and date, reciting therein that the same is a duplicate, and such deed shall be evidence of the facts therein recited, in all cases wherein the parties thereto are dead, or are incompetent witnesses to prove the same, to the extent as if it was the original conveyance. (Rev., s. 336; Code, s. 64; C. S. 375.)

§ 98-12. Court records as proof of destroyed instruments set out therein.—The records of any court in or out of the state, and all transcripts of such records, and the exhibits filed therewith in any case, are admissible to prove the existence and contents of all deeds, wills, conveyances, depositions and other papers, copies whereof are therein set forth or exhibited, in all cases where the records and registry of such as were or ought to have been recorded and registered, or the originals of such as were not proper to be recorded or registered, have been destroyed as aforesaid, although such transcripts or exhibits have been informally certified; and when offered in evidence have the like effect as though the transcript or record was the record of the court whose records are destroyed, and the deeds, wills and conveyances, depositions and other papers therein copied or therewith exhibited were original. (Rev., s. 337; Code, s. 65; C. S. 376.)

§ 98-13. Copies contained in court records may be recorded.—The copies aforesaid of all such deeds, wills, conveyances and other instruments proper to be recorded or registered, as are mentioned in § 98-12, may be recorded or registered on application to the clerk of the superior court and due proof that the original thereof was genuine. (Rev., s. 338; Code, s. 66; C. S. 377.)

§ 98-14. Rules for petitions and motions.—The following rules shall be observed in petitions and motions under this chapter:

1. The facts stated in every petition or motion shall be verified by affidavit of the petitioner that they are true according to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief.

2. The instrument or paper sought to be established by any petition shall be fully set forth in its substance, and its precise language shall be stated when the same is remembered.

3. All persons interested in the prayers of the petition or decree shall be made parties.

4. Petitions to establish a record of any court shall be filed at term in the superior court of the county where the record is sought to be established. Other petitions may be filed in the office of the clerk.

5. The costs shall be paid as the court may decree.

6. Appeals shall be allowed as in all other cases, and where the error alleged shall be a finding by the superior court at term, of a matter of fact, the same may be removed on appeal to the supreme court, and the proper judgments directed to be entered below.

7. It shall be presumed that any order or record of the court of pleas and quarter sessions, which was made and has been lost or destroyed, was made by a legally constituted court, and the requisite number of justices, without naming said justices. (Rev., s. 339; Code, s. 67; 1893, c. 295; C. S. 378.)

§ 98-15. Records allowed under this chapter to have effect of original records.—The records and registries allowed by the court in pursuance of this chapter shall have the same force and effect as original records and registries. (Rev., s. 340; Code, s. 68; C. S. 379.)

§ 98-16. Destroyed court records proved prima facie by recitals in conveyances executed before their destruction.—The recitals, reference to, or mention of any decree, order, judgment or other record of any court of record of any county in which the courthouse, or records of said courts, or both, have been destroyed by fire or otherwise, contained, recited or set forth in any deed of conveyance, paper-writing, or other bona fide written evidence of title, executed prior to the destruction of the courthouse and records of said county, by any executor or administrator with a will annexed, or by any clerk and master, superior court clerk, clerk of the court of pleas and quarter sessions, sheriff, or other officer, or commissioners appointed by either of said courts, and authorized by law to execute said deed or other paper-writing, are deemed, taken and recognized as true in fact, and are prima facie evidence of the existence, validity and binding force of said decree, order, judgment or other record so referred to or recited in said deed or paper-writing, and are to all intents and purposes binding and valid against all persons mentioned or described in said instrument of writing, deed, etc., as purporting to be parties thereto, and against all persons who were parties to said decree, judgment, order or other record so referred to or recited, and against all persons claiming by, through or under them or either of them. (Rev., s. 341; Code, s. 69; C. S. 380.)

§ 98-17. Conveyances reciting court records prima facie evidence thereof.—Such deed of conveyance, or other paper-writing, executed as aforesaid, and registered according to law, may be read in any suit now pending or which may hereafter be instituted in any court of this state, as prima facie evidence of the existence and validity of the decree, judgment, order, or other record upon which the same purports to be founded, without any other or further restoration or reinstatement of said decree, order, judgment, or record than is contained in this chapter. (Rev., s. 342; Code, s. 70; C. S. 381.)

§ 98-18. Court records and conveyances to which chapter extends.—This chapter shall extend to records of any court which have been or may be destroyed by fire or otherwise, and to any deed of conveyance, paper-writing, or other bona fide evidence of title executed before the destruction of said records. (Rev., s. 343; Code, s. 71; C. S. 382.)

Local Modification.—Moore: C. S. 383; Cherokee, Graham, Haywood, and Madison: C. S. 384; 1935, c. 25.

§ 98-19. Replacement of stolen, lost or destroyed state or municipal bonds; indemnity bond.—The State Treasurer of the State of North Carolina, by and with the consent and approval of the governor and council of State, and the governing boards of the several counties, cities and political sub-divisions of the State, is hereby authorized and empowered to make settlement for or issue new bonds for bonds of the State or any of the political sub-divisions thereof, which have been stolen, lost or destroyed: Provided, that there is furnished an indemnity bond in double the amount of the said bonds, said indemnity bond to be approved by the State Treasurer or the governing boards of any political sub-division of the State issuing said replacement bonds: Provided further, that said indemnity bond shall clearly designate the bonds which have been stolen, lost or destroyed. (1935, c. 292, s. 1.)

§ 98-20. Expenses borne by applicant.—All expenses in connection with printing and issuing any replacement bonds provided for in this article shall be borne by the person making application therefor. (1935, c. 292, s. 2.)

Chapter 99. Libel and Slander.

Sec.
99-1. Libel against newspaper; notice before action.
99-2. Effect of publication in good faith and retraction.
99-3. Anonymous communications.
99-4. Charging innocent woman with incontinency.

§ 99-1. Libel against newspaper; notice before action.—Before any action, either civil or criminal, is brought for the publication, in a newspaper or periodical, of a libel, the plaintiff or prosecutor shall at least five days before instituting such action serve notice in writing on the defendant, specifying the article and the statements therein which he alleges to be false and defamatory. (Rev., s. 2012; 1901, c. 557; C. S. 2429.)

§ 99-2. Effect of publication in good faith and retraction.— If it appears upon the trial that said article was published in good faith, that its falsity was due to an honest mistake of the facts, and that there were reasonable grounds for believing that the statements in said article were true, and that within ten days after the service of said notice a full and fair correction, apology and retraction was published in the same editions or corresponding issues of the newspaper or periodical in which said article appeared, and in as conspicuous place and type as was said original article, then the plaintiff in such case, if a civil action, shall recover only actual damages, and if, in a criminal proceeding, a verdict of "guilty" is rendered on such a state of facts, the defendant shall be fined a penny and the costs, and no more. (Rev., s. 2013; 1901, c. 557; C. S. 2430.)

§ 99-3. Anonymous communications.—The two preceding sections shall not apply to anonymous communications and publications. (Rev., s. 2014; 1901, c. 557, s. 3; C. S. 2431.)

§ 99-4. Charging innocent woman with incontinency.—Whereas doubts have arisen whether actions of slander can be maintained against persons who may attempt, in a wanton and malicious manner, to destroy the reputation of innocent and unprotected women, whose very existence in society depends upon the unsullied purity of their character, therefore any words written or spoken of a woman, which may amount to a charge of incontinency, shall be actionable. (Rev., s. 2015; Code, s. 3763; R. C., c. 106; 1808, c. 478; C. S. 2432.)

Chapter 100. Monuments, Memorials and Parks.

Art. 1. Memorials Commission.

Sec.
100-1. Memorials commission created; members; officers; quorum, etc.
100-2. Approval of memorials before acceptance by state; regulation of existing memorials, etc.; "work of art" defined; highway markers.
100-3. Approval of design, etc., of certain bridges and other structures.
100-4. Governor to accept works of art approved by commission.
100-5. Duties as to buildings erected or remodeled by state.
100-6. Disqualification to vote on work of art, etc.; vacancy.
100-7. Construction.
100-8. Memorials to persons within twenty-five years of death; acceptance of commemorative funds for useful work.

Art. 2. Memorials Financed by Counties and Cities.

Sec.
100-9. County commissioners may protect monuments.
100-10. Counties, cities, and towns may contribute toward erection of memorials.

Art. 3. Mount Mitchell Park.

100-11. Duties.
100-12. Roads, trails, and fences authorized; protection of property.
100-13. Fees for use of improvements; fees for other privileges; leases; rules and regulations.
100-14. Use of fees and other collections.
100-15. Annual reports.

Art. 4. Toll Roads or Bridges in Public Parks.

100-16. Private operation of toll roads or bridges in public parks prohibited.

Art. 1. Memorials Commission.

§ 100-1. Memorials commissions created; members; officers; quorum, etc.—A memorials commission in and for the state of North Carolina is hereby created, to consist of the following officials, ex-officio: The governor of North Carolina, the secretary of the North Carolina historical commission, the head of the art department of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the head of the history department of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and the head of the department of architecture of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering. The memorials commission shall have the power to adopt its own rules and to elect such officers from its own members as may be deemed proper. Three commissioners shall constitute a quorum. The members shall serve without compensation. (1941, c. 341, s. 1.)

§ 100-2. Approval of memorials before acceptance by state; regulation of existing memorials, etc.; "work of art" defined; highway markers.—No memorial or work of art shall hereafter become the property of the state by purchase, gift or otherwise, unless such memorial or work of art or a design of the same, together with the proposed location of the same, shall first have been submitted to and approved by said memorials commission; nor shall any memorial or work of art, until so submitted and approved, be contracted for, placed in or upon or allowed to extend over any property belonging to the state. No existing memorial or work of art owned by the state shall be removed, relocated, or altered in any way without approval of the memorials commission. The term "work of art" as used in this section shall include any painting, portrait, mural decoration, stained glass, statue, bas-relief, sculpture, monument, tablet, fountain, or other article or structure of a permanent character intended for decoration or commemoration. This section, however, shall not apply to markers set up by the state highway and public works commission in coöperation with the department of conservation and development and the state historical commission as provided by chapter one hundred and ninety-seven of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five. (1941, c. 341, s. 2.)

§ 100-3. Approval of design, etc., of certain bridges and other structures.—No bridge, arch, gate, fence or other structure intended primarily for ornamental or memorial purposes and which is paid for either wholly or in part by appropriation from the state treasury, or which is to be placed on or allowed to extend over any property belonging to the state, shall be begun unless the design and proposed location thereof shall have been submitted to said memorials commission and approved by it. Furthermore, no existing structures of the kind named and described in the preceding part of this section owned by the state, shall be removed or remodeled without submission of the plans therefor to the commission and approval of said plans by the commission. This section shall not be construed as amending or repealing chapter one hundred and ninety-seven of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five. (1941, c. 341, s. 3.)

§ 100-4. Governor to accept works of art approved by commission.—The governor of North Carolina is hereby authorized to accept, in the name of the state of North Carolina, gifts to the state of works of art as defined in § 100-2. But no work of art shall be so accepted unless and until the same shall have been first submitted to said memorials commission and by it judged worthy of acceptance. (1941, c. 341, s. 4.)

§ 100-5. Duties as to buildings erected or remodeled by state.—Upon request of the governor and the board of public buildings and grounds, said memorials commission shall act in an advisory capacity relative to the artistic character of any building constructed, erected, or remodeled by the state. The term "building" as used in this section shall include structures intended for human occupation, and also bridges, arches, gates, walls, or other permanent structures of any character not intended primarily for purposes of decoration or commemoration. (1941, c. 341, s. 5.)

§ 100-6. Disqualification to vote on work of art, etc.; vacancy.—Any member of said memorials commission who shall be employed by the state to execute a work of art or structure of any kind requiring submission to the commission, or who shall take part in a competition for such work of art or structure, shall be disqualified from voting thereon, and the temporary vacancy thereby created may be filled by appointment by the governor. (1941, c. 341, s. 6.)

§ 100-7. Construction.—The provisions of this article shall not be construed to include exhibits of an educational nature arranged by museums or art galleries administered by the state or any of its agencies or institutions, or to prevent the placing of portraits of officials, officers, or employees of the state in the offices or buildings of the departments, agencies, or institutions with which such officials, officers, or employees are or have been connected. But upon request of such museums or agencies, said memorials commission shall act in an advisory capacity as to the artistic qualities and appropriations of memorial exhibits or works of art submitted to it. (1941, c. 341, s. 7.)

§ 100-8. Memorials to persons within twenty-five years of death; acceptance of commemorative funds for useful work.—No monument, statue, tablet, painting, or other article or structure of a permanent nature intended primarily to commemorate any person or persons shall be purchased from state funds or shall be placed in or upon or allowed to extend over state property within twenty-five years after the death of the person or persons so commemorated: Provided, nevertheless, that nothing in this article shall be interpreted as prohibiting the acceptance of funds by state agencies or institutions from individuals or societies who wish to commemorate some person or persons by providing funds for educational, health, charitable, or other useful work. The agency or institution to which such funds are offered for memorial enterprises shall exercise its discretion as to the acceptance and expenditure of such funds. (1941, c. 341, s. 8.)

Art. 2. Memorials Financed by Counties and Cities.

§ 100-9. County commissioners may protect monuments.—When any monument has been or shall hereafter be erected to the memory of our Confederate dead or to perpetuate the memory and virtues of our distinguished dead, if such monument is erected by the voluntary subscription of the people and is placed on the courthouse square, the board of county commissioners of such county are permitted to expend from the public funds of the county an amount sufficient to erect a substantial iron fence around such monument in order that the same may be protected. (Rev., s. 3928; 1905, c. 457; C. S. 6934.)

§ 100-10. Counties, cities, and towns may contribute toward erection of memorials. — Any county, city or town by resolution first adopted by its governing body may become a member of any memorial association or organization for perpetuating the memory of the soldiers and sailors of North Carolina who served the United States in the great world war, or who fought in the war between the states, and may subscribe and pay toward the cost of the erection of any memorial to the memory of such soldiers and sailors such sums of money as its governing body may determine, and may be represented in such association or organization by such persons as its governing body may select. Any contribution so made shall be paid out of the general fund of such county, city, or town making same, on such terms as may be agreed upon by its governing body, and the officers having the control and management of the association or organization to which subscription and contributions are made. (1919, c. 21, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1924, c. 200; C. S. 6938.)

Art. 3. Mount Mitchell Park.

§ 100-11. Duties.—The Board of Conservation and Development shall have complete control, care, protection and charge of that part of Mitchell's park acquired by the state. (1919, c. 316,

s. 3; 1915, c. 76; 1921, c. 222, s. 1; 1925, c. 122, s. 23; C. S. 6940.)

§ 100-12. Roads, trails, and fences authorized; protection of property.—The Board of Conservation and Development is authorized and empowered to enter upon the land hereinbefore referred to, and to build a fence or fences around the same, also roads, paths, and trails and protect the property against trespass and fire and injury of any and all kinds whatsoever; cut wood and timber upon the same, but only for the purpose of protecting the other timber thereon and improving the property generally. (1919, c. 316, s. 5; 1921, c. 222, s. 1; 1925, c. 122, s. 23; C. S. 6942.)

§ 100-13. Fees for use of improvements; fees for other privileges; leases; rules and regulations.—The Board of Conservation and Development is further authorized and empowered to charge and collect fees for the use of such improvements as have already been constructed, or may hereafter be constructed, on the park, and for other privileges connected with the full use of the park by the public; to lease sites for camps, houses, hotels, and places of amusement and business; and to make and enforce such necessary rules and regulations as may best tend to protect, preserve, and increase the value and attractiveness of the park. (1921, c. 222, s. 2; 1925, c. 122, s. 23; C. S. 6942(a).)

§ 100-14. Use of fees and other collections.—All fees and other money collected and received by the Board of Conservation and Development in connection with its proper administration of Mount Mitchell state park shall be used by said board for the administration, protection, improvement, and maintenance of said park. (1921, c. 222, s. 3; 1925, c. 122, s. 23; C. S. 6942(b).)

§ 100-15. Annual reports.—The Board of Conservation and Development shall make an annual report to the governor of all money received and expended by it in the administration of Mount Mitchell state park, and of such other items as may be called for by him or by the general assembly. (1921, c. 222, s. 4; 1925, c. 122, s. 23; C. S. 6942(c).)

Art. 4. Toll Roads or Bridges in Public Parks.

§ 100-16. Private operation of toll roads or bridges in public parks prohibited.—No person, firm or corporation shall have the right or privilege to privately operate any toll road or toll bridge in this state upon lands belonging to the state, set apart or designated as a public park.

In the event any such toll road or bridge is on March 17, 1939 being privately operated under any real or assumed right, privilege, or lease, the state institution or department having such state-owned property in charge or under its supervision shall immediately give notice to such person, firm or corporation so operating such toll road or toll bridge to discontinue the operation of the same.

Any person, firm or corporation who sustains any legal damage by reason of the exercise of the authority hereinbefore granted shall be entitled to just compensation therefor, and, in the event satisfactory settlement cannot be made with the department or state agency exercising the authority herein contained, the amount of just compensation may be determined by a special proceeding instituted by the claimant against the department or agency having such property in custody under the provisions of the chapter on Eminent Domain, in so far as the same may be applicable hereto: Provided, such proceeding shall be instituted within six months from the time such notice is given. Any compensation awarded shall be a valid claim against the state of North Carolina, payable out of the funds of the department or state agency having such property in charge. (1939, c. 127.)

Chapter 101. Names of Persons.

Sec.
101-1. Legislature may regulate change by general but not private law.
101-2. Procedure for changing name; petition; notice.
101-3. Contents of petition.
101-4. Proof of good character to accompany petition.
101-5. Clerk to order change; certificate and record.
101-6. Effect of change; only one change.

§ 101-1. Legislature may regulate change by general but not private law.—The general assembly shall not have power to pass any private law to alter the name of any person, but shall have power to pass general laws regulating the same. (Rev., s. 2146; Const., Art. II, s. 11; C. S. 2970.)

§ 101-2. Procedure for changing name; petition; notice.—A person who wishes, for good cause shown, to change his name must file his application before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he lives, having first given ten days' notice of the application by publication at the courthouse door. (Rev., s. 2147; 1891, c. 145; C. S. 2971.)

§ 101-3. Contents of petition.—The applicant shall state in the application his true name, the name he desires to adopt, his reasons for desiring such change, and that his name has never been changed before by law. (Rev., s. 2147; 1891, c. 145; C. S. 2972.)

§ 101-4. Proof of good character to accompany petition.—The applicant shall also file with said petition proof of his good character, which proof must be made by at least two citizens of the county who know his standing. (Rev., s. 2148; 1891, c. 145; C. S. 2973.)

§ 101-5. Clerk to order change; certificate and record.—If the clerk thinks that good and sufficient reason exists for the change of name, it shall be his duty to issue an order changing the name of the applicant from his true name to the name sought to be adopted. He shall issue to the applicant a certificate under his hand and seal of office, stating the change made in the applicant's name, and shall also record said application and order on the docket of special proceedings in his court. (Rev., ss. 2149, 2150; 1891, c. 145; C. S. 2974.)

§ 101-6. Effect of change; only one change.—When the order is made and the applicant's name changed, he is entitled to all the privileges and protection under his new name as he would have been under the old name. No person shall be allowed to change his name under this chapter but once. (Rev., ss. 2147, 2149; 1891, c. 145; C. S. 2975.)

Chapter 102. Official Survey Base.

Sec.
102-1. Name and description.
102-2. Physical control.
102-3. Use of name.
102-4. Damaging, defacing, or destroying monuments.
102-5. Limitations of use.
102-6. Legality of use in descriptions.
102-7. Use not compulsory.
102-8. Administrative agency.
102-9. Duties and powers of the agency.
102-10. Prior work.
102-11. Vertical control.

§ 102-1. Name and description. — The official survey base for the state of North Carolina shall be a system of plane coördinates to be known as the "North Carolina Coördinate System," said system being defined as a Lambert conformal projection of Clarke's spheroid of one thousand eight hundred sixty-six, having a central meridian of 79°—00′ west from Greenwich and standard parallels of latitude of 34°—20′ and 36°—10′ north of the equator, along which parallels the scale shall be exact. All coördinates of the system are expressed in feet, the x coördinate being measured easterly along the grid and the y coördinate being measured northerly along the grid. The origin of the coördinates is hereby established on the meridian 79°—00′ west from Greenwich at the intersection of the parallels 33°—45′ north latitude, such origin being given the coördinates x=2,000,000 feet, y=0 feet. The precise position of said system shall be as marked on the ground by triangulation or traverse stations or monuments established in conformity with the standards adopted by the United States coast and geodetic survey for first- and second-order work, whose geodetic positions have been rigidly adjusted on the North American datum of one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, and whose plane coördinates have been computed on the system defined. (1939, c. 163, s. 1.)

§ 102-2. Physical control. — Any triangulation or traverse station or monument established as described in § 102-1 may be used in establishing a connection between any survey and the above-mentioned system of rectangular coördinates. (1939, c. 163, s. 2.)

§ 102-3. Use of name.—The use of the term "North Carolina Coördinate System" on any map, report, or survey, or other document, shall be limited to coördinates based on the North Carolina coördinate system as defined in this chapter. (1939, c. 163, s. 3.)

§ 102-4. Damaging, defacing, or destroying monuments.—If any person shall willfully damage, deface, destroy, or otherwise injure a station, monument or permanent mark of the North Carolina coördinate system, or shall oppose any obstacles to the proper, reasonable, and legal use of any such station or monument, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to fine or imprisonment at the discretion of the court. (1939, c. 163, s. 4.)

§ 102-5. Limitations of use.—No coördinates based on the North Carolina coördinate system purporting to define the position of a point on a land boundary shall be presented to be recorded in public land records or deed records unless such point in the survey is within one-half mile of a station or monument of the North Carolina coördinate system: Provided, that the administrative agency for said system may, by rules and regulations, increase or decrease such limiting distance for the whole state, or any area or areas thereof. (1939, c. 163, s. 5.)

§ 102-6. Legality of use in descriptions.—For the purpose of describing the location of any survey station or land boundary corner in the state of North Carolina, it shall be considered a complete, legal, and satisfactory description to define the location of such point or points by means of coördinates of the North Carolina coördinate system as described herein, and within the limitations of § 102-5. (1939, c. 163, s. 6.)

§ 102-7. Use not compulsory. — Nothing contained in this chapter shall be interpreted as requiring any purchaser or mortgagee to rely wholly on a description based upon the North Carolina coördinate system. (1939, c. 163, s. 7.)

§ 102-8. Administrative agency. — The administrative agency of the North Carolina coördinate system shall be the North Carolina department of conservation and development, through its appropriate division, hereinafter called the "Agency." (1939, c. 163, s. 8.)

§ 102-9. Duties and powers of the agency. — It shall be the duty of the agency to make or cause to be made from time to time such surveys and computations as are necessary to further or complete the North Carolina coördinate system. The agency shall endeavor to carry to completion as soon as practicable the field monumentation and office computations of the coördinate system. For the purpose of this work the agency shall have the power to accept grants for the specific purpose of carrying on the work; to coördinate, organize, and direct any federal or other assistance which may be offered to further the work; to coöperate with any individual, firm, company, public or private agency, state or federal agencies, in the prosecution of the work; to enter into contracts or coöperative agreements with other state or federal agencies in promoting the work of the coördinating system. The agency shall further have the power to adopt necessary rules, regulations, and specifications relating to the establishment and use of the coördinate system as defined in this chapter, consistent with the standards and practice of the United States coast and geodetic survey. (1939, c. 163, s. 9.)

§ 102-10. Prior work. — The system of stations, monuments, traverses, computations, and other work which has been done or is under way in North Carolina by the so-called North Carolina geodetic survey, under the supervision of the United States coast and geodetic survey, is, where consistent with the provisions of this chapter, hereby made a part of the North Carolina coördinate system. The surveys, notes, computations, monuments, stations, and all other work relating to the coördinate system, which has been done by said North Carolina geodetic survey, under the supervision of and in coöperation with the United States coast and geodetic survey and federal relief agencies, hereby are placed under the direction of, and shall become the property of, the administrative agency, subject to the agreement of the federal Works Progress Administration. (1939, c. 163, s. 10).

§ 102-11. Vertical control.—Whereas the foregoing provisions of this chapter heretofore are related to horizontal control only, the administrative agency may adopt standards for vertical control or levying surveys consistent with those recommended by and used by the United States coast and geodetic survey, and make or cause to be made such surveys as are necessary to complete the vertical control of North Carolina, in accordance with the provisions for horizontal control surveys as defined in this chapter. (1939, c. 163, s. 11.)

Chapter 103. Sundays and Holidays.

Sec.
103-1. Work in ordinary calling on Sunday forbidden.
103-2. Hunting or going armed on Sunday.
103-3. What process executed on Sunday.
103-4. Dates of public holidays.
103-5. Acts to be done on Sunday or holidays.

§ 103-1. Work in ordinary calling on Sunday forbidden.—On the Lord's day, commonly called Sunday, no tradesman, artificer, planter, laborer, or other person shall, upon land or water, do or exercise any labor, business or work, of his ordinary calling, works of necessity and charity alone excepted, nor employ himself in hunting, fishing or fowling, nor use any game, sport or play, upon pain that every person so offending, being of the age of fourteen years and upwards, shall forfeit and pay one dollar. (Rev., s. 2836; Code, s. 3782; R. C. c. 115; 1741, c. 30, s. 2; C. S. 3955.)

Local Modification.—Forsyth: C. S. 3957; Johnston: 1925, c. 185; Robeson: Pub. Loc. 1925, c. 451.

§ 103-2. Hunting or going armed on Sunday.—If any person shall, except in defense of his own property, hunt on Sunday with a dog, or shall be found off his premises on Sunday, having with him a shotgun, rifle or pistol, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and pay a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or be imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3842; Code, s. 3783; 1868-9, c. 18, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 3956.)

Local Modification.—Perquimans: 1935, c. 145.

§ 103-3. What process executed on Sunday.—It shall not be lawful for any sheriff, constable, or other officer to execute any summons, capias, or other process on Sunday, unless the same be issued for treason, felony or misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 2837; Code, s. 928; R. C., c. 31, s. 54; 1777, c. 118, s. 6; C. S. 3958.)

§ 103-4. Dates of public holidays. — The first day of January, the nineteenth day of January, the twenty-second day of February, Easter Monday, the twelfth day of April, the tenth day of May, the twentieth day of May, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, the first Monday in September, the eleventh day of November, Tuesday after the first Monday in November when a general election is held, the day appointed by the governor as a Thanksgiving Day, and the twenty-fifth day of December of each and every year, are declared to be public holidays; and whenever any such holiday shall fall upon Sunday, the Monday following shall be a public holiday: Provided, that Easter Monday and the thirtieth day of May shall be holidays for all State and National Banks only. (Rev., s. 2838; Code, s. 3784; 1891, c. 58; 1899, c. 410; 1901, c. 25; 1881, c. 294; 1907, c. 996; 1909, c. 888; 1919, c. 287; 1935, c. 212; C. S. 3959.)

§ 103-5. Acts to be done on Sunday or holidays.—Where the day or the last day for doing an act required or permitted by law to be done falls on Sunday or on a holiday the act may be done on the next succeeding secular or business day. (Rev., s. 2839; Code, ss. 3784, 3785, 3786; 1899, c. 733, s. 194; C. S. 3960.)

Chapter 104. United States Lands.

Sec.

Art. 1. Authority for Acquisition.

104-1. Acquisition of lands for specified purposes authorized; concurrent jurisdiction reserved.
104-2. Unused lands to revert to state.
104-3. Exemption of such lands from taxation.
104-4. Conveyances of such lands to be recorded.
104-5. Forest reserve in North Carolina authorized; powers conferred.
104-6. Acquisition of lands for river and harbor improvement; reservation of right to serve process.
104-7. Acquisition of lands for public buildings; cession of jurisdiction; exemption from taxation.
104-8. Further authorization of acquisition of land.
104-9. Condition of consent granted in preceding section.
104-10. Migratory bird sanctuaries or other wild life refuges.
104-11. Utilities Commission to secure rights-of-way, etc., for waterway improvements by use of federal funds.

Art. 2. Inland Waterway.

104-12. Acquisition of land for inland waterway from Cape Fear River; grant of state lands.
104-13. Utilities Commission to secure right-of-way over private lands; condemnation by United States.
104-14. Use declared paramount public purpose.
104-15. Method of payment of expenses and awards.
104-16. State and United States may enter upon lands for survey, etc.
104-17. Maintenance of bridges over waterway.
104-18. Concurrent jurisdiction over waterway.

Art. 1. Authority for Acquisition.

§ 104-1. Acquisition of lands for specified purposes authorized; concurrent jurisdiction reserved. —The United States is authorized, by purchase or otherwise, to acquire title to any tract or parcel of land in the state of North Caroilna, not exceeding twenty-five acres, for the purpose of erecting thereon any customhouse, courthouse, postoffice, or other building, including lighthouses, lightkeepers' dwellings, life-saving stations, buoys and coal depots and buildings connected therewith, or for the establishment of a fishcultural station and the erection thereon of such buildings and improvements as may be necessary for the successful operations of such fishcultural station. The consent to acquisition by the United States is upon the express condition that the state of North Carolina shall so far retain a concurrent jurisdiction with the United States over such lands as that all civil and criminal process issued from the courts of the state of North Carolina may be executed thereon in like manner as if this authority had not been given, and that the state of North Carolina also retains authority to punish all violations of its criminal laws committed on any such tract of land. (Rev., s. 5426; Code, ss. 3080, 3083; 1887, c. 136; 1899, c. 10; 1870-1, c. 44, s. 5; C. S. 8053.)

§ 104-2. Unused lands to revert to state. — The consent given in § 104-1 is upon consideration of the United States building lighthouses, lighthousekeepers' dwellings, life-saving stations, buoys, coal depots, fish stations, post-offices, customhouses, and other buildings connected therewith, on the tracts or parcels of land so purchased, or that may be purchased; and that the title to land so conveyed to the United States shall revert to the state unless the construction of the aforementioned buildings be completed thereon within ten years from the date of the conveyance from the grantor. (Rev., s. 5426; Code, ss. 3080, 3083; 1899, c. 10; 1887, c. 136; 1870-1, c. 44, s. 5; C. S. 8054.)

§ 104-4. Conveyances of such lands to be recorded.—All deeds, conveyances, or other title papers for the same shall be recorded, as in other cases, in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which the lands so conveyed may lie, in the same manner and under the same regulations as other deeds and conveyances are now recorded, and in like manner may be recorded a sufficient description by metes and bounds, courses and distances, of any tract or legal division of any public land belonging to the United States, which may be set apart by the general government for the purpose before mentioned, by an order, patent, or other official document or paper so describing such land. (Rev., s. 5429; Code, s. 3081; 1870-1, c. 44, s. 2; 1872-3, c. 201; C. S. 8056.)

a home by bona fide residents in this state on the eighteenth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and one, shall be exempt from the provisions of this section. Power is hereby conferred upon congress to pass such laws and to make or provide for the making of such rules and regulations, of both civil and criminal nature, and to provide punishment therefor, as in its judgment may be necessary for the management, control, and protection of such lands as may be from time to time acquired by the United States under the provisions of this section. (Rev., s. 5430; 1901, c. 17; 1929, c. 67, s. 1; C. S. 8057.)

§ 104-6. Acquisition of lands for river and harbor improvement; reservation of right to serve process.—The consent of the legislature of the state is hereby given to the acquisition by the United States of any tracts, pieces, or parcels of land within the limits of the state, by purchase or condemnation, for use as sites for locks and dams, or for any other purpose in connection with the improvement of rivers and harbors within and on the borders of the state. The consent hereby given is in accordance with the seventeenth clause of the eighth section of the first article of the constitution of the United States, and with the acts of congress in such cases made and provided; and this state retains concurrent jurisdiction with the United States over any lands acquired and held in pursuance of the provisions of this section, so far as that all civil and criminal process issued under authority of any law of this state may be executed in any part of the premises so acquired, or the buildings or structures thereon erected. (1907, c. 681; C. S. 8058.)

§ 104-7. Acquisition of lands for public buildings; cession of jurisdiction; exemption from taxation.—The consent of the state is hereby given, in accordance with the seventeenth clause, eighth section, of the first article of the constitution of the United States, to the acquisition by the United States, by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, of any land in the state required for the sites for customhouses, courthouses, postoffices, arsenals, or other public buildings whatever, or for any other purposes of the government.

Exclusive jurisdiction in and over any land so acquired by the United States shall be and the same is hereby ceded to the United States for all purposes except the service upon such sites of all civil and criminal process of the courts of this state; but the jurisdiction so ceded shall continue no longer than the said United States shall own such lands. The jurisdiction ceded shall not vest until the United States shall have acquired title to said lands by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise.

So long as the said lands shall remain the property of the United States when acquired as aforesaid, and no longer, the same shall be and continue exempt and exonerated from all state, county, and municipal taxation, assessment, or other charges which may be levied or imposed under the authority of this state. (1907, c. 25; C. S. 8059.)

§ 104-8. Further authorization of acquisition of land.—The United States is hereby authorized to acquire lands by condemnation or otherwise in this State for the purpose of preserving the navigability of navigable streams and for holding and administering such lands for National Park purposes: Provided, that this section and § 104-9 shall in no wise affect the authority conferred upon the United States and reserved to the State in §§ 104-5 and 104-6. (1925, c. 152, s. 1.)

§ 104-9. Condition of consent granted in preceding section.—This consent is given upon condition that the State of North Carolina shall retain a concurrent jurisdiction with the United States in and over such lands so far that civil process in all cases, and such criminal process as may issue under the authority of the State of North Carolina against any person charged with the commission of any crime, without or within said jurisdiction, may be executed thereon in like manner as if this consent had not been given. (1925, c. 152, s. 2.)

§ 104-10. Migratory bird sanctuaries or other wild life refuges. — The United States is authorized to acquire by purchase, or by condemnation with adequate compensation, such lands in North Carolina as in the opinion of the Federal Government may be needed for the establishment of one or more migratory bird sanctuaries or other wild life refuges. This consent is given upon condition that the State of North Carolina shall retain a concurrent jurisdiction with the United States in and over such lands so far that civil process in all cases, and such criminal process as may issue under the authority of the State of North Carolina against any person charged with the commission of any crime without or within said jurisdiction, may be executed therein in like manner as if this consent had not been given. Power is hereby conferred upon the Congress of the United States to pass such laws as it may deem necessary to the acquisition as hereinbefore provided, for incorporation in such sanctuaries or refuges such lands lying in North Carolina as in the opinion of the Federal Government may be suitable and needed for this purpose. Power is hereby conferred upon Congress to pass such laws and to make or provide for the making of such rules and regulations, of both civil and criminal nature, and to provide punishment therefor, as in its judgment may be necessary for the management, control and protection of such lands as may be from time to time acquired by the United States under the provisions of this section. (1929, c. 163, s. 1.)

§ 104-11. Utilities Commission to secure rights-of-way, etc., for waterway improvements by use of federal funds.—Hereafter whenever any waterway improvement in North Carolina by the use of federal funds is provided for upon condition that the state or locality shall furnish rights-of-way, permits for the dumping of dredged material, or furnish or do any other thing in connection with the proposed waterway improvement, the Utilities Commission is authorized and empowered to represent the State or locality in such matter of securing the rights-of-way, permits for the dumping of dredged material, or other things so required in connection with such waterway improvement; and in prosecuting such undertaking, the Utilities Commission may follow the same procedure provided in article two for the acquisition of rights-of-way for the intercoastal waterway from the Cape Fear river to the South Carolina line: Provided, however, that said Utilities Commission is not hereby authorized to enter into obligation or contract for the payment of any money or proceeds through condemnation or otherwise without the express approval of the governor and council of state. (1935, c. 240; 1937, c. 434.)

Art. 2. Inland Waterway.

§ 104-12. Acquisition of land for inland waterway from Cape Fear River; grant of state lands.—For the purpose of aiding in the construction of the proposed inland waterway by the United States from the Cape Fear River at Southport to the North Carolina-South Carolina State line, the Secretary of State is hereby authorized to issue to the United States of America a grant to the land located within said inland waterway, right-of-way, which is to be one thousand feet to seventeen hundred fifty feet wide in so far as such land is subject to grant by the State of North Carolina, the said grant to issue upon a certificate furnished to the Secretary of State by the Secretary of War, or by any authorized officer of the corps of engineers of the United States Army, or by any other authorized official, exercising control over the construction of the said waterway. Whenever in the construction of such inland waterway within this State, lands theretofore submerged shall be raised above the water by the deposit of excavated material, the land so formed shall become the property of the United States if within the limits of said inland waterway, right-of-way, herein set out one thousand feet to seventeen hundred fifty feet and the Secretary of State is hereby authorized to issue to the United States a grant to the land so formed within the limits above specified, the grant to issue upon a certificate furnished to the Secretary of State by some authorized official of the United States, as above provided. If said lands so required for the inland waterway right-of-way shall be marshlands, or sound lands, the title to which has heretofore been vested in the State Board of Education, the Governor of the State, as President thereof, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction as Secretary, are hereby authorized and required to execute proper conveyance to the United States of America for said marshlands or sound lands, free of cost, both to the State and to the United States Government, upon a certificate furnished to said Board of Education by the Secretary of War, or by any authorized officer of the corps of engineers of the United States Army, or by any other authorized official exercising control over the construction of the said inland waterway. (1931, c. 2, s. 1.)

§ 104-13. Utilities Commission to secure right-of-way over private lands; condemnation by United States.—If the title to any part of the lands acquired by the United States Government for the construction of such inland waterway from the Cape Fear River at Southport to the North Carolina-South Carolina State line shall be in any private person, company or corporation, railroad company, street railway company, telephone or telegraph company, or other public service corporation or shall have been donated or condemned for any public use by any political sub-division of the State, or if it may be necessary, for the purpose of obtaining the proper title to any lands, the title to which has heretofore been vested in the State Board of Education, then the Utilities Commission, in the name of the State of North Carolina, is hereby authorized and empowered, acting for and in behalf of the State of North Carolina, to secure a right-of-way one thousand to seventeen hundred fifty feet wide for said inland waterway across and through such lands or any part thereof, by purchase, donation or otherwise, through agreement with the owner or owners where possible, and when any such property is thus acquired, the Governor and Secretary of State shall execute a deed for the same to the United States; and if for any reason the said commission shall be unable to secure such right-of-way across any such property by voluntary donation by and/or with the owner or owners, the said Commission acting for and in behalf of the State of North Carolina is hereby vested with the power to condemn the same, and in so doing, the ways, means, methods and procedure of the chapter of this Code, entitled "Eminent Domain," shall be used by it as near as the same is suitable for the purposes of this article, and in all instances, the general and special benefits to the owner thereof shall be assessed as offsets against the damages to such property or lands.

As such condemnation proceedings might result in delay in the acquiring of title to all parts of the right-of-way and in the construction of the said inland waterway by the United States, said Utilities Commission is authorized to enter any of said lands and property and take possession of the same at the time hereinafter provided as needed for this use in behalf of the State or the United States Government for the purposes herein set out, prior to the bringing of the proceeding for condemnation and prior to the payment of the money for such land or property under any judgment in condemnation. In the event the owner or owners shall appeal from the report of the commissioners appointed in any condemnation proceeding hereunder, it shall not be necessary for said commission, acting in behalf of the State of North Carolina, or the United States Government, to deposit the money assessed by said commissioners with the clerk.

Whenever proceedings in condemnation are instituted in pursuance of the provisions of this section, the said commission upon the filing of the petition or petitions in such proceedings, shall have the right to take immediate possession, on behalf of the State, of such lands or property to the extent of the interest to be acquired and the order of the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county where the action is instituted, shall be sufficient to vest the title and possession in the State through the Utilities Commission. The Governor and Secretary of State shall, upon vesting of the title and possession, execute a deed to the United States and said lands or property may then be appropriated and used by the United States for the purposes aforesaid: Provided, that in every case the proceedings in condemnation shall be diligently prosecuted to final judgment in order that the just compensation, if any, to which the owners of the property are entitled may be ascertained and when so ascertained and determined, such compensation, if any, shall be promptly paid as hereinafter in this article provided.

If the United States Government shall so determine, it is hereby authorized to condemn and use all lands and property which may be needed for the purposes herein set out and which is specifically described and set out in the paragraph next preceding, under the authority of said United States Government, and according to the provisions existing in the Federal Statutes for condemning lands and property for the use of the United States Government. In case the United States Government shall so condemn said land and property, the said Utilities Commission is hereby authorized to pay all expenses of the condemnation proceedings and any award that may be made thereunder, out of the money which may be appropriated for said purposes.

All sums which may be agreed upon between the said Utilities Commission and the owner of any property needed by the United States Government for said inland waterway and all sums which may be assessed in favor of the owner of any property condemned hereunder, shall constitute and remain a fixed and valid claim against the State of North Carolina until paid and satisfied in full, but the order of the clerk when entered in any condemnation proceeding shall divest the owner of the land condemned of all right, title, interest and possession in and to such land and property. (1931, c. 2, s. 2; 1937, c. 434.)

§ 104-14. Use declared paramount public purpose.— In such condemnation proceedings the uses for which such land or property is condemned are hereby declared to be for a purpose paramount to all other public uses, and the fact that any portion of it has heretofore been condemned by a railroad company, a street railway company, telephone or telegraph company, or other public service corporation, or by any political subdivision of the State of North Carolina, for public uses, or has been conveyed by any person or corporation for any such public uses, or vested in the State Board of Education, or by any other act dedicated to any public use, shall in no way affect the right of the State of North Carolina, or the United States Government, to proceed and condemn such land and property as hereinbefore provided. (1931, c. 2, s. 3.)

§ 104-15. Method of payment of expenses and awards.—Whenever said Commission has agreed with the owner of any such land or property as to the purchase price thereof, or the damage for the construction of the inland waterway has finally been determined in any condemnation proceeding necessary to secure such land or property, the said Commission is hereby authorized and directed to pay all of said sums and other expenses incident thereto by proper warrant upon the sum which may be appropriated for said purpose, and all such sums shall constitute and remain a fixed and valid claim against the State of North Carolina until paid and satisfied in full. (1931, c. 2, s. 4.)

§ 104-16. State and United States may enter upon lands for survey, etc.—For the purpose of determining the lands necessary for the uses herein set out, the Utilities Commission or the United States Government, or the agents of either, shall have the right to enter upon any lands along the general line of the right-of-way in this article specified, and make such surveys, and do such other acts as in their judgment may be necessary for the purpose of definitely locating the specific lines of said right-of-way and the lands required for said purposes, and there shall be no claim against the State of North Carolina or the United States for such acts as may be done in making said surveys. (1931, c. 2, s. 5; 1937, c. 434.)

§ 104-17. Maintenance of bridges over waterway.—The State Highway and Public Works Commission or the road governing body of any political subdivision of the State of North Carolina is hereby authorized and directed to construct, maintain and operate in perpetuity, all bridges over the waterway without cost to the United States. (1931, c. 2, s. 7; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

§ 104-18. Concurrent jurisdiction over waterway.—The State of North Carolina retains concurrent jurisdiction with the United States over any lands acquired and held in pursuance of the provisions of this chapter, so far as that all civil and criminal process issued under authority of any law of this State may be executed in any part of the premises so acquired for such inland waterway, or for the buildings or constructions thereon erected for the purposes of such inland waterway. SUBCHAPTER I. LEVY OF TAXES.

§ 105-1. Title and purpose of subchapter.—The title of this subchapter shall be "The Revenue Act." The purpose of this subchapter shall be to raise and provide revenue for the necessary uses and purposes of the government and state of North Carolina during the next biennium and each biennium thereafter, and the provisions of this subchapter shall be and remain in full force and effect until changed by law. (1939, c. 158, ss. A, B; 1941, c. 50, s. 1.)

Art. 1. Schedule A. Inheritance Tax.

§ 105-2. General provisions.—A tax shall be and is hereby imposed upon the transfer of any property, real or personal, or of any interest therein or income therefrom, in trust or otherwise, to persons or corporations, in the following cases:

First. When the transfer is by will or by the intestate laws of this state from any person dying, seized or possessed of the property while a resident of the state.

Second. When the transfer is by will or intestate laws of this or any other state of real property or of goods, wares, and merchandise within this state, or of any property, real, personal, or mixed, tangible or intangible, over which the state of North Carolina has a taxing jurisdiction, including state and municipal bonds, and the decedent was a resident of the state at the time of death; when the transfer is of real property or intangible personal property within the state, or intangible personal property that has acquired a situs in this state, and the decedent was a non-resident of the state at the time of death.

Third. When the transfer of property made by a resident, or non-resident, is of real property within this state, or of goods, wares and merchandise within this state, or of any other property, real, personal, or mixed, tangible or intangible, over which the state of North Carolina has taxing jurisdiction, including state and municipal bonds, by deed, grant, bargain, sale, or gift made in contemplation of the death of the grantor, vendor, or donor, or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after such death, including a transfer under which the transferor has retained for his life or any period not ending before his death (a) the possession or enjoyment of, or the income from, the property or (b) the right to designate the persons who shall possess or enjoy the property or the income therefrom. Every transfer by deed, grant, bargain, sale, or gift, made within three years prior to the death of the grantor, vendor, or donor, exceeding three per cent (3%) of his or her estate, or in the nature of a final disposition or distribution thereof, and without an adequate valuable consideration, shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this section.

Fourth. When any person or corporation comes into possession or enjoyment, by a transfer from a resident, or from a non-resident decedent when such non-resident decedent's property consists of real property within this state or tangible personal property within the state, or intangible personal property that has acquired a situs in this state, of an estate in expectancy of any kind or character which is contingent or defeasible, transferred by any instrument taking effect after March 24, 1939, or of any property transferred pursuant to a power of appointment contained in any instrument.

Fifth. Whenever any person or corporation shall exercise a power of appointment derived from any disposition of property made either before or after the passage of this article, such appointment when made shall be deemed a transfer taxable under the provisions of this article, in the same manner as though the property to which such appointment relates belonged absolutely to the donee of such power, and had been bequeathed or devised by such donee by will, and the rate shall be determined by the relationship between the beneficiary under the power and the donor; and whenever any person or corporation having such power of appointment so derived shall, for any reason whatever, omit or fail to exercise the same, in whole or in part, or where for any reason the said power has not been exercised, a transfer taxable under the provisions of this article shall be deemed to take place, to the extent of such omission or failure, in the same manner as though the persons or corporations thereby becoming entitled to the possession or enjoyment of the property to which such power related had succeeded thereto by will of the donee of the power failing to exercise the same, taking effect at the time of such omission or failure.

Sixth. Whenever any real or personal property, or both, of whatever kind or nature, tangible or intangible, is disposed of by will or by deed to any person or persons for life, or the life of the survivor, or for a term of years, or to any corporation for a term of years, with the power of appointment in such person or persons, or in such corporation, or reserving to the grantor or devisor the power of revocation, the tax, upon the death of the person making such will or deed, shall, on the whole amount of property so disposed of, be due and payable as in other cases, and the said tax shall be computed according to the relationship of the first donee or devisee to the devisor.

Seventh. Where real property is held by husband and wife as tenants by the entirety, the surviving tenant shall be taxable on one-half of the value of such property.

However, nothing in this article shall be construed as imposing a tax upon any transfer of intangibles not having a commercial or business situs in this State, by a person, or by reason of the death of a person, who was not a resident of this State at the time of his death, and, if held or transferred in trust, such intangibles shall not be deemed to have a commercial or business situs in this State merely because the trustee is a resident or, if a corporation, is doing business in this State, unless the same be employed in or held or used in connection with some business carried on in whole or in part in this State. (1939, c. 158, s. 1; 1941, c. 50, s. 2.)

§ 105-3. Property exempt. — The following property shall be exempt from taxation under this article:

(a) Property passing to or for the use of the state of North Carolina, or to or for the use of municipal corporations within the state or other political subdivisions thereof, for exclusively public purposes.

(b) Property passing to religious, charitable, or educational corporations, or to churches, hospitals, orphan asylums, public libraries, religious, benevolent, or charitable organizations, or passing to any trustee or trustees for religious, benevolent, or charitable purposes, where such religious, charitable, or educational institutions, corporations, churches, trusts, etc., are located within the state and not conducted for profit.

(c) Property passing to religious, educational, or charitable corporations, foundations or trusts, not conducted for profit, incorporated or created or administered under the laws of any other state: If such other state levies no inheritance or estate taxes on property similarly passing from residents of such state to religious, educational or charitable corporations, foundations or trusts incorporated or created or administered under the laws of this state; or if such corporation, foundation or trust is one receiving and disbursing funds donated in this state for religious, educational or charitable purposes.

(d) The amount of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00), only, of the total proceeds of life insurance policies, when such policy or policies are payable to a beneficiary or beneficiaries named in such policy or policies, and such beneficiary or beneficiaries are any such person or persons as are designated in § 105-4, subsection (a): Provided, that no more than twenty thousand dollars

($20,000.00) of any such policy or policies shall be exempt from taxation, whether in favor of one beneficiary or more, and the exemption thus provided shall be prorated between the beneficiaries in proportion to the amounts received under the policies, unless otherwise provided by the decedent; and also proceeds of all life insurance policies payable to beneficiaries named in subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this section. And also proceeds of all policies of insurance and the proceeds of all adjusted service certificates paid by the United States government to the beneficiary or beneficiaries or heirs-at-law of any deceased soldier of the World War under the present laws of congress or any amendment that may be hereafter made thereto. (1939, c. 158, s. 2.)

§ 105-4. Rate of tax—Class A.—(a) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the lineal issue, or lineal ancestor, or husband or wife of the person who died possessed of such property aforesaid, or stepchild of the person who died possessed of such property aforesaid, or child adopted by the decedent in conformity with the laws of this state or of any of the United States, or of any foreign kingdom or nation, at the following rates of tax (for each one hundred dollars ($100.00) or fraction thereof) of the value of such interest:

First $	10,000	above exemption	...	1	per cent

Over $1,500,000		and to $2,000,000	..	9	per cent
Over $2,000,000		and to $2,500,000	..	10	per cent
Over $2,500,000		and to $3,000,000	..	11	per cent
Over $3,000,000			.....	12	per cent

(b) The persons mentioned in this class shall be entitled to the following exemptions: Widows, ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00); each child under twenty-one years of age, five thousand dollars ($5,000.00); all other beneficiaries mentioned in this section, two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) each: Provided, a grandchild or grandchildren shall be allowed the single exemption or pro rata part of the exemption of the parent, when the parent of any one grandchild or group of grandchildren is deceased or when the parent is living and does not share in the estate: Provided, that any part of the exemption not applied to the share of the parent may be applied to the share of a grandchild or group of grandchildren of such parent. The same rule shall apply to the taking under a will, and also in case of a specific legacy or devise: Provided, that when any person shall die leaving a widow and child or children under twenty-one years of age, and leaving all or substantially all of his property by will to his wife, the wife shall be allowed an additional exemption of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) for each child under twenty-one years of age. (1939, c. 158, s. 3.)

§ 105-5. Rate of tax—Class B.—Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the brother or sister or descendant of the brother or sister, or shall be the uncle or aunt by blood of the person who died possessed as aforesaid, at the following rates of tax (for each one hundred dollars ($100.00) or fraction thereof) of the value of such interest:

First $	5,000		.....	4	per cent

Over $2,500,000			.....	17	per cent

§ 105-7. Estate tax.—(a) A tax in addition to the inheritance tax imposed by this schedule is hereby imposed upon the transfer of the net estate of every decedent dying after March 24, 1939, whether a resident or nonresident of the state, where the inheritance tax imposed by this schedule is in the aggregate of a lesser amount than the maximum credit of eighty per cent (80%) of the federal estate tax allowed by the Federal Estate Tax Act as contained in the Federal Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six, or subsequent acts and amendments, because of said tax herein imposed, then the inheritance tax provided for by this schedule shall be increased by an estate tax on the net estate so that the aggregate amount of tax due this state shall be the maximum amount of credit allowed under said Federal Estate Tax Act; said additional tax shall be paid out of the same funds as any other tax against the estate.

(b) Where no tax is imposed by this schedule because of the exemptions herein or otherwise, and a tax is due the United States under the Federal Estate Tax Act, then a tax shall be due this state equal to the maximum amount of the credit allowed under said Federal Estate Tax Act.

(c) The administrative provisions of this schedule, wherever applicable, shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this section. The amount of the tax as imposed by subsection (a) of this section shall be computed in full accordance with the Federal Estate Tax Act as contained in the Federal Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six, or subsequent acts and amendments. (1939, c. 158, s. 6.)

§ 105-8. Credit allowed for gift tax paid.—In case a tax has been imposed under Schedule G of the Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, or under subsequent acts, upon any gift, and thereafter upon the death of the donor, the amount thereof is required by any provision of this article to be included in the gross estate of the decedent, then there shall be credited against and applied in reduction of the tax, which would otherwise be chargeable against the beneficiaries of the estate under the provisions of this article, an amount equal to the tax paid with respect to such gift. Any additional tax found to be due because of the inclusion of gifts in the gross estate of the decedent, as provided herein, shall be a tax against the estate and shall be paid out of the same funds as any other tax against the estate. (1939, c. 158, s. 6½.)

§ 105-9. Deductions.—In determining the clear market value of property taxed under this article, or schedule, the following deductions, and no others, shall be allowed:

(a) Taxes accrued and unpaid at the death of the decedent and unpaid ad valorem taxes accruing during the calendar year of death.

(b) Drainage and street assessments (fiscal year in which death occurred).

(c) Reasonable funeral and burial expenses.

(d) Debts of decedent.

(e) Estate and inheritance taxes paid to other states, and death duties paid foreign countries, and the net amount of federal estate taxes as finally assessed under the Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six. No deduction will be allowed for federal estate taxes levied by subsequent acts and amendments.

(f) Amount actually expended for monuments not exceeding the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00).

(g) Commissions of executors and administrators actually allowed and paid.

(h) Costs of administration, including reasonable attorneys' fees. (1939, c. 158, s. 7; 1941, c. 50, s. 2.)

§ 105-10. Where no personal representative appointed, clerk of superior court to certify same to commissioner of revenue.—Whenever an estate subject to the tax under this article shall be settled or divided among the heirs-at-law, legatees or devisees, without the qualification and appointment of a personal representative, the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein the estate is situated shall certify the same to the commissioner of revenue, whereupon the commissioner of revenue shall proceed to appraise said estate and collect the inheritance tax thereon as prescribed by this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 8.)

§ 105-11. Tax to be paid on shares of stock before transferred, and penalty for violation.—(a) Property taxable within the meaning of this article shall include bonds or shares of stock in any incorporated company incorporated in this state, regardless of whether or not such incorporated company shall have any or all of its capital stock invested in property outside of this state and doing business outside of this state, and the tax on the transfer of any bonds and/or shares of stock in any such incorporated company owning property and doing business outside of the state shall be paid before waivers are issued for the transfer of such shares of stock. No corporation of this state shall transfer any bonds or stock of said corporation standing in the name of or belonging to a decedent or in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, or in trust for a decedent, unless notice of the time of such transfer is served upon the commissioner of revenue at least ten days prior to such transfer, nor until said commissioner of revenue shall consent thereto in writing. Any corporation making such a transfer without first obtaining consent of the commissioner of revenue as aforesaid shall be liable for the amount of any tax which may thereafter be assessed on account of the transfer of such bonds and/or stock, together with the interest thereon, and in addition thereto a penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), which liability for such tax, interest, and penalty, may be enforced by an action brought by the state in the name of the commissioner of revenue. The word "transfer" as used in this article shall be taken to include the passing of property or any interest therein, in possession or enjoyment, present or future, by distribution, or by statute, descent, devise, bequest, grant, deed, bargain, sale, gift, or otherwise. A waiver signed by the commissioner of revenue of North Carolina shall be full protection for any such company in the transfer of any such stock.

(b) Any incorporated company not incorporated in this state and owning property in this state which shall transfer on its books the shares of stock of any resident decedent holder of bonds and/or shares of stock in such company exceeding in value two hundred dollars ($200.00) before the inheritance tax, if any, has been paid, shall become liable for the payment of said tax; and any property held by such company in this state shall be subject to execution to satisfy same. A receipt or waiver signed by the commissioner of revenue of North Carolina shall be full protection for any such company in the transfer of any such stock. (1939, c. 158, s. 9.)

§ 105-12. Commissioner of revenue to furnish blanks and require reports of value of shares of stock.—(a) The commissioner of revenue shall prepare and furnish, upon application, blank forms covering such information as may be necessary to determine the amount of inheritance tax due the state of North Carolina on the transfer of any such bonds and/or stock; he shall determine the value of such bonds and/or stock, and shall have full authority to do all things necessary to make full and final settlement of all such inheritance taxes due or to become due.

(b) The commissioner of revenue shall have authority, under penalties provided in this article, to require that any reports necessary to a proper enforcement of this article be made by any such incorporated company owning property in this state. (1939, c. 158, s. 10.)

§ 105-13. Life insurance policies. — The proceeds of all life insurance policies payable at or after death of the insured when the premiums have been paid by the insured, and whether payable to the estate of the insured or to a beneficiary or beneficiaries named in the policy, shall be taxable at the rates provided for in this article, subject to the exemptions in § 105-3. (1939, c. 158, s. 11.)

§ 105-14. Recurring taxes. — Where property transferred has been taxed under the provisions of this article, such property shall not be assessed and/or taxed on account of any other transfer of like kind occurring within two years from the date of the death of the former decedent: Provided, that this section shall apply only to the transferees designated in §§ 105-4 and 105-5. (1939, c. 158, s. 12.)

§ 105-16. Discount for payment in six months; interest after twelve months; penalty after two years.—All taxes imposed by this article shall be due and payable at the death of the testator, intestate, grantor, donor, or vendor, and if the same are paid within six months from the date of the death of the testator, intestate, grantor, donor, vendor, a discount of three per centum (3%) shall be allowed and deducted from such taxes; if not paid within twelve months from date of death of the testator, intestate, grantor, donor, or vendor, such tax shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum (6%) per annum, to be computed from the expiration of twelve months from the date of the death of such testator, intestate, grantor, donor, or vendor until paid: Provided, that if the taxes herein levied shall not be paid in full within two years from date of death of testator, intestate, grantor, donor, or vendor, then and in such case a penalty of five per centum (5%) upon the amount of taxes remaining due and unpaid shall be added: Provided further, that the penalty of five per centum (5%) herein imposed may be remitted by the commissioner of revenue in case of unavoidable delay in settlement of estate or of pending litigation, and the commissioner of revenue is further authorized, in case of protracted litigation or other delay in settlement not attributable to laches of the party liable for the tax, to remit all or any portion of the interest charges accruing under this schedule, with respect to so much of the estate as was involved in such litigation or other unavoidable cause of delay: Provided, that time for payment and collection of such tax may be extended by the commissioner of revenue for good reasons shown. (1939, c. 158, s. 14.)

§ 105-17. Collection to be made by sheriff if not paid in two years.—If taxes imposed by this article are not paid within two years after the death of the decedent, it shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue to certify to the sheriff of the county in which the estate is located the amount of tax due upon such inheritance, and the sheriff shall collect the same as other taxes, with an addition of two and one-half per cent (2½%) as sheriff's fees for collecting same, which fees shall be in addition to any salary or other compensation allowed by law to the sheriffs for their services; and the sheriff is hereby given the same rights of levy and sale upon any property upon which the said tax is payable as said officer is given for the collection of any and all other taxes. The sheriff shall make return to the commissioner of revenue of all such taxes within thirty days after collection. (1939, c. 158, s. 15.)

§ 105-18. Executor, etc., shall deduct tax.—The executor or administrator or other trustee paying any legacy or share in the distribution of any estate subject to said tax shall deduct therefrom at the rate prescribed, or if the legacy or share in the estate be not money, he shall demand payment of a sum to be computed at the same rates upon the appraised value thereof for the use of the state; and no executor or administrator shall pay or deliver any specific legacy or article to be distributed, subject to tax, except on the payment into his hands of a sum computed on its value as aforesaid; and in case of neglect or refusal on the part of said legatee to pay the same, such specific legacy or article, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be sold by such executor or administrator at public sale, after notice to such legatee, and the balance that may be left in the hands of the executor or administrator shall be distributed as is or may be directed by law; and every sum of money retained by any executor or administrator or paid into his hands on account of any legacy or distributive share for the use of the state shall be paid by him to the proper officer without delay. (1939, c. 158, s. 16.)

§ 105-19. Legacy for life, etc., tax to be retained, etc., upon the whole amount.—If the legacy or devise subject to said tax be given to a beneficiary for life or for a term of years, or upon condition or contingency, with remainder to take effect upon the termination of the life estate or the happening of the condition or contingency, the tax on the whole amount shall be due and payable as in other cases, and said tax shall be apportioned between such life tenant and the remainderman, such apportionment to be made by computation based upon the mortuary and annuity tables set out as §§ 8-46 and 8-47, and upon the basis of six per centum (6%) of the gross value of the estate for the period of expectancy of the life tenant in determining the value of the respective interests. When property is transferred or limited in trust or otherwise, and the rights, interest, or estate of the transferees or beneficiaries are dependent upon contingencies or conditions whereby they may be wholly or in part created, defeated, extended, or abridged, a tax shall be imposed upon said transfer at the highest rate, within the discretion of the revenue commissioner, which on the happening of any of the said contingencies or conditions would be possible under the provisions of this article, and such tax so imposed shall be due and payable forthwith out of the property transferred, and the commissioner of revenue shall assess the tax on such property. (1939, c. 158, s. 17.)

§ 105-20. Legacy charged upon real estate, heir or devisee to deduct and pay to executor, etc. —Whenever such legacy shall be charged upon or payable out of real estate, the heir or devisee of such real estate, before paying the same to such legatee, shall deduct the tax therefrom at the rates aforesaid, and pay the amount so deducted to the executor or administrator or the commissioner of revenue, and the same shall remain a charge upon such real estate until paid, and in default thereof the same shall be enforced by the decrees of the court in the same manner as the payment of such legacy may be enforced: Provided, that all taxes imposed by this article shall be a lien upon the real and personal property of the estate on which the tax is imposed or upon the proceeds arising from the sale of such property from the time said tax is due and payable, and shall continue a lien until said tax is paid and receipted for by the proper officer of the state: Provided further, that no lien for inheritance or estate taxes which accrued prior to May first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight shall attach or affect the land. (1939, c. 158, s. 18.)

§ 105-21. Computation of tax on resident and non-resident decedents.—A tax shall be assessed on the transfer of property, including property specifically devised or bequeathed, made subject to tax as aforesaid in this state of a resident or non-resident decedent, if all or any part of the estate of such decedent, wherever situated, shall pass to persons or corporations taxable under this article, which tax shall bear the same ratio to the entire tax which the said estate would have been subject to under this article if such decedent had been a resident of this state, and all his property, real and personal, had been located within this state, as such taxable property within this state bears to the entire estate, wherever situated. It shall be the duty of the personal representative to furnish to the commissioner of revenue such information as may be necessary or required to enable the commissioner to ascertain a proper computation of his tax. Where the personal representative fails or refuses to furnish information from which this assessment can be made, the property in this state liable to tax under this article shall be taxed at the highest rate applicable to those who are strangers in blood. (1939, c. 158, s. 19.)

§ 105-22. Duties of the clerks of the superior court.—(a) It shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court to obtain from any executor or administrator, at the time of the qualification of such executor or administrator, the address of the personal representative qualifying, the names and addresses of the heirs-at-law, legatees, distributees, devisees, etc., as far as practical; the approximate value and character of the property or estate, both real and personal; the relationship of the heirs-at-law, legatees, devisees, etc., to the decedents, and forward the same to the commissioner of revenue on or before the tenth day of each month; and the commissioner of revenue shall furnish the several clerks blanks upon which to make said report, but the failure to so furnish blanks shall not relieve the clerk from the duty herein imposed. The clerk shall make no report of a death where the estate of a decedent is less than two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) in value, when the beneficiary is husband or wife or child or grandchild of the decedent. Any clerk of the superior court who shall fail, neglect, or refuse to file such monthly reports as required by this section shall be liable to a penalty in the sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00) to be recovered by the commissioner of revenue in an action to be brought by the commissioner of revenue.

(b) It shall also be the duty of the clerk of the superior court of each of the several counties of the state to enter in a book, prepared and furnished by the commissioner of revenue, to be kept for that purpose, and which shall be a public record, a condensed copy of the settlement of inheritance taxes of each estate, together with a copy of the receipt showing payment, or a certificate showing no tax due, as shall be certified to him by the commissioner of revenue.

(c) For these services, where performed by the clerk, the clerk shall be paid by the commissioner of revenue, when certificates and receipts are sent in to be recorded, as follows: For recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue showing no tax due, the sum of fifty cents (50c). For recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue showing that the tax received by the state is one hundred dollars ($100.00) or less, he shall be paid the sum of one dollar ($1.00). For recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue showing that the tax received by the state is more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) and not over five hundred dollars ($500.00) he shall be paid the sum of two dollars ($2.00). For recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue showing that the tax received by the state is more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) he shall be paid the sum of five dollars ($5.00), which sum shall be the maximum amount paid for recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue for any one estate: Provided, that where the decedent owns real estate in one or more counties, other than the county in which the administration of the estate is had, then the fee of the clerks of the courts of such other counties for recording the certificates of the commissioner of revenue shall be fifty cents (50c) each, and the same fee shall be paid for like service by the clerks in case of the settlement of the estates of non-residents. The clerk of the superior court shall receive the sum of fifty cents (50c) for making up and transmitting to the commissioner of revenue the report required in this section, containing a list of persons who died leaving property in his county during the preceding month, etc.: Provided further, that where the clerk of the superior court has failed or neglected to make the report required of him in this section, in that case he shall only receive for recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue the sum of fifty cents (50c).

The clerks of the superior courts of the several counties shall be allowed the fees provided for in this section in addition to other fees or salaries received by them, and any and all provisions in local acts in conflict with this section are hereby repealed. (1939, c. 158, s. 20.)

ment in duplicate, showing as far as can be ascertained the names of all the heirs-at-law and their relationship to decedent, and every executor shall prepare a like statement, accompanied by a copy of the will, showing the relationship to the decedent of all legatees, distributees, and devisees named in the will, and the age at the time of the death of the decedent of all legatees, distributees, devisees to whom property is bequeathed or devised for life or for a term of years, and the names of those, if any, who have died before the decedent, together with the postoffice address of executor, administrator, or trustee. If any of the heirs-at-law, distributees, and devisees are minor children of the decedent, such statement shall also show the age of each of such minor children. The statement shall also contain a complete inventory of all the real property of the decedent located in and outside the state, and of all personal property, wherever situate, of the estate, of all insurance policies upon the life of the decedent, together with an appraisal under oath of the value of each class of property embraced in the inventory, and the value of the whole, together with any deductions permitted by this statute, so far as they may be ascertained at the time of filing such statement; and also the full statement of all gifts or advancements made by deed, grant, or sale to any person or corporation, in trust or otherwise, within three years prior to the death of the decedent. The statement herein provided for shall be filed with the commissioner of revenue at Raleigh, North Carolina, within six months after the qualification of the executor or administrator, upon blank forms to be prepared by the commissioner of revenue. If any administrator or executor fails or refuses to comply with any of the requirements of this section, he shall be liable to a penalty in the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00), to be recovered by the commissioner of revenue in an action to be brought by the commissioner of revenue to collect such sum in the superior court of Wake county against such administrator or executor. The commissioner of revenue, for good cause shown, may remit all or any portion of the penalty imposed under the provisions of this section. Every executor or administrator may make a tentative settlement of the inheritance tax with the commissioner of revenue, based on the sworn inventory provided in this section: Provided, that this does not apply to estates of less than two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) in value when the beneficiaries are husband or wife or children or grandchildren, or parent or parents of the decedent. If any executor, administrator, collector, committee, trustee or any other fiduciary within or without this state holding or having control of any funds, property, trust or estate, the transfer of which becomes taxable under the provisions of this article, shall fail to file the statements herein required, within the times herein required, the commissioner of revenue is authorized and shall be required to secure the information herein required from the best sources available, and therefrom assess the taxes levied hereunder, together with the penalties herein and otherwise provided. (1939, c. 158, s. 21.)

§ 105-24. Regulations governing access to safe deposits of a decedent.—No safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank, or other institution, person or persons having in possession or control or custody, in whole or in part, securities, deposits, assets, or property belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent, or belonging to or standing in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, shall deliver or transfer the same to any person whatsoever, whether in a representative capacity or not, or to the survivor or to the survivors when held in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, without retaining a sufficient portion or amount thereof to pay taxes or interest which would thereafter be assessed thereon under this article; but the commissioner of revenue may consent in writing to such delivery or transfer, and such consent shall relieve said safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons from the obligation herein imposed. Provided: The clerk of superior court of the resident county of a decedent may authorize in writing any bank, safe deposit company, trust company, or any other institution to transfer to the properly qualified representative of the estate any funds on deposit in the name of the decedent or the decedent and one or more persons when the total amount of such deposit or deposits is three hundred dollars ($300.00) or less, and when such deposit or deposits compose the total cash assets of the estate. Such authorization shall have the same force and effect as when issued in writing by the commissioner of revenue. Every safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person, or persons engaged in the business of renting lock boxes for the safe keeping of valuable papers and personal effects, or having in their possession or supervision in such lock boxes such valuable papers or personal effects shall, upon the death of any person using such lock box, as a condition precedent to the opening of such lock box by the executor, administrator, personal representative, or co-tenant of such deceased person, require the presence of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such lock box is located. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court, or his representative, in the presence of an officer or representative of the safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank, or other institution, person or persons, to make an inventory of the contents of any such lock box and to furnish a copy of such inventory to the commissioner of revenue, to the executor, administrator, personal representative, or co-tenant of the decedent, and a copy to the safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank, or other institution, person, or persons having possession of such lock box. The clerk of the superior court shall be paid by the representative of said estate at the time of his qualification the sum of two dollars ($2.00) for his services rendered as hereinbefore prescribed in this section, and in addition thereto he shall receive the same mileage as is now allowed by law to witnesses for going from his office to any place located in his county to perform such services. The clerks of the superior court of the several counties shall be allowed the fees provided for in this section in addition to other fees or salaries received by them, and any and all provisions in local acts in conflict with this article are hereby repealed. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this section any life insurance company may pay the proceeds of any policy upon the life of a decedent to the person entitled thereto as soon as it shall have mailed to the commissioner of revenue a notice, in such form as the commissioner of revenue may prescribe, setting forth the fact of such payment; but if such notice be not mailed, all of the provisions of this section shall apply.

Failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall render such safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons liable for the amount of the taxes and interest due under this article on the succession to such securities, deposits, assets, or property, but in any action brought under this provision it shall be a sufficient defense that the delivery or transfer of securities, deposits, assets, or property was made in good faith without knowledge of the death of the decedent and without knowledge of circumstances sufficient to place the defendant on inquiry. (1939, c. 158, s. 21½.)

§ 105-25. Supervision by commissioner of revenue.—The commissioner of revenue shall have complete supervision of the enforcement of all provisions of the Inheritance Tax Act and the collections of all inheritance taxes found to be due thereunder, and shall make all necessary rules and regulations for the just and equitable administration thereof. He shall regularly employ such deputies, attorneys, examiners, or special agents as may be necessary for the reasonable carrying out of its full intent and purpose. Such deputies, attorneys, examiners, or special agents shall, as often as required to do so, visit the several counties of the state to inquire and ascertain if all inheritance taxes due from estates of decedents, or heirs-at-law, legatees, devisees, or distributees thereof have been paid; to see that all statements required by this article are filed by administrators and executors, or by the beneficiaries under wills where no executor is appointed; to examine into all statements filed by such administrators and executors; to require such administrators and executors to furnish any additional information that may be deemed necessary to determine the amount of tax that should be paid by such estate. If not satisfied, after investigation, with valuation returned by the administrator or executor, the deputy, attorney, examiner, or appraiser shall make an additional appraisal after proper examination and inquiry, or may, in special cases, recommend the appointment by the commissioner of revenue of a special appraiser who, in such case, shall be paid five dollars ($5.00) per day and expenses for his services. The administrator or executor, if not satisfied with such additional appraisal, may appeal within thirty days to the commissioner of revenue, which appeal shall be heard and determined as other cases. From this decision the administrator or executor shall have the right to appeal to the superior court of the county in which said estate is situated for the purpose of having said issue tried; said appeal to be made in the same way and manner as is now provided by law for appeals from the decisions of the public utilities commission: Provided, that the tax shall first be paid, or satisfactory surety bond in double the amount of any alleged deficiency shall be filed with the commissioner pending an appeal; and if it shall be determined upon trial that said tax or any part thereof was illegal or excessive, judgment shall be rendered therefor with interest, and the amount of tax so adjudged overpaid or declared invalid shall be certified by the clerk of court to the commissioner of revenue, who is authorized and directed to draw his account on the state treasurer for the amount thereof. (1939, c. 158, s. 22.)

§ 105-26. Proportion of tax to be repaid upon certain conditions.—Whenever debts shall be proven against the estate of a decedent after the distribution of legacies from which the inheritance tax has been deducted in compliance with this article, and the legatee is required to refund any portion of the legacy, a proportion of the said tax shall be repaid to him by the executor or administrator if the said tax has not been paid into the state treasury, or shall be refunded by the state treasurer, if it has been so paid in, upon certificate of the commissioner of revenue. (1939, c. 158, s. 23.)

§ 105-27. Commissioner of revenue may order executor, etc., to file account, etc.—If the commissioner of revenue shall discover that reports and accounts have not been filed, and the tax, if any, has not been paid as provided in this article, he shall issue a citation to the executor, administrator, or trustee of the decedent whose estate is subject to tax, to appear at a time and place therein mentioned, not to exceed twenty days from the date thereof, and show cause why said report and account should not be filed and said tax paid; and when personal service cannot be had, notice shall be given as provided for service of summons by publication in the county in which said estate is located; and if said tax shall be found to be due, the said delinquent shall be adjudged to pay said tax, interest and cost; if said tax shall remain due and unpaid for a period of thirty days after notice thereof, the commissioner of revenue shall certify the same to the sheriff, who shall make collection of said tax, cost and commissions for collection, as provided in § 105-16. (1939, c. 158, s. 24.)

§ 105-28. Failure of administrator, executor, or trustee to pay tax.—Any administrator, executor, or trustee who shall fail to pay the lawful inheritance taxes due upon any estate in his hands or under his control within two years from the time of his qualification shall be liable for the amount of the said taxes, and the same may be recovered in an action against such administrator, executor, or trustee, and the sureties on his official bond. Any clerk of the court who shall allow any administrator, executor, or trustee to make a final settlement of his estate without having paid the inheritance tax due by law, and exhibiting his receipt from the commissioner of revenue therefor, shall be liable upon his official bond for the amount of such taxes. (1939, c. 158, s. 25.)

§ 105-29. Uniform valuation.—(a) If the value of any estate taxed under this schedule shall have been assessed and fixed by the federal government for the purpose of determining the federal taxes due thereon prior to the time the report from the executor or administrator is made to the commissioner of revenue under the provisions of this article, the amount or value of such estate so fixed, assessed, and determined by the federal government shall be stated in such report. If the assessment of the estate by the federal government shall be made after the filing of the report by the executor or administrator with the commissioner of revenue, as provided in this article, the said executor or administrator shall, within thirty days after receipt of notice of the final determination by the federal government of the value or amount of said estate as assessed and determined for the purpose of fixing federal taxes thereon, make report of the amount so fixed and assessed by the federal government, under oath or affirmation, to the commissioner of revenue. If the amount of said estate as assessed and fixed by the federal government shall be in excess of that theretofore fixed or assessed under this schedule for the purpose of determining the amount of taxes due the state from said estate, then the commissioner of revenue shall reassess said estate and fix the value thereof at the amount fixed, assessed, and determined by the federal government, unless the said executor or administrator shall, within thirty days after notice to him from the commissioner of revenue, show cause why the valuation and assessment of said estate as theretofore made should not be changed or increased. If the valuation placed upon said estate by the federal government shall be less than that theretofore fixed or assessed under this article, the executor or administrator may, within thirty days after filing his return of the amount so fixed or assessed by the federal government, file with the commissioner of revenue a petition to have the value of said estate reassessed and the same reduced to the amount as fixed or assessed by the federal government. In either event the commissioner of revenue shall proceed to determine, from such evidence as may be brought to his attention or which he shall otherwise acquire, the correct value of the said estate, and if the valuation is changed, he shall reassess the taxes due by said estate under this article and notify the executor or administrator of such fact. In the event the valuation on said estate shall be decreased, and if there shall have been an overpayment of the tax, the said commissioner shall, within sixty days after the final determination of the value of said estate and the assessment of the correct amount of tax against the same, refund the amount of such excess tax theretofore paid.

(b) If the executor or administrator shall fail to file with the commissioner of revenue the return under oath or affirmation, stating the amount or value at which the estate was assessed by the federal government as provided for in this section, the commissioner of revenue shall assess and collect from the executor or administrator a penalty equal to twenty-five per cent (25%) of the amount of any additional tax which may be found to be due by such estate upon reassessment and reappraisal thereof, which penalty shall under no condition be less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) or more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) and which cannot be remitted by the commissioner of revenue except for good cause shown. The commissioner of revenue is authorized and directed to confer quarterly with the department of internal revenue of the United States government to ascertain the value of estates in North Carolina which have been assessed for taxation by the federal government, and he shall cooperate with the said department of internal revenue, furnishing to said department such information concerning estates in North Carolina as said department may request. (1939, c. 158, s. 26.)

§ 105-31. Additional remedies for enforcement of tax. — In addition to all other remedies which may now exist under the law, or may hereafter be established, for the collection of the taxes imposed by the preceding sections of this article, the tax so imposed shall be a lien upon all of the property and upon all of the estate, with respect to which the taxes are levied, as well as collectible out of any other property, resort to which may be had for their payment; and the said taxes shall constitute a debt, which may be recovered in an action brought by the commissioner of revenue in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state, and/or in any court having jurisdiction of actions of debt in any state of the United States, and/or in any court of the United States against an administrator, executor, trustee, or personal representative, and/or any person, corporation, or concern having in hand any property, funds, or assets of any nature, with respect to which such tax has been imposed. No title or interest to such estate, funds, assets, or property shall pass, and no disposition thereof shall be made by any person claiming an interest therein until the said taxes have been fully paid. (1939, c. 158, s. 28.)

§ 105-32. Reciprocal relations in respect to death taxes.—(a) The terms "death tax" and "death taxes" as used in the five following subsections, shall include inheritance, succession, transfer and estate taxes and any taxes levied against the estate of a decedent upon the occasion of his death.

(b) At any time before the expiration of eighteen months after the qualification in any probate court in this commonwealth of any executor of the will or administrator of the estate of any nonresident decedent, such executor or administrator shall file with such court proof that all death taxes, together with interest or penalties thereon, which are due to the state of domicile of such decedent, or to any political subdivision thereof, have been paid or secured, or that no such taxes, interest or penalties are due, as the case may be, unless it appears that letters testamentary or of administration have been issued on the estate of such decedent in the state of his domicile in the four following subsections called the domiciliary state.

(c) The proof required by subsection (b) may be in the form of a certificate issued by the official or body charged with the administration of the death tax laws of the domiciliary state. If such proof has not been filed within the time limited in subsection (b), and if within such time it does not appear that letters testamentary or of administration have been issued in the domiciliary state, the register of probate shall forthwith upon the expiration of such time notify by mail the official or body of the domiciliary state charged with the administration of the death tax laws thereof with respect to such estate, and shall state in such notice so far as is known to him (a) the name, date of death and last domicile of such decedent, (b) the name and address of each executor or administrator, (c) a summary of the values of the real estate, tangible personalty, and intangible personalty, wherever situated, belonging to such decedent at the time of his death, and (d) the fact that such executor or administrator has not filed theretofore the proof required in subsection (b). Such register shall attach to such notice a plain copy of the will and codicils of such decedent, if he died testate, or, if he died intestate, a list of his heirs and next of kin, so far as they are known to such register. Within sixty days after the mailing of such notice the official or body charged with the administration of the death tax laws of the domiciliary state may file with such probate court in this commonwealth a petition for an accounting in such estate, and such official or body of the domiciliary state shall, for the purposes of this section, be a party interested for the purpose of petitioning such probate court for such accounting. If such petition be filed within said period of sixty days, such probate court shall decree such accounting, and upon such accounting being filed and approved shall decree either the payment of any such tax found to be due to the domiciliary state or subdivision thereof or the remission to a fiduciary appointed or to be appointed by the probate court, or other court charged with the administration of estates of decedents, of the domiciliary state, of the balance of the intangible personalty after the payment of creditors and expenses of administration in this commonwealth.

(d) No final account of an executor or administrator of a nonresident decedent shall be allowed unless either (1) proof has been filed as required by subsection (b), or (2) notice under subsection (c) has been given to the official or body charged with the administration of the death tax laws of the domiciliary state, and such official or body has not petitioned for an accounting under said subsection within sixty days after the mailing of such notice, or (3) an accounting has been had under said subsection (c), a decree has been made upon such accounting and it appears that the executor or administrator has paid such sums and remitted such securities, if any, as he was required to pay or remit by such decree, or (4) it appears that letters testamentary or of administration have been issued by the domicilary state and that no notice has been given under said subsection (c).

(e) Subsections (a) to (d), inclusive, shall apply to the estate of a non-resident decedent, only in case the laws of the domiciliary state contain a provision, of any nature or however expressed, whereby this commonwealth is given reasonable assurance, as finally determined by the commissioner, of the collection of its death taxes, interest and penalties from the estates of decedents dying domiciled in this commonwealth, when such estates are administered in whole or in part by a probate court, or other court charged with the administration of estates of decedents, in such other state.

(f) The provisions of subsections (a) to (e), inclusive, shall be liberally construed in order to insure that the domiciliary state of any non-resident decedent whose estate is administered in this commonwealth shall receive any death taxes, together with interest and penalties thereon, due to it from the estate of such decedent. (1939, c. 158, s. 29.)

Art. 2. Schedule B. License Taxes.

§ 105-33. Taxes under this article.—Taxes in this article or schedule shall be imposed as state license taxes for the privilege of carrying on the business, exercising the privilege, or doing the act named, and nothing in this article shall be construed to relieve any person, firm, or corporation from the payment of the tax prescribed in this article or schedule.

(a) If the business made taxable or the privilege to be exercised under this article or schedule is carried on at two or more separate places, a separate state license for each place or location of such business shall be required.

(b) Every state license issued under this article or schedule shall be for twelve months, shall expire on the thirty-first day of May of each year, and shall be for the full amount of tax prescribed: Provided, that where the tax is levied on an annual basis and the licensee begins such business or exercises such privilege after the first day of January and prior to the thirty-first day of May of each year, then such licensee shall be required to pay one-half of the tax prescribed other than the tax prescribed to be computed and levied upon a gross receipts and/or percentage basis for the conducting of such business or the exercising of such privilege to and including the thirty-first day of May, next following. Every county, city and town license issued under this article or schedule shall be for twelve months, and shall expire on the thirty-first day of May or thirtieth day of June of each year as the governing body of such county, city or town may determine: Provided, that where the licensee begins such business or exercises such privilege after the expiration of seven months of the current license year of such municipality, then such licensee shall be required to pay one-half of the tax prescribed other than the tax prescribed to be computed upon a gross receipts and/or percentage basis.

(c) The state license thus obtained shall be and constitute a personal privilege to conduct the business named in the state license, shall not be transferable to any other person, firm, or corporation, and shall be construed to limit the person, firm, or corporation named in the license to conducting the business and exercising the privilege named in the state license to the county and/or city and location specified in the state license, unless otherwise provided in this article or schedule: Provided, that if the holder of a license under this schedule moves the business for which a license has been paid to another location, a new license may be issued to the licensee at a new location, for the balance of the license year, upon surrender of the original license for cancellation and the payment of a fee of five dollars ($5.00) for each license certificate reissued.

(d) Whenever, in any section of this article or schedule, the tax is graduated with reference to the population of the city or town in which the business is to be conducted or the privilege exercised, the minimum tax provided in such section shall be applied to the same business or privilege when conducted or exercised outside of the municipality, unless such business is conducted or privilege exercised within one mile of the corporate limits of such municipality, in which event the same tax shall be imposed and collected as if the business conducted or the privilege exercised were inside of the corporate limits of such municipality: Provided, that with respect to taxes in this article, assessed on a population basis, the same rates shall apply to incorporated towns and unincorporated places or towns alike, with the best estimate of population available being used as a basis for determining the tax in unincorporated places or towns. The term "places or towns" means any unincorporated community, point or collection of people having a geographical name by which it may be generally known, and is so generally designated.

(e) All state taxes imposed by this article shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue, or to one of his deputies; shall be due and payable on or before the first day of June of each year, and after such date shall be deemed delinquent, and subject to all the remedies available and the penalties imposed for the payment of delinquent state license and privilege taxes: Provided, that if a person, firm, or corporation begins any business or the exercise of any privilege requiring a license under this article or schedule after the thirty-first day of May and prior to the thirty-first day of the following May of any year, then such person, firm, or corporation shall apply for and obtain a state license for conducting such business or exercising any such privilege in advance, and before the beginning of such business or the exercise of such privilege; and a failure to so apply and to obtain such state license shall be and constitute a delinquent payment of the state license tax due, and such person, firm, or corporation shall be subject to the remedies available and penalties imposed for the payment of such delinquent taxes.

(f) The taxes imposed and the rates specified in this article or schedule shall apply to the subjects taxed on and after the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, and prior to said date the taxes imposed and the rates specified in the Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven shall apply.

(g) It shall be the duty of a grantee, transferee, or purchaser of any business or property subject to the state license taxes imposed in this article to make diligent inquiry as to whether the state license tax has been paid, but when such business or property has been granted, sold, transferred, or conveyed to an innocent purchaser for value and without notice that the vendor owed or is liable for any of the state license taxes imposed under this article, such property, while in the possession of such innocent purchaser, shall not be subject to any lien for such state license taxes.

(h) All county or municipal taxes levied by the board of county commissioners of any county, or by the board of aldermen or other governing body of any municipality within this state, under the authority conferred in this article, shall be collected by the sheriff or tax collector of such county and by the tax collector of such city, and the county or municipal license shall be issued by such officer.

(i) Any person, firm, or corporation who shall willfully make any false statement in an application for a license under any section of this article or schedule shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court, which fine shall not be less than the amount of tax specified under such section, and shall be in addition to the amount of such tax.

(j) Wherever the business taxed in §§ 105-61, 105-62, 105-79 and/or 105-84 is of a seasonal character at summer or winter resorts, license may be issued for such seasonal business at one-half of the annual license tax for the four months period from June first to October first in summer resorts and from December first to April first in winter resorts. (1939, c. 158, s. 100.)

§ 105-34. Amusement parks. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a park, open to the public as a place of amusement, and in which there may be either a bowling alley, trained animal show, penny or nickel machine for exhibiting pictures, theatrical performance, or similar entertainment, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such amusement park, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

State license for two months	$200.00
State license for four months	400.00
State license for eight months	600.00
State license for twelve months	800.00

This section shall not apply to bathing beaches which are not operated for more than four months each year.

(a) The licensee shall have the privilege of doing any or all of the things set out in this section; but the operation of a carnival, circus, or a show of any kind that moves from place to place shall not be allowed under the state license provided for in this section.

(b) Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 102.)

§ 105-35. Amusements—traveling theatrical companies, etc.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of a traveling theatrical, traveling moving picture, and/or traveling vaudeville company, giving exhibitions or performances in any hall, tent, or other place not licensed under §§ 105-34 or 105-37, whether on account of municipal ownership or otherwise, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and pay for such license a tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each day or part of a day's exhibits or performances: Provided, that

(a) Artists exhibiting paintings or statuary work of their own hands shall only pay two dollars ($2.00) for such state license.

(b) Such places of amusement as do not charge more than a total of fifty cents (50c) for admission at the door, including a reserved seat, and shall perform or exhibit continuously in any given place as much as one week, shall be required to pay for such state license a tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) per week.

(c) The owner of the hall, tent, or other place where such amusements are exhibited or performances held shall be liable for the tax.

(d) In lieu of the state license tax, hereinbefore provided for in this section, such amusement companies, consisting of not more than ten performers, may apply for an annual statewide license, and the same may be issued by the commissioner of revenue for the sum of three hundred dollars ($300.00), paid in advance, prior to the first exhibition in the state, shall be valid in any county of this state, and shall be in full payment of all state license taxes imposed in this section.

(e) Any traveling organization which exhibits animals or conducts side shows in connection with its exhibitions or performances shall not be taxed under this section, but shall be taxed as herein otherwise provided.

(f) The owner, manager, or proprietor of any such amusements described in this section shall apply in advance to the commissioner of revenue for a state license for each county in which a performance is to be given.

Upon all performances taxable under this section there is levied, in addition to the license tax levied in this section, a tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of tax levied in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, upon retail sales of merchandise. The license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied, and the license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax. The commissioner of revenue may adopt such regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section and shall prescribe the form and character of reports to be made, and shall have such authority of supervision as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this subchapter.

(g) Counties, cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of the license tax levied by the state.

(h) Where the taxpayer elects to pay an annual state-wide license in the sum of three hundred dollars ($300.00) in advance, as provided for in subsection (d) of this section, counties, cities and towns may each levy a license tax not in excess of ten dollars ($10.00) per week, provided such places of amusement do not charge more than a total of fifty cents (50c) for admission at the door, as provided for in subsection (b) of this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 103.)

§ 105-36. Amusements—manufacturing, selling, leasing, or distributing moving picture films or checking attendance at moving picture shows.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of manufacturing, selling, or leasing, furnishing, and/or distributing films to be used in moving pictures within this state shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license a tax of six hundred and twenty-five dollars ($625.00): Provided, that persons, firms, or corporations engaged exclusively in the business of selling, leasing or furnishing and/or distributing films for use in schools, public or private, and other institutions of learning, in this state shall pay a tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00).

Any person, firm, or corporation engaged under contract or for compensation in the business of checking the attendance of any moving picture or show for the purpose of ascertaining attendance or amount of admission receipts at any theatre or theatres shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license an annual tax of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00).

Counties, cities, and towns shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 104.)

§ 105-37. Amusements — moving pictures or vaudeville shows—admission.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a moving picture show or place where vaudeville exhibitions or performances are given or operating a theatre or opera house where public exhibitions or performances are given for compensation shall apply for and obtain in advance from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such state license for each room, hall, or tent used the following base tax:

In cities or towns of less than 1,500 population	$ 25.00
In cities or towns of 1,500 and less than 3,000 population	62.50
In cities or towns of 3,000 and less than 5,000 population	125.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	175.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	275.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population	375.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population or over	425.00

(a) For any moving picture show operated more than two miles from the business center of any city having a population of twenty-five thousand or over (for the purpose of this provision, the term "business center" to be defined as the intersection of the two principal business streets of the city), the base tax levied shall be two hundred dollars ($200.00).

In addition to the base tax levied in the above schedule of this section, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an additional tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of tax upon all such gross receipts levied in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, upon retail sales of merchandise. Reports shall be made to the commissioner of revenue in such form as he may prescribe within the first ten days of each month, covering all such gross receipts for the previous months and the additional tax herein levied shall be paid monthly at the time such reports are made. The annual license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied, and the annual license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax. Provided, if the tax upon admissions herein levied is not added to the admission price as a separate charge to any exhibition of motion pictures shown under percentage royalty contracts, the gross receipts, with reference to such royalty contracts, shall be deemed to be the gross receipts from admissions after the percentage tax upon gross receipts shall have been paid or deducted.

(b) Upon any and all other forms of entertainment and amusement not otherwise taxed or specifically exempted in this article, for which an admission is charged, every person, firm, or corporation engaged in such business shall pay an annual license tax for each room, hall, or tent where such admission charges are made graduated according to population, as follows:

In cities or towns of less than 1,500 population	$10.00
In cities or towns of 1,500 and less than 3,000 population	15.00
In cities or towns of 3,000 and less than 5,000 population	20.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	30.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population	40.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population or over	50.00

In addition to the license tax levied in the above schedule of this subsection, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an additional tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of tax levied in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, upon retail sales of merchandise, the additional tax upon gross receipts to be levied and collected as provided in this section for motion picture shows, or in accordance with such regulations of payments as may be made by the commissioner of revenue. The annual license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied and the annual license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax.

Provided, that athletic contests of all kinds, high school and elementary school contests, for which an admission is charged in excess of fifty cents (50c), including football, baseball, basketball, dances, wrestling, and boxing contests, shall pay an annual license tax of five dollars ($5.00), for each location where such charges are made, and an additional charge upon the gross receipts at the rate of tax levied in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, upon retail sales of merchandise, the additional tax upon gross receipts to be levied and collected as provided in this section for motion picture shows, or in accordance with such regulations of payments as may be made by the commissioner of revenue. The tax levied in this last portion of subsection (b), shall apply to all privately owned toll bridges, including all charges made for all vehicles, freight and passenger, and the minimum charge of fifty cents (50c), for admission shall not apply to bridge tolls.

§ 105-38. Amusements — circuses, menageries, wild west, dog and/or pony shows, etc.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of exhibiting performances, such as a circus, menagerie, wild west show, dog and/or pony show, or any other show, exhibition or performance similar thereto, not taxed in other sections of this article, shall apply for and obtain a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of engaging in such business, and pay for such license the following tax for each day or part of a day:

(a) Such shows and/or exhibitions traveling on railroads and requiring transportation of:

Not more than two cars	$ 30.00
Three to five cars, inclusive	45.00
Six to ten cars, inclusive	90.00
Eleven to twenty cars, inclusive	125.00
Twenty-one to thirty cars, inclusive	175.00
Thirty-one to fifty cars, inclusive	250.00
Over fifty cars	300.00

(b) Such shows and/or exhibitions traveling by automobiles, trucks, or other vehicles, other than railroad cars, and requiring transportation by:

Not over two vehicles	$ 7.50
Three to five vehicles	10.00
Six to ten vehicles	15.00
Eleven to twenty vehicles	25.00
Twenty-one to thirty vehicles	45.00
Thirty-one to fifty vehicles	60.00
Fifty-one to seventy-five vehicles	75.00
Seventy-six to one hundred vehicles	100.00
Over one hundred vehicles, per vehicle in excess thereof	5.00

It is the intent of this subsection that every vehicle used in transporting circus property or personnel, whether owned by the circus or by others, shall be counted in computing the tax.

(c) Every person, firm, or corporation by whom any show or exhibition taxed under this section is owned or controlled shall file with the commissioner of revenue, not less than five days before entering this state for the purpose of such exhibitions or performances therein, a statement, under oath, setting out in detail such information as may be required by the commissioner of revenue covering the places in the state where exhibitions or performances are to be given, the character of the exhibitions, the mode of travel, the number of cars or other conveyances used in transferring such shows, and such other and further information as may be required. Upon receipt of such statement, the commissioner of revenue shall fix and determine the amount of state license tax with which such person, firm, or corporation is chargeable, shall endorse his findings upon such statement, and shall transmit a copy of such statement and findings to each such person, firm, or corporation to be charged, to the sheriff or tax collector of each county in which exhibitions or performances are to be given, and to the division deputy of the commissioner of revenue, with full and particular instructions as to the state license tax to be paid. Before giving any of the exhibitions or performances provided for in such statement, the person, firm, or corporation making such statement shall pay the commissioner of revenue the tax so fixed and determined. If one or more of such exhibitions or performances included in such statement and for which the tax has been paid shall be canceled, the commissioner of revenue may, upon proper application made to him, refund the tax for such canceled exhibitions or performances. Every such person, firm, or corporation shall give to the commissioner of revenue a notice of not less than five days before giving any of such exhibitions or performances in each county.

(d) The sheriff of each county in which such exhibitions or performances are advertised to be exhibited shall promptly communicate such information to the commissioner of revenue; and if the statement required in this section has not been filed as provided herein, or not filed in time for certified copies thereof, with proper instructions, to be transmitted to the sheriffs of the several counties and the division deputy commissioner, the commissioner of revenue shall cause his division deputy to attend at one or more points in the state where such exhibitions or performances are advertised or expected to exhibit, for the purpose of securing such statement prescribed in this section, of fixing and determinining the amount of state license tax with which such person, firm, or corporation is taxable, and to collect such tax or give instructions for the collection of such tax.

(e) Every such person, firm, or corporation by whom or which any such exhibition or performance described in this section is given in any county, city or town, or within five miles thereof, wherein is held an annual agricultural fair, during the week of such annual agricultural fair, shall pay a state license of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for each exhibition or performance in addition to the license tax first levied in this section, to be assessed and collected by the commissioner of revenue or his duly authorized deputy.

(f) The provisions of this section, or any other section of this article, shall not be construed to allow without the payment of the tax imposed in this section, any exhibition or performance described in this section for charitable, benevolent, educational, or any other purpose whatsoever, by any person, firm, or corporation who is engaged in giving such exhibitions or performances, no matter what terms of contract may be entered into or under what auspices such exhibitions or performances are given. It being the intent and purpose of this section that every person, firm, or corporation who or which is engaged in the business of giving such exhibitions or performances, whether a part or all of the proceeds are for charitable, benevolent, educational, or other purposes or not, shall pay the state license tax imposed in this section.

(g) Every such person, firm, or corporation who shall give any such exhibitions or performances mentioned in this section within this state, before the statement provided for has been filed with the commissioner of revenue, or before the state license tax has been paid, or which shall, after the filing of such statement, give any such exhibitions or performances taxable at a higher rate than the exhibition or performance authorized by the commissioner of revenue upon the statement filed, shall pay a state license tax of fifty per cent (50%) greater than the tax hereinbefore prescribed, to be assessed and collected either by the commissioner of revenue or by his division deputy.

Upon all performances taxable under this section there is levied, in addition to the license tax levied in this section, a tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of tax levied in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, upon retail sales of merchandise. The license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied, and the license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax. The commissioner of revenue may adopt such regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section and shall prescribe the form and character of reports to be made, and shall have such authority of supervision as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this subchapter.

(h) In lieu of the tax levied in § 105-86, each circus, or other form of amusement taxed under this section, advertising by means of outdoor advertising displays, a bill posting or as otherwise defined in § 105-86, shall pay a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for a statewide license for the privilege of advertising in this manner, said tax to be in addition to the other taxes levied in this section.

(i) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of one-half of the license tax levied by the state, but shall not levy a parade tax or a tax under subsection (h) of this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 106.)

§ 105-39. Amusement—carnival companies, etc. —Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of a carnival company or a show of like kind, moving picture and vaudeville shows, museums and menageries, merry-go-rounds, ferris wheels, riding devices, and other like amusements, and enterprises, conducted for profit, under the same general management, or an aggregate of shows, amusements, eating places, riding devices, or any of them operating together on the same lot or contiguous lots or streets, traveling from place to place, whether owned and actually operated by separate persons, firms, or corporations or not, filling week-stand engagements, or giving week-stand exhibitions, under canvas or not, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business or amusement, and shall pay for such license for each week, or part of a week, a tax based according to the population of the city or town in which such carnival is showing as follows:

In cities or towns of less than 2,500 population	$100.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 population and less than 10,000	200.00
In cities or towns of more than 10,000 population	300.00

Provided that any carnival operating within a radius of five miles of any city shall pay the same tax as if they were actually showing within the city limits of said town. Provided further that if such a carnival operates over five miles from any city or town such a carnival shall be liable for a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per week or part of a week.

Provided, that when a person, firm, or corporation exhibits only riding devices which are not a part of, nor used in connection with any carnival company, the tax shall be ten dollars ($10.00) per week for each such riding device, provided that counties, cities and towns may levy and collect a license tax upon such riding devices not in excess of five dollars ($5.00) for each such device.

Provided, further, that it shall be unlawful under this section for the owners and/or operators of riding devices to operate, or cause to be operated, any show, game, stand or other attraction whatsoever.

(a) This section shall not repeal any local act prohibiting any of the shows, exhibitions, or performances mentioned in this section, or limit the authority of the board of county commissioners of any county, or the board of aldermen or other governing body of any city or town, in prohibiting such shows, exhibitions, or performances.

If the commissioner of revenue shall issue a state license for any such show, exhibition, or performance in any county or municipality having a local statute prohibiting the same, then the said state license shall not authorize such show, exhibition, or performance to be held in such county or municipality, but the commissioner of revenue shall refund, upon proper application, the tax paid for such state license.

(b) No person, firm, or corporation, nor any aggregation of same, giving such shows, exhibitions, or performances, shall be relieved from the payment of the tax levied in this section, regardless of whether or not the state derives a benefit from same. Nor shall any carnival operating or giving performances or exhibitions, in connection with any fair in North Carolina, be relieved from the payment of tax levied in this section. It is the intent and purpose of this section that every person, firm, or corporation, or aggregation of same which is engaged in the giving of such shows, exhibitions, performances, or amusements, whether the whole or a part of the proceeds are for charitable, benevolent, educational, or other purposes whatsoever, shall pay the state license taxes provided for in this section.

It is not the purpose of this article to discourage agricultural fairs in the state, and to further this cause, no carnival company will be allowed to play a "Still Date" in any county where there is a regularly advertised agricultural fair, fifteen days prior to the dates of said fair. An agricultural fair shall be construed as meaning one that has operated at least one year prior to March 24, 1939.

Upon all performances taxable under this section there is levied, in addition to the license tax levied in this section, a tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of tax levied in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, upon retail sales of merchandise. The license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon the gross receipts herein levied, and the license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax. The commissioner of revenue may adopt such regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section and shall prescribe the form and character of reports to be made, and shall have such authority or supervision as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this subchapter.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent American Legion Posts in North Carolina from holding fairs or tobacco festivals on any dates which they may select, provided said fairs and festivals have heretofore been held as annual events.

(c) Counties, cities and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed hereunder not in excess of one-half of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, c. 107; 1941, c. 50, s. 3.)

§ 105-40. Amusements—certain exhibitions, performances, and entertainments exempt from license tax. — All exhibitions, performances, and entertainments, except as in this article expressly mentioned as not exempt, produced by local talent exclusively, and for the benefit of religious, charitable, benevolent, or educational purposes, and where no compensation is paid to such local talent shall be exempt from the state license tax. (1939, c. 158, s. 108.)

§ 105-41. Attorneys at law and other professionals.—Every practicing attorney at law, practicing physician, veterinary, surgeon, osteopath, chiropractor, chiropodist, dentist, oculist, optician, optometrist, any person practicing any professional art of healing for a fee or reward, civil engineer, electrical engineer, mining engineer, mechanical engineer, architect and landscape architect, photographer, canvasser for any photographer, agent of a photographer in transmitting pictures or photographs to be copied, enlarged or colored (including all persons enumerated in this section employed by the state, county, municipality, a corporation, firm or individual), and every person, whether acting as an individual, as a member of a partnership, or as an officer and/or agent of a corporation, who is engaged in the business of selling or offering for sale, buying or offering to buy, negotiating the purchase, sale, or exchange of real estate, or who is engaged in the business of leasing or offering to lease, renting or offering to rent, or of collecting any rents as agent for another for compensation, or who is engaged in the business of soliciting and/or negotiating loans on real estate as agent for another for a commission, brokerage and/or other compensation, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business or profession, or the doing of the act named, and shall pay for such license twenty-five dollars ($25.00): Provided, that no professional man or woman shall be required to pay a privilege tax after he or she has arrived at the age of seventy-five years.

Every person engaged in the public practice of accounting as a principal, or as a manager of the business of public accountant, shall pay for such license twenty-five dollars ($25.00), and in addition shall pay a license of twelve and fifty one-hundredths dollars ($12.50) for each person employed who is engaged in the capacity of supervising or handling the work of auditing, devising or installing systems of accounts.

Every licensed mortician or embalmer shall in like manner apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for practicing his profession, whether for himself or in the employ of another of ten dollars ($10.00).

Licenses issued under this section are issued as personal privilege licenses and shall not be issued in the name of a firm or corporation: Provided, that a licensed photographer having a located place of business in this state, shall be liable for a license tax on each agent or solicitor, employed by him for soliciting business.

(a) Only one-half of the tax levied in this section shall be collected from those persons whose gross receipts from the business or profession for the preceding year did not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

(b) License revocable for failure to pay tax. Whenever it shall be made to appear to any judge of the superior court that any person practicing any profession for which the payment of a license tax is required by this section has failed, or fails, to pay the professional tax levied in this section, and execution has been issued for the same by the commissioner of revenue and returned by the proper officer "no property to be found," or returned for other cause without payment of the tax, it shall be the duty of the judge presiding in the superior court of the county in which such person resides, upon presentation therefor, to cause the clerk of said court to issue a rule requiring such person to show cause by the next term of court why such person should not be deprived of license to practice such profession for failure to pay such professional tax. Such rule shall be served by the sheriff upon said person twenty days before the next term of the court, and if at the return term of court such person fails to show sufficient cause, the said judge may enter a judgment suspending the professional license of such person until all such tax as may be due shall have been paid, and such order of suspension shall be binding upon all courts, boards and commissions having authority of law in this state with respect to the granting or continuing of license to practice any such profession.

(c) Counties, cities, or towns shall not levy any license tax on the business or professions taxed under this section; and the state-wide license herein provided for shall privilege the licensee to engage in such business or profession in every county, city, or town in this state. (1939, c. 158, s. 109; 1941, c. 50, s. 3.)

§ 105-42. Detectives. — Every person, whether acting as an individual, as a member of a partnership, or as an officer and/or agent of a corporation, who is engaged in business as a detective or what is ordinarily known as "secret service work," or who is engaged in the business of soliciting such business, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00): Provided, any such person regularly employed by the United States government, any state or political subdivision of any state shall not be required to pay the license herein provided for. (1939, c. 158, s. 110.)

§ 105-43. Real estate auction sales.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of conducting auction sales of real estate for profit or compensation shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license a tax of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00.).

Provided, that any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of conducting auction sales in one county only in this state, shall be liable for a license tax in the amount of seventy-five dollars ($75.00).

(b) This section shall not apply to sales for foreclosure of liens or sales made by order of court.

(c) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of twelve and fifty one-hundredths dollars ($12.50) for each sale conducted in the county, city, or town: Provided, that the total tax levied by any county, city, or town on said business during any year shall not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 111.)

§ 105-44. Coal and coke dealers.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation, either as agent or principal, engaged in and conducting the business of selling and/or delivering coal or coke in carload lots, or in greater quantities, shall be deemed a wholesale dealer, and shall apply for and procure from the revenue commissioner a state license and pay for such license the sum of seventy-five dollars ($75.00): Provided, that if such wholesale dealer shall also sell and/or deliver coal or coke in less than carload lots, he shall not be subject to the retailer's license tax provided in this section.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in and conducting the business of selling and/or delivering coal or coke at retail shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license, and shall pay for such license for each city or town in which such coal or coke is sold or delivered, as follows:

In cities or towns of less than 2,500 population	$10.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	15.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 25,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 and over	75.00

Dealers or peddlers in coal who sell in quantities of not more than one hundred (100) pounds shall pay a state license tax of five dollars ($5.00); provided that this section shall not apply to persons, firms or corporations who deliver coal or coke to state institutions or public schools only.

(c) No county shall levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the state.

(d) From the taxes levied under authority of this section, any person, firm or corporation owning or operating a coal mine in this state shall be allowed to deduct the amount of ad valorem taxes for the current year levied by any county in this state on the mine, mineral rights or land itself, from which said coal is mined: Provided, further, that any person, firm or corporation soliciting orders for pool cars of coal to be distributed without profit shall be subject to the license tax. (1939, c. 158, s. 112; 1941, c. 50, s. 3.)

§ 105-45. Collecting agencies. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of collecting, for a profit, claims, accounts, bills, notes, or other money obligations for others, and of rendering an account for same, shall be deemed a collection agency, and shall apply for and receive from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and pay for such license a tax of fifty dollars ($50.00).

(a) This section shall not apply to a regularly licensed practicing attorney at law.

(b) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 113.)

§ 105-46. Undertakers and retail dealers in coffins.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of burying the dead, or in the retail sale of coffins, shall apply for and procure from the revenue commissioner a state license for transacting such business within this state, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In cities or towns of less than 500 population	$ 10.00
In cities or towns of 500 and less than 5,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	40.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population	75.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population or over	100.00

This section shall not apply to a cabinet-maker (who is not an undertaker) who makes coffins to order.

No county shall levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 114.)

§ 105-47. Dealers in horses and/or mules.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of purchasing for the purpose of resale, either at wholesale or retail, horses and/or mules shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each location where such business is carried on as follows:

Where not more than one carload of horses and/or mules is purchased for the purpose of resale	$ 25.00
Where more than one carload and not more than two carloads of horses and/or mules are purchased for the purpose of resale	50.00
Where more than two carloads of horses and/or mules are purchased for the purpose of resale	100.00

For the purpose of calculating the amount of tax due under the above schedule, a carload of horses and/or mules shall be twenty-five (25) and purchases for the preceding license tax year shall be used as a medium for arriving at the amount of tax due for the ensuing year: Provided, however, that if during the current license year horses and/or mules are purchased for the purpose of resale in such quantities that would establish liability for a greater tax than that previously paid, it shall be immediately remitted to the commissioner of revenue with the license which has already been issued in order that it may be canceled and a corrected license issued.

In addition to the above license, every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of purchasing for the purpose of resale and/or selling horses and/or mules at public auction, either on his or its own behalf or for any other person, whether a commission or fee is or is not charged, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for each place of auction and shall pay for such license an annual tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

In addition to the above license, every transient vendor of horses and/or mules who has no permanent or established place of business in this state shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for each county in which horses and/or mules are sold and shall pay for such license an annual tax of three hundred dollars ($300.00).

(a) In addition to the annual licenses levied in this section, every person, firm, or corporation, engaged in the business of purchasing for the purpose of resale, either at wholesale or retail, horses and/or mules shall pay a tax of three dollars ($3.00) per head on all such horses and/or mules purchased for the purpose of resale. "Purchase" shall be taken to mean and shall include all horses and/or mules acquired or received as a result of outright purchase or on consignment, account or otherwise for resale, either at wholesale or retail: Provided, however, that "purchases" shall not include the acquisition of horses and/or mules which are acquired or received as a result of an allowance for credit for horses and/or mules taken in part payment on horses and/or mules subject to the tax imposed in this section nor shall it include horses and/or mules which have been repossessed as a result of nonpayment of the original sales or purchase price. "Purchases" shall include all horses and/or mules acquired for the purpose of resale, either at wholesale or retail, whether such horses and/or mules are shipped into this state by railroad or brought in otherwise.

The original or first dealer or consignee, purchasing or receiving horses and/or mules in this state, shall be primarily liable for payment of the additional per-head tax levied in this section. Horse and/or mule auctioneers, engaged in the business of purchasing, acquiring or receiving on consignment, account or otherwise, either as principal or agent, horses and/or mules from out-of-state dealers or other persons and selling same at either private or public auction, shall be primarily liable for payment of the additional per-head tax levied in this section unless sold to a licensed dealer for the purpose of resale. In order to avoid double taxation, dealers purchasing or acquiring horses and/or mules from another established dealer located within this state may be relieved of reporting the additional per-head tax on such horses and/or mules acquired from another dealer located within this state, provided an official receipt or statement from the commissioner of revenue or his duly authorized agents is produced, showing that the additional per-head tax levied in this section has been paid.

(b) The additional per-head tax levied in this section on purchases of horses and/or mules purchased for the purpose of resale, either at wholesale or retail, shall be due and payable immediately upon receipt of such horses and/or mules within this state. The commissioner of revenue may, however, in his discretion, where he thinks circumstances justify it, permit licensed and established dealers to file monthly reports, which reports shall be due to be filed on or before the fifteenth (15th) of each month for all purchases during the preceding month, and such report when filed shall be accompanied by a remittance for the amount of tax shown to be due. Reports shall be filed in such form and in such manner as may be prescribed by the commissioner of revenue, and failure to file the report herein prescribed and pay the tax as shown to be due thereon shall subject such dealer to a penalty of five per cent (5%) of the amount of tax due for each month or fraction thereof that such report may be delinquent.

(c) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of purchasing for the purpose of resale, either at wholesale or retail, horses and/or mules shall keep a full, true and accurate record of all purchases and sales, including purchase invoices and freight bills covering such purchases and sales of all horses and/or mules until such purchases and sales, including purchase invoices and freight bills, have been checked by a duly authorized agent of the commissioner of revenue. Failure to comply with the provisions of this section in this respect shall be prima facie evidence of attempting to evade the additional taxes levied in this section and shall subject such dealer, in addition to all other penalties imposed by this article, to the additional per-head tax on all purchases and/or sales from whatever source such horses and/or mules are acquired or received, and it shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue or his duly authorized agents to assess the additional tax upon an estimation of purchases and/or sales from the best information obtainable.

(d) As a condition to the issuance or the continuance of the annual license levied in this section, and in order to secure the payment of the additional per-head tax levied on purchases and/or sales in this section, the commissioner of revenue may in his discretion, when it appears reasonably necessary therefor, require any dealer in horses and/or mules, applying for a license under this section, to post a surety bond or other adequate security sufficient to guarantee and secure the payment of any tax due under this section.

(e) Any person, firm, or corporation, required to procure from the commissioner of revenue a license under this section, who shall purchase and sell or offer for sale by principal or agent any horses and/or mules without first having obtained such license, or shall fail, neglect or refuse to file any report and pay the additional taxes levied in this section when due and payable, shall in addition to the other penalties imposed by this article, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) and/or imprisoned not less than thirty (30) days within the discretion of the court.

(f) Counties, cities and towns may levy an annual license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50). (1939, c. 158, s. 115; 1941, c. 50, s. 3.)

§ 105-48. Phrenologists.—Any person engaged in the practice of phrenology for compensation shall procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for engaging in such practice, and shall pay for same a tax of two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each county in which such person does business.

Counties, cities, and towns may levy any license tax on the business taxed in this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 116.)

§ 105-49. Bicycle dealers.—Any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of buying and/or selling bicycles, supplies and accessories shall apply for and procure a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay tax for such license as follows:

In cities and towns of less than 10,000 population	$10.00
In cities and towns of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	20.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 population or more	25.00

Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 117.)

§ 105-50. Pawnbrokers. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in and conducting the business of lending or advancing money or other things of value for a profit, and taking as a pledge for such loan specific articles of personal property, to be forfeited if payment is not made within a definite time, shall be deemed a pawnbroker, and shall pay for the privilege of transacting such business an annual license as follows:

In cities or towns of less than 10,000 population	$200.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	250.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 20,000 population	300.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 25,000 population	350.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population or more	400.00

(a) Before such pawnbroker shall receive any article or thing of value from any person or persons, on which a loan or advance is made, he shall issue a duplicate ticket, one to be delivered to the owner of said personal property and the other to be attached to the article, and said ticket shall have an identifying number on the one side, together with the date at the expiration of which the pledger forfeits his right to redeem, and on the other a full and complete copy of this subsection; but such pawnbroker may, after the pledger has forfeited his right to redeem the specific property pledged, sell the same at public auction, deducting from the proceeds of sale the money or fair value of the thing advanced, the interest accrued, and the cost of making sale, and shall pay the surplus remaining to the pledger.

(b) Any person, firm, or corporation transacting the business of pawnbroker without a license as provided in this section, or violating any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than fifty dollars

($50.00) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00).

(c) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 118.)

§ 105-51. Cash registers, adding machines, typewriters, refrigerating machines, washing machines, etc.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling and/or delivering and/or renting cash registers, typewriters, adding or bookkeeping machines, billing machines, check protectors or protectographs, kelvinators, frigidaires, or other refrigerating machines, lighting systems, washing machines, mechanically or electrically operated burglar alarms, addressograph machines, multigraph and other duplicating machines, vacuum cleaners, mechanically or electrically operated oil burners and coal stokers, card punching, assorting and tabulating machinery, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for each place where such business is transacted in this state, and shall pay for such license a tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

§ 105-52. Sewing machines.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling sewing machines within this state shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business and shall pay for such license a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per annum for each such make of machines sold or offered for sale.

(b) In addition to the annual license tax imposed in subsection (a) of this section, such person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business taxed under this section shall pay a tax at the rate of tax levied in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, on retail sales of merchandise on the total receipts during the preceding year from the sale, lease, or exchange of sewing machines and/or accessories within the state, which said tax shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the time of securing the annual license provided for in subsection (a) of this section: Provided, that the tax on sales in the preceding year, levied in this subsection, shall apply only for the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five: Provided further, that on and after June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, the additional tax on sales levied in this subsection shall be assessed and collected under the provisions of Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, the same as the tax on sales of other merchandise.

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation obtaining a license under the foregoing sections may employ agents and secure a duplicate copy of such license for each such agent by paying a tax of ten dollars ($10.00) to the commissioner of revenue. Each such duplicate license so issued shall contain the name of the agent to whom it is issued, shall not be transferable, and shall license the licensee to sell or offer for sale only the sewing machines sold by the holder of the original license.

(d) Any merchant or dealer who shall purchase sewing machines from a manufacturer or a dealer who has paid the license tax provided for in this section may sell such sewing machines without paying the annual state-wide license tax provided for in subsection (a), but shall procure the duplicate license provided for in subsection (c) of this section: Provided, that the tax imposed by this subsection shall be the only tax required to be paid by dealers in secondhand sewing machines exclusively.

(e) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which violates any of the provisions of this section shall, in addition to all other penalties imposed in this article, pay an additional tax of double the state-wide annual license, and the duplicate tax imposed in this section.

(f) No county shall levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section, except that the county may levy a license tax not in excess of five dollars ($5.00) on each agent in a county who holds a duplicate license provided for in this section.

Cities and towns shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 120.)

§ 105-53. Peddlers.—(a) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which shall carry from place to place any goods, wares, or merchandise, and offer to sell or barter the same, or actually sells or barters the same, shall be deemed a peddler, except such person, firm, or corporation who or which is a wholesale dealer, with an established warehouse in this state and selling only to merchants for resale, and shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

Peddler, on foot, for each county	$10.00
Peddler, with horse or other animal, and with or without vehicle, each county, for each vehicle	15.00
Peddler, with vehicle propelled by motor or other mechanical power, for each county, for each vehicle	25.00

(b) Any person, firm, or corporation employing the service of another as a peddler, whether on a salary or commission basis, shall be liable for the payment of taxes levied in this section.

Provided, however, any person peddling fruits, vegetables, or products of the farm shall pay a license tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) per year, which license shall be state-wide. Counties, cities and towns may levy a tax under this subsection not in excess of one-half of the state tax. Provided, however, no county, city or town shall issue any license, or permit any person, firm, or corporation to do any business under the provisions of this subsection, until and unless such person shall produce and exhibit to the tax collector of such county, city or town, his or its state license for the privilege of engaging in such business.

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which sells or offers to sell from a cart, truck, automobile, or other vehicle operated over and upon the streets and/or highways within this state any fresh fruits and/or vegetables shall be deemed a peddler within the meaning of this section and shall pay the annual license tax levied in subsection (a) of this section with reference to the character of the vehicle employed. Any person, firm, or corporation who or which sells or offers for sale from any railway car fresh fruits and/or vegetables shall be deemed a peddler within the meaning of this section, and shall pay an annual tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00). Nothing in this section shall apply to the sale of farm products raised on the premises owned or occupied by the person, firm, or corporation, his or its bona fide agent or employee selling same.

(d) Every itinerant salesman or merchant who shall expose for sale, either on the street or in a building occupied, in whole or in part, for that purpose, any goods, wares or merchandise, not being a regular merchant in such county, shall apply for in advance and procure a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) in each county in which he shall conduct or carry on such business.

Any salesman or merchant, offering for sale goods, wares or merchandise, other than fruits and farm products, shall be deemed an itinerant, within the meaning of this subsection, who conducts said business within the county for less than six consecutive months, except in case of discontinuance for one of the reasons hereinafter mentioned. When any salesman or merchant, beginning said business, does not pay the tax herein levied in advance, on the ground of stated intention to become a regular merchant, the commissioner of revenue may, in his discretion, require said salesman or merchant to post satisfactory bond, or make a cash deposit, in the sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00), which bond or deposit shall be forfeited in payment of the tax herein levied in case such salesman or merchant discontinues said business in the county within less than six months for any reason other than death or disablement of said salesman or merchant, or insolvency of said business, or destruction of the stock by fire or other catastrophe. In like manner the tax collector of any county or city levying a tax, as permitted by subsection (h), on the business taxed in this subsection, may, in his discretion, require posting of satisfactory bond or cash deposit in an amount equivalent to the tax so levied by said county or city; and said bond or deposit shall in like manner be subject to forfeiture in payment of said tax. Any salesman or merchant failing to post such bond or make such deposit within three days after being notified to do so by the commissioner or collector, shall immediately become liable for the taxes levied or authorized to be levied on the business taxed in this subsection. When any salesman or merchant, having been required to post such bond or deposit, has conducted said business for six consecutive months, or has discontinued said business within six months for one of the reasons specifically mentioned herein, he shall be entitled to have said bond canceled or said deposit returned.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any person, firm, or corporation who sells or offers for sale books, periodicals, printed music, ice, wood or fuel, fish, beef, mutton, pork, bread, cakes, pies, products of the dairy, poultry, eggs, livestock, or articles produced by the individual vendor offering them for sale, but shall apply to medicines, drugs, or articles assembled.

(f) The board of county commissioners of any county in this state, upon proper application, may exempt from the annual license tax levied in this section Confederate soldiers, disabled veterans of the Spanish-American War, disabled soldiers of the World War, who have been bona fide residents of this state for twelve or more months continuously, and the blind who have been bona fide residents of this state for twelve or more months continuously, widows with dependent children; and when so exempted, the board of county commissioners shall furnish such person or persons with a certificate of exemption, and such certificate shall entitle the holder thereof to peddle within the limits of such county without payment of any license tax to the state.

(g) Counties, cities, or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of the annual license levied by the state. But the board of county commissioners of any county may levy a license tax on the business taxed in this section not in excess of that levied by the state for each unincorporated town or village in the county with a population of one thousand or more within a radius of one mile in which such business is engaged in; and any county or city may levy on peddlers of goods, wares, or merchandise with vehicle propelled by motor or other mechanical power, taxed by the state under subsection (a) of this section, a tax not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each vehicle, which said tax may, in the discretion of the governing body, be graduated in accordance with the size or weight of said vehicles, the amount of merchandising space in and on said vehicles, the average value of goods carried, the types of products offered for sale, or any other reasonable principle, except that the tax levied hereunder on account of a vehicle of one-half ton capacity or less shall not exceed twenty-five dollars ($25.00).

No county, city, or town shall levy any license tax under this section upon the persons so exempted in this section, nor upon drummers selling by wholesale. (1939, c. 158, s. 121; 1941, c. 50, s. 3.)

§ 105-54. Contractors and construction companies.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation who, for a fixed price, commission, fee, or wage, offers or bids to construct within the state of North Carolina any building, highway, street, sidewalk, bridge, culvert, sewer or water system, drainage or dredging system, electric or steam railway, reservoir or dam, hydraulic or power plant, transmission line, tower, dock, wharf, excavation, grading or other improvement or structure, or any part thereof, the cost of which exceeds the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00), shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue an annual state-wide license, and shall pay for such license a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) at the time of or prior to offering or submitting any bid on any of the above enumerated projects.

(b) In addition to the tax levied in subsection (a) of this section, every person, firm, or corporation who, for a fixed price, commission, fee, or wage, undertakes or executes a contract for the construction, or who superintends the construction of any of the above enumerated projects, shall, before or at the time of entering into such projects and/or such contract, apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

When the total contract price or estimated cost of such project is over:

$ 5,000	and not more than $ 10,000	...$ 25.00
10,000	and not more than $ 50,000	... 50.00
50,000	and not more than $ 100,000	... 125.00
100,000	and not more than $ 250,000	... 175.00
250,000	and not more than $ 500,000	... 300.00
500,000	and not more than $ 750,000	... 400.00
750,000	and not more than $1,000,000	... 500.00
1,000,000	.....	625.00

(c) The application for license under subsection (b) of this section shall be made to the commissioner of revenue and shall be accompanied by the affidavit of the applicant, stating the contract price, if known, and if the contract price is not known, his estimate of the entire cost of the said improvement or structure, and if the applicant proposes to construct only a part of said improvement or structures, the contract price, if known, or his estimated cost of the part of the project he proposes to superintend or construct.

In the event the construction of any of the above mentioned improvements or structures shall be divided and let under two or more contracts to the same person, firm, or corporation, the several contracts shall be considered as one contract for the purpose of this article, and the commissioner of revenue shall collect from such person, firm, or corporation the license tax herein imposed as if only one contract had been entered into for the entire improvement or structure.

(d) In the event any person, firm, or corporation has procured a license in one of the lower classes provided for in subsection (b) of this section, and constructs or undertakes to construct or to superintend any of the above mentioned improvements or structures or parts thereof, the completed cost of which is greater than that covered by the license already secured, application shall be made to the commissioner of revenue, accompanied by the license certificate held by the applicant, which shall be surrendered to the commissioner of revenue, and upon paying the difference between the cost of the license surrendered and the price of the license applied for, the commissioner of revenue shall issue to the applicant the annual state-wide license applied for, showing thereon that it was issued on the surrender of the former license and payment of the additional tax.

(e) No employee or sub-contractor of any person, firm, or corporation who or which has paid the tax herein provided for, shall be required to pay the license tax provided for in this section while so employed by such person, firm, or corporation.

(f) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy an annual contractor's license tax not in excess of ten dollars ($10.00) when the license provided for under this section has been paid: Provided, that this subsection shall not be construed to prevent the collection of building, electrical, and plumbing inspection charges by municipalities to cover the actual cost of said inspection.

(g) The tax under this section shall not apply to the business taxed in § 105-91. (1939, c. 158, s. 122.)

§ 105-55. Installing elevators and automatic sprinkler systems.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling or installing elevators or automatic sprinkler systems shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue an annual state-wide license for the transaction of such business in this state, and shall pay for such license a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

(a) Counties, cities, and towns in which there is located a principal office or a branch office may levy a tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the state.

Provided, however, no county, city, or town may collect tax under this section from any person, firm, or corporation who or which does not maintain an established place of business in said county, city or town.

(b) The businesses taxed and licensed hereunder shall not be liable for any tax or license levied under § 105-91. (1939, c. 158, s. 122½.)

§ 105-56. Repairing and servicing elevators and automatic sprinkler systems. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of repairing or servicing elevators or automatic sprinkler systems, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue, an annual state-wide license for the transaction of such business in this state and shall pay for such license the following tax based on population:

Municipalities of less than two thousand population	$ 5.00
Municipalities of more than two thousand and less than five thousand population..	7.50
Municipalities of more than five thousand and less than ten thousand population..	10.00
Municipalities of more than ten thousand and less than twenty thousand population	12.50
Municipalities of more than twenty thousand and less than thirty thousand population	15.00
Municipalities of more than thirty thousand and less than forty thousand population	17.50
Municipalities of more than forty thousand and less than fifty thousand population	20.00
Municipalities of more than fifty thousand population	25.00

(a) Counties, cities and towns in which there is located a principal office or a branch office may levy a tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the state.

Provided, however, no county, city or town may collect tax under this section from any person, firm, or corporation who, or which, does not maintain an established place of business in said county, city or town.

(b) The tax under this section shall not apply to the business taxed in §§ 105-55 and 105-91. (1939, c. 158, s. 122¾.)

§ 105-57. Mercantile agencies.—(a) Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of reporting the financial standing of persons, firms or corporations for compensation shall be deemed a mercantile agency, and shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a statewide license for the privilege of transacting such business within this state, and shall pay for such license a tax of five hundred dollars ($500.00), the said tax to be paid by the principal office in the state, and if no such principal office in this state, then by the agent of such mercantile agency operating in this state: Provided, however, that mercantile agencies not publishing a statewide credit or financial rating book shall pay only an annual tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

(b) Any person representing any mercantile agency which has failed to pay the license tax provided for in this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

(c) Counties, cities, or towns shall not levy any license tax on mercantile agencies, as herein defined. (1939, c. 158, s. 123; 1941, c. 50, s. 3.)

§ 105-58. Gypsies and fortune tellers. — (a) Every company of gypsies or strolling bands of persons, living in wagons, tents, or otherwise, who or any of whom trade horses, mules, or other things of value, or receive reward for telling or pretending to tell fortunes, shall apply for in advance and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such things, and shall pay for such license a tax of five hundred dollars ($500.00) in each county in which they offer to trade horses, mules, or other things of value, or to practice the telling of fortunes or any of their crafts. The amount of such license tax shall be recoverable out of any property belonging to any member of such company.

(b) Any person or persons, other than those mentioned in subsection (a) of this section, receiving rewards for pretending to tell and/or telling fortunes, practicing the art of palmistry, clairvoyance and other crafts of a similar kind, shall apply for in advance and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of practicing such arts or crafts, and shall pay for such license a tax of two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each county in which they offer to practice their profession or crafts: Provided, that the tax levied under this section shall not apply to fortune tellers or other artists practicing the art of palmistry, clairvoyance, and other crafts of a similar kind, when appearing under contract in regularly licensed theatres taxed under § 105-37.

(c) Any county, city, or town may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 124.)

§ 105-59. Lightning rod agents.—(a) No manufacturer or dealer, whether person, firm, or corporation, shall sell, or offer for sale, in this state any brand of lightning rod, and no agent of such manufacturer or dealer shall sell, or offer for sale, or erect any brand of lightning rod until such brand has been submitted to and approved by the insurance commissioner and a license granted for its sale in this state. The fee for such license, including seal, shall be fifty dollars ($50.00).

(b) Upon written notice from any manufacturer or dealer licensed under the preceding subsection of the appointment of a suitable person to act as his agent in this state, and upon filing an application for license upon the prescribed form, the insurance commissioner may, if he is satisfied as to the reputation and moral character of such applicant, issue him a license as general agent of such manufacturer or dealer. Said license shall set forth the brand of lightning rod licensed to be sold, and the fee for such license, including seal, shall be fifty dollars ($50.00).

(c) Such general agent may appoint local agents to represent him in any county in the state by paying to the insurance commissioner a fee of ten dollars ($10.00) for each such county. Upon filing application for license of such local agent on a prescribed form and paying him a fee of three dollars ($3.00) for each county in which said applicant is to operate, the insurance commissioner may, if he is satisfied that such applicant is of good repute and moral character, and is a suitable person to act in such capacity, issue him a license to sell and erect any brand of lightning rod approved for sale by the general agent in such county applied for.

(d) Each general agent shall submit to the insurance commissioner semi-annually, on January thirty-first and July thirty-first, on prescribed forms, a sworn statement of gross receipts from the sale of lightning rods in this state during the preceding six months, and pay a tax thereon of eighty cents (80c) on each one hundred dollars ($100.00), such returns to be accompanied by an itemized list showing each sale, the county in which sold, and the agent making the sale.

(e) No county, city, or town shall levy a license or privilege tax exceeding twenty dollars ($20.00) on any dealer having a general office or selling from a receiving point.

(f) Licenses issued under this section are not transferable, are valid for only one person, and revocable by the insurance commissioner for good cause after hearing.

(g) Every agent licensed under this section shall, upon demand, exhibit his license to any officer of the law or citizen, and any person, firm, or corporation acting without a license or selling or offering for sale any brand of lighning rod not approved by the insurance commissioner, or otherwise violating any of the provisions of this article, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars ($200.00) and/or six months imprisonment for each offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 125.)

§ 105-60. Hotels.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the operation of any hotel in this state shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

(a) For hotels operating on the American plan for rooms in which rates per person per day are:

Less than two dollars	$ .60
Two dollars and less than three dollars	.90
Three dollars and less than four dollars and fifty cents	1.80
Four dollars and fifty cents and less than six dollars	4.20
Six dollars and less than seven dollars and fifty cents	5.40
Seven dollars and fifty cents and less than fifteen dollars	6.00
Fifteen dollars and over	7.20

(b) For hotels operating on the European plan for rooms in which the rates per person per day are:

Less than two dollars	$1.25
Two dollars and less than three dollars	3.00
Three dollars and less than four dollars and fifty cents	4.50
Four dollars and fifty cents and less than six dollars	5.50
Six dollars and less than seven dollars and fifty cents	6.50
Seven dollars and fifty cents and less than ten dollars	7.50
Ten dollars and over	8.50

(c) The office, dining room, one parlor, kitchen, and two other rooms shall not be counted when calculating the number of rooms in the hotel.

(d) Only one-half of the annual license tax levied in this section shall be levied or collected from resort hotels and boarding houses which are open for only six months or less in the year: Provided, that the minimum tax under any schedule in the section shall be five dollars ($5.00).

(e) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of the base tax levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 126.)

§ 105-61. Tourist homes and tourist camps.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a tourist home, tourist camp, or similar place advertising in any manner for transient patronage, or soliciting such business, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay the following tax:

Homes or camps having five rooms or less, ten dollars ($10.00); houses or camps having more than five rooms, two dollars ($2.00) per room. For the purpose of this section, the sitting-room, dining room, kitchen, and rooms occupied by the owner or lessee of the premises, or members of his family, for his or their personal or private use, shall not be counted in determining the number of rooms for the basis of the tax. The tax herein levied shall be in addition to any tax levied in § 105-62 for the sale of prepared food.

(b) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of the base tax levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 126½.)

§ 105-62. Restaurants.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a restaurant, cafe, cafeteria, hotel, with dining service on the European plan, drug store, or other place where prepared food is sold, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business. The tax for such license shall be based on the number of persons provided with chairs, stools, or benches, and shall be one dollar ($1.00) per person, with a minimum tax of five dollars ($5.00): Provided, that the tax levied in this paragraph shall not apply to industrial plants maintaining a non-profit restaurant, cafe or cafeteria solely for the convenience of its employees.

(a) All other stands or places where prepared food is sold as a business, and drug stores, service stations, and all other stands or places where prepared sandwiches only are served, shall pay a tax of five dollars ($5.00).

(b) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of the base tax levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 127.)

§ 105-63. Cotton compresses. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of compressing cotton shall pay an annual license tax of three hundred dollars ($300.00) on each and every compress.

Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 128.)

§ 105-64. Billiard and pool tables, and bowling alleys.—Every person, firm, or corporation who shall rent, maintain, own a building wherein there is a table or tables at which billiards or pool is played, whether operated by slot or otherwise, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of operating such billiard or pool tables, and shall pay for such license a tax for each table as follows:

Tables measuring not more than 2 feet wide and 4 feet long	$ 5.00
Tables measuring not more than 2½ feet wide and 5 feet long	10.00
Tables measuring not more than 3 feet wide and 6 feet long	15.00
Tables measuring not more than 3½ feet wide and 8 feet long	20.00
Tables measuring more than 3½ feet wide and 8 feet long	25.00

Every person, firm, or corporation who shall rent, maintain, or own a building wherein there is a bowling alley or alleys of like kind shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of operating such bowling alley or alleys, and shall pay for such license a tax of twelve and fifty one-hundredths dollars ($12.50) for each alley kept or operated.

Provided, each such billiard or pool table so licensed shall receive a number and receipt from the commissioner of revenue when the license is issued, and it shall be the duty of each operator to attach said numbered license to said table or machine and display the same at all times. Failure to have such license and receipt on display attached to said machine or table shall be prima facie evidence that the tax has not been paid hereunder.

(a) This section shall not apply to fraternal organizations having a national charter, American Legion Posts, Young Men's Christian Associations, and Young Women's Christian Associations.

(b) If the commissioner of revenue shall have issued any such state license to any person, firm, or corporation to operate any billiard or pool tables, bowling alley or alleys, in any city or town, the board of aldermen or other governing body of such city or town shall have the right at any time, and notwithstanding the issuance of such state license, to prohibit any billiard or pool tables, bowling alley or alleys of like kind within its limits, unless otherwise provided in its charter; and in the event any city or town shall exercise the right to prohibit the keeping and operation of such billiard or pool tables, bowling alley or alleys of like kind, the commissioner of revenue shall refund the proportion of the tax thereof during the time which the right is not allowed to be exercised bears to the time for which the tax is paid. And, where the commissioner of revenue has issued any such license and the said billiard or pool tables, bowling alley or alleys is or are to be, or are operated outside of the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town, the board of county commissioners may by resolution request that such license be revoked, and upon receipt of such resolution the commissioner of revenue shall forthwith revoke said license and refund the proportion of the tax thereof during the time which the right is not allowed to be exercised bears to the time for which the tax is paid.

(c) Counties may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section upon such billiard or pool tables, bowling alleys as are located outside of incorporated cities or towns, and cities and towns may levy a license tax upon such as are within the city limits, but in neither case shall the license tax so levied be in excess of the tax levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 129.)

§ 105-65. Merchandising, music, and weighing machines.—(1) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating, maintaining, or placing on location anywhere within the state of North Carolina, any machine or machines, in which is kept any article or merchandise to be purchased, any machine which plays records, or produces music, or any weighing machine, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a statewide license to be known as an annual operator's license, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

Operators of Music Machines	$100.00
Operators of Cigarette Vendors	100.00
Operators of Slot Drink Vendors	100.00
Operators of Food Vending or Merchandising Machines	25.00
Operators of Weighing Machines	25.00

(2) In addition to the above annual operator's license, every person, firm, or corporation operating any of the above machines, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue, what shall be termed a statewide license for each machine operated and shall pay therefor the following annual tax:

Music Machines	$10.00
Cigarette Vendors	5.00
Slot Drink Vendors	15.00
Weighing Machines	2.50
1c Food Vending or Merchandising Machines	.50
5c Food Vending or Merchandising Machines	1.00

Provided, that the above tax on food vending or merchandising machines shall not apply to machines that vend solely peanuts, neither shall the tax apply to machines that vend candy containing fifty per cent (50%) or more peanuts.

(3) The applicant for license under this section shall, in making application for license, specify the serial number of the machine or machines proposed to be operated, together with a description of the merchandise or service offered for sale thereby, and the amount of deposit required by or in connection with the operation of such machine or machines. The license shall carry the serial number to correspond with that on the application, and no such license shall under any condition be transferable to any other machines. It shall be the duty of the person in whose place of business the machine is operated or located to see that the proper state license is attached in a conspicuous place on the machine before its operation shall commence.

(4) If any person, firm, or corporation shall fail, neglect or refuse to comply with the terms and provisions of this section or shall fail to attach the proper state license to any machine as herein provided, the commissioner of revenue, or his agents, or deputies, shall forthwith seize and remove such machine, and shall hold the same until the provisions of this section have been complied with. In addition to the above provision the applicant shall be further liable for the additional tax imposed under § 105-112.

(5) Sales of merchandise herein referred to shall be subject to the provisions of Schedule "E", §§ 105-164 to 105-187, and the tax therein levied shall be paid by the operator of such machines.

(6) Counties, cities and towns may levy and collect a license tax not in excess of fifty per cent (50%) of the total amount collected by the state from music machines, weighing machines, and 1c and 5c food vending machines: Provided, that counties, cities and towns shall not levy and collect an annual operator's occupational license levied for the operation of the above named machines, neither shall any county, city or town levy and collect any tax whatsoever from operators of soft drink vendors: Provided, further, that counties, cities and towns shall not levy and collect any per machine license tax from operators of cigarette vendors. Counties, cities and towns may levy and collect an annual operator's occupational license on cigarette vendors not in excess of ten dollars ($10.00).

Counties, cities and towns levying a tax under the provisions of this section shall have power through their tax collecting officers, upon nonpayment of the tax levied by them, or of any interest or penalty thereon, or upon failure to attach the evidence of license issued by them to any such machines, to seize, remove and hold such machines until all such defaults have been remedied. (1939, c. 158, s. 130; 1941, c. 50, s. 3.)

§ 105-66. Bagatelle tables, merry-go-rounds, etc. —Every person, firm, or corporation that is engaged in the operation of a bagatelle table, merry-go-round or other riding device, hobby horse, switchback railway, shooting gallery, swimming pool, skating rink, other amusements of a like kind, or a place for other games or play with or without name (unless used solely and exclusively for private amusement or exercise), at a permanent location, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of operating such objects of amusement, and shall pay for each subject enumerated the following tax:

In cities or towns of less than 10,000 population	$10.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 population and over	25.00

(a) The tax under this section shall not apply to machines and other devices licensed under §§ 105-64 and 105-65.

(b) Counties, cities or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 131.)

§ 105-67. Security dealers.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which is engaged in the business of dealing in securities as defined in §§ 78-1 to 78-24, or who or which maintains a place for or engaged in the business of buying and/or selling shares of stock in any corporation, bonds, or any other securities on commission or brokerage, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In cities or towns of less than 5,000 population	$ 25.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	100.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population	200.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population and above	300.00

(b) Every dealer, as defined herein, who shall maintain in the state of North Carolina more than one office for dealing in securities, as hereinbefore defined, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a license for the privilege of transacting such business at each such office, and shall pay for such license the same tax as hereinbefore fixed.

(c) Every foreign dealer, as dealer is hereinbefore defined, who shall maintain an office in this state, or have a salesman in this state, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay for such license the tax hereinbefore imposed.

(d) If such person, firm, or corporation described in sub-section (a) of this section maintains and/or operates a leased or private wire and/or ticker service in connection with such business the annual license tax shall be as follows:

In cities and towns of less than 10,000 population	$ 150.00

In cities and towns of 20,000 to 25,000 population	450.00
In cities and towns of 25,000 or more..	600.00

Provided, that the tax levied in subsection (d) shall not apply to private wire service not connected with or handling quotations of a stock exchange, grain or cotton exchange.

(e) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 132.)

§ 105-68. Cotton buyers and sellers on commission.—(1) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which engages in the business of buying and/or selling on commission any cotton, grain, provisions, or other commodities, either for actual, spot, or instant delivery, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business in this state, and shall pay for such license a tax of fifty dollars ($50.00).

(2) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which engages in the business of buying or selling any cotton, grain, provisions, or other commodities, either for actual, spot, instant or future delivery, and also maintains and/or operates a private or leased wire and/or ticker service in connection with such business shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business in this state and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In cities and towns of less than 10,000 population	$ 100.00
In cities and towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	200.00
In cities and towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population	400.00
In cities and towns of 25,000 population or more	600.00

Persons, firms, and corporations who pay the tax imposed in subsection (d) of § 105-67 shall not be required to pay the tax imposed in this subsection.

(3) Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, who or which is engaged in the business of selling any cotton either for actual, spot, instant, or future delivery, in excess of five thousand bales per annum, shall be deemed to be a cotton merchant, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for each office or agency maintained in this state for the sale of cotton and shall pay for each such license the following tax:

In cities and towns of less than 10,000 population	$ 50.00
In cities and towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	100.00
In cities and towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population	200.00
In cities and towns of 25,000 population and over	300.00

(4) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 133.)

§ 105-69. Manufacturers, producers, bottlers and distributors of soft drinks.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation or association manufacturing, producing, bottling and/or distributing in bottles, or other closed containers, soda water, coca-cola, pepsi-cola, chero-cola, ginger ale, grape and other fruit juices or imitations thereof, carbonated or malted beverages and like preparations, or preparations of any nature whatever commonly known as soft drinks, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of doing business in this state, and shall pay for such license the following base tax for each place of business:

Low-Pressure Equipment

Where the machine or the equipment unit used in the manufacture of the above beverage is a:

§ 105-72. Persons, firms, or corporations selling certain oils. — (a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling illuminating or lubricating oil or greases, or benzine, naphtha, gasoline, or other products of like kind shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such business, and shall pay for the same a tax of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50).

(b) In addition to the tax herein levied under subsection (a) of this section, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay to the commissioner of revenue, on or before the first day of July of each year, an annual additional license tax equal to five per cent (5%) of the total gross sales for the preceding year or part of the year that the business is so conducted or the privilege so exercised, when the total gross sales of such commodities exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), or pro rata for a part of the year.

(c) The amount of such total gross sales shall be returned to the commissioner of revenue on or before the date specified in subsection (b) of this section by such person, firm, or corporation, verified by the oath of the person making the return, upon such forms and in such detail as may be required by the commissioner of revenue.

(d) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section; but cities or towns in which there is located an agency, station, or warehouse for the distribution or sale of such commodities enumerated in this section may levy the following license tax:

In incorporated towns and cities of less than 10,000 population ..... $ 25.00
In cities and towns of 10,000 population and over 50.00

(e) Any person, firm, or corporation subject to this license tax, and doing business in this state without having paid such license tax, shall be fined one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), and in addition thereto double the tax imposed by this section.

(f) No license or privilege tax, other than the license tax permitted in this section to cities or towns, shall be levied or collected for the privilege of engaging in or doing the business named in this section from any person, firm, or corporation paying the inspection fees and charges provided for under the chapter, agriculture, except license taxes levied in §§ 105-89 and 105-99. (1939, c. 158, s. 137.)

§ 105-73. Building and loan associations.—Every building and loan association, domestic or foreign, operating under a charter granted by authority of the laws of this state or any other state, or the United States, for the purpose of making loans to its members only and of enabling its members to acquire real estate, make improvements thereon, and remove encumbrances therefrom by the payment of money in periodical installments or principal sums, and for the accumulation of a fund to be returned to members who do not obtain advances for such purposes, shall pay to the insurance commissioner, on or before the first day of April of each year, the following annual license tax for the privilege of doing business in the state:

(a) A tax of thirteen cents (13c) on each one hundred dollars ($100.00) of liability on actual book value of shares of stock outstanding on the thirty-first day of December of the preceding year, as shown by reports of such association to be made to the insurance commissioner. The tax levied herein shall be in addition to the license fee required under § 54-25, and expenses and cost of examination required under § 54-29.

(b) Counties, cities, and towns shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed in this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 138.)

§ 105-74. Pressing clubs, dry cleaning plants, and hat blockers.—Every person engaging in any of the businesses as herein defined shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such a business, and pay for each such place of business the following tax in each city or town in which he operates any such place of business, except branch offices when located in the same city or town as the parent establishment shall pay one-half the tax levied on the parent establishment:

In cities or towns of less than 10,000 population:
Where not more than three (3) persons are employed ..... $ 12.50
Where more than three (3) persons are employed 25.00
In cities and towns of 10,000 population and over:
Where not more than three (3) persons are employed ..... $ 25.00
Where more than three (3) persons are employed 50.00

Every person, firm, or corporation soliciting cleaning work and/or pressing in any city or town where the actual cleaning and/or pressing is done in a cleaning plant or press shop located outside the city or town wherein said cleaning work and/or pressing is solicited shall procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of soliciting in said city or town, and pay for the same an amount equal to the tax which would be paid by said cleaning plant or press shop as if the said cleaning plant or press shop was actually located and being operated in the city or town in which the soliciting is done. This shall not apply to soliciting in cities or towns where there is no cleaning plant, press shop or established agency with fixed place of business, provided that the solicitor shall have paid a state and municipal license tax in this state.

Cities and towns, respectively, may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the state. Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section.

Definitions: For the purpose of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

"Dry cleaning, and/or hat blocking, and/or pressing establishments" shall mean any place of business, establishment or vehicle wherein the services of dry cleaning, wet cleaning as a process incidental to dry cleaning, spotting and/or pressing, finishing and/or reblocking hats, garments, or wearing apparel of any kind is performed.

"Retail outlet" shall mean any place of business or vehicle where garments are accepted to be dry cleaned and/or pressed, but where the actual dry cleaning and/or pressing is not performed on the premises or vehicles, and where the dry cleaning and/or pressing is performed by a dry cleaning plant or press shop operating under a trade name other than that of the retail outlet.

"Branch office" shall mean an additional establishment where garments are accepted to be dry cleaned and/or pressed, when same is owned and operated by a dry cleaning plant, press shop, or retail outlet and under the same trade name, but where the actual dry cleaning and/or pressing is not performed on the premises.

"Soliciting" as used herein shall mean the acceptance of any article or garment to be dry cleaned and/or pressed.

"Person" as used herein shall mean any person, firm, corporation, partnership, or association.

The term "employee" as used herein shall mean any person working either partially or full time for a cleaning plant, press shop, hat blocking establishment, retail outlet or branch office and shall include all drivers, solicitors and route salesmen irrespective of the method of payment they receive for their services, and shall also include independent contractors soliciting under the same style and firm name as the processing plant. It shall also include any member of the firm, association, corporation or partnership who actually performs any work of any nature in the business.

This section shall not apply to any bona fide student of any college or university in this state operating such pressing or dry cleaning business at such college or university during the school term of such college or university.

In addition to the annual tax levied in this section, it is hereby required, with respect to every such concern herein referred to, that with each delivery of articles of clothing or other articles herein referred to and cleaned or otherwise processed as herein referred to there shall be issued a charge ticket, to each of which tickets there shall be affixed a service stamp tax of one cent (1c) on all packages on which the charge is one dollar ($1.00) or less, and for packages of more than one dollar ($1.00), one cent (1c) for each dollar or fraction thereof, the amount of such tax to be added to such charge ticket and to be paid for by the customer. The stamps for such purpose are to be made available by the commissioner of revenue and by him sold to pressing and/or cleaning concerns at par and for cash only, as the same may be needed by the pressing and/or cleaning concerns of the state in order to meet the requirements of this section. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation engaged in such business to make any delivery except in compliance with this section, and the violation of any of the provisions hereof is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor.

Any person, firm, or corporation that fails to comply with the provisions of this section and fails to place stamps on each delivery shall be liable for a tax of three per cent of the total amount of charges made for the particular dry cleaning, pressing and/or hat blocking from which the stamp was omitted. (1939, c. 158, s. 139.)

§ 105-75. Barber shops.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of conducting a barber shop, beauty shop or parlor, or other shop of like kind shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

For each barber chair maintained in a barber shop $2.50
For each barber, manicurist, cosmetologist, beautician, or operator in beauty parlor, or other shop of like kind in any office, hotel, or other place 5.00

Counties shall not levy a license tax under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 140.)

§ 105-76. Shoeshine parlors. — Every person, firm, or corporation who or which maintains or operates a place of business wherein is operated a shoeshine parlor, stand, or chair or other device shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such business and shall pay for such license a tax of one dollar ($1.00) per chair or stool.

Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 141.)

§ 105-77. Tobacco warehouses. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a warehouse for the sale of leaf tobacco upon commission shall, on or before the first day of June of each year, apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of operating such warehouse for the next ensuing year, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

For a warehouse in which was sold during the preceding year ending the first day of June:

Less than 1,000,000 pounds	$ 50.00
1,000,000 pounds and less than 2,000,000	75.00
2,000,000 pounds and less than 3,000,000	175.00
2,000,000 pounds and less than 4,000,000	250.00
4,000,000 pounds and less than 5,000,000	400.00
5,000,000 pounds and less than 6,000,000	500.00

For all in excess of 6,000,000 pounds, $500.00 and six cents per thousand pounds.

(a) If a new warehouse not in operation the previous year, the person, firm, or corporation operating such warehouse may procure a license by payment of the minimum tax provided in the foregoing schedule, and at the close of the season for sales of tobacco in such warehouse shall furnish the commissioner of revenue a statement of the number of pounds of tobacco sold in such warehouse for the current year, and shall pay an additional license tax for the current year based on such total volume of sales in accordance with the schedule in this section.

If an old warehouse with new or changed ownership or management, the tax shall be paid according to the schedule in this section, based on the sale during the preceding year, just as if the old ownership or management had continued its operation.

(b) The commissioner of agriculture shall certify to the commissioner of revenue, on or before the first day of June of each year, the name of each person, firm, or corporation operating a tobacco warehouse in each county in the state, together with the number of pounds of leaf tobacco sold by such person, firm, or corporation in each warehouse for the preceding year, ending on the first day of June of the current year.

(c) The commissioner of agriculture shall report to the solicitor of any judicial district in which a tobacco warehouse is located which the owner or operator thereof shall have failed to make a report of the leaf tobacco sold in such warehouse during the preceding year, ending the first day of June of the current year, and such solicitor shall prosecute any such person, firm or corporation under the provisions of this section.

(d) The tax levied in this section shall be based on official reports of each tobacco warehouse to the state department of agriculture showing amount of sales for each warehouse for the previous year.

(e) The commissioner of revenue or his deputies shall have the right, and are hereby authorized, to examine the books and records of any person, firm, or corporation operating such warehouse, for the purpose of verifying the reports made and of ascertaining the number of pounds of leaf tobacco sold during the preceding year, or other years, in such warehouse.

(f) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which violates any of the provisions of this section shall, in addition to all other penalties provided for in this article, be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars ($500.00) and/or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court.

(g) No county shall levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section. Cities and towns may levy a tax not in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each warehouse. (1939, c. 158, s. 142.)

§ 105-78. News dealers on trains.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling books, magazines, papers, fruits, confections, or other articles of merchandise on railroad trains or other common carriers in this state shall apply for and obtain a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of conducting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

Where such person, firm, or corporation operates on railroads or other common carriers on:

Less than 300 miles	$ 250.00
Three hundred and less than 500 miles	500.00
Five hundred miles or more	$1,000.00

This section shall not apply to any railroad company engaged in selling such articles to passengers on its train and paying the tax upon the retail sales of merchandise levied in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187.

Counties, cities, and towns shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 143.)

§ 105-79. Soda fountains, soft drink stands. —Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a soda fountain or soft drink stand shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

On soda fountains.

On each carbonated draft arm of each soda fountain, a tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

On each stand at which soft drinks are sold, the same not being strictly a soda fountain, and on each place of business where bottled carbonated drinks are sold at retail, the license tax shall be five dollars ($5.00).

In addition to the license tax levied in this section, the tax shall be paid upon the gross sales at the rate of tax levied in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, upon the retail sales of merchandise, such tax to be paid at the time and in the manner required for the sales of other merchandise.

Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of the base tax levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 144.)

§ 105-80. Dealers in pistols, etc.—Every person, firm, or corporation who is engaged in the business of keeping in stock, selling, and/or offering for sale any of the articles or commodities enumerated in this section, shall apply for and obtain a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of conducting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

For pistols	$ 50.00
For bowie knives, dirks, daggers, slingshots, leaded canes, iron or metallic knuckles, or articles of like kind	200.00
For blank cartridge pistols	200.00

(a) If such person, firm, or corporation deals only in metallic cartridges, the tax shall be five dollars ($5.00).

(b) Counties, cities, or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 145; 1941, c. 50, s. 3.)

§ 105-81. Dealers in cap pistols, fireworks, etc.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling or offering for sale fire crackers, fireworks, or other articles of like kind, cap pistols, or pistols so constructed that they can by treatment to release the hammer be used to fire caps, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for the same a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

Counties, cities, or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of twice that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 146.)

§ 105-82. Pianos, organs, victrolas, records, radios, accessories.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling, offering or ordering for sale any of the articles hereinafter enumerated in this section shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such business, and shall pay for each license the following tax:

For pianos and/or organs, graphophones, victrolas, or other instruments using discs or cylinder records, and/or the sale of records for either or all of these instruments, radios or radio accessories, an annual license tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation applying for and obtaining a license under this section may employ traveling representatives or agents, but such traveling agents or representatives shall obtain from the commissioner of revenue a duplicate license of such person, firm, or corporation who or which he represents, and pay for the same a tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

Each duplicate copy so issued is to contain the name of the agent to whom it is issued, the instrument to be sold, and the same shall not be transferable.

Representatives or agents holding such duplicate copy of such license are licensed thereby to sell or offer for sale only the instrument and/or articles authorized to be sold by the person, firm, or corporation holding the original license, and such license shall be good and valid in any county in the state.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall pay a penalty of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00), and in addition thereto double the state license tax levied in this section for the then current year.

(c) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, except that the county in which the agent or representative holding a duplicate copy of the license aforesaid does business may impose a license tax not in excess of five dollars ($5.00). Cities or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of one-half of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 147.)

§ 105-83. Installment paper dealers.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation, foreign or domestic, engaged in the business of dealing in, buying, and/or discounting installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, evidences of debt and/or other securities, where a lien is reserved or taken upon personal property located in this state to secure the payment of such obligations, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business or for the purchasing of such obligations in this state, and shall pay for such license an annual tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

(b) In addition to the tax levied in subsection (a) of this section, such person, firm, or corporation shall submit to the revenue commissioner quarterly on the first day of January, April, July, and October of each year, upon forms prescribed by the said commissioner, a full, accurate, and complete statement, verified by the officer, agent, or person making such statement, of the total face value of the installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, evidences of debt, and/or other securities described in this section dealt in, bought and/or discounted within the preceding three months and, at the same time, shall pay a tax of one-third of one per cent of the face value of such obligations dealt in, bought and/or discounted for such period.

(c) If any person, firm, or corporation, foreign or domestic, shall deal in, buy and/or discount any such paper, notes, bonds, contracts, evidences of debt and/or other securities described in this section without applying for and obtaining a license for the privilege of engaging in such business or dealing in such obligations, or shall fail, refuse, or neglect to pay the taxes levied in this section, such obligation shall not be recoverable or the collection thereof enforceable at law or by suit in equity in any of the courts of this state until and when the license taxes prescribed in this section have been paid, together with any and all penalties prescribed in this article for the non-payment of taxes.

(d) This section shall not apply to corporations organized under the state or national banking laws.

(e) Counties, cities and towns shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 148.)

§ 105-84. Tobacco and cigarette retailers and jobbers.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of retailing and/or jobbing cigarettes, cigars, chewing tobacco, snuff, or any other tobacco products shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

Outside of incorporated cities or towns and cities or towns of less than 1,000 population	$ 5.00
Cities or towns of 1,000 population and over	10.00

Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 149.)

§ 105-85. Laundries.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a laundry, including wet or damp wash laundries, where steam, electricity, or other power is used, or who engages in the business of supplying or renting clean linen or towels, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In cities or towns of less than 5,000 population	$ 12.50
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	37.50
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 20,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 25,000 population	60.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 and less than 30,000 population	72.50
In cities or towns of 30,000 and less than 35,000 population	85.00
In cities or towns of 35,000 and less than 40,000 population	100.00
In cities or towns of 40,000 and less than 45,000 population	112.50
In cities or towns of 45,000 population and above	125.00

Provided, however, that any laundry or other concern herein referred to where the work is performed exclusively by hand or home-size machines only, and where not more than four persons are employed, including the owners, the license tax shall be one-third of the amount stipulated in the foregoing schedule.

Every person, firm, or corporation soliciting laundry work or supplying or renting clean linen or towels in any city or town, outside of the city or town wherein said laundry or linen supply or towel supply business is established, shall procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license as provided in the above schedule, and shall pay for such license a tax based according to the population of the city or town, for the privilege of soliciting therein. The additional tax levied in this paragraph shall apply to the soliciting of laundry work or linen supply or towel supply work in any city or town in which there is a laundry, linen supply or towel supply establishment located in the said city or town. The soliciting of business for or by any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of laundry work and/or supplying or renting clean linen or towels shall and the same is hereby construed to be engaging in the said business. Any person, firm, or corporation soliciting in said city or town shall procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of soliciting in said city or town, said tax to be in the sum equal to the amount which would be paid if the solicitor had an establishment and actually engaged in such business in the said city or town; provided the solicitor has paid a state, county and municipal license in this state.

Counties, cities and towns, respectively, may levy a license tax not in excess of twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50) on any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of laundry work and/or supplying or renting clean linens or towels in instances when said work is performed outside the said county or town, or when the linen or towels are supplied by business outside said county or town.

In addition to the annual tax levied in this section, it is hereby required with respect to every laundry, including wet or damp wash laundries, where steam, electricity, or other power is used, or who engages in the business of supplying or renting clean linen or towels, that with each delivery of laundry for which there is a charge made there shall be issued a charge ticket, to each of which tickets there shall be affixed a service stamp tax of one cent on all packages on which the charge is one dollar or less, and for packages of more than one dollar, one cent for each dollar or fraction thereof, the amount of such tax to be added to such charge ticket and be paid for by the customer. The stamps for such purpose are to be made available by the commissioner of revenue and by him sold to said laundries at par and for cash only, as the same may be needed by the laundries of the state in order to meet the requirements of this section. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation engaged in such business to make any delivery except in compliance with this section, and the violation of any of the provisions is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor.

Any person, firm, or corporation that fails to comply with the provisions of this section and fails to place stamps on each delivery shall be liable for a tax of three per cent of the total amount of charges for the particular laundry work from which the stamps were omitted. (1939, c. 158, s. 150.)

§ 105-86. Outdoor advertising.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which is engaged in the business of outdoor advertising by placing, erecting or maintaining one or more outdoor advertising signs or structures of any nature by means of sign boards, poster boards, or printed bulletins, or other painted matter, or any other outdoor advertising devices, erected upon the grounds, walls or roofs of buildings, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay annually for said license as follows:

For posting or erecting 20 or more signs or panels	$25.00
For posting or erecting less than 20 signs or panels, for each sign or panel	1.00

And in addition thereto the following license tax for each city, town or other place in which such sign boards, poster boards, painted bulletins and other painted or printed matter or other outdoor advertising devices are maintained, in cities and towns of:

Less than 1,000 population	$ 5.00
1,000 to 1,999 population	10.00
2,000 to 2,999 population	15.00
3,000 to 3,999 population	20.00
4,000 to 4,999 population	25.00
5,000 to 7,499 population	30.00
7,500 to 14,999 population	50.00
15,000 to 24,999 population	100.00
25,000 to 49,999 population	150.00
50,000 population and over	200.00
In each county outside of cities and towns	25.00

Provided, that the tax levied in this section shall not apply to regularly licensed motion picture theatres taxed under § 105-37 upon any advertising signs, structures, boards, bulletins, or other devices erected by or placed by the theatre upon property which the theatre has secured by permission of the owner.

Every person, firm, or corporation who or which places, erects or maintains one or more outdoor advertising signs, structures, boards, bulletins or devices as specified in this section shall be deemed to be engaged in the business of outdoor advertising, but when the applicant intends to advertise his own business exclusively by the erection or placement of such outdoor advertising signs, structures, boards, bulletins or devices as specified in this section, he may be licensed to do so upon the payment annually of one dollar ($1.00) for each sign up to one thousand (1,000) in number, and for one thousand (1,000) or more, the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for the privilege in lieu of all other taxation as provided in this section, except such further taxation as may be imposed upon him by cities or towns, acting under the power to levy not in excess of one-half of that specified in paragraph two of subsection (a) of this section.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation shall show in its application for the state license herein provided for the name of each incorporated city or town within which, and the county within which, it is maintaining or proposes to maintain said sign boards, poster boards, painted bulletins or other painted or printed signs or other outdoor advertising devices within the state of North Carolina. No person, firm, or corporation, licensed under the provisions of this section, shall erect or maintain any outdoor advertising structure, device or display until a permit for the erection of such structure, device or display shall have been obtained from the commissioner of revenue. Application for such permit shall be in writing, signed by the applicant or his duly authorized agent, upon blanks furnished by the commissioner of revenue, in such form and requiring such information as said commissioner of revenue may prescribe. Each application shall have attached thereto the written consent of the owners or duly authorized agent of the property on which structures, device or display is to be erected or maintained, and shall state thereon the beginning and ending dates of such written permission: Provided, the subsection shall not apply to persons, firms, or corporations who or which advertise their or its own business exclusively, and who or which have been licensed therefor pursuant to subsection (a) of this section.

(c) It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in the business of outdoor advertising to in any manner paint, print, place, post, tack or affix, or cause to be painted, printed, placed, posted, tacked or affixed any sign or other printed or painted advertisement on or to any stone, tree, fence, stump, pole, building or other object which is upon the property of another without first obtaining the written consent of such owner thereof, and any person, firm, or corporation who in any manner paints, prints, places, posts, tacks or affixes, or causes to be painted, printed, posted, tacked or affixed any such advertisement on the property of another except as herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars ($50.00), or imprisonment of thirty days: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to legal notices.

(d) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to paint, print, place, post, tack or affix any advertising matter within the limits of the right of way of public highways of the state without the permission of the state highway and public works commission, or upon the streets of the incorporated towns of the state without permission of the governing authorities, and if and when signs of any nature are placed without permission within the highways of the state, or within the streets of incorporated towns, it shall be the duty of the highway and public works commission or any other administrative body or other governing authorities of the cities and towns of said state to remove said advertising matters therefrom.

(e) Every person, firm, or corporation owning or maintaining sign boards, poster boards, printed bulletins, or other outdoor advertisements of any nature within this state shall have imprinted on the same the name of such person, firm, or corporation in sufficient size to be plainly visible and permanently affixed thereto.

(f) A license shall not be granted any person, firm, or corporation having his or its principal place of business outside the state for the display of any advertising of any nature whatsoever, designed or intended for the display of advertising matter, until such person, firm, or corporation shall have furnished and filed with the commissioner of revenue a surety bond to the state, approved by him, in such sum as he may fix, not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), conditioned that such licensee shall fulfill all requirements of law, and lawful regulations and orders of said commissioner of revenue, relative to the display of advertisements. Such surety bond shall remain in full force and effect as long as any obligations of such licensee to the state shall remain unsatisfied.

(g) No advertising, or other signs specified in this section, shall be erected in the highway right of way so as to obstruct the vision or otherwise to increase the hazards, and all signs upon the highways shall be placed in a manner to be approved by the said highway and public works commission.

(h) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which shall refuse to or neglect to comply with the terms and provisions of this section, and who shall fail to pay the tax herein provided for within thirty days after the same shall become due, or who shall paint, print, place, post, tack, affix or display any advertising sign or other matter contrary to the provisions of this section, the highway and public works commission of the state of North Carolina or other governing body having jurisdiction over the roads and highways of the state, and the governing authorities of cities and towns and its agents and employees, and the board of county commissioners of the various counties of said state and its employees are directed to forthwith seize and remove or cause to be removed all advertisements, signs or other matter displayed contray to the provisions of this section.

For the purpose of more effectually carrying into effect the provisions of this section, the commissioner of revenue is authorized and directed to prepare and furnish to the highway and public works commission or other governing body having jurisdiction over the roads and highways of the state a sufficient number of permits to be executed by the owner, lessee or tenant occupying the lands adjacent to the highways of the state, upon which advertisements, signs or other matter displayed contrary to the provisions of this section, in words as follows:

"I, (we), (owner), (lessee), (tenant), authorize and direct the Highway and Public Works Commission of the State of North Carolina to remove from my lands the following signs and advertising matter placed upon my lands unlawfully or without my permission: .....

"This..... day of....., 19..„

And the said highway and public works commission or other governing body having jurisdiction over the roads and highways of the state shall forthwith proceed, through its agents, servants and employees, wherever and whenever in its opinion it is necessary to secure the consent to the removal of said signs or other advertising matter from the lands of the owner, lessee or tenant, to secure said consent and to immediately remove said signs or other advertising matter from the lands adjacent to the highways of the state of North Carolina as herein directed.

(i) Every person, firm, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and in addition to the license tax and penalties provided for herein shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each sign so displayed, or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court.

(j) Counties shall not levy any license tax under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of that levied by the state under paragraph two of subsection (a).

(k) Every person, firm, or corporation applying for a license as required in subsection (a) hereof shall state in his application the number of advertisements, advertising spaces or devices he proposes to erect and/or maintain. Upon issuing licenses to any applicant the commissioner of revenue shall issue a metal tag for each of the advertisements, advertising spaces or devices mentioned in the application, to be valid for one year from its issuance and showing on its face the date of its expiration. Such metal tag or device erected, maintained or used by him shall be attached by the advertiser in such way as to be plainly visible to the front of each advertisement or advertising space.

(l) Any advertisement, advertising space or device not bearing such a tag or bearing a tag which shows that it has expired, or otherwise erected or maintained contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be deemed a public nuisance and shall be summarily removed or destroyed by the state highway and public works commission.

(m) The following signs and announcements are exempted from the provisions of this section: Signs upon property advertising the business conducted thereon; notice or advertisements erected by public authority or required by law in any legal proceedings; any signs containing sixty (60) square feet or less bearing an announcement of any town or city advertising itself: Provided, the same is maintained at public expense.

No tax shall be levied under this section against any person, firm, or corporation erecting, painting, posting or otherwise displaying signs or panels advertising his or its own business containing twelve (12) square feet or less of advertising surface: Provided, that this exemption shall not apply if the signs or panels are displayed in more than five counties: And provided further, that subsection (l) shall not apply to signs and panels displayed under this paragraph. (1939, c. 158, s. 151.)

§ 105-87. Motor advertisers.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation operating over the streets or highways of this state any motor vehicle or other mechanical conveyance equipped with radio, phonograph, or other similar mechanism to produce music, or having any loudspeaker attachment or other sound magnifying device to produce sound effects for advertising purposes, whether advertising his or its own products or those of others, shall be deemed a motor advertiser, shall procure from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each vehicle or conveyance so used: Provided, that any such advertiser owning a located place of business in this state and advertising in not more than five counties shall pay one-fourth the tax provided in this section.

(b) Counties may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of one-fourth of that levied by the state, and cities and towns may levy a tax not in excess of ten dollars ($10.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 151½.)

§ 105-88. Loan agencies or brokers. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the regular business of making loans or lending money, accepting liens on, or contracts of assignments of, salaries or wages, or any part thereof, or other security or evidences of debt for repayment of such loans in installment payments or otherwise, and maintaining in connection with same any office or other located or established place for the conduct, negotiation, or transaction of such business and/or advertising or soliciting such business in any manner whatsoever, shall be deemed a loan agency, and shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting or negotiating such business at each office or place so maintained, and shall pay for such license a tax of seven hundred fifty dollars ($750.00).

(a) Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to banks, industrial banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, cooperative credit unions, nor installment paper dealers defined and taxed under other sections of this article, nor shall it apply to the business of negotiating loans on real estate as described in § 105-41, nor to pawnbrokers lending or advancing money on specific articles of personal property. It shall apply to those persons or concerns operating what are commonly known as loan companies or finance companies and whose business is as hereinbefore described, and those persons, firms, or corporations pursuing the business of lending money and taking as security for the payment of such loan and interest an assignment of wages or an assignment of wages with power of attorney to collect same, or other order or chattel mortgage or bill of sale upon household or kitchen furniture.

(b) At the time of making any such loan, the person, or officer of the firm or corporation making the same, shall give to the borrower in writing in convenient form a statement showing the amount received by the borrower, the amount to be paid back by the borrower, and the time in which said amount is to be paid, and the rate of interest and discount agreed upon.

(c) Any such person, firm, or corporation failing, refusing, or neglecting to pay the tax herein levied shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and in addition to double the tax due shall be fined not less than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) and/or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. No such loan shall be collectible at law in the courts of this state in any case where the person making such loan has failed to pay the tax levied herein, and/or otherwise complied with the provisions of this section.

(d) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 152.)

§ 105-89. Automobiles and motorcycle dealers and service stations.—(1) Automotive Service Stations.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of servicing, storing, painting, repairing, welding, or upholstering motor vehicles, trailers, semi-trailers, or engaged in the business of retail selling and/or delivering of any tires, tools, batteries, electrical equipment, automotive accessories, including radios designed for exclusive use in automobiles, or supplies, motor fuels and/or lubricants, or any of such commodities, in this state, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each location where such business is carried on, as follows:

In cities or towns of less than 2,500 population	$10.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	15.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	20.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	30.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 30,000 population	40.00
In cities or towns of 30,000 or more	50.00

(a) In rural sections where a service station is operated the tax shall be five dollars ($5.00), unless more than one pump is operated, in which event the tax shall be five dollars ($5.00) per pump.

(b) The tax levied in this section shall in no case be less than five dollars ($5.00) per pump.

(c) No additional license tax under this subsection shall be levied upon or collected from any employee, agent, or salesman whose employer or principal has paid the tax for each location levied in this subsection.

(d) The tax imposed in § 105-53 shall not apply to the sale of gasoline to dealers for resale.

(e) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on each place of business located therein under this subsection not in excess of one-fourth of that levied by the state.

(2) Motorcycle Dealers.—Every person, firm, or corporation, foreign or domestic, engaged in the business of buying, selling, distributing, and/or exchanging motorcycles or motorcycle supplies or any of such commodities in this state shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each location where such business is carried on, as follows:

In unincorporated communities and cities or towns of less than 2,500 population	$10.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	15.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	20.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 30,000 population	30.00
In cities or towns of 30,000 population or more	40.00

(a) A motorcycle dealer paying the license tax under this subsection may buy, sell, and/or deal in bicycle and bicycle supplies without the payment of an additional license tax.

(b) No additional license tax shall be levied upon or collected from any employee or salesman whose employer has paid the tax levied in this subsection.

(c) No motorcycle dealer shall be issued dealer's tags until the license tax levied under this subsection has been paid.

(d) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on each place of business located therein, taxed under this subsection, not in excess of one-fourth of that levied by the state, with the exception that the minimum tax may be as much as ten dollars ($10.00).

(3) Automotive Equipment and Supply Dealers at Wholesale.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of buying, selling, distributing, exchanging, and/or delivering automotive accessories, including radios designed for exclusive use in automobiles, parts, tires, tools, batteries, and/or other automotive equipment or supplies or any of such commodities at wholesale shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each location where such business is carried on as follows:

In unincorporated communities and in cities or towns of less than 2,500 population	$ 25.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	30.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	75.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 30,000 population	100.00
In cities or towns of 30,000 population or more	125.00

Provided, any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business enumerated in this section and having no located place of business, but selling to retail dealers by use of some form of vehicle, shall obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each vehicle used in carrying on such business fifty dollars ($50.00).

(a) For the purpose of this section, the word "wholesale" shall apply to manufacturers, jobbers, and such others who sell to retail dealers, except manufacturers of batteries.

(b) No additional license tax under this subsection shall be levied upon or collected from any employee, agent, or salesman whose employer or principal has paid the tax for each location levied in this subsection.

(c) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on each place of business located therein, taxed under this subsection, not in excess of one-half of that levied by the state, with the exception that the minimum tax may be as much as ten dollars ($10.00).

(d) No person, firm, or corporation paying the wholesalers' tax as levied in subsection three hereof shall be required to pay any additional tax under subsection one of this section for engaging in any of the types of business levied upon in said subsection one.

(4) Motor Vehicle Dealers.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of buying, selling, distributing, servicing, storing and/or exchanging motor vehicles, trailers, semi-trailers, tires, tools, batteries, electrical equipment, lubricants, and/or automotive equipment, including radios designed for exclusive use in automobiles, and supplies in this state shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each location where such business is carried on, as follows:

In unincorporated communities and in cities or towns of less than 1,000 population	$ 25.00
In cities or towns of 1,000 and less than 2,500 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	75.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	110.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	140.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 30,000 population	175.00
In cities or towns of 30,000 or more	200.00

Provided, that persons, firms, or corporations dealing in secondhand or used motor vehicles exclusively shall be liable for the tax as set out in the foregoing schedule unless such business is of a seasonal, temporary, transient, or itinerant nature, in which event the tax shall be three hundred dollars ($300.00) for each location where such business is carried on.

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which deals exclusively in motor fuels and lubricants, and has paid the license tax levied under subsection one of this section, shall not be subject to any license tax under subsections two, three, and four of this section.

(b) No additional license tax under this subsection shall be levied upon or collected from any employee or salesman whose employer has paid the tax levied in this subsection; nor shall the tax apply to dealers in semi-trailers weighing not more than five hundred pounds and carrying not more than one-thousand-pound load, and to be towed by passenger cars.

(c) No dealer shall be issued dealer's tags until the license tax levied under this subsection has been paid.

(d) Premises on which used cars are stored or sold when owned or operated by a licensed new car dealer under the same name shall not be deemed as a separate place of business when conducted within the corporate limits of any city or town in which such new car business is conducted.

(e) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on each place of business located therein, taxed under this subsection, not in excess of one-fourth of that levied by the state, with the exception that the minimum tax may be as much as twenty dollars ($20.00): Provided, if such business is of a seasonal, temporary, transient, or itinerant nature, counties, cities, and towns may levy a tax of three hundred dollars ($300.00) for each location where such business is carried on. (1939, c. 158, s. 153.)

§ 105-90. Emigrant and employment agents.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation, either as agent or principal, engaged in soliciting, hiring, and/or contracting with laborers, male or female, in this state for employment out of the state shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for each county for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each county in which such business is carried on.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which engages in the business of securing employment for a person or persons and charging therefor a fee, commission, or other compensation shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license the following annual tax for each location in which such business is carried on:

In unincorporated communities and in cities and towns of less than 2,500 population	$100.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	200.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	300.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 or more population	500.00

Provided, that this section shall not apply to any employment agency operated by the federal government, the state, any county or municipality, or whose sole business is procuring employees for work in the production and harvesting of farm crops within the state: And provided further, that under this section the tax on any employment agency whose sole business is the placement of teachers and/or other school employees and which has been approved by the state superintendent of public instruction shall be twenty-five dollars ($25.00): Provided further, that the tax on employment agencies where the sole business is the placement of domestic servants or unregistered nurses for employment within the state shall be twenty-five dollars ($25.00).

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined, in addition to other penalties, not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and/or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court.

(d) Counties, cities and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 154.)

§ 105-91. Plumbers, heating contractors, and electricians.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of a plumber, installing plumbing fixtures, piping or equipment, steam or gas fitter, or installing hot-air heating systems, or installing electrical equipment, or offering to perform such services, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax based on population:

Municipalities of less than two thousand population	$ 5.00
Municipalities of two thousand and less than five thousand population	7.50
Municipalities of five thousand and less than ten thousand population	10.00
Municipalities of ten thousand and less than twenty thousand population	12.50
Municipalities of twenty thousand and less than thirty thousand population	15.00
Municipalities of thirty thousand and less than forty thousand population	17.50
Municipalities of forty thousand and less than fifty thousand population	20.00
Municipalities of fifty thousand population or more	25.00

Provided, that when a licensed plumber employs only one additional person the tax shall be one-half: Provided further, that any person, firm, or corporation engaged exclusively in the businesses enumerated in and licensed under this section shall not be liable for the tax provided in §§ 105-54 to 105-56. All plumbing inspectors in cities or towns shall make a monthly report to the commissioner of revenue of all installation or repair permits issued for plumbing or heating.

Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of the base license tax levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 155.)

§ 105-92. Trading stamps.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of issuing, selling, and/or delivering trading stamps, checks, receipts, certificates, tokens, or other similar devices to persons, firms, or corporations engaged in trade or business, with the understanding or agreement, expressed or implied, that the same shall be presented or given by the latter to their patrons as a discount, bonus, premium, or as an inducement to secure trade or patronage, and that the person, firm, or corporation selling and/or delivering the same will give to the person presenting or promising the same, money or other thing of value, or any commission or preference in any way on account of the possession or presentation thereof, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of two hundred dollars ($200.00).

(a) This section shall not be construed to apply to a manufacturer or to a merchant who sells the goods, wares, or merchandise of such manufacturer, offering to present to the purchaser or customer a gift of certain value as an inducement to purchase such goods, wares or merchandise.

(b) Counties, cities, or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section and not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 156.)

§ 105-93. Process tax.—(a) In every indictment or criminal proceeding finally disposed of in the superior court, the party convicted or adjudged to pay the cost shall pay a tax of two dollars ($2.00): Provided, that this tax shall not be levied in cases where the county is required to pay the cost.

(b) At the time of suing out the summons in a civil action in the superior court or other court of record, or the docketing of an appeal from the lower court in the superior court, the plaintiff or the appellant shall pay a tax of two dollars ($2.00): Provided, that this tax shall not be demanded of any plaintiff or appellant who has been duly authorized to sue or appeal in forma pauperis; but when in cases brought or in appeals in forma pauperis the costs are taxed against the defendants the tax shall be included in the bill of costs: Provided, that this tax shall not be levied in cases where the county is required to pay the cost and in tax foreclosure suits.

(c) No county, city, or town, or other municipal corporation shall be required to pay said tax upon the institution of any action brought by it, but whenever such plaintiff shall recover in such action, the said tax shall be included in the bill of costs and collected from the defendant.

(d) In any case where the party has paid the aforesaid cost in a civil action and shall recover in the final decision of the case, then such cost so paid by him shall be retaxed against the losing party adjudged to pay the cost, plus five per cent (5%) which the clerk of the superior court may retain for his services, and this shall be received by him, whether he is serving on a salary or fee basis, and if on a salary basis, shall be in addition to such salary.

(e) This section shall not apply to cases in the jurisdiction of magistrates' courts, whether civil or criminal, except upon appeals to the superior court from the judgment of such magistrate, and shall not apply for the docketing in the superior court of a transcript of a judgment rendered in any other court, whether of record or not.

(f) The tax provided for in this section shall be levied and assessed by the clerk of the superior court or other court in all cases described herein; and on the first Monday in January, April, July, and October of each and every year he shall make to the commissioner of revenue a sworn statement and report in detail, showing the number of the case on the docket, the name of the plaintiff or appellant in civil action, or the defendant in criminal action, and accompany such report and statement with the amount of such taxes collected, or which should have been collected, by him in the preceding three months. Any clerk of the superior court failing to make the report and pay the amount of tax due under this section within the first fifteen days of the month in which such report is required to be made, shall be liable for a penalty of ten per cent (10%) on the amount of tax that may be due at the time such report should be made. (1939, c. 158, s. 157.)

§ 105-94. Morris Plan or industrial banks.— Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a Morris Plan or industrial bank in the state shall apply for and obtain a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

When the total resources as of December thirty-first of the previous calendar year are—

Less than $250,000	$ 75.00
$250,000 and less than $500,000	150.00
$500,000 and less than $1,000,000	225.00
$1,000,000 and less than $2,000,000	300.00
$2,000,000 and less than $5,000,000	450.00
$5,000,000 and over	600.00

(a) Any such bank that shall begin business during the current tax year applicable to this article, the tax shall be calculated on the total resources at the beginning of business.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of soliciting loans or deposits for a Morris Plan or other industrial bank not licensed as such by the state for the county in which such person, firm, or corporation solicits business shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of fifty dollars ($50.00) per annum, in each county in which business is solicited.

(c) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half (½) of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 158.)

§ 105-95. Marriage license. — There shall be levied on all marriage licenses a state license tax of three dollars on each such license, which shall be assessed and collected by the register of deeds of the county in which the license is issued.

The register of deeds of each county shall submit to the commissioner of revenue, on the first Monday in January, April, July, and October of each year a sworn statement or report in detail, showing the names of the persons to whom such license has been issued during the preceding three months, and accompany such sworn report or statement with the amount of such state taxes collected by him or that should have been collected by him in the preceding three months.

The counties may levy one dollar ($1.00) upon such marriage license, to be assessed and collected by the register of deeds and accounted for to the county treasurer at the same time and in the same manner as he accounts to the commissioner of revenue for the state tax. (1939, c. 158, s. 159.)

§ 105-96. Marble yards.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of manufacturing, erecting, jobbing, selling, or offering for sale monuments, marble tablets, gravestones or articles of like kind, or, if a non-resident, selling and erecting monuments, marble tablets, or gravestones at retail shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In unincorporated communities and cities or towns of less than 2,000 population	$15.00
In cities or towns of 2,000 and less than 5,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	30.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	40.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 20,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 25,000 population	60.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population or over	70.00

In addition to the license tax levied in this section, an additional tax shall be paid by the person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business taxed under this section of ten dollars ($10.00) for each person soliciting or selling.

Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns in which the principal office or plant of any such business is located may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 160.)

§ 105-97. Manufacturers of ice cream.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of manufacturing or distributing ice cream at wholesale shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for each factory or place where manufactured and/or stored for distribution, and shall pay an annual state license tax of ten dollars ($10.00) in cities and towns of less than two thousand five hundred (2,500) population; twenty-five dollars ($25.00) in cities and towns having population between two thousand five hundred (2,500) and ten thousand (10,000), and in cities and towns having a population of more than ten thousand (10,000), fifty dollars ($50.00), and an additional tax of one-half cent for each gallon manufactured, sold, and/or distributed. Reports shall be made to the commissioner of revenue in such form as he may prescribe within the first ten days of each month covering all such gross sales for the previous month, and the additional tax herein levied shall be paid monthly at the time such reports are made.

(b) For the purpose of this section the words "ice cream" shall apply to ice cream, frozen custards, sherbets, water ices, and/or similar frozen products.

(c) Every retail dealer selling at retail ice cream purchased from a manufacturer other than a manufacturer who has paid the tax imposed in subsection (a) of this section shall pay an annual license tax for the privilege of doing business in this state of ten dollars ($10.00).

(d) Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-fourth of the above. (1939, c. 158, s. 161.)

§ 105-98. Branch or chain stores.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating or maintaining in this state, under the same general management, supervision, or ownership, two or more stores, or mercantile establishments where goods, wares, and/or merchandise is sold or offered for sale, or from which such goods, wares, and/or merchandise are sold and/or distributed at wholesale or retail, or who or which controls by lease, either as lessor or lessee, or by contract, the manner in which any such store or stores are operated, or the kinds, character, or brands of merchandise which are sold therein, shall be deemed a branch or chain store operator, and shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the purpose of engaging in such business of a branch or chain store operator, and shall pay for such license a tax according to the following schedule:

On each and every such store operated in this state in excess of one—

For not more than four additional stores, for each such additional store	$ 65.00
For five additional stores and not more than eight, for each such additional store	85.00
For nine additional stores and not more than twelve, for each such additional store	95.00
For thirteen additional stores and not more than sixteen, for each such additional store	105.00
For seventeen additional stores and not more than twenty, for each such additional store	115.00
For twenty-one additional stores and not more than thirty, for each such additional store	140.00
For thirty-one additional stores and not more than fifty, for each such additional store	175.00
For fifty-one additional stores and not more than one hundred, for each such additional store	200.00
For one hundred and one additional stores and not more than two hundred, for each such additional store	225.00
For two hundred and one additional stores and over, for each such additional store	250.00

The term "chain store" as used in this section shall include stores operated under separate charters of incorporation, if there is common ownership of a majority of stock in such separately incorporated companies, and/or if there is similarity of name of such separately incorporated companies, and/or if such separately incorporated companies have the benefit in whole or in part of group purchase of merchandise, or of common management. And in like manner the term "chain store" shall apply to any group of stores where a majority interest is owned by an individual or partnership.

Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each chain store located in such city or town. For the purpose of ascertaining the particular unit in each chain of stores not subject to taxation by the state under this section, and therefore not liable for city license tax, the particular store in which the principal office of the chain in this state is located shall be designated as the unit in the chain not subject to this tax.

In enforcing the provisions of this section, the commissioner of revenue may prorate the total amount of tax for a chain to the several units and the amount so prorated may be recovered from each unit in the chain in the same way as other taxes levied in this article.

This section shall not apply to retail or wholesale dealers in motor vehicles and automotive equipment and supply dealers at wholesale who are not liable for tax hereunder on account of the sale of other merchandise. (1939, c. 158, s. 162.)

§ 105-99. Wholesale distributors of motor fuels.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of distributing or selling at wholesale any motor fuels in this state shall apply to the commissioner for an additional annual license to engage in such business, and shall pay for such privilege an additional annual license tax determined and measured by the number of pumps owned or leased by the distributor or wholesaler through which such motor fuels are sold, at retail, according to the following schedule:

For the first 100 pumps	$ 4.00 per pump
For 101 additional pumps and not more than 200 pumps	5.00 per pump
For 201 additional pumps and not more than 300 pumps	6.00 per pump
For 301 additional pumps and not more than 400 pumps	7.00 per pump
For 401 additional pumps and not more than 500 pumps	8.00 per pump
For 501 additional pumps and not more than 600 pumps	9.00 per pump
For all over 600 pumps	10.00 per pump

Any contract or agreement, oral or written, express or implied by the terms or the effects of which the tax herein imposed shall be passed on directly or indirectly to any person, firm, or corporation not engaged in the business hereby taxed is hereby declared to be against the public policy of this state and null and void, and any person, firm, or corporation negotiating such an agreement, or receiving the benefits thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

The tax herein imposed shall be in addition to all other taxes imposed by this chapter or under any other laws.

Counties, cities and towns shall not levy any tax by reason of the additional tax imposed by this section, but this section shall in no way affect the right given to counties, cities, and towns to levy taxes under § 105-89.

The business taxed under this section shall not be taxed under § 105-98. (1939, c. 158, s. 162½.)

§ 105-100. Patent rights and formulas.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling or offering for sale any patent right or formula shall apply in advance and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a separate state license for each and every county in this state where such patent right or formula is to be sold or offered for sale, and shall pay for each such separate license a tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

Counties, cities, or towns may levy a license on the business taxed under this section not in excess of the taxes levied by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 163.)

§ 105-101. Tax on seals affixed by officers.—Whenever the seal of the state, of the state treasurer, the secretary of state, or of any other public officer required by law to keep a seal (not including clerks of courts, notaries public, and other county officers) shall be affixed to any paper, the tax to be paid by the party applying for same shall be as follows:

For the Great Seal of the state, on any commission	$2.50
For the Great Seal of the state on warrants of extradition for fugitives from justice from other states, the same fee and seal tax shall be collected from the state making the requisition which is charged in this state for like service. For the seal of the state department, to be collected by the secretary of state	1.00
For the seal of the state treasurer, to be collected by him	1.00
For a scroll, when used in the absence of a seal, the tax shall be on the scroll, and the same as for the seal.

(a) All officers shall keep a true, full, and accurate account of the number of times any of such seals or scrolls are used, and shall deliver to the governor of the state a sworn statement thereof.

(b) All seals affixed for the use of any county of the state, used on the commissions of officers of the national guard, and any other public officer not having a salary, under the pension law, or under any process of court, or to any commission issued by the governor to any person in the employ of the state, or to be employed by the state shall be exempt from taxation. (1939, c. 158, s. 166.)

§ 105-102. Junk dealers.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of buying and/or selling or dealing in what is commonly known as junk, including scrap metals, glass, waste paper, waste burlap, waste cloth and cordage of every nature, kind and description, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each location where such business is carried on, according to the following schedule:

In unincorporated communities and in cities or towns of less than 2,500 population	$ 25.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	30.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	75.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 30,000 population	100.00
In cities or towns of 30,000 population or more	125.00

Provided, that if any person, firm, or corporation shall engage in the business enumerated in this section within a radius of two miles of the corporate limits of any city or town in this state, he or it shall pay a tax based on the population of such city or town according to the schedule above set out. Counties, cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of that levied by the state; provided, however, that any person, firm, or corporation dealing solely in waste paper shall not be liable for said tax. (1939, c. 158, s. 168.)

Administrative Provisions of Schedule B.

§ 105-103. Unlawful to operate without license.—When a license tax is required by law, and whenever the general assembly shall levy a license tax on any business, trade, employment, or profession, or for doing any act, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation without a license to engage in such business, trade, employment, profession, or do the act; and when such tax is imposed it shall be lawful to grant a license for the business, trade, employment, or for doing the act; and no person, firm, or corporation shall be allowed the privilege of exercising any business, trade, employment, profession, or the doing of any act taxed in this schedule throughout the state under one license, except under a state-wide license. (1939, c. 158, s. 181.)

§ 105-104. Manner of obtaining license from the commissioner of revenue.— (a) Every person, firm, or corporation desiring to obtain a state license for the privilege of engaging in any business, trade, employment, profession, or of the doing of any act for which a state license is required, shall, unless otherwise provided by law, make application therefor in writing to the commissioner of revenue, in which shall be stated the county, city, or town and the definite place therein where the business, trade, employment, or profession is to be exercised; the name and resident address of the applicant, whether the applicant is an individual, firm, or corporation; the nature of the business, trade, employment, or profession; number of years applicant has prosecuted such business, trade, employment, or profession in this state, and such other information as may be required by the commissioner of revenue. The application shall be accompanied by the license tax prescribed in this article.

(b) Upon receipt of the application for a state license with the tax prescribed by this article, the commissioner of revenue, if satisfied of its correctness, shall issue a state license to the applicant to engage in the business, trade, employment, or profession in the name of and at the place set out in the application. No license issued by the commissioner of revenue shall be valid or have any legal effect unless and until the tax prescribed by law has been paid, and the fact of such shall appear on the face of the license. (1939, c. 158, s. 182.)

§ 105-105. Persons, firms, and corporations engaged in more than one business to pay tax on each. — Where any person, firm, or corporation is engaged in more than one business, trade, employment, or profession which is made under the provisions of this article subject to state license taxes, such persons, firms, or corporations shall pay the license tax prescribed in this article for each separate business, trade, employment, or profession. (1939, c. 158, s. 183.)

§ 105-106. Effect of change in name of firm.— No change in the name of a firm, partnership, or corporation, nor the taking in of a new partner, nor the withdrawal of one or more of the firm, shall be considered as commencing business; but if any one or more of the partners remain in the firm, or if there is change in ownership of less than a majority of the stock, if a corporation, the business shall be regarded as continuing. (1939, c. 158, s. 184.)

§ 105-107. License may be changed when place of business is changed. — When a person, firm, or corporation has obtained a state license to engage in any business, trade, employment, or profession at any definite location in a county, and desires to remove to another location in the same county, the commissioner of revenue may, upon proper application, grant such person, firm, or corporation permission to make such move, and may endorse upon the state license his approval of change in location. (1939, c. 158, s. 185.)

§ 105-108. Property used in a licensed business not exempt from taxation.—A state license, issued under any of the provisions of this article shall not be construed to exempt from other forms of taxation the property employed in such licensed business, trade, employment, or profession. (1939, c. 158, s. 186.)

§ 105-109. Engaging in business without a license.—(a) All state license taxes under this article or schedule, unless otherwise provided for, shall be due and payable annually on or before the first day of June of each year, or at the date of engaging in such business, trade, employment and/or profession, or doing the act.

(b) If any person, firm, or corporation shall continue the business, trade, employment, or profession, or to do the act, after the expiration of a license previously issued, without obtaining a new license, he or it shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court, but the fine shall not be less than twenty per cent (20%) of the tax in addition to the tax and the costs; and if such failure to apply for and obtain a new license be continued, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay additional tax of five per centum (5%) of the amount of the state license tax which was due and payable on the first day of June of the current year, in addition to the state license tax imposed by this article, for each and every thirty days that such state license tax remains unpaid from the date that same was due and payable, and such additional tax shall be assessed by the commissioner of revenue and paid with the state license tax, and shall become a part of the state license tax. The penalties for delayed payment hereinbefore provided shall not impair the obligation to procure a license in advance or modify any of the pains and penalties for failure to do so.

The provisions of this section shall apply to taxes levied by the counties of the state under authority of this article in the same manner and to the same extent as they apply to taxes levied by the state.

(c) If any person, firm, or corporation shall commence to exercise any privilege or to promote any business, trade, employment, or profession, or to do any act requiring a state license under this article without such state license, he or it shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court; and if such failure, neglect, or refusal to apply for and obtain such state license be continued, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an additional tax of five per centum (5%) of the amount of such state license tax which was due and payable at the commencement of the business, trade, employment or profession, or doing the act, in addition to the state license tax imposed by this article, for each and every thirty (30) days that such state license tax remains unpaid from the date that same was due and payable, and such additional tax shall be assessed by the commissioner of revenue and paid with the state license tax and shall become a part of the state license tax.

(d) If any person, firm, or corporation shall fail, refuse, or neglect to make immediate payment of any taxes due and payable under this article, additional taxes, and/or any penalties imposed pursuant thereto, upon demand, the commissioner of revenue shall certify the same to the sheriff of the county in which such delinquent lives or has his place of business, and such sheriff shall have the power and shall levy upon any personal or real property owned by such delinquent person, firm, or corporation, and sell the same for the payment of the said tax or taxes, penalty and costs, in the same manner as provided by law for the levy and sale of property for the collection of other taxes; and if sufficient property is not found, the said sheriff or deputy commissioner shall swear out a warrant before some justice of the peace or recorder in the county for the violation of the provisions of this article and as provided in this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 187.)

§ 105-110. Each day's continuance in business without a state license a separate offense.—Each and every day that any person, firm, or corporation shall continue to exercise or engage in any business, trade, employment, or profession, or do any act in violation of the provisions of this article, shall be and constitute a distinct and a separate offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 188.)

§ 105-111. Duties of commissioner of revenue.—(a) Except where otherwise provided, the commissioner of revenue shall be the duly authorized agent of this state for the issuing of all state licenses and the collection of all license taxes under this article, and it shall be his duty and the duty of his deputies to make diligent inquiry to ascertain whether all persons, firms, or corporations in the various counties of the state who are taxable under the provisions of this article have applied for the state license and paid the tax thereon levied.

(b) The commissioner of revenue shall continually keep in his possession a sufficient supply of blank state license certificates, with corresponding sheets and duplicates consecutively numbered; shall stamp across each state license certificate that is to be good and valid in each and every county of the state the words "state-wide license," and shall stamp or imprint on each and every license certificate the words "issued by the commissioner of revenue."

(c) Neither the commissioner of revenue nor any of his deputies shall issue any duplicate license unless expressly authorized to do so by a provision of this article or schedule, and unless the original license is lost or has become so mutilated as to be illegible, and in such cases the commissioner of revenue is authorized to issue a duplicate certificate for which the tax is paid, and shall stamp upon its face "duplicate." (1939, c. 158, s. 189.)

§ 105-112. License to be procured before beginning business.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaging in any business, trade, and/or profession, or doing any act for which a state license is required and a tax is to be paid under the provisions of this article or schedule, shall, annually in advance, on or before the first day of June of each year, or before engaging in such business, trade, and/or profession, or doing the act, apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, trade, and/or profession, or doing such act, and shall pay the tax levied therefor.

(b) Licenses shall be kept posted where business is carried on. No person, firm, or corporation shall engage in any business, trade, and/or profession, or do the act for which a state license is required in this article or schedule, without having such state license posted conspicuously at the place where such business, trade, and/or profession is carried on; and if the business, trade, and/or profession is such that license cannot be so posted, then the itinerant licensee shall have such license required by this article or schedule in his actual possession at the time of carrying on such business, trade, and/or profession, or doing the act named in this article or schedule, or a duplicate thereof.

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation failing, neglecting, or refusing to have the state license required under this article or schedule posted conspicuously at the place of business for which the license was obtained, or to have the same or a duplicate thereof in actual possession if an itinerant, shall pay an additional tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each and every separate offense, and each day's failure, neglect, or refusal shall constitute a separate offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 190.)

§ 105-113. Sheriff and city clerk to report.—The sheriff of each county and the clerk of the board of aldermen of each city or town in the state shall, on or before the fifteenth day of June of each year, make a report to the commissioner of revenue, containing the names and the business, trade, and/or the profession of every person, firm, or corporation in his county or city who or which is required to apply for and obtain a state license under the provisions of this article or schedule, and upon such forms as shall be provided and in such detail as may be required by the commissioner of revenue. (1939, c. 158, s. 191.)

Art. 3. Schedule C. Franchise Tax.

§ 105-114. Defining taxes in this article.—The taxes levied and assessed in this article or schedule shall be paid as specifically herein provided, and shall be for the privilege of engaging in or carrying on the business or doing the act named; and, if taxpayer be a corporation, shall be a tax also for the continuance of its corporate rights and privileges granted under its charter, if incorporated in this state, or by reason of any act of domestication if incorporated in another state, and such taxes and taxpayers shall be subject to other pertinent regulations mentioned in this chapter. The taxes levied in this article or schedule shall be for the fiscal year of the state in which said taxes become due, and the lien of such taxes shall attach annually to all real estate of the taxpayer within the state on the date that such taxes are due and payable; and said lien shall continue until such taxes, with any interest, penalty and costs which shall accrue thereon shall have been paid. (1939, c. 158, s. 201.)

§ 105-115. Franchise or privilege tax on railroads.—Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, owning and/or operating a railroad in this state shall, in addition to all other taxes levied and assessed in the state, pay annually to the commissioner of revenue a franchise, license, or privilege tax for the privilege of engaging in such railroad business within the state of North Carolina, as follows:

(a) Such person, firm or corporation shall during the month of June each year furnish to the commissioner of revenue a copy of the report and statement required to be made to the state board of assessment by the Machinery Act in effect at the time such report is due, and such other and further information as the commissioner of revenue may require.

(b) The value upon which the tax herein levied shall be assessed by the commissioner of revenue and the measure of the extent to which every such railroad company is carrying on intrastate commerce within the state of North Carolina shall be the value of the total property, tangible and intangible, in this state, for each such railroad company, as assessed for ad valorem taxation during the calendar year in which such report is due.

(c) The franchise or privilege tax which every such railroad company shall pay for the privilege of carrying on or engaging in intrastate commerce within this state shall be seventy-five one-hundredths of one per cent (75/100%) of the value ascertained as above by the commissioner of revenue, and tax shall be due and payable within thirty days after date of notice of such tax.

(d) If any such person, firm, or corporation shall fail, neglect, or refuse to make and deliver the report or statements provided for in this section, the commissioner of revenue shall estimate, from the reports and records on file with the state board of assessment, the value upon which the amount of tax due by such company under this section shall be computed, and shall assess the franchise or privilege tax upon such estimate, and shall collect the same, together with such penalties herein imposed for failure to make the report and statement.

(e) It is the intention of this section to levy upon railroad companies a license, franchise, or privilege tax for the privilege of engaging in intrastate commerce carried on wholly within this state, and not a part of interstate commerce; that the tax provided for in this section is not intended to be a tax for the privilege of engaging in interstate commerce, nor is it intended to be a tax on the business of interstate commerce, nor is it intended to be a tax having any relation to the interstate or foreign business or commerce in which any such railroad company may be engaged in addition to its business in this state.

(f) No county, city or town shall levy a license, franchise, or privilege tax on the business taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 202.)

§ 105-116. Franchise or privilege tax on electric light, power, street railway, gas, water, sewerage, and other similar public-service companies not otherwise taxed.—(1) Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, other than municipal corporations, engaged in the business of furnishing electricity, electric lights, current, power or gas, or owning and/or operating a water or public sewerage system, or owning and/or operating a street railway, street bus or similar street transportation system for the transportation of freight or passengers for hire, shall, within thirty days after the first day of January, April, July and October of each year, make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue, upon such forms and blanks as required by him, a report verified by the oath of the officer or authorized agent making such report and statement, containing the following information:

(a) The total gross receipts for the three months ending the last day of the month immediately preceding such return from such business within and without this state.

(b) The total gross receipts for the same period from such business within this state.

(c) The total gross receipts from the commodities or services described in this section sold to any other person, firm, or corporation engaged in selling such commodities or services to the public, and actually sold by such vendee to the public for consumption and tax paid to this state by the vendee, together with the name of such vendee, with the amount sold and the price received therefor.

(d) The total amount and price paid for such commodities or services purchased from others engaged in the above named business in this state, and the name or names of the vendor.

(2) From the total gross receipts within this state there shall be deducted the gross receipts reported in subsection (1) (c) of this section: Provided, that this deduction shall not be allowed where the sale of such commodities was made to any person, firm, or corporation or municipality which is exempted by law from the payment of the tax herein imposed upon such commodities when sold or used by it.

(3) On every such person, firm or corporation there is levied an annual franchise or privilege tax of six per cent (6%), payable quarterly, of the total gross receipts derived from such business within this state, after the deductions allowed as herein provided for, which said tax shall be for the privilege of carrying on or engaging in the business named in this state, and shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the time of filing the report herein provided for: Provided, the tax upon privately owned water companies shall be four per cent (4%) of the total gross receipts derived from such business within this state: Provided further, the tax on gas companies shall be at the rate of four per cent (4%) upon the first twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) of the total gross receipts, and the tax on all gross receipts in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) shall be at the rate of six per cent (6%).

(4) Any person, firm, or corporation failing to file report and pay tax found to be due in accordance with the provisions of this section at the time herein provided for shall, in addition to all other penalties prescribed by this article, pay an additional tax of ten per cent (10%) and interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum on the total amount of tax due and additional tax incurred, which said additional tax shall in no case be less than two dollars ($2.00), and shall be added to the tax, together with interest accrued, and shall become an integral part of the tax.

(5) The report herein required of gross receipts within and without the state, shall include the total gross receipts for the period stated of all properties owned and operated by the reporting person, firm, or corporation on the first day of each calendar quarter year, whether operated by it for the previous annual period, or whether intermediately acquired by purchase or lease, it being the intent and purpose of this section to measure the amount of privilege or franchise tax in each calendar quarter year with reference to the gross receipts of the property operated for the previous calendar quarter year and to fix liability for the payment of the tax on the owner, operator, or lessor on the first day of January, April, July and October of each year.

(6) Companies taxed under this section shall not be required to pay the franchise tax imposed by §§ 105-122 or 105-123 unless the tax levied by §§ 105-122 and 105-123 exceed the tax levied in this section, and no county shall impose a franchise or privilege tax upon the business taxed under this section, and no city or town shall impose a greater privilege or license tax upon such companies than the aggregate privilege or license tax which is now imposed by any such city or town. (1939, c. 158, s. 203.)

§ 105-117. Franchise or privilege tax on Pullman, sleeping, chair, and dining cars.—(1) Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in the business of operating in this state any Pullman, sleeping, chair, dining or other similar cars, where an extra charge is made for the use or occupancy of same, shall annually, on or before the first day of August, make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue, upon such forms, blanks, and in such manner as may be required by him, a full, accurate, and true report and statement, verified by oath of the officer or authorized agent making such report, of the total gross receipts of such person, firm, or corporation from such business wholly within this state during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year.

(2) Such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an annual privilege, license, or franchise tax of ten per cent (10%) of the total gross receipts derived from such business wholly within this state; which said tax shall be paid for the privilege of carrying on or engaging in the business named in this state, and shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the time of filing the report and statements herein provided for.

(3) No county, city or town shall impose any franchise or privilege tax on the business taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 204.)

§ 105-118. Franchise or privilege tax on express companies.—(1) Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in this state in the business of an express company as defined in this chapter, shall, in addition to a copy of the report required by the Machinery Act then in effect, annually, on or before the first day of August, make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue a report and statement, verified by the oath of the officer or authorized agent making such report or statement, containing the following information as of the thirtieth day of June of the current year:

(a) The average amount of invested capital employed within and without the state in such business during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year.

(b) The total net income earned on such invested capital from such business during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year.

(c) The total number of miles of railroad lines or other common carriers over which such express companies operate in this state during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year.

(2) Every such person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in such express business within this state shall pay to the commissioner of revenue, at the time of filing the report required in this section, the following annual franchise or privilege tax for the privilege of engaging in such express business within this state:

Where the net income of the average capital invested during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year is six per cent (6%) or less, fifteen dollars ($15.00) per mile of railroad lines over which operated.

More than six per cent (6%) and less than eight per cent (8%), twenty-one dollars ($21.00) per mile of railroad lines over which operated.

Eight per cent (8%) and over, twenty-five dollars ($25.00) per mile of railroad lines over which operated.

(3) Every such person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, who or which engages in such business without having had previous receipts upon which to levy the franchise or privilege tax, shall report to the commissioner at the time of beginning business in this state and pay for such privilege of engaging in business in this state a tax of seven dollars and fifty cents ($7.50) per mile of the railroad lines over which operated or proposed to operate.

(4) Counties shall not levy a franchise, privilege or license tax on the business taxed under this section; and municipalities may levy an annual franchise, privilege, or license tax on such express companies for the privilege of doing business within the municipal limits as follows:

Municipalities of less than 500 population..	$ 5.00
Municipalities of 500 and less than 1,000 population	10.00
Municipalities of 1,000 and less than 5,000 population	20.00
Municipalities of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	30.00
Municipalities of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	50.00
Municipalities of 20,000 and over.....	75.00

§ 105-119. Franchise or privilege tax on telegraph companies.—(1) Every person, firm or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in operating the apparatus necessary for communication by telegraph between points within this state, shall annually, on or before the first day of August, make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue, upon such forms and in such manner as required by him, a report verified by the oath of the officer or authorized agent making such report and statement, containing the following information:

(a) The total gross receipts from business within and without this state for the entire calendar year next preceding due date on such return.

(b) The total gross receipts for the same period from business within this state.

(2) On every such person, firm or corporation there is hereby levied an annual franchise or privilege tax of six per cent (6%) of the total gross receipts derived from business within this state. Such gross receipts shall include all charges for services, all rentals, fees, and all other similar charges from business which both originates and terminates in the state of North Carolina, whether such business in the course of transmission goes outside this state or not. The tax herein levied shall be for the privilege of carrying on or engaging in the business named in this state, and shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the time of filing the report herein provided for: Provided, that the tax on the first one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) of gross receipts of any such telegraph company shall be at the rate of four per cent (4%), and all gross receipts in excess of said first one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) shall be taxed at the rate of six per cent (6%).

(3) The report herein required shall include the total gross receipts for the period stated of all properties owned, leased, controlled and/or over which operated by such person, firm or corporation in this state.

(4) Any person, firm or corporation failing to file report and pay tax found to be due in accordance with the provisions of this section at the time herein provided for shall, in addition to all other penalties prescribed in this article, pay an additional tax of ten per cent (10%) and interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum on the total amount of tax due and additional tax incurred, which said additional tax shall in no case be less than two dollars ($2.00), and shall be added to the tax, together with interest accrued, and shall become an integral part of the tax.

(5) (a) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the imposition of any tax upon interstate commerce.

(b) Counties shall not levy a franchise, privilege, or license tax on the business taxable under this section, and municipalities may levy the following license tax:

Less than 5,000 population	$10.00
5,000 and less than 10,000 population	15.00
10,000 and less than 20,000 population	20.00
20,000 population and over	50.00

§ 105-120. Franchise or privilege tax on telephone companies.—(1) Every person, firm or corporation, domestic or foreign, owning and/or operating a telephone business for the transmission of messages and/or conversations to, from, through, in or across this state, shall, within thirty days after the first day of January, April, July and October of each year, make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue a quarterly return, verified by the oath of the officer or authorized agent making such return, showing the total amount of gross receipts of such telephone company for the three months ending the last day of the month immediately preceding such return, and pay, at the time of making such return, the franchise, license or privilege tax herein imposed.

(2) An annual franchise or privilege tax of six per cent (6%), payable quarterly, on the gross receipts of such telephone company, is herein imposed for the privilege of engaging in such business within this state. Such gross receipts shall include all rentals, other similar charges, and all tolls received from business which both originates and terminates in the state of North Carolina, whether such business in the course of transmission goes outside of this state or not: Provided, where any city or town in the state has heretofore sold at public auction to the highest bidder the right, license and/or privilege of engaging in such business in such city or town, based upon a percentage of gross revenue of such telephone company, and is now collecting and receiving therefor a revenue tax not exceeding one per cent of such revenues, the amount so paid by such operating company, upon being certified by the treasurer of such municipality to the commissioner of revenue, shall be from time to time credited by the commissioner of revenue to such telephone company upon the tax imposed by the state under this section of this chapter.

(3) Any such person, firm or corporation, domestic or foreign, who or which fails, neglects, or refuses to make the return, and/or pay the tax at the time provided for in this section, shall pay an additional tax of ten per cent (10%) and interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum on the total amount of tax due and additional tax incurred, which said additional tax shall not be less than two dollars ($2.00) in any case, and shall be added to the tax, together with the interest accrued, and shall become an integral part of the tax.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the imposition of any tax upon interstate commerce.

(5) Counties, cities and towns shall not levy any franchise, license, or privilege tax on the business taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 207.)

§ 105-121. Franchise or privilege tax on insurance companies.—Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, which contracts on his, their, or its account to issue any policies for or agreements for life, fire, marine, surety, guaranty, fidelity, employers' liability, liability, credit, health, accident, livestock, plate glass, tornado, automobile, automatic sprinkler, burglary, steam boiler, and all other forms of insurance shall apply for and obtain from the insurance commissioner a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business within this state and shall pay for such state license the following tax:

(1) The annual license or privilege tax, due and payable on or before the first day of April of each year, shall be for each such license issued to:

An insurance rate-making company or association	$200.00
A life insurance company or association	250.00
A fire insurance company or association of companies operating a separate or distinct plant of agencies	200.00
An accident or health insurance company or association	200.00
A marine insurance company or association	200.00
A fidelity or surety company or association	200.00
A plate-glass insurance company or association	200.00
A boiler insurance company or association	200.00
A foreign mutual insurance company or association	200.00
A domestic farmers' mutual insurance company or association	10.00
A fraternal order	25.00
A bond, investment, dividend, guaranty, registry, title guaranty, credit, fidelity, liability, or debenture company or association	200.00
All other insurance companies or associations except domestic mutual burial associations	200.00

On all domestic mutual burial associations, and on each additional branch thereof operated (and where any mutual burial association has designated more than one undertaker to operate for it), the tax shall be in each instance as upon a separate branch thereof:

With a membership of less than 5,000	$ 50.00
With a membership of 5,000 or less than 15,000	75.00
With a membership of 15,000 or more	100.00

When the paid-in capital stock and/or surplus of a life insurance company does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) the license tax levied in subsection one shall be one-half the amount named.

All such license fees shall be subject to the provisions of § 58-64 as to additional classes of business.

(2) Every such person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in the business hereinbefore described in this section, shall by its general agent, president, or secretary, within the first fifteen days of February and August of each year, file with the insurance commissioner of this state a full, accurate, and correct report and statement, verified by the oath of such general agent or president, secretary, or some officer at the home or head office of the company or association in this country, of the total gross premium receipts including premiums or deposits on annuity contracts derived from such insurance business from the residents of this state, or on property located therein, during the preceding six months of the previous calendar year, and at the time of making such report and statement shall, except as hereinafter provided, pay to the insurance commissioner, in addition to other license taxes imposed in this section, a license or privilege tax for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, a license tax of two and one-half per cent (2½%) upon the amount of such gross premium receipts, with no deduction for dividends, whether returned in cash or allowed in payment or reduction of premiums or for additional insurance, and without any deduction except for return premiums or return assessments. The rate of tax on premiums for liability under the Workmen's Compensation Act for all insurance companies collecting such premiums shall be four per cent (4%) on all premiums collected in this state on such liability insurance, and a corresponding rate of tax shall be collected from self-insurers: Provided, if any general agent shall file with the insurance commissioner a sworn statement showing that one-fifth of the entire assets of his company are invested and are maintained in any of the following securities or property, to-wit: bonds of this state or any county, city, town, or school district of this state; or in loans to citizens or corporations or organizations in this state; or stock in corporations of this state; or property situated within this state, then such tax shall be three-fourths per centum of such gross premium receipts: Provided, that the provisions herein as to tax and premium receipts shall not apply to domestic farmers' mutual fire insurance companies, nor to fraternal orders or societies that do not operate for a profit and do not issue policies on any person except its members.

(3) Every special or district agent, manager, or organizer, general agent, local canvassing agent, resident or non-resident adjuster, or non-resident broker, representing any company referred to in this section, shall on or before the first day of April of each year apply for and obtain from the insurance commissioner a license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this state, and shall pay for such license for each company represented the following annual tax:

Special or district agent, manager, or organizer (including seal)	$ 5.00
General agent	6.00
Local or canvassing agent (including seal)	2.50
Resident fire insurance adjuster	2.00
Non-resident fire insurance adjuster	5.00
Non-resident broker	10.00

But any such company having assets invested and maintained in this state as provided in subsection three of this section shall pay the following license fees: for

Special agent (including seal)	$2.50
Local canvassing agent (including seal)	1.00

Any person not licensed as an insurance agent on April first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and applying for license thereafter, shall pay an examination fee of ten dollars ($10.00), to be paid to the insurance commissioner as other license fees and taxes: Provided, agents for farm mutual fire insurance companies shall not be required to take an examination and pay the examination fee.

In the event a license issued under this subsection is lost or destroyed, the insurance commissioner, for a fee of fifty cents ($0.50) may certify to its issuance, giving number, date, and form, which may be used by the original party named thereon in lieu of the said original license. There shall be no charge for the seal affixed to such certificate of said license.

(4) Any person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, exchanging reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts as provided herein, shall pay through their attorneys an annual license fee, due and payable on the first day of April of each year, of two hundred dollars ($200.00) and two and one-half per cent (2½%) of the gross premium deposits, and also all other regular fees prescribed by law, to be reported, assessed, and paid as other gross premium taxes provided for in this section: Provided, the tax on workmen's compensation insurance premiums shall be the same as that fixed in subsection two of this section.

(5) Companies paying the tax levied in this section shall not be liable for franchise tax on their capital stock, and no county, city, or town shall be allowed to impose any additional tax, license, or fee, other than ad valorem taxes, upon any insurance company, association or agent paying the tax levied in this section. The license fees and taxes imposed in this section shall be paid to the insurance commissioner. (1939, c. 158, s. 208; 1941, c. 50, s. 4.)

§ 105-122. Franchise or privilege tax on domestic and foreign corporations.—(1) Every corporation, domestic and foreign, incorporated or, by any act, domesticated under the laws of this state, except as otherwise provided in this article or schedule, shall, on or before the thirty-first day of July of each year, make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue in such form as he may prescribe a full, accurate and complete report and statement verified by the oath of its duly authorized officers, containing such facts and information as may be required by the commissioner of revenue as shown by the books and records of the corporation as at the close of its last calendar or fiscal year next preceding July thirty-first of the year in which report is due.

(2) Every such corporation taxed under this section shall determine the total amount of its issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits; no reservation or allocation from surplus or undivided profits shall be allowed other than for definite and accrued legal liabilities, except as herein provided; taxes accrued, dividends declared and reserves for depreciation of tangible assets as permitted for income tax purposes shall be treated as deductable liabilities. Every such corporation, the capital stock of which is inadequate for its business needs, which is a subsidiary of another corporation or closely affiliated therewith by stock ownership, shall include its indebtedness owed to, endorsed or guaranteed by the parent or affiliated corporation (including a co-subsidiary of the same parent corporation) in the amount of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits in determining the basis for its franchise tax liability under this article. Treasury stock shall not be considered in computing the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as the basis for franchise tax, but shall be excluded proportionately from said capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as the case may be upon the basis and to the extent of the cost thereof. The capital stock for the purposes of this section shall be deemed to be inadequate to the extent that additional loans, credits, goods, supplies or other capital of whatsoever nature is furnished by the parent or affiliated corporation.

In determining the total amount of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits, as herein defined, effect shall be given to the final judgment of any court approving a corporate reorganization entered prior to July first of any calendar year and since the close of the corporation's last calendar or fiscal year next preceding.

(3) After ascertaining and determining the amount of its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits, as herein provided, every such corporation permitted to do business in this state shall allocate to such business in this state a proportion of the total amount of its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as herein defined, according to the following rules:

(A) If the principal business of a company in this state is manufacturing, or if it is in any form of collecting, buying, assembling, or processing goods and materials within this state the total amount of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of such corporation shall be apportioned to North Carolina on the basis of the ratio obtained by taking the arithmetical average of the following two ratios:

(a) The ratio of the book value of its real estate and tangible personal property in this state on the date of the close of the calendar or fiscal year of such corporation in the income year is to the book value of its entire real estate and tangible personal property then owned by it, with no deductions on account of encumbrances thereon.

(b) The ratio of the total cost of manufacturing, collecting, buying, assembling, or processing within this state during the income year to the total cost of manufacturing, collecting, assembling, or processing within and without the state. The term "cost of manufacturing, collecting, buying, assembling, or processing within and without this state" as used herein shall be interpreted in a manner to conform as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in the trade or business. Unless in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue the peculiar circumstances in any case justify a different basis, this term shall be generally interpreted to include as elements of cost within and without this state the following:

(c) The total cost of all goods, materials, and supplies used in manufacturing, assembling, or processing, regardless of where purchased.

(d) The total wages and salaries paid or accrued during the income year in such manufacturing, assembling, or processing activities.

(e) The total overhead or manufacturing burden properly assignable according to good accounting practice to such manufacturing, assembling, or processing activities, not including, however, property, privilege, stamp or other taxes.

(f) The term "book value" as used herein shall be defined to mean original cost plus additions and improvements less reserve for depreciation on the date of the close of the calendar or fiscal year of such company, unless in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue the peculiar circumstances in any case justify a different basis.

(g) The words "tangible personal property" shall be taken to mean corporeal personal property such as machinery, tools, implements, goods, wares and merchandise, and shall not be taken to mean cash on hand or in bank, shares of stock, bonds, notes, accounts receivable, credits, special privileges, franchises, good will, or evidence of an interest in property and evidences of debt.

(h) The word "manufacturing" shall be defined as mining and all processes of fabricating or of curing raw material.

(B) If the principal business of a company in this state is selling, distributing, or dealing in tangible personal property within this state, the total amount of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of such company shall be apportioned to North Carolina on the basis of the ratio obtained by taking the arithmetical average of the following two ratios:

(a) The ratio of the book value of its real estate and tangible personal property in this state on the date of the close of the calendar or fiscal year of such company in the income year is to the book value of its entire real estate and tangible personal property then owned by it, with no deduction on account of encumbrances thereon.

(b) The ratio of the total sales made through or by offices, agencies, or branches located in North Carolina during the income year to the total sales made everywhere during said income year.

(c) The word "sales" as used in this section shall be defined as sale or rental of real estate and sale or rental of tangible properties.

(d) The term "book value" as used herein shall be defined to mean original cost plus additions and improvements less reserve for depreciation on the date of the close of the calendar or fiscal year of such company, unless in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue the peculiar circumstances in any case justify a different basis.

(e) The words "tangible personal property" shall be taken to mean corporeal personal property such as machinery, tools, implements, goods, wares and merchandise, and shall not be taken to mean cash on hand or in bank, shares of stock, bonds, notes, accounts receivable, credits, special privileges, franchises, good will, or evidence of an interest in property and evidences of debt.

(C) If the principal business in this state of a corporation is other than that described in subsection (A) or subsection (B) of this section, then the total amount of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of such corporation shall be apportioned to North Carolina on the basis of the ratio of its gross receipts in this state during the income year to its gross receipts for such year within and without the state.

(a) The words "gross receipts" as used in this subsection shall be taken to mean and include the entire receipts for business done by such corporation.

(D) The proportion of the total capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such corporation so allocated shall be deemed to be the proportion of the total capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such corporation used in connection with its business in this state and liable for annual franchise tax under the provisions of this section.

(4) After determining the proportion of its total capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as set out in subsection three of this section, which amount so determined shall in no case be less than the total assessed value (including total gross valuation returned for taxation of intangible personal property) of all the real and personal property in this state of each such corporation for the year in which report is due nor less than its total actual investment in tangible property in this state, every corporation taxed under this section shall annually pay to the commissioner of revenue, at the time the report and statement are due, a franchise or privilege tax, which is hereby levied, at the rate of one dollar and seventy-five cents ($1.75) per one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) of the total amount of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as herein provided. The tax imposed in this section shall in no case be less than ten dollars ($10.00) and shall be for the privilege of carrying on, doing business, and/or the continuance of articles of incorporation or domestication of each such corporation in this state: Provided, that the basis for the franchise tax on all corporations, eighty per cent (80%) of whose outstanding capital stock is owned by persons or corporations to whom or to which such stock was issued prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, in part payment or settlement of their respective deposits in any closed bank of the state of North Carolina, shall be the total assessed value of the real and tangible personal property of such corporation in this state for the year in which report and statement is due under the provisions of this section. The term "total actual investment in tangible property" as used in this section shall be construed to mean the total original purchase price or consideration to the reporting taxpayer of its tangible properties, including real estate, in this state plus additions and improvements thereto less reserve for depreciation as permitted for income tax purposes, and also less any indebtedness incurred and existing by virtue of the purchase of any real estate and any permanent improvements made thereon.

(5) The report, statement and tax required by this section shall be in addition to all other reports required or taxes levied and assessed in this state.

Counties, cities and towns shall not levy a franchise tax on corporations taxed under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 210; 1941, c. 50, s. 4.)

§ 105-123. New corporations.—(1) No corporation, domestic or foreign, shall be permitted to do business in this state without paying the franchise tax levied in this article or schedule. When such domestic corporation is incorporated under laws of this state or such foreign corporation is domesticated in this state, and has not heretofore done business in the state, upon which a report might be filed under § 105-122 notice in writing thereof shall be given to the commissioner of revenue by such corporation, and it shall be competent for the commissioner of revenue and he is hereby authorized to obtain such information concerning the basis for the levy of the tax from such other information he can obtain and to that end may require of such corporation to furnish him such a report as may clearly reflect and disclose the amount of its issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as set out in § 105-122, and information as to such other factors as may be necessary to determine the basis of the tax. When this has been determined, in accordance with the provisions of § 105-122 as far as the same may be applicable, and upon the information which he has secured, the commissioner of revenue shall thereupon determine the amount of franchise tax to be paid by such new corporation, and said tax shall be due and payable within thirty days from date of notice thereof from the commissioner of revenue, which tax, in no event, shall be less than a ratable proportion of the tax for the franchise privilege extended for one year on the determined basis, nor less than the minimum tax of ten dollars ($10.00); the tax levied in this section shall be for the period from date of incorporation or domestication to June thirtieth next following.

(2) Any corporation failing to notify the commissioner of revenue as provided for in subsection (1) of this section within sixty days after date of the incorporation or domestication of such corporation in this state shall be subject to all penalties and remedies imposed for failure to file any report required under this article or schedule.

(3) The provisions of this section shall apply only to corporations newly incorporated or newly domesticated in this state. (1939, c. 158, s. 211.)

§ 105-124. Review of returns—additional taxes.—Upon receipt of any report, statement and tax as provided by this article or schedule, the commissioner of revenue shall cause same to be reviewed and examined for the purpose of ascertaining if same constitute a true and correct return as required by this article or schedule. If the commissioner of revenue discovers from the examination of any return, or otherwise, that the franchise or privilege tax of any taxpayer has not been correctly determined, computed and/or paid, he may at any time within three years after the time when the return was due, give notice in writing, to the taxpayer of such deficiency plus interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from date when return was due, and any over-payment of the tax shall be returned to the taxpayer within thirty days after it is ascertained. In the case of any taxpayer who has failed to file any return or statement required under this article or schedule, the limitation of three years shall not apply and the commissioner of revenue shall, from facts within his knowledge, prepare tentative returns for such delinquent taxpayer, and shall assess the taxes, penalties and interest upon these findings; this provision shall not be construed to relieve said taxpayer from liability for a return or from any penalties and remedies imposed for failure to file proper return. Any taxpayer feeling aggrieved by such proposed assessment shall be entitled to a hearing before the commissioner of revenue, if within thirty days after date of notice of such proposed assessment, the taxpayer shall apply in writing for such hearing, explaining in detail his objections to same. If no request for such hearing is made, such proposed assessment shall be final and conclusive. If the request for hearing is made, the taxpayer shall be heard by the commissioner of revenue, and after such hearing the commissioner of revenue shall render his decision. The taxpayer shall be advised of his decision by mail, and such amount shall be due and payable within ten days after date of notice thereof. (1939, c. 158, s. 212.)

§ 105-125. Corporations not mentioned.—None of the taxes levied in §§ 105-122 and 105-123 shall apply to religious, fraternal, benevolent, or educational corporations not operating for a profit; nor to banking and insurance companies; nor to business leagues, boards of trade, clubs organized and operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation and other non-profitable purposes, civic leagues operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare, or chambers of commerce and merchants associations not organized for profit, and no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder, individual, or other corporations:

Provided, that each such corporation must, upon request by the commissioner of revenue, establish in writing its claim for exemption from said provisions. The provisions of §§ 105-122 and 105-123 shall apply to electric light, power, street railway, gas, water, Pullman, sleeping and dining car, express, telegraph, telephone, motor bus, and truck corporations to the extent and only to the extent that the franchise tax levied in §§ 105-122 and 105-123 exceed the franchise taxes levied in other sections of this article or schedule. The exemptions in this section shall apply only to those corporations specifically mentioned, and no other. (1939, c. 158, s. 213.)

§ 105-126. Penalties for non-payment or failure to file report.—(1) Any person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, failing to pay the license, privilege, or franchise tax levied and assessed under this article or schedule when due and payable shall, in addition to all other penalties prescribed in this article, pay an additional tax of ten per cent (10%) and interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum on the total amount of tax due and additional tax incurred, which said additional tax shall not be less than two dollars ($2.00) in any case, and shall be added to the tax, together with the interest accrued, and shall become an integral part of the tax.

(2) Any person, firm, or corporation failing to file the report required in this article or schedule on or before the date specified shall pay a penalty of ten per cent (10%) of the tax found to be due, which penalty shall in no case be less than five dollars ($5.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 214.)

§ 105-127. When franchise or privilege taxes payable. — (1) Every corporation, domestic or foreign, from which a report is required by law to be made to the commissioner of revenue shall, unless otherwise provided, pay to said commissioner annually the franchise tax as required by §§ 105-122 and 105-123.

(2) It shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue to mail to the registered address, last listed with the commissioner of revenue, of every such corporation, report forms to be used in complying with the provisions of this article or schedule, which forms shall contain a copy of so much of this and other sections of this article as relates to penalties for failure to pay said taxes.

(3) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officer having charge of any such corporation, domestic or foreign, upon which a tax is herein imposed, to transmit the amount of the tax due to the commissioner of revenue within the time provided by law for payment of same.

(4) Individual stockholders in any corporation, joint stock association, limited partnership, or company paying a tax on its entire capital stock shall not be required to list or pay ad valorem taxes on the shares of stock owned by them.

(5) Corporations in the state legally holding shares of stock in other corporations, upon which the tax has been paid to the state by the corporation issuing the same, shall not be required to list or pay an ad valorem tax on said shares of stock. (1939, c. 158, s. 215.)

§ 105-128. Power of attorney.—The commissioner of revenue shall have the authority to require a proper power of attorney of each and every agent for any taxpayer under this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 217.)

§ 105-129. Extension of time for filing returns; fraudulent return made misdemeanor. — (1) The return required by this article or schedule shall be due on or before the dates specified unless written application for extension of time in which to file, containing reasons therefor, is made to the commissioner of revenue on or before due date of such return. The commissioner of revenue for good cause may extend the time for filing any return under this article or schedule, provided interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from date return is due is paid upon the total amount of tax due.

(2) The provisions of this article with respect to revision and appeal shall apply to the tax so assessed. The limitation of three years to the assessment of such tax or additional tax shall not apply to the assessment of additional taxes upon fraudulent return. Any officer or agent of a corporation who shall knowingly make a fraudulent return under this article or schedule shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and/or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (1939, c. 158, s. 216.)

Art. 4. Schedule D. Income Tax.

§ 105-130. Short title.—This article shall be known and may be cited as the income tax article of the revenue act. (1939, c. 158, s. 300.)

§ 105-131. Purpose.—The general purpose of this article is to impose a tax for the use of the state government upon the net income in excess of the exemption herein allowed, for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine and each year thereafter collectible in the year one thousand nine hundred and forty and annually thereafter:

(a) Of every resident of the state.

(b) Of every domestic corporation.

(c) Of every foreign corporation and of every non-resident individual having a business or agency in this state or income from property owned, and from every business, trade, profession or occupation carried on in this state.

(d) The tax imposed upon the net income of corporations in this article is in addition to all other taxes imposed under this act. (1939, c. 158, s. 301.)

§ 105-132. Definitions. — For the purpose of this article, and unless otherwise required by the context:

1. The word "taxpayer" includes any individual, corporation, or fiduciary subject to the tax imposed by this article.

2. The word "individual" means a natural person.

3. A "head of a household" is an individual who actually maintains and supports in one household in this state one or more individuals who are closely related by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based on some moral or legal obligation.

4. The word "fiduciary" means a guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any person, whether individual or corporation, acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person, estate or trust.

5. The word "person" includes individuals, fiduciaries, partnerships.

6. The word "corporation" includes joint stock companies or associations and insurance companies.

7. The words "domestic corporation" mean any corporation organized under the laws of this state.

8. The words "foreign corporation" mean any corporation other than a domestic corporation.

9. The words "tax year" mean the calendar year in which the tax is payable.

10. The words "income year" mean the calendar year or the fiscal year upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this article; if no fiscal year has been established, they mean the calendar year.

11. The words "fiscal year" mean an income year, ending on the last day of any month other than December.

12. The word "paid", for the purposes of the deductions under this article, means "paid or accrued" and the words "paid or accrued" shall be construed according to the method of accounting upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this article. The word "received", for the purpose of the computation of the net income under this article, means "received or accrued", and the words "received or accrued" shall be construed according to the method of accounting upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this article.

13. The word "resident" applies only to individuals and includes, for the purpose of determining liability for the tax imposed with reference to the income of any income year, all individuals who, at any time during such income year, are domiciled in this state, or who, whether regarding their domicile as in this state or not, reside within this state for other than a temporary or transitory purpose. In the absence of convincing proof to the contrary, any individual who is present within the state for more than six months during such income year shall be deemed to be a resident of the state; but absence from the state for more than six months shall raise no presumption that the individual is not a resident of the state.

In cases in which it is demonstrated to the satisfaction of the commissioner of revenue that an individual was a resident of this state for only part of the income year, having moved into or removed from the state during such year, such individual shall, as to income received by him during the period of his residence, report for taxation all income required to be so reported by residents and shall, as to income received by him during the remainder of such year, report for taxation all income required to be so reported by nonresidents: Provided, that in the case of an individual removing from the state during such year, he shall not be regarded as having become a nonresident until he shall have both established a definite residence elsewhere and abandoned any domicile he may have acquired in this state.

The fact that an individual is a nonresident of the state at the time the tax becomes due and payable shall not affect his liability for the tax.

14. The words "foreign country" mean any jurisdiction other than the one embraced within the United States. The words "United States", when used in a geographical sense, include the states, and territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and the possessions of the United States. (1939, c. 158, s. 302; 1941, c. 50, s. 5.)

Imposition of Income Tax.

§ 105-133. Individuals.—A tax is hereby imposed upon every resident of the state, which tax shall be levied, collected and paid annually, with respect to the net income of the taxpayer as herein defined, and upon income earned within the state of every non-resident having a business or agency in this state or income from property owned and from every business, trade, profession or occupation carried on in this state, computed at the following rates, after deducting the exemptions provided in this article.

On the excess over the amount legally exempted, up to two thousand dollars, three per cent (3%).

On the excess above two thousand dollars, and up to four thousand dollars, four per cent (4%).

On the excess above four thousand dollars, and up to six thousand dollars, five per cent (5%).

On the excess over six thousand dollars, and up to ten thousand dollars, six per cent (6%).

On the excess over ten thousand dollars, seven per cent (7%). (1939, c. 158, s. 310.)

§ 105-134. Corporations.

I. Domestic Corporations. — Every corporation organized under the laws of this state shall pay annually an income tax equivalent to six per cent on the entire net income, as herein defined, received by such corporation during the income year.

II. Foreign Corporations. — Every foreign corporation doing business in this state shall pay annually an income tax equivalent to six per cent of a proportion of its entire net income, to be determined according to the following rules:

1. If the principal business of a company in this state is manufacturing, or if it is any form of collecting, buying, assembling, or processing goods and materials within this state, the entire net income of such corporation shall be apportioned by North Carolina on the basis of the ratio obtained by taking the arithmetical average of the following two ratios:

(a) The ratio of the book value of its real estate and tangible personal property in this state on the date of the close of the calendar or the fiscal year of such corporation in the income year is to the book value of its entire real estate and tangible personal property then owned by it, with no deductions on account of encumbrances thereon.

(b) The ratio of the total cost of manufacturing, collecting, buying, assembling, or processing within this state during the income year to the total cost of manufacturing, collecting, buying, assembling, or processing within and without the state. The term "cost of manufacturing, collecting, buying, assembling, or processing within and without this state", as used herein, shall be interpreted in a manner to conform as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in the trade or business. Unless in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue the peculiar circumstances in any case justify a different basis, this term shall be generally interpreted to include as elements of cost within and without this state the following:

(c) The total cost of all goods, materials, and supplies used in manufacturing, assembling, or processing, regardless of where purchased.

(d) The total wages and salaries paid or accrued during the income year in such manufacturing, assembling or processing activities.

(e) The total overhead or manufacturing burden properly assignable according to good accounting practice to such manufacturing, assembling or processing activities, not including, however, property, privilege, stamp, or other taxes.

(f) The term "book value" as used herein shall be defined to mean original cost plus additions and improvements less reserve for depreciation on the date of the close of the calendar or fiscal year of such company, unless in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue the peculiar circumstances in any case justify a different basis.

(g) The words "tangible personal property" shall be taken to mean corporeal personal property such as machinery, tools, implements, goods, wares and merchandise, and shall not be taken to mean cash on hand or in bank, shares of stock, bonds, notes, accounts receivable, credits, special privileges, franchises, good will, or evidence of an interest in property and evidences of debt.

(h) The word "manufacturing" shall be defined as mining and all processes of fabricating or of curing raw materials.

2. If the principal business of a company in this state is selling, distributing or dealing in tangible personal property within this state, the entire net income of such company shall be apportioned to North Carolina on the basis of the ratio obtained by taking the arithmetical average of the following two ratios.

(a) The ratio of the book value of its real estate and tangible personal property in this state on the date of the close of the calendar or fiscal year of such company in the income year is to the book value of its entire real estate and tangible property then owned by it, with no deduction on account of encumbrances thereon.

(b) The ratio of the total sales made through or by offices, agencies, or branches located in North Carolina during the income year to the total sales made everywhere during said income year.

(c) The word "sales" as used in this section shall be defined as sale or rental of real estate and sale or rental of tangible properties.

(d) The term "book value" as used herein shall be defined to mean original cost plus additions and improvements less reserve for depreciation on the date of the close of the calendar or fiscal year of such company, unless in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue the peculiar circumstances in any case justify a different basis.

(e) The words "tangible personal property" shall be taken to mean corporeal personal property such as machinery, tools, implements, goods, wares and merchandise, and shall not be taken to mean cash on hand or in bank, shares of stock, bonds, notes, accounts receivable, credits, special privileges, franchises, good will, or evidence of an interest in property and evidences of debt.

(f) Foreign insurance companies doing business in this state and returning premium receipts to the insurance commissioner, and paying the tax upon such premium receipts as provided in § 105-121 shall be exempt from this tax on income in so far as the income is derived from their insurance business. However, in case of a foreign insurance company owning real estate in this state from which rents are received it is required to file an income tax return reporting income received from such real estate in this state and take credit for actual expenses incurred in connection therewith.

3. If the principal business in this state of a corporation is other than that described in subsection 1 or subsection 2 of subdivision II of this section, then the total income of such corporation shall be apportioned to North Carolina on the basis of the ratio of its gross receipts in this state during the income year to its gross receipts for such year within and without the state.

(a) The words "gross receipts" as used in this subsection shall be taken to mean and include the entire receipts for business done by such company. (1939, c. 158, s. 311; 1941, c. 50, s. 5.)

§ 105-135. Income from stock in foreign corporations.—Income from stock in foreign corporations, in cash dividends, received by individuals, fiduciaries, partnerships (to be reported by partners on their individual returns) or corporations, resident in this state, or by non-resident fiduciary if held for a resident of this state, shall be reported and taxed as other income taxable under this article. Every individual, fiduciary, partnership, or corporation owning such shares of stock, and receiving dividends from same, shall report such income to the commissioner of revenue, at the time required by this article for reporting other income, and shall pay the tax herein imposed at the same time and in the same way as tax upon other income is payable. With respect to corporations paying a tax in this state on a proportionate part of their total income, the holder of shares of stock in such corporation shall pay on the total dividends received an amount equaling the percentage of the corporation's income on which it has not paid an income tax to the state of North Carolina for the year in which said dividends are received by the taxpayer. (1939, c. 158, s. 311½.)

§ 105-136. Railroads and public-service corporations.—The basis of ascertaining the net income of every corporation engaged in the business of operating a steam, electric railroad, express service, telephone or telegraph business, or other form of public service, when such company is required by the interstate commerce commission to keep records according to its standard classification of accounting, shall be the "net revenue from operations" of such corporation as shown by their records, kept in accordance with that standard classification of accounts when their business is wholly within this state, and when their business is in part within and in part without the state. their net income within this state shall be ascertained by taking their gross "operating revenues" within this state, including in their gross "operating revenues" within this state the equal mileage proportion within this state of their interstate business, and deducting from their gross "operating revenues" the proportionate average of "operating expense" or "operating ratio" for their whole business, as shown by the interstate commerce commission standard classification of accounts:

Provided, that if the standard classification of operating expenses prescribed by the interstate commerce commission for railroads differs from the standard classification of operating expenses prescribed by the interstate commerce commission for other public-service corporations, such other public-service corporations shall be entitled to the same operating expenses as prescribed for railroads. From the net operating income thus ascertained shall be deducted "uncollectible revenue" and taxes paid in this state for the income year other than income taxes, and the balance shall be deemed to be their net income taxable under this article. That in determining the taxable income of a corporation engaged in the business of operating a railroad under this section, in the case of a railroad located entirely within this state, the net operating income shall be increased or decreased to the extent of any credit or debit balance received or paid, as the case may be, on account of car or locomotive hire; and when any railroad is located partly within and partly without this state, the said net operating income shall be increased or decreased to the extent of an equal mileage proportion within this state of any credit or debit balance received or paid, as the case may be, on account of car or locomotive hire.

For the purposes of this section the words "interstate business" shall mean, as to transportation companies, operating revenue earned within the state by reason of the interstate transportation of persons or property into, out of, or through this state, and as to transmission companies the interstate transmission of messages into, out of, or through the state.

The words "equal mileage proportion within the state" shall mean the proportion of revenue received by the company operating in this state from interstate business as defined in the preceding paragraph, which the distance of movement over lines in this state bears to the total distance of movement over lines of the company receiving such revenue. If the commissioner of revenue shall find, with respect to any particular company, that its accounting records are not kept so as to reflect with exact accuracy such division of revenue by state lines as to each transaction involving interstate revenue, the commissioner of revenue may adopt such regulations, based upon averages, as will approximate with reasonable accuracy the proportion of interstate revenue actually earned upon lines in this state.

The words "proportionate average of 'operating expenses' or 'operating ratio'" shall mean the proportion of gross revenue of a company, on its whole business absorbed in operating expenses, as defined in the interstate commerce commission classification of accounts.

In determining the taxable income of a railroad company operating two or more lines of railroad not physically connected, and when one of such railroad lines is located wholly within this state, the actual earnings and expenses of such line in this state, in so far as they may be severable, shall be used in determining net income taxable in this state.

With respect to leased lines operated in this state where the operating company pays a tax on the income earned on such leased lines, without deduction for lease rental, and on a sum properly allocable to such leased lines equal to the amount of lease rental paid, such lease rental shall not be taxable income against the lessor; provided that the stockholders of any such lessor corporation who receive dividends on their stock in such corporation shall be entitled to such income tax exemption with respect to such dividends as they would have had if the lessor corporation had paid an income tax on such exempted lease rental.

All other public service corporations shall file under § 105-134. (1939, c. 158, s. 312; 1941, c. 50, s. 5.)

§ 105-137. Taxable year. — The tax imposed by this article for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine shall be assessed, collected, and paid in the year one thousand nine hundred and forty and for the year one thousand nine hundred and forty and years thereafter shall be assessed, collected, and paid in the year following the year for which the assessment is made. (1939, c. 158, s. 313.)

§ 105-138. Conditional and other exemptions.—The following organizations shall be exempt from taxation under this article:

1. Fraternal beneficiary societies, orders or associations.

(a) Operating under the lodge system or for the exclusive benefit of the members of a fraternity itself operating under the lodge system, and

(b) Providing for the payment of life, sick, accident, or other benefits to the members of such society, order or association, or their dependents.

2. Building and loan associations and cooperative banks without capital stock, organized and operated for mutual purposes and without profit.

3. Cemetery corporations and corporations organized for religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

4. Business leagues, chambers of commerce, merchants' associations, or boards of trade not organized for profit, and no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

5. Civic leagues or organizations not organized for profit, but operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare.

6. Clubs organized and operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation, and other non-profitable purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or member.

7. Farmers' or other mutual hail, cyclone, or fire insurance companies, mutual ditch or irrigation companies, mutual or cooperative telephone companies, or like organizations of a purely local character the income of which consists solely of assessments, dues and fees collected from members for the sole purpose of meeting expenses.

8. Farmers', fruit growers', or like organizations organized and operated as sales agents for the purpose of marketing the products of members and turning back to them the proceeds of sales, less the necessary selling expenses, on the basis of the quantity of product furnished by them.

9. Mutual associations formed under §§ 54-111 to 54-128, formed to conduct agricultural business on the mutual plan; or to marketing associations organized under §§ 54-129 to 54-158. (1939, c. 158, s. 314.)

§ 105-139. Fiduciaries.—The tax imposed by this article shall be imposed upon resident fiduciries having in charge funds or property for the benefit of a resident of this state, and/or income earned in this state for the benefit of a non-resident, and upon a non-resident fiduciary having in charge funds or property for the benefit of a resident of this state, which tax shall be levied, collected and paid annually with respect to:

(a) That part of the net income of estates or trusts which has not become distributable during the income year.

(b) The net income received during the income year by deceased individuals who, at the time of death, were residents and who have died during the tax year or the income year without having made a return.

(c) The entire net income of resident, insolvent, or incompetent individuals, whether or not any portion thereof is held for the future use of the beneficiaries, where the fiduciary has complete charge of such net income.

(d) The tax imposed upon a fiduciary by this article shall be a charge against the estate or trust. (1939, c. 158, s. 315.)

§ 105-140. Net income defined. — The words "net income" mean the gross income of a taxpayer, less the deductions allowed by this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 316.)

§ 105-141. Gross income defined.—1. The words "gross income" mean the income of a taxpayer derived from salaries, wages, or compensation for personal service, of whatever kind and in whatever form paid, or from professions, vocations, trades, business, commerce or sales, or dealings in property, whether real or personal, located in this or any other state or any other place, growing out of the ownership or use of or interest in such property, also from interest, rent, dividends, securities, or the transactions of any business carried on for gain or profit, or gains or profits, and income derived from any source whatever and in whatever form paid. The amount of all such items shall be included in the gross income of the income year in which received by the taxpayer, unless, under the methods of accounting permitted under this article, any such amounts are to be properly accounted for as of a different period. The term "gross income" as used in this article shall include the salaries of all constitutional state officials taking office after the date of the enactment of this article by election, reelection or appointment, and all acts fixing the compensation of such constitutional state officials are hereby amended accordingly. The term "gross income" and the words "business, trade, profession, or occupation," and the words "salaries, wages, or compensation for personal services," as used in this article, shall include compensation received for personal service as an officer or employee of the United States, any territory or possession or political subdivision thereof, the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing, including compensation as an officer or employee of the executive, legislative, or judicial branches of the government of the United States and of the military, naval, coast guard or other services thereof.

The term "gross income" as used in this article shall include income from annuities based on three per cent (3%) of the consideration or cost of the annuity or contract as income yearly.

2. The words "gross income" do not include the following items, which shall be exempt from taxation under this article, but shall be reported in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the commissioner of revenue:

(a) The proceeds of life insurance policies and contracts paid upon the death of the insured to beneficiaries or to the estate of the insured.

(b) The amount received by the insured as a return of premium or premiums paid by him under life insurance endowment contracts, either during the term or at the maturity of the term mentioned in the contracts or upon surrender of the contract.

(c) The value of property acquired by gift, bequest, devise or descent (but the income from such property shall be included in gross income).

(d) Interest upon the obligations of the United States or its possessions, or of the state of North Carolina, or of a political subdivision thereof: Provided, interest upon the obligations of the United States, shall not be excluded from gross income unless interest upon obligations of the state of North Carolina or any of its political subdivisions is excluded from income taxes imposed by the United States. Except that interest upon the obligations of the United States or its possessions, or of the state of North Carolina, or of a political subdivision thereof, shall in no case be included in the "gross income" of any banking corporation organized under the banking laws of North Carolina.

(e) Any amounts received through accident or health insurance or under the Workmen's Compensation Act, as compensation for personal injuries or sickness, plus the amount of any damages received, whether by suit or agreement, on account of such injuries or sickness.

(f) In case of domestic insurance companies or associations paying a tax on their gross premium receipts, in addition to the above, (a) the net addition required by law to be made within the taxable year to reserve funds, including the actual deposit of sums with the commissioner of insurance or the treasurer of the state, pursuant to the law, as additions to guarantee or reserve funds for the benefit of policyholders, and (b) the sums paid within the taxable year on policy and annuity contracts to policyholders. (1939, c. 158, s. 317; 1941, c. 50, s. 5, c. 283.)

§ 105-142. Basis of return of net income.—1. The net income of a taxpayer shall be computed in accordance with the method of accounting regularly employed in keeping the books of such taxpayer, but such method of accounting must be consistent with respect to both income and deductions, but if in any case such method does not clearly reflect the income, the computation shall be made in accordance with such method as in the opinion of the commissioner does clearly reflect the income, but shall follow as nearly as practicable the federal practice, unless contrary to the context and intent of this article.

2. A taxpayer may, with the approval of the commissioner of revenue, and under such regulations as he may prescribe, change the income year from fiscal year to calendar year or otherwise, in which case his net income shall be computed upon the basis of such new income year: Provided, that such approval must be obtained from the commissioner at least thirty days prior to the end of such income year.

3. An individual carrying on business in partnership shall be liable for income tax only in his individual capacity, and shall include in his gross income, whether distributed or not, his distributive share of the net income of the partnership and dividends from foreign corporations for each income year.

4. Every individual taxable under this article who is a beneficiary of an estate or trust shall include in his gross income the distributive share of the net income of the estate or trust received by him or distributable to him during the income year. Unless otherwise provided in the law, the will, the deed, or other instrument creating the estate, trust, or fiduciary relation, the net income shall be deemed to be distributed or distributable to the beneficiaries (including the fiduciary as a beneficiary, in the case of income accumulated for future distribution), ratable in proportion to their respective interest. (1939, c. 158, s. 318.)

§ 105-143. Subsidiary corporations. — The net income of a corporation doing business in this state which is a subsidiary or affiliate of another corporation shall be determined by eliminating all payments to or charges by the parent corporation or other subsidiaries or affiliates of the parent corporation in excess of fair compensation for all services performed for or commodities or property sold, transferred, leased, or licensed to the parent or to its other subsidiary or affiliated corporations by the corporation doing business in this state. If the commissioner of revenue shall find as a fact that a report by such subsidiary or affiliated corporation does not disclose the true earnings of such corporation on its business carried on in this state, the commissioner may require that such subsidiary or affiliated corporation file a consolidated return of the entire operations of such parent corporation and of its subsidiaries and affiliates, including its own operations and income, and may determine the true amount of net income earned by such subsidiary or affiliated corporation in this state by taking the factor of investment in real estate and tangible personal property in this state and volume of business in this state and by relating these factors to the total investment of the parent corporation and its subsidiaries and affiliated corporations in real estate and tangible personal property in and out of this state and their total volume of business in and out of this state. The authority hereby given to require consolidated returns as aforesaid and to ascertain the true amount of income earned in this state on the basis herein prescribed may also be used by the commissioner as the basis of ascertaining the true net income earned in this state during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty and for the three calendar years prior thereto. For the purposes of this section, a corporation shall be deemed a subsidiary of another corporation when, directly or indirectly, it is subject to control by such other corporation by stock ownership, interlocking directors, or by any other means whatsoever exercised by the same or associated financial interests, whether such control is direct or through one or more subsidiary, affiliated, or controlled corporations, and a corporation shall be deemed an affiliate of another corporation when both are directly or indirectly controlled by the same parent corporation or by the same or associated financial interests by stock ownership, interlocking directors, or by any other means whatsoever, whether such control be direct or through one or more subsidiary, affiliated or controlled corporations. Upon such finding by the commissioner, the consolidated returns authorized by this section may be required whether the parent or controlling corporation or interest or its subsidiaries or affiliates are or are not doing business in this state. The provisions of this section do not apply to corporations subject to regulation by a regulatory body of this state which are required to maintain accounts in such manner as to reflect separately the business done in this state and file a report thereof with such regulatory body. This section shall not apply unless the commissioner further finds that the business in this state is handled or effected in such manner as to distort or not reflect the true income earned in this state and finds in addition either or both of the following facts: (a) that the several corporations are owned or controlled by the same financial interests or (b) that they are members of a group of corporations associated together in carrying on a unitary business or are branches or parts of a unitary business or are engaged in different phases of the same general business or industry. If such consolidated return is required and is not filed within sixty days after demand, said subsidiary or affiliated corporation shall be subject to the penalty provided in this act for failure to file returns and in addition shall be subject to the penalty provided in § 105-230, and in such event the provisions of subsection 5 of § 105-161 shall apply.

If the capital of any such subsidiary or affiliated corporation which is not required to file a consolidated return as above provided is inadequate for its business needs apart from credit extended or indebtedness guaranteed by the parent or affiliated corporation, the commissioner shall, in determining the net income of such corporation, disregard its indebtedness owed to or guaranteed by the parent or affiliated corporation in determining the net income taxable under this article. The capital stock for the purposes of this section shall be deemed inadequate to the extent that additional loans, credits, goods, supplies or other capital of whatsoever nature is furnished by the parent or affiliated corporation.

Such subsidiary or affiliated corporation shall incorporate in its returns required under this section and article such information as the commissioner may reasonably require for the determination of the net income taxable under this article, and shall furnish such additional information as the commissioner may reasonably require. If the return does not contain the information therein required or such additional information is not furnished within thirty days after demand, the corporation shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars a day for each day's omission, in addition to the penalty provided in § 105-230.

If the commissioner finds that the determination of the income of a subsidiary or affiliated corporation under a consolidated return as herein provided will produce a greater or lesser figure than the amount of income earned in this state, he may readjust the determination by reasonable methods of computation to make it conform to the amount of income earned in this state; and if the corporation contends the figure produced is greater than the earnings in this state, it shall, within thirty days after notice of such determination, file with the commissioner a statement of its objections and of an alternative method of determination with such detail and proof as the commissioner may require, and the commissioner shall consider the same in determining the income earned in this state. In making such determination the findings and conclusions of the commissioner shall be presumed to be correct and shall not be set aside unless shown to be plainly wrong.

The provisions of this section shall be in effect from and after February 28, 1941. (1939, c. 158, s. 318½; 1941, c. 50, s. 5.)

§ 105-144. Determination of gain or loss.—For the purpose of ascertaining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property, real, personal, or mixed, the basis shall be, in the case of property acquired before January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, the fair market price or the value of such property as of that date and in all other cases the cost thereof. The cost of such property acquired prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, would be used in all cases if such cost is known or determinable: Provided, that in the case of property which was included in the last preceding annual inventory used in determining net income in a return under this article, such inventory value shall be taken in lieu of costs or market value. The final distribution to the taxpayer of the assets of a corporation shall be treated as a sale of the stock or securities of the corporation owned by him, and the gain or loss shall be computed accordingly: provided, no gain or loss shall be recognized upon the receipt of a corporation of property distributed in complete liquidation of another corporation, if the corporation receiving such property was on the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation and has continued to be at all times until the receipt of the property the owner of stock (in such other corporation), possessing at least eighty per centum (80%) of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote, and the owner of at least eighty per centum (80%) of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock (except non-voting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends). (1939, c. 158, s. 319; 1941, c. 50, s. 5.)

§ 105-145. Exchanges of property.—1. When property is exchanged for other property of like kind, the property received in exchange shall be considered as a conversion of assets from one form to another, from which no gain or loss shall be deemed to arise.

2. In the case of the organization of a corporation, the stock or securities received shall be considered to take the place of property transferred therefor, and no gain or loss shall be deemed to arise therefrom.

3. When, in connection with the reorganization, merger or consolidation of a corporation, a taxpayer receives in place of stock or securities owned by him, new stock or securities, the basis of computing the gain or loss, if any, shall be, in case the stock or securities owned were acquired before January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, the fair market price of value thereof as of that date, and in all other cases the cost thereof.

4. The basis of property received by a corporation upon a distribution in complete liquidation of another corporation within the meaning of § 105-144 shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor. (1939, c. 158, s. 320.)

§ 105-146. Inventory.—Whenever, in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue, it is necessary, in order clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer, inventories shall be taken by such taxpayer upon such basis as the commissioner of revenue may prescribe, conforming as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in the trade or business and most clearly reflecting the income. (1939, c. 158, s. 321.)

§ 105-147. Deductions.—In computing net income there shall be allowed as deductions the following items:

1. All the ordinary and necessary expenses paid during the income year in carrying on any trade or business, including:

(a) As to individuals, reasonable wages of employees for services rendered in producing such income.

(b) As to partnerships, reasonable wages of employees and a reasonable allowance for co-partners or members of a firm, for services actually rendered in producing such income, the amount of such salary allowance to be included in the personal return of the co-partner receiving same.

(c) As to corporations, wages of employees and salaries of officers, if reasonable in amount, for services actually rendered in producing such income.

2. Rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition of the continued use or possession for the purpose of the trade of property to which the taxpayer has not taken or is not taking title, or in which he has no equity.

3. Unearned discount and all interest paid during the income year on indebtedness except interest paid or accrued in connection with the ownership of real or personal property the current income from which is not taxable under this article. Interest on indebtedness incurred for the purchase of stock of corporations paying a tax on their entire net income under this article shall be deductible, and a ratable proportion of such interest with respect to corporations paying a tax on a proportion of their net income.

4. Taxes paid or accrued during the income year, except income taxes, gift taxes, taxes levied under § 105-135, inheritance and estate taxes, and taxes assessed for local benefit of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed. No deduction shall be allowed under this section for gasoline tax, sales tax, automobile license or registration fee by individuals not engaged in trade or business, nor shall deduction be allowed for taxes paid or accrued in connection with the ownership of property, the current income from which is not taxable under this article. All payments made by an employer into a federal fund as provided by the provisions of Title VIII and Title IX of the Federal Social Security Act, and all payments made by an employer as provided by a state unemployment compensation law: Provided, that none of the foregoing provisions shall apply to that part of such payments required to be deducted by an employer from the earnings of an employee.

5. Dividends from stock in any corporation, the income of which shall have been assessed, and the tax on such income paid by the corporation under the provisions of this article: Provided, that when only part of the income of any corporation shall have been assessed under this article, whether paid directly to the taxpayer or paid to the taxpayer by a trustee of a distributable trust, only a corresponding part of the dividends received therefrom shall be deducted.

6. Losses actually sustained during the income year of property used in trade or business or of property not connected with trade or business, if arising from fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualties or theft and if not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. No deduction shall be allowed under this subsection for losses arising from personal loans or endorsements or other transactions of a personal nature not entered into for profit. A taxpayer shall be allowed to deduct losses in connection with the sale of securities only to the extent of the security gains during the income year, unless such losses resulted from the sale of stocks or bonds held by the taxpayer for a period of two years or more prior to the sale of such stocks or bonds.

7. Debts ascertained to be worthless and actually charged off within the income year, if connected with business and, if the amount has previously been included in gross income in a return under this article.

8. A reasonable allowance for depreciation and obsolescence of property used in the trade or business shall be measured by the estimated life of such property; and in case of mines, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits and timber, a reasonable allowance for depletion. The cost of property acquired since January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, plus additions and improvements, shall be the basis for determining the amount of depreciation, and if acquired prior to that date the book value as of that date of the property shall be the cost basis for determining depreciation.

In cases of mines, oil and gas wells, and other natural deposits, the cost of development not otherwise deducted will be allowed as depletion, and in the cases of leases, the deduction allowed may be equitably apportioned between the lessor and lessee.

In case the federal government determines depreciation or depletion of property for income tax purposes upon the basis of book value instead of original cost, the depreciation allowed under this article shall be upon the same basis.

9. Contributions or gifts made by individuals within the income year to corporations or associations operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual, to an amount not in excess of ten per centum (10%) of the taxpayer's net income, as computed without the benefit of this sub-division.

10. Resident individuals and domestic corporations having an established business in another state, or investment in property in another state, may deduct the net income from such business or investment if such business or investment is in a state that levies a tax upon such net income. The deduction herein authorized shall not include income received by residents of this state and domestic corporations from personal services (except as provided in § 105-151, stocks, bonds, notes, mortgages, securities, or bank or other deposits or credits, nor in any case shall it operate to reduce the taxable income actually earned in this state or properly allocable as income earned in this state.

11. In the case of a non-resident individual, the deductions allowed in this section shall be allowed only if and to the extent that they are connected with income arising from sources within the state; and the proper apportionment and allocation of the deductions with respect to sources of income within and without the state shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner of revenue.

12. In computing net income no deduction shall be allowed under this section relating to salaries, wages, or other expenses, rentals or other similar payments, interest or taxes, if (1) the same are not actually paid within the taxable year or within two and one-half (2½) months after the close thereof; and (2) if, by reason of the method of accounting of the person or corporation to whom the payment is to be made, the amount thereof is not, unless actually paid, includible in the gross income of such person or corporation for the taxable year in which or with which the taxable year of the taxpayer ends. (1939, c. 158, s. 322; 1941, c. 50, s. 5.)

§ 105-148. Items not deductible.—In computing net income no deduction shall in any case be allowed in respect of:

(a) Personal, living, or family expenses.

(b) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments, made to increase the value of any property or estate.

(c) Premiums paid on any life insurance policy.

(d) Contributions or gifts made by corporations.

(e) Income, excess profits and gift taxes, including federal tax or undistributed earnings.

(f) Social security and unemployment tax paid by employee.

(g) Contributions to individuals.

(h) Commutation expenses.

(i) Contributions or gifts by partnerships. (Partners may deduct their proportionate part of contributions on their individual returns.) (1939, c. 158, s. 323; 1941, c. 50, s. 5.)

§ 105-149. Exemptions. — 1. There shall be deducted from the net income the following exemptions:

(a) In the case of a single individual, a personal exemption of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

(b) In the case of a married man with a wife living with him, two thousand dollars ($2,000.00), or in the case of a person who is the head of a household and maintains the same and therein supports one or more dependent relatives, under eighteen years of age, or, if over eighteen years of age, incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective, two thousand dollars ($2,000.00).

(c) A married woman having a separate and independent income, one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

(d) In the case of a widow or widower having minor child or children, natural or adopted, two thousand dollars ($2,000.00).

(e) Two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each individual (other than husband and wife) dependent upon and receiving his chief support from the taxpayer, if such dependent individual is under eighteen years of age or is incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. Exemptions for the children of taxpayers shall be allowed under this subsection only to the person entitled to the $2,000.00 exemption provided in subsection (b) of this subdivision.

(f) In the case of a fiduciary filing a return for that part of the net income of estates or trusts which has not become distributable during the income year one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

In the case of a fiduciary filing a return for the net income received during the income year by deceased resident or non-resident individuals, who have died during the tax year or income year, without having made a return, two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) if married and one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) if single.

In the case of a fiduciary filing a return for an insolvent or incompetent individual resident or non-resident where the fiduciary has complete charge of such net income the same exemption to which the beneficiary would be entitled.

2. The exemptions allowed by this section shall not apply to a resident of this state having income from a business or agency in another state, or with respect to non-resident having a taxable income in this state unless the entire income of such resident or non-resident individual is shown in the return of such resident or non-resident; and if the entire income is so shown, the exemption shall be prorated in the proportion of the income of this state to the total income.

3. The status on the last day of the income year shall determine the right to the exemptions provided in this section: Provided, that a taxpayer shall be entitled to such exemption for husband or wife or dependents who have died during the income year. (1939, c. 158, s. 324; 1941, c. 50, s. 5.)

§ 105-150. Exemption as to insurance or other compensation received by veterans.—Any American residing in the State of North Carolina who joined any of the allied armies during the World War and who, on account of injuries received while in service, receives insurance or compensation from any of the allied countries is hereby exempt from liability for income tax on such insurance or compensation in the State of North Carolina. (1929, c. 184.)

§ 105-151. Exemption of compensation for personal services of residents taxed elsewhere.—The salaries, wages, or other compensation received during the income year by a resident of this state for personal services rendered outside of this state shall not be taxable in this state if he is required to pay an income tax thereon to another state or taxing jurisdiction other than the United States; but the same shall be included in his return to this state for the purpose of prorating the exemptions allowed by § 105-149, as therein provided. (1939, c. 158, s. 325; 1941, c. 50, s. 5, c. 204, s. 1.)

§ 105-152. Returns.—1. Every resident or non-resident having a net income during the income year taxable in this state of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and over, if single, or if married and not living with husband or wife, or having a net income for the income year of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) or over, if married and living with husband or wife, and every corporation doing business in the state shall make a return under oath, stating specifically the items of gross income and the deductions allowed by this article, and such other facts as the commissioner of revenue may require for the purpose of making any computation required by this article. Every resident of the state having gross income from a business, agency or profession in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) and every nonresident having gross income from a business, agency or profession within this state in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) shall be required to make a return. When the commissioner of revenue has reason to believe any person or corporation is liable for tax under this article, he may require any such person or corporation to make a return.

2. If the taxpayer is unable to make his own return, the return shall be made by a duly authorized agent or by a guardian or other person charged with the care of the person or property of such taxpayer.

3. The return by a corporation shall be sworn to by the president, vice-president, or other principal officer, and by the treasurer or assistant treasurer.

4. The return of an individual, who, while living, received income in excess of the exemption during the income year, and who has died before making the return, shall be made in his name and behalf by the administrator, or executor of the estate, and the tax shall be levied upon and collected from his estate.

5. When the commissioner of revenue has reason to believe that any taxpayer so conducts the trade or business as either directly or indirectly to distort his true net income and the net income property attributable to the state, whether by the arbitrary shifting of income, through price fixing, charges for service, or otherwise, whereby the net income is arbitrarily assigned to one or another unit in a group of taxpayers carrying on business under a substantially common control, he may require such facts as he deems necessary for the proper computation of the entire net income and the net income properly attributable to the state, and in determining same the commissioner of revenue shall have regard to the fair profit which would normally arise from the conduct of the trade or business.

6. When any corporation liable to taxation under this article conducts its business in such a manner as either directly or indirectly to benefit the members or stockholders thereof or any person interested in such business by selling its products or goods or commodities in which it deals at less than the fair price which might be obtained therefor, or where a corporation, a substantial portion of whose capital stock is owned either directly or indirectly by another corporation, acquires and disposes of the products of the corporation so owning a substantial portion of its stock in such a manner as to create a loss or improper net income for either of said corporations, or where a corporation, owning directly or indirectly a substantial portion of the stock of another corporation, acquires and disposes of the products of the corporation of which it so owns a substantial portion of the stock in such manner as to create a loss or improper net income for either of said corporations, the commissioner of revenue may determine the amount of taxable income of either or any such corporations for the calendar or fiscal year, having due regard to the reasonable profits which, but for such arrangement or understanding, might or could have been obtained by the corporation or corporations liable to taxation under this article from dealing in such products, goods or commodities. (1939, c. 158, s. 326; 1941, c. 50, s. 5.)

§ 105-153. Fiduciary returns.—1. Every fiduciary subject to taxation under the provisions of this article, as provided in § 105-139, shall make a return under oath for the individual, estate or trust for whom or for which he acts, if the net income thereof exceeds the personal exemptions.

2. The return made by a fiduciary shall state specifically the items of gross income and the deductions and exemptions allowed by this article, and such other facts as the commissioner of revenue may prescribe.

3. Fiduciaries required to make returns under this article shall be subject to all the provisions of this article which apply to individuals. (1939, c. 158, s. 327.)

§ 105-154. Information at the source.—1. Every individual, partnership, corporation, joint-stock company or association, or insurance company, being a resident or having a place of business in this state, in whatever capacity acting, including lessors or mortgagors of real or personal property, fiduciaries, employers, and all officers and employees of the state or of any political subdivision of the state, having the control, receipt, custody, disposal, or payment of interest (other than interest coupons payable to bearer), rent, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and incomes above exemptions allowed in this article, paid or payable during any year to any taxpayer, shall make complete return thereof to the commissioner of revenue under such regulations and in such form and manner and to such extent as may be prescribed by him.

2. Every partnership having a place of business in the state shall make a return, stating specifically the items of its gross income and the deductions allowed by this article, and shall include in the return the names and addresses of the individuals who would be entitled to share in the net income if distributable, and the amount of the distributive share of each individual, together with the distributive shares of corporation dividends. The return shall be sworn to by one of the partners.

3. Every corporation doing business or having a place of business in this state shall file with the commissioner of revenue, on such form and in such manner as he may prescribe, the names and addresses of all taxpayers, residents of North Carolina, to whom dividends have been paid and the amount of such dividends during the income year. (1939, c. 158, s. 328.)

§ 105-155. Time and place of filing returns.—Returns shall be in such form as the commissioner of revenue may from time to time prescribe, and shall be filed with the commissioner at his main office, or at any branch office which he may establish, on or before the fifteenth day of March in each year, and for all taxpayers using a fiscal year, within seventy-five days after expiration of the fiscal year. In case of sickness, absence, or other disability or whenever in his judgment good cause exists, the commissioner may allow further time for filing returns.

There shall be annexed to the return the affidavit or affirmation of the taxpayer making the return, to the effect that the statements contained therein are true. The commissioner shall cause to be prepared blank forms for the said returns, and shall cause them to be distributed throughout the state, and to be furnished upon application; but failure to receive or secure the form shall not relieve any taxpayer from the obligation of making any return herein required. (1939, c. 158, s. 329.)

§ 105-156. Failure to file returns; supplementary returns.—If the commissioner of revenue shall be of the opinion that any taxpayer has failed to file a return or to include in a return filed, either intentionally or through error, items of taxable income, he may require from such taxpayer a return or supplementary return, under oath, in such form as he shall prescribe, of all the items of income which the taxpayer received during the year for which the return is made, whether or not taxable under the provisions of this article. If from a supplementary return or otherwise the commissioner finds any items of income, taxable under this article, have been omitted from the original return, or any items returned as taxable that are not taxable, or any item of taxable income over-stated, he may require the items so omitted to be disclosed to him under oath of the taxpayer, and to be added to or deducted from the original return. Such supplementary return and the correction of the original return shall not relieve the taxpayer from any of the penalties to which he may be liable under any provision of this article. The commissioner may proceed under the provisions of § 105-159, whether or not he requires a return or a supplementary return under this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 331.)

Collection and Enforcement of Income Tax.

§ 105-157. Time and place of payment of tax.—(1) The full amount of the tax payable, as shown on the face of the return, shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the office where the return is filed at the time fixed by law for filing the return. If the amount of the tax exceeds fifty dollars ($50.00), payment may be made in two installments: One-half on the date the return is filed, one-half on or before September fifteenth following, with interest on the deferred payment at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum.

(2) If the time for filing the return be extended, interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from the time when the return was originally required to be filed to the time of payment shall be added and paid.

(3) The tax may be paid with uncertified check during such time and under such regulations as the commissioner of revenue shall prescribe; but if a check so received is not paid by the bank on which it is drawn, the taxpayer by whom such check is tendered shall remain liable for the payment of the tax and for all legal penalties the same as if such check had not been tendered. (1939, c. 158, s. 332.)

§ 105-158. Examination of returns.—1. As soon as practicable after the return is filed the commissioner of revenue shall examine and compute the tax, and the amount so computed by the commissioner shall be the tax. If the tax found due shall be greater than the amount theretofore paid, the excess shall be paid to the commissioner within thirty days after notice of the amount shall be mailed by the commissioner, and any over-payment of tax shall be returned within thirty days after it is ascertained.

2. If the return is made in good faith and the under-statement of the tax is not due to any fault of the taxpayer, there shall be no penalty or additional tax added because of such under-statement, but interest shall be added to the amount of the deficiency at the rate of one-half (½) of one per cent (1%) per month or fraction thereof from the time said return was required by law to be filed until paid.

3. If the under-statement is due to negligence on the part of the taxpayer, but without intent to defraud, there shall be added to the amount of the deficiency five per cent (5%) thereof, and, in addition, interest at the rate of one-half (½) of one per cent (1%) per month or fraction thereof from time said return was required by law to be filed until paid.

4. If the under-statement is found by the commissioner of revenue to be false or fraudulent, with intent to evade the tax, the tax on the additional income discovered to be taxable shall be doubled and interest at the rate of one-half (½) of one per cent (1%) per month or fraction thereof from time said return was required by law to be filed until paid. The provisions of this article with respect to revision and appeal shall apply to a tax thus assessed. (1939, c. 158, s. 333.)

§ 105-159. Corrections and changes.—If the amount of the net income for any year of any taxpayer under this article, as returned to the United States treasury department, is changed and corrected by the commissioner of internal revenue or other officer of the United States of competent authority, such taxpayer, within thirty days after receipt of internal revenue agent's report or supplemental report reflecting the corrected net income, shall make return under oath or affirmation to the commissioner of revenue of such corrected net income. If the taxpayer fails to notify the commissioner of revenue of assessment of additional tax by the commissioner of internal revenue the statute of limitations shall not apply. The commissioner of revenue shall thereupon proceed to determine, from such evidence as he may have brought to his attention or shall otherwise acquire, the correct net income of such taxpayer for the fiscal or calendar year, and if there shall be any additional tax due from such taxpayer the same shall be assessed and collected; and if there shall have been an over-payment of the tax the said commissioner shall, within thirty days after the final determination of the net income of such taxpayer, refund the amount of such excess: Provided, that any taxpayer who fails to comply with this section as to making report of such change as made by the federal government within the time specified shall be subject to all penalties as provided in § 105-161, in case of additional tax due, and shall forfeit his rights to any refund due by reason of such change. (1939, c. 158, s. 334.)

§ 105-160. Additional taxes.—If the commissioner of revenue discovers from the examination of the return or otherwise that the income of any taxpayer, or any portion thereof, has not been assessed, he may, at any time within three years (except where the taxpayer has failed to notify the commissioner of additional assessment by the federal department—see § 105-159) after the time when the return was due, give notice in writing to the taxpayer of such deficiency. Any taxpayer feeling aggrieved by such proposed assessment shall be entitled to a hearing before the commissioner of revenue, if within thirty days after giving notice of such proposed assessment he shall apply for such hearing in writing, explaining in detail his objections to same. If no request for such hearing is so made, such proposed assessment shall be final and conclusive. If the request for hearing is made, the taxpayer shall be heard by the commissioner of revenue, and after such hearing the commissioner of revenue shall render his decision. The taxpayer shall be advised of his decision and such amount shall be due within ten days after notice is given. The provisions of this article with respect to revision and appeal shall apply to the tax so assessed. The limitation of three years to the assessment of such tax or an additional tax shall not apply to the assessment of additional taxes upon fraudulent returns. Upon failure to file returns and in the absence of fraud the limitation shall be five years. (1939, c. 158, s. 335.)

§ 105-161. Penalties.—1. If any taxpayer, without intent to evade any tax imposed by this article, shall fail to file a return of income and pay the tax, if one is due, at the time required by or under the provisions of this article, but shall voluntarily file a correct return of income and pay the tax due within sixty days thereafter, there shall be added to the tax an additional amount equal to five per cent thereof, but such additional amount shall in no case be less than one dollar and interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent (½%) per month or fraction thereof from the time said return was required by law to be filed until paid.

2. If any taxpayer fails voluntarily to file a return of income or pay the tax, if one is due, within sixty days of the time required by or under the provisions of this article, there shall be added to the tax an additional amount equal to twenty-five per cent (25%) thereof and interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent (½%) per month or fraction thereof, from the time such return was required to be filed until paid, but the penalty shall not be less than five dollars ($5.00).

3. If any taxpayer fails to file a return within sixty days of the time prescribed by this article, any judge of the superior court, upon petition of the commissioner of revenue or of any ten taxable residents of the state, shall issue a writ of mandamus requiring such person to file a return. The order of notice upon the petition shall be returnable not later than ten days after the filing of the petition. The petition shall be heard and determined on the return day or such day thereafter as the court shall fix, having regard to the speediest possible determination of the case consistent with the rights of the parties. The judgment shall include costs in favor of the prevailing party. All writs and processes may be issued from the clerk's offices in any county, and, except as aforesaid, shall be returnable as the court shall order.

4. The failure to do any act required by or under the provisions of this article shall be deemed an act committed in part at the office of the commissioner of revenue in Raleigh. The certificate of the commissioner of revenue to the effect that a tax has not been paid, that a return has not been filed, or that information has not been supplied, as required by or under the provisions of this article, shall be prima facie evidence that such tax has not been paid, that such return has not been filed, or that such information has not been supplied.

5. If any taxpayer who has failed to file a return or has filed an incorrect or insufficient return, and has been notified by the commissioner of revenue of his delinquency, refuses or neglects within twenty days after such notice to file a proper return, or files a fraudulent return, the commissioner shall determine the income of such taxpayer, according to his best information and belief, and assess the same at not more than double the amount so determined. The commissioner may, in his discretion, allow further time for the filing of a return in such case.

6. Any person required under this article to pay any tax or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return, keep any records, or supply any information for the purposes of computation, assessment or collection of any tax imposed by this article, who wilfully fails to pay this tax, make such return, keep such records or supply such information at the time or times required by law or regulations, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or imprisoned not exceeding six months, or punished by both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court, within the limitations aforesaid. (1939, c. 158, s. 336.)

Revision and Appeal.

§ 105-162. Revision by commissioner of revenue.—A taxpayer may apply to the commissioner of revenue for revision of the tax assessed against him at any time within three years from the time of the filing of the return or from the date of the notice of assessment of any additional tax. The commissioner shall grant a hearing thereon, and if upon such hearing he shall determine that the tax is excessive or incorrect, he shall resettle the same according to the law and the facts, and adjust the computation of tax accordingly. The commissioner shall notify the taxpayer of his determination, and shall refund to the taxpayer the amount, if any, paid in excess of the tax found by him to be due. (1939, c. 158, s. 340.)

§ 105-163. Appeal. — Any taxpayer may file formal exceptions to a finding by the commissioner of revenue, under the provisions of this article with respect to his taxable income, either to a matter of fact or law, as far as possible stating such exceptions separately. After they are filed, the commissioner shall pass upon the same formally, and notify the taxpayer immediately of his findings upon these exceptions. The taxpayer may, within ten days after notification of the commissioner's ruling upon these exceptions, appeal to the superior court of Wake county, upon paying the tax assessed by the commissioner and giving a bond for costs in the sum of two hundred dollars ($200.00): Provided, the taxpayer may within the above prescribed time first appeal to the state board of assessment on the exceptions to the findings of the commissioner; and provided further, that the commissioner may in his discretion require a surety bond or a deposit of state or government bonds in double the amount of the alleged deficiency. Appeal may then be taken by either the taxpayer or the commissioner to the superior court of Wake county as provided herein. Upon receipts of such notice and the taxes paid, and the filing of the cost bond in the sum of two hundred dollars ($200.00), the commissioner shall certify the record to the superior court of Wake county. In the superior court the proceedings shall be as follows:

The cause shall be entitled, "State of North Carolina on Relation of the Commissioner of Revenue vs. Appellant" (giving name). If there are exceptions to facts found by the commissioner, it shall be placed on the civil issue docket of such court and shall have precedence over other civil actions, and shall be tried under the same rules and regulations as are prescribed for the trial of such civil actions, except that the findings of the commissioner shall be prima facie correct. If only issues of law, or if issues of fact are raised, and the appellant shall waive jury trial at the time of taking the appeal, the appeal may be had to the superior court of the county in which the appellant resides, and the cause shall be heard by the judge holding court in the judicial district in which the appeal is docketed, at chambers, upon ten days notice to the parties of the time and place of hearing, and the said judge shall pass upon and determine all issues, both of law and fact, the state hereby waiving in such cases a trial by jury. Either party may appeal to the supreme court from the judgment of the superior court under the rules and regulations prescribed by law for appeals, except that the state, if it should appeal, shall not be required to give any undertaking or make any deposit to secure the cost of such appeal, and the supreme court may advance the cause on its docket so as to give the same a speedy hearing. Any taxes, interest, or penalties paid, found by the court to be in excess of those which can be legally assessed, shall be ordered refunded to the taxpayer, with interest from the time of payment. (1939, c. 158, s. 341.)

Art. 5. Schedule E. Sales Tax.

§ 105-164. Short title.—This article shall be known and and may be cited as the sales tax article of the revenue act. (1939, c. 158, s. 400.)

§ 105-165. Purpose.—The taxes levied in this article are to provide revenue for the support of the public schools of the state in substitution for the taxes formerly levied on property for this purpose. They are levied for the biennium of fiscal years beginning July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, and ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred forty-one, and thereafter until otherwise provided by law.

The tax upon the sale of tangible personal property in this state is levied as a license or privilege tax for engaging or continuing in the business of a "wholesale" or "retail" merchant as defined in this article. Retail merchants may add to the price of merchandise the amount of the tax on the sale thereof, and when so added shall constitute a part of such price, shall be a debt from purchaser to merchant until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as other debts. It is the purpose and intent of this article that the tax levied herein on retail sales shall be added to the sales price of merchandise and thereby be passed on to the consumer instead of being absorbed by the merchant.

Any retail merchant who shall, by any character of public advertisement, offer to absorb the tax levied in this article upon the retail sale of merchandise, or in any manner, directly or indirectly, advertise that the tax herein imposed is not considered as an element in the price to the consumer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any violations of the provisions of this section reported to the commissioner of revenue shall be reported by the commissioner of revenue to the attorney general of the state, to the end that such violations may be brought to the attention of the solicitor of the court of the county or district whose duty it is to prosecute misdemeanors in the jurisdiction. It shall be the duty of such solicitor to investigate such alleged violations and if he finds that this section has been violated to prosecute such violations. The provisions of this section are deemed necessary to prevent fraud and unfair practices, but it is the intent of the general assembly that if one or both of such provisions be held unconstitutional and void, that such invalid provision or provisions be considered separable and that the balance of this article be given effect. (1939, c. 158, s. 401.)

§ 105-166. Contingency.—If the Congress of the United States shall, at any time hereafter, enact any form of sales or production tax distributable in whole or in part to the several states, the governor and council of state shall estimate the proportion of such tax distributable to this state, and shall, by proclamation of the governor, abate a uniform percentage of all the taxes levied in this article equal in estimated revenue yield to the estimated proportion of yield of such federal tax, and from and after the effective date of such proclamation the commissioner of revenue shall enforce and collect only the remaining percentage of taxes levied in this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 402.)

§ 105-167. Definitions.—For the purposes of this article.

1. The word "person" shall mean any person, firm, partnership, association, corporation, estate or trust.

2. The word "commissioner" shall mean the commissioner of revenue of the state of North Carolina.

3. The word "merchant" shall include any individual, firm, corporation, domestic or foreign, estate or trust, subject to the tax imposed by this article.

4. The words "wholesale merchant" shall mean every person who engages in the business of buying any article of commerce and selling same to merchants for resale. For the purposes of this article any person, firm, corporation, estate or trust engaged in the business of manufacturing, producing, processing or blending any articles of commerce and maintaining a store or stores, warehouse or warehouses, or any other place or places, separate and apart from the place of manufacture or production, for the sale or distribution of its products to other manufacturers or producers, wholesale or retail merchants, for the purpose of resale shall be deemed a "wholesale merchant."

5. The words "wholesale sale" or "sale at wholesale" shall mean a sale of tangible personal property by a wholesale merchant to a manufacturer, jobber or dealer, wholesale or retail merchant, for the purpose of resale, but does not include a sale to users or consumers not for resale. The term "wholesale sale" shall include a sale of tangible personal property to a manufacturer which enters into or becomes an ingredient or component part of the tangible personal property which is manufactured.

6. The words "retail merchant" shall mean every person who engages in the business of buying or acquiring, by consignment or otherwise, any articles of commerce and selling same at retail.

7. The word "retail" shall mean the sale of any articles of commerce in any quantity or quantities for any use or purpose on the part of the purchaser other than for resale.

8. The word "sale" or "selling" shall mean any transfer of title or possession, or both, exchange, or barter of tangible personal property, conditional or otherwise, however effected and by whatever name called, for a consideration paid or to be paid, in installments or otherwise, and shall include any of said transactions whereby title or ownership is ultimately to pass notwithstanding the retention of title or possession, or both, for security or other purposes, and shall further mean and include any bailment, loan, lease, rental or license to use or consume tangible personal property for a consideration paid or to be paid, in installments or otherwise: Provided, the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to the lease or rental of motion picture films used for exhibition purposes and for which a tax of three per cent is paid on the total admissions for such exhibitions.

9. The words "gross sales" shall mean the gross sales price at which such sales were made, whether for cash or on time, and if on time, the price charged on the books for such sales, without allowance for cash discount, and shall be reported as sales with reference to the time of delivery to the purchaser, except as this provision is modified by § 105-171. (1939, c. 158, s. 404; 1941, c. 50, s. 6.)

§ 105-168. Licenses; wholesale and retail sales tax rates; use tax on motor vehicles.—If any person, after the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, shall engage or continue in any business for which a privilege tax is imposed by this article, such person shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner, upon the payment of the sum of one dollar ($1.00), a license to engage in and conduct such business upon the condition that such person shall pay the tax accruing to the state of North Carolina under the provisions of this article; and he shall thereby be duly licensed to engage in and conduct such business. The license tax levied in this section shall be a continuing license until revoked for failure to comply with the provisions of this article. License issued under Article V, chapter four hundred forty-five, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-three, for the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-four—one thousand nine hundred thirty-five; under chapter three hundred seventy-one, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, for the biennium one thousand nine hundred thirty-five—one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, and chapter one hundred twenty-seven, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, for the biennium one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven—one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, shall be deemed a continuing license under this section.

An additional tax is hereby levied for the privilege of engaging or continuing in the business of selling tangible personal property, as follows:

(a) Wholesale Merchants.—Upon every wholesale merchant as defined in this article, an annual license tax of ten dollars ($10.00). Such annual license shall be paid in advance within the first fifteen days of July in each year or, in the case of a new business, within fifteen days after business is commenced. There is also levied on each wholesale merchant an additional tax of one-twentieth of one per cent (1/20th of 1%) of the total gross sales of the business.

The sale of any article of merchandise by any "wholesale merchant" to any one other than to a licensed retail merchant for resale shall be taxable at the rate of tax provided in this article upon the retail sale of merchandise. In the interpretation of this article the sale of any articles of commerce by any "wholesale merchant" to any one not taxable under this article as a "retail merchant," except as otherwise provided in this article, shall be taxable by the wholesale merchant at the rate of tax provided in this article upon the retail sale of merchandise. The commissioner of revenue is authorized to make appropriate regulations, consistent with this article, to prevent abuse with respect to existing regulations defining transactions entitled to the rate of tax levied on sales at wholesale.

(b) Retail Merchants.—Upon every retail merchant, as defined in this article, a tax of three per cent (3%) of the total gross sales of the business of every such retail merchant: Provided, however, the maximum tax that shall be imposed upon the sale of any single article of merchandise shall be fifteen dollars ($15.00).

(c) Motor Vehicles.—In addition to the taxes levied in this article or in any other law, there is hereby levied and imposed upon every person, for the privilege of using the streets and highways of this state, a tax of three per cent (3%) of the sales or purchase price of any new or used motor vehicle purchased or acquired for use on the streets and highways of this state requiring registration thereof under the Motor Vehicle Laws of this state, which said amount shall not exceed fifteen dollars ($15.00), and shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the time of applying for certificate of title or registration of such motor vehicle. No certificate of title or registration plate shall be issued for same unless and until said tax has been paid: Provided, however, if such person so applying for certificate of title or registration and license plate for such motor vehicle shall furnish to the commissioner of revenue a certificate from a motor vehicle dealer licensed to do business in this state, upon a form furnished by the commissioner, certifying that such person has paid the tax thereon levied in this article, the tax herein levied shall be remitted to such person to avoid in effect double taxation on said motor vehicle under this article. The term "motor vehicle" as used in this section shall include trailers. (1939, c. 158, s. 405.)

§ 105-169. Exemptions.—The taxes imposed in this article shall not apply to the following:

(a) Sales by manufacturers or producers of their own manufactured products when sold to other manufacturers, producers, wholesale or retail merchants, for the purpose of resale except as this subsection is limited and modified by subsections four and five of § 105-167. The exemption in this subsection shall not extend to or include sales by manufacturers or producers of their own manufactured products when sold to users or consumers and not for the purpose of resale.

(b) It is not the intent of this article to exempt gasoline from the retail sales tax levied in this article, nor is it considered expedient to levy a tax upon the wholesale distribution of gasoline, payable at the source of distribution, and an additional tax upon the retail sale. Therefore, to carry out the intent of this article, a proportion of the tax of six cents per gallon, to be determined in the manner herein set out, shall be deemed in satisfaction of the tax upon retail sales levied in this article. The director of the budget, the chairman of the state highway and public works commission and the commissioner of revenue shall in the first fifteen days of each quarterly period, determine the total amount of gasoline sold in the state in the preceding three months, and the average retail price, inclusive of gasoline tax, and shall on this basis compute the amount of tax liability at the rate of tax levied in this article on retail sales, and the sum so computed shall be deducted from the tax of six cents per gallon, and credited by the state treasurer to the sales tax revenue levied in this article. These sums shall be available only after full provision is made for the expense of collecting highway revenues, for the administration of the highway and public works commission, for the service of the debt, and for reasonable maintenance of state and county highways, nor shall the application herein made become available to the general fund unless the director of the budget shall find such sum to be reasonably necessary to meet appropriations from the general fund. The amount so allocated to the general fund shall not be transferred from the highway fund, or become a definite charge against it until the surplus in the general fund at the end of the present fiscal year, together with current revenues, shall have been exhausted, or until the director of the budget shall find as a fact that such transfer is necessary to prevent a deficit in the general fund; nor shall such transfer or any part thereof be made until the appropriations from the highway fund, hereinabove referred to, have been provided for. In construing this provision the director of the budget shall not be required to take into account an incidental credit balance of the general fund.

(c) Sale of commercial fertilizer on which the inspection tax is paid, and lime and land plaster used for agricultural purposes whether the inspection tax is paid or not.

(d) Sales made to the state of North Carolina or any of its subdivisions, including sales of merchandise and articles of commerce to agencies of state or local governments for distribution in public welfare or relief work. This exemption shall not apply to sales made to organizations, corporations, and institutions that are not governmental agencies, owned and controlled by the state or local governments. Sales of building material made directly to the federal government or to state and local governments in this state shall be exempt from the tax on building material levied in this article, and sales of building material to contractors to be used in construction work for federal, state or local governments shall be construed as direct sales.

(e) The gross receipts from sales of tangible personal property which the state is prohibited from taxing under the constitution or laws of the United States of America or under the constitution of this state.

(f) Accounts of purchasers, representing taxable sales, on which the tax imposed by this article has been paid, that are found to be worthless and actually charged off for income tax purposes may, at corresponding periods, be deducted from gross sales in so far as they represent taxable sales made after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three, and to be added to gross sales if afterwards collected.

(g) Sales of public school books on the adopted list and the selling price of which is fixed by state contract, and Holy Bibles.

(h) Sales of used articles taken in trade, or a series of trades, as a credit or part payment on the sale of a new article, provided the tax levied in this article is paid on the full gross sales price of the new article. In the interpretation of this subsection, new article shall be taken to mean the original stock in trade of the merchant, and shall not be limited to newly manufactured articles. The resale of articles repossessed by the vendor shall likewise be exempt from gross sales taxable under this article.

(i) Conditional exemptions; sales by retail merchants of food and food products for human consumption.—The term "food and food products for human consumption" shall be given its usual and ordinary meaning, but shall not include malt or vinous beverages, soft or carbonated drinks, sodas, or beverages such as are ordinarily sold or dispensed at stores, bars, stands or soda fountains or in connection therewith, candies or confectioneries, medicines, tonics, and preparations in liquid, powdered, granular, tablet, capsule, or pill form sold as dietary supplements; nor does "food and food products for human consumption" include prepared meals or foods sold or served on or off the premises by restaurants, cafes, cafeterias, hotel dining rooms, drug stores, or other places where prepared meals or foods are sold or served.

(j) Sales of ice, whether sold by the manufacturer, producer, wholesale or retail merchants.

(k) Sales of medicines sold on prescriptions of physicians, or medicines compounded, processed or blended by the druggist offering the same for sale at retail.

(l) Sales of products of farms, forests, mines, and waters when such sales are made by the producers in their original or unmanufactured state. Fish and sea foods shall be likewise exempt when sold by the fishermen.

(m) For the purposes of this article, sales of mill machinery or mill machinery parts and accessories to manufacturing industries and plants may be classified as wholesale sales and, therefore, only subject to the wholesale rate of tax.

(n) Sales of horses and/or mules.

(o) Sales of coffins or caskets which do not sell for more than one hundred dollars ($100.00).

(p) Sales of all equipment, furniture and furnishings sold to trustees of churches for use in church and Sunday school buildings.

(q) Sales of cotton, tobacco, peanuts and other farm products sold to manufacturers for further manufacturing or processing.

Every merchant selling merchandise to other merchants for resale shall deliver to the customer a bill of sale for each sale of merchandise, whether sold for cash or on credit, and shall make and retain a duplicate or carbon copy of each such bill of sale, and shall keep a file of all such duplicate bills of sale for at least three years from date of sale, or until inspected and audited by a representative of the department of revenue. Failure to comply with the provisions of this paragraph shall subject the seller to liability for tax upon such sales at the rate of tax levied in this article upon retail sales.

Unless records are kept in such manner as will accurately disclose separate accounting of sales of taxable and non-taxable merchandise and in such form as may be accurately and conveniently checked by the representative of the department of revenue, the exemptions herein made shall not be allowed, and it shall be the duty of the commissioner or his agents to assess a tax upon the total gross sales at the rate of tax levied upon retail sales, and if records are not kept showing total gross sales, it shall be the duty of the commissioner or his agents to assess a tax upon an estimation of sales upon the best information obtainable. (1939, c. 158, s. 406; 1941, c. 50, s. 6.)

§ 105-170. Taxes payable; failure to make return; duty and power of commissioner.—The taxes levied in this article shall be due and payable in monthly installments on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the month in which the tax accrues. Every taxpayer liable for the tax imposed by this article shall, on or before the fifteenth day of the month, make out or prepare a return on the blank report form furnished by the commissioner of revenue, showing the total gross sales, the sales exempted from the tax, the net taxable sales, the amount of tax covering sales in the preceding month, and shall mail same, together with the remittance for the amount of the tax, to the commissioner. Such monthly return shall be signed by the taxpayer or a duly authorized agent of the taxpayer.

(a) Delayed Returns.—If a delinquent return or a return without remittance for the amount of tax shown to be due is received by the commissioner or his duly authorized agents, the taxpayer shall be assessed with a five per centum penalty plus interest at one-half of one per centum per month from the date the tax was due. The penalty provided in this subsection shall not be less than one dollar ($1.00).

(b) Failure to Make Returns.—If the taxpayer shall fail to make or refuse to make the returns required under this article, then such returns shall be made by the commissioner or his duly authorized agents from the best information available, and such returns shall be prima facie correct for the purposes of this article, and the amount of tax due thereby shall be a lien against all the property of the taxpayer until discharged by payments, and if payment not be made within thirty days after demand therefor by the commissioner or his duly authorized agents, there shall be added not more than one hundred per centum as damages, together with interest at the rate of one per centum per month from the time such tax was due. If such tax be paid within thirty days after notice by the commissioner, then there shall be added not more than ten per centum as damages, and interest at the rate of one per centum per month from the time such tax was due until paid.

(c) Not to Issue Certificate of Title or License.—As an additional means of enforcement of the payment of the tax herein levied the department of revenue shall not issue a certificate of title or a license plate for any new or used motor vehicle sold by any merchant or dealer licensed to do business in this state until the tax levied for the sale of same in this article has been paid, or a certificate, duly signed by a dealer licensed to do business in this state, is filed at the time the application for title or license plate is made for such motor vehicle; such certificate to be on such form as may be prescribed by the commissioner of revenue, and that such certificate shall show that the said licensed dealer has assumed the responsibility for the payment of the tax levied under this article and agrees to report and remit the tax in his next regular monthly sales tax report required to be filed under this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 407.)

§ 105-171. Credit sales.—Any person taxable under this article having cash and credit sales may report such cash and credit sales separately, and upon making application therefor may obtain from the commissioner an extension of time for the payment of taxes due on such credit sales. Such extension shall be granted under such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe. When such extension is granted, the taxpayer shall thereafter include in each monthly report all collections made during the month next preceding and shall pay taxes due thereon at the time of filing such report. (1939, c. 158, s. 408.)

§ 105-172. Forms for making returns. — The monthly returns required under this article shall be made upon forms to be prescribed and provided by the commissioner. (1939, c. 158, s. 411.)

§ 105-173. Extension of time for making returns.—The commissioner for good cause may extend the time for making any return required under the provisions of this article, and may grant such additional time within which to make such return as he may deem proper, but the time for filing any such return shall not be extended beyond the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the regular due date of such return. If the time for filing a return be extended, interest at the rate of one-half of one per centum per month from the time the return was required to be filed to the time of payment shall be added and paid. (1939, c. 158, s. 412.)

§ 105-174. Commissioner to correct error.—As soon as practicable after the return is filed the commissioner shall examine it; if it then appears that the correct amount of tax is greater or less than that shown in the return, the tax shall be recomputed.

Excessive Payments.—If the amount already paid exceeds that which should have been paid, on the basis of the tax so recomputed, the excess shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer in accordance with the provisions of this article.

Deficiency of Amount.—(a) If the amount already paid is less than the amount which should have been paid, the difference to the extent not covered by any credits under this article, together with interest thereon at the rate of one-half of one per centum per month from the time the tax was due, shall be paid upon notice and demand by the commissioner.

(b) If any part of the deficiency is due to negligence or intentional disregard of authorized rules and regulations, with knowledge thereof, but without intent to defraud, there shall be added as damages ten per centum of the total amount of the deficiency in the tax, and interest in such a case shall be collected at the rate of one per centum per month of the amount of such deficiency in the tax from the time it was due, which interest and damages shall become due and payable upon notice and demand by the commissioner; provided, however, in the absence of fraud, no assessment authorized by this article shall extend to sales made more than three (3) years prior to the date of assessment; and in cases where an audit shall have been made under the direction of the commissioner of revenue any assessment in respect to such audit shall be made within one year after the completion of the audit.

(c) If any part of the deficiency is due to fraud with intent to evade the tax, then there shall be added as damages not more than one hundred per centum of the total amount of the deficiency in the tax, and in such case the whole amount of tax unpaid, including charges so added, shall become due and payable upon notice and demand by the commissioner, and an additional one per centum per month on the tax shall be added from the date such tax was due until paid.

(d) If the amount already paid is less than the amount which should have been paid, the commissioner or his duly authorized agent shall notify the taxpayer of the balance due, plus such interest and damages as are set forth in (a), (b), and (c) just preceding, and if this total amount is not paid or no appeal is taken within thirty days from the date of notice, such action shall be considered as a refusal on the part of the taxpayer to make a return, and the taxpayer shall be subject to such penalties or provisions as are provided in this article for failure to make a return.

If any taxpayer, subject to the provisions of this article, goes into bankruptcy, receivership, or turns over his stock of merchandise by voluntary transfer to creditors, the tax liability under this article shall constitute a prior lien on such stock of merchandise, subject to execution, and it shall be the duty of the transferee in any such case to retain the amount of the tax due from the first sales from such stock of merchandise and to pay the same to the commissioner of revenue. (1939 c. 158, s. 414; 1941, c. 50, s. 6.)

§ 105-175. Taxpayer must keep records.—It shall be the duty of every person engaging or continuing in this state in any business for which a privilege tax is imposed by this article to keep and preserve suitable records of the gross income, gross receipts and/or gross receipts of sales of such business, and such other books or accounts as may be necessary to determine the amount of tax for which he is liable under the provisions of this article. And it shall be the duty of every such person to keep and preserve, for a period of three years, all invoices of goods and merchandise purchased for resale, and all such books, invoices, and other records shall be open for examination at any time by the commissioner or his duly authorized agent. (1939, c. 158, s. 415.)

§ 105-176. Tax shall be lien.—The tax imposed by this article shall be a lien upon the stock of goods and/or any other property of any person subject to the provisions hereof who shall sell out his business or stock of goods, or shall quit business, and such person shall be required to make out the return provided for under § 105-170 within thirty days after the date he sold out his business or stock of goods, or quit business, and his successor in business shall be required to withhold sufficient of the purchase money to cover the amount of said taxes due and unpaid until such time as the former owner shall produce a receipt from the commissioner showing that the taxes have been paid, or a certificate that no taxes are due. If the purchaser of a business or stock of goods shall fail to withhold purchase money as above provided, and the taxes shall be due and unpaid after the thirty-day period allowed, he shall be personally liable for the payment of the taxes accrued and unpaid on account of the operation of the business by the former owner. (1939, c. 158, s. 416.)

§ 105-177. Aggrieved person may file petition.—If any person having made the return and paid the tax as provided by this article feels aggrieved by the assessment made upon him by the commissioner, or, in the absence of a report, if an assessment has been made by the commissioner under the provisions of this article, the taxpayer may apply to the commissioner by petition, in writing, within thirty days after the notice is mailed to him, for a hearing and a correction of the amount of the tax so assessed upon him by the commissioner, in which petition he shall set forth the reasons why such hearing should be granted and the amount in which such tax should be reduced. The commissioner shall promptly consider such petition, and may grant such hearing or deny the same. If denied, the petitioner shall be forthwith notified thereof; if granted, the commissioner shall notify the petitioner of the time and place fixed for such hearing. After such hearing the commissioner may make such order in the matter as may appear to him just and lawful, and shall furnish a copy of such order to the petitioner. Any person improperly charged with any tax and required to pay the same may recover the amount paid, together with interest, in any proper action or suit against the commissioner, and the superior court of the county in which the taxpayer resides or is located shall have original jurisdiction of any action to recover any tax improperly collected. In any suit to recover taxes paid or to collect taxes, the court shall adjudge costs to such extent and in such manner as may be deemed equitable.

Either party to such suit shall have the right to appeal to the supreme court of North Carolina as now provided by law. In the event a final judgment is rendered in favor of the taxpayer in a suit to recover illegal taxes, then it shall be the duty of the state auditor, upon receipt of a certified copy of such final judgment, to issue a warrant directed to the state treasurer in favor of such taxpayer to pay such judgment, interest, and costs. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to honor such warrant and pay such judgment out of any funds in the state treasury.

No injunction shall be awarded by any court or judge to restrain the collection of the taxes imposed by this article, or to restrain the enforcement of this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 417.)

§ 105-178. Warrant for collection of tax; tax shall constitute debt due state.—If any tax imposed or any portion of such tax be not paid within thirty days after the same becomes due, the commissioner shall proceed to enforce the payment of such tax in the manner provided by § 105-242. (1939, c. 158, s. 418, c. 370, s. 1.)

§ 105-179. Additional tax; remittances made to commissioner; records. — The tax imposed by this article shall be in addition to all other licenses and taxes levied by law as a condition precedent to engaging in any business taxable hereunder, except as in this article otherwise specifically provided. But no county, municipality, or district shall be authorized to levy any tax by virtue of the provisions of this article.

Remittances, How Made.—All remittances of taxes imposed by this article shall be made to the commissioner by bank draft, check, cashier's check, money order, or money, who shall issue his receipts therefor to the taxpayers, when requested, and shall deposit daily all monies received to the credit of the state treasurer as required by law for other taxes: Provided, no payment other than cash shall be final discharge of liability for the tax herein assessed and levied unless and until it has been paid in cash to the commissioner.

The commissioner shall keep full and accurate records of all monies received by him, and how disbursed; and shall preserve all returns filed with him under this article for a period of three years. (1939, c. 158, s. 420.)

§ 105-180. Letters in report not to be divulged.—Unless in accordance with the judicial order or as herein provided, the state department of revenue, its agents, clerks or stenographers, shall not divulge the gross income, gross proceeds of sales, or the amount of tax paid by any person as shown by the reports filed under the provisions of this article except to members and employees of the state department of revenue for the purpose of checking, comparing, and correcting returns, or to the governor, or to the attorney general, or any other legal representative of the state in any action in respect to the amount of tax due under the provisions of this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 421; 1941, c. 50, s. 6.)

§ 105-181. Unlawful to refuse to make returns; penalty.—It shall be unlawful for any person to fail or refuse to make the return provided to be made in this article, or to make any false or fraudulent return or false statement in any return of the tax, or any part thereof, imposed by this article; or for any person to aid or abet another in any attempt to evade the payment of the tax, or any part thereof, imposed by this article; or for the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer of any company to make or permit to be made for any company or association any false return, or any false statement in any return required by this article, with the intent to evade the payment of any tax hereunder; or for any person to fail or refuse to permit the examination of any book, paper, account, record, or other data by the commissioner or his duly appointed agent, as required by this article, or to fail or refuse to permit the inspection or appraisal of any property by the commissioner or his duly appointed agent, or to refuse to offer testimony or produce any record as required in this article. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or imprisoned not exceeding six months, or punished by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court within the limitations aforesaid. In addition to the foregoing penalties, any person who shall knowingly swear to or verify any false or fraudulent statement, with the intent aforesaid, shall be guilty of the offense of perjury, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished in the manner provided by law. Any company for which a false return or a return containing a false statement shall be made as aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and may be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 422.)

of the tax imposed hereunder as he may deem necessary to enforce its provisions, and upon request shall furnish any taxpayer with a copy of such rules and regulations. (1939, c. 158, s. 423.)

§ 105-183. Commissioner or agent may examine books, etc.—The commissioner, or his authorized agents, may examine any books, papers, records, or other data bearing upon the correctness of any return, or for the purpose of making a return where none has been made, as required by this article, and may require the attendance of any person and take his testimony with respect to any such matter, with power to administer oaths to such person or persons. If any person summoned as a witness shall fail to obey any summons to appear before the commissioner or his authorized agent, or shall refuse to testify or answer any material question or to produce any book, record, paper, or other data when required to do so, such failure or refusal shall be reported to the attorney general or the district solicitor, who shall thereupon institute proceedings in the superior court of the county where such witness resides to compel obedience to any summons of the commissioner, or his authorized agent. Officers who serve summonses or subpoenas, and witnesses attending, shall receive like compensation as officers and witnesses in the superior courts, to be paid from the proper appropriation for the administration of this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 424.)

§ 105-184. Excess payments; refund.—If upon examination of any monthly return made under this article it appears that an amount of tax has been paid in excess of that properly due, then the amount in excess shall be credited against any tax or installment thereof then due from the taxpayer, under any other subsequent monthly return, or shall be refunded to the taxpayer by certificate of over-payment issued by the commissioner to the state auditor, which shall be investigated and approved by the attorney general, and the auditor shall issue his warrant on the treasurer, which warrant shall be payable out of any funds appropriated for that purpose. (1939, c. 158, s. 425.)

§ 105-185. Prior rights or actions not affected by this subchapter.—Nothing in this subchapter shall affect or defeat any claim, assessment, appeal, suit, right or cause of action for taxes due, under the Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, prior to March 24, 1939, whether such assessment, appeal, suit, claim or action shall have begun before March 24, 1939 or shall thereafter be begun; and the sections of the Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, amended or repealed by this subchapter, are expressly continued in full force, effect, and operation for the purpose of assessment and collection of any taxes due under any such laws prior to March 24, 1939, and for the imposition of any penalties, forfeitures, or claims for a failure to comply therewith. (1939, c. 158, s. 426.)

§ 105-186. To prevent unfair trade practices, commissioner of revenue may require tax passed on to consumer.—In order that fair trade practices may be encouraged and any deleterious effect of the retail sales tax levy may be minimized, the commissioner of revenue is empowered and directed to devise, promulgate and enforce regulations under which retail merchants shall collect from the consumers, by rule uniform as to classes of business, the sales tax levied upon their business by this article: Provided, that the commissioner of revenue shall have the power to change the regulations and methods under which the merchants shall collect the tax from the consumers, from time to time, as experience may prove expedient and advisable. Methods for the passing on by merchants to their customers the retail sales tax on sales to said customers may include plans which require both more and less than the prescribed rate of the tax on the sale price, the purpose being to enable the merchants to collect approximately the amount of the tax imposed on their total sales volume. The commissioner of revenue is hereby authorized and empowered to make and adopt rules and regulations requiring merchants to use tokens or stamps, or other means, if found to be practical, which may be determined by the commissioner to provide a method whereby the amount of the tax collected by the merchant from the customer shall be as nearly as possible the prescribed rate of the tax on each purchase. Such regulations as herein authorized shall be promulgated by the commissioner of revenue to become effective after reasonable notice to the retail merchants and when so promulgated they shall have the full force and effect of law. Any merchant who violates such rules and regulations shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or be imprisoned for not more than six months, or be both fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court: Provided, however, that every such violation shall be a separate offense hereunder. It shall be the duty of the solicitors of the several judicial districts of the state to prosecute violations of this section.

The provisions of this section shall not affect in any manner the character or validity of the sales tax levy as a merchants' license tax, and they may not be pleaded or considered in the event any provision of this subchapter is attacked as unconstitutional. (1939, c. 262.)

§ 105-187. Tax on building materials.—There is hereby levied and there shall be collected from every person, firm or corporation, an excise tax of three per cent of the purchase price of all tangible personal property purchased or used subsequent to June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, which shall enter into or become a part of any building or any other kind of structure in this state, including all materials, supplies, fixtures and equipment of every kind and description which shall be annexed thereto or in any manner become a part thereof, except rough and dressed lumber (but not millwork), brick or hollow tile, sand, gravel, crushed stone, rock and granite.

The provisions of this section shall not apply:

(a) In respect to the use of any such article of tangible personal property, the sale or use of which has already been subjected to a tax equal to or in excess of that imposed by this section, whether under the laws of this state or of some other state or territory of the United States; Provided, that if the tax imposed on the sale or use of such tangible personal property imposed by other laws on the sale or use of such property is less than the tax imposed by this section, the provisions of this section shall apply, but at a rate measured by the difference between the rate herein fixed and the rate by which the previous tax upon the sale or use of such property was computed: Provided, that the tax upon the use of a single article of merchandise shall be limited as provided in Schedule E, and shall not apply to tangible personal property exempt from tax and /or classified, when sold, as wholesale sales under the provisions of Schedule E preceding this section in Schedule E.

(b) In respect to such tangible personal property as shall enter into any building or structure erected or constructed under any contract with the federal government or any of its agencies, or with the state of North Carolina or any of its agencies or with any county or municipality in North Carolina or any of their agencies.

Every person liable for the tax imposed by this section shall report to the commissioner of revenue and pay the taxes herein levied in accordance with the provisions of Schedule E and in so far as the provisions of said article are appropriate and not inconsistent herewith, shall be liable for all penalties and shall be subject to all of the provisions of said article. The provisions of said article relating to the administration of said subchapter, auditing of returns and as to the authority and powers of the commissioner to make rules and regulations for the administration of this section, shall be deemed and taken as a part of this section. The definitions of terms, so far as may be applicable to this section, contained in Schedule E, shall be treated as definitions applicable to this section.

The taxes levied in this section shall be levied against the purchaser of the articles named. If purchases of building materials that are not exempt from tax are made by a contractor there shall be joint liability for the tax against both contractor and owner, but the liability of the owner shall be satisfied if affidavit is required of the contractor, and furnished by him, before final settlement is made, showing that the tax herein levied has been paid in full.

(c) A receipt given by a retail merchant maintaining a place of business in this state, showing thereon that the retail sales tax imposed by Schedule E, will be paid by such retail merchant on the articles of commerce included within said purchase, shall be sufficient to relieve the purchaser from further liability for tax imposed by this section: Provided further, that the commissioner may, by rule and regulation, provide that a similar receipt from a retailer who does not maintain a place of business in this state shall also be sufficient to relieve the purchaser of further liability for the tax to which such receipt may refer.

The term "retail merchant," as used in this subsection, shall include wholesalers, jobbers, manufacturers, or their agents, selling taxable building materials for use or consumption in this state to others than merchants for resale. (1939, c. 158, s. 427.)

Art. 6. Schedule G. Gift Taxes.

§ 105-188. Gift taxes; classification of beneficiaries; exemptions; rates of tax. — State gift taxes, as hereinafter prescribed, are hereby levied upon the shares of the respective beneficiaries in all property within the jurisdiction of this state, real, personal and mixed, and any interest therein which shall in any one calendar year pass by gift made after March 24, 1939.

The taxes shall apply whether the gift is in trust or otherwise and whether the gift is direct or indirect. In the case of a gift made by a nonresident, the taxes shall apply only if the property is within the jurisdiction of this state. The taxes shall not apply to gifts made prior to March 24, 1939.

The tax shall not apply to the passage of property in trust where the power to revest in the donor title to such property is vested in the donor, either alone or in conjunction with any person not having substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such property or the income therefrom, but the relinquishment or termination of such power (other than by the donor's death) shall be considered to be a passage from the donor by gift of the property subject to such power, and any payment of the income therefrom to a beneficiary other than the donor shall be considered to be a passage by donor of such income by gift.

Gifts to any one donee not exceeding a total value of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) in any one calendar year shall not be considered gifts taxable under this article.

The amount of tax on all gifts made taxable under this article shall be based on the relationship between the donor and donee, and graduated in proportion to the amount of such gifts. The rates of tax shall be as follows:

(a) Where the donee is lineal issue, or lineal ancestor, or husband, or wife of the donor, or child adopted by the donor in conformity with the laws of this state, or of any of the United States, or of any foreign kingdom or nation, or stepchild of the donor, (for each one hundred dollars ($100.00) or fraction thereof):

First $	10,000	above exemption	...	1 per cent
Over $	10,000	and to $ 25,000	...	2 per cent
Over $	25,000	and to $ 50,000	...	3 per cent
Over $	50,000	and to $ 100,000	...	4 per cent
Over $	100,000	and to $ 200,000	...	5 per cent
Over $	200,000	and to $ 500,000	...	6 per cent
Over $	500,000	and to $1,000,000	...	7 per cent
Over $	1,000.000	and to $1,500,000	...	8 per cent
Over $	1,500,000	and to $2,000,000	...	9 per cent
Over $	2,000,000	and to $2,500,000	...	10 per cent
Over $	2,500,000	and to $3,000,000	...	11 per cent
Over $	3,000,000		.....	12 per cent

(b) Where the donee is the brother or sister, or descendant of the brother or sister, or is the uncle or aunt by blood of the donor (for each one hundred dollars ($100.00) or fraction thereof):

First $	5,000		.....	4 per cent
Over $	5,000	and to $ 10,000	...	5 per cent
Over $	10,000	and to $ 25,000	...	6 per cent
Over $	25,000	and to $ 50,000	...	7 per cent
Over $	50,000	and to $ 100,000	...	8 per cent
Over $	100,000	and to $ 250,000	...	10 per cent
Over $	250,000	and to $ 500,000	...	11 per cent
Over $	500,000	and to $1,000,000	...	12 per cent

Over $1,000,000	and to $1,500,000	...	13 per cent
Over $1,500,000	and to $2,000,000	...	14 per cent
Over $2,000,000	and to $3,000,000	...	15 per cent
Over $3,000,000		.....	16 per cent

(c) Where the donee is in any other degree of relationship than is hereinbefore stated, or shall be a stranger in blood to the donor, or shall be a body politic or corporate (for each one hundred dollars ($100.00) or fraction thereof):

First $ 10,000		.....	8 per cent
Over $ 10,000	and to $ 25,000	...	9 per cent
Over $ 25,000	and to $ 50,000	...	10 per cent
Over $ 50,000	and to $ 100,000	...	11 per cent
Over $ 100,000	and to $ 250,000	...	12 per cent
Over $ 250,000	and to $ 500,000	...	13 per cent
Over $ 500,000	and to $1,000,000	...	14 per cent
Over $1,000,000	and to $1,500,000	...	15 per cent
Over $1,500,000	and to $2,500,000	...	16 per cent
Over $2,500,000		.....	17 per cent

A donor shall be entitled to a total exemption of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) to be deducted from gift made to donees named in subsection (a) of this section, less the sum of amounts claimed and allowed as an exemption in prior calendar years. The exemption, at the option of the donor, may be taken in its entirety in a single year, or may be spread over a period not to exceed eight years. No exemption shall be allowed to donor for gifts made to donees named in subsections (b) and (c) of this section.

It is expressly provided, however, that the tax levied in this article shall not apply to so much of said property as shall so pass exclusively: (1) for state, county or municipal purposes within this state; (2) for charitable, educational, or religious purposes within this state; (3) to or for the exclusive benefit of any institution, association or corporation in this state, the property of which is exempt from taxation by the laws of this state; and (4) to or for the exclusive benefit of charitable, religious and educational corporations, foundations and trusts, not conducted for profit, incorporated or created or administered under the laws of any other state, when such other state levies no gift taxes upon property similarly passing from residents of such state to charitable, educational or religious corporations, foundations and trusts incorporated or created or administered under the laws of this state, or when such corporation, foundation or trust receives and disburses funds donated in this state for religious, charitable and educational purposes. (1939, c. 158, s. 600.)

§ 105-189. Transfer for less than adequate and full consideration. — Where property is transferred for less than an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, then the amount by which the value of the property exceeded the value of the consideration shall, for the purpose of the tax imposed by this article, be deemed a gift and shall be included in computing the amount of gifts made during the calendar year. (1939, c. 158, s. 601.)

§ 105-190. Gifts made in property. — If the gift is made in property, the fair market value thereof at the date of the gift shall be considered the amount of the gift. (1939, c. 158, s. 602.)

§ 105-191. Manner of determining tax; time of payment; application to department of revenue for correction of assessment. — The tax imposed by this article shall be paid by the donor on or before the fifteenth day of March following the close of the calendar year.

Report of the gifts shall be made by the donor to the state department of revenue on blank forms prepared by the state department of revenue and furnished on application to any taxpayer, and the amount of tax due shall be paid at the time such report is made. The department of revenue shall audit the returns made under this article, and if it is found that the amount of tax paid is less than the amount lawfully due under the provisions of this article shall forward a statement of the taxes determined to the person or persons primarily chargeable with the payment thereof, such additional taxes to be collected under the same rules and regulations contained in this subchapter for the collection of other taxes, and if an over-payment should be found to have been made, a refund of such over-payment shall be made to the taxpayer. Within one year after the tax has been determined, any person aggrieved by the determination, may apply in writing to the department of revenue, which may make such corrections of the taxes as it may determine proper: Provided, however, that the rejection of the application in whole or in part by the department of revenue shall not prevent any person from applying to the court, as hereinafter provided, for the correction of said taxes. (1939, c. 158, s. 603.)

§ 105-192. Penalties and interest.—In any case where a donor fails to file a return at the proper time, the department of revenue shall assess a penalty of ten per centum (10%) of the tax determined by it, together with interest upon such tax and penalty at the rate of six per centum (6%) per annum from the date when such report should have been filed until the date of the assessment.

If any tax, or any assessment of tax, penalties and interest, or any part thereof, be not paid when due it shall bear interest at six per centum (6%) per annum from the date of assessment until paid. (1939, c. 158, s. 604.)

§ 105-193. Lien for tax; collection of tax.— The tax imposed by this article shall be a lien upon all gifts that constitute the basis for the tax for a period of ten years from the time they are made. If the tax is not paid by the donor when due, each donee shall be personally liable, to the extent of their respective gifts, for so much of the tax as may have been assessed, or may be assessable thereon. Any part of the property comprised in the gift that may have been sold by the donee to a bona fide purchaser for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth shall be divested of the lien hereby imposed and the lien, to the extent of the value of such gift, shall attach to all the property of the donee (including after-acquired property) except any part sold to a bona fide purchaser for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

If the tax is not paid within thirty days after it has become due, the department of revenue may use any of the methods authorized in this subchapter for the collection of other taxes to enforce the payment of taxes assessed under this article.

In any proceeding by warrant or otherwise to enforce the collection of said tax, the donor shall be liable for the full amount of the tax due by reason of all the gifts constituting the basis for such tax, and each donee shall be liable only for so much of said tax as may be due on account of his respective gift. (1939, c. 158, s. 605.)

§ 105-194. Period of limitation upon assessment; assessment upon failure or refusal to file proper return. — Except as provided in the next succeeding paragraph the amount of taxes imposed by this article shall be assessed within three years after the return was filed.

In the case of a false or fraudulent return with intent to evade tax or of a failure to file a return the tax may be assessed at any time.

If a donor should fail or refuse on demand to file a correct and proper return as required by this article, the department of revenue may make an estimate of the amount of taxes due the state by such donor, and by the respective donees, from any information in its possession, and assess the taxes, penalties and interest due the state by such taxpayers. (1939, c. 158, s. 606.)

§ 105-195. Tax to be assessed upon actual value of property; manner of determining value of annuities, life estates and interests less than absolute interest. — Said taxes shall be assessed upon the actual value of the property at the time of the transfer by gift. In every case where there shall be a gift to take effect in possession or enjoyment after the expiration of one or more life estates, or at any time in the future, the tax shall be assessed on the actual value of the property or the interest of the beneficiary therein at the time when he or she becomes entitled to the same in possession or enjoyment. The value of an annuity or a life interest in such property, or any interest therein less than an absolute interest, shall be determined by the annuity tables provided for by § 8-47. In every case in which it is impossible to compute the present value of any interest in property so passing, the department of revenue may effect such settlement of the tax as it shall deem to be for the best interest of the state, and payment of the same so agreed upon shall be a full satisfaction of such taxes. (1939, c. 158, s. 607.)

§ 105-196. Application for relief from taxes assessed; appeal.—A taxpayer may apply to the commissioner of revenue for revision of the tax assessed against him at any time within three years from the time of the filing of the return or from the date of the notice of assessment of any additional tax. The commissioner shall grant a hearing thereon, and if upon such hearing he shall determine that the tax is excessive or incorrect, he shall resettle the same according to law and the facts, and adjust the computation of tax accordingly. The commissioner shall notify the taxpayer of his determination, and shall refund to the taxpayer the amount, if any, paid in excess of the tax found by him to be due. The taxpayer shall have the right of appeal from any assessment, made by the commissioner of revenue in the same manner and form as set out in § 105-163 with respect to income taxes. (1939, c. 158, s. 608.)

§ 105-197. Returns; time of filing; extension of time for filing.—Any person who within the calendar year nineteen hundred thirty-nine, after March 24, 1939, or any calendar year thereafter, makes any gift or gifts taxed by this article shall report in duplicate, under oath, to the department of revenue, on forms provided for that purpose, showing therein an itemized schedule of all such gifts, the name and residence of each donee and the actual value of the gift to each, the relationship of each of such persons to the donor, and any other information which the department of revenue may require. Such returns shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of March following the close of the calendar year. The department of revenue may grant a reasonable extension of time for filing a report whenever in its judgment good cause exists. (1939, c. 158, s. 609.)

Art. 7. Schedule H. Intangible Personal Property.

§ 105-198. Intangible personal property.—The intangible personal properties enumerated and defined in this article or schedule are hereby classified under authority of section three, Article V of the Constitution, and the taxes levied thereon are for the benefit of the state and the political subdivisions of the state as hereinafter provided and said taxes so levied for the benefit of the political subdivisions of the state are levied for and on behalf of said political subdivisions of the state to the same extent and manner as if said levies were made by the governing authorities of the said subdivisions for distribution therein as hereinafter provided. (1939, c. 158, s. 700.)

§ 105-199. Money on deposit.—All money on deposit (including certificates of deposit and postal savings) with any bank or other corporation, firm or person doing a banking business, whether such money be actually in or out of this state, having a business, commercial or taxable situs in this state, shall be subject to an annual tax, which is hereby levied, of ten cents (10c) on every one hundred dollars ($100.00) of the total amount of such deposit without deduction for any indebtedness or liabilities of the taxpayer.

For the purpose of determining the amount of deposits subject to this tax every such bank or other corporation, firm or person doing a banking business shall set up the credit balance of each depositor on the fifteenth day of each March, June, September and December in the calendar year next preceding the due date of tax return, and the average of such quarterly credit balances shall constitute the amount of deposit of each depositor subject to the tax herein levied; for the purposes of this section accounts having an average of quarterly balances for the year of less than one hundred dollars ($100.00)) may be disregarded.

The tax levied in this section upon money on deposit shall be paid by the cashier, treasurer or other officer or officers of every such bank or other corporation, firm or person doing a banking business in this state by report and payment to the commissioner of revenue on or before March fifteenth of each year; any taxes so paid as agent for the depositor shall be recovered from the owners thereof by the bank or other corporation, firm or person doing a banking business in this state by deduction from the account of the depositor on December sixteenth of each year or on such date thereafter as in the ordinary course of business it becomes convenient to make such charge. The tax on deposits represented by time certificates shall be chargeable to the original depositor unless such depositor has given notice to the depository bank of transfer of such certificate of deposit. Accounts that have been closed during the year, leaving no credit balance against which the tax can be charged, may be reported separately to the commissioner of revenue and the tax due on such accounts shall become a charge directly against the depositor, and such tax may be collected by the commissioner of revenue from the depositor in the same manner as other taxes levied in this act; the bank or other corporation, firm or person doing a banking business in this state shall not be held liable for the payment of the tax due on accounts so reported. None of the provisions of this section shall be construed to relieve any taxpayer of liability for a full and complete return of postal savings and of all money on deposit outside this state having business, commercial or taxable situs in this state.

The tax levied in this section shall not apply to deposits by one bank in another bank, nor to deposits of the United States, state of North Carolina, political subdivisions of this state or agencies of such governmental units. Deposits representing the actual payment of benefits to World War veterans by the federal government, when not reinvested, shall not be subject to the tax levied in this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 701.)

§ 105-200. Money on hand. — All money on hand (including money in safe deposit boxes, safes, cash registers, etc.) on December thirty-first of each year, having a business, commercial or taxable situs in this state, shall be subject to an annual tax, which is hereby levied, of twenty-five cents (25c) on every one hundred dollars ($100.00) of the total amount of such money on hand without deduction for any indebtedness or liabilities of the taxpayer. (1939, c. 158, s. 702.)

§ 105-201. Accounts receivable. — All accounts receivable on December thirty-first of each year, having a business, commercial or taxable situs in this state, shall be subject to an annual tax, which is hereby levied, of twenty-five cents (25c) on every one hundred dollars ($100.00) of the face value of such accounts receivable: Provided, that from the face value of such accounts receivable there may be deducted the accounts payable of the taxpayer: provided further, that no deduction in any case shall be allowed under this section of any indebtedness of the taxpayer on account of capital outlay, permanent additions to capital or purchase of capital assets. The term "accounts payable" as used in this section shall not include: (a) reserves, secondary liabilities or contingent liabilities except upon satisfactory showing that the taxpayer will actually be compelled to pay the debt or liability; (b) taxes of any kind owing by the taxpayer; (c) debts owed to a corporation of which the taxpayer is parent or subsidiary or with which the taxpayer is closely affiliated by stock ownership or with which the taxpayer is subsidiary of same parent corporation unless the credits created by such debts are listed if so required by law for ad valorem or property taxation, for taxation at the situs of such credits; or (d) debts incurred to purchase assets which are not subject to taxation at the situs of such assets.

From the total face value of accounts receivable returned to this state for taxation by or in behalf of any taxpayer who or which also owns other such accounts receivable as have situs outside of this state, accounts payable of the taxpayer may be deducted only in the proportion which the total face value of accounts receivable taxable under this section bears to the total face value of all accounts receivable of the taxpayer.

The term "accounts payable" as used in this section shall be deemed to include current notes payable of the taxpayer incurred to secure funds which have been actually paid on his current accounts payable within one hundred and twenty days prior to the date as of which the intangible tax return is made. (1939, c. 158, s. 703; 1941, c. 50, s. 8.)

§ 105-202. Bonds, notes, and other evidences of debt.—All bonds, notes, demands, claims and other evidences of debt however evidenced, whether secured by mortgage, deed of trust, judgment or otherwise, or not so secured, having a business, commercial or taxable situs in this state on December thirty-first of each year shall be subject to annual tax, which is hereby levied of fifty cents (50c) on every one hundred dollars ($100.00) of the actual value thereof: Provided, that from the actual value of such bonds, notes, demands, claims and other evidences of debt there may be deducted like evidences of debt owed by the taxpayer on December thirty-first of the same year. The term "like evidences of debt" deductible under this section shall not include: (a) accounts payable; (b) taxes of any kind owing by the taxpayer; (c) reserves, secondary liabilities or contingent liabilities except upon satisfactory showing that the taxpayer will actually be compelled to pay the debt or liability; (d) evidences of debt owed to a corporation of which the taxpayer is parent or subsidiary or with which the taxpayer is closely affiliated by stock ownership or with which the taxpayer is subsidiary of same parent corporation, unless the credits created by such evidences of debt are listed, if so required by law for ad valorem or property taxation, for taxation at the situs of such credits; or (e) debts incurred to purchase assets which are not subject to taxation at the situs of such assets.

From the total actual value of bonds, notes, demands, claims and other evidences of debt returned to this state for taxation by or in behalf of any taxpayer who or which also owns other such evidences of debt as have situs outside of this state, like evidences of debt owed by the taxpayer may be deducted only in the proportion which the total actual value of evidences of debt taxable under this section bears to the total actual value of all like evidences of debt owned by the taxpayer.

The tax levied in this section shall not apply to bonds, notes and other evidences of debt of the United States, state of North Carolina, political subdivisions of this state or agencies of such governmental units, but the tax shall apply to all bonds and other evidences of debt of political subdivisions and governmental units other than those specifically excluded herein.

In every action or suit in any court for the collection on any bonds, notes, demands, claims or other evidences of debt, the plaintiff shall be required to allege in his pleadings or to prove at any time before final judgment is entered (1) that such bonds, notes or other evidences of debt have been assessed for taxation for each and every tax year, under the provisions of this article, during which the plaintiff was owner of same, not exceeding five years prior to that in which the suit or action is brought; or (2) that such bonds, notes or other evidences of debt sued upon are not taxable hereunder in the hands of the plaintiff; or (3) that the suitor has not paid, or is unable to pay such taxes, penalties and interest as might be due, but is willing for the same to be paid out of the first recovery on the evidence of debt sued upon. When in any action at law or suit in equity it is ascertained that there are unpaid taxes, penalties and interest due on the evidence of debt sought to be enforced, and the suitor makes it appear to the court that he has not paid or is unable to pay said taxes, penalties and interest, but is willing for the same to be paid out of the first recovery on the evidence of debt, the court shall have authority to enter as a part of any judgment or decretal order in said proceedings that the amount of taxes, penalties and interest due and owing shall be paid to the proper officer out of the first collection on said judgment or decree. The title to real estate heretofore or hereafter sold under a deed of trust shall not be drawn in question upon the ground that the holder of the notes secured by such deed of trust did not list and return the same for taxation as required by this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 704.)

§ 105-203. Shares of stock. — All shares of stock owned by residents of this state or having business, commercial or taxable situs in this state on December thirty-first of each year, with the exceptions hereinafter provided, shall be subject to an annual tax, which is hereby levied, of thirty cents (30c) on every one hundred dollars ($100.00) of the total fair market value thereof.

The tax herein levied shall not apply to shares of stock in banks, banking associations, trust companies or insurance companies not exempted from an income tax under subsection 2(f) of § 105-134, which are otherwise taxed in this state, nor to shares of stock in building and loan associations which pay a tax as levied under § 105-73; nor shall the tax apply to shares of stock in corporations which pay to this state a franchise tax on their entire capital stocks, surplus and undivided profits or entire gross receipts as provided under Schedule C, §§ 105-114 to 105-129, together with the tax upon all of the net income, if any, of such corporations as provided under §§ 105-130 to 105-163. With respect to corporations which pay to this state a franchise tax on a part of their capital stock, surplus and undivided profits or part of their gross receipts as provided in Schedule C, §§ 105-114 to 105-129, and a tax upon a part of the net income of such corporations as provided under §§ 105-130 to 105-163, when such income is earned, there shall be exempt so much of the fair market value of such shares of stock as is represented by the percentage of net income on which tax is paid to this state.

Indebtedness incurred directly for the purchase of shares of stock may be deducted from the total value of such shares: Provided, the specific shares of stock so purchased are pledged as collateral to secure said indebtedness; provided, further, that only so much of said indebtedness may be deducted as is in the same proportion as the taxable value of said shares of stock is to the total value of said shares of stock. (1939, c. 158, s. 705; 1941, c. 50, s. 8.)

§ 105-204. Beneficial interest in foreign trusts. —The beneficial or equitable interest on December thirty-first of each year of any resident of this state, or of a nonresident having a business, commercial or taxable situs in this state, in any trust, trust fund or trust account (including custodian accounts) held by a foreign fiduciary, shall be subject to an annual tax, which is hereby levied, of thirty cents (30c) on every one hundred dollars ($100.00) of the total actual value thereof. (1939, c. 158, s. 706; 1941, c. 50, s. 8.)

§ 105-205. Funds on deposit with insurance companies.—All funds on deposit with insurance companies on December thirty-first of each year, belonging to or held in trust for a resident of this state or having acquired a taxable situs in this state, shall be subject to an annual tax, which is hereby levied, of twenty-five cents (25c) on every one hundred dollars ($100.00) thereof. The term "funds on deposit" as used in this section shall mean all funds accrued or accruing by virtue of the death of the insured or the original maturity of a policy contract where the party or parties entitled to receive such funds might withdraw same at their option upon stipulated notice; provided, that in the determination of the tax liability under this section the first twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00) of such funds on deposit or paid over to and held by a bank as trustee shall be disregarded where such funds on deposit are payable wholly and exclusively to a widow and/or children of the person deceased whose death created such funds on deposit.

The tax levied in this section shall be paid by the treasurer, cashier or other officer or officers of every insurance company doing business in this state by report and payment to the commissioner of revenue on or before March fifteenth of each year; any taxes so paid as agent for the party or parties entitled to receive such funds shall be recovered from the owners thereof by deduction from the account of the owner on December thirty-first of each year or at such other time as in the ordinary course of business it becomes convenient to make such charge. (1939, c. 158, s. 707; 1941, c. 50, s. 8.)

§ 105-206. When taxes due and payable; date lien attaches; non-residents; forms for returns; extensions.—All taxes levied in this article or schedule shall become due and payable on the fifteenth day of March of each year, and the lien of such taxes shall attach annually to all real estate of the taxpayer within this state as of December thirty-first next preceding the date that such taxes become due and payable, regardless of the time at which liability for the tax may arise or the exact amount thereof be determined; and said lien shall continue until such taxes, with any interest, penalty and costs which shall accrue thereon, shall have been paid.

Every person, firm, association, corporation, clerk of court, guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, assignee for creditors, trustee in bankruptcy or other fiduciary owning or holding any intangible personal properties defined and classified and/or liable for or required to pay any tax levied, in this article or schedule, either as principal or agent, shall make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue in such form as he may prescribe a full, accurate and complete return of such tax liability; such return, together with the total amount of tax due, shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of March in each year.

For the purpose of protecting the revenue of this state and to avoid discrimination and prevent evasion of the tax imposed by this article, every resident or nonresident person, firm, association, trustee or corporation, foreign or domestic, engaged in this state, either as principal or as agent or representative of or on behalf of another, in buying, selling, collecting, discounting, negotiating or otherwise dealing in or handling any of the intangible property defined in this article, shall be deemed to be doing business in this state for the purposes of this article, and the principal, superior or person on whose behalf such business is carried on in this state shall likewise be deemed to be doing business in this state, for the purpose of this article, and where such business is carried on in this state by a corporation, foreign or domestic, it and its parent corporation or the corporation which substantially owns or controls it, by stock ownership or otherwise, shall be deemed to be doing business in this state, for the purpose of this article, and in all such cases the said intangible property acquired in the conduct of such business in this state, and outstanding on December 31 of each year, shall be deemed to have a situs in this state and subject to the tax imposed by this article, notwithstanding any transfer between any of such parties and notwithstanding that the same may be kept or may then be outside of this state, and any of the intangible property defined in this article and acquired in the conduct of any business carried on in this state, and/or having a business, commercial or taxable situs in this state, shall be subject to said tax and returned for taxation by the owner thereof or by the agent, person, or corporation in this state employed by such owner to handle or collect the same.

The commissioner of revenue shall cause to be prepared blank forms for said returns and shall cause them to be distributed throughout the state, and to be furnished upon application; but failure to receive or secure form shall not relieve any taxpayer from the obligation of making full and complete return of intangible personal properties as provided in this article or schedule.

The return required by this article or schedule shall be due on or before the date specified unless written application for extension of time in which to file, containing reasons therefor, is made to the commissioner of revenue on or before due date of return. The commissioner of revenue for good cause may extend the time for filing any such return, provided interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from due date of return is paid upon the total amount of tax due. (1939, c. 158, s. 708; 1941, c. 50, s. 8.)

§ 105-207. Penalties; unlawful to refuse to make returns.—If any taxpayer, without intent to evade any tax imposed by this article or schedule, shall fail to file a return and pay the tax, if any be due, at the time required by or under the provisions of this article or schedule, but who shall voluntarily file a complete and correct return and pay the tax due within sixty days after due date, there shall be added to the tax an additional amount equal to five per cent (5%) thereof, said additional amount in no case to be less than one dollar ($1.00), together with interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent (½ of 1%) per month or fraction thereof from the time said return was required to be filed until paid.

If any taxpayer fails voluntarily to file a return and/or pay the tax, if any be due, within sixty days after due date as required by this article or schedule, there shall be added to the tax an additional amount equal to twenty-five per cent (25%) thereof, said additional amount in no case to be less than two dollars ($2.00), together with interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent (½ of 1%) per month or fraction thereof from time said return was required to be filed until paid.

If any taxpayer who has failed to file a return or has filed an incorrect or insufficient return, and who has been notified by the commissioner of revenue of such delinquency, refuses or neglects within thirty days after such notice to file a proper return, the commissioner of revenue shall determine the tax liability of such taxpayer, according to his best information and belief, and shall assess the same at double the amount so determined plus the penalties and interest provided in this section for failure voluntarily to file return within sixty days after due date; the assessment so made by the commissioner of revenue shall be prima facie correct.

It shall be unlawful for any person to fail or refuse to make the return provided for in this article or schedule, or to make any false or fraudulent return or false statement in any return of the tax, or any part thereof, imposed by this article; or for any person to aid or abet another in any attempt to evade the payment of the tax, or any part thereof, imposed by this article; or for the president, vice-president, secretary, or treasurer of any company to make or permit to be made for any company or association any false return, or any false statement in any return required by this article, with the intent to evade the payment of any tax hereunder; or for any person to fail or refuse to permit the examination of any book, paper, account, record, or other data by the commissioner of revenue or his duly appointed agent, or to refuse to offer testimony or produce any record as required. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or imprisoned not exceeding six months, or punished by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court within the limitations aforesaid. In addition to the foregoing penalties, any person who shall knowingly swear to or verify any false or fraudulent statement, with the intent aforesaid, shall be guilty of the offense of perjury, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished in the manner provided by law for the offense of perjury. Any company for which a false return shall be made or a return containing a false statement as aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and may be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). (1939, c. 158, s. 709.)

§ 105-208. Examination of returns; additional taxes.—As soon as practicable after the return is filed the commissioner of revenue shall examine same together with any other facts within his knowledge, and shall compute the tax, and the amount so computed shall be the tax. If the tax found due shall be greater than the amount theretofore paid, the deficiency shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue within thirty days after date of notice to the taxpayer of such deficiency, and any over-payment of tax shall be returned to the taxpayer within thirty days after it is ascertained.

If the return is made in good faith and the under-statement of the tax is not due to any fault of the taxpayer, there shall be no penalty or additional tax added because of such under-statement, but interest shall be added to the amount of the deficiency at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum until paid. If the under-statement is due to negligence on the part of the taxpayer, but without intent to defraud, there shall be added to the amount of the deficiency five per cent (5%) thereof, together with interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum until paid. If the understatement is found by the commissioner of revenue to be false or fraudulent, with intent to evade the tax, any additional tax found to be due and payable shall be doubled together with interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum upon the total amount of tax so found. The interest provided for in this section shall in all cases be computed from the date the tax was originally due to the date of payment.

If the commissioner of revenue discovers from the examination of the return or otherwise that the intangible personal property of any taxpayer, or any portion thereof, has not been assessed, he may, at any time within three years after the time when the return was due, give notice in writing to the taxpayer of such deficiency. Any taxpayer feeling aggrieved by such proposed assessment shall be entitled to a hearing before the commissioner of revenue, if within thirty days after giving notice of such proposed assessment he shall apply for such hearing in writing, explaining in detail his objections to same. If no request for such hearing is so made, such proposed assessment shall be final and conclusive. If the request for hearing is made, the taxpayer shall be heard by the commissioner of revenue, and after such hearing the commissioner of revenue shall render his decision. The taxpayer shall be advised of his decision and such amount shall be due within ten days after notice is given. The provisions of this article with respect to revision and appeal shall apply to the tax so assessed. The limitation of three years to the assessment of such tax or an additional tax shall not apply to the assessment of additional taxes upon fraudulent returns nor upon failure to file returns. (1939, c. 158, s. 710.)

§ 105-209. Information from the source; commissioner of revenue empowered to make regulations.—In addition to the other requirements of this article or schedule it shall be the duty of every domestic corporation and every foreign corporation doing business and/or owning property in this state, the shares of stock and bonds of which are subject to tax under the provisions of this article or schedule, to report not later than the fifteenth day of March of each year to the commissioner of revenue, in such form and manner as he may prescribe, the name and address of each registered stockholder or bondholder resident in this state as of the thirty-first day of December of each year; such report shall also include the number of shares of stock and/or the number of bonds, the par or face value of each, the dividends or interest paid on each such security during the calendar year next preceding date of report, all transfers of record made from residents of this state between the first and thirty-first days of December next preceding the date of the report herein required, and such other and further information as the commissioner of revenue may require.

The commissioner of revenue shall from time to time promulgate such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this article or schedule for making returns and for the ascertainment, assessment and collection of the taxes imposed hereunder as he may deem necessary to enforce its provisions. (1939, c. 158, s. 711.)

§ 105-210. Moneyed capital coming into competition with the business of national banks.—On all moneyed capital coming into competition with the business of national banks there is hereby annually levied a tax at the same rate as is assessed upon the shares of stock of national banks located in this state at the place of residence of such national banks, less deduction of real estate otherwise taxed in this state, to the same extent and under the same corresponding conditions as this deduction is allowed in the assessment of such shares of stock of national banks located in this state: Provided, that bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness in the hands of individual citizens not employed or engaged in the banking or investment business and representing merely personal investments not made in competition with such business shall not be deemed moneyed capital within the meaning of this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 712.)

§ 105-211. Conversion of intangible personal property to evade taxation not to defeat assessment and collection of proper taxes; taxpayer's protection.—Any taxpayer who shall, for the purpose of evading taxation under the provisions of this article or schedule, within thirty days prior to December thirty-first of any year, either directly or indirectly, convert any intangible personal property taxable under the provisions of this article or schedule, or with like intent shall, either directly or indirectly, convert such intangible personal property into a class of property which is taxable in this state at a lower rate than the intangible personal property so converted, shall be taxable on such intangible personal property as if such conversion had not taken place; the fact that such taxpayer within thirty days after December thirty-first of any year, either directly or indirectly, converts such property non-taxable in this state or taxable at the lower rate in this state into intangible personal property taxable at the higher rate shall be prima facie evidence of intent to evade taxation by this state, and the burden of proof shall be upon such taxpayer to show that the first conversion was for a bona fide purpose of investment and not for the purpose of evading taxation by this state.

Taxpayers making a complete return on or before March fifteenth of each year of all their holdings of intangible personal property as provided by this article or schedule (or by similar provisions of prior Revenue Act) shall not thereafter be held liable for failure to list such intangible personal property with the local taxing units of this state in previous years; the taxes levied in this article or schedule shall be in lieu of all other property taxes in this state on such intangible personal property. (1939, c. 158, s. 713.)

§ 105-212. Institutions exempted; conditional and other exemptions.—None of the taxes levied in this article or schedule shall apply to religious, educational, charitable or benevolent organizations not conducted for profit, nor to any funds held irrevocably in trust exclusively for the maintenance and care of places of burial; insurance companies reporting premiums to the insurance commissioner of this state and paying a tax thereon under the provisions of § 105-121 shall not be subject to the provisions of §§ 105-201, 105-202 and 105-203; building and loan associations paying a tax under the provisions of § 105-73 shall not be subject to the provisions of §§ 105-201, 105-202 and 105-203; banks, banking associations and trust companies shall not be subject to the tax levied in this article or schedule on evidences of debt held by them when said evidences of debt represent investment of funds on deposit with such banks, banking associations and trust companies: provided, that each such institution must, upon request by the commissioner of revenue, establish in writing its claim for exemption as herein provided. The exemptions in this section shall apply only to those institutions, and only to the extent, specifically mentioned, and no other.

A clerk of any court of this state may, upon written application therefor, obtain from the commissioner of revenue a certificate relieving the depository bank of such clerk from the duty of collecting the tax levied in this article or schedule from deposits of said clerk: Provided, that such clerk of court shall be liable under his official bond for the full and proper remittance to the commissioner of revenue under the provisions of this article or schedule of taxes due on any deposits so handled. (1939, c. 158, s. 714.)

§ 105-213. Separate records by counties; disposition and distribution of taxes collected; purpose of tax.—The commissioner of revenue shall keep a separate record by counties of taxes collected under the provisions of this article or schedule, and shall not later than the twentieth day of July of each year submit to the state board of assessment an accurate account of such taxes collected during the fiscal year ending June thirtieth next preceding, showing separately by sections the total collections less refunds in each county of the state. The state board of assessment shall examine such reports and, if found to be correct, shall certify a copy of same to the state auditor and state treasurer. Twenty-five per cent (25%) of the total amount of such revenue shall be retained by the state for use in the maintenance and operation of the public school system of the state, and seventy-five per cent (75%) of such revenue shall be distributed to the counties and municipalities of the state on the following basis:

The amount distributable to each county and to the municipalities therein from the revenue collected under §§ 105-200, 105-201, 105-202 to 105-204 shall be determined upon the basis of the amounts collected in each county; the amount distributable to each county and to the municipalities therein from the revenue collected under §§ 105-199 and 105-205 shall be determined upon the basis of population in each county as shown by the latest federal decennial census. The amounts so allocated to each county shall in turn be divided between the county and all municipalities therein in proportion to the total amount of ad valorem taxes levied by each during the fiscal year preceding such distribution. Upon certification by the state board of assessment of the allocations herein provided for, it shall be the duty of the state auditor to issue a warrant on the state treasurer to the treasurer or other officer authorized to receive public funds of each county and municipality in the amount so allocated to each such county and municipality. It shall be the duty of the chairman of the board of county commissioners of each such county and the mayor of each such municipality therein to report to the state board of assessment such information as it may request for its guidance in making said allotments to said units; and upon failure of any such county or municipality to make such report within the time prescribed by said state board of assessment, said board may disregard such defaulting unit in making said allotments. The amounts so allocated to each county and municipality shall be distributed and used by said county or municipality in proportion to other property tax levies made for the various funds and activities of the taxing unit receiving said allotment. (1939, c. 158, s. 715; 1941, c. 50, s. 8.)

§ 105-214. Provision for administration. — For the administration of this article or schedule an appropriation is hereby made for the use of the department of revenue in addition to the appropriation in the Appropriation Act of a sum equal to four per cent (4%) of the total revenues collected under this article to be expended under allotments made by the director of the budget of such part of the whole appropriation as may be found necessary for the administration of this article.

The director of the budget may make estimates of the yield of revenue under this article and make advance appropriations based upon such estimate and to provide for the necessary expense of providing materials, supplies and other needful expenses to be incurred prior to the actual collection of taxes made under and by virtue of this article or schedule. The director of the budget may make such advance allotments from such estimates of revenue yield as he may find proper for the convenient and efficient administration of this article.

Out of the amounts which may become due and payable to the counties and municipalities there shall be deducted pro rata the cost of collection, enforcement and administration as determined by the director of the budget. (1939, c. 158, s. 716.)

§ 105-215. Unconstitutionality or invalidity; interpretation; repeal.—If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this article or schedule shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this article or schedule, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. No caption of any section or set of sections shall in any way affect the interpretation of this act or any part thereof. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this article or schedule are specifically hereby repealed. (1939, c. 158, s. 717.)

§ 105-216. Reversion to local units in case of invalidity.—If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this article or schedule shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, and if by virtue of said judgment any one or all of the several taxes classified and levied in this article or schedule is/are held invalid, then the particular class or classes of intangible personal property affected by said judgment shall become subject to listing, assessment and taxation by the county, municipality, and other taxing jurisdictions in which said intangible personal property has situs in the same manner and at the same rates as applicable to real estate and other tangible properties: provided, that in such case said listing, assessment and taxation of such intangible personal property by said local taxing units shall become valid and effective as of the tax listing date next preceding March 24, 1939, and shall continue thereafter with full force and effect as if such properties were made taxable by the local taxing units by direct statutory enactment. (1939, c. 158, s. 718.)

§ 105-217. Power of attorney.—The commissioner of revenue shall have authority to require a proper power of attorney of each and every agent for any taxpayer under this article or schedule. (1939, c. 158, s. 719.)

Art. 8. Schedule I. Compensating Use Tax.

§ 105-218. Short title.—This article shall be known and may be cited as the "Compensating Use Tax Article." (1939, c. 158, s. 800; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

§ 105-219. Definitions.—The following words, terms, and phrases when used in this article have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

(a) "Storage" means and includes any keeping or retention of possession in this state for any purpose except sale in the regular course of business of tangible personal property purchased from a retailer.

(b) "Use" means and includes the exercise of any right or power or dominion whatsoever over tangible personal property by a purchaser thereof and includes, but is not limited to, any withdrawal from storage, installation, affixation to real or personal property, exhaustion or consumption of tangible personal property by the owner or purchaser thereof, but shall not include the sale of tangible personal property in the regular course of business.

(c) The word "sale" or "selling" shall mean any transfer of title or possession, or both, exchange, or barter of tangible personal property, conditional or otherwise, however affected and by whatever name called, for a consideration paid or to be paid, in installments or otherwise, and shall include any of said transactions whereby title or ownership is ultimately to pass notwithstanding the retention of title or possession, or both, for security or other purposes, and shall further mean and include any bailment, loan, lease, rental or license to use or consume tangible personal property for a consideration paid or to be paid, in installments or otherwise: Provided, the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to the lease or rental of motion picture films used for exhibition purposes and for which a tax of three per cent is paid on the total admission for such exhibitions.

(d) "Purchase" means the buying of, giving an order for, or offering to buy tangible personal property as a result of which there occurs a sale or delivery of tangible personal property by a retailer to a person for the purpose of storage, use, or consumption in this state, and includes the procuring of a retailer to erect, install, or apply tangible personal property for use in this state.

(e) "Sales price" means the total amount for which tangible personal property is sold, including all cost of transportation or delivery to the purchaser, whether paid by the purchaser to the retailer or to the carrier, and any services that are a part of the sale, valued in money, whether paid in money or otherwise, and includes any amount for which credit is given to the purchaser by the seller, without any deduction therefrom on account of the cost of the property sold, the cost of materials used, labor or service cost, interest charged, losses, or any other expenses whatsoever: Provided, however, that the cost for labor or services rendered in erecting, installing, or applying property sold shall not be included as a part of the sales price: Provided, further, that where a manufacturer, producer or contractor erects, installs, or applies tangible personal property for the account of or under contract with the owner of realty or other property, the sales price shall be the fair market value of such property at the time and place of sale.

(f) "Person" means and includes any individual, firm, copartnership, joint adventure, association, corporation, estate, trust, business trust, receiver, syndicate, or any other group or combination acting as a unit, and the plural as well as the singular number.

(g) "Retailer" means and includes every person engaged in the business of making sales of tangible personal property, or peddling the same, or soliciting or taking orders for sales, whether for immediate or future delivery, for storage, use or consumption in this state, and every manufacturer, producer, or contractor engaged in business in this state and selling, delivering, erecting, installing, or applying tangible personal property for use in this state notwithstanding that said property may be permanently affixed to a building or to realty or to other tangible personal property: Provided, however, that when in the opinion of the commissioner it is necessary for the efficient administration of this article to regard any salesmen, solicitors, representatives, consignees, peddlers, or canvassers as agents of the dealers, distributors, consignors, supervisors, principals or employers under whom they operate or from whom they obtain the tangible personal property sold by them, irrespective of whether they are making sales on their own behalf or on behalf of such dealers, distributors, consignors, supervisors, principals, or employers, the commissioner may so regard them and may regard the dealers, distributors, consignors, supervisors, principals, or employers as retailers for purposes of this article.

(h) "Commissioner" means commissioner of revenue of the state of North Carolina.

(i) "Tangible personal property" means personal property which may be seen, weighed, measured, felt, touched, or is in any other manner perceptible to the senses, but shall not include electricity, gas or water delivered by or through main lines or pipes either for commercial or domestic use or consumption.

(j) "Engaged in business in this state" shall mean the selling or delivering in this state or any activity in this state in connection with the selling or delivering in this state of tangible personal property for storage, use, or consumption in this state, and includes, but is not limited to, any of the following acts or methods of transacting business: Maintaining, occupying or using, permanently or temporarily, directly, indirectly, or through a subsidiary or agent, by whatever name called, any office, place of distribution, sales or sample room or place, warehouse or storage place, or other place of business, or, permanently or temporarily, directly or through a subsidiary, having any representative, agent, salesman, canvasser, or solicitor operating in the state in such selling or delivering, and the fact that any corporate retailer, agent, or subsidiary, engaged in business in this state, may not be legally domesticated or qualified to do business in this state, shall be immaterial.

(k) "In this state" or "in the state" means within the exterior limits of the state of North Carolina, and includes all territory within such limits owned by or ceded to the United States of America. (1939, c. 158, s. 801; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

§ 105-220. Taxes levied.—An excise tax is hereby levied and imposed on the storage, use, or consumption in this state of tangible personal property purchased from a retailer within or without this state on or after July first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one (1941), for storage, use or consumption in this state at the rate of three per cent of the sales price of such property, regardless of whether said retailer is or is not engaged in business in this state.

Where a retail sales tax has already been paid with respect to said property in this state by the purchaser thereof, then the amount of said tax shall be credited upon the tax imposed by this article.

Every person storing, using or otherwise consuming in this state tangible personal property purchased or received from a retailer either within or without this state shall be liable for the tax imposed by this article, and the liability shall not be extinguished until the tax has been paid to this state: Provided, however, that a receipt from a registered retailer engaged in business in this state given to the purchaser in accordance with the provisions of this article shall be prima facie sufficient to relieve the purchaser from further liability for the tax to which such receipt may refer, and the liability of the purchaser shall be extinguished upon payment of the tax by any retailer from whom he has purchased said property.

The maximum tax imposed upon any single article of tangible personal property shall be limited as provided in § 105-168. (1939, c. 158, s. 802; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

§ 105-221. Exemptions.—The storage, use or consumption in this state of the following tangible personal property is hereby specifically exempted from the tax imposed by this article:

(a) Tangible personal property expressly specified and exempted from the retail sales tax imposed by Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187.

(b) Tangible personal property, the sale of which is classified as a wholesale sale under the provisions of Schedule E.

(c) Tangible personal property, the storage, use or consumption of which is exempt from taxation under the Constitution of North Carolina and the Constitution of the United States.

(d) Motor fuels defined and taxed in subchapter V, as now or hereafter amended or supplemented, and upon which the said gasoline tax has been paid.

(e) Tangible personal property purchased or acquired prior to coming into this state and brought into this state by a person a nonresident thereof for his, her, its or their own use or enjoyment while temporarily in this state. (1939, c. 158, s. 803; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

§ 105-222. Registration. — Every retailer, engaged in business in this state, except those registered under Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, who shall thereby be deemed to be registered under this article, selling or delivering tangible personal property for storage, use or consumption in this state shall within thirty days after July 1, 1941, register with the commissioner and give the name and address of all agents operating in this state and the counties in this state in which they operate, the location of any and all distribution or sales houses or offices or other places of business in this state, the number, location and place of use of all motor vehicles, motorcycles, or other vehicles or conveyances, used or operated in this state by said retailer or in the business of said retailer, or for or under the authority of or under contract with or license from said retailer, and such other information as the commissioner may require. (1939, c. 158, s. 804; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

§ 105-223. Retailer to collect tax from purchaser.—Every retailer engaged in the business of selling, or delivering tangible personal property for storage, use, or consumption in this state shall at the time of selling or delivering said tangible personal property or collecting the sales price thereof, add to the sales price of such tangible personal property the amount of the tax on the sale thereof, and when so added said tax shall constitute a part of such price, shall be a debt from the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as other debts. Said tax shall be stated and charged separately from the sales price and shown separately on the retailer's sales records, and shall be paid by the purchaser to the retailer as trustee for and on account of the state, and the retailer shall be liable for the collection thereof and for its payment to the commissioner, and the retailer's failure to charge to or collect said tax from the purchaser shall not affect such liability. It is the purpose and intent of this article that the tax herein levied and imposed shall be added to the sales price of tangible personal property when sold at retail and thereby be borne and passed on to the purchaser instead of being absorbed by the retailer.

Any retailer who shall by any character of public advertisement offer to absorb the tax levied in this article, or in any manner, directly or indirectly, advertise that the tax herein imposed is not considered as an element in the price to the purchaser, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any violations of the provisions of this section reported to the commissioner of revenue shall be reported by him to the attorney general of the state to the end that such violations may be brought to the attention of the solicitor of the court of the county or district whose duty it is to prosecute misdemeanors in the jurisdiction. It shall be the duty of such solicitor to investigate such alleged violations and if he finds that this section has been violated, prosecute such violators in accordance with the law.

Every retailer engaged in business in this state, as defined in this article, shall collect said tax notwithstanding (a) that the purchaser's order or the contract of sale is delivered, mailed, or otherwise transmitted by the purchaser to the retailer at a point outside of this state as a result of solicitation by the retailer through the medium of a catalog or other written advertisement, or (b) that the purchaser's order or the contract of sale is made or closed by acceptance or approval outside of this state or before said tangible personal property enters this state, or (c) that the purchaser's order or the contract of sale provides that said property shall be, or it is in fact, procured or manufactured at a point outside of this state and shipped directly to the purchaser from the point of origin, or (d) that said property is mailed to the purchaser in this state from a point outside this state or delivered to a carrier at a point outside this state, f.o.b., or otherwise, and directed to the purchaser in this state, regardless of whether the cost of transportation is paid by the retailer or by the purchaser, or (e) that said property is delivered directly to the purchaser at a point outside this state, if it is intended to be brought to this state for storage, use, or consumption in this state: Provided, that in the event of direct delivery to the purchaser at a point outside of this state the tax imposed by this article shall be credited with any retail sales tax lawfully imposed and paid with respect to said property in the state where such delivery occurred, or (f) any combination, in whole or in part, of any two or more of the foregoing statements of fact. (1939, c. 158, s. 805; 1941, c. 50, s. 9; 1941, c. 204, s. 1.)

§ 105-224. Taxes payable; when returns are to be filed by retailer.—The tax imposed by this article shall be due and payable to the commissioner monthly on or before the fifteenth day of the month next succeeding the month in which the tax accrues. Every retailer engaged in business in this state shall, on or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month in which the tax accrues, file with the commissioner a return for the preceding month, in such form as may be prescribed by the commissioner, showing the total sales price of the tangible personal property sold and/or delivered by the retailer during such preceding month, the storage, use or consumption of which is subject to the tax imposed by this article, and such other information as the commissioner may deem necessary for the proper administration of this article. The return shall be accompanied by a remittance of the amount of tax herein required to be paid by the retailer during the month covered by the return. Returns shall be signed by the retailer or his duly authorized agent but need not be verified by oath. (1939, c. 158, s. 807; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

§ 105-225. Taxes payable; when returns are to be filed by purchaser.—The commissioner of revenue shall have authority to require every person storing, using or consuming tangible personal property in this state to file with the commissioner a return for the preceding month in such form as may be prescribed by him showing the total sales price of the tangible personal property purchased or received by such person during such preceding month, the storage, use or consumption of which is subject to the tax imposed by this article, and such other information as the commissioner may deem necessary for the proper administration of this article. The return shall be accompanied by a remittance of the amount of tax herein imposed during the month covered by the return. Returns shall be signed by the person liable for the tax or his duly authorized agent but need not be verified by oath.

No return or report shall be required under this section, however, of any person storing, using or consuming tangible personal property purchased from a registered retailer engaged in business in this state to whom said person has paid the tax imposed by this article. (1939, c. 158, s. 808; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

§ 105-226. Sales presumed to be for storage, use or consumption.—For the purpose of the proper administration of this article and to prevent evasion of the tax and the duty to pay the same herein imposed, it shall be prima facie presumed that tangible personal property sold by any person for delivery in this state, however made and by carrier or otherwise, is sold for storage, use or other consumption in this state, and a like presumption shall apply to tangible personal property delivered without this state and brought to this state by the purchaser thereof. (1939, c. 158, s. 809; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

§ 105-227. Provisions of other articles applicable.—All provisions not inconsistent with this article in Schedule E, §§ 105-164 to 105-187, and Schedule J, §§ 105-229 to 105-269, relating to administration, auditing, and making returns, promulgation of rules and regulations by the commissioner, imposition and collection of tax and the lien thereof, assessments, refunds, and penalties, are hereby made a part of this article and shall be applicable hereto. (1939, c. 158, s. 810; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

to register and give the information required in this article, and any retailer or other person failing or refusing to make any return required to be made under this article, or failing or refusing to make a supplemental return or to furnish other data or information required by the commissioner, or rendering a false or fraudulent return, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each such offense.

Any person required by this article to make, render or sign any return or report or to furnish other data or information, who makes any false or fraudulent return or report, or who furnishes any false data or information, with intent to defeat or evade the assessment or determination of any tax due under this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall for each such offense be fined not less than three hundred dollars ($300.00) and not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or be imprisoned not exceeding one year in the county jail or be subject to both said fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Any wilful violation of the provisions of this article, except as otherwise herein provided, shall be a misdemeanor and punishable as such. (1939, c. 158, s. 811; 1941, c. 50, s. 9.)

Art. 9. Schedule J. General Administration—Penalties and Remedies.

§ 105-229. Failure of person, firm, corporation, public utility and/or public service corporation to file report.—If any person, firm, or corporation required to file a report under any of the provisions of Schedules B and C of this subchapter fails, refuses, or neglects to make such report as required herein within the time limited in said schedule for making such report he or it shall pay a penalty of ten dollars ($10.00) for each day's omission. (1939, c. 158, s. 900.)

§ 105-230. Charter canceled for failure to report.—If a corporation required by the provisions of this subchapter to file any report or return or to pay any tax or fee, either as a public utility (not as an agency of interstate commerce) or as a corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, or as a foreign corporation domesticated in or doing business in this state, or owning and using a part or all of its capital or plant in this state, fails or neglects to make any such report or return or to pay any such tax or fee for ninety days after the time prescribed in this subchapter for making such report or return, or for paying such tax or fee, the commissioner of revenue shall certify such fact to the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall thereupon suspend the articles of incorporation of any such corporation which is incorporated under the laws of this state by appropriate entry upon the records of his office, or suspend the certificate of authority of any such foreign corporation to do business in this state by proper entry. Thereupon all the powers, privileges, and franchises conferred upon such corporation by such articles of incorporation or by such certificate of authority shall cease and determine. The secretary of state shall immediately notify by registered mail every such domestic or foreign corporation of the action taken by him, and also shall immediately certify such suspension to the clerk of superior court of the county in which the principal office or place of business of such corporation is located in this state with instructions to said clerk, and it shall be the clerk's duty, to make appropriate entry upon the records of his office indicating suspension of the corporate powers of the corporation in question. (1939, c. 158, s. 901.)

§ 105-231. Penalty for exercising corporate functions after cancellation or suspension of charter.—Any person, persons or corporation who shall exercise or by any act attempt to exercise any powers, privileges, or franchises under articles of incorporation or certificate of authority after the same are suspended, as provided in any section of this subchapter, shall pay a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), to be recovered in an action to be brought by the commissioner of revenue in the superior court of Wake county. Any corporate act performed or attempted to be performed during the period of such suspension shall be invalid and of no effect. (1939, c. 158, s. 902.)

§ 105-232. Corporate rights restored.—Any corporation whose articles of incorporation or certificate of authority to do business in this state has been suspended by the secretary of state, as provided in § 105-230, or similar provisions of prior Revenue Acts, upon the filing, within ten years after such suspension or cancellation under previous acts, with the secretary of state, of a certificate from the commissioner of revenue that it has complied with all the requirements of this subchapter and paid all state taxes, fees, or penalties due from it (which total amount due may be computed, for years prior and subsequent to said suspension or cancellation, in the same manner as if said suspension or cancellation had not taken place), and upon payment to the secretary of state of an additional penalty of ten dollars ($10.00) to cover cost of reinstatement, shall be entitled to exercise again its rights, privileges, and franchises in this state; and the secretary of state shall cancel the entry made by him under the provisions of § 105-230 or similar provisions of prior Revenue Acts, and shall issue his certificate entitling such corporation to exercise again its rights, privileges, and franchises, and certify such reinstatement to the clerk of superior court in the county in which the principal office or place of business of such corporation is located with instructions to said clerk, and it shall be his duty to cancel from his records the entry showing suspension of corporate privileges. (1939, c. 158, s. 903; 1939, c. 370, s. 1.)

§ 105-233. Officers, agents, and employees; misdemeanor failing to comply with tax law.—If any officer, agent, and/or employee of any person, firm, or corporation subject to the provisions of this subchapter shall wilfully fail, refuse, or neglect to make out, file, and/or deliver any reports or blanks, as required by such law, or to answer any question therein propounded, or to knowingly and wilfully give a false answer to any such question wherein the fact inquired of is within his knowledge, or upon proper demand to exhibit to such commissioner of revenue or any of his duly authorized representatives any book, paper, account, record, memorandum of such person, firm, or corporation in his possession and/or under his control, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for each offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 904.)

§ 105-234. Aiding and/or abetting officers, agents, or employees in violation of this subchapter a misdemeanor.—If any person, firm, or corporation shall aid, abet, direct, cause or procure any of his or its officers, agents, or employees to violate any of the provisions of this subchapter, he or it shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for each offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 905.)

§ 105-235. Every day's failure a separate offense.—The wilful failure, refusal, or neglect to observe and comply with any order, direction, or mandate of the commissioner of revenue, or to perform any duty enjoined by this subchapter, by any person, firm, or corporation subject to the provisions of this subchapter, or any officer, agent, or employee thereof, shall, for each day such failure, refusal, or neglect continues, constitute a separate and distinct offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 906.)

§ 105-236. Penalty for bad checks.—When any uncertified check is tendered in payment of any obligation to the department of revenue, and such check shall have been returned to the office of the commissioner of revenue unpaid on account of insufficient funds of the drawer of said check in the bank upon which same is drawn, then and in that event an additional tax shall be imposed equal to ten per cent (10%) of the tax due; and in no case shall the increase of said tax because of such failure be less than one dollar ($1.00) nor exceeding two hundred dollars ($200.00), and the said additional tax shall not be waived or diminished by the commissioner of revenue. This section shall apply to all taxes levied or assessed by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 907.)

§ 105-237. Discretion of commissioner over penalties. — The commissioner of revenue shall have power, upon making a record of his reasons therefor, to reduce or waive any penalties provided for in this subchapter, except the penalty provided in § 105-236 relating to unpaid checks. (1939, c. 158, s. 908; 1939, c. 370, s. 1.)

§ 105-238. Tax a debt.—Every tax imposed by this subchapter, and all increases, interest, and penalties thereon, shall become, from the time it is due and payable, a debt from the person, firm, or corporation liable to pay the same to the state of North Carolina. (1939, c. 158, s. 909.)

§ 105-239. Action for recovery of taxes.—Action may be brought at any time and in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state or other state, in the name of the state and at the instance of the commissioner of revenue, to recover the amount of any taxes, penalties, and interest due under this subchapter. This remedy is in addition to all other remedies for the collection of said taxes and shall not in any respect abridge the same. Any judgment shall be declared to have such preference and priority against the property of the defendant as is provided by law for taxes levied by this subchapter, and free from any claims for homestead or personal property exemption of the defendant therein. (1939, c. 158, s. 910.)

§ 105-240. Tax upon settlement of fiduciary's account.—No final account of a fiduciary shall be allowed by the probate court unless such account shows, and the judge of said court finds, that all taxes imposed by the provisions of this subchapter upon said fiduciary, which have become payable, have been paid, and that all taxes which may become due are secured by bond, deposit, or otherwise. The certificate of the commissioner of revenue and the receipt for the amount of tax herein certified shall be conclusive as to the payment of the tax to the extent of said certificate.

For the purpose of facilitating the settlement and distribution of estates held by fiduciaries, the commissioner of revenue, with the approval of the attorney general, may, on behalf of the state, agree upon the amount of taxes at any time due or to become due from such fiduciaries under the provisions of this subchapter, and the payment in accordance with such agreement shall be full satisfaction of the taxes to which the agreement relates. (1939, c. 158, s. 911.)

§ 105-241. Taxes payable in national currency; for what period, and when a lien.—The taxes herein designated and levied shall be payable in the existing national currency. State, county, and municipal taxes levied for any and all purposes pursuant to this subchapter shall be for the fiscal year of the state in which they become due, except as otherwise provided, and the lien of such taxes shall attach annually to all real estate of the taxpayer within the state on the date that such taxes are due and payable, and said lien shall continue until such taxes, with any interest, penalty, and costs which shall accrue thereon, shall have been paid; in the settlement of the estate of any decedent where, by any order of court or other proceeding, the real estate of the decedent has been sold to make assets to pay debts, such sale shall not have the effect of extinguishing the lien upon the land so sold for state taxes, nor shall the same be postponed in any manner to the payment of any other claim or debt against the estate, save funeral expenses and cost of administration.

Whenever the property of any taxpayer liable to any tax imposed by this subchapter or under its authority shall be taken into receivership, the lien of the taxes upon the real estate shall not thereby be in any manner disturbed, and the personal property of the taxpayer liable to said tax upon which there is no prior specific lien shall be subject to a lien for the taxes imposed by this subchapter, or under its authority, from the time the receivership went into effect, subject to prior payment of costs of the receivership only.

The provisions of this section shall not have the effect of releasing any lien for state taxes imposed by other law, nor shall they have the effect of postponing the payment of the said state taxes or depriving the said state taxes of any priority in order of payment provided in any other statute under which payment of the said taxes may be required. (1939, c. 158, s. 912.)

§ 105-242. Warrant for the collection of taxes. —1. If any tax imposed by this subchapter, or any other tax levied by the state and payable to the commissioner of revenue, or any portion of such tax be not paid within thirty days after the same becomes due and payable, and after the same has been assessed, the commissioner of revenue shall issue an order under his hand and official seal, directed to the sheriff of any county of the state, commanding him to levy upon and sell the real and personal property of the taxpayer found within his county for the payment of the amount thereof, with the added penalties, additional taxes, interest, and cost of executing the same, and to return to the commissioner of revenue the money collected by virtue thereof within a time to be therein specified, not less than sixty days from the date of the order. The said sheriff shall, thereupon, proceed upon the same in all respects with like effect and in the same manner prescribed by law in respect to executions issued against property upon judgments of a court of record, and shall be entitled to the same fees for his services in executing the order, to be collected in the same manner.

2. Bank deposits, rents, salaries, wages, and all other choses in action or property incapable of manual levy or delivery, hereinafter called the intangible, belonging, owing, or to become due to any taxpayer subject to any of the provisions of this subchapter, or which has been transferred by such taxpayer under circumstances which would permit it to be levied upon if it were tangible, shall be subject to attachment or garnishment as herein provided, and the person owing said intangible, matured or unmatured, or having same in his possession or control, hereinafter called the garnishee, shall become liable for all sums due by the taxpayer under this subchapter to the extent of the amount of the intangible belonging, owing, or to become due to the taxpayer subject to the set-off of any matured or unmatured indebtedness of the taxpayer to the garnishee. To effect such attachment or garnishment the commissioner of revenue shall serve or cause to be served upon the taxpayer and the garnishee a notice as hereinafter provided, which notice may be served by any deputy or employee of the commissioner of revenue or by any officer having authority to serve summonses. Said notice shall show:

(1) The name of the taxpayer and his address, if known:

(2) The nature and amount of the tax, and the interest and penalties thereon, and the year or years for which the same were levied or assessed, and

(3) Shall be accompanied by a copy of this subsection, and thereupon the procedure shall be as follows:

If the garnishee has no defense to offer or no set-off against the taxpayer, he shall, within ten days after service of said notice, answer the same by sending to the commissioner of revenue by registered mail a statement to that effect, and if the amount due or belonging to the taxpayer is then due or subject to his demand, it shall be remitted to the commissioner with said statement, but if said amount is to mature in the future, the statement shall set forth that fact and the same shall be paid to the commissioner upon maturity, and any payment by the garnishee hereunder shall be a complete extinguishment of any liability therefor on his part to the taxpayer. If the garnishee has any defense or set-off, he shall state the same in writing under oath, and, within ten days after service of said notice, shall send two copies of said statement to the commissioner by registered mail; if the commissioner admits such defense or set-off, he shall so advise the garnishee in writing within ten days after receipt of such statement and the attachment or garnishment shall thereupon be discharged to the amount required by such defense or set-off, and any amount attached or garnished hereunder which is not affected by such defense or set-off shall be remitted to the commissioner as above provided in cases where the garnishee has no defense or set-off, and with like effect. If the commissioner shall not admit the defense or set-off, he shall set forth in writing his objections thereto and shall send a copy thereof to the garnishee within ten days after receipt of the garnishee's statement, or within such further time as may be agreed on by the garnishee, and at the same time he shall file a copy of said notice, a copy of the garnishee's statement, and a copy of his objections thereto in the superior court of the county where the garnishee resides or does business where the issues made shall be tried as in civil actions.

If judgment is entered in favor of the commissioner of revenue by default or after hearing, the garnishee shall become liable for the taxes, interest and penalties due by the taxpayer to the extent of the amount over and above any defense or set-off of the garnishee belonging, owing, or to become due to the taxpayer, but payments shall not be required from amounts which are to become due to the taxpayer until the maturity thereof, nor shall more than ten per cent of any taxpayer's salary or wages be required to be paid hereunder in any one month. The garnishee may satisfy said judgment upon paying said amount, and if he fails to do so, execution may issue as provided by law. From any judgment or order entered upon such hearing either the commissioner of revenue or the garnishee may appeal as provided by law. If, before or after judgment, adequate security is filed for the payment of said taxes, interest, penalties, and costs, the attachment or garnishment may be released or execution stayed pending appeal, but the final judgment shall be paid or enforced as above provided. The taxpayer's sale remedies to question his liability for said taxes, interest, and penalties shall be those provided in this subchapter, as now or hereafter amended or supplemented. If any third person claims any intangible attached or garnished hereunder and his lawful right thereto, or to any part thereof, is shown to the commissioner, he shall discharge the attachment or garnishment to the extent necessary to protect such right, and if such right is asserted after the filing of said copies as aforesaid, it may be established by interpleader as now or hereafter provided by law in cases of attachment and garnishment. In case such third party has no notice of proceedings hereunder, he shall have the right to file his petition under oath with the commissioner at any time within twelve months after said intangible is paid to him and if the commissioner finds that such party is lawfully entitled thereto or to any part thereof, he shall pay the same to such party as provided for refunds by § 105-407, and if such payment is denied, said party may appeal from the determination of the commissioner to the superior court of Wake county or to the superior court of the county wherein he resides or does business and the provisions of § 105-163 shall apply on such appeal. The intangibles of a taxpayer shall be paid or collected hereunder only to the extent necessary to satisfy said taxes, interest, penalties, and costs. Except as hereinafter set forth, the remedy provided in this section shall not be resorted to unless a warrant for collection or execution against the taxpayer has been returned unsatisfied: Provided, however, if the commissioner is of opinion that the only effective remedy is that herein provided, it shall not be necessary that a warrant for collection or execution shall be first returned unsatisfied, and in no case shall it be a defense to the remedy herein provided that a warrant for collection or execution has not been first returned unsatisfied: Provided, however, that no salary or wage at the rate of less than two hundred dollars ($200.00) per month, whether paid weekly or monthly, shall be attached or garnished under the provisions of this section.

3. In addition to the remedy herein provided, the commissioner of revenue is authorized and empowered to make a certificate setting forth the essential particulars relating to the said tax, including the amount thereof, the date when the same was due and payable, the person, firm, or corporation chargeable therewith, and the nature of the tax, and under his hand and seal transmit the same to the clerk of the superior court of any county in which the delinquent taxpayer resides or has property; whereupon, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court of the county to docket the said certificate and index the same on the cross-index of judgments, and execution may issue thereon with the same force and effect as an execution upon any other judgment of the superior court (said tax shall become a lien on realty only from the date of the docketing of such certificate in the office of the clerk of the superior court and on personalty only from the date of the levy on such personalty and upon the execution thereon no homestead or personal property exemption shall be allowed).

4. The remedies herein given are cumulative and in addition to all other remedies provided by law for the collection of said taxes. (1939, c. 158, s. 913; 1941, c. 50, s. 10.)

§ 105-243. Taxes recoverable by action.—Upon the failure of any corporation to pay the taxes, fees, and penalties prescribed by this subchapter, the commissioner of revenue may certify same to the sheriff of the county in which such company may own property, for collection as provided in this subchapter; and if collection is not made, such taxes or fees and penalties thereon may be recovered in an action in the name of the state, which may be brought in the superior court of Wake county, or in any county in which such corporation is doing business, or any county in which such corporation owns property. The attorney general, on request of the commissioner of revenue, shall institute such action in the superior court of Wake county, or of any such county as the commissioner of revenue may direct. In any such action it shall be sufficient to allege that the tax, fee, or penalty sought to be recovered is delinquent, and that the same has been unpaid for the period of thirty days after due date. (1939, c. 158, s. 914.)

§ 105-244. Additional remedies. — In addition to all other remedies for the collection of any taxes or fees due under the provisions of this subchapter, the attorney general shall, upon the request of the commissioner of revenue, whenever any taxes, fees, or penalties due under this subchapter from any public utility (not an agency of interstate commerce) or corporation shall have remained unpaid for a period of ninety days, or whenever any corporation or public utility (not an agency of interstate commerce) has failed or neglected for ninety days to make or file any report or return required by this subchapter, or to pay any penalty for failure to make or file such report or return, apply to the superior court of Wake county, or of any county in the state in which such public utility (not an agency of interstate commerce) or corporation is located or has an office or place of business, for an injunction to restrain such public utility (not an agency of interstate commerce) or corporation from the transaction of any business within the state until the payment of such taxes or fees and penalties thereon, or the making and filing of such report or return and payment of penalties for failure to make or file such report or return, and the cost of such application, which shall be fixed by the court. Such petition shall be in the name of the state; and if it is made to appear to the court, upon hearing, that such public utility (not an agency of interstate commerce) or corporation has failed or neglected, for ninety days, to pay such taxes, fees, or penalties thereon, or to make and file such reports, or to pay such penalties, for failure to make or file such reports or returns, such court shall grant and issue such injunction. (1939, c. 158, s. 915.)

§ 105-245. Failure of sheriff to execute order.—If any sheriff of this state shall wilfully fail, refuse, or neglect to execute any order directed to him by the commissioner of revenue and within the time provided in this subchapter, the official bond of such sheriff shall be liable for the tax, penalty, interest, and cost due by the taxpayer. (1939, c. 158, s. 916.)

§ 105-246. Actions, when tried.—All actions or processes brought in any of the superior courts of this state, under provisions of this subchapter, shall have precedence over any other civil causes pending in such courts, and the courts shall always be deemed open for trial of any such action or proceeding brought therein. (1939, c. 158, s. 917.)

§ 105-247. Municipalities not to levy income and inheritance tax.—No city, town, township, or county shall levy any tax on income or inheritance. (1939, c. 158, s. 918.)

§ 105-248. State taxes; purposes.—The taxes levied in this subchapter are for the expenses of the state government, the appropriations to its educational, charitable, and penal institutions, pensions for Confederate soldiers and widows, the interest on the debt of the state, for public schools, and other specific appropriations made by law, and shall be collected and paid into the general fund of the state treasurer.

The taxes levied under authority of Section four hundred ninety-two of chapter four hundred twenty-seven of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, and remaining unpaid, shall be collected in the same manner as other county taxes and accounted for in the same manner as other taxes under the Daily Deposit Act. The county treasurer or other officer receiving such taxes in each county shall remit to the treasurer of the state on the first and fifteenth days of each month all taxes collected up to the time of such remittance under the levy therein provided for, and such remittance to the state treasurer shall also include the proportion of all poll taxes collected required by the constitution of the state to be used for educational purposes.

The tax levy therein provided for shall be subject to the same discounts and penalties as provided by law for other county taxes, and there shall be allowed the same percentage for collecting such taxes as for other county taxes. The obligation to the state under the levy therein provided for shall run against all taxes that become delinquent; and with respect to any property that may be sold for taxes, any public officer receiving such delinquent taxes, when and if such property may be redeemed or such tax obligations in any manner satisfied, shall remit such proportionate part of such tax levy to the state treasurer within fifteen days after receipt of same. At the end of each fiscal year the county accountant shall furnish the state treasurer a statement of the total amount of taxes levied in accordance with the provisions of this section, that are uncollected at the end of the fiscal year.

Whenever in any law or act of incorporation, granted either under the general law or by special act, there is any limitation or exemption of taxation, the same is hereby repealed, and all the property and effects of all such corporations, other than the bonds of this state and of the United States government, shall be liable to taxation, except property belonging to the United States and to municipal corporations, and property of churches, religious societies, charitable, educational, literary, or benevolent institutions or orders, and also cemeteries: Provided, that no property whatever, held or used for investment, speculation, or rent, shall be exempt, other than bonds of this state and of the United States government, unless said rent or the interest on or income from such investment shall be used exclusively for religious, charitable, educational, or benevolent purposes, or the interest upon the bonded indebtedness of said religious, charitable, or benevolent institutions. (1939, c. 158, s. 919.)

§ 105-249. Free privilege licenses for blind people.—Any blind person of the age of twenty-one years or more, desiring to operate a legitimate business of any kind to provide a livelihood for himself and dependents, if any, may apply to the welfare officer of the county in which he resides for free privilege license.

No one shall be eligible to the benefits provided for in this section who is not a blind person (the term "blind person" shall for the purposes of this section be construed to mean one who has suffered the total loss of his eyesight, or whose eyesight is so impaired as to unfit the person applying for the benefits under this section to engage in any labor, profession, or ordinary work in competition with his fellowmen with any degree of success, and/or any person suffering with impaired visions likely to produce total blindness), or who has an income of any kind amounting to twelve hundred ($1200.00) dollars, or more net per annum, or whose husband or wife has an income of any kind amounting to twelve hundred ($1200.00) dollars or more net per annum.

It shall be the duty of the county commissioners upon receipt of application from anyone applying for the benefits under this section, to make a thorough investigation to determine whether or not the applicant is entitled to the privilege or other license as provided for in this section. When the commissioners are satisfied that the applicant is capable of operating the business for which said privilege or other license is asked and that he is a deserving person, the commissioners shall then present to the state license department a letter requesting necessary privilege or other license to operate the aforesaid business, and the state license department shall issue free of charge the license requested. The commissioners shall present to the county license department a letter requesting county privilege license necessary to operate the aforesaid business, and the county license department shall likewise issue free of charge the privilege license requested. The county commissioners shall also present, when necessary, to the municipal license department a letter requesting city privilege license necessary to operate aforesaid business, and the municipal license department shall issue free of charge privilege license requested: Provided, that the free privilege license of this section shall not apply to the sale of any kind of fireworks. (1933, c. 53; 1935, c. 162; 1939, c. 306.

§ 105-250. Law applicable to foreign corporations.—All foreign corporations, and the officers and agents thereof, doing business in this state, shall be subject to all the liabilities and restrictions that are or may be imposed upon corporations of like character, organized under the laws of this state, and shall have no other or greater powers. (1939, c. 158, s. 920.)

§ 105-251. Information must be furnished. — Each company, firm, corporation, person, association, co-partnership, or public utility shall furnish the commissioner of revenue in the form of returns prescribed by him, all information required by law and all other facts and information in addition to the facts and information in this act specifically required to be given, which the commissioner of revenue may require to enable him to carry into effect the provisions of the laws which the said commissioner is required to administer, and shall make specific answers to all questions submitted by the commissioner of revenue. (1939, c. 158, s. 921.)

ship, or public utility receiving from the commissioner of revenue any blanks, requiring information, shall cause them to be properly filled out so as to answer fully and correctly each question therein propounded, and in case it is unable to answer any question, it shall, in writing, give a good and sufficient reason for such failure.

The answers to such questions shall be verified under oath by such persons, or by the president, secretary, superintendent, general manager, principal accounting officer, partner, or agent, and returned to the commissioner of revenue at his office within the period fixed by the commissioner of revenue. (1939, c. 158, s. 922.)

§ 105-253. Personal liability of officers, trustees, or receivers.—Any officer, trustee, or receiver of any corporation required to file report with the commissioner of revenue, having in his custody funds of the corporation, who allows said funds to be paid out or distributed to the stockholders of said corporation without having satisfied the state board of assessment or commissioner of revenue for any state taxes which are due or have accrued, shall be personally responsible for the payment of said tax, and in addition thereto shall be subject to a penalty of not more than the amount of the tax, nor less than twenty-five per cent (25%) of such tax found to be due or accrued.

The secretary of state shall withhold the issuance of any certificate of dissolution to, or withdrawal of, any corporation, domestic or foreign, until the receipt by him of a notice from the commissioner of revenue to the effect that any such corporation has met the requirements with respect to reports and taxes required by this subchapter. (1939, c. 158, s. 923; 1941, c. 50, s. 10.)

§ 105-254. Blanks furnished by commissioner of revenue.—The commissioner of revenue shall cause to be prepared suitable blanks for carrying out the purposes of the laws which he is required to administer, and, on application, furnish such blanks to each company, firm, corporation, person, association, co-partnership, or public utility subject thereto. (1939, c. 158, s. 924.)

§ 105-255. Commissioner of revenue to keep records.—The commissioner of revenue shall keep books of account and records of collections of taxes as may be prescribed by the director of the budget; shall keep an assessment roll for the taxes levied, assessed, and collected under this subchapter, showing in same the name of each taxpayer, the amount of tax assessed against each, when assessed, the increase or decrease in such assessment; the penalties imposed and collected, and the total tax paid; and shall make monthly reports to the director of the budget and to the auditor and/or state treasurer of all collections of taxes on such forms as prescribed by the director of the budget. (1939, c. 158, s. 925.)

§ 105-256. Publication of statistics.—The commissioner of revenue shall prepare and publish annually statistics reasonably available, with respect to the operation of this subchapter, including amounts collected, classifications of taxpayers, income and exemptions, and such other facts as are deemed pertinent and valuable. (1939, c. 158, s. 926.)

§ 105-257. Report on system of other states.—The commissioner of revenue shall biennially make report to the general assembly, the said report to contain all available data that may be assembled by his department with respect to the tax laws and systems of this and other states, and making such recommendations as may be useful in improving the tax laws and system of this state. (1933, c. 88, s. 2.)

§ 105-258. Powers of commissioner of revenue.—The commissioner of revenue, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any return or for the purpose of making an estimate of the tax due by any taxpayer under this subchapter, shall have the power to examine or cause to be examined, by any agent or representative designated by him for that purpose, any books, papers, records, or memoranda bearing upon the matters required to be included in the return, and may require the attendance of the taxpayer or of any other person having knowledge in the premises, and may take testimony and require proof material for his information, and may administer oaths to such person or persons. (1939, c. 158, s. 927.)

§ 105-259. Secrecy required of officials—penalty for violation.—Except in accordance with proper judicial order, or as otherwise provided by law, it shall be unlawful for the commissioner of revenue, any deputy, agent, clerk, other officer, employee, or former officer or employee, to divulge and make known in any manner the amount of income, income tax or other taxes, set forth or disclosed in any report or return required under this subchapter.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the publication of statistics, so classified as to prevent the identification of particular reports or returns, and the items thereof; the inspection of such reports or returns by the governor, attorney general, or their duly authorized representative; or the inspection by a legal representative of the state of the report or return of any taxpayer who shall bring an action to set aside or review the tax based thereon, or against whom an action or proceeding has been instituted to recover any tax or penalty imposed by this subchapter; nor shall the provisions of this section prohibit the department of revenue furnishing information to other governmental agencies, of persons and firms properly licensed under Schedule B, §§ 105-33 to 105-113. The department of revenue may exchange information with the officers of organized associations of taxpayers under Schedule B, §§ 105-33 to 105-113, with respect to parties liable for such taxes and as to parties who have paid such license taxes.

Reports and returns shall be preserved for three years, and thereafter until the commissioner of revenue shall order the same to be destroyed.

Any person, officer, agent, clerk, employee, or former officer or employee violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than two hundred dollars ($200.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and/or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court; and if such offending person be an officer or employee of the state, he shall be dismissed from such office or employment, and shall not hold any public office or employment in this state for a period of five years thereafter.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the commissioner of revenue may permit the commissioner of internal revenue of the United States, or the revenue officer of any other state imposing any of the taxes imposed in this subchapter, or the duly authorized representative of either, to inspect the report or return of any taxpayer; or may furnish such officer or his authorized agent an abstract of the report or return of any taxpayer; or supply such officer with information concerning any item contained in any report or return, or disclosed by the report of any investigation of such report or return of any taxpayer. Such permission, however, shall be granted or such information furnished to such officer, or his duly authorized representative, only if the statutes of the United States or of such other state grants substantially similar privilege to the commissioner of revenue of this state or his duly authorized representative. (1939, c. 158, s. 928.)

§ 105-260. Deputies and clerks.—The commissioner of revenue may appoint such deputies, clerks and assistants under his direction as may be necessary to administer the laws relating to the assessment and collection of all taxes provided for in this subchapter; may remove and discharge same at his discretion, and shall fix their compensation within the rules and regulations prescribed by law. (1939, c. 158, s. 929.)

§ 105-261. Commissioner and deputies to administer oaths.—The commissioner of revenue and such deputies as he may designate shall have the power to administer an oath to any person or to take the acknowledgment of any person in respect to any return or report required by this subchapter or under the rules and regulations of the commissioner of revenue, and shall have access to all the books and records of any person, firm, corporation, county, or municipality in this state. (1939, c. 158, s. 930.)

§ 105-262. Rules and regulations.—The commissioner of revenue may, from time to time, make, prescribe, and publish such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this subchapter, as may be needful to enforce its provisions. (1939, c. 158, s. 931.)

§ 105-263. Time for filing reports extended.—The commissioner of revenue, when he deems the same necessary or advisable, may extend to any person, firm, or corporation or public utility a further specified time within which to file any report required by law to be filed with the commissioner of revenue, in which event the attaching or taking effect of any penalty for failure to file such report or to pay any tax or fee shall be extended or postponed accordingly. Interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from the time the report or return was originally required to be filed to the time of payment shall be added to and paid with any tax that might be due on returns so extended. (1939, c. 158, s. 932.)

§ 105-264. Construction of the subchapter; population.—It shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue to construe all sections of this subchapter imposing either license, franchise, inheritance, income, or other taxes. Such decisions by the commissioner of revenue shall be prima facie correct, and a protection to the officers and taxpayers affected thereby. Where the license tax is graduated in this subchapter according to the population, the population shall be the number of inhabitants as determined by the last census of the United States government: Provided, that if any city or town in this state has extended its limits since the last census period, and thereafter has taken a census of its population in these increased limits by an official enumeration, either through the aid of the United States government or otherwise, the population thus ascertained shall be that upon which the license tax is to be graduated. (1939, c. 158, s. 933.)

§ 105-265. Authority for imposition of tax.—This subchapter shall constitute authority for the imposition of taxes upon the subject herein revised, and all laws in conflict with it are hereby repealed, but such repeal shall not affect taxes listed or which ought or should have been listed, or which may have been due, or penalties or fines incurred from failure to make the proper reports, or to pay the taxes at the proper time under any of the schedules of existing law, but such taxes and penalties may be collected, and criminal offenses prosecuted under such law existing on March 24, 1939, notwithstanding this repeal. (1939, c. 158, s. 935.)

§ 105-266. Overpayment of taxes to be refunded with interest. — If the commissioner of revenue discovers from the examination of any return, or otherwise, that any taxpayer has overpaid the correct amount of tax (including penalties, interests and costs, if any), such overpayment shall be refunded to the taxpayer within sixty days after it is ascertained together with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum: Provided, that interest on any such refund shall be computed from a date ninety (90) days after date tax was originally paid by the taxpayer: Provided, further, that demand for such refund is made by the taxpayer within three years from the date of such overpayment. (1939, c. 158, s. 937; 1941, c. 50, s. 10.)

§ 105-267. Taxes to be paid; suits for recovery of taxes. — No court of this state shall entertain a suit of any kind brought for the purpose of preventing the collection of any tax imposed in this subchapter. Whenever a person shall have a valid defense to the enforcement of the collection of a tax assessed or charged against him or his property, such person shall pay such tax to the proper officer, and notify such officer in writing that he pays same under protest. Such payment shall be without prejudice to any defense of rights he may have in the premises, and he may, at any time within thirty days after such payment, demand the same in writing from the commissioner of revenue of the state, if a state tax, or if a county, city, or town tax, from the treasurer thereof for the benefit or under the authority or by request of which the same was levied; and if the same shall not be refunded within ninety days thereafter, may sue such official in the courts of the state for the amount so demanded. Such suit, if against the state commissioner of revenue, must be brought in the superior court of Wake county, or in the county in which the taxpayer resides, if the sum demanded is upwards of two hundred dollars ($200.00), and if for two hundred dollars ($200.00) or less, before any state court of competent jurisdiction in Wake county. If for a county, city or town tax, suit must be brought in a state court of competent jurisdiction in the county where the tax is collectible, and the defendant official has his official residence. If upon the trial it shall be determined that such tax or any part thereof was levied or assessed for an illegal or unauthorized purpose, or was for any reason invalid or excessive, judgment shall be rendered therefor, with interest, and the same shall be collected as in other cases. The amount of state taxes for which judgment shall be rendered in such action shall be refunded by the state. (1939, c. 158, s. 936.)

§ 105-268. Reciprocal comity.—The courts of this state shall recognize and enforce liabilities for taxes lawfully imposed by other states which extend a like comity to this state. (1939, c. 158, s. 938.)

§ 105-269. Extraterritorial authority to enforce payment.—The commissioner of revenue, with the assistance of the attorney general, is hereby empowered to bring suits in the courts of other states to collect taxes legally due this state. The officials of other states which extend a like comity to this state are empowered to sue for the collection of such taxes in the courts of this state. A certificate by the secretary of state, under the Great Seal of the state, that such officers have authority to collect the tax shall be conclusive evidence of such authority. (1939, c. 158, s. 939.)

Art. 10. Liability for Failure to Levy Taxes.

§ 105-270. Repeal of laws imposing liability upon governing bodies of local units.—All laws and clauses of laws, statutes and parts of statutes, imposing civil or criminal liability upon the governing bodies of local units, or the members of such governing bodies, for failure to levy or to vote for the levy of any particular tax or rate of tax for any particular purpose, are hereby repealed, and said governing bodies and any and all members thereof are hereby freed and released from any civil or criminal liability heretofore imposed by any law or statute for failure to levy or to vote for the levy of any particular tax or tax rate for any particular purpose. (1933, c. 418.)

SUBCHAPTER II. ASSESSMENT, LISTING AND COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Art. 11. Short Title and Definitions.

§ 105-271. Official title.—This subchapter may be cited as the Machinery Act. (1939, c. 310, s. 1.)

§ 105-272. Definitions. — When used in this subchapter (unless otherwise specifically indicated by the context):

(1) The term "person" means an individual, trust, estate, partnership, firm or company.

(2) The term "corporation" includes associations, joint-stock companies, insurance companies, and limited partnerships where shares of stock are issued.

(3) The term "domestic" when applied to corporations or partnerships means created or organized under the laws of the state of North Carolina.

(4) The term "foreign" when applied to corporations or partnerships means a corporation or partnership not domestic.

(23) The term "water transportation company" means a public utility company engaged in the transportation of passengers and/or property by boat or other water craft, over any waterway, whether natural or artificial, from one point within this state to another point within this state, or between points within this state and points without this state.

(24) The term "street railway company" means a public utility company engaged in the business of operating a street, suburban or interurban railway, either wholly or partially within this state, whether cars are propelled by steam, cable, electricity, or other motive power.

(25) The term "railroad company" means a public utility company engaged in the business of operating a railroad, either wholly or partially within this state, or rights of way acquired or leased and held exclusively by such company or otherwise.

(26) The terms "gross receipts" or "gross earnings" mean and include the entire receipts for business done by any person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, from the operation of business or incidental thereto, or in connection therewith. The gross receipts or gross earnings for business done by a corporation engaged in the operation of a public utility shall mean and include the entire receipts for business done by such corporation, whether from the operation of the public utility itself or from any other source whatsoever.

(27) The terms "bank", "banker", "broker", "stock jobber" mean and include any person, firm, or corporation who or which has money employed in the business of dealing in coin, notes, bills of exchange, or in any business of dealing, or in buying or selling any kind of bills of exchange, checks, drafts, bank notes, acceptances, promissory notes, bonds, warrants or other written obligations, or stocks of any kind or description whatsoever, or receiving money on deposit.

(28) The terms "collector" and "collectors" mean and include county, township, city or town tax collectors, and sheriffs.

(29) The terms "list takers" and "assessors" mean and include list takers, assessors and assistants.

(30) The terms "real property", "real estate", "land", "tract", or "lot" mean and include not only the land itself, but also all buildings, structures, improvements and permanent fixtures thereon, and all rights and privileges belonging or in any wise appertaining thereto, except where the same may be otherwise denominated by this subchapter or the Revenue Act.

(31) The terms "shares of stock" or "shares of capital stock" mean and include the shares into which the capital or capital stock of an incorporated company or association may be divided.

(32) The terms "tax" or "taxes" mean and include any taxes, special assessments, costs, penalties, and/or interest imposed upon property or other subjects of taxation. (1939, c. 310, s. 2.)

Article 12. State Board of Assessment.

§ 105-273. Creation; officers.—The director of the department of tax research, the commissioner of revenue, the chairman of the public utilities commission, the attorney general, and the director of local government are hereby created the state board of assessment with all the powers and duties prescribed in the subchapter. The director of the department of tax research shall be the chairman of the said board, and shall, in addition to presiding at the meetings of the board, exercise the functions, duties, and powers of the board when not in session. The board may employ an executive secretary, whose entire time may be given to the work of the said board, and is authorized to employ such clerical assistance as may be needed for the performance of its duties; all expenses of said board shall be paid out of funds appropriated out of the general fund to the credit of the department of revenue of the state. (1939, c. 310, s. 200; 1941, c. 327, s. 6.)

§ 105-274. Oath of office.—The members of the board shall take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same with the secretary of state. (1939, c. 310, s. 201.)

§ 105-275. Duties of the board. — The state board of assessment shall exercise general and specific supervision of the systems of valuation and taxation throughout the state, including counties and municipalities, and in addition it shall be and constitute a state board of equalization and review of valuation and taxation in this state. It shall be the duty of said board:

(1) To confer with and advise boards of county commissioners, tax supervisors, assessing officers, list takers, and all others engaged in the valuation and assessment of property, in the preparation and keeping of suitable records, and in the levying and collection of taxes and revenues, as to their duties under this subchapter or any other act passed with respect to valuation of property, assessing, levying or collection of revenue for counties, municipalities and other subdivisions of the state, to insure that proper proceedings shall be brought to enforce the statutes pertaining to taxation and for the collection of penalties and liabilities imposed by law upon public officers, officers of corporations, and individuals failing, refusing or neglecting to comply with this subchapter; and to call upon the attorney general or any prosecuting attorney in the state to assist in the execution of the powers herein conferred.

(2) To prepare a pamphlet or booklet for the instruction of the boards of county commissioners, tax supervisors, assessing officers, list takers, and all others engaged in the valuation of property, preparing and keeping records, and in the levying and collecting of taxes and revenue, and have the same ready for distribution at least thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for listing taxes. The said pamphlet or booklet shall, in as plain terms as possible, explain the proper meaning of this subchapter and the revenue laws of this state; shall call particular attention to any points in the law or in the administration of the laws which may be or which have been overlooked or neglected; shall advise as to the practical working of the revenue laws and the Machinery Act, and shall explain and interpret any points that seem to be intricate and upon which county or state officers may differ.

(3) To hear and to adjudicate appeals from boards of county commissioners and county boards of equalization and review as to property liable for taxation that has not been assessed or of property that has been fraudulently or improperly assessed through error or otherwise, to investigate the same, and if error, inequality, or fraud is found to exist, to take such proceedings and to make such orders as to correct the same. In case it shall be made to appear to the state board of assessment that any tax list or assessment roll in any county in this state is grossly irregular, or any property is unlawfully or unequally assessed as between individuals, between sections of a county, or between counties, the said board shall correct such irregularities, inequalities and lack of uniformity, and shall equalize and make uniform the valuation thereof upon complaint by the board of county commissioners under rules and regulations prescribed by it, not inconsistent with this subchapter: Provided, that no appeals shall be considered or fixed values changed unless notice of same is filed within sixty (60) days after the final values are fixed and determined by the board of county commissioners or the board of equalization and review, as hereinafter provided: Provided, further, that each taxpayer or ownership interest shall file separate and distinct appeals; no joint appeals shall be considered except by and with consent of the state board of assessment.

(4) To require from the register of deeds, auditor, county accountant, tax clerk, clerk of the court or other officer of each county, and the mayor, clerk or other officer of each municipality, on forms prepared and prescribed by the said board, such annual and other reports as shall enable said board to ascertain the assessed valuation of all property listed for taxation in this state under this or any other act, the rate and amount of taxes assessed and collected, the amount returned delinquent, tax sales, certificates of purchase at such tax sales held by the state, county or municipality, and such other information as the board may require, to the end that it may have full, complete, and accurate statistical information as to the practical operation of the tax and revenue laws of the state.

(5) To require the secretary of state, and it shall be his duty, to furnish monthly to the said board a list of all domestic corporations incorporated, charter amended or dissolved, all foreign corporations domesticated, charter amended, dissolved or domestication withdrawn during the preceding month, in such detail as may be prescribed by said board.

(6) To make diligent investigation and inquiry concerning the revenue laws and systems of taxation of other states, so far as the same are made known by published reports and statistics and can be ascertained by correspondence with officers thereof.

(7) To report to the general assembly at each regular session, or at such other times as it may direct, the total amount of revenue or taxes collected in this state for state, county, and municipal purposes, classified as to state, county, township, and municipality, with the sources thereof; to report to the general assembly the proceedings of the board and such other information and recommendations concerning the public revenues as required by the general assembly or that may be of public interest; to cause two thousand copies of said report to be printed on or before the first day of January in the year of the regular session of the general assembly, and place at the disposal of the state librarian one hundred (100) copies of said report for distribution and exchange, if and when funds are available for said purpose; and to forward a copy of said report to each member of the general assembly as soon as printed.

(8) To discharge such other duties as may be prescribed by law, and take such action, do such things, and prescribe such rules and regulations as may be needful and proper to enforce the provisions of this subchapter and the Revenue Act.

(9) To prepare for the legislative committee of succeeding general assemblies such suggestions of revision of the revenue laws, including the Machinery Act, as it may find by experience, investigation, and study to be expedient and wise.

(10) To report to the governor, on or before the first day of January of each year, the proceedings of said board during the preceding year, with such recommendations as it desires to submit with respect to any matters touching taxation and revenue.

(11) To keep full, correct and accurate records of its official proceedings.

(12) To properly administer the duties prescribed by Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, with respect to division and certification of taxes collected thereunder; the state board of assessment shall hear and pass upon any matters relative thereto.

(13) To perform the duties imposed upon it with respect to the classification and assessment of property. (1939, c. 310, s. 202.)

§ 105-276. Powers of the board.—To the end that the board may properly discharge the duties placed upon it by law, it is hereby accorded the following powers:

(1) It may, in its discretion, prescribe the forms, books, and records that shall be used in the valuation of property and in the levying and collection of taxes, and how the same shall be kept; to require the county tax supervisors, clerks or boards of county commissioners, or auditor of each county to file with it, when called for, complete abstracts of all real and personal property in the county, itemized by townships and as equalized by the county board of equalization and review; and to make such other rules and regulations, not included in this subchapter or the Revenue Act, as said board may deem needful effectually to promote the purposes for which the board is constituted and the systems of taxation provided for in this and the Revenue Act.

(2) The board, its members or any duly authorized deputy shall have access to all books, papers, documents, statements, records and accounts on file or of records in any department of state, county or municipality, and is authorized and empowered to subpoena witnesses upon a subpoena signed by the chairman of the board, directed to such witnesses, and to be served by any officer authorized to serve subpoenas; to compel the attendance of witnesses by attachment to be issued by any superior court upon proper showing that such witness or witnesses have been duly subpoenaed and have refused to obey such subpoena or subpoenas; and to examine witnesses under oath to be administered by any member or authorized agent of the board.

(3) The board, its members or any duly authorized deputy are authorized and empowered to examine all books, papers, records or accounts of persons, firms and corporations, domestic and foreign, owning property liable to assessment for taxes, general or specific, levied by this state or its subdivisions. Said board, its members or any duly authorized deputy are also given power and authority to examine the books, papers, records or accounts of any person, firm or corporation where there is ground for believing that information contained in such books, papers, records and accounts is pertinent to the decision of any matter pending before said board, regardless of whether such person, firm or corporation is a party to the proceeding before the board. Books, papers, records or accounts examined under authority of this subdivision of this section shall be examined only after service of a proper subpoena, signed by the chairman of the board and served by an officer authorized to serve subpoenas upon the person having the custody of such books, papers, records or accounts.

Any person, persons, member of a firm, or any officer, director or stockholder of a corporation, bank or trust company who shall refuse permission to inspect any books, papers, documents, statements, accounts or records demanded by the state board of assessment, the members thereof, or any duly authorized deputy provided for in this subchapter or the Revenue Act, or who shall willfully fail, refuse, or neglect to appear before said board in response to its subpoena or to testify as provided for in this subchapter and the Revenue Act, shall, in addition to all other penalties imposed in this subchapter or the Revenue Act, be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

(4) The board is authorized and empowered to direct any member or members of the board to hear complaints, to make examinations and investigations, and to report his or their findings of fact and conclusions of law to the board. Upon demand of any party to an appeal pending before the board, the board shall send one of its members or a special representative designated by it to make an actual examination of the property and other similar property in the same county and report to the board. The cost of making said examination shall be advanced by the county: Provided, that in cases in which the examination is demanded by a taxpayer, if the board's decision does not substantially affirm the contentions of the taxpayer, the board in its decision shall direct that the county advancing the cost may add such cost to the taxes levied against the property.

(5) The board shall have power to certify copies of its records and proceedings, attested with its official seal, and copies of records or proceedings so certified shall be received in evidence in all courts in this state with like effect as certified copies of other public records.

(6) The board may, upon its own motion or upon request of any tax supervisor or county board of commissioners, transmit or make available to a supervisor or duly authorized representative of such board of commissioners any information contained in any report to said state board, or in any report to the department of revenue or other state department to which said state board may have access, or any other information which said state board may have in its possession when, in the opinion of said board, such information will assist said supervisor or representative of the commissioners in securing an adequate listing of property for taxation or in assessing taxable property.

Except as herein specified, and except to the governor or his authorized agent or solicitor or authorized agent of the solicitor of a district in which such information would affect the listing or valuation of property for taxes, the state board shall not divulge or make public the reports made to it or to other state departments: Provided, this shall not interfere with the publication of assessments and decisions made by said board or with publication of statistics by said board; nor shall it prevent presentation of such information in any administrative or judicial proceedings involving assessments or decisions of said board.

Information transmitted or made available to local tax authorities under this section shall not be divulged or published by such authorities, and shall be used only for the purposes of securing adequate tax lists, assessing taxable property and presentation in administrative or judicial proceedings involving such lists or assessments.

(7) The board is authorized to exercise all powers reasonably necessary to perform the duties imposed upon it by this subchapter or other acts of this state. (1939, c. 310, s. 203.)

§ 105-277. Sessions of board, where to be held.—The regular sessions of the state board of assessment shall be held in the city of Raleigh at the office of the chairman, and other sessions may be called at any place in the state to be decided by the board. (1939, c. 310, s. 204.)

Art. 13. Quadrennial and Annual Assessment.

§ 105-278. Listing and assessing in quadrennial years.—In one thousand nine hundred forty-one, and quadrennially thereafter, all property, real and personal, subject to taxation, shall be listed and assessed for ad valorem tax purposes: Provided, that in one thousand nine hundred forty-one, and quadrennially thereafter, the county boards of commissioners may determine whether real property in the respective counties and townships shall be revalued by horizontal increase or reduction or by actual appraisal thereof, or both. Where the horizontal method is used, the provisions of § 105-279 shall also apply: Provided, that the boards of county commissioners of the various counties of the State may, in their discretion, defer or postpone the revaluation and reassessment of real property required herein in the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, and all proceedings and actions heretofore taken by said board of county commissioners in any county in the State as to postponement, or as to increases or reductions or by actual appraisal thereof, are hereby in all respects ratified, validated, and confirmed. Any such board of county commissioners may, in its discretion, defer or postpone any such revaluation, reassessment, or reappraisal for the years one thousand nine hundred and forty-two and one thousand nine hundred and forty-three. But this second proviso shall not apply to any county for which a revaluation board of assessors or a board of equalization and review has been created or provided for by any act of the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and forty-one. (1939, c. 310, s. 300; 1941, c. 282, ss. 1, 1½.)

Local Modification.—Ashe, Rowan: 1941, c. 282, s. 2.

§ 105-279. Listing and assessing in years other than quadrennial years.—In the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine and in other than quadrennial years all property, real and personal, subject to taxation, shall be listed for ad valorem tax purposes. Property not subject to reassessment in such years shall be listed at the value at which it was assessed at the last quadrennial assessment. In all such years the following property shall be assessed or reassessed:

(1) All personal property (which for purposes of taxation shall include all personal property whatsoever, tangible or intangible, except personal property expressly exempted by law).

(2) All machinery, service station equipment, merchandise and trade fixtures, barber shop equipment, meat market equipment, restaurant and cafe fixtures, drug store equipment and similar property not permanently affixed to the real estate.

(3) All real property (which for purposes of taxation shall include all lands within the state and all buildings and fixtures thereon and appurtenances thereto) which:

(a) Was not assessed at the last quadrennial assessment.

(b) Has increased in value to the extent of more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) by virtue of improvements or appurtenances added since the last assessment of such property.

(c) Has decreased in value to the extent of more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) by virtue of improvements or appurtenances damaged, destroyed or removed since the last assessment of such property.

(d) Has increased or decreased in value since the last assessment of such property by virtue of some extraordinary circumstances, such circumstances being those of unusual occurrence in trade or business, and the facts in connection with which shall be found by the board of equalization in each case and entered upon the proceedings of said board.

(e) Has been subdivided into lots located on streets already laid out and open, and sold or offered for sale as lots, since the date of the last assessment of such property. This shall apply to all cases of subdivision into lots, regardless of whether the land is situated within or without an incorporated municipality: Provided, that where lands have been subdivided into lots, and more than five acres of any such subdivision remain unsold by the owner thereof, the unsold portion may be listed as land acreage, in the discretion of the tax supervisor.

(f) Was last assessed at an improper figure as the result of a clerical error.

(g) Was last assessed at a figure which manifestly is unjust by comparison with the assessment placed upon similar property in the county: Provided, that the power to reassess under this subdivision shall be exercised only by the board of equalization and review, subject to appeal to the state board of assessment. (1939, c. 310, s. 301.)

§ 105-280. Date as of which assessment is to be made.—All property, real and personal, shall be listed or listed and assessed, as the case may be, in accordance with ownership and value as of the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, and thereafter all property shall be listed or listed and assessed in accordance with ownership and value as of the first day of January each year. (1939, c. 310, s. 302.)

§ 105-281. Property subject to taxation.—All property, real and personal, within the jurisdiction of the state, not especially exempted, shall be subject to taxation. (1939, c. 310, s. 303.)

§ 105-282. Article subordinate to sections 105-198 to 105-217.—None of the provisions contained in any of the sections of this article shall be construed to conflict with Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, but rather shall they be subordinate thereto. (1939, c. 310, s. 304.)

Art. 14. Personnel for County Tax Listing and Assessing.

§ 105-283. Appointment and qualifications of tax supervisors.—At or before the regular meeting next preceding the date as of which property is to be listed and assessed, the board of county commissioners of each county shall appoint as tax supervisor some person who shall be a freeholder in the county, who shall for one year immediately preceding the appointment, have been a resident of the county, and whose experience in the valuation of real and personal property is satisfactory to the board.

In counties in which there is an auditor, tax clerk, county accountant, all-time chairman of the board of county commissioners, or other similar officer, either may be designated as supervisor by the board of county commissioners. (1939, c. 310, s. 400.)

§ 105-284. Term of office and compensation of supervisors.—The tax supervisor shall serve for one year or for such shorter period of time as the board may designate. In the case he is appointed for one year, he shall serve until his successor is appointed and has qualified, subject to removal for cause by the board of commissioners at any time. Any vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the board of commissioners.

The compensation of the supervisor shall be fixed by the board of commissioners, and he shall be allowed such expenses as the commissioners may approve. (1939, c. 310, s. 401.)

§ 105-285. Oath of office of supervisor.—Immediately after his appointment, and before entering upon the duties of his office, the supervisor shall file with the clerk of the board of commissioners the following oath, subscribed and sworn to before the chairman of the board of commissioners or some other officer qualified to administer oaths:

"I, ..., County Tax Supervisor for ..... County, North Carolina, for the year ....., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will discharge the duties of my office as supervisor according to the laws in force governing such office; so help me, God.

§ 105-286. Powers and duties of tax supervisor.—(1) The supervisor shall have general charge of the listing and assessing of all property in the county in accordance with the provisions of law.

(2) He shall appoint the list takers and assessors, subject to the approval of the commissioners, as hereinafter provided.

(3) He shall, on the second Monday preceding the date as of which property is to be assessed or at some time during the week which includes said Monday, convene the list takers and assessors for general consideration of methods of securing a complete list of all property in the county, and of assessing, in accordance with law, all property which is to be assessed during the approaching listing period.

(4) He shall visit each list taker at least once during the period of listing, and shall confer with each list taker during said period as often as he or the list taker deems necessary, to the end that all property shall be listed and assessed according to law, and that assessments shall be equalized as between the various townships.

(5) He shall have power to subpoena any person for examination under oath and to subpoena any books, papers, records or accounts whenever he has reasonable grounds for the belief that such person has knowledge of such books, papers, records and accounts containing information which is pertinent to the discovery or the valuation of any property subject to taxation in the county, or which is necessary for compliance with the requirements as to what the tax list shall contain, hereinafter set forth. The subpoena shall be signed by the chairman of the county board of equalization and served by an officer qualified to serve subpoenas.

(6) He may require that any or all persons, firms and corporations, domestic and foreign, engaged in operating any business enterprise in the county shall submit, in connection with his or its regular tax list, a detailed inventory, statement of assets and liabilities, or other similar information pertinent to the discovery of valuation of property taxable in the county. Inventories, statements of assets and liabilities or other information not expressly required by this subchapter to be shown on the tax list itself, secured by the supervisor under the terms of this subdivision, shall not be open to public inspection.

Any supervisor or other official disclosing information so obtained, except as such disclosure may be necessary in listing or assessing property or in administrative or judicial proceedings relating to such listing or assessing, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by fine not exceeding fifty dollars ($50.00).

(7) He shall have power, for good cause, and prior to the first meeting of the board of equalization and review, to change the valuation placed upon any property by the list taker, provided such property is subject to assessment for the current year, and provided that notice of such change is given to the taxpayer prior to the meeting of said board.

(8) He shall perform such other duties as may be imposed upon him by law, and shall have and exercise all powers reasonably necessary in the performance of his duties, not inconsistent with the constitution or the laws of this state. (1939, c. 310, s. 403.)

§ 105-287. Appointment, qualifications, and number of list takers and assessors.—Subject to the approval of the county commissioners, the supervisor, on or before the second Monday preceding the date as of which property is to be assessed, shall appoint some competent person to act as list taker and assessor in each township. With the approval of the commissioners he may appoint more than one such person for any township in which is situated an incorporated town or part of an incorporated town. In quadrennial years three such persons shall be appointed in each township, and more than three may be appointed in townships in which is located an incorporated town or part of an incorporated town; and in such years, at the time of their appointment, such appointees shall have been resident freeholders of the county for at least twelve months: Provided, that in any county adopting the horizontal method of revaluations in one thousand nine hundred forty-one, and quadrennially thereafter, the commissioners may appoint less than three list takers and assessors per township: Provided, further, that in quadrennial years the board of county commissioners may appoint one list taker and assessor in each township if in addition thereto at least two county-wide list takers and assessors are appointed; or said board may appoint not more than three qualified assessors to assess all real estate in the county. In every year the persons appointed shall be persons of character and integrity, and shall have such experience in the valuation of types of property commonly owned in the county as shall satisfy the supervisor and the commissioners. (1939, c. 310, s. 404.)

§ 105-288. Term of office and compensation of list takers and assessors.—The list takers and assessors shall serve for such period as may be fixed by the commission. They shall receive for their services such compensation as the commissioners may fix. No list taker shall receive compensation until the supervisor has checked over the lists accepted by him, as hereinafter required, and certified that his work has been satisfactory. Each list taker shall make out his account in detail, specifying each day's services, which account shall be audited by the county accountant and approved by the commissioners. (1939, c. 310, s. 405.)

§ 105-289. Oath of list takers and assessors.—Before entering upon his duties each list taker and assessor shall take the following oath, which shall be filed with the clerk to the board of commissioners after having been subscribed and sworn to before some officer qualified to administer oaths:

"I, ..., List Taker and Assessor for ..... Township, ... County, North Carolina, do hereby solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will discharge the duties of my office according to the laws in force that govern said office; so help me, God.

§ 105-290. Powers and duties of list takers and assessors.—(1) At least ten days before the date as of which property is to be assessed, each list taker shall post, in five or more public places in his township, a notice containing at least the following: (a) The date as of which property is to be assessed; (b) the date on which listing will begin; (c) the date on which the listing will end; (d) the times and places between the last two dates mentioned at which lists will be accepted; (e) a notice that all persons who, on the date as of which property is to be assessed, own property subject to taxation must list such property within the period set forth in the notice, and that failure to do so will subject such persons to the penalties prescribed by law.

In townships in which more than one list taker has been appointed the posting of these notices shall be the duty of one of them, to be designated by the supervisor.

In case the period of listing in any township shall be extended by the commissioners, as hereinafter permitted, it shall be the duty of the list taker who first posted the notices to post new notices in the same places, giving notice of the extension and notice of the times and places at which lists will be accepted during the extended period.

(2) Each list taker shall attend the meeting referred to in subdivision three of § 105-286.

(3) The list takers and assessors, under the supervision of the supervisor, shall secure lists of all real and personal property and polls subject to taxation in their townships, and shall assess all such property as is subject to assessment under the provisions of this subchapter. To this end they shall secure from each taxpayer or person whose duty it is to list property or poll in their respective townships a list containing the information hereinafter specified, and shall have the authority to visit any such person or his property, to investigate the value of any such property, and to examine under oath any such person present before them for the purpose of listing property. The supervisor may, in his discretion, require any list taker and assessor to visit each person in his township whose property or poll is subject to taxation.

(4) Each list taker and assessor shall have power to subpoena any person for examination under oath whenever he has reasonable grounds for belief that such person has knowledge which is pertinent to the discovery or valuation of property subject to taxation in his township or which is necessary for compliance with the requirements, hereinafter set forth, as to what the tax list shall contain.

(5) The list takers and assessors shall perform such duties in connection with the making up of the tax records and in connection with the discovery of unlisted property as hereinafter specified.

(6) The list takers and assessors shall perform such other duties as may be by law imposed upon them; and they shall have and exercise all powers necessary to the proper discharge of their duties not inconsistent with the constitution or the statutes of this state. (1939, c. 310, s. 407.)

§ 105-291. Employment of experts.—The board of county commissioners in each county, at the request of the county supervisor of taxation, may in their discretion employ one or more persons having expert knowledge of the value of specific kinds or classes of property within the county, such as mines, factories, mills and other similar property, to aid and assist the county supervisor of taxation and the list takers and assessors in the respective townships, or to advise with, aid and assist the board of equalization and review in arriving at the true value in money of the property in the county. Such expert, or experts, so employed by the board of county commissioners shall receive for their services such compensation as the board of county commissioners shall designate. (1939, c. 310, s. 408.)

§ 105-292. Clerical assistants. — The county commissioners may, in their discretion, upon recommendation of the supervisor, employ such clerical assistants to the supervisor as they deem proper, and at such compensation and for such terms as they deem proper. Such assistants shall perform such duties as the commissioners or the supervisor may assign to them. (1939, c. 310, s. 409.)

§ 105-293. Tax commission.—In all counties having a tax commission, said commission shall do and perform all the duties required by this subchapter to be performed by county commissioners except levying taxes, and all expenses incurred by said tax commission or its appointees in accordance with this subchapter shall be paid by the county commissioners out of the general county funds. (1939, c. 310, s. 410.)

Art. 15. Classification, Valuation and Taxation of Property.

§ 105-294. Taxes to be on uniform ad valorem basis as to class.—All property, real and personal, shall as far as practicable, be valued at its true value in money, and taxes levied by all counties, municipalities and other local taxing authorities shall be levied uniformly on valuations so determined. The intent and purpose of this subchapter is to have all property and subjects of taxation assessed at their true and actual value in money, in such manner as such property and subjects are usually sold, but not by forced sale thereof, and the words "market value," "true value," or "cash value," whenever used in the tax laws of this state, shall be held to mean for what the property and subjects can be transmuted into cash when sold in such manner as such property and subjects are usually sold: Provided, nothing in this section shall be construed as conflicting with or modifying the provisions of Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, or the provisions of this subchapter classifying other property.

It is hereby declared to be the policy of this state so to use its system of real estate taxation as to encourage the conservation of natural resources and the beautification of homes and roadsides, and all tax assessors are hereby instructed to make no increase in the tax valuation of real estate as a result of the owner's enterprise in adopting any one or more of the following progressive policies:

1. Planting and care of lawns, shade trees, shrubs and flowers for non-commercial purposes.
2. Repainting buildings.
3. Terracing or other methods of soil conservation, to the extent that they preserve values already existing.
4. Protection of forests against fire.
5. Planting of forest trees on vacant land for reforestation purposes (for ten years after such planting). (1939, c. 310, s. 500.)

§ 105-295. Land and buildings.—In determining the value of land the assessors shall consider as to each tract, parcel or lot separately listed at least its advantages as to location, quality of soil, quantity and quality of timber, water power, water privileges, mineral or quarry or other valuable deposits, fertility, adaptability for agricultural, commercial or industrial uses, the past income therefrom, its probable future income, the present assessed valuation, and any other factors which may affect its value.

In determining the value of a building the assessors shall consider at least its location, type of construction, age replacement cost, adaptability for residence, commercial or industrial uses, the past income therefrom, the probable future income, the present assessed value, and any other factors which may affect its value. Buildings partially completed shall be assessed in accordance with the degree of completion on the day as of which property is assessed. (1939, c. 310, s. 501.)

Art. 16. Exemptions and Deductions.

§ 105-296. Real property exempt.—The following real property, and no other, shall be exempted from taxation:

(1) Real property, if directly or indirectly owned by the United States or this state, however held, and real property owned by the state for the benefit of any general or special fund of the state, and real property lawfully owned and held by counties, cities, townships, or school district, used wholly and exclusively for public or school purposes.

(2) Real property, tombs, vaults and mausoleums set apart for burial purposes, except such as are owned and held for purposes of sale or rental.

(3) Buildings, with the land upon which they are situated, lawfully owned and held by churches or religious bodies, wholly and exclusively used for religious worship or for the residence of the minister of any such church or religious body, together with the additional adjacent land reasonably necessary for the convenient use of any such building.

(4) Buildings, with the land actually occupied, wholly devoted to educational purposes, belonging to, actually and exclusively occupied and used for public libraries, colleges, academies, industrial schools, seminaries, or any other institutions of learning, together with such additional adjacent land owned by such libraries and educational institutions as may be reasonably necessary for the convenient use of such buildings, and also buildings thereon used as residences by the officers or instructors of such educational institutions.

(5) Real property belonging to, actually and exclusively occupied by Young Men's Christian Associations and other similar religious associations, orphanages, or other similar homes, hospitals and nunneries not conducted for profit, but entirely and completely as charitable.

(6) Buildings, with the land actually occupied, belonging to the American Legion or Post of the American Legion or any benevolent, patriotic, historical, or charitable association used exclusively for lodge purposes by said societies or associations, together with such additional adjacent land as may be necessary for the convenient use of the buildings thereon.

(7) Property beneficially belonging to or held for the benefit of churches, religious societies, charitable, educational, literary, benevolent, patriotic or historical institutions or orders, where the rent, interest or income from such investment shall be used exclusively for religious, charitable, educational or benevolent purposes, or to pay the principal or interest of the indebtedness of said institutions or orders.

(8) The exemptions granted in subsections three, four, five, six, seven and eleven of this section shall apply to real property of foreign religious, charitable, educational, literary, benevolent, patriotic or historical corporations, institutions or orders when such property is exclusively used for or the income therefrom is exclusively used for religious, charitable, educational or benevolent purposes within this state.

(9) The real property of Indians who are not citizens, except lands held by them by purchase.

(10) Real property falling within the provisions of § 55-11, appropriated exclusively for public parks and drives.

(11) Real property actually used for hospital purposes, including homes for nurses employed by or in training in such hospitals, held for or owned by hospitals organized and operated as non-stock, non-profit, charitable institutions, without profit to the members or their successors, notwithstanding that patients able to pay are charged for services rendered: Provided, all revenues or receipts of such hospitals shall be used, invested, or held for the purposes for which they are organized; and provided, further, that where hospital property is used partly for such hospital purposes and partly rented out for commercial and business purposes, then only such proportion of the value of such building and the land on which it is located shall be exempt from taxation as is actually used for such hospital purposes. The provisions of this section shall be effective as to taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and subsequent years. (1939, c. 310, s. 600; 1941, c. 125, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 105-297. Personal property exempt.—The following personal property, and no other, shall be exempt from taxation:

(1) Personal property, directly or indirectly owned by this state and by the United States, and that lawfully owned and held by the counties, cities, towns, and school districts of the state, used wholly and exclusively for county, city, town, or public school purposes.

(2) The furniture and furnishings of buildings lawfully owned and held by churches or religious bodies, wholly and exclusively used for religious worship or for the residence of the minister of any church or religious body, and private libraries of such ministers and the teachers of the public schools of this state.

(3) The furniture, furnishings, books, and instruments contained in buildings wholly devoted to educational purposes, belonging to and exclusively used by churches, public libraries, colleges, academies, industrial schools, seminaries, or other institutions.

(4) The endowment and invested funds of churches and other religious associations, charitable, educational, literary, benevolent, patriotic or historical institutions, associations or orders, when the interest or income from said funds shall be used wholly and exclusively for religious, charitable, educational or benevolent purposes, or to pay the principal or interest of the indebtedness of said associations.

(5) Personal property belonging to Young Men's Christian Associations and other similar religious associations, orphan and other similar homes, reformatories, hospitals, and nunneries which are not conducted for profit and entirely and completely used for charitable and benevolent purposes.

(6) The furniture, furnishings, and other personal property belonging to any American Legion, or Post of American Legion, patriotic, historical, or any benevolent or charitable association, when used wholly for lodge purposes and meeting rooms by said association or when such personal property is used for charitable or benevolent purposes.

(7) The exemptions granted in subsections two, three, four, five, six and eleven of this section shall apply to personal property of foreign religious, charitable, educational, literary, benevolent, patriotic or historical corporations, institutions or orders when such property is exclusively used or the income therefrom is exclusively used for religious, charitable, educational or benevolent purposes within this state.

(8) Wearing apparel, household and kitchen furniture, the mechanical and agricultural instruments of farmers and mechanics, libraries and scientific instruments, provisions and live stock, not exceeding the total value of three hundred dollars ($300.00), and all growing crops: Provided, that said three hundred dollars ($300.00) exemption shall be limited to: (1) each household, consisting of the head of the household and all the dependents, one three hundred dollars ($300.00) exemption to be distributed among the members of the household as they see fit; and (2) each single person, not residing with persons on whom he is dependent, as to eligible property actually owned by him.

(9) The intangible personal property referred to in Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, which said intangible personal property shall be taxed or exempt in accordance with the provisions of said Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217: Provided, that the provisions of this subsection shall not be construed to modify the provisions of Article 25 or Article 26 of this subchapter.

(10) Tangible personal property held at any seaport destined for and awaiting foreign shipment.

(11) The furniture, furnishings, books, instruments, and all other tangible or intangible personal property held for or owned by hospitals organized and operated as non-stock, non-profit, charitable institutions, notwithstanding that patients of such hospitals able to pay are charged for services rendered: Provided, all revenues or receipts of such hospitals shall be used, invested, or held for the purposes for which they are organized. The provisions of this section shall be effective as to any assessment for taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and subsequent years. (1939, c. 310, s. 601; 1941, c. 125, ss. 3, 4.)

§ 105-298. Deductions and credits.—(a) Private hospitals shall not be exempt from property taxes and other taxes lawfully imposed, but in consideration of the large amount of charity work done by them, the boards of commissioners of the several counties are authorized and directed to accept, as valid claims against the county, the bills of such hospitals for attention and services voluntarily rendered to afflicted or injured residents of the county who are indigent and likely to become public charges, when such bills are duly itemized and sworn to and are approved by the county physician or health officer as necessary or proper; and the same shall be allowed as payments on and credits against all taxes which may be or become due by such hospital on properties strictly used for hospital purposes, but to that extent only will the county be liable for such hospital bills: Provided, that the board of aldermen or other governing boards of cities and towns shall allow similar bills against the municipal taxes for attention and services voluntarily rendered by such hospitals to paupers or other indigent persons resident in any such city or town: Provided further, that the governing boards of cities and towns shall require a sworn statement to the effect that such bills have not and will not be presented to any board of county commissioners as a debt against that county, or as a credit on taxes due that county. The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to public hospitals or to hospitals organized and operated as non-stock, non-profit, charitable institutions, which, for the purposes of this subchapter, shall be deemed public hospitals: Provided, however, that nothing in this subsection shall affect the liability of counties, cities, and towns to public hospitals, as herein defined, for services heretofore or hereafter rendered indigent patients or public charges and for which such counties, cities, or towns are or may be otherwise liable.

(b) All bona fide indebtedness incurred in the purchase of fertilizer and fertilizer materials owing by a taxpayer as principal debtor may be deducted from the total value of all fertilizer and fertilizer materials as are held by such taxpayer for his own use in agriculture during the current year: Provided, further, that from the total value of cotton stored in this state there may be deducted by the owner thereof all bona fide indebtedness incurred directly for the purchase of said cotton and for the payment of which the cotton so purchased is pledged as collateral. (1939, c. 310, s. 602; 1941, c. 125, s. 5, c. 221, s. 3.)

Local Modification.—Buncombe, Rockingham: 1939, c. 310, s. 602.

§ 105-299. Article subordinate to sections 105-198 to 105-217.—None of the provisions contained in any of the sections of this article shall be construed to conflict with Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, but rather shall they be subordinate thereto. (1939, c. 310, s. 603.)

Art. 17. Real Property—Where and in Whose Name Listed.

§ 105-300. Place for listing real property.—All real property subject to taxation, and not hereinafter required to be assessed originally by the state board of assessment, shall be listed in the township or place where such property is situated. (1939, c. 310, s. 700.)

§ 105-301. In whose name real property to be listed; information regarding ownership; permanent listing.—(1) Except as hereinafter specified, real property shall be listed in the name of its owner; and it shall be the duty of the owner to list the same. To this end the board of county commissioners in any county may require the register of deeds, when any transfer of title is recorded, other than a mortgage or deed of trust, to certify the same to the supervisor (or if there be no supervisor acting at the time, to the person in charge of the tax records), and the record of the transfer shall be entered upon the tax records. The certification from the register to the supervisor or other person shall include the name of the person conveying the property, the name of the person to whom it is conveyed, the township in which the property is situated, a description of the property sufficient to identify it, and a statement as to whether the parcel is conveyed in whole or in part. For his services in this respect the register shall be allowed, if on fees, the sum of ten cents (10c) per transfer certified, to be paid by the county, and if on salary, such allowance as may be made by the board of commissioners.

It shall also be within the power of any board of commissioners, in its discretion, to require that each person recording such conveyance of real property shall, before presenting it to the register of deeds, present it to the person in charge of the tax records, in order that the conveyance may be noted on the tax records and in order that adequate information concerning the location of the property may be obtained from the person recording the conveyance. If such presentation is required by the commissioners of any county, the register of deeds of that county shall not accept for recording any conveyance which has not first been submitted to the person in charge of the tax records and such person has obtained information for the tax records which he regards as satisfactory. The commissioners may allow the person in charge of the tax records such compensation for this service as they deem appropriate, but they shall not require the person presenting the deed to pay any fee therefor.

It shall also be within the power of the commissioners to authorize the installation of a system for the permanent listing of real estate, under which all real estate may be carried forward by the supervisor, the list takers or some person or persons designated by the supervisor, in the name of the proper person as defined by this subchapter, without requiring that such real estate be listed each year by such person. No such system shall be installed without the approval of the state board of assessment; and when such a system is installed, with the approval of the board, the board may authorize the commissioners to make such modifications of the listing requirements of this subchapter as the board may deem necessary: Provided, that nothing herein shall require the board's approval for any such system installed prior to April 3, 1939.

Any county may, in the discretion of the commissioners, require that all real estate be listed only in the name of the owner of record at the close of the day as of which property is listed and assessed.

(2) For purposes of tax listing and assessing, the owner of the equity of redemption in any property which is subject to a mortgage or deed of trust shall be considered the owner of such real estate.

(3) Real property of which a decedent died possessed, not under the control of an executor or administrator, may be assessed to the heirs or devisees of the deceased without naming them until they have given notice of their respective names to the supervisor and of the division of the estate. It shall be the duty of any executor or administrator having control of real property to list it in his fiduciary capacity until he shall have been divested of control of such property. The right of an administrator, administering upon the estate of an intestate decedent, to petition for the sale of real estate to make assets shall not be considered as control of such real estate for purposes of this subdivision.

(4) A trustee, guardian or other fiduciary having legal title to real property shall be regarded as the owner of such property for purposes of tax listing, except as elsewhere in this section provided, and he shall list such property in his fiduciary capacity.

(5) Where undivided interests in real property are owned by tenants in common, not being copartners, the supervisor, upon request and in his discretion, may allow the property to be listed by the respective owners in accordance with their respective undivided interests.

(6) Real property belonging to a partnership or unincorporated association shall be listed in the name of such partnership or association.

(7) Real property owned by a corporation shall be listed in the name of the corporation.

(8) When land is owned by one party and improvements thereon or mineral, timber, quarry, water power, or similar rights therein are owned by another party, the parties may list their interests separately or may, in accordance with contractual relations between them, have the entire property listed in the name of the owner of the land. Where in such a case the land and improvements or rights are listed by the separate owners, the taxes levied on the improvements, or rights, shall be a lien on the land, and the land shall be subject to foreclosure for non-payment of such taxes in the same manner as if such taxes were levied directly against said land: Provided, nothing herein contained shall prevent said taxes from being also a lien on said improvements, or rights.

(9) A life tenant or tenant for the life of another shall be considered the owner of real property for purposes of tax listing, but he shall indicate when listing such property that he is a life tenant. The taxes levied on property listed in the name of a life tenant shall be a lien on the entire fee: Provided, that this shall not prevent the life tenant from being liable for the taxes under § 105-410.

(10) If the owner or person in whose name the real property should properly be listed, as set forth in the foregoing subdivisions of this section, is unknown, the property may be listed in the name of the occupant, and either or both shall be liable for the taxes; and if there be no occupant, then it may be listed as property the owner of which is unknown: Provided, that wherever the property is so listed against the occupant or an unknown owner, or through error the property has been listed against some person other than the owner as defined in this section, and the name of the true owner is subsequently ascertained, the tax records may be changed so as to list said property against the owner, and the change shall have the same force and effect as if the property has been listed against the owner in the first instance. (1939, c. 310, s. 701.)

Art. 18. Personal Property—Where and in Whose Name Listed.

§ 105-302. Place for listing tangible personal property.—(1) In general, all tangible personal property and polls shall be listed at the residence of the owner, except as otherwise provided in this section. For purposes of this section the residence of a person who has two or more places in which he occasionally dwells shall be the place at which he resided for the longest period of time during the year preceding the date as of which property is assessed. The residence of a corporation, partnership or unincorporated association, domestic or foreign, shall be the place of its principal office in this state, and if a corporation, partnership or unincorporated association has no principal office in this state, its tangible personal property may be listed at any place at which said property is situated provided said property has a taxable situs within the state.

(2) Farm products produced in this state, owned by the producers, shall be listed where produced.

(3) Tangible personal property taxable in this state, owned by an individual nonresident of this state, shall be listed where situated.

(4) Subject to the provisions of subsection two of this section, tangible personal property shall be listed at the place where such property is situated, rather than at the residence of the owner, if the owner or person having control thereof hires or occupies a store, mill, dockyard, piling ground, place for the sale of property, shop, office, mine, farm, place for storage, manufactory or warehouse therein for use in connection with such property. Property stored in public warehouses and merchandise in the possession of a consignee or broker shall be regarded as falling within the provisions of this subdivision.

(5) The tangible personal property of a decedent whose estate is in the process of administration or has not been distributed shall be listed at the place at which it would be listed if the decedent were still alive and still residing at the place at which he resided at the time of his death.

(6) Tangible personal property held by a trustee, guardian or other fiduciary having legal title thereto shall be listed at the place where such property would be listed if the beneficiary were the owner; and if there are several beneficiaries in a case in which such property would be listed at the residence of the owner, the value of the property shall be listed at the various residences of the beneficiaries in accordance with their respective interests. This subdivision shall effect only cases in which the beneficiaries are residents of this state, but it shall apply whether the fiduciary is a resident or nonresident of this state. Property delivered by executors or administrators to themselves or others as testamentary trustees shall be controlled by this subsection rather than by subsection five of this section.

(7) In any case where the beneficiary is a nonresident of this state, tangible personal property having a taxable situs in this state, held by a trustee, guardian or other fiduciary having legal title, shall be listed at the place it would be listed if the trustee or other fiduciary were the beneficial owner of such property. (1939, c. 310, s. 800.)

§ 105-303. Intangible personal property.—The listing, assessing, and taxation of intangible personal properties and the administration relative thereto shall be subject to the provisions of Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217. (1939, c. 310, s. 801.)

§ 105-304. In whose name personal property should be listed.—(1) In general, personal property shall be listed in the name of the owner thereof on the day as of which property is assessed; and it shall be the duty of the owner to list the same. The owner of the equity of redemption in personal property subject to a chattel mortgage shall be considered the owner of the property; and the vendee of personal property under a conditional bill of sale, or under any other sale contract by virtue of which title to the property is retained in the vendor as security for the payment of the purchase price, shall be considered the owner of the property, provided he has possession of such property or the right to use the same.

(2) Personal property of a corporation, partnership, firm or unincorporated association shall be listed in the name of such corporation, partnership, firm, or unincorporated association.

(3) Personal property of which a decedent died possessed, not under the control of an executor or administrator, may be assessed to the next of kin or legatees of the decedent without naming them until they have given notice of their respective names to the supervisor and have likewise given notice of the distribution of the estate; and for this purpose such next of kin or legatees may be designated as "heirs." It shall be the duty of an executor or administrator having control of such property to list it in his fiduciary capacity until he shall have been divested of such control.

(4) A trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary having legal title to personal property shall be regarded as the owner thereof for purposes of this section.

(5) In cases in which two or more persons are joint owners of personal property, each shall list the value of his interest.

(6) If any dispute shall arise as to the true owner of personal property, the person in possession thereof shall be regarded as the owner unless the list taker or supervisor shall be convinced that some other person is the true owner. (1939, c. 310, s. 802.)

§ 105-305. Article subordinate to sections 105-198 to 105-217.—None of the provisions contained in any of the sections of this article shall be construed to conflict with Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, but rather shall they be subordinate thereto. (1939, c. 310, s. 803.)

Art. 19. What the Tax List Shall Contain and Miscellaneous Matters Affecting Listing.

§ 105-306. What the tax list shall contain.—Each taxpayer or person whose duty it is to list property for taxation shall file with the proper list taker a tax list setting forth, as of the day on which property is assessed, the following information:

(1) The name and residence address of the taxpayer.

(2) The age of the taxpayer, if he is a male taxpayer, listing in the township of his residence.

(3) Each parcel of real property owned or controlled in the township, not subdivided into lots, together with the number of acres cleared for cultivation, waste land, woods and timber, mineral, quarry lands, and lands susceptible of development for water power, and the total acreage. Each separate parcel shall be described by name, if it has one, and by specifying at least two adjoining landowners, or by such other description as shall be sufficient to locate and identify said land by parol testimony. If all or part of such land shall lie within the boundaries of any incorporated town or any district in which a special tax is levied, such fact shall be specified.

(4) Each parcel of manufacturing property owned or controlled in the township, not subdivided into lots, together with the number of acres in said parcel or the dimensions thereof, the name of such parcel, if any, and the names of at least two adjoining land owners, or such other description as shall be sufficient to locate and identify said property by parol testimony. If all or part of such land shall lie within the boundaries of any incorporated town or any district in which a special tax is levied, such fact shall be specified.

(5) Each lot owned or controlled in the township together with the dimensions of said lot, the location of said lot, its street number, if any, its number or location on any map filed in the office of the register of deeds or such other description as shall be sufficient to locate and identify it by parol testimony. If any such lot shall lie within the boundaries of an incorporated town or any district in which a special tax is levied, such fact shall be specified.

(6) In conjunction with the listing of any real property listed under subdivisions (3), (4), or (5) of this section, a short description of any improvements thereon, belonging to the taxpayer listing such real property, shall be given. And if some person other than the taxpayer listing such real property shall own mineral, quarry, timber, water power or other separate rights with respect thereto, or shall own any improvements thereon, such fact shall be specified, together with the name of the person owning such rights or improvements, and a short description of such rights or improvements; though the owner of the land may or may not list such separate rights or improvements for taxes in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter.

(7) All mineral, quarry, timber, water power or other separate rights owned by the taxpayer with respect to the lands of another, and all improvements owned by such taxpayer located upon the lands of another. Such rights or improvements shall be listed separately with respect to each parcel or lot of land which is listed separately by the owner thereof, and such parcel or lot shall be identified in the same manner as it is identified on the tax list of the person listing the same: Provided, that such rights or improvements shall not be taxed against the owner thereof if, under the provisions of this subchapter, they are listed for taxes by the owner of the land.

(8) Every person listing real property shall list, in connection with each parcel or lot, every encumbrance thereon, together with the amount due on such encumbrance and the name and address of the person to whom such amount is due.

(9) The amount and value of all machinery and fixtures.

(10) A special description of any improvements, having a value in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00), which have been begun, erected, damaged or destroyed since the time of the last assessment of such property.

(11) A list of horses, mules, jacks and jennets, cattle, hogs, sheep, goats and other live stock, poultry and dogs, with the number and value of each class shown separately.

(12) The number of open female dogs and the number of other dogs.

(13) The amount and value of farm machinery, farm utensils, and carriages, carts, wagons, buggies, or other vehicles and harness.

(14) The amount and value of household and kitchen furniture, libraries, scientific instruments, tools of mechanics, wearing apparel, and provisions of all kinds.

(15) The amount and value of merchandise, manufactured goods, or goods in the process of manufacture. This subdivision is intended to include all tangible personal property whatever held for the purpose of sale or exchange or held for use in the business of the taxpayer.

(16) The amount and value of all office furniture, fixtures and equipment.

(17) The number and value of all motor vehicles, tractors, trailers, bicycles, flying machines, pleasure boats of any and all kinds, and their appliances.

(18) The number and value of all seines, nets, fishing tackle, boats, barges, schooners, vessels, and all other floating property.

(19) The number and value of billboards and signboards and the value of other property used in outdoor advertising.

(20) The number and value of radios, talking machines and musical instruments.

(21) The value of plated or silverware, clocks, watches, firearms and jewelry.

(22) The amount and value of all cotton, tobacco or other farm products owned by the original producer, or held by the original producer in any public warehouse and represented by warehouse receipts, or held by the original producer for any cooperative marketing or grower's association, together with a statement of the amount of any advance against said products: Provided, the same need not be listed if grown in the preceding year, and shall not be subject to taxation for the year following the year in which grown, but shall be listed and taxed for any year thereafter.

(23) The amount and value of all other cotton, tobacco or other farm products.

(24) The amount and value of all fertilizer and fertilizer materials.

(25) The value and a description of all other property whatever, not especially exempted by law.

(26) An itemized list of any type of personal property when such itemization is required by the list taker or supervisor.

(27) A statement setting forth a list of license taxes for which the person, firm or corporation listing may be liable to the state under the provisions of Schedule "B", §§ 105-33 to 105-113; and also a statement of liability for tax on intangible personal property owned.

(28) The oath of the taxpayer hereinafter set forth. (1939, c. 310, s. 900; 1941, c. 221, s. 1.)

§ 105-307. Duty to list; penalty for failure.—It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation, in whose name any property or poll is to be listed under the terms of this subchapter, to list said property or poll with the proper list taker or the supervisor, within the time allowed by law, on a list setting forth the information required by this subchapter. In addition to all other penalties prescribed by law, any person, firm or corporation whose duty it shall be to list any poll or property, real or personal, who willfully fails, refuses or neglects to list the same within the time allowed by law, or who removes or conceals property for the purpose of evading taxation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and any person, firm or corporation aiding or abetting the removal or concealment of property for the purpose of evading taxation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The failure to list shall be prima facie evidence that such failure was wilful, and the board of county commissioners shall present the names of all such persons, firms and corporations to the grand jury. (1939, c. 310, s. 901.)

§ 105-308. Oath of the taxpayer.—Before accepting any completed tax list, it shall be the duty of the list taker to read and actually to administer the following oath (or so much thereof as may be pertinent) which shall be subscribed by the person filing the list:

"I, ..., do solemnly swear (or affirm) (that I am an officer or agent of the taxpayer named on the attached list, that as such I am duly authorized to submit said list, that I am familiar with the extent and value of all said taxpayer's property subject to taxation in this township) that the above and foregoing list is a full, true and complete list of all and each kind of property which it is the duty of the above named taxpayer to list as owner or fiduciary, as said list indicates, in ..... Township, ... County, North Carolina; and that I have not in any way connived at the violation or evasion of requirements of law in relation to the assessment of property; so help me, God.

So much of the foregoing oath as appears in the second parentheses shall be used only in cases in which the list is submitted by an officer or agent. Any list taker who accepts a list without administering said oath shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1939, c. 310, s. 902.)

§ 105-309. Listing by agents. — Corporations, partnerships, firms and unincorporated associations, females, nonresidents of the township in which the property is to be listed, and persons physically unable to attend and file a list may have their lists submitted and sworn to by an officer or agent; but the list shall be filed in the name of the principal. (1939, c. 310, s. 903.)

§ 105-310. Listing by mail.—All tax lists submitted by mail must be accompanied by the oath of the taxpayer, as prescribed in this subchapter, duly sworn to before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths, and must be mailed to the supervisor. The supervisor may accept or reject any such list in his discretion. (1939, c. 310, s. 904.)

§ 105-311. Length of the listing period; preliminary work.—Tax listing shall begin on the day as of which property is assessed (or on the first business day thereafter if said day is a Sunday or a holiday) and shall continue for thirty days. The board of county commissioners of any county may extend the time for listing for not more than an additional thirty days: Provided, that in years of quadrennial assessment the board of county commissioners may extend the time for listing for not more than an additional sixty days.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any preparatory work, prior to the beginning of listing, which may be necessary or expedient in connection with an efficient listing or assessing of property; nor shall it prevent the assessment of real property by the list takers prior to the actual time at which it is listed by its owner or carried forward on the tax records: Provided, that no final assessment shall be made by a list taker prior to the day as of which property is required by law to be assessed. (1939, c. 310, c. 905.)

§ 105-312. Records of tax exempt property.—The person making up the tax records shall enter, in regular order, the name of the owner, a clear description of all real and personal property exempt from taxation, together with a statement of its value, for what purpose used, and the rent, if any, obtained therefrom. Each list taker shall secure the necessary information with respect to such property in his township. The list of such exempt property, when completed, shall be delivered by the county supervisor of taxation to the register of deeds of the county on or before the first day of October, and the register of deeds, on or before the first day of November, shall make duplicates thereof and transmit such duplicates to the state board of assessment and shall file the original list of exempt property in his office. (1939, c. 310, s. 906.)

§ 105-313. Forms for listing and assessing property.—All forms and books used in the listing and assessing of property for taxation shall have the approval of the state board of assessment. The board may, in its discretion, design and prescribe such forms and make arrangements for their purchase and distribution through the division of purchase and contract, the cost of same being billed to the counties. (1939, c. 310, s. 907.)

§ 105-314. Article subordinate to sections 105-198 to 105-217.—None of the provisions contained in any of the sections of this article shall be construed to conflict with Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, but rather shall they be subordinate thereto. (1939, c. 310, s. 908.)

Art. 20. Special Provisions Affecting Motor Vehicle Owners, Warehousemen, etc.

§ 105-315. Information to be given by motor vehicle owners applying for license tags.—Every motor vehicle owner applying to the state department of motor vehicles for motor vehicle license tags shall specify in the application the county in which each such motor vehicle is subject to ad valorem taxation. If any such vehicle is not subject to ad valorem taxation in any county of this state, such fact, with the reason therefor, shall be stated in the application. No state license tags shall be issued to any applicant until the requirements of this subdivision have been met. The commissioner of motor vehicles shall, upon request from any county, send to the supervisor of such county a list of motor vehicles subject to ad valorem taxation in such county as shown by the commissioner's records of applications filed during the year preceding the day as of which property is to be assessed, and shall charge the county the sum of thirty cents (30c) per hundred names for the same, said amount to be used by the commissioner as compensation for the preparation of said list. (1939, c. 310, s. 1000; 1941, c. 36, s. 4.)

§ 105-316. Warehouses and co-operative growers' or marketing associations to furnish lists.—(1) Every warehouse company or corporation and every growers' or marketing association receiving for storage cotton, tobacco or other products, commodities or property, and issuing warehouse receipts for same, shall, on the day as of which property is assessed, furnish to the supervisor of the county in which such property is stored a full and complete list of all persons, corporations, partnerships, firms or associations for whom such property is stored, except in cases in which farm produce is stored for its original producer who is a resident of another county in this state, together with the amount of such property stored for each owner and the amount advanced against such property by the warehouse or association. In all cases in which farm produce is stored for its original producer, who is a resident of another county in this state, the names of such producers shall be sent to the supervisors of the respective counties in which such producers reside, together with the amount of such produce stored for them and the amount advanced against such produce by the warehouse or association.

(2) Warehouse companies and corporations and growers' and marketing associations shall not be liable for taxation on the property stored with them by others, provided lists of the owners and amounts of such property are furnished to the respective supervisors under the provisions of subdivision (1) of this section. If such lists are not so furnished within fifteen days after the day as of which property is assessed, such warehouse or association shall be liable to the respective counties for the tax upon the full value of such property; and if failure to furnish such list is continued for ten days after demand for same by the supervisor of any county, such warehouse or association shall be liable for a penalty of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00), in addition to the taxes, to be recovered by the proper county in an action in the superior court, and both tax and penalty may be recovered in the same action. (1939, c. 310, s. 1001.)

§ 105-317. Reports by consignees and brokers.—Every person, corporation, partnership, or unincorporated association in possession of property on consignment, and all brokers dealing in tangible personal property who have in their possession such property belonging to others, shall file with the supervisor of taxation of the county in which such property is located a full and complete list of the owners of such property, together with the amount of such property owned by each: Provided, that if such property is farm produce owned by the original producer, who is a resident of this state, the name of the owner and the amount of such property shall be reported to the supervisor of the county of which such owner is a resident. Consignees and brokers failing to make such reports shall be liable to payment of the tax, and a penalty of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00), in the same manner and under the conditions set forth in subdivision (2) of § 105-316. (1939, c. 310, s. 1002.)

§ 105-318. Private banks, bankers, brokers and security brokers.—Every bank (not incorporated), banker, broker or security broker, at the time fixed by this subchapter for listing and assessing all real and personal property, shall make out and furnish to the list takers and assessors a sworn statement showing:

(1) The amount of property on hand and in transit.

(2) The amount of funds owned in the hands of other banks, bankers or brokers.

(3) The amount of checks or other cash items, the amount of which is not included in either of the preceding items.

(4) The amount of bills receivable, discounted or purchased, bonds and other credits due or to become due, including interest receivable and accrued, but not due, and interest due and unpaid.

(5) All other property appertaining to said business, other than real estate, which real estate shall be listed under this subchapter.

(6) The amount of deposits made with them by any other person, firm or corporation.

(7) The amount of all accounts payable, other than current deposit accounts. (1939, c. 310, s. 1003.)

§ 105-319. Persons, firms, banks and corporations dealing in securities on commission taxed as a private banker.—No person, bank, or corporation, without a license authorized by law, shall act as a stockbroker or private banker. Any person, bank, or corporation that deals in foreign or domestic exchange, certificates of debt, shares in any corporation or charter companies, bank or other notes, for the purpose of selling the same or any other thing for commission or other compensation, or who negotiates loans upon real estate securities, shall be deemed a security broker. Any person, bank, or corporation engaged in the business of negotiating loans on any class of security or in discounting, buying or selling negotiable or other papers or credits, whether in an office for the purpose or elsewhere, shall be deemed to be a private banker. Any person, firm, or corporation violating this section shall pay a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars for each offense. (1939, c. 310, s. 1004.)

§ 105-320. Partnerships; liability of partners for tax.—For the purpose of listing and assessing property, a copartnership shall be treated as an individual, and its property, real and personal, shall be listed in the name of the firm. Each partner shall be liable for the whole tax. (1939, c. 310, s. 1005.)

§ 105-321. Article not to be construed in conflict with sections 105-198 to 105-217.—None of the provisions contained in any of the sections of this article shall be construed to conflict with Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, but rather shall they be subordinate thereto. (1939, c. 310, s. 1006.)

Art. 21. Procedure Subsequent to the Close of the Tax Listing Period.

§ 105-322. Review of abstracts by supervisor and list takers.—After the close of the list taking period, and not later than the first meeting of the board of equalization and review, the supervisor shall examine the abstracts turned in by each list taker, and, unless he is satisfied that said list taker has satisfactorily performed the duties of a list taker, shall not approve payment of any compensation to said list taker.

The supervisor shall meet with each of the list takers not later than the first meeting of the board of equalization, for the purpose of reviewing the abstracts generally to ascertain if the same scales of value have been used in all townships in the county, and if property has been listed at the valuation prescribed by law. (1939, c. 310, s. 1100.)

§ 105-323. Making up the tax records.—The list takers for their respective townships, or such other persons as the commissioners may designate, shall make out, on forms approved by the state board of assessment, tax records which may consist of a scroll designed primarily to show tax valuations and a tax book designed primarily to show the amount of taxes or may consist of one record designated to show both valuations and taxes. Such records for each township shall be divided into four parts: (1) White individual taxpayers (including lists filed by corporate fiduciaries for white individual beneficiaries); (2) colored individual taxpayers (including lists filed by corporate fiduciaries for colored individual beneficiaries); (3) Indian individual taxpayers (including lists filed by corporate fiduciaries for Indian individual beneficiaries); and (4) corporations, partnerships, business firms and unincorporated associations. Such records shall show at least the following information:

(a) The name of each person whose property is listed and assessed for taxation, entered in alphabetical order.

(b) The amount of valuation of real property assessed for county-wide purposes (divided into as many classes as the state board may prescribe).

(c) The amount of valuation of personal property assessed for county-wide purposes (divided into as many classes as the state board may prescribe).

(d) The total amount of real and personal property valuation assessed for county-wide purposes.

(e) The amount of ad valorem tax due by each taxpayer for county-wide purposes.

(f) The amount of poll tax due by each taxpayer.

(g) The amount of dog tax due by each taxpayer.

(h) The amount of valuation of property assessed in any special district or subdivision of the county for taxation.

(i) The amount of tax due by each taxpayer to any special district or subdivision of the county.

(j) The total amount of tax due by the taxpayer to the county and to any special district, subdivision or subdivisions of the county.

All changes in valuations affected between the close of the listing period and the meeting of the board of equalization and review shall be reflected on such records, and so much of such records as may have been prepared shall be submitted to the board at its meetings. Changes made by said board shall also be reflected upon such records, either by correction, rebate or additional charge. (1939, c. 310, s. 1101.)

§ 105-324. Tax receipts and stubs.—Such persons as the county commissioners may designate shall fill out the receipts and stubs for all taxes charged upon the tax books. The form of such receipts and stubs shall be approved by the state board of assessment and shall show at least the following:

(a) The name of the taxpayer charged with taxes.

(b) The amount of valuation of real property assessed for county-wide purposes.

(c) The amount of valuation of personal property assessed for county-wide purposes.

(d) The total amount of valuations of real and personal property assessed for county-wide purposes.

(e) The rate of tax levied for each county-wide purpose, the total rate for all county-wide purposes, and the rate levied for any special district or subdivision of the county, which tax is charged to the taxpayer.

(f) The amount of the valuation of property assessed in any special district or subdivision of the county.

(g) The amount of ad valorem tax due by the taxpayer for county-wide purposes.

(h) The amount of poll tax due by the taxpayer.

(i) The amount of dog tax due by the taxpayer.

(j) The amount of tax due by the taxpayer to any special districts or subdivisions of the county.

(k) The total amount of tax due by the taxpayer to the county and to any special district, subdivision or subdivisions of the county.

(l) Amount of discounts.

(m) Amount of penalties. (1939, c. 310, s. 1102.)

§ 105-325. Disposition of tax records and receipts.—The tax records shall be filed in the office of the supervisor or official computing the taxes of the office of the accountant or clerk to the board of commissioners, as the commissioners may direct. The tax receipts and stubs shall be delivered to the sheriff or tax collector on or before the first Monday in October of the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, and annually thereafter, provided he has made settlement as by law required, and the sheriff or tax collector shall receipt for the same. In the discretion of the commissioners, a duplicate copy of the tax books may be made and delivered to the sheriff or tax collector at the same time.

A list of all appeals pending before the state board of assessment shall be delivered with said receipts; and there shall be delivered with said receipts an order, a copy of which shall be spread upon the minutes of the commissioners, directing the sheriff or tax collector to collect said taxes, which order shall have the force and effect of a judgment and execution against the property, real and personal, charged in the tax book and receipts, and shall be in substantially the following form:

"North Carolina, ... County, ... City. To the Sheriff of Tax Collector of ..... County, or ..... City, or Town:

You are hereby authorized, empowered and commanded to collect the taxes set forth in the tax books, filed in the office of ....., and in the tax receipts herewith delivered to you, in the amounts and from the taxpayers likewise therein set forth, and such taxes are hereby declared to be a first lien on all real property of the respective taxpayers in ..... County, or ..... City or Town, and this order shall be a full and sufficient authority to direct, require and enable you to levy on and sell any real or personal property of such taxpayers, for and on account thereof, in accordance with law.

Witness my hand and official seal, this ..... day of ....., 19.....

.....(Seal)

Chairman, Board of Commissioners.

Attest:

Clerk of Board." (1939, c. 310, s. 1103.)

§ 105-326. Compensation of officer computing taxes.—The board of county commissioners shall make an order for the payment to the register of deeds, auditor, tax clerk, supervisor, or other official such sum as may be in their discretion a proper compensation for the work of computing taxes, making out the tax book and copies thereof, and the making of such reports as may be required by the state board of assessment; but the compensation allowed for computing the taxes and making out the tax book is not to exceed ten cents (10c.) for each name appearing on the tax book, which shall include the original and duplicate tax book and also the receipts and stubs provided for in this subchapter. (1939, c. 310, s. 1104.)

§ 105-327. County board of equalization and review.—(1) Personnel.—The county board of equalization and review of each county shall be composed of the board of county commissioners. Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed as repealing any law creating a special board of equalization and review, or creating any board charged with the duty of equalization and review in any county.

(2) Compensation.—The members of the board of equalization and review shall be allowed the same per diem compensation and traveling expense, while actually engaged in the performance of their duties, as is ordinarily paid to the members of the board of county commissioners, such compensation to be paid by the county.

(3) Oath.—Before entering upon their duties each member of the board of equalization and review shall take and subscribe to the following oath and file the same with the clerk of the board of county commissioners: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully discharge my duties as a member of the Board of Equalization and Review of ..... County, North Carolina; and that I will not allow my actions as a member of said board to be influenced by personal or political friendships or obligations.

(Signature.)

(4) Clerk.—The supervisor shall act as clerk to said board, shall be present at all meetings and give to the board such information as he may have or can obtain with respect to the valuation of taxable property in the county.

(5) Time of Meeting.—Said board shall hold its first meeting on the eleventh Monday following the day on which tax listing began, and may adjourn from time to time as its duties may require; but it shall complete its duties not later than the third Monday following its first meeting.

(6) Notice of Meeting.—Notice of the time, place and purpose of the first meeting of said board shall be given by publishing said notice at least three times in some newspaper published in the county, the first publication to be at least ten days prior to said meeting.

(7) Powers and Duties.—(a) It shall be the duty of the board of equalization and review to equalize the valuation of all property in the county, to the end that such property shall be listed on the tax records at the valuation required by law; and said board shall correct the tax records for each township so that they will conform to the provisions of this subchapter.

(b) The board shall, on request, hear any and all taxpayers who own or control taxable property assessed for taxation in the county in respect to the valuation of such property or the property of others.

(c) The board shall examine and review the tax lists of each township for the current year; shall, of its own motion or on sufficient cause shown by any person, list and assess any real or personal property or polls subject to taxation in the county omitted from said lists; shall correct all errors in the names of persons, in the description of property, and in the assessment and valuation of any taxable property appearing on said lists; shall increase or reduce the assessed value of any property which in their opinion shall have been returned below or above the valuation required by law; and shall cause to be done whatever else shall be necessary to make said lists comply with the provisions of this subchapter: Provided, that said board shall not change the valuation of any real property from the value at which it was assessed for the preceding year except in accordance with the terms of §§ 105-278, and 105-279.

(d) The board may appoint committees, composed of its own members or other persons, to assist it in making any investigations necessary in its work. It may also employ expert appraisers in its discretion. The expense of the employment of committees or appraisers shall be borne by the county: Provided, that the board may, in its discretion, require the taxpayer to pay the cost of any appraisal by experts demanded by him when said appraisal does not result in material reduction of the valuation of the property appraised and where such valuation is not subsequently reduced materially by the board or by the state board of assessment.

(e) The board may subpoena witnesses, or books, records, papers and documents reasonably considered to be pertinent to the decision of any matter pending before it; and any member of the board may administer oaths to witnesses in connection with the taking of testimony. The chairman of the board shall sign the subpoena, and such subpoena shall be served by any officer qualified to serve subpoenas. (1939, c. 310, s. 1105.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg: 1941, c. 209; Wayne: 1941, c. 69.

§ 105-328. Giving effect to the decisions of the board.—All changes in names, descriptions or valuations made by the board of equalization shall be reflected upon the tax records by correction, rebate or additional charge; and when all such changes have been given effect, and the scroll or tax book has been totaled, the members of the board of equalization, or a majority thereof, shall sign a statement at the end of the scroll or tax book to the effect that the scroll is the fixed and permanent tax list and assessment roll for the current year, subject to the provisions of this subchapter. The omission of such endorsement shall not affect the validity of said scroll or tax book, or of any taxes levied on the basis of the valuations appearing in it. (1939, c. 310, s. 1106.)

§ 105-329. Appeals from the board of equalization and review to the state board of assessment.—Any property owner, taxpayer, or member of the board of county commissioners may except to the order of the board of equalization and review and appeal therefrom to the state board of assessment by filing a written notice of such appeal with the clerk of the board of county commissioners within sixty days after the adjournment of the board of equalization and review. At the time of filing such notice of appeal the appellant shall file with the clerk to the board of county commissioners a statement in writing of the grounds of appeal, and shall, within ten days after filing such notice of appeal with the clerk to the board of county commissioners, file with the state board of assessment a notice of such appeal and attach thereto a copy of the statement of the grounds of appeal filed with the clerk to the board of county commissioners. Each taxpayer or ownership interest shall file separate and distinct appeals; no joint appeals shall be considered except by and with consent of the state board of assessment.

The state board of assessment shall fix a time for the hearing of such appeal, and shall hear the same in the city of Raleigh, or such other place within the state as the said board may designate; shall give notice of time and place of such hearing to the appellant, appellee, and to the clerk to the board of county commissioners at least ten days prior to the said hearing; shall hear all the evidence or affidavits offered by the appellant, appellee, and the board of county commissioners, shall reduce, increase, or confirm the valuation fixed by the board of equalization and review and enter it accordingly, and shall deliver to the clerk of the board of county commissioners a certified copy of such order, which valuation shall be entered upon the fixed and permanent tax records and shall constitute the valuation for taxation. (1939, c. 310, s. 1107.)

§ 105-330. Powers of the commissioners with respect to the records after adjournment of the board of equalization.—After the board of equalization has finished its work and the changes effected by it have been given effect on the tax records, the board of county commissioners may not authorize any changes to be made on said records except as follows:

(1) To give effect to the decision of the state board of assessment on appeal.

(2) To add to the records any valuation certified by the state board of assessment with respect to property assessed in the first instance by said state board, or to give effect to any valid corrections made in such assessments by the state board.

(3) To correct the name of any taxpayer appearing on said records erroneously, or to substitute the name of the person who should have listed property for the name appearing on the records as listing said property, or to correct descriptions on said records, and any such corrections or substitutions shall have the same force and effect as if the name of the taxpayer or the description had been correctly listed in the first instance.

(4) To correct valuations or taxes appearing erroneously on the records as the result of clerical errors.

(5) To add any discovered property under the provisions of this subchapter.

(6) To reassess property when the supervisor reports that, since the completion of the work of the board of equalization, facts have come to his attention which render it advisable to raise or lower the assessment of some particular property of a given taxpayer: Provided, that no such reassessment shall be made unless it could have been made by the board of equalization had the same facts been brought to the attention of said board of equalization: Provided further, that this shall not authorize reassessment because of events or circumstances not taking place or arising until after the tax listing day.

(7) The board of county commissioners may give the supervisor general authority to make any changes under this section except those under subsection (six); but neither the board nor the supervisor shall make any changes under subsection (three) or (six) which adversely affect the interests of any taxpayer without giving such taxpayer written notice and an opportunity to be heard prior to final determination. (1939, c. 310, s. 1108.)

§ 105-331. Discovery and assessment of property not listed during the regular listing period. —(1) Duty of Commissioners, Supervisors and List Takers; Carrying Forward Real Estate.—It shall be the duty of the members of the board of commissioners, the supervisor and the list takers to be constantly looking out for property and polls which have not been listed for taxation. After any tax list or abstract has been delivered to a list taker, the supervisor or the board of county commissioners, and such list taker, supervisor or board of county commissioners shall have reason to believe or sufficient evidence upon which to form a belief that the person, firm or corporation making such list or abstract, in person or by agent, has other personal property, tangible or intangible, money, solvent credits, or other thing liable for taxation, they or either of them shall take such action as may be needful to get such property on the tax list.

Either the list takers for the respective townships, the clerical assistants to the supervisor or the supervisor, as the supervisor may designate, shall examine the tax lists for the current year and the tax records for the preceding year, and carry forward all real property which was listed for the preceding year which has not been listed for the current year. In the discretion of the supervisor, such property may be listed on an abstract signed by the official or employee carrying it forward in the name of the taxpayer, or may be entered directly on the tax scroll or tax book by such official or employee. When such property is so listed in the name of the owner or in the name of the person last listing the same, the listing shall be as valid in every respect as if made by the owner; provided, that such listing shall not render any person individually liable to pay the taxes who is not under a duty to list such property.

(2) Procedure upon Discovery.—When property or polls are discovered they shall be listed in the name of the taxpayer by the supervisor or some person designated by him. The clerk to the board of commissioners or the supervisor shall mail a notice to the taxpayer at his last known address (or, if unknown, to the occupant or person in possession of such property) to the effect that the board of equalization at a designated meeting (or the county commissioners at their next regular meeting, in case the discovery is not made in time for consideration by the board of equalization) will assess the value of said property or approve the listing of said poll. At such meeting the board shall hear any objections presented by said taxpayer, render its decision and, if necessary under said decision, assess said property, subject to appeal to the state board of assessment, or approve the listing of said poll. Said property and polls may then be added to the regular tax records or placed in a separate record designated "Late Listings," which shall have the same force and effect as the regular records: Provided, nothing herein shall prevent valuation of such property or listing of such polls by agreement between the supervisor and taxpayer without action by the board of equalization or board of commissioners: Provided, further, nothing herein shall prevent the carrying forward of real estate, listed for the prior year in accordance with the terms of this subchapter, without notice to the owner or last person listing said realty unless, in years other than revaluation years, the valuation of such property is raised.

All property and polls not listed during the regular listing period shall, when eventually listed under this section or by the person carrying forward real estate, immediately be subject to the taxes for the various years for which listed or assessed, together with the penalties hereinafter set forth.

(3) Assessment for Previous Years; Penalties. —The county commissioners may assess any such property or list such poll for the preceding years during which it escaped taxation, not exceeding five, in addition to the current year. When real property is discovered which should have been listed for the current year, it shall be presumed that it should have been listed by the same taxpayer for the preceding five years unless the taxpayer shall produce satisfactory evidence that such property was actually listed for taxes during those years or some of them; provided, that this presumption shall not apply when real property is carried forward from the preceding year's records.

When personal property is discovered which should have been listed for the current year, it shall be presumed that such property should have been listed by the same taxpayer for the preceding five years, unless the taxpayer shall produce satisfactory evidence that such property was not in existence, that it was actually listed for taxation or that it was not his duty to list the same during said years or some of them. Where it is shown that such property should have been listed by some other taxpayer during a part or all of such preceding years, it may be assessed against such other taxpayer for the proper years, with the penalties as hereinafter prescribed.

In a proper case, property may be listed for one or more prior years during which it escaped taxation, even though it has been regularly listed for the current years, is no longer in existence or is no longer subject to taxation in this state.

The penalty for failure to list property or a poll before the close of the regular listing period shall be ten per cent (10%) of the tax levied for the current year on such property or poll. Where such property or poll is taxed for years preceding the current year, the penalty, in addition to that for the current year, shall be ten per cent (10%) per annum. The minimum penalty shall be one dollar ($1.00). Taxes assessed for years preceding the current year shall be assessed at the rate of tax prevailing in the various preceding years.

The taxes and penalties for each year shall be shown separately on the records, but for the purpose of tax collection and foreclosure the total of all such taxes and penalties shall be regarded as taxes for the current year; and the schedule of discounts and penalties for payment or nonpayment of current taxes shall apply to such taxes and penalties for failure to list, despite the fact that such taxes and penalties for failure to list may not have been levied until the penalties for failure to pay have already accrued.

(4) Commissioners' Power to Compromise.—The board of county commissioners or the governing body of any municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to settle or adjust all claims for taxation arising under this section or any other section authorizing them to place on the tax list any property omitted therefrom.

(5) Application to Cities and Towns.—The provisions of this section shall extend to all cities, towns and other municipal corporations having power to tax property or polls, and the power conferred and the duties imposed upon the board of county commissioners shall be exercised and performed by the governing body of the municipal corporation.

(6) Power to Employ Searchers.—The county commissioners, either separately or in conjunction with one or more municipal corporations in the county, may employ one or more competent men to make a diligent search and to discover and report to the board or the supervisor any unlisted property within the county, to the end that the same may be listed and assessed for taxation as provided in this section: Provided, nothing herein shall be construed as allowing a board of commissioners to appoint a tax collector unless it is otherwise authorized to do so by law.

(7) Tax Receipts.—Tax receipts for the taxes and penalties assessed against the property discovered shall be made up under the provisions of this subchapter, shall be delivered to the sheriff or tax collector, who shall be charged with the same, and shall have the same force and effect and shall be a lien on the property in the same manner as if they had been delivered to the sheriff or tax collector at the time of the delivery of the regular tax bills for the current year.

(8) Appeals.—Appeals may be had from the assessment fixed by the board of equalization or commissioners to the state board of assessment. Notice of said appeal must be served upon the clerk to the board of commissioners within sixty days after the assessment is fixed, and said appeal shall be in conformity with the provisions of this subchapter respecting appeals from boards of equalization. Each taxpayer or ownership interest shall file separate and distinct appeals; no joint appeals shall be considered except by and with consent of the state board of assessment.

(9) Classified Property.—Any property, discovered and listed under the provisions of this section, entitled to classification under the provisions of this subchapter, shall be classified and assessed in accordance with said provisions. (1939, c. 310, s. 1109.)

Art. 22. Assessment Procedure of Cities and Towns.

§ 105-332. Status of property and polls listed for taxation.—All property and polls validly listed for taxation in any county, municipal corporation or taxing district shall be thereby also validly listed for taxation by any county, municipal corporation or taxing district in which it has a taxable situs. Said situs shall be determined by the rules prescribed in this subchapter. (1939, c. 310, s. 1200.)

§ 105-333. Tax lists and assessment powers of cities and towns.—All cities and towns may obtain their tax lists from the county records without securing lists signed by the taxpayers, or may set up their own machinery for securing lists from the taxpayers, in the discretion of the governing body.

All cities and towns not situated in more than one county shall accept the valuations fixed by the county authorities, as modified by the state board of assessment, under the provisions of this subchapter: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to modify the authority given to cities and towns under this subchapter with respect to discovered property.

With the exception of the provisions relating to dog taxes, the provisions of §§ 105-323 to 105-326 shall apply to cities and towns; and city and town governing bodies shall have the same powers conferred and the duties imposed by said sections upon the board of county commissioners, and wherever counties are referred to in said sections it shall be construed to include also cities and towns. (1939, c. 310, s. 1201.)

§ 105-334. Cities and towns situated in more than one county.—For the purpose of municipal taxation, all real and personal property and polls subject to taxation by cities and towns situated in two or more counties shall be listed and assessed as hereinafter set forth.

(1) The governing body of each such city or town shall, in quadrennial years, on or before the date fixed for the appointment of the county supervisor, appoint a city supervisor of taxation, and two or more persons to act as list takers and assessors, each of whom, including the supervisor, shall have been resident freeholders in such city or town for a period of not less than twelve months. In years other than quadrennial years such governing body shall, on or before the date fixed for appointment of the county supervisor, appoint one resident freeholder as city supervisor of taxation and, in its discretion, one or more persons to act as list takers and assessors, each of whom shall have been a resident of such city or town for at least twelve months.

(2) With respect to property to be listed for taxation in the city or town the city supervisor shall have the same powers and duties given to the county supervisor under the terms of this subchapter; and the city list takers and assessors shall have the same powers and duties given to county list takers and assessors under the terms of this subchapter; and the procedure of listing and assessing shall be, as nearly as possible, the same as that specified for county listing and assessing under the terms of this subchapter.

(3) The governing body of each such city or town may designate some officer or employee of the city or appoint some other person to supervise the preparation of the tax records and receipts, and to make such reports as the state board of assessment may request or require, and may employ such clerical assistance in this connection as it may deem advisable.

Such governing body shall also be vested with the same powers and duties, with respect to the listing of property for city taxation, as are vested by this subchapter in the county commissioners with respect to the listing of property for county taxation, and shall, with the city supervisor as chairman, sit as a board of equalization and review; and appeals may be taken from said city board of equalization to the state board of assessment in the same manner as provided in this subchapter for appeals from the county boards of equalization.

(4) The intent and purpose of this section is to provide such cities and towns as lie in two or more counties only with the machinery necessary for listing and assessing taxes for municipal purposes. The powers to be exercised by and the duties imposed on such boards of aldermen, boards of commissioners or other governing bodies, boards of equalization and review, city supervisor of taxation, list takers and assessors, city clerk and taxpayers shall be the same, and they shall be subjected to the same penalties as provided in this subchapter for all boards of county commissioners, county auditors, registers of deeds, clerks of boards of county commissioners, county supervisors, list takers and assessors. The county commissioners in their discretion may adopt the tax lists, scroll, or assessment roll of such city or town as fixed and determined by the board of equalization and review of such cities or towns, and when so adopted, shall be considered to all intent and purpose the correct and valid list and the fixed and determined assessment roll for the purpose of county taxation.

(5) All expenses incident to the listing and assessing of the property for the purpose of municipal taxation as aforesaid shall be borne by the city or town for whose benefit the same is undertaken; provided, that where the county or counties in which such city or town lies shall adopt the list and the fixed, determined assessment of the city board of equalization and review, the county board of commissioners may reimburse the governing body in such amounts as in their discretion may be proper. (1939, c. 310, s. 1202.)

Art. 23. Reports to the State Board of Assessment and Local Government Commission.

§ 105-335. Report of valuation and taxes.—The clerk of the board of county commissioners, auditor, tax supervisor, tax clerk, county accountant or other officer performing such duties shall, at such time as the board may prescribe, return to the state board of assessment on forms prescribed by said board an abstract of the real and personal property of the county by townships, showing the number of acres of land and their value, the number of town lots and their value, the value of the several classes of live stock, the number of white and negro polls, separately, and specify every other subject of taxation and the amount of county tax payable on each subject and the amount payable on the whole. At the same time said clerk, auditor, supervisor or other officer shall return to the state board of assessment an abstract or list of the poll, county and school taxes payable in the county, setting forth separately the tax levied on each poll and on each hundred dollars value of real and personal property for each purpose, and also the gross amount of every kind levied for county purposes, and such other and further information as the state board of assessment may require. (1939, c. 310, s. 1300.)

§ 105-336. Clerks of cities and towns to furnish information.—The clerk or auditor of each city and town in this state shall annually make and transmit to the state board of assessment, on blanks furnished by said board, a full, correct, and accurate statement showing the assessed valuation of all property, tangible and intangible, within his city or town, and separately the amount of all taxes levied therein by said city or town, including school district, highway, street, sidewalk, and other similar improvement taxes for the current year, and the purposes for which the same were levied; and shall annually furnish to the local government commission a complete and detailed statement of the bonded and other indebtedness of the city or town, the accrued interest on the same, whether not due or due and unpaid, and the purposes for which said indebtedness was incurred. (1939, c. 310, s. 1301.)

§ 105-337. County indebtedness to be reported.—The auditor or county accountant of each county in this state shall make and deliver annually to the local government commission a full, correct and accurate statement of the bonded and other indebtedness of his county, including township, school districts, and special tax districts, the purposes for which the same was incurred, and all accrued interest, whether not due or due and unpaid. (1939, c. 310, s. 1302.)

§ 105-338. Penalty for failure to make report.—Every register of deeds, auditor, county accountant, supervisor of taxation, assessor, sheriff, clerk of superior court, clerk of board of county commissioners, county commissioners, board of Aldermen or other governing body of a city or town, mayor, clerk of city or town, or any other public officer, who shall willfully fail, refuse, or neglect to perform any duty required, to furnish any report to the state board of assessment or local government commission as prescribed in this subchapter or the revenue act, or who shall wilfully and unlawfully hinder, delay or obstruct said board in the discharge of its duties, shall, for every such failure, neglect, refusal, hindrance or delay, in addition to the other penalties imposed in this subchapter and the revenue act, pay to the state board of assessment or local government commission for the general fund of the state the sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00), such sum to be collected by said board or local government commission. A delay of thirty days to make and furnish any report required or to perform a duty imposed shall be prima facie evidence that such delay was wilful. (1939, c. 310, s. 1303.)

Art. 24. Levy of Taxes and Penalties for Failure to Pay Taxes.

§ 105-339. Levy of taxes.—The tax levying authorities of the several counties, cities, towns and special districts shall, not later than Wednesday after the third Monday in August, levy such rate of tax for the general county purposes as may be necessary to meet the general expense of the county, not exceeding the legal limitation, and such rates for other purposes as may be authorized by law. (1939, c. 310, s. 1400.)

§ 105-340. Date as of which lien attaches.— The lien of taxes levied on property and polls listed pursuant to this subchapter shall attach to real estate as of the day as of which property is listed, regardless of the time at which liability for the tax may arise or the exact amount thereof be determined.

All penalties, interest and costs allowed by law shall automatically be added to the amount of such lien and shall be regarded as attaching at the same time as the lien for the principle amount of the taxes. Said lien shall attach to all real property of the taxpayer in the taxing unit.

Taxes, interest, penalties and cost shall be a lien on personal property from and after levy on or attachment and garnishment of such property. (1939, c. 310, s. 1401.)

§ 105-341. Levy of poll tax.—(1) There shall be levied by the board of county commissioners in each county a tax of two dollars ($2.00) on each taxable poll or male person between the ages of twenty-one and fifty years, and the taxes levied and collected under this section shall be for the benefit of the public school fund and the poor of the county.

(2) The board of county commissioners of every county shall have the power to exempt any person from the payment of poll taxes on account of indigency, and when any such person has been once exempted he shall not be required to renew his application unless the commissioners shall revoke the exemption. When such exemption shall have been made, the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall furnish the person with a certificate of such exemption, and the person to whom it is issued shall be required to list his poll, but upon exhibition of such certificate the list taker shall annually enter in the column intended for the poll the word "exempt," and the poll shall not be charged in computing the list.

(3) Cities and towns may levy a poll tax not exceeding that authorized by the constitution, and poll taxes so levied and collected may be used for any purpose permitted by law. (1939, c. 310, s. 1402.)

§ 105-342. What veterans exempt from poll tax; world war veterans. — Any honorably discharged veteran of any of the wars of the United States, now a resident of, and subject to capitation or poll tax in this State, and who received injuries in the line of duty in the military service, whether compensable or not, and all such honorably discharged veterans that have been, or are now, receiving compensation from the Federal Government for disability of service connected origin, shall be conclusively considered and presumed as having physical infirmities sufficient to warrant exemption from the payment of the capitation or poll tax under Article five, section one, of the Constitution of North Carolina: Provided, however, that with respect to veterans of the World War, this section and § 105-343 shall apply only to those who served not less than ninety days during the period between April sixth, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and November eleventh, one thousand nine hundred eighteen, or to those of such veterans who served with the United States forces in Russia during the period between April sixth, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and April first, one thousand nine hundred twenty. (1931, c. 193, s. 1.)

§ 105-343. Proof of service and injury must be furnished; exemption by county commissioners. — The veteran or soldier claiming exemption under § 105-342 shall furnish proof of such service and injury by producing to the board of commissioners of his county his or her discharge or release or certificate of such service or injury, signed by a recognized official of the United States War Department or the Adjutant General's office of this State, and said discharge, release or certificate shall be recorded with the register of deeds of such county prior to tax listing date in the year in which exemption is claimed under §§ 105-342 and 105-343. It shall be the duty of the register of deeds at or before tax listing time in each county, to notify the board of county commissioners of the registration with him of such discharge, release or certificate and thereupon, upon application of the veteran, said board of county commissioners may take the action authorized by §§ 105-342 and 105-343. (1931, c. 193, s. 2.)

§ 105-344. Exemption of pensions or compensations from taxation.—Every person receiving a pension or compensation from the state, or United States, or any foreign country or government, for and on account of wounds or physical disabilities contracted or sustained during the late war between the United States and Germany, and any of the allied countries coöperating with the United States, shall not be required to pay any tax of any kind upon such pension or compensation, but the same shall be exempted from any and all taxes. This section shall apply to all such taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and thereafter. (1923, c. 259; C. S. 5168(aa).)

§ 105-345. Penalties and discounts for nonpayment of taxes.—All taxes assessed or levied by any county, city, town, special district or other political subdivision of this state, in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter, shall be due and payable on the first Monday of October of the year in which they are so assessed or levied, and if actually paid in cash:

(1) On or before the first day of November next after due and payable, there shall be deducted a discount of one-half of one per cent (½ of 1%).

(2) After the first day of November and on or before the first day of February next after due and payable, the tax shall be paid at par or face value.

(3) After the first day of February and on or before the first day of March next after due and payable, there shall be added to the tax a penalty of one per cent (1%).

(4) After the first day of March and on or before the first day of April next after due and payable, there shall be added to the tax a penalty of two per cent (2%).

(5) On and after the second day of April the penalty shall be, in addition to said two per cent (2%), one-half of one per cent per month or fraction thereof until paid from said day on the principal amount of such taxes, which shall continue to accrue on taxes not included in a certificate of sale and which, on taxes included in a certificate of sale, shall continue to accrue until the date of such certificate.

(6) Should any taxpayer desire to make a prepayment of his taxes between July first and October first of any year, he may do so by making payment to the county or city accountant, city clerk, auditor or treasurer, as the governing body may determine, and shall be entitled to the following discounts: If paid on or before July first, a deduction of two per cent (2%); if paid during the month of July, a deduction of one and one-half per cent (1½%); if paid during the month of August, a deduction of one per cent (1%). (1939, c, 310, s. 1403.)

Local Modification.—Beaufort: 1937, c. 65; Iredell: 1941, c. 332.

Art. 25. Banks, Banking Associations, Trust Companies and Building and Loan Associations.

§ 105-346. Banks, banking associations and trust companies.—The value of shares of stock of banks, banking associations, and trust companies shall be determined as follows:

(1) Every bank, banking association, industrial bank, savings institution, trust company, or joint-stock land bank located in this state shall list its real estate and tangible personal property, except money on hand, in the county in which such real estate and tangible personal property is located for the purpose of county and municipal taxation, and shall, during the second calendar month following the month in which local tax listing begins each year, list with the state board of assessment, on forms provided by the said state board, in the name of and for its shareholders, all the shares of its capital stock, whether held by residents or nonresidents, at its actual value on the day as of which property is assessed under this subchapter.

(2) The actual value of such shares for the purpose of this section shall be ascertained by adding together the capital stock, surplus, and undivided profits, and deducting therefrom the assessed value of such real and tangible personal property which such banking institutions shall have listed for taxation in the county or counties of this state wherein such real and tangible personal property is located, together with an amount according to its proportion of tax value of any buildings and lands wholly or partially occupied by such banking associations, institutions or trust companies, owned and listed for taxation by a North Carolina corporation in which such banking associations or institutions own ninety-nine per cent (99%) of the capital stock.

(3) In addition to the deductions allowed in item two of this section, there may be deducted from the items of surplus and undivided profits an amount not exceeding five per cent (5%) of the bills and notes receivable of such banking associations, institutions, or trust companies to cover bad or insolvent debts, investments in North Carolina state bonds, United States government bonds, joint-stock land bank bonds, and federal land bank bonds, at the actual cost of said bonds owned on and continuously for at least ninety days prior to the day as of which property is assessed in the current year. The value of such shares of capital stock of such banking associations, institutions, or trust companies shall be found by dividing the net amount ascertained above by the number of shares in the said banking associations, institutions or trust companies.

(4) If the state board of assessment shall have reason to believe that the actual value of such shares of stock of such banking associations, institutions, or trust companies, as listed with it, is not the true value in money, then the said board shall ascertain such true value by such an examination and investigation as seems proper, and increase or reduce the value as so listed to such an amount as it ascertains to be the true value for the purposes of this section.

(5) The value of the capital stock of all such banking associations, institutions, and trust companies as found by the state board of assessment, in the manner herein described, shall be certified to the county and municipality in which such bank or institution is located: Provided, that if any such banking association, institution, or trust company shall have one or more branches, the state board of assessment shall make an allocation of the value of the capital stock so found as between the parent and branch bank or banks or trust company in proportion to the deposits of the parent and branch bank, banks, or trust company, and certify the allocated values so found to the counties and municipalities in which the parent and the branch bank, banks, or trust company are located.

(6) The taxes assessed upon the shares of stock of any such banking associations, institutions, or trust companies shall be paid by the cashier, secretary, treasurer, or other officer or officers thereof, and in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes are required to be paid in such counties, and in default thereof such cashier, secretary, treasurer, or other accounting officer, as well as such banking association, institution, or trust company, shall be liable for such taxes, and in addition thereto for a sum equal to ten per cent (10%) thereof. Any taxes so paid upon any such shares may, with the interest thereon, be recovered from the owners thereof by the banking association, institution, or trust company or officers thereof paying them, or may be deducted from the dividends accruing on such shares. The taxation of such shares of capital stock shall not be at a greater rate than is assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of this state coming in competition with the business of such banking associations, institutions, or trust companies.

(7) In case of the failure or refusal of any bank, banking association or trust company to make and deliver to the state board of assessment any statement or statements required by this subchapter, such bank, banking association or trust company shall forfeit and pay to the state of North Carolina the sum of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each additional day such report is delinquent beyond the last day of the month in which said report is required to be made, such penalty to be sued for and recovered in any proper form of action in the name of the state of North Carolina on the relation of the state board of assessment, and such penalty, when collected, shall be paid into the general fund of the state. (1939, c. 310, s. 1500.)

§ 105-347. Building and loan associations.—(1) The secretary of each building and loan association organized and/or doing business in this state shall list with the local assessors all the tangible real and personal property owned on the day as of which property is assessed each year, which shall be assessed and taxed as like property of individuals.

(2) All foreign building and loan associations doing business in this state shall list for taxation, during the second calendar month following the month in which local tax listing begins each year, with the state board of assessment, through their respective agents, its stock held by citizens of this state, with the name of the county, city, or town in which the owners of said stock reside. In listing said stock for taxation the withdrawal value as fixed by the by-laws of each such association shall be furnished to the said board, and the stock shall be valued for taxation at such withdrawal value.

Any association or officer of such association doing business in the state who shall fail, refuse or neglect to so list shares owned by citizens of this state for taxation shall be barred from doing business in this state; any local officer or other person who shall collect dues, assessments, premiums, fines, or interest from any citizen of this state for any such association which has failed, neglected, or refused to so list for taxation the stock held by citizens of this state shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

The value of the shares of stock so held by citizens of this state, as found by the state board of assessment, shall be certified to the register of deeds of the county in which such shareholders reside, shall be placed on the assessment roll in the name of such holders thereof, and taxed as other property is taxed. (1939, c. 310, s. 1501.)

§ 105-348. Article not to conflict with sections 105-198 to 105-217.—None of the provisions contained in any of the sections of this article shall be construed to conflict with Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, but rather shall they be subordinate thereto. (1939, c. 310, s. 1502.)

§ 105-349. State board to keep record of all corporations, etc.; secrecy enjoined.—The state board of assessment shall prepare and keep a record book in which it shall enter a correct list of all the corporations, limited partnerships, joint-stock associations, banks, banking associations, industrial banks, savings institutions, and trust companies which it has assessed for taxation, and said record shall show the assessed valuation placed upon them; and the state board of assessment shall not divulge or make public any report of such corporation, partnership, or association required to be made to it, except as provided in this subchapter or the Revenue Act. (1939, c. 310, s. 1503.)

Art. 26. Public Service Companies.

§ 105-350. Telegraph companies.—Every joint-stock association, company, copartnership or corporation, whether incorporated under the laws of this state or any other state or any foreign nation, engaged in transmitting to, from, through, in, or across the state of North Carolina telegraph messages shall be deemed and held to be a telegraph company; and every such telegraph company shall, during the second calendar month following the month in which local tax listing begins each year, make out and deliver to the state board of assessment a statement, verified by oath of the officer or agent of such company making such statement, with reference to the day as of which property is assessed next preceding, showing:

First. The total capital stock of such association, company, copartnership, or corporation.

Second. The number of shares of capital stock issued and outstanding, and the par value of each share.

Third. Its principal place of business.

Fourth. The market value of said shares of stock on the day as of which property is assessed next preceding; and if such shares have no market value, then the actual value thereof.

Fifth. The real estate, structures, machinery, fixtures, and appliances owned by said association, company, copartnership or corporation, and subject to local taxation within the state, and the location and assessed value thereof in each county where the same is assessed for local taxation.

Sixth. The specific real estate, together with the permanent improvements thereon, owned by such association, company, copartnership, or corporation situated outside the state of North Carolina and not directly used in the conduct of the business, with a specific description of each such piece, where located, the purpose for which the same is used, and the sum at which the same is assessed for taxation in the locality where situated.

Seventh. All mortgages upon the whole or any part of its property, together with the dates and amounts thereof.

Eighth. (a) The total length of lines of said association or company; (b) the total length of so much of their lines as is outside of the state of North Carolina; (c) the length of the lines and wire mileage within each of the counties, townships, and incorporated towns within the state of North Carolina.

Ninth. Such other and further information as the state board of assessment may require. (1939, c. 310, s. 1600.)

§ 105-351. Telephone companies.—Every telephone company doing business in this state, whether incorporated under the laws of this state or any other state, or of any foreign nation, shall, during the second calendar month following the month in which local tax listing begins each year, make out and deliver to the state board of assessment of this state a statement, verified by the oath of the officer or agent of such company making such statement, with reference to the day as of which property is assessed next preceding, showing:

First. The total capital stock of such association, company, copartnership, or corporation invested in the operation of such telephone business.

Second. The number of shares of capital stock issued and outstanding, and the par or face value of each share.

Third. Its principal place of business.

Fourth. The market value of said shares of stock on the day as of which property is assessed next preceding; and if such shares have no market value, then the actual value thereof.

Fifth. The real estate, structures, machinery, fixtures, and appliances owned by said association, company, copartnership, or corporation and subject to local taxation within the state, and the location and assessed value thereof in each county where the same is assessed for local taxation.

Sixth. The specific real estate, together with the permanent improvements thereon, owned by such association, company, copartnership, or corporation, situated outside of the state of North Carolina, and not used directly in the conduct of the business, with a specific description of each such piece, where located, the purpose for which the same is used, and the sum at which the same is assessed for taxation in the locality where situated.

Seventh. All mortgages upon the whole or any of its property, together with the dates and amounts thereof.

Eighth. (a) The total length of the lines of said association or company; (b) the total length of so much of their lines as is outside of the state of North Carolina; (c) the length of the lines and wire mileage within each of the counties, townships, and incorporated towns within the state of North Carolina.

Ninth. Such other and further information as the state board of assessment may require. (1939, c. 310, s. 1601.)

§ 105-352. Express companies. — Every joint-stock association, company, copartnership, or corporation, incorporated or acting under the laws of this state or any other state, or any foreign nation, engaged in carrying to, from, through, in or across this state, or any part thereof, money, packages, gold, silver, plate, merchandise, freight, or other articles, under any contract, expressed or implied, with any railroad company or the managers, lessees, agents or receivers thereof, provided such joint-stock association, company, copartnership or corporation is not a railroad company, shall be deemed and held to be an express company within the meaning of this subchapter; and every such express company shall, during the second calendar month following the month in which local tax listing begins each year, make out and deliver to the state board of assessment a statement, verified by the oath of the officer or agent of such association, company, copartnership or corporation making such statement, with reference to the day as of which property is assessed next preceding, showing:

First. The total capital stock or capital of said association, copartnership or corporation.

Second. The number of shares of capital stock issued and outstanding, and the par or face value of each share; and in case no shares of capital stock are issued, in what manner the capital stock thereof is divided, and in what manner such holdings are evidenced.

Third. Its principal place of business.

Fourth. The market value of said shares of stock on the day as of which property is assessed next preceding; and if such shares have no market value, then the actual value thereof; and in case no shares of stock have been issued, state the market value, or the actual value in case there is no market value, of the capital thereof, and the manner in which the same is divided.

Fifth. The real estate, structures, machinery, fixtures and appliances owned by the said association, company, copartnership or corporation, and subject to local taxation within the state of North Carolina, and the location and assessed value thereof in each county where the same is assessed for local taxation.

Sixth. The specific real estate, together with the improvements thereon, owned by the association, company, copartnership or corporation situated outside the state of North Carolina, and not used directly in the conduct of the business, with a specific description of each such piece, where located, the purpose for which the same is used, and the sum at which the same is assessed for taxation in the locality where situated.

Seventh. All mortgages upon the whole or any part of its property, together with the dates and amounts thereof.

Eighth. (a) The total length of the lines or routes over which such association, company, copartnership or corporation transports such merchandise, freight, or express matter; (b) the total length of such lines or routes as are outside the state of North Carolina; (c) the length of such lines or routes within each of the counties, municipalities and townships within the state of North Carolina.

Ninth. Such other and further information as the state board of assessment may require. (1939, c. 310, s. 1602.)

§ 105-353. Sleeping-car companies. — Every joint-stock association, company, copartnership or corporation incorporated or acting under the laws of this or any other state, or of any foreign nation, and conveying to, from, through, in or across this state, or any part thereof, passengers or travelers in palace cars, drawingroom cars, sleeping cars, dining cars, or chair cars, under any contract, expressed or implied, with any railroad company or the managers, lessees, agents or receivers thereof, shall be deemed and held to be a sleeping-car company for the purposes of this subchapter, and shall hereinafter be called "sleeping-car company"; and every such sleeping car company doing business in this state shall, during the second calendar month following the month in which local tax listing begins each year, make out and deliver to the state board of assessment a statement, verified by the oath of the officer or agent of such company making such statement, with reference to the day as of which property is assessed next preceding, showing:

First. The total capital stock of such sleeping car company invested in its sleeping-car business.

Second. The number of shares of such capital stock devoted to the sleeping-car business issued and outstanding and the par or face value of each share.

Third. Under the laws of what state it is incorporated.

Fourth. Its principal place of business.

Fifth. The names and post office addresses of its president and secretary.

Sixth. The actual cash value of the shares of such capital stock devoted to its sleeping-car business on the day as of which property is assessed next preceding such report.

Seventh. The real estate, structures, machinery, fixtures, and appliances owned by said sleeping-car company and subject to local taxation within this state, and the location and assessed value thereof in each county within this state where the same is asesssed for local taxation.

Eighth. All mortgages upon the whole or any part of its property, and the amounts thereof, devoted to its sleeping-car business.

Ninth. (a) The total length of the main line of railroad over which cars are run; (b) the total length of so much of the main lines of railroad over which the said cars are run outside of the state of North Carolina; (c) the length of the lines of railroads over which said cars are run within each of the counties within the state of North Carolina: Provided, that where the railroads over which said cars run have double tracks, or a greater number of tracks than a single track, the statement shall only give the mileage as though such tracks were but single tracks; and in case it shall be required, such statement shall show in detail the number of miles of each or any particular railroad or system within the state. When the assessment shall have been made by the state board of assessment in accordance with § 105-358, the board shall thereupon notify the officer attesting such report of the amount assessed against it, and such sleeping-car company shall have twenty days within which to appear and make objection, if any it shall have, to said assessment. If no objection be made within twenty days, the state board of assessment shall certify to the county commissioners of the several counties through which such cars are used the value of the property of such sleeping-car company within such county in the proportion that the number of miles of railroad over which such cars are used in said county bears to the number of miles of railroad over which such cars are used within the state, together with the name and postoffice address of the officers attesting such report of such sleeping-car company, with the information that tax bills, when assessed, are to be sent to him by mail; and such value, so certified, shall be assessed and taxed the same as other property within said county. And when the assessment shall have been made in such county, the sheriff or county tax collector shall send to the address given by the state board of assessment to the county commissioners a bill for the total amount of all taxes due to such county, and such sleeping-car company shall have sixty days thereafter within which to pay said taxes; and upon failure of and refusal to do so such taxes shall be collected the same as other delinquent taxes are, together with a penalty of fifty per cent (50%) added thereto, and costs of collection. (1939, c. 310, s. 1603.)

§ 105-354. Refrigerator and freight-car companies.—Every person, firm, or corporation owning refrigerator or freight cars operated over or leased to any railroad company in this state or operated in the state shall be taxed in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for the taxing of sleeping-car companies, and the collection of the tax thereon shall be followed in assessing and collecting the tax on the refrigerator and freight cars taxed under this section: Provided, if it appears that the owner does not lease the cars to any railroad company, or make any contract to furnish it with cars, but they are furnished to be run indiscriminately over any lines on which shipper or railroad companies may desire to send them, and the owner receives compensation from each road over which the car runs, the state board of assessment shall ascertain and assess the value of the average number of cars which are in use within the state as a part of the necessary equipment of any railroad company for the year ending with the day as of which property is assessed, next preceding the report, and the tax shall be computed upon this assessment. In making distribution of any taxable valuation by virtue of the provisions of this section, the state board of assessment shall give primary consideration to the county or counties in which the taxpayer has the greater car mileage. (1939, c. 310, s. 1604.)

§ 105-355. Street railway, waterworks, electric light and power, gas, ferry, bridge, and other public utility companies.—Every street railway company, waterworks company, electric light and power company, gas company, ferry company, bridge company, canal company, and other corporations exercising the right of eminent domain, shall, during the second calendar month following the month in which local tax listing begins each year, make out and deliver to the state board of assessment a statement, verified by the oath of the officer or agent of such company making such statement, with reference to the copartnership or corporation, showing:

First. The total capital stock of such association, company, copartnership, or corporation.

Second. The number of shares of capital stock issued and outstanding and the par or face value of each share.

Third. Its principal place of business.

Fourth. The market value of said shares of stock on the day as of which property is assessed next preceding; and if such shares have no market value, then the actual value thereof.

Fifth. The real estate, structures, machinery, fixtures, and appliances owned by said association, company, copartnership or corporation, and subject to local taxation within the state, and the location and assessed value thereof in each county, municipality and township where the same is assessed for local taxation.

Sixth. The specific real estate, together with the permanent improvements thereon, owned by such association, company, copartnership, or corporation situate outside of the state of North Carolina and not directly used in the conduct of the business, with a specific description of each such piece, where located, the purpose for which the same is used, and the sum at which the same is assessed for taxation in the locality where situate.

Seventh. All mortgages upon the whole or any part of its property, together with the dates and amounts thereof.

Eighth. (a) The total length of the lines of said association or company; (b) the total length of so much of their lines as is outside of the state of North Carolina; (c) the length of lines within each of the counties, municipalities and townships within the state of North Carolina.

Ninth. Such other and further information as the state board of assessment may require. (1939, c. 310, s. 1605.)

§ 105-356. State board of assessment may require additional information. — Upon the filing of the statements required in the preceding sections the state board of assessment shall examine the same and, if the board shall deem the same insufficient, or in case it shall deem that other information is requisite, it shall require such officer to make such other and further statements as said board may call for. In case of the failure or refusal of any bank, association, company, copartnership, or corporation to make out and deliver to the state board of assessment any statement or statements required by this subchapter, such bank, association, company, copartnership, or corporation shall forfeit and pay to the state of North Carolina one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each additional day such report is delayed beyond the last day of the month in which required to be made, to be sued for and recovered in any proper form of action in the name of the state of North Carolina on the relation of the state board of assessment, and such penalty, when collected, shall be paid into the general fund of the state. (1939, c. 310, s. 1606.)

§ 105-357. State board of assessment shall examine statements.—The state board of assessment shall thereupon value and assess the property of each association, company, copartnership, or corporation in the manner hereinafter set forth, after examining such statements and after ascertaining the value of such properties therefrom and upon such other information as the board may have or obtain. For that purpose it may require the agents or officers of said association, company, copartnership, or corporation to appear before it with such books, papers, and statements as it may require, or may require additional statements to be made, and may compel the attendance of witnesses in case the board shall deem it necessary to enable it to ascertain the true cash value of such property. (1939, c. 310, s. 1607.)

§ 105-358. Manner of assessment.—Said state board of assessment shall first ascertain the true cash value of the entire property owned by the said association, company, copartnership, or corporation from said statement or otherwise for the purpose, taking the aggregate value of all the shares of capital stock, in case shares have a market value, and in case they have none, taking the actual value thereof or of the capital of said association, company, copartnership, or corporation in whatever manner the same is divided, in case no shares of capital stock have been issued: Provided, however, that in case the whole or any portion of the property of such association, company, copartnership, or corporation shall be encumbered by a mortgage or mortgages, such board shall ascertain the true cash value of such property by adding to the market value of the aggregate shares of stock, or to the value of the capital in case there should be no such shares, the aggregate amounts of such mortgage or mortgages, and the result shall be deemed and treated as the true cash value of the property of such association, company, copartnership, or corporation. Such state board of assessment shall, for the purpose of ascertaining the true cash value of property within the state of North Carolina, next ascertain from such statements or otherwise the assessed value for taxation, in the localities where the same is situated, of the several pieces of real estate situated within and without the state of North Carolina and not in any manner used in the general business of such associations, companies, copartnerships or corporations, which assessed value for taxation shall be by said board deducted from the gross value of the property as above ascertained. Said state board of assessment shall next ascertain and assess the true cash value of the property, including intangible personal property, of the associations, companies, copartnerships, or corporations within the state of North Carolina by taking as a guide, as far as practicable, the proportion of the whole aggregate value of said associations, companies, copartnerships as above ascertained, after deducting the assessed value of such real estate without the state which the length of lines of said associations, companies, copartnerships or corporations, in the case of telegraph and telephone companies, within the state of North Carolina bears to the total length thereof, and in the case of express companies and sleeping-car companies the proportion shall be in proportion of the whole aggregate value after such deduction, which the length of lines or routes within the state of North Carolina bears to the whole length of lines or routes of such associations, companies, copartnerships or corporations, and such amounts so ascertained shall be deemed and held as the entire value of the property of said associations, companies, copartnerships or corporations within the state of North Carolina: Provided, the board shall, in valuing the fixed property in this state, give due consideration to the amount of gross and net earnings per mile of line in this state, and any other factor which would give a greater or less value per mile in this state than the average value for the entire system. From the entire value of the property within the state so ascertained there shall be deducted by the state board of assessment the assessed value for taxation of all real estate, structures, machinery, and appliances within the state listed with the local taxing authorities of this state if used in the general business of the taxpayer and subject to local taxation in the counties, as hereinbefore described in §§ 105-352 to 105-357, inclusive, and the assessed value for taxation of all intangible personal property returned and assessed under the provisions of Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217, and the residue of such value as ascertained, after deducting therefrom the assessed value of such properties, shall be by said board assessed to said associations: Provided, the state board of assessment shall also assess the value for taxation of all structures, machinery, appliances, pole lines, wire and conduit of telephone and telegraph companies within the state subject to local taxation, but land and buildings located thereon owned by said companies shall be assessed in like manner and by the same officials as though such property was owned by individuals in this state. (1939, c. 310, s. 1608.)

§ 105-359. Value per mile.—Said state board of assessment shall thereupon ascertain the value per mile of the property within the state by dividing the total value as above ascertained, after deducting the specific properties locally assessed within the state, by the number of miles within the state, and the result shall be deemed and held as value per mile of the property of such association, company, copartnership, or corporation within the state of North Carolina: Provided, the value per mile of telephone and telegraph companies shall be determined on a wire mileage basis. (1939, c. 310, s. 1609.)

§ 105-360. Total value for each county and municipality.—Said board of assessment shall thereupon, for the purpose of determining what amount shall be assessed by it to said association, company, copartnership, or corporation in each county in the state through, across, and into or over which the lines of said association, company, copartnership or corporation extend, multiply the value per mile, as above ascertained, by the number of miles in each of such counties as reported in said statements or as otherwise ascertained, and the result thereof shall be by the secretary of said state board certified to the chairman of the board of county commissioners, respectively, of the several counties through, into, over, or across which the lines or routes of said association, company, copartnership, or corporation extend: Provided, the total value of street railways, electric light, power and gas companies, as determined in § 105-358 to be certified to each county, shall be the proportion which the locally assessed value of the physical property in each county bears to the total assessed value of the physical property in the state. Distribution and certification by the state board of assessment to the municipalities and other local taxing jurisdictions shall follow the same general rules governing such distribution to the several counties of the state with respect to value per mile and total value as herein set out. All taxes due the state from any corporation taxed under the preceding sections shall be paid by the treasurer of each company direct to the commissioner of revenue. (1939, c. 310, s. 1610.)

§ 105-361. Companies failing to pay tax; penalty.—In case any such association, company, copartnership, or corporation as named in this subchapter shall fail or refuse to pay any taxes assessed against it in any county, municipality or other taxing jurisdiction in this state, in addition to other remedies provided by law for the collection of taxes, an action may be prosecuted in the name of the state of North Carolina by the solicitors of the different judicial districts of the state on the relation of the board of commissioners of the different counties of this state and the judgment in said action shall include a penalty of (50%) of the amount of taxes as assessed and unpaid, together with reasonable attorney's fees for the prosecution of such action, which action may be prosecuted in any county into, through, over or across which the lines or routes of any association, company, copartnership, or corporation shall extend, or in any county where such association, company, copartnership, or corporation shall have an office or agent for the transaction of business. In case such association, company, copartnership, or corporation shall have refused to pay the whole of the taxes assessed against the same by the state board of assessment, or in case such association, company, copartnership, or corporation shall have refused to pay the taxes or any portion thereof assessed to it in any particular county or counties, such action may include the whole or any portion of the taxes so unpaid in any county or counties; but the attorney general may, at his option, unite in one action the entire amount of the tax due, or may bring separate actions to each separate county or adjoining counties, as he may prefer. All collection of taxes for or on account of any particular county made in any such suit or suits shall be by said board accounted for as a credit to the respective counties for or on account of which such collections were made by the said board at the next ensuing settlement with such county, but the penalty so collected shall be credited to the general fund of the state, and upon such settlement being made the treasurers of the several counties shall, at their next settlement, enter credits upon the proper duplicates in their offices, and at the next settlement with such county, report the amount so received by him in his settlement with the state, and proper entries shall be made with reference thereto: Provided, that in any such action the amount of the assessments fixed by said state board of assessment and apportioned to such county shall not be controverted. (1939, c. 310, s. 1611.)

§ 105-362. State board made appraisers for public utilities. — The state board of assessment herein established is constituted a board of appraisers and assessors for railroad, canal, steamboat, hydroelectric, street railway, and all other companies exercising the right of eminent domain. (1939, c. 310, s. 1612.)

§ 105-363. Returns to state board by railroads, etc., companies.—The president, secretary, superintendent or other principal accounting officer within this state of every railroad, telegraph, telephone, street railway company, whether incorporated by the laws of this state or not, shall, during the second calendar month following the month in which local tax listing begins each year, return to the state board of assessment, verified by the oath or affirmation of the officer making the return, all the following described property belonging to such corporation within the state, viz: The number of miles of such railroad lines in each county and municipality in this state, and the total number of miles in the state, including the roadbed, right-of-way and super structures thereon, main and side tracks, depot buildings and depot grounds, section and tool houses and the land upon which they are situated and necessary to their use, water stations and land, coal chutes and land, and real estate and personal property of every character necessary for the construction and successful operation of such railroad, or used in the daily operation, whether situated on the charter right-of-way of the railroad or on additional land acquired for this purpose, except as provided below, including, also, if desired by the state board of assessment, Pullman or sleeping cars or refrigerator cars owned by them or operated over their lines: Provided, however, that all machines and repair shops, general office buildings, storehouses and contents thereof, located outside of the right-of-way shall be listed for purposes of taxation by the principal officers or agents of such companies with the list takers of the county where the real and personal property may be situated, in the manner provided by law for the listing and valuation of real and personal property. A list of such property shall be filed by such company with the state board of assessment. It shall be the duty of the tax supervisor, county accountant and register of deeds, if requested so to do by the state board of assessment, to certify and send to the said board a statement giving a description of the property mentioned in the foregoing proviso, and showing the assessed valuation thereof, which value shall be deducted from the total value of the property of such railroad company as arrived at by the board in accordance with § 105-365, before the apportionment is made to the counties and municipalities. The tax supervisor, county accountant and register of deeds shall also certify to the board the local rate of taxation for county purposes as soon as the same shall be determined, and such other information obtained in the performance of the duties of their offices as the said board shall require of them; and the mayor of each city or town shall cause to be sent to the said board the local rate of taxation for municipal purposes. (1939, c. 310, s. 1613.)

§ 105-364. Railroads; annual schedule of rolling stock, etc., to be furnished to state board. — The movable property belonging to a railroad company shall be denominated, for the purposes of taxation, "rolling stock." Every person, company, or corporation owning, constructing, or operating a railroad in this state shall, during the second calendar month following the month in which local tax listing begins each year, return a list or schedule to the state board of assessment which shall contain a correct detailed inventory of all the rolling stock belonging to such company, and which shall distinctly set forth the number of locomotives of all classes, passenger cars of all classes, sleeping cars and dining cars, express cars, horse cars, cattle cars, coal cars, platform cars, wrecking cars, pay cars, hand-cars, and all other kinds of cars, and the value thereof, and a statement or schedule as follows:

(1) The amount of capital stock authorized and the number of shares into which such capital stock is divided; (2) the amount of capital stock paid up; (3) the market value, or, if no market value, then the actual value of shares of stock; (4) the length of line operated in each county and total in the state; (5) the total assessed value of all tangible property in the state. Such schedule shall be made in conformity to such instructions and forms as may be prescribed by the board, and with reference to amounts and value on the day as of which property is assessed for the year for which the return is made. (1939, c. 310, s. 1614.)

§ 105-365. Railroads; tangible and intangible property assessed separately. — (a) At such dates as real estate is required to be assessed for taxation the said board of assessment shall first determine the value of the tangible property of each division or branch of such railroad or rolling stock and all the other physical or tangible property. This value shall be determined by a due consideration of the actual cost of replacing the property, with a just allowance for depreciation on rolling stock, and also of other conditions, to be considered as is in the case of private property.

(b) They shall then assess the value of the franchise, which shall be determined by due consideration of the gross earnings as compared with the operating expenses, and particularly by consideration of the value placed upon the whole property by the public (the value of the physical property being deducted) as evidenced by the market value of all capital stock, certificates of indebtedness, bonds, or any other securities, the value of which is based upon the earning capacity of the property.

(c) The aggregate value of the physical or tangible property, and the franchise, as thus determined, shall be the true value of the property for the purpose of ad valorem taxation, and shall be apportioned in the same proportion that the length of such road in such county bears to the entire length of each division or branch thereof, and the state board of assessment shall certify, on or before the first day of September, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to the chairman of the county commissioners and to the mayor of each city or incorporated town the amounts apportioned to his county, city or town. The board of county commissioners of each county through which said railroad passes shall assess against the same only the tax imposed for county, township, or other taxing district purposes, the same as is levied on other property in such county, township, or special taxing districts. (1939, c. 310, s. 1615.)

§ 105-366. Railroads; valuation where road both within and without state.—When any railroad has part of its road in this state and part thereof in any other state, the said board shall ascertain the value of railroad track, rolling stock, and all other property liable to assessment by the state board of assessment of such company as provided in § 105-365, and divide it in the proportion to the length such main line of road in this state bears to the whole length of such main line of road and determine the value in this state accordingly: Provided, the board shall, in valuing the fixed property in this state, give due consideration to the character of roadbed and fixed equipment, number of miles of double track, the amount of gross and net earnings per mile of road in this state, and any other factor which would give a greater or less value per mile of road in this state than the average value for the entire system. On or after the first Monday in the month following the month in which said reports are required to be made, the said board shall give a hearing to all the companies interested, touching the valuation and assessment of their property. The said board may, if they see fit, require all argument and communications to be presented in writing. (1939, c. 310, s. 1616.)

§ 105-367. Railroads; in cases of leased roads.—If the property of any railroad company be leased or operated by any other corporation, foreign or domestic, the property of the lessor or company whose property is operated shall be subject to taxation in the manner hereinbefore directed; and if the lessee or operating company, being a foreign corporation, be the owner or possessor of any property in this state other than that which it derives from the lessor or company whose property is operated, it shall be assessed in respect to such property in like manner as any domestic railroad company. (1939, c. 310, s. 1617.)

§ 105-368. Railroads; board may subpoena witnesses and compel production of records; penalty for failure to furnish required information.—The state board of assessment shall have power to summon and examine witnesses and require that books and papers shall be presented to them for the purpose of obtaining such information as may be necessary to aid in determining the valuation of any railroad company. Any president, secretary, receiver, or accounting officer, servant or agent of any railroad or steamboat company having any proportion of its property or roadway in this state who shall refuse to attend before the said board when required to do so, or refuse to submit to the inspection of said board any books or papers of such railroad company in his possession, custody, or control, or shall refuse to answer such questions as may be put to him by said board, or order touching the business or property, monies and credits, and the value thereof, of said railroad company, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction shall be confined in the jail of the county not exceeding thirty days, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) and costs, and any president, secretary, accounting officer, servant, or agent aforesaid so refusing as aforesaid shall be deemed guilty of contempt of such board, and may be confined, by order of said board, in the jail of the proper county until he shall comply with such order and pay the cost of his imprisonment. (1939, c. 310, s. 1618.)

§ 105-369. Taxes on railroads shall be a lien on property of the same.—The taxes upon any and all railroads in this state, including roadbed, right-of-way, depots, side tracks, ties, and rails, now constructed or hereafter to be constructed, are hereby made a perpetual lien thereupon, commencing from the day as of which property is assessed in each current year, against all claims or demands whatsoever of all persons or bodies corporate except the United States and this state, and the above described property or any part thereof may be taken and held for payment of all taxes assessed against said railroad company in the several counties of this state. (1939, c. 310, s. 1619.)

§ 105-370. Board of assessment to certify apportionment of valuation to counties and municipalities; payment of local taxes.—The state board of assessment shall, upon completion of the assessment directed in the preceding sections, certify to the register of deeds or tax supervisor of the counties and the clerk of the board of commissioners of the municipalities through which said companies operate the apportionment of the valuations as hereinbefore determined and apportioned by the board, and the board of county commissioners and taxing authorities of municipalities or other taxing jurisdictions respectively, shall assess against such valuation the same tax imposed for county, township, town, or other tax district purposes, as that levied on all other property in such county, township, town, or other taxing districts. This tax shall be paid to the sheriff or tax collector of the county and municipality. (1939, c. 310, s. 1620.)

§ 105-371. Canal and steamboat companies.—The property of all canal and steamboat companies in this state shall be assessed for taxation as above provided for railroads. In case any officer fails to return the property provided in this section, the board shall ascertain the length of such property in this state, and shall assess the same in proportion to the length at the highest rate at which property of that kind is assessed by them. (1939, c. 310, s. 1621.)

Art. 27. Collection and Foreclosure of Taxes.

§ 105-372. Definitions.—As used in this article, unless the context otherwise indicates:

(1) "Tax collector" or "collector" means sheriffs, tax collectors and all other officials charged with the duty of collecting taxes levied by or for counties, cities, school districts, road districts or other political subdivisions of this state.

(2) "Taxes" means property taxes (other than taxes levied under Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217), poll taxes and dog taxes levied by or for counties, cities, school districts, road districts or other political subdivisions of this state.

(3) "Taxing unit" means any county, city, school district, road district or other political subdivision of this state by or for which taxes are levied.

(4) "City" means any incorporated city or town.

(5) "District" means any taxing unit other than counties and cities.

(6) "Person" means any individual, firm, corporation, company, partnership, trust, estate, or fiduciary. (1939. c. 310, s. 1700.)

§ 105-373. Appointment, terms, qualifications and bond of city tax collectors.—The governing body of each city in this state shall appoint a tax collector, who shall be some person of character and integrity, with experience in business or in collection work, to collect taxes levied by the city governing body. The governing body may, in its discretion, designate some official or employee of the city who has other duties, to perform also the duties of tax collector. The governing body shall fix the compensation of said collector and, subject to the provisions of this article, shall prescribe the amount of his bond and approve the sureties thereon. Any premiums on said bond shall be paid in such manner as the governing body may direct. No tax collector shall be allowed to begin his duties until he shall have furnished bond satisfactory to the governing body; nor shall any collector be permitted to continue collecting taxes after his bond has expired without renewal; nor shall any collector be allowed to collect any taxes not covered by his bond.

The collector shall serve for a term of one year and until his successor has been appointed and has qualified. The governing body may, during his term, remove him from office, for good cause shown, upon notice in writing and after giving him an opportunity to appear and be heard at a public session of said governing body: Provided, that no hearing shall be necessary in case of removal for failure to meet the conditions prerequisite prescribed by this article for the delivery of the tax books. Any vacancy caused by removal, resignation, death or otherwise shall be filled, for the unexpired term, by appointment of the governing body, unless otherwise provided by this article.

Appointments under this article shall be made during the first week in July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, and annually thereafter. Until the first such appointments are made, city taxes shall be collected by the collectors now provided by law, notwithstanding any repealing clauses contained in this article.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to change the manner of appointment or term of any collector who collects both city and county taxes, or of any city collector whose manner of appointment or term is governed by the city charter. (1939, c. 310, s. 1701.)

§ 105-374. County sheriffs and tax collectors.—County and district taxes shall be collected by the sheriffs or tax collectors as provided by law: Provided, that district taxes levied by county commissioners and collected by county officials may, for collection and foreclosure purposes, be treated in the same manner as county taxes. (1939, c. 310, s. 1702.)

§ 105-375. General duties of tax collectors. — It shall be the duty of each tax collector to employ all lawful means for the collection of all taxes in his hands; to give such bond as may be required of him; to perform such duties in connection with the preparation of the tax records, receipts and stubs as the governing body may direct; to keep adequate records of all collections; and to account for all moneys coming into his hands. At each regular meeting of the governing body he shall submit a report of the amount collected on each year's taxes in his hands, the amount remaining uncollected, and the steps he is taking to encourage or enforce payment. The governing body may, at any time, require him to make settlement in full for all taxes in his hands. The governing body may also, at any time, require the collector to send out tax bills or notices, make personal calls upon delinquent taxpayers, or proceed to enforce payment by any lawful means. In addition to the taxes hereinbefore in this article defined, all license, privilege and franchise taxes levied by the taxing unit by which he is employed shall be collected by the collector.

The successor in office of any tax collector may continue and complete any process of tax collection, or any proceeding authorized by this article, begun by his predecessor. (1939, c. 310, s. 1703.)

§ 105-376. The tax lien and discharge thereof.—(a) Priority of the Tax Lien on Real Property.—(1) The lien of taxes shall attach to real property at the time hereinbefore in this subchapter prescribed.

(2) The liens of taxes of all taxing units shall be of equal dignity and shall be superior to all other assessments, charges, rights, liens, and claims of any and every kind in and to said property, regardless of by whom claimed and regardless of whether acquired prior or subsequent to the attachment of said lien for taxes: Provided, that nothing herein shall be construed as affecting such relative priority as may be prescribed by the Revenue Act for the lien of state taxes.

(3) The priority of the lien shall not be affected by transfer of title to the real property after the lien has attached, nor shall it be affected by death, receivership or bankruptcy of the owner of said property.

(b) Discharge of the Lien on Realty; Release of Separate Parcels.—The tax lien shall continue until the taxes, plus interest, penalties, and costs as allowed by law, have been fully paid.

When the lien of taxes of any taxing unit for any year attaches to two or more parcels of real estate owned by the same taxpayer, said lien may be discharged as to any parcel, at any time prior to advertisement of tax foreclosure sale, in the following manner: (1) Upon payment, by or on behalf of the listing taxpayer, of the taxes for said year on the parcel or parcels sought to be released, with penalties and interest thereon, plus all personal property, poll and dog taxes owed by said taxpayer for the same year, with interest and penalties thereon, and all costs allowed by law; or (2) upon payment, by or on behalf of any person (other than said listing taxpayer) having an interest in said property, of the taxes for said year on the parcel or parcels sought to be released, with interest and penalties thereon, plus a proportionate part of personal property, poll and dog taxes owed by said listing taxpayer for the same year, with interest and penalties thereon, and a proportionate part of costs allowed by law. The proportionate parts shall be determined by the percentage of the total assessed value of the taxpayer's real estate represented by the assessed value of the parcel or parcels sought to be released.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the rights of any holder of a tax sale certificate, other than a taxing unit, with respect to any certificate held on April 3, 1939.

When real estate listed as one parcel is subdivided, a part thereof may be released in the same manner, after the value of such part for tax purposes has been determined by the county tax supervisor or, if there is no supervisor, by the county accountant, and certified by him to the collector.

It shall be the duty of every collector accepting a payment, made under this section for the purpose of releasing less than all of the taxpayer's real property, to give the person making the payment a receipt setting forth the description of such property appearing on the tax list and bearing a statement that such property is being released; and it shall also be his duty to indicate the property released on the official records of his office. In case of failure on the part of the collector to issue such receipt or make such record, the omission may be supplied at any time.

When any parcel of real estate has been released, under this section, from the lien of taxes of any taxing unit for any year, such property shall not thereafter be subject to the lien of any other regularly assessed taxes of the same taxing unit for the same year, whether such other taxes be levied against the listing owner of said property or against some other person acquiring title thereto. No tax foreclosure judgment for such other taxes shall become a lien on such released property; and, upon appropriate request and satisfactory proof of release by any interested person, the clerk of the superior court shall indicate on the judgment docket that such judgment is not a lien on said released property: Provided, that failure to make such entry shall not have the effect of making said judgment a lien on said released property.

(c) Priority of Lien on Personal Property.—The tax lien, when it attaches to personal property, shall, in so far as it represents taxes assessed against the property to which it attaches, be superior to all other liens and rights, whether such other liens and rights are prior or subsequent to the tax lien in point of time. In so far as said tax lien represents taxes not assessed against such property, said tax lien on personal property shall be inferior to prior valid liens and superior to all subsequent liens. As between the liens of different taxing units, the lien first attaching shall be superior.

(d) Preference Accorded Taxes in Liquidation of Debtor's Estates.—In all cases in which a taxpayer's assets are in the hands of a receiver or assignee for the benefit of creditors, or are otherwise being liquidated or managed for the benefit of creditors, the taxes owed by such debtor, together with interest, penalties and costs, shall be a preferred claim, second only to administration expenses and specific liens: Provided, that this shall not be construed to modify or reduce the priority by this subchapter given to tax liens on real property or, in case of levy or attachment, the priority by this subchapter given to tax liens on personal property. (1939, c. 310, s. 1704.)

§ 105-377. All interested persons charged with notice of taxes.—All persons who have or may acquire any interest in any property which may be or may become subject to a lien for taxes are hereby charged with notice that such property is or should be listed for taxation, that taxes are or may become a lien thereon, and that if taxes are not paid such proceedings may be taken against said property as are allowed by law. Such notice shall be conclusively presumed, whether such persons have actual notice or not. (1939, c. 310, s. 1705.)

§ 105-378. Prepayments.—Payments on taxes, made before the tax books have been turned over to the collector, shall be made to such official as the governing body of the taxing unit may designate, and the official so designated shall give bond satisfactory to said governing body. If, at the time of such prepayment, the tax rate has not been finally fixed or the valuation of the taxpayer's property has not been finally determined, the prepayment may be made on the basis of the best information available to the collecting official. If it subsequently develops that there has been an overpayment, the excess shall be refunded by the taxing unit, without interest. If it develops that there has been an underpayment, the taxpayer shall be required to pay the balance due, and shall be allowed the same discount or charged the same penalty on such balance as in force with respect to other taxes for the same year at the time such balance is paid. Receipts issued for payments made on the basis of an estimate shall so state, and such receipts shall not release property from the tax lien; but official and final receipts, effecting such release, shall be made available to the taxpayer as soon as possible after determination that the tax has been fully paid. (1939, c. 310, s. 1706.)

§ 105-379. Delivery of tax books to collector; prerequisites thereto; procedure upon default.—(a) Time of Delivery.—The tax books shall be delivered to the collector, upon order of the governing body, on or before the first Monday in October, as hereinbefore in § 105-325 provided.

(b) Settlement and Bond as Prerequisites; Prepayments.—The tax books for the current year shall not be delivered to the collector until he shall have: (1) delivered to the chief accounting officer of the taxing unit the duplicates or stubs of such receipts as he may have issued for prepayments lawfully received by him; (2) demonstrated to the satisfaction of said chief accounting officer that all moneys received by him as such prepayments have been deposited to the credit of the taxing unit; (3) made his annual settlement, as hereinafter defined, for all taxes in his hands for collection; and (4) provided bond or bonds for the current taxes and all prior taxes in his hands for collection satisfactory to the governing body: Provided, that this shall not authorize any governing body of any unit to accept a bond of lesser amount than that prescribed by any valid local statute applying to said unit.

Any other official who has accepted prepayments shall, prior to the delivery of the tax books to the collector, deliver the prepayment receipt duplicates or stubs to the chief accounting officer of the unit and shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of said chief accounting officer that all moneys received by him as such prepayments have been deposited to the credit of the taxing unit: Provided, that where said chief accounting officer has himself lawfully accepted prepayments, he shall, not later than the day on which the tax books are delivered to the collector, make settlement therefor with the governing body in such manner and form as said governing body may prescribe.

It shall be the duty of said chief accounting officer: (1) to reduce the original charge made against the tax collector by deducting from the total amount of taxes levied so much of the amount received as prepayments as need not be refunded under the provisions of this article; (2) to secure and retain in his office, available to the taxpayers upon request, the regular receipts for taxes paid in full by prepayments, and to credit such payments on the tax books or accounts delivered to the collector; (3) to prepare refunds for overpayments made by way of prepayment (such disbursements to be made in the same manner as other disbursements of funds of the taxing unit are made); and (4) to credit all partial prepayments as partial payments on the regular receipts or tax accounts.

(c) Procedure upon Default.—If, on or before the first Monday in October, the regular tax collector shall not meet the requirements prescribed in subsection (b), the governing body is hereby required immediately to appoint a special collector, not connected with the regular collector, and deliver to him the tax books for the current year. Said special collector shall give satisfactory bond in the same amount as would be required of the regular collector. He shall receive as compensation two per cent (2%) of his collections or such amount as may be fixed by the governing body; and the compensation received by him and the cost of his bond may, in the discretion of the governing body, be deducted from the compensation of the regular collector. If and when the regular collector shall meet the requirements specified in the preceding subsection, the special collector shall make full settlement, in the manner hereinafter provided for collectors retiring from office, and shall then turn over the tax books to the regular collector.

(d) Civil and Criminal Penalties.—(1) Any member of the governing body of any taxing unit who shall vote to deliver the tax books or tax receipts to a tax collector, before said collector has met the requirements prescribed in this section, shall be individually liable for the amount of taxes due by said collector; and any such member so voting, or who willfully fails to perform any duty imposed by this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(2) Any tax collector or other official who shall fail to account for prepayments received in the manner prescribed by this section, and any chief accounting officer failing to perform the duties imposed upon him by this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, subject to fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1939, c. 310, s. 1707.)

§ 105-380. Installment payments. — The governing body of any taxing unit may, in its discretion, allow payment of taxes in not more than four equal installments, the last of which shall be payable not later than the week preceding the day fixed for the beginning of advertisement of the tax sale. The governing body of any unit permitting such installment payments, shall: (a) provide that, upon default in any installment, penalties shall accrue immediately upon the entire balance remaining unpaid at the same rate which would have accrued had such installment plan not been adopted; or (b) provide that, upon default in any installment, penalties shall accrue upon the amount of such installment at the same rate which would have accrued had such installment plan not been adopted. Payments made to taxing units adopting installment plans shall not be credited on any installment until all prior installments, together with any penalties thereon, have been paid.

It shall be the duty of each governing body and each collector of a taxing unit adopting an installment plan to indicate, on the tax receipts and on any bills or notices sent to taxpayers, the due dates of the installments and the method by which penalties will be ascertained upon default in payment of any installment: Provided, that failure to fulfill this requirement shall not affect the validity of the taxes. (1939, c. 310, s. 1708.)

§ 105-381. Partial payments. — Unless otherwise directed by the governing body, the tax collector shall, at any time, accept partial payments on taxes and issue a partial payment receipt therefor. In crediting a payment on the tax for any year or on any instaliment, the payment shall first be applied to accrued penalties, interest and costs and then to the principal amount of such tax or installment. (1939, c. 310, s. 1709.)

§ 105-382. Payment of taxes; notes and checks. —Taxes shall be payable in existing national currency.

No tax collector shall accept a note of the taxpayer in payment of taxes.

Any collector may, in his discretion and at his own risk, accept checks in payment of taxes, and either issue the tax receipt immediately or withhold said receipt until the check has been collected. In any case in which a collector accepts a check and issues a receipt, and said check is thereafter returned unpaid, without negligence on the part of said collector in presenting said check for payment, the taxes for which said check was given shall be deemed unpaid; and the collector shall immediately correct his records and shall proceed to collect said taxes either by civil suit on the check or by the use of any remedy allowed for the collection of taxes: Provided, that the lien for said taxes shall be inferior to the rights of purchasers for value and of persons acquiring liens of record for value, when such purchasers or lienholders acquire their rights, in good faith and without actual knowledge that such check has not been collected, after examination of the collector's records during the time such records showed the taxes as paid or after examination of the official receipt issued to the taxpayer.

In addition to penalties for nonpayment of taxes provided by this subchapter, and in addition to any criminal penalties provided by law for the giving of worthless checks, the penalty for giving, in payment of taxes, a check which is returned because of insufficient funds or nonexistence of an account of the drawer, shall be ten per cent (10%) of the amount of such check, which shall be added to and collected in the same manner as such taxes. (1939, c. 310, s. 1710.)

§ 105-383. Statements of amount of taxes due.—Any tax collector shall, at the request of the owner or occupant of any land within the taxing unit, or of any person having a lien thereon or interest or estate therein, or of the duly authorized agent or attorney of any such person, furnish a written certificate of the amount of the taxes and assessments levied upon such land for the current year, if such amount has been definitely determined, and for all prior years for which taxes and assessments may be due, together with penalties, interest and costs accrued thereon: Provided, that this shall not require any collector to furnish information regarding taxes not in his hands for collection: Provided, further, that the person making such request shall specify in whose name said land was listed for taxation for each year for which such information is sought.

Any collector failing or refusing to furnish such certificate, upon request in good faith made as herein provided, shall be liable for a penalty of fifty dollars ($50.00). (1939, c. 310, s. 1711.)

§ 105-384. Place for collection of taxes.—Taxes shall be payable at the office of the collector: Provided, that the governing body of any taxing unit may for the convenience of the taxpayers, require the collector, in person or by deputy, to attend at other places, at times to be designated by said governing body, for the collection of taxes. Fifteen days' notice of such times and places shall be given by the collector by advertisement published in some newspaper published in the county, and, if there be no such newspaper published in the county, then by posting such notice at three or more places in said unit. (1939, c. 310, s. 1712.)

§ 105-385. Remedies against personal property.—(a) Time for.—From the first day of the fiscal year until taxes become due the collector shall not proceed against the personal property of the taxpayer, in the manner herein provided, unless there is reasonable ground for believing that the taxpayer is about to remove his property from the state. The collector may proceed against such personal property, in the manner herein provided, at any time after taxes are due and before filing of a tax foreclosure complaint or docketing of a judgment for said taxes as hereinafter provided. Every official charged with the duty of collecting taxes, current or delinquent, shall have power and authority to proceed against such personal property in the manner herein provided.

(b) Relation between Remedies against Personal Property and Remedies against Real Property.—The collector may proceed against the personal property of the taxpayer, as herein provided, in his discretion; and he shall proceed against such property: (1) if directed so to do by the governing body; or (2) upon demand by the taxpayer, mortgagee or other person holding a lien upon the real property of the taxpayer: Provided, that said taxpayer, mortgagee or other person making said demand shall furnish the collector with a written memorandum describing such personal property and stating where it can be found.

After the sale of a tax sale certificate, no person shall be allowed to attack the validity of the sale on the ground that the tax should have been procured from personal property; but this shall not be construed as prohibiting proceedings against personal property after said sale.

(c) Levy upon Personal Property.—Subject to the provisions of this article governing the priority of the lien acquired, the following property may be levied upon and sold for failure to pay taxes: (1) any personal property of the taxpayer, regardless of the time at which it was acquired and regardless of the existence or date of creation of mortgages or other liens thereon; (2) any personal property transferred by the taxpayer to relatives of the taxpayer; (3) personal property in the hands of a receiver for the taxpayer and in such cases it shall not be necessary for the collector to apply for an order of the court directing payment or authorizing the levy, but said collector may proceed as if the property were not in the hands of a receiver or in the custody of the law; (4) personal property of a deceased taxpayer: Provided, the levy is made prior to final settlement of the estate; (5) personal property transferred by the taxpayer, after the taxes levied for were due, by any type of transfer other than those hereinbefore mentioned in this subsection and other than by bona fide sale for value: Provided, the levy is made within sixty days after such transfer.

The levy and sale shall be governed by the laws regulating levy and sale under execution: Provided, that it shall not be necessary for said levy to be made or said sale to be conducted by the sheriff, and the collector is hereby given the same authority as a sheriff to make said levy and conduct said sale. The collector shall be entitled to fifty cents for each levy and fifty cents for each actual sale. Said fees, plus actual advertising costs, shall be added to and collected in the same manner as the taxes. The advertising costs, when collected, shall be used to reimburse the taxing unit, which shall advance the cost of said advertising; and the levy and sale fees, when collected, shall be treated in the same manner as other fees collected by said official.

(d) Attachment and Garnishment.—Subject to the provisions of this article governing the priority of rights acquired, the collector may attach wages or other compensation, rents, bank deposits, the proceeds of property subject to levy and sale, or other property incapable of manual delivery: Provided, the same belongs to the taxpayer or has been transferred to another under circumstances which would permit it to be levied upon if it were tangible, or is due to the taxpayer or may become due to him within the calendar year; and the person owing same or having same in his possession shall become liable for the taxes to the extent of the amount he owes or has in his possession: Provided, that not more than ten per cent of wages or other compensation for personal services shall be liable to attachment and garnishment for failure to pay taxes.

To proceed under this subsection, the collector shall serve or cause to be served upon the taxpayer and the person owing or having in his possession the wages, rents, debts or other things sought to be attached, a notice showing at least: (1) the name of the taxpayer; (2) the amount of the taxes, penalties and costs (including the fees allowed by this subsection) and year or years for which such taxes were levied; (3) the name of the taxing unit or units by which such taxes were levied; (4) a brief description of the thing sought to be attached; and (5) a statement that the person served has the right to appear, within ten days after service, before some designated justice of the peace or (if the amount is beyond the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace) the superior court in the county in which the taxing unit lies, and show cause why he should not be compelled to pay said taxes, penalties and costs.

Notices concerning two or more taxpayers may be combined if they are to be served upon the same person, but in such case the taxes, penalties and costs charged against each taxpayer must be set forth separately.

A copy of each notice shall be retained by the collector and a copy shall be filed, not later than the first business day following the day of service, with the justice or court before which the notice is returnable, together with a notation of service. Upon entry of judgment, by default or after appearance and hearing, in favor of the taxing unit, the person so served shall become liable for the taxes, penalties and costs: Provided, that payment shall not be required from amounts which are to become due to the taxpayer until they actually become due.

The fee for serving said notice shall be fixed by the governing body of the taxing unit, not exceeding twenty-five cents if the tax is less than ten dollars and fifty cents if the tax is ten dollars or more: Provided, if the taxes of more than one taxpayer are included in the notice, the service fee shall not exceed fifteen cents per taxpaper. The justice's fee shall be twenty-five cents if the tax is less than ten dollars and one dollar if the tax is ten dollars or more plus one dollar for each hearing actually held, but no justices' fees shall be charged except in cases in which judgment is actually entered. Costs in the superior court shall be the same as in other proceedings therein. Fees and costs shall be added to and collected as part of the taxes: Provided, that if judgment is rendered against the taxing unit such costs and fees shall be paid by the taxing unit. All fees collected by officers shall be disposed of in the same manner as other fees collected by such officers.

(e) Employees of State and Its Subdivisions.—Tax collectors may proceed against the wages, salary or other compensation of officials and employees of this state and its agencies and instrumentalities and officials and employees of political subdivisions of this state and their agencies and instrumentalities in the manner provided by subsection (d) of this section. In such cases the notice shall be served upon the treasurer of the employing government or agency or instrumentality and, if there is no treasurer, then upon the chief financial officer thereof. In the case of notices served upon the state treasurer, the notice shall state the place and character of the taxpayer's employment.

(f) Lists of Employees.—Any person, firm or corporation who shall, after written demand therefor, refuse to give the tax collector or tax supervisor a list of all employees of such person, firm or corporation who may be liable for taxes, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1939, c. 310, s. 1713.)

§ 105-386. Collection of taxes outside the taxing unit.—If a taxpayer has no property in the taxing unit to which the taxes are due, but does have property in some other unit, or if the taxpayer has removed from the taxing unit in which the taxes are due and has left no property there and is known to be in some other unit in this state, it shall be the duty of the collector to send a copy of the tax receipt, with a certificate stating that such taxes are unpaid, to the collector of the unit in which such property is located or in which such taxpayer is known to be. Such receipt and certificate shall have the force and effect of a tax list of his own unit in the hands of the collector receiving it, and it shall be the duty of such collector to proceed immediately to collect such taxes by any means by which he could lawfully collect taxes of his own unit. The collector receiving such receipt and certificate shall report, within thirty days after such receipt, to the collector who sent the same, either that he has collected the same or is unable to collect the same by any lawful means or that he has begun proceedings for the collection of same. All collections made under this section shall be remitted to the unit levying the tax within five days after such collection, but the collector making collection shall retain ten per centum of the amount thereof, which shall be for his personal use. All reports under this section, reporting that the tax is uncollectible, shall be under oath and shall state that the collector has used due diligence and is unable to collect said taxes by levy, garnishment or otherwise. Upon failure to make such sworn report the collector receiving such receipt and certificate shall be liable on his bond for such taxes.

It shall be the duty of the governing body of each taxing unit to require reports from the tax collector, at such times as it may prescribe (but not less frequently than in connection with each annual settlement), concerning the efforts he has made to locate taxpayers who have removed from the unit, the efforts he has made to locate property in other units belonging to delinquent taxpayers, and the efforts he has made under this section to collect the taxes. (1939, c. 310, s. 1714.)

§ 105-387. Sales of tax liens on real property for failure to pay taxes.—(a) Report of Delinquent Taxes Which Are Liens on Real Property. —The tax collector of each county and district shall, on the first Monday in April each year, and the tax collector of each city shall, on the second Monday in April each year, report a list of all taxpayers owing taxes for the current year which are liens on real property, and the governing body shall thereupon order sale of the tax lien on said real property of said taxpayers to be held at one of the times hereinafter prescribed. For purposes of all subsections of this section, district taxes collected by city tax collectors shall be regarded as city taxes.

(b) Date of Sale; Effect of Delay.—The county and district sale shall be held on the first Monday, and the city sale on the second Monday, in May or in any of the four succeeding months. Failure to hold said sale within the time prescribed shall not affect the validity of the taxes or the tax liens, nor shall it affect the validity of the sale when thereafter held. All sales held shall begin, in the case of county and district taxes, on the first Monday of the month and, in the case of city taxes, on the second Monday in the month: Provided, that where county and city taxes are collected by the same collector, the sale may be held on either of said Mondays.

No sale shall be delayed or restrained by order of any court of this state.

(c) Advertisement of Sale.—Public notice of the time, place and purpose of such sale shall be given by advertisement at the door of the courthouse or city hall for four successive weeks preceding such sale, and by advertisement once each week for four successive weeks preceding such sale in some newspaper published in the county. If there be no newspaper published in the county, such advertisement shall be posted in at least one public place in each township, in the case of county taxes, and in at least three public places in the city in the case of city taxes.

Said advertisement shall set forth, in addition to the time, place and purpose of such sale: (1) the name of each taxpayer owing taxes which are a lien on real estate; (2) a brief description of the land listed in the name of each; (3) the principal amount of the taxes owed by each. Failure to include penalties and costs in the amount advertised shall not be construed as a waiver of same, but such advertisement shall state generally that the amounts advertised are subject to be increased by such penalties and costs.

(d) Place and Hour of Sale. — All county and district sales shall be held at the courthouse door, and city sales shall be held at the courthouse door or at the city hall door as the collector may advertise. All sales shall begin at such hour as may be specified in the advertisement, and they may be continued from day to day, if continuance is necessary in order to complete the sales, without further advertisement.

(e) Manner of Sale.—The sale may be conducted by the collector or any deputy designated by him for the purpose. The tax liens on all parcels advertised against one taxpayer shall be sold as one lot at public outcry to the highest bidder: Provided, that in case of county sales, liens on parcels in different townships may be sold separately. The collector may, in his discretion, demand immediate payment from any successful bidder, and reject such bid upon failure to comply with said demand. No bid shall be received unless for an amount at least equal to the principal amount of the taxes plus all penalties and costs accrued thereon. In the absence of a bid at least equal to such sum the taxing unit shall become the purchaser, without submitting a formal bid, for an amount equal to such sum.

In all cases in which bids are accepted which exceed such sum the tax collector shall immediately report such excess to the governing body, and said governing body shall order such excess paid directly to the person entitled thereto or order it paid to the clerk of superior court for distribution as the court may direct.

(f) Costs of Sale.—Costs of sale, which shall be included in the minimum sale price, shall consist of actual advertising cost and a sale fee not exceeding fifty cents (50c) per parcel. Actual advertising cost per parcel shall be determined by the collector, and may be determined upon an advertising lineage basis or an average cost per insertion basis or by any other reasonable method. The taxing unit shall pay all advertising expense, and all advertising cost collected shall be paid to it for use as its governing body may direct. All sale fees collected shall be treated in the same manner as other fees collected by said collector.

(g) Payments during the Advertising Period.—At any time between the beginning of the advertisement and the time of actual sale, any parcel may be withdrawn from the sale list by payment of taxes and penalties as required by law and a proportionate part of the advertising cost as determined by the collector. Thereafter, such parcel shall be eliminated from the advertisement: Provided, that failure to eliminate such parcel shall not subject the collector to liability if the lien on said parcel is not thereafter actually sold.

(h) Failure of Collector to Attend Sale.—If any collector shall fail to attend any duly advertised sale, in person or by competent deputy, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and liable on his bond to a penalty of three hundred dollars.

(i) Land Listed in Wrong Name. — No sale shall be void because such real estate was charged in the name of any other person than the rightful owner, if such real estate be in other respects correctly described on the tax list: Provided, no sale of the lien on real estate listed in the name of the wrong person shall be valid when the rightful owner has listed the same and paid the taxes thereon.

(j) Irregularities Immaterial.—No irregularities in making assessments or in making the returns thereof in the equalization of property as provided by law, or in any other proceeding or requirement, shall invalidate the sale of tax liens on real estate or sale of real estate in tax foreclosure proceedings, nor in any manner invalidate the tax levied on any property or charged against any person. The following defects, omissions, and circumstances occurring in the assessment of any property for taxation, or in the levy of taxes, or elsewhere in the course of the proceedings, shall be deemed to be irregularities within the meaning of this subsection; the failure of the assessors to take or subscribe an oath or attach an oath to an assessment roll; the omission of a dollar mark or other designation descriptive of the value of figures used to denote an amount assessed, levied, or charged against any property or the valuation of any property upon any record; the failure to make or serve any notice mentioned in this chapter; the failure or neglect of the collector to offer any tax lien or real estate for sale at the time mentioned in the advertisement or notice of such sale; failure of the collector to adjourn the sale from day to day, or any irregularity or informality in such adjournment; any irregularity or informality in the order or manner in which tax liens or real estate may be offered for sale; the failure to assess any property for taxes or to levy any tax within the time prescribed by law; any irregularity, informality or omission in any such assessment or levy; any defect in the description, upon any assessment book, tax list, sales book, or other record, of real or personal property, assessed for taxation, or upon which any taxes are levied, or which may be sold for taxes, provided such description be sufficiently definite to enable the collector, or any person interested, to determine what property is meant or intended by the description, and in such cases a defective or indefinite description, on any book, list, or record, or in any notice or advertisement, may be made definite by the collector at any time by correcting such book, list or record, or may be made definite by using a correct description in any tax foreclosure proceeding authorized by this subchapter, and any such correction shall have the same force and effect as if said description had been correct on the tax list; any other irregularity, informality, or omission or neglect on the part of any person or in any proceedings, whether mentioned in this subsection or not; the neglect or omission to tax or assess for taxation any person or property; the overtaxation of persons or property liable to be taxed.

(k) Acts of De Facto Officers.—In all actions, proceedings, and controversies involving the title to real property held under and by virtue of a tax sale or any tax foreclosure proceedings authorized by this article, all acts of assessors, clerks, sheriffs, collectors, supervisors, commissioners and other officers de facto shall be deemed and construed to be of the same validity as acts of officers de jure.

(l) Proof of Sale. — The books and records of the office of the collector making the sale, or copies thereof properly certified, shall be deemed sufficient evidence to prove the sale of the tax lien on any real property under this section, the redemption thereof or the payment of taxes thereon.

(m) Wrongful Sale.—Any collector or deputy collector who shall sell, or assist in selling, the tax lien on any real property, knowing the same not to be subject to taxation, or that the taxes for which the lien is sold have been paid, or shall knowingly and willingly sell or assist in selling the tax lien on any real property for payment of taxes to defraud the owner of such real property, or shall knowingly and willingly cause foreclosure proceedings to be instituted against real property so sold, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be liable to a fine of not less than one thousand nor more than three thousand dollars, or to imprisonment not exceeding one year, or to both fine and imprisonment, and to pay the injured party all damages sustained by such act; and all such sales shall be void.

When by mistake or wrongful act of the collector a tax lien on real property has been sold on which no tax was due, the taxing unit shall reimburse the purchaser by paying to him the amount expended by him in such purchase, with interest thereon at six per cent per annum; and the collector shall be liable to the taxing unit upon his bond for all amounts so expended by it in excess of the amount received by it from said sale. Any amount paid by a taxing unit under this section for state taxes shall, on proper certificate from the chairman of the governing body, be allowed by the auditor and paid by the treasurer of the state, and the state shall have the right of recovery against the collector on his bond to the amount so paid.

(n) Joint Sales by Several Taxing Units. — Wherever the taxes of two or more taxing units are collected by the same collector, one sale shall be held for the taxes of both at such time as is prescribed by law for sales by either; and in the absence of bids the larger unit may become the purchaser, or such units may become joint purchasers, for the benefit of all according to their respective interests: Provided, that this shall not repeal any local law designating the purchaser in case of joint sales. (1939, c. 310, s. 1715.)

Local Modification.—Wayne: 1941, c. 40; Cumberland: 1941, c. 44, s. 1(a).

§ 105-388. Certificates of sale.—(a) Issued to Private Purchasers.—As soon as possible after sale, but not earlier than payment of the purchase price, the collector shall issue to each successful bidder, other than taxing units, a certificate of sale, for the tax lien on real property of each delinquent, purchased by him, dated as of the day of sale. Property held jointly by two or more owners shall be construed as the property of one delinquent for this purpose. Said certificate shall be in substantially the following form:

"North Carolina, ... (taxing unit) .....

I, ... tax collector of ..... (taxing unit) ..... do hereby certify that the tax lien on the following described real property in said taxing unit, to wit: ..... (describing the same) ....., was, on the ..... day of ....., ..., duly sold by me in the manner provided by law, for the delinquent taxes of ..... for the year ....., amounting to $....., including penalties thereon and costs allowed by law, when and where ..... (name of purchaser) ..... purchased said lien on said real property at the price of $ ....., said amount being the highest and best bid for same. And I further certify that unless payment of said lien is made, within the time and in the manner provided by law, said ..... (name of purchaser) ....., his heirs or assigns, shall have the right to foreclose said real property by any proceeding allowed by law.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand this ..... day of .....

Tax Collector."

A copy of each such certificate shall be retained by the collector in a special book or file designated "Certificates of Sale for Taxes for the Year .....". All payments made on any such certificate shall be made to the collector for the use of the owner of such certificate, and all such payments shall be credited by the collector on the copy of the certificate in his possession, and shall be remitted to the owner of the certificate upon proper receipt therefor. For failure to account for and pay over any such payments the collector shall be liable on his bond to the person entitled thereto. The copies of such certificates in the collector's office shall be the official records for the purpose of determining whether a lien exists in favor of any certificate owner other than a taxing unit. The owner of a certificate may assign it at any time, but said assignment shall not be effective until the collector shall have actually received written notice thereof from the assignor. Each such purchaser, his heirs or assignees, shall have a lien on the real property for the amount of the purchase price, plus interest thereon at the rate of eight per centum per annum, of the same dignity as similar liens owned by taxing units, and shall have the right to foreclose said lien, by action in the nature of an action to foreclose a mortgage, in the manner hereinafter prescribed: Provided, that the eight per cent per annum interest herein provided shall accrue only on so much of the purchase price as represents the amount of the tax, penalties to the date of sale, and the costs of advertising and sale. Each such purchaser, his heirs and assignees, shall also have a lien for other taxes and assessments levied against said property, paid by him after acquisition of said certificate, whether such taxes or assessments were charged before or after such acquisition. Said lien shall be entitled to the same priorities as the original lien of the taxes and assessments so paid.

(b) Issued to Taxing Units.—The governing body of each taxing unit which becomes the purchaser at a tax sale, as hereinbefore provided, shall determine whether or not it is necessary to issue certificates to and in the name of such unit. If, in the opinion of said governing body, the issuance of such certificates is not necessary in order to provide adequate records of tax liens and tax collections, the said certificates may be dispensed with and the collector ordered to mark or stamp the original tax receipts or accounts "Sold to ..... (name of tax unit) .....". If issuance of certificates is deemed necessary, they shall be issued in substantially the form set forth in subsection (a) of this section, with stubs or duplicates on which shall be reflected all payments or assignments. In either case, the taxing unit shall have the right to foreclose the real property by any method authorized by law; and in either case interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum shall accrue, on the amount bid by said unit, from the date of the sale.

(c) Prima Facie Case.—A certificate issued, or a tax receipt or account marked or stamped, in accordance with the provisions of subdivisions (a) or (b) of this section, shall be presumptive evidence of the regularity of all prior proceedings incident to the sale and of the due performance of all things essential to the validity thereof. (1939, c. 310, s. 1716.)

Local Modification.—Cumberland: 1941, c. 44, s. 1(b).

§ 105-389. Assignment of liens by taxing unit after sale.—At any time after the sale hereinbefore provided for, any taxing unit may assign any lien owned by it to any person who pays an amount which, if paid by the taxpayer, would be sufficient to discharge said lien. If a certificate has already been issued to the taxing unit, it shall be assigned to the person making the payment, and the copy of stub of such certificate or a copy of such stub, showing such assignment, shall be filed in the manner provided for certificates originally issued to private purchasers. If no certificate has been issued to the taxing unit, a certificate shall immediately be so issued, and said certificate shall be assigned to the person making such payment in the manner set forth in the preceding sentence. The collector to whom the payment is made shall have authority to make all such assignments and issue all such certificates.

The provisions of this section shall be construed as being in addition to the provisions of this article with respect to release of individual parcels of real property from the tax lien. The person making a payment, after the sale hereinbefore provided for, shall have the right to pay the entire amount or to pay an amount sufficient under the provisions of this article to release one or more specified parcels; and such person shall also have the right to demand either assignment of the lien on the property for which the payment is made or to demand complete release of such property from the lien, in his discretion. In cases in which an assignment is made upon payment of an amount less than the amount of the lien on all the real property in one certificate, new certificates may be made to effect the separation. (1939, c. 310, s. 1717.)

Local Modification.—Cumberland: 1941, c. 44, s. 1(c).

§ 105-390. Settlements. — (a) Annual Settlement of Tax Collector.—(1) Preliminary report. On the second Monday following the sale of certificates, the tax collector shall, under oath, report to the governing body: (1) action with respect to such sale; and (2) a list of those not listing land for taxes whose taxes remain unpaid, making oath that he has made diligent effort to collect such taxes out of the personal property of such taxpayers or by other means open to him for collection of such taxes, and reporting such other information as to such taxpayers as may be of interest to or required by the governing body (including a report on his efforts to make collection outside the taxing unit under the provisions of this article.)

(2) Insolvents. The governing body shall, upon receipt of said report, enter upon its minutes the list of such taxpayers listing no land as may be found by said governing body to be insolvents, and shall by resolution designate said list so entered in the minutes as the insolvent list to be credited to the collector in his settlement.

(3) Settlement for current taxes. On the first Monday of the month following sale of certificates, but not earlier than the first Monday of July, the collector shall make full settlement with the governing body of the taxing unit for all taxes, in his hands for collection, for the year involved in said sale. In such settlement the collector shall be charged with: (1) the total amount of all taxes for said year, in his hands for collection, including amounts originally charged to him and all subsequent amounts charged on account of discovered property; (2) all penalties, interest and costs collected by him in connection with taxes for said year; and (3) all other sums to be collected by said collector. He shall be credited with: (1) all sums deposited by him to the credit of the taxing unit, or receipted for by the proper official of said unit, on account of taxes for said year; (2) releases allowed by the governing body as prescribed by statute; (3) the principal amount of taxes included in certificates sold to the taxing unit, for which he shall produce certificates duly executed or receipts or accounts duly stamped in accordance with the provisions of this article; (4) the principal amount of taxes for said year included in the insolvent list, determined as hereinbefore provided; (5) discounts allowed by law; and (6) commissions, if any, lawfully payable to him as compensation. For any deficiency the collector shall be liable on his bond, and, in addition, thereto, shall be liable to all criminal penalties provided by law.

Said settlement, together with the action of the governing body with respect thereto, shall be entered in full upon the minutes of said governing body.

(4) Disposition of tax books after settlement. Uncollected taxes allowed as credits in the settlement prescribed in the preceding subsection, whether represented by sales to the taxing unit or included in the list of insolvents, shall be recharged to the collector or charged to some other person, in accordance with the provisions of any valid local statute governing tax collection in the particular taxing unit. In the absence of any local statute determining the matter: (1) Such taxes in cities, and in counties having tax collectors other than sheriffs, shall be recharged to the collector; and (2) such taxes, in counties having sheriffs as tax collectors, shall be charged to such other county officer or employee as the governing body may designate to perform the duties of delinquent tax collector.

The person so charged or recharged shall give bond satisfactory to the governing body; shall receive the tax receipts, certificates and records representing such uncollected taxes; shall have and exercise and perform all powers and duties conferred or imposed by law upon tax collectors; and shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by valid local statute or, in the absence of such statute, as the governing body may determine.

(b) Settlements for Delinquent Taxes. — Annually, at the time prescribed for the settlement hereinbefore in this section provided, all persons having in their hands for collection any taxes for years prior to the year involved in said settlement hereinbefore provided, shall settle with the governing body of the taxing unit for collections made on the taxes for each such prior year. Such settlement for the taxes of prior years shall be in such form as may be satisfactory to the chief accounting officer and the governing body of the taxing unit, and shall be entered in full upon the minutes of the governing body.

(c) Settlement at End of Term.—Whenever any tax collector or other person collecting taxes, current or delinquent, shall fail to succeed himself at the end of his term of office, he shall, on the last business day of his term, make full and complete settlement for all taxes in his hands and deliver the tax records, receipts and accounts to his successor in office. Such settlement shall be in such manner and form as may be satisfactory to the chief accounting officer and governing body of the taxing unit, and shall be entered in full upon the minutes of the governing body.

(d) Settlement upon Vacancy During Term.—In case of voluntary resignation of any person collecting taxes he shall, upon his last day in office, make full settlement for all taxes in his hands in the same manner as required herein for settlements made at the end of a term of office. In default of such settlement, or in case of a vacancy occurring during a term for any other reason, it shall be the duty of the chief accounting officer or, in the discretion of the governing body, of some duly qualified person appointed by it, immediately to prepare and submit to the governing body a report in the nature of a settlement made on behalf of the ex-collector; and such report, together with the action of the governing body, shall be entered in full upon the minutes of the governing body. In such cases the governing body may turn over the tax books to the successor collector immediately upon occurrence of the vacancy, or may make such temporary arrangements for collection of taxes as may be expedient: Provided, that no person shall be permitted to collect taxes until he shall have given bond satisfactory to the governing body.

(e) Effect of Approval.—Approval of any settlement by the governing body shall not relieve the collector or his bondsmen of liability for any shortage actually existing and thereafter discovered; nor shall it relieve the collector of any criminal liability.

(f) Penalties.—In addition to all other civil and criminal penalties, provided by law, any member of a governing body, collector, person collecting taxes, or chief accounting officer failing to perform any duty imposed upon him by this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1939, c. 310, s. 1718.)

Local Modification.—Cumberland: 1941, c. 44, s. 1(d) (e).

§ 105-391. Foreclosure of tax liens by action in nature of action to foreclose a mortgage.—(a) Time for Beginning Such Action.—Actions for the foreclosure of tax liens brought under this section shall be brought not less than six months after the sale hereinbefore provided for.

(b) Private Purchasers. — Foreclosure under this section shall be the sole remedy of certificate owners other than taxing units.

(c) Taxing Units.—Taxing units may proceed under this section, either on the original tax lien or the lien acquired at the tax sale hereinbefore provided for, with or without a certificate of sale, and the amount of recovery in either case shall be the same. To this end it is hereby declared that the original attachment of the tax lien is sufficient to support a tax foreclosure action by a taxing unit, that the issuance of tax sale certificates to a taxing unit is a matter of convenience in record keeping, within the discretion of the governing body of such unit, and that issuance of such certificates is not a prerequisite to perfection of said tax lien.

(d) General Nature of the Action.—The foreclosure action shall be an action in superior court, in the county in which the land is situated, in the nature of an action to foreclose a mortgage.

(e) Parties.—The listing taxpayer and spouse, if any, the current owner, all other taxing units having tax liens, all other lien-holders of record, and all persons who would be entitled to be made parties to a court action (in which no deficiency judgment is sought) to foreclose a mortgage on such property, shall be made parties and served with summons in the manner provided by § 1-89: Provided, that alias summonses may be issued or service by publication begun at any time within one year after the issuance of the original summons.

The fact that the listing taxpayer or any other defendant is a minor, is incompetent or is under any other disability shall not prevent or delay the collector's sale or the foreclosure of the tax lien; and all such defendants shall be made defendants and served with summons in the same manner as in other civil actions.

Persons who have disappeared or cannot be located and persons whose names and whereabouts are unknown, and all possible heirs or assignees of such persons may be served by publication; and such persons, their heirs and assignees may be designated by general description or by fictitious names in such action. It is hereby declared that service of summons by publication against such persons, in the manner provided by law, shall be as valid in all respects as such service against known persons who are non-residents of this state.

(f) Complaint as a Lis Pendens.—The complaint in an action brought under this section shall, from the time of the filing thereof in the office of the clerk of superior court, serve as notice of the pendency of such action, and every person whose interest in such property is subsequently acquired or whose interest therein is subsequently registered or recorded shall be bound by all proceedings taken in such action after the filing of said complaint in the same manner as if said persons had been made parties to such action. It shall not be necessary to have said complaint cross indexed as a notice of action pending to have the effect prescribed by this subsection.

(g) Subsequent Taxes.—The complaint in a tax foreclosure action brought under this section by a taxing unit shall, in addition to alleging the tax lien on which the action is based, include a general allegation of subsequent taxes which are or may become a lien on the same property in favor of the plaintiff unit. Thereafter it shall not be necessary to amend said complaint to incorporate said taxes by specific allegation. In case of redemption before judgment of confirmation, the person redeeming shall be required to pay, before said action is discontinued, at least all taxes on said property which have at the time of discontinuance been due to plaintiff unit for more than one year, plus interest, penalties and costs thereon. Immediately prior to judgment of sale in such action, if there has been no redemption, the tax collector, or the attorney for plaintiff unit, shall file in said action a certificate setting forth all taxes which are a lien on said property in favor of the plaintiff unit, other than taxes the amount of which has not been definitely determined.

Any plaintiff in a tax foreclosure action, other than a taxing unit, may include in his complaint, originally or by amendment, all other taxes and assessments paid by him which were liens on the same property.

(h) Joinder of Parcels.—All real estate within one township, subject to liens for taxes levied against the same taxpayer by the same taxing unit for the first year involved in the action, shall be joined in one action: Provided, that where property is transferred by the listing taxpayer subsequent to such year, all subsequent taxes, penalties, interest and costs, for which said property is ordered sold under the terms of this subchapter, shall be prorated to such property in the same manner as if payments were being made to release such property under the provisions of this subchapter.

(i) Special Benefit Assessments.—A cause of action for the foreclosure of the lien of any special benefit assessment may be included in any complaint filed under this section.

(j) Joint Foreclosure by Two or More Taxing Units.—Liens of different taxing units on the same parcel, representing taxes in the hands of the same collector, shall be foreclosed in one action. Liens of different taxing units of the same parcel, representing taxes in the hands of different collectors, may be foreclosed in one action in the discretion of the governing bodies.

Liens of taxing units made parties defendant in any such action shall be alleged in an answer filed by such unit, and the collector of each such answering unit shall, prior to judgment, file a certificate of subsequent taxes similar to that filed by the collector of the plaintiff unit, and the taxes of each such answering unit shall be of equal dignity with the taxes of the plaintiff unit; and any such answering unit may, in case of payment of the plaintiff's taxes, continue such action until all taxes due to it for more than one year have been paid. It shall not be necessary for any such defendant unit to file a separate foreclosure action or proceed under § 105-392 with respect to any such taxes.

All taxes of any taxing unit which is properly served as a party defendant in such action, and which does not answer and file the certificate as aforesaid, shall be barred by the judgment of sale except to the extent that the purchase price at foreclosure sale, after payment of costs and of the liens of all taxing units whose liens are properly alleged by complaint or answer and certificates, may be sufficient to pay said taxes: Provided, that if a defendant unit is plaintiff in another action pending against the same property, or has begun a proceeding under § 105-392, its answers may allege said fact in lieu of alleging its liens, and the court, in its discretion, may order consolidation of such actions or such other disposition thereof, and such disposition of the costs therein, as it may deem advisable: And provided, further, that any such order may be made by the clerk of the superior court, subject to appeal in the same manner as appeals are taken from other orders of said clerk.

(k) Costs.—Costs may be taxed in any action brought under this section in the same manner as in other civil actions, subject to the provisions of this subsection; and upon collection of said costs, either upon redemption or upon payment of the purchase price at foreclosure sale, the fees allowed officers shall be paid to those entitled to receive the same: Provided, that the fees allowed any officer, whether for the personal use of such officer or for the benefit of the unit of which he is an official shall not exceed one-half the fees allowed in other civil actions: Provided, further, that no process tax for the use of the state shall be levied or collected in tax foreclosure actions, and, where the plaintiff is a taxing unit, no prosecution bond shall be required in such actions.

Said costs may include one reasonable attorney's fee for the plaintiff, which shall not exceed five dollars: Provided, that the governing body of any unit may, in its discretion, pay a greater sum to its attorney as a suit fee and said governing body may, in its discretion, allow a reasonable commission to its attorney on delinquent taxes collected by him after said taxes have been placed in his hands; or said governing body may arrange with its attorney for the handling of tax suits on a salary basis or make such other reasonable agreement with its attorney or attorneys as said governing body may approve; and any arrangement made may provide that attorney's fees collected as costs be collected for the use of the taxing unit: And provided, further, that when any taxing unit is made a party defendant in a tax foreclosure action and files answer therein, there may be included in the costs an attorney's fee for said defendant not exceeding three dollars.

In any action in which real property is actually sold after judgment, costs shall include a commissioner's fee to be fixed by the court, not exceeding five per centum of the purchase price; and in case of redemption between the date of sale and judgment of confirmation, said fee shall be added to the amount otherwise necessary for redemption. In case more than one sale is made of the same property in any action, the commissioner's fee may be based on the highest amount bid, but said commissioner shall not be allowed a separate fee for each such sale. The governing body of any plaintiff unit may request the court to appoint as commissioner a salaried official, attorney or employee of the unit and, if such appointment is made, may require that such commissioner's fees, when collected, be paid to plaintiff unit for use as it may direct.

(l) Contested Actions. — Any action brought under this section, in which an answer raising an issue requiring trial is filed within the time allowed by law, shall be entitled to a preference as to time of trial over all other civil actions.

(m) Judgment of Sale.—Any judgment in favor of the plaintiff or any defendant taxing unit in an action brought under this section shall order the sale of the property, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the satisfaction of: (1) taxes adjudged to be liens in favor of the plaintiff, other than taxes the amount of which has not been definitely determined, together with interest, penalties and costs thereon; and (2) taxes adjudged to be liens in favor of other taxing units, other than taxes the amount of which has not yet been definitely determined, if said taxes have been alleged in answers filed by said units, together with interest, penalties and costs thereon.

Said judgment shall appoint a commissioner to conduct said sale and shall order that the property be sold in fee simple, free and clear of all interests, rights, claims and liens whatever, except that said sale shall be subject to taxes the amount of which cannot be definitely determined at the time of said judgment, subject to taxes and assessments of taxing units which are not parties to said action, and, in the discretion of the court, subject to taxes alleged in other tax foreclosure actions or proceedings pending against the same property.

In all cases in which no answer is filed within the time allowed by law, and in cases in which answers filed do not seek to prevent sale of said property, the clerk of the superior court may render said judgment, subject to appeal in the same manner as appeals are taken from other judgments of said clerk.

(n) Advertisement of Sale.—The sale shall be advertised, and all necessary resales shall be advertised, in the manner provided by §§ 1-327, 1-328, or by such statute as may be enacted in substitution therefor.

(o) Sale.—The sale shall be by public auction to the highest bidder, and shall, in accordance with the judgment, be held at the courthouse door on any day of the week except a Sunday or legal holiday: Provided, that in actions brought by any city which is not a county seat the court may, in its discretion, direct said sale to be held at the city hall door. The commissioner conducting such sale may, in his discretion, require from any successful bidder a deposit equal to not more than twenty per centum of his bid, which said deposit, in the event that said bidder refuses to take title and a resale becomes necessary, shall be applied to pay the costs of sale and any loss resulting: Provided, that this shall not deprive the commissioner of the right to sue for specific performance of the contract.

(p) Report of Sale.—Within three days following said sale the commissioner shall report said sale to the court, giving full particulars thereof.

(q) Exceptions and Increased Bids.—At any time within twenty days after the filing of said report of sale any person having an interest in the property may file exceptions to said report, and at any time within said period an increased bid may be filed in the amount specified by and subject to the provisions (other than provisions in conflict herewith) of § 45-28, or to the provisions (other than provisions in conflict herewith) of any law enacted in substitution for said section.

(r) Judgment of Confirmation.—At any time after the expiration of said twenty days, if no exception or increased bid has been filed, the commissioner may apply for judgment of confirmation; and in like manner he may apply for such judgment after the court has passed upon any exceptions filed, or after any necessary resales have been held and reported and twenty days have elapsed: Provided, that the court may, in its discretion, order resale of the property, in the absence of exceptions or increased bids, whenever it deems such resale necessary for the best interests of the parties.

Said judgment of confirmation shall direct the commissioner to deliver the deed upon payment of the purchase price.

Said judgment may be rendered by the clerk of superior court, subject to appeal in the same manner as appeals are taken from other judgments of said clerk.

(s) Application of Proceeds of Sale; Final Commissioner's Report.—After delivery of the deed and collection of the purchase price, the commissioner shall apply the proceeds as follows; first, to payment of all costs of the action, including commissioner's fee and attorney's fee, which said costs shall be paid to the officials or funds entitled thereto; then to the payment of taxes, penalties and interest for which said property was ordered to be sold, and in case the funds remaining are insufficient for this purpose they shall be distributed pro rata to the various taxing units for whose taxes the property was ordered sold; then pro rata to the payment of any special benefit assessments for which said property was ordered sold, together with interest and costs thereon; then pro rata to payment of taxes, penalties, interest and costs of taxing units which were parties to said action but which filed no answers therein; then pro rata to payment of special benefit assessments of taxing units which were parties to said action but which filed no answers therein, together within interest and costs on said assessments; and any balance then remaining shall be paid in accordance with any directions given by the court and, in the absence of such directions, shall be paid into court for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto. The commissioner in all such cases shall make a full report to the court, within five days after delivery of the deed, showing delivery of the deed, receipt of the purchase price, and the disbursement of the proceeds, accompanied by receipts evidencing all such disbursements.

In case the purchaser is a taxing unit such unit may proceed in accordance with the provisions hereinafter set forth in this section; and the commissioner shall make report accordingly.

(t) Bids by Taxing Units.—Any taxing unit, or two or more units jointly, may bid at foreclosure sale, and any taxing unit which becomes the successful bidder may assign its bid, or portion thereof, at any time, by private sale, for not less than the amount thereof.

(u) Payment of Purchase Price by Taxing Units; Status of Property Purchased by Taxing Units.—Any taxing unit which becomes the purchaser at final tax foreclosure sale may, in the discretion of its governing body, pay only such part of the purchase price as would not be distributed to itself and other taxing units on account of taxes, interest, penalties and such costs as accrued prior to the beginning of the foreclosure action. Thereafter, in such case, it shall hold said property for the benefit of all taxing units which have an interest in such property as hereinafter in this subsection defined. All net income from said property and the proceeds thereof, when resold, shall be first used to reimburse the purchasing unit for disbursements actually made by it in connection with the foreclosure action and the purchase of said property, and any balance remaining shall be distributed to the taxing units having an interest therein in proportion to their interests. The total interest of each taxing unit, including the purchasing unit, shall be determined by adding: (1) taxes of such unit, with interest, penalties and costs (other than costs already reimbursed to the purchasing unit), to satisfy which said property was ordered sold; (2) other taxes of such unit, with interest, penalties and costs, which would have been paid from the purchase price had said purchase price been paid in full; (3) taxes of such unit, with interest, penalties and costs, to which said sale was made subject; and (4) the principal amount of all taxes which may become liens on said property after purchase at foreclosure sale or which would have become liens but for such purchase: Provided, that no amount shall be included under clause (4) hereof for taxes for years in which, on the tax listing day, said property is being used by said purchasing unit for a public purpose.

If the amount of net income and proceeds of resale distributable exceeds the total interests of all units hereinbefore defined, the remainder shall be applied to any special benefit assessments to satisfy which said sale was ordered or to which said sale was made subject, and any balance then remaining shall accrue to the purchasing unit.

When any property, purchased as hereinbefore provided in this subsection, is permanently dedicated for use for a public purpose, the purchasing unit shall make settlement with other taxing units having an interest in such property, as hereinbefore defined, in such manner and in such amount as may be agreed upon by the governing bodies; and if no agreement can be reached the amount to be paid shall be determined by the resident judge of the superior court.

Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as requiring the purchasing unit to secure the approval of other interested taxing units before reselling said property or as requiring said purchasing unit to pay said other units in full if the net income and resale price are insufficient to make such payments.

Any taxing unit purchasing property at foreclosure sale may, in the discretion of its governing body, instead of following the foregoing provisions of this subsection, make full payment of the purchase price and thereafter it shall hold said property as sole owner in the same manner as it holds other real property, subject only to taxes and assessments, with interest, penalties and costs, to which said sale was made subject.

(v) Resale of Property Purchased by Taxing Units.—Property purchased at tax foreclosure sale by a taxing unit may be resold at any time for such price as the governing body may approve. Such resales shall be conducted in the manner provided by law for sales of other property of the various taxing units: Provided, that a city may, in the discretion of its governing body, resell such property to former owner or other person formerly having an interest in said property, at private sale, for an amount not less than its interest therein, if it holds said property as sole owner, or for an amount not less than the total interests of all taxing units (other than assessments due the city holding title), if it holds said property for the benefit of all such units. (1939, c. 310, s. 1719.)

Local Modification.—Cumberland: 1941, c. 44, s. 1(f); High Point: 1941, c. 174.

§ 105-392. Alternative method of foreclosure.—(a) Docketing Taxes as a Judgment.—In lieu of following the procedure set forth in § 105-391, the governing body of any taxing unit may order the collecting official to file, not less than six months or more than two years (four years as to taxes of the principal amount of five dollars or less) following the collector's sale of certificates, with the clerk of superior court a certificate showing the name of the taxpayer listing the real estate on which such taxes are a lien, together with the amount of taxes, interest, penalties and costs which are a lien thereon, the year for which such taxes are due, and a description of such real property sufficient to permit its identification by parol testimony. The clerk of superior court shall enter said certificate in a special book entitled "Tax Judgment Docket for Taxes for the Year ....." and shall index the same therein in the name of the listing taxpayer. Immediately upon said docketing and indexing, said taxes, interest, penalties and costs shall constitute a valid judgment against said property, with the priority hereinbefore provided for tax liens, which said judgment, except as herein expressly provided, shall have the same force and effect as a duly rendered judgment of the superior court directing sale of said property for the satisfaction of the tax lien, and which judgment shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum. The clerk shall be allowed fifty cents per certificate for such docketing and indexing, payable when such taxes are collected or such property is sold, and shall account for said fees in the same manner as other fees of his office are accounted for: Provided, that the governing body of any county, if said clerk is on salary, or said clerk, if he is on fees or salary plus fees, may require such fees to be advanced by the taxing unit.

The collecting official filing said certificate shall, at least two weeks prior to the docketing of said judgment, send a registered letter to the listing taxpayer, at his last known address, stating that the judgment will be docketed and that execution will issue thereon in the manner provided by law. However, receipt of said letter by said listing taxpayer, or receipt of actual notice of the proceeding by said taxpayer or any other interested person, shall not be required for the validity or priority of said judgment or for the validity or priority, as hereinafter provided, of the title acquired by the purchaser at the execution sale. It is hereby expressly declared to be the intention of this section that proceedings brought under it shall be strictly in rem. It is further declared to be the intention of the section to provide a simple and inexpensive method of enforcing payment of taxes necessarily levied, to the knowledge of all, for the requirements of local governments in this State; and to recognize, in authorizing such proceeding, that all those owning interests in real property know, or should know, without special notice thereof, that such property may be seized and sold for failure to pay such lawful taxes.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as a limitation of time on the right to foreclose a tax lien under § 105-391.

(b) Motion to Set Aside.—At any time prior to issue of execution, any person having an interest in said property may appear and move to set aside said judgment on the ground that the tax has been paid or that the tax lien on which said judgment is based is invalid.

(c) Issue of Execution.—At any time after six months and before two years from the indexing of said judgment, execution shall be issued at the request of the governing body of the taxing unit, in the same manner as executions are issued upon other judgments of the superior court, and said property shall be sold by the sheriff in the same manner as other property is sold under execution: Provided, that no debtor's exemption shall be allowed; and provided, further, that in lieu of any personal service of notice on the owner of said property, registered mail notice shall be mailed to the listing taxpayer, at his last known address, at least one week prior to the day fixed for said sale. The purchaser at said sale shall acquire title to said property in fee simple, free and clear of all claims, rights, interest and liens except the lien of other taxes and assessments not paid from the purchase price and not included in the judgment: Provided, that if a taxing unit has, by virtue of the taxes included in such a judgment, been made a defendant in a foreclosure action brought under § 105-391, it shall file answer therein and thereafter all proceedings shall be governed by order of court in accordance with the provisions of that section.

(d) Cancellation upon Payment.—Upon payment in full of any judgment docketed under this section, together with interest thereon and costs accrued to the date of payment, it shall be the duty of the collecting official receiving such payment immediately to certify the fact of such payment to the clerk of superior court, who shall thereupon cancel the judgment, the fee for such cancellation to be fifty cents (50c), which fee shall be included as part of accrued costs.

(e) Consolidation of Liens.—By agreement between the governing bodies, two or more taxing units may consolidate their liens for purposes of docketing judgment, or may have one execution issued for separate judgments, against the same property. In like manner one execution may issue for separate judgments in favor of one or more taxing units against the same property for different years' taxes.

In any advertisement or posted notice of sale under execution the sheriff may (and, at the request of the governing body of the taxing unit, shall) combine the advertisements or notices for properties to be sold under executions, against the properties of different taxpayers, in favor of the same taxing unit or group of units: Provided, that the property included in each judgment shall be separately described and the name of the listing taxpayer specified in connection with each.

(f) Special Assessments.—Street, sidewalk and other special assessments may be included in any judgment for taxes taken under this section; or such assessments may be included in a separate judgment docketed under this section, which is hereby declared to be made available as a method of foreclosing the lien of such assessments.

(g) Purchase and Resale by Taxing Unit.—Any taxing unit may become a bidder at said sale under execution, and may assign its bid by private sale, for not less than the amount of such bid. Property purchased by any taxing unit may be resold at any time in the manner provided by law for sale of other property of such unit: Provided, a city may resell property to the former owner or other person formerly having an interest therein, at private sale, for not less than the amount of said unit's interest in such property (other than special assessments).

(h) Procedure if Section Declared Unconstitutional.—If any provisions of this section are declared invalid or unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, all taxing units which have proceeded under this section shall have one year from the date of the filing of such opinion (or, in case of appeal, from the date of the filing of the opinion on appeal) in which to institute foreclosure actions under § 105-391 for all taxes included in judgments taken under this section and for subsequent taxes due or which, but for purchase of such property by the taxing unit, would have become due; and such opinion shall not have the effect of invalidating the tax lien or disturbing the priority thereof. (1939, c. 310, s. 1720.)

Local Modification.—Cumberland: 1941, c. 44, s. 1(g).

§ 105-393. Time for contesting validity of tax foreclosure title.—No action or proceeding shall be brought to contest the validity of any title to real property acquired, by a taxing unit or by a private purchaser, in any tax foreclosure action or proceeding authorized by this subchapter or by other laws of this state in force at the time of acquisition of said title, nor shall any motion to reopen or set aside the judgment in any such tax foreclosure action or proceeding be entertained, after one year from the date on which the deed is recorded: Provided, that in cases of deeds recorded prior to April 3, 1939, such action or proceeding may be brought or motion entertained within one year after said date: Provided, further, that this shall not be construed as enlarging the time within which to bring such action or proceeding or entertain such motion. (1939, c. 310, s. 1721.)

§ 105-394. Facsimile signatures.—In the institution or prosecution of any suits or other proceedings under this subchapter, or in tax foreclosure proceedings under laws heretofore or hereafter in force, and in the giving of any notice preliminary to the institution thereof, it shall be sufficient and a compliance with the law that where any official or attorney required to sign summons, complaints, verifications of pleadings, notices, judgments or other papers, the name of said official or attorney may be affixed to said documents by stamping thereon the facsimile of the signature of said official or attorney with a rubber stamp by any person authorized by said official or attorney so to do; and said documents so stamped shall have the same legal force and effect as if said signature had been written by said official or attorney with his own hand, and all such signatures stamp as aforesaid shall be conclusively presumed to have been so stamped at the direction of the official or attorney whose signature it purports to be. (1939, c. 310, s. 1722.)

§ 105-395. Application of article.—All provisions of this article shall apply to all taxes originally due within fiscal years beginning on or after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine. With the exception of the provisions of §§ 105-378 to 105-380, the provisions of this article shall also apply to all taxes uncollected on April 3, 1939, originally due within the fiscal year beginning July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight. Sections 105-373 to 105-377, 105-381 to 105-386, 105-390, 105-393, 105-394, and subsections (k) to (v), inclusive, of § 105-391 shall also apply, to the extent that such application does not affect any action already taken or affect private rights already vested on April 3, 1939, to all taxes, due and owing to taxing units on April 3, 1939, originally due within fiscal years beginning on or before July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, whether such taxes have heretofore been included in tax sales certificates or not, and whether such taxes are included in pending foreclosure actions or not; and § 105-392, and subsections (a) to (j), inclusive, of § 105-391 shall also apply to all taxes, due and owing to taxing units on April 3, 1939, originally due within fiscal years beginning on or before July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, which have not been included in any tax foreclosure proceedings pending or completed on April 3, 1939: Provided, that with respect to such taxes originally due within the fiscal years beginning on or before July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, the provisions of said § 105-392, and subsections (a) to (j), inclusive, of § 105-391 shall be in addition to, and not in substitution for, the provisions of laws in force immediately prior to April 3, 1939: Provided, further, that proceedings may be begun under the provisions of §§ 105-391 and 105-392, with respect to such taxes originally due within the fiscal years beginning on or before July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, at any time after six months and within one year following April 3, 1939 or within a longer period otherwise permitted by the terms of this article.

Except as in this section provided, the collection and foreclosure of taxes originally due within fiscal years beginning on or before July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, shall be under the provisions of laws in force immediately prior to April 3, 1939, including § 105-414. In all actions which may be brought under the provisions of section eight thousand thirty-seven of the Consolidated Statutes of North Carolina, the general advertisement, or six months' notice, prescribed by said section need not be made; and the failure to make such advertisement in any action heretofore brought under said section is hereby ratified, confirmed and approved, and, despite such failure, such action, with respect to defendants served with process in such action, either by personal service or service by publication, is hereby validated to the same extent as if said advertisement had been made.

Section 105-414 is hereby preserved in full force and effect as an alternative method for the foreclosure of taxes orginally due within fiscal years beginning on or after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight: Provided, that the provisions of subsections (f) to (v), inclusive, of § 105-391 shall apply in any such foreclosure action brought under said § 105-414.

Nothing in this section or this article shall be construed to require foreclosure of any taxes under the provisions of § 105-392, and subsections

(a) to (j), inclusive, of § 105-391, if such taxes have been or by the terms of this section may be included in any action instituted under laws in force immediately prior to April 3, 1939, whether such taxes be included in said action by the original complaint or by amendment thereto.

To the extent indicated in this section the laws in force immediately prior to April 3, 1939, are hereby preserved in full force and effect, any repeal clauses contained in this article or subchapter to the contrary notwithstanding. (1939, c. 310, s. 1723.)

Art. 28. General Provisions.

§ 105-396. Foreign corporations not exempt.—Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to exempt from taxation at the value prescribed by law any property situated in this state belonging to any foreign corporation, unless the context clearly indicates the intent to grant such exemption. (1939, c. 310, s. 1800.)

§ 105-397. General purpose of subchapter.—It is the purpose of this subchapter except as otherwise herein provided to provide the machinery for the listing and valuing of property, and the levy and collection of taxes, for the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, and annually thereafter, and to that end this subchapter shall be liberally construed, subject to the provisions set out in Schedule H, §§ 105-198 to 105-217. (1939, c. 310, s. 1802.)

Art. 29. Validation of Listings.

§ 105-398. Real property listings validated.—Listings of any real estate not otherwise listed, which have been carried forward on the tax list of any person by the county supervisor of taxation, list taker or assessor, at the same assessed value of said property as it was valued at in the last quadrennial assessment of taxes, unless the value thereof has been changed by the board of county commissioners as provided by law, are hereby validated, and are hereby declared to be legal and valid listings of the same as if listed by the owner or owner's agent or by the chairman of the board of county commissioners or otherwise, as provided by law.

This section shall be retroactive so as to include the period of time from the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, to and including the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five.

The counties of Alamance, Ashe, Beaufort, Bertie, Brunswick, Cabarrus, Camden, Carteret, Clay, Currituck, Dare, Durham, Greene, Halifax, Harnett, Henderson, Hertford, Hoke, Hyde, Iredell, Johnston, Macon, Moore, Northampton, Pasquotank, Pitt, Polk, Randolph, Richmond, Robeson, Rowan, Rutherford, Sampson, Surry, Transylvania, Wake, Warren, and Wayne are hereby exempted from the provisions of this section. (1937, c. 259, ss. 1-3.)

Local Modification.—Nash: 1939, c. 298.

SUBCHAPTER III. COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Art. 30. General Provisions.

§ 105-399. Subchapter to remain in force.—The provisions of this subchapter shall continue in force whether or not brought forward in subsequent acts to raise revenue or acts to provide for the assessment and collection of taxes, commonly called "revenue acts" and "machinery acts," unless and until expressly repealed or amended by, or clearly inconsistent with, subsequent legislation; it being the intention of the general assembly that this subchapter shall be a standing provision for the government of the matters embraced herein, and not to be repealed by implication because omitted in whole or in part from subsequent legislation on the subject of taxation. (Rev., s. 2849; C. S. 7972.)

§ 105-400. Application and construction.—The provisions of this subchapter shall apply to all taxes as defined in this chapter, whether state, county, town, city, or other municipal subdivision; and shall be liberally construed in favor of, and in furtherance of, the collection of such taxes. (Rev., s. 2850; C. S. 7973.)

§ 105-401. Terms defined.—Unless such construction or definition would be manifestly inconsistent with or repugnant to the context, the words and phrases following, whenever used in this subchapter, shall be construed to include in their meaning the definitions set opposite the same in this section:

1. "Tax," "taxes." Any taxes, special assessments or costs, interest or penalty imposed upon property or polls.

2. "He." Male, female, company, corporation, firm, society, singular or plural number.

3. "Real property." Real estate, land, tract, lot—not only the land itself, whether laid out in town or city lots or otherwise with all things therein, but also all buildings, structures, and improvements and other permanent fixtures of whatever kind thereon, and all rights and privileges belonging or in any wise appertaining thereto, and all estates therein.

4. "Sheriff." Every person who is by law authorized to collect taxes, either state or municipal. (Rev., s. 2851; C. S. 7974.)

§ 105-402. Sheriff includes tax collector.—Whenever in this chapter a duty is imposed upon the sheriff of a county of which a tax collector has been or may be appointed, it shall be incumbent upon the tax collector to perform such office instead of the sheriff, and such tax collector shall collect all the taxes, have all the emoluments and be subject to all the penalties as provided in case of sheriffs in this chapter, and it shall be the duty of all persons having tax moneys in hand to account for and settle with such tax collector. (Rev., s. 5263; 1917, c. 234, s. 111; 1919, c. 92, s. 111; C. S. 7975.)

§ 105-403. No taxes released. — No board of county commissioners, or council, or board of aldermen or commissioners of any city or town shall have power to release, discharge, remit, or commute any portion of the taxes assessed and levied against any person or property within their respective jurisdictions for any reason whatever; and any tax so discharged, released, remitted, or commuted may be recovered by civil action from the members of any such board at the suit of any citizen of the county, city, or town, as the case may be, and when collected shall be paid to the proper treasurer. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the proper authorities from refunding taxes as provided in this chapter; nor to interfere with the powers of any officers or boards sitting as a board of equalization of taxes; nor construed to exempt any taxpayer or property from liability for taxes released, discharged, remitted, or commuted in violation of this section. (Rev., s. 2854; 1901, c. 558, s. 31; C. S. 7976.)

§ 105-404. Uncollected inheritance taxes remitted after 20 years.—All inheritance taxes levied by the State which remain uncollected twenty years or more after the death of the person upon whose estate said taxes were levied shall be, and they are hereby remitted. (1935, c. 483.)

§ 105-405. Taxing authorities authorized to release or remit taxes.—The board of county commissioners or city council or board of aldermen or city commissioners, or any other governing body in any city or town, shall have power to release, discharge, remit or commute any portion of the taxes assessed and levied against any person or property within their respective jurisdictions when there has been destruction or partial destruction or any damage to the property assessed for valuation when such destruction, partial destruction or damage occurs between midnight of April first and midnight of June thirtieth of any year, and when said destruction or partial destruction or damage has been caused by tornado, cyclone, hurricane or other wind or windstorm: Provided, application for release, discharge, remission or commutation is made to the aforesaid governing body within one year of the date of said destruction, partial destruction or damage: Provided further, that in cases of applicants for such relief who have received, or may receive, reimbursements for such damage or destruction from insurance policy contracts or otherwise, or whose property has been restored or rehabilitated, wholly or partially, by the Red Cross or any public welfare agency or organization without full value having been paid therefor by the property owner, such applicant shall, as a condition precedent to the relief herein provided for, list for taxation for the year for which relief is asked the equivalent in value of such reimbursement or restoration or rehabilitation; and provided further, that such governing body shall apply this section uniformly to all persons and property within its jurisdiction. This section shall be retroactive to and including April first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six. (1937, c. 15.)

§ 105-406. Remedy of taxpayer for unauthorized tax.—Unless a tax or assessment, or some part thereof, be illegal or invalid, or be levied or assessed for an illegal or unauthorized purpose, no injunction shall be granted by any court or judge to restrain the collection thereof in whole or in part, nor to restrain the sale of any property for the nonpayment thereof; nor shall any court issue any order in claim and delivery proceedings or otherwise for the taking of any personalty levied on by the sheriff to enforce payment of such tax or assessment against the owner thereof. Whenever any person shall claim to have a valid defense to the enforcement of a tax or assessment charged or assessed upon his property or poll, such person shall pay such tax or assessment to the sheriff; but if, at the time of such payment, he shall notify the sheriff in writing that he pays the same under protest, such payment shall be without prejudice to any defenses or rights he may have in the premises, and he may, at any time within thirty days after such payment, demand the same in writing from the treasurer of the state or of the county, city, or town, for the benefit or under the authority or by request of which the same was levied; and if the same shall not be refunded within ninety days thereafter, may sue such county, city, or town for the amount so demanded, including in his action against the county both state and county tax; and if upon the trial it shall be determined that such tax or any part thereof was levied or assessed for an illegal or unauthorized purpose, or was for any reason invalid or excessive, judgment shall be rendered therefor, with interest, and the same shall be collected as in other cases. The amount of state taxes for which judgment shall be rendered in such action shall be refunded by the state treasurer. (Rev., s. 2855; 1901, c. 558, s. 30; C. S. 7979.)

§ 105-407. Refund of taxes illegally collected and paid into state treasury.—Whenever taxes of any kind are or have been through clerical error, or misinterpretation of the law, or otherwise, collected and paid into the state treasury in excess of the amount legally due the state, the state auditor shall issue his warrant for the amount so illegally collected, to the person entitled thereto, upon certificate of the head of the department through which said taxes were collected or his successor in the performance of the functions of that department, with the approval of the attorney-general, and the treasurer shall pay the same out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated: Provided, demand is made for the correction of such error or errors within two years from the time of such payment. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 96; C. S. 7979(a).)

Art. 31. Rights of Parties Adjusted.

§ 105-408. Taxes paid in judicial sales and sales under powers.—In all civil actions and special proceedings wherein the sale of any real estate shall be ordered, the judgment shall provide for the payment of all taxes then assessed upon the property and remaining unpaid, and for the payment of such sums as may be required to redeem the property, if it has been sold for taxes and such redemption can be had; all of which payments shall be adjudged to be made out of the proceeds of sale. The judgment shall adjust the disbursements for such taxes and expenses of redemption from tax sales between the parties to the action or proceeding in accordance with their respective rights. And whenever any real estate shall be sold by any person under any power of sale conferred upon him by any deed, will, power of attorney, mortgage, deed of trust, or assignment for the benefit of creditors, the person making such sale must pay out of the proceeds of sale all taxes then assessed upon such real estate and such sums as shall be necessary to redeem the land, if it has been sold for taxes and such redemption is practicable. This section shall apply both to taxes and special assessments for paving, drainage, or other improvements; provided, that the person making such sale, whether under order of court or in the exercise of a power, shall be required, in cases where special assessments are payable in installments, to pay only such installments of special assessments as have become due at the date of such sale. The failure to comply with this section and pay such taxes or assessments shall not vacate or affect the lien of such taxes or assessments, but such lien shall be discharged only to the extent payment is actually made. (Rev., s. 2857; 1901, c. 558, s. 47; 1929, c. 231, s. 1; C. S. 7980.)

§ 105-409. Tax paid by holder of lien; remedy.—Any person having a lien or encumbrance of any kind upon real estate may pay the taxes due by the owner thereof in so far as the same are a lien upon such real estate, and the amount of taxes so paid shall, from the time of payment, operate as a lien upon such real estate in preference to all other liens, which lien may be enforced by action in the superior court in term. The money so paid may also be recovered by action for moneys paid to his use against the person legally liable for the payment of such taxes. (Rev., s. 2858; Code, s. 3700; 1901, c. 558, s. 46; 1879, c. 71, s. 55; C. S. 7981.)

§ 105-410. Forfeiture by life tenant failing to pay.—Every person shall be liable for the taxes assessed or charged upon the property or estate, real or personal, of which he is tenant for life. If any tenant for life of real estate shall suffer the same to be sold for taxes by reason of his neglect or refusal to pay the taxes thereon, and shall fail to redeem the same within one year after such sale, he shall thereby forfeit his life estate to the remainderman or reversioner. The remainderman or reversioner may redeem such lands, in the same manner that is provided for the redemption of other lands. Moreover, such remainderman or reversioner shall have the right to recover of such tenant for life all damages sustained by reason of such neglect or refusal on the part of such tenant for life. If any tenant for life of personal property suffer the same to be sold for taxes by reason of any default of his, he shall be liable in damages to the remainderman or reversioner. (Rev., s. 2859; Code, ss. 3698, 3699; 1901, c. 558, s. 45; 1879, c. 71, ss. 53, 54; C. S. 7982.)

§ 105-411. Remedies of cotenants and joint owners.—Any one of several tenants in common, or joint tenants or copartners shall have the right to pay his share of the taxes assessed or due upon the real estate held jointly or in common, or, if such estate has been sold for taxes, he may redeem his share by paying his proportionate part of the amount required for redeeming the whole. Where he has paid his share of the taxes or amount required for the redemption and the land has been or shall be divided by actual partition the share set apart to him in severalty shall be free from the lien of, and shall not be liable to be subjected in any manner to, the payment of the residue of taxes assessed upon such property; but such residue of taxes and the costs and penalties incident thereto shall be a lien upon the residue of such real estate, which residue shall be subjected to the satisfaction thereof; and when he has paid his share of the taxes, or amount necessary to redeem, and the real estate is sold under judicial proceedings for partition, his share of the proceeds shall not be diminished by disbursements for the residue of such taxes or for redeeming the property, and the costs and penalties incident thereto. Any such part owner in real estate shall have the right to pay the whole of the taxes assessed thereon and all costs and penalties incident to such taxes, and to redeem such real estate as a whole when it has been sold for taxes, and all sums by him so paid in excess of his share of such taxes, costs, and penalties and amounts required for redemption, shall constitute a lien upon the shares of his cotenants or associates, payment whereof, with interest, he may enforce in proceedings for partition, actual or by sale, or in any other appropriate judicial proceeding. When one tenant in common, joint tenant, or copartner shall have paid his proportionate part of the taxes, as allowed by this section, before a sale for taxes, the sheriff shall except his undivided interest from the sale and in the certificate of sale and deed for the property. (Rev., s. 2860; 1901, c. 558, ss. 13, 14, 47; C. S. 7983.)

§ 105-412. Fiduciaries to pay taxes.—It shall be the duty of every guardian, executor, administrator with the will annexed, agent, trustee, receiver, or other fiduciary in whose care or control any property or estate, real or personal, may be, to pay the taxes thereon out of the trust funds in his hands, if any there be; and if he fail so to do he shall become personally liable for such taxes, and such liability may be enforced by an action against him in the name of the sheriff. If he permit such property to be sold by reason of his negligence to pay the taxes when he has funds in hand, he shall be liable to his ward, principal, or cestui que trust for all actual damages incident to such neglect. This section shall not have the effect of relieving the estates held in trust or under the control of fiduciaries from the lien of such taxes. (Rev., s. 2862; Code, ss. 3698, 1595; 1879, c. 71, s. 53; R. C., c. 54, s. 27; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 32; 1762, c. 69, s. 14; C. S. 7985.)

Art. 32. Tax Liens.

§ 105-413. Tax lien on railroad property.—The taxes upon any and all railroads in this state, including roadbed, right of way, depots, sidetracks, ties and rails, now constructed or hereafter to be constructed, are hereby made a perpetual lien thereupon, commencing from the first day of May in each current year, against all claims or demands whatsoever of all persons or bodies corporate, except the United States and this state; and the above described property or any part thereof may be taken and held for payment of all taxes assessed against such railroad company in the several counties in this state. (Rev., ss. 2865, 5296; 1917, c. 234, s. 98; 1919, c. 92, s. 98; C. S. 7989.)

§ 105-414. Tax lien enforced by action to foreclose.—A lien upon real estate for taxes or assessments due thereon may be enforced by an action in the nature of an action to foreclose a mortgage, in which action the court shall order a sale of such real estate, or so much thereof as shall be necessary for that purpose, for the satisfaction of the amount adjudged to be due on such lien, together with interest, penalties, and costs allowed by law, and the costs of such action. When such lien is in favor of the state or county, or both, such action shall be prosecuted by and in the name of the county; when the lien is in favor of any other municipal corporation the action shall be prosecuted by and in the name of such corporation. When such lien is in favor of any private individual or private corporation holding a certificate of tax sale or deed under a tax sale, whether as original purchaser at a tax sale or as assignee of the county or other municipal corporation or of any other holder thereof, such action shall be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest. (Rev., s. 2866; 1901, c. 558, ss. 42, 43; C. S. 7990.)

Local Modification.—Wayne: Pub. Loc. 1939, c. 190.

Art. 33. Time and Manner of Collection.

§ 105-415. Sureties of sheriff may collect, when.—If any sheriff shall die during the time appointed for collecting taxes, his sureties may collect them, and for that purpose shall have all power and means for collecting the same from the collectors and taxpayers as the sheriff would have had, and shall be subject to all the remedies for collecting and settling the taxes, on their bond or otherwise, as might have been had against the sheriff if he had lived. (Rev., ss. 2868, 5264; 1917, c. 234, s. 112; 1919, c. 92, s. 112; C. S. 7993.)

§ 105-416. Sheriff collecting by deputy.—When the sheriff shall collect by his deputies they shall, before the clerk of the board of commissioners or before a justice of the peace of the county, take and subscribe an oath faithfully and honestly to account for the taxes with the sheriff or other person authorized to receive the same. Such oath shall be filed with the register of deeds and kept in the office of the board of commissioners, and for failure of any deputy sheriff to pay over such taxes as he may collect he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 5241; 1917, c. 234, s. 88; 1919, c. 92, s. 88; C. S. 7995.)

§ 105-417. Compromise of tax claims due by railroad companies in which state owns majority of stock, authorized.—The commissioner of revenue of the state of North Carolina and the governing bodies of any county, municipality, or other taxing subdivision in this state, are hereby authorized within their discretion to accept in full settlement for all taxes which have heretofore become due settlements thereof which may be less than the full amount of such taxes, penalties and costs as to any taxes which may be due by any railroad company in North Carolina in which the state of North Carolina is the owner of more than a majority of the outstanding capital stock; and said settlement may be accepted by said officials if in their judgment the acceptance of the same will be for the best interests and to the advantage of the respective taxing units holding such tax claims. (1939, c. 76.)

Art. 34. Tax Sales.

Part. 1. Sale of Realty.

§ 105-418. Sales on dates other than first Monday in June validated.—All sales of land for failure to pay taxes, held or conducted by any sheriff or any tax collector of any county, city, town or other municipality during the year one thousand nine hundred thirty, on any day subsequent to or other than the first Monday in June of said year, are hereby, approved, confirmed, validated and declared to be proper, valid and legal sales of such land and legally binding in all respects, and all certificates of sale made and issued upon and in accordance with such sales are hereby approved and validated to all intents and purposes, and with such full force and legal effect as if said sales had been held and conducted on said first Monday of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty. (1931, c. 160.)

§ 105-419. Tax sales for 1931-32 on day other than law provides and certificates validated.—All sales of land for failure to pay taxes, held or conducted by any sheriff or any tax collector of any county, city, town or other municipality during the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-one and one thousand nine hundred thirty-two, on any day subsequent to or other than the first Monday in June of said year, are hereby, approved, confirmed, validated and declared to be proper, valid and legal sales of such land and legally binding in all respects, and all certificates of sale made and issued upon and in accordance with such sales, be, and they are hereby, approved and validated to all intents and purposes, and with such full force and legal effect as if said sales had been held and conducted on said first Monday of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one and one thousand nine hundred thirty-two. (1933, c. 177.)

Local Modification.—Durham, Mecklenburg: 1933, c. 177.

§ 105-420. Taxes sales for 1933-34 and certificates validated.—All sales of land for failure to pay taxes held or conducted by any sheriff or any tax collector of any county, city, town or other municipality during the years one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and one thousand nine hundred thirty-four or on any date subsequent to or other than the date prescribed by law and all certificates of sale executed and issued pursuant to and in accordance with such sales be and the same are hereby approved, confirmed and validated and shall have the same force and legal effect as if said sales had been held and conducted on the date prescribed by law.

The board of county commissioners of any county or the governing board of any city, town or other municipality may by resolution order the sheriff or tax collecting officer of the said county, city, town or other municipality to advertise in the manner provided by law and sell all land for the taxes of any year levied by the said county, city, town or other municipality, which land has not heretofore been legally sold for the failure to pay said taxes. The sale or sales herein authorized shall be held not later than the first Monday in September, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, and certificates of sale shall be issued in accordance with and pursuant to said sale or sales in the same manner as if said sale or sales had been held and conducted as provided by law. Any sale held and conducted under the provisions of this paragraph and all certificates issued pursuant to such sales shall be and the same are hereby approved, confirmed and validated and shall have the same force and legal effect as if said sale had been held and conducted on the date prescribed by law.

All actions instituted in any county, city, town or other municipality for the foreclosure of certificates of sale issued for the taxes of the years one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, one thousand nine hundred twenty-eight, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine, one thousand nine hundred thirty, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one and one thousand nine hundred thirty-two subsequent to October first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-four, and all such actions instituted before October first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, shall be and the same are hereby approved, validated and declared to be legally binding and of the same force and effect as if said actions were instituted prior to October first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-four: Provided, that this section shall not be construed to repeal any private or local act passed by the general assembly of one thousand nine hundred thirty-five. (1935, c. 331.)

§ 105-421. Notices of sale for taxes by publication validated.—All sales of real property under tax certificate foreclosures, made since January first, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, where the original notice of sale was published for four successive weeks, and any notice of resale was published for two successive weeks, preceding said sales, whether the notice of sale was required to be published in a newspaper or at courthouse door, or both, shall be, and the same are in all respects validated as to publication of said notice: Provided said publication was completed as above set out within ten days of the date of the sale.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the counties of Alleghany, Beaufort, Cabarrus, Camden, Carteret, Caswell, Currituck, Halifax, Harnett, Henderson, Hertford, Hyde, Iredell, Johnston, Jones, Macon, Mitchell, Moore, Nash, New Hanover, Perquimans, Pitt, Polk, Rowan, Rutherford, Scotland, Surry, Wake, Warren, Washington, and Wayne. (1937, c. 128.)

Part 2. Refund of Tax Sales Certificates.

§ 105-422. Tax liens for 1926 and prior years, not yet foreclosed, barred. — All tax liens held by counties, municipalities, and other governing agencies for the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-six and the years prior thereto, whether evidenced by the original tax certificates, or tax sales certificates, and upon which no foreclosure proceedings have been instituted, are hereby declared to be barred and uncollectible: Provided, that no part of this section shall be construed as applying to liens for street and/or sidewalk improvements. (1933, c. 181, s. 7; 1933, c. 399.)

Local Modification.—McDowell: 1933, c. 399; Pamlico, Richmond: 1933, c. 181, s. 7.

§ 105-423. Counties excepted.—None of the provisions of § 105-422 shall apply to Davidson, Forsyth, Orange, Hyde and Mecklenburg Counties: Provided, that § 105-422 shall not be mandatory in the following counties or municipalities therein, but within the discretion of the governing bodies of the said counties or municipalities therein, to-wit: Alleghany, Beaufort, Cleveland, Gaston, Polk, Granville, Catawba, Lincoln, Wilkes, Guilford, Surry, Moore, Richmond, Camden, Durham, Rockingham, Burke, Caldwell, New Hanover, Halifax, Union and Hertford. (1933, c. 181, s. 14, cc. 226, 314, 329, 351, 377, 389, s. 2, 391, 424, 427, s. 2, 471, 502.)

Local Modification.—Alamance: 1933, c. 402; Brunswick: 1935, c. 370; Caswell: 1935, cc. 354, 370; Catawba: 1933, c. 315; Chatham: 1933, c. 536; Clayton, Town of: 1935, c. 419; Columbus: 1933, c. 486; Dare: 1933, c. 505; Granville: 1933, c. 304; Johnston: 1933, c. 459; Nash: 1933, cc. 389, 423; Pitt: 1933, c. 513; Scotland: 1933, c. 218.

Art. 35. Sheriff's Settlement of Taxes.

§ 105-424. Time and manner of settlement. — The sheriff or other accounting officer shall, on or before the second Monday of January in each year, settle his estate tax account with the commissioners of his county and pay the amount for which said sheriff or collector is liable to the treasurer of the state, in such manner or at such place as he shall direct, on or before the third Monday of said month: Provided, the state treasurer may extend the time on a sufficient amount to cover the state tax on the land sales in each county to the first Monday in May. The commissioners shall forthwith report to the state auditor the amount due from such accounting officer, setting forth therein the net amount due to each fund; and the treasurer, upon a statement from the state auditor, shall open an account against such officer and debit him accordingly. Upon the failure of the board of county commissioners to make this report to the state auditor on or before the third Monday of January of each year, or if a report has been filed which is not correct and the commissioners fail to file an amended and corrected report within thirty days after being notified so to do by the state auditor, the commissioners of such county shall each personally be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars, and it shall be the duty of the state auditor forthwith to institute an action in the county of Wake to enforce the same. The sheriff or tax collector, in making his settlements as aforesaid, shall file with the commissioners a duplicate of the list required in this chapter. In such settlement the sheriff or other officer shall be charged with the amount of public tax as the same appears by the abstract of the taxables transmitted to the state auditor; also with all double taxes on unlisted property by him received, and with other tax which he may have collected or for which he is chargeable. The state auditor shall give to each sheriff or tax collector a certified statement embracing the subjects of taxation contained in both lists and the amount of tax on each subject which the sheriff or tax collector shall deposit with the clerk of the commissioners of his county for public inspection. The sheriffs and tax collectors shall receive five per cent on all taxes collected by them for state, county, township, school district, or other purposes whatsoever, up to the sum of fifty thousand dollars, and upon all such sums so collected by him in excess thereof he shall receive two and one-half per cent commission, and the sheriffs or tax collectors shall receive for their own use, in addition to other fees or salary received by them, a commission of five per cent on all privilege and license taxes collected under schedule B of the revenue act, and any provision in any local act in conflict with this provision is hereby repealed. (Rev., s. 5245; 1917, c. 234, s. 101; 1919, c. 92, s. 101; C. S. 8042.)

Local Modification.—Buncombe: C. S. 8042.

SUBCHAPTER IV. LISTING OF AUTOMOBILES IN CERTAIN COUNTIES.

§ 105-425. Listing by owner required.—Every owner of a motor vehicle in the counties specified herein shall list such motor vehicle for taxes in such counties at the same time residents of such counties are or may be required by law to list real and/or personal property for taxation. (1931, c. 392, s. 1.)

§ 105-426. Commissioner of motor vehicles to furnish list of registered automobiles to counties.—The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles shall furnish to the tax listing authorities of the counties enumerated in § 105-429, or to the tax collectors thereof, a list showing the names and addresses of all owners of motor vehicles in such counties as of January first in each year. The list shall also show the make, type and character of such motor vehicle and the date of registration thereof. This list shall be furnished as soon after the first day of January in each year as it can be prepared and furnished. The cost of preparing such lists shall be paid by the authorities of the enumerated counties to which the lists are furnished. (1931, c. 392, s. 2.)

§ 105-427. Listing by county authorities where owners fail to list.—The tax listing authorities of the counties specified herein shall compare said list of motor vehicle owners with the tax lists of such counties and if it appears that any owner of a motor vehicle has failed to list any motor vehicle registered in his name, it shall be the duty of such tax listing authorities or of the tax collectors of such counties to list such motor vehicle for purposes of taxation, together with any other property of such person, and the tax collectors of such counties shall collect the taxes thereon in the same manner as other taxes of such counties. (1931, c. 392, s. 3.)

§ 105-428. Basis of tax valuation.—All motor vehicles shall be valued or appraised for purposes of taxation upon the rule or standard of valuation established by "The Automobile Blue Book," or any other standard of value which may be reasonable, equitable and just. (1931, c. 392, s. 4.)

SUBCHAPTER V. GASOLINE TAX.

Art. 36. Gasoline Tax.

§ 105-430. Definitions; "motor fuel," "distributor". — The following words, terms, and phrases hereinafter used for the purpose of this article are defined as follows:

(a) "Motor Fuel" shall mean (a) all products commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline (including casinghead and absorption or natural gasoline) regardless of their classification or uses; and (b) any liquid prepared, advertised, offered for sale or sold for use as or commonly and commercially used as a fuel in internal combustion engines, which when subjected to distillation in accordance with the standard method of test for distillation of gasoline, naphtha, kerosene and similar petroleum products (American Society for Testing Materials Designation D-86) shows not less than ten per centum (10%) distilled (recovered) below three hundred forty-seven degrees (347°) Fahrenheit (one hundred seventy-five degrees (175°) Centigrade) and not less than ninety-five per centum (95%) distilled (recovered) below four hundred sixty-four degrees (464°) Fahrenheit (two hundred forty degrees (240°) Centigrade); with the exception that the term "motor fuel" shall not include commercial solvents which distill, by American Society for Testing Materials Method D-86, not more than nine (9%) per centum at 176° F. and which have a distillation range of 125° F. or less, of liquefied gases which would not exist as liquids at a temperature of 60° Fahrenheit and a pressure of 14.7 pounds per square inch absolute.

(b) "Distributor" is any person, firm, association of persons, corporation, municipality, county, or other political subdivision or agency that has on hand or in his or its possession in this State, or that produces, refines, manufactures, or compounds such motor fuels in this State for sale, distribution, or use herein. (1927, c. 93, s. 1; 1931, c. 145, s. 24; 1941, c. 376, s. 1.)

§ 105-431. Purpose of article; double taxation not intended.—The purpose of this article is to provide for the payment and collection of a tax on the first sale of motor fuels when sold, or the use, when used, in this State; double taxation is not intended. Motor fuels manufactured, produced, or sold for exportation, and exported are not taxable and should not be included in the reports hereinafter required to be made by distributors. (1927, c. 93, s. 2; 1931, c. 145, s. 24.)

§ 105-432. Sales in tank car shipments.—In the administration of this article the first sale shall not be construed to embrace the sale in tank car shipments from port terminals to licensed distributors within the State, but the tax hereinafter levied on such motor fuel shall be levied against and paid by such licensed distributor. (1927, c. 93, s. 2½; 1931, c. 145, s. 24.)

§ 105-433. Application for license as distributor.—Any distributor engaged in business on April 1, 1931, shall, within thirty days thereafter, and any other distributor shall, prior to the commencement of doing business, file a duly acknowledged application for a license with the Commissioner of Revenue on a form prescribed and furnished by him setting forth the name under which such distributor transacts or intends to transact business within this State, the address of each place of business and a designation of the principal place of business. If such distributor is a firm or association, the application shall set forth the name and address of each person constituting the firm or association, and if a corporation, the names and addresses of the principal officers and such other information as the Commissioner of Revenue may require. Each distributor shall at the same time file a bond in such amount, not exceeding twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) in such form and with such surety or sureties as may be required by the Commissioner of Revenue, conditioned upon the rendition of the reports and the payment of the tax hereinafter provided for. Upon approval of the application and bond, the Commissioner of Revenue shall issue to the distributor a non-assignable license with a duplicate copy for each place of business of said distributor in this State, which shall be displayed in a conspicuous place at each such place of business and shall continue in force until surrendered or cancelled. No distributor shall sell, offer for sale, or use any motor fuels within this State until such license has been issued. Any distributor failing to comply with or violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00), nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), or imprisoned for not more than twenty-four months, or both. (1927, c. 93, s. 3; 1931, c. 145, s. 24.)

§ 105-434. Gallon tax.—There is hereby levied and imposed a tax of six cents per gallon on all motor fuels sold, distributed, or used within this State. The tax hereby imposed and levied shall be collected and paid by the distributor producing, refining, manufacturing, or compounding within this State, or holding in possession within this State motor fuels for the purpose of sale, distribution, or use within the State, and shall be paid by such distributor to the Commissioner of Revenue in the manner and at the times hereinafter specified. No county, city, or town, or political sub-division shall levy or collect any tax upon the sale or distribution of motor fuels herein defined. For the purpose of determining the amount of the tax, it shall be the duty of every distributor to transmit to the Commissioner of Revenue not later than the twentieth day of each month, upon forms prescribed and furnished by such commissioner, a report under oath or affirmation showing the quantity of motor fuel sold, distributed, or used by such distributor within this State during the preceding calendar month, and such other information as the said commissioner may require: Provided, that any distributor may, if he elects to do so, use as the measure of the tax levied and assessed against him by this section the gross quantity of motor fuel purchased, produced, refined, manufactured, and/or compounded by such distributor, plus the amount of motor fuel on hand at the beginning of the period when such method of computation is used, less a tare of two per cent (2%) on gross monthly receipts of motor fuels not exceeding 150,000 gallons, and less a tare of one and one-half per cent (1½%) on gross monthly receipts of such fuels in excess of 150,000 gallons and not exceeding 250,000 gallons, and less a tare of one per cent (1%) on gross monthly receipts of such fuels in excess of 250,000 gallons. Provided, that if any licensed distributor who has elected to pay the tax levied herein on the amount of motor fuel purchased, produced, refined, manufactured, or compounded, in lieu of the amount sold, distributed, or used, shall lose any such fuel by reason of lightning, flood, or windstorm, and it is clearly proved to the satisfaction of the commissioner of revenue, that the loss is in excess of the 1% allowed during the calendar year in which it occurs, the amount of motor fuel lost in excess of the 1% shall be excluded from the measure of his tax. Provided, further, that the commissioner of revenue shall have power under such rules and regulations as he may adopt for the purpose to refund to any non-licensed distributor the tax on any motor fuel purchased by and delivered to him taxpaid that is lost by lightning, flood, or windstorm, after it is delivered to him and before it is sold, but such loss must be clearly proved to the satisfaction of the commissioner. (1927, c. 93, s. 4; 1929, c. 40, s. 1; 1931, c. 145, s. 24; 1941, cc. 16, 146.)

§ 105-435. Tax on fuels not included in definition; permits to operate vehicles; reports by holders of permits.—(a) Every person who owns or operates over the highways of this state, any motor vehicle propelled by a motor which uses any product not included within the definition of "motor fuels" hereinbefore set out to generate power for the propulsion of said vehicle, shall pay to the commissioner of revenue, for the use of the highways of this state, a tax of six cents (6c) per gallon on the fuel used in such vehicle upon the highways of this state.

(b) The owner or operator of such a vehicle on July 1, 1941, or any person who purchases such a vehicle subsequent thereto, shall, before it is operated on the highways of this state, apply to the commissioner of revenue, on forms prescribed by him, for a permit to operate such vehicle on the highways of the state and shall make the tax payments herein levied direct to the department of revenue. Upon receipt and approval of such application the commissioner of revenue shall issue to such owner or operator a non-assignable permit which shall remain in effect until new license plates are required to be purchased and at that time shall be surrendered and a new permit showing the correct license number shall be issued. This permit shall at all times be in the possession of the operator of such vehicle and subject to inspection by any agent of the department of revenue or any dealer from whom such operator desires to purchase fuel. The holder of a permit issued under the provisions of this section shall be subject to the same laws and to the rules and regulations of the commissioner of revenue in regard to the payments of tax and filing reports that licensed distributors of motor fuel are subject to, and such person shall also be subject to any other rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner of revenue for the proper administration of this section: Provided, however, no bond shall be required. Provided, further, any person duly licensed as a motor fuel distributor under the provisions of this article who owns and operates motor vehicles for his own use and utilizes in such vehicles fuel not defined as motor fuel in this article, is authorized to pay the tax levied in this section on such fuel at the same time and in the same manner as is provided for motor fuel distributors, and such tax shall be subject to the tares allowed by law to motor fuel distributors. In the event that a person elects to qualify as a motor fuel distributor and pay the tax as authorized by this proviso, it shall not be necessary for such person to secure the permit or make the reports required by this section, but such person shall comply with all the laws relating to motor fuel distributors.

(c) For the purpose of determining the amount of tax due, the owner or operator of every motor vehicle holding a permit issued under the provisions of this section shall file a report on or before the twentieth day of each month showing the number of miles each vehicle was operated over the highways of the state, the amount of fuel used during the preceding month and such other information as the commissioner of revenue may require. At the time of filing his report, said person shall pay to the commissioner of revenue the tax levied in paragraph (a) of this subsection.

(d) It shall be unlawful for any distributor, dealer or other person knowingly to sell fuel for use in such vehicles to owners or operators who do not hold permits as required by this section without collecting the tax herein levied and remitting the same to the commissioner of revenue as required on sales of motor fuel. It shall also be unlawful for any person who does not hold a permit, as provided herein, to operate such vehicles over the highways of the state on fuel on which the tax is not paid as provided herein.

If the owner or operator of any such vehicle shall fail to secure a permit, file a report or pay the tax as herein provided, his motor vehicle license shall be cancelled. It shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue, upon such failure, to certify the same to the department of motor vehicles or such agency of the state as has charge of issuing motor vehicle licenses and upon receipt of such certification the department of motor vehicles or such other agency of the state as has charge of issuing motor vehicle licenses shall immediately have the license of the vehicle or vehicles returned for cancellation.

(e) Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be required to pay to the commissioner of revenue all taxes found to be due and, in addition thereto, a penalty of twenty-five per centum (25%) thereof, and such person shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1941, c. 376, s. 2.)

§ 105-436. Payment of tax.—Every distributor, at the time of making the report required by § 105-434, shall pay to the Commissioner of Revenue, the amount of tax due for the month covered by such report. The tax so paid shall be transferred promptly by the said commissioner to the State Treasurer as other receipts of his office and the State Treasurer shall place the same to the credit of the "State Highway Fund." (1927, c. 93, s. 5; 1931, c. 145, s. 24.)

§ 105-437. Action by commissioner of revenue if distributor fail to report.—If any distributor shall wilfully fail, neglect or refuse to make the reports required by § 105-434 within the time therein provided, the Commissioner of Revenue shall immediately inform himself as best he may as to all matters and things required to be set forth in such reports, and from such information as he may be able to obtain, determine and fix the amount of the tax due the State from such delinquent distributor for the period covering the delinquency, adding to the tax so determined and as a part thereof, an amount equal to twenty-five per cent (25%) of the tax, to be collected and paid. The said Commissioner shall proceed immediately to collect the tax including the additional twenty-five per cent and transmit the same in the manner provided in § 105-436 for the disposition of other taxes. (1927, c. 93, s. 6; 1931, c. 145, s. 24.)

§ 105-438. Record of transactions.—Every distributor of motor fuels shall keep a record of all such fuels purchased, received, sold, delivered or used by him, which shall include the number of gallons so purchased, received, sold, delivered, or used, and the dates of such purchases and sales, which records shall be preserved for a period of two years and shall at all times during the business hours of the day be subject to inspection by the Commissioner of Revenue or his deputies, or such other officers as may be duly authorized by said Commissioner. (1927, c. 93, s. 8; 1931, c. 145, s. 24.)

§ 105-439. Rebates for fuels sold to U. S. Government or for use in aircraft. — The Commissioner of Revenue is authorized under such rules and regulations as he may adopt for that purpose, to relieve any distributor from the payment of the tax herein levied for any motor fuels sold to the United States Government, and/or gasoline of such quality that it is not adapted for use in ordinary automotive vehicles, but is designed for and sold and used exclusively in aircraft motors, when it appears to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Revenue that the tax herein imposed has not been added to the sale price of such motor fuel, and the Commissioner of Revenue is likewise authorized to refund by warrant drawn upon the State Treasurer to the person paying the same, any tax paid under the provisions of this article which constitutes an unlawful burden upon interstate commerce, in conflict with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States: Provided, that any claims for such rebate, which are not filed with the Commissioner of Revenue in accordance with forms to be provided by the Commissioner of Revenue within sixty days after the payment of said tax, shall be deemed to have been waived. (1931, c. 145, s. 24.)

§ 105-440. Penalty for making false claim for rebate. — Any person who shall wilfully make any false or fraudulent report as the basis for claim for rebate or deduction under the provisions of this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1927, c. 93, s. 10; 1931, c. 145, s. 24.)

§ 105-441. Enumeration of acts constituting misdemeanor; cancellation of license and bond.—Any distributor who shall fail, neglect, or refuse to make the reports herein required or pay the taxes herein imposed, or who shall refuse to permit the Commissioner of Revenue or any agent appointed by him, to examine the books and records of such distributor pertaining to the motor fuels made taxable by this article or who shall make any false, or fraudulent report or statement hereunder, or who does, or attempts to do, anything whatsoever to avoid a full disclosure of the quantity of motor fuels sold, distributed or used within this State shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) and not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or, in the case of an individual or the officer or employee charged with the duty of making such report for a corporation, to be imprisoned not exceeding twenty-four months, or both; and the commissioner of revenue may forthwith cancel the license of such distributor and notify him in writing of such cancellation by registered mail to be sent to his last known address. In the event that the license of any distributor is cancelled as above provided, and in the event such distributor shall have paid to the state of North Carolina all the taxes due and payable by him under this article, together with any and all penalties accruing under the provisions of this article, then the Commissioner of Revenue shall cancel and surrender the bond theretofore filed by said distributor. (1927, c. 93, s. 11; 1931, c. 145, s. 24; 1933, c. 544, s. 10.)

§ 105-442. Actions for tax; double liability.—If any person, firm or corporation shall fail to pay the amount of tax levied in § 105-434 within the time specified in § 105-436 it shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue to proceed at once to enforce the payment of said tax, and to this end the commissioner of revenue shall have and may exercise all the remedies provided in the revenue laws of the state for enforcing payment of other taxes, including the right of execution through the sheriffs of the several counties of the state upon any property of the delinquent taxpayer, and shall, with the assistance of the attorney general whenever necessary, bring appropriate action in the courts of the state for the recovery of such tax. If it shall be found as a fact that such failure to pay was willful on the part of such person, firm or corporation, judgment shall be rendered against such person, firm or corporation for double the amount of tax found to be due, together with interest, and the amount of taxes and penalties shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the state highway fund. All remedies which now or may hereafter be given by the laws of the state of North Carolina for the collection of taxes are expressly given herein for the collection of taxes levied in this article or of judgment recovered under authority of this article. It shall also be the duty of the commissioner of revenue to revoke the license of any licensed distributor who shall refuse, fail or neglect to pay the taxes levied in § 105-434 within the time specified in § 105-436, and whose account shall remain delinquent for any part of said tax for ten days thereafter. (1927, c. 93, s. 12; 1931, c. 145, s. 24; 1933, c. 137, s. 1.)

§ 105-443. Auditing books of licensed distributors.—It shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue, by competent auditors, to have the books and records of every licensed distributor in the state examined at least twice each year to determine if such distributor is keeping complete records as provided in § 105-438, and to determine if correct reports have been made to the state department of revenue by every such distributor covering the total amount of tax liability of such licensed distributor. It shall also be the duty of such auditors to check the records of each distributor with the records of shipment by railroad companies, or by boats or trucks, or other available sources of information, and also to check the records covering the receipt and distribution of any other liquid petroleum products handled by each distributor. (1933, c. 137, s. 1.)

§ 105-444. License constitutes distributor trust officer of state for collection of tax.—The licensing of any person, firm or corporation as a wholesale distributor of gasoline shall constitute such distributor an agent or trust officer of the state for the purpose of collecting the tax on the sale of gasoline imposed in this article. When any such person, firm or corporation who adds the amount of the tax levied in this article to the customary market price for gasoline and collects the same, shall fail to remit the gasoline tax to the commissioner of revenue upon the terms and as provided herein, such failure shall constitute embezzlement of state funds, and upon conviction under this section any individual, partner or officer or agent of any association, partnership or corporation shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1933, c. 137, s. 1.)

§ 105-445. Application of proceeds of gasoline tax.—The fund derived from the tax herein levied shall be for the exclusive uses of the purposes set out in this article, and disbursed on vouchers drawn by the State Highway and Public Works Commission in accordance with the acts of the General Assembly dealing with the subject matter herein referred to. (1931, c. 145, s. 24; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

§ 105-446. Tax rebate fuels not used in motor vehicles on highways.—Any person, association, firm, or corporation, who shall buy in quantities of ten gallons or more at any one time any motor fuels as defined in this article for the purpose of use, and the same is actually used, for a purpose other than the operation of a motor vehicle designed for use upon the highways, on which motor fuels the tax imposed by this article shall have been paid, shall be reimbursed at the rate of five cents per gallon of the amount of such tax or taxes paid under this article: Provided, however, that motor vehicles designed for use but not used upon the highways of this state shall be entitled to the refund of gasoline tax as herein provided, upon the following conditions and in the following manner:

(a) Before using such motor fuels the person, association, firm, or corporation proposing to use the same shall apply to the commissioner of revenue, upon blanks to be furnished by him, for a refund permit. Such application shall state the use for which the motor fuels for which taxes are to be refunded are to be used. If such motor fuels are to be used in a gasoline motor or engine, the application shall state the make and kind of such motor, the serial number thereof, and the purpose for which it is proposed to use the same. If such motor fuels are to be used for some purpose other than the operation of an engine, the application shall state the nature and kind of process in which such motor fuels are to be used, and the method and manner in which such motor fuels are to be used, stored and kept. In all cases such application shall state the approximate number of gallons of such motor fuels to be used per month, and shall give such other information as the commissioner of revenue shall require. In making application for refund permit, the person making application may combine one or more of the uses above specified in the same application. Dealers in motor fuel engaged in selling such fuel to motor boats owned by non-residents, and which boats are not documented in this state, may apply to the commissioner of revenue for a permit on forms to be prescribed by the commissioner of revenue, which permit shall entitle the said dealer to be furnished with blanks by the commissioner of revenue in such form as may be prescribed by him, for the use of such non-resident boat owners to file applications for refunds as provided in this article, and said non-resident boat owners shall not be required to secure permits. Such application for refund shall be filed in the name of the non-resident boat owner on blanks furnished by dealers holding permits. Said applications must be accompanied by an invoice of the dealer holding permit, showing the number of gallons of motor fuel delivered into the tanks of said boats and shall furnish such other information as the commissioner of revenue shall require. Applications must be sworn to before a notary public of this state and filed with the commissioner of revenue. Upon approval of said applications by the commissioner of revenue, said applications shall be paid as other applications for refund are paid: Provided, however, that such non-residents must file applications with the commissioner of revenue within thirty days from the date of purchase of said gasoline and that said applications may be paid immediately upon approval. The application shall be accompanied by a fee of one dollar, to be returned if the refund permit is not issued. Such fees, if retained, shall be paid by the commissioner of revenue to the state treasurer, to be credited by him to the state highway fund.

(b) If, upon the filing of such application, the commissioner of revenue shall be satisfied that the same is made in good faith and that the motor fuels upon which the said tax refund is requested are to be used exclusively for one of the purposes set forth above and specified in said application, he shall issue to said applicant a refund permit specifying the terms and conditions under which refunds on such motor fuels will be made, which refund permits will expire with the fiscal year in which it is issued. Refund permits issued under this article shall state the name of the person, association, firm, or corporation to whom and for whose benefit it is issued, the purposes for which the motor fuels upon which tax refunds are to be made under the provisions thereof are to be used and the approximate number of gallons expected to be used per month for such purposes, and the commissioner of revenue shall determine such amount. Such refund permits shall bear serial numbers and shall not be transferable, nor shall any right or claim for refund under the same be transferable: Provided, however, that the commissioner of revenue shall not be required to issue any refund permit for use of motor fuels unless and until the applicant therefor shall have satisfied the commissioner of revenue that provisions have been made for the storage of such motor fuels in a manner prescribed by the commissioner of revenue, so as to segregate the same from motor fuels for use in vehicles upon the highways.

(c) All claims for refunds for tax or taxes for motor fuels under the provisions of this article shall be filed with the commissioner of revenue on forms to be prescribed by him, between the first and the fifteenth day of January, April, July, and/or October of each year, and at such periods only, and shall cover only the motor fuels so used during the three months immediately preceding the filing of such application. Such application shall be accompanied by ticket, invoice, or other document from the retail dealer or distributor for motor fuels, issued at the time of purchase of such motor fuel and showing the purchase of the number of gallons of motor fuels on which said refund is requested, and upon which shall be written or stamped at the time of purchase appropriate words showing the purpose for which the said motor fuel is purchased and that refund will be requested. The application shall be sworn to before the clerk of the superior court or a notary public of the county in which the applicant resides or has his place of business, and such attesting officer is authorized to charge therefor a fee of not exceeding twenty-five cents. Provided, that claims for refund of the tax on motor fuel that are not filed with the Commissioner of Revenue within the time specified in this section, but that are filed within 30 days thereafter, may be paid by the Commissioner of Revenue after first deducting 10% from said claims as a penalty for not filing them within the time specified.

(d) If the commissioner of revenue shall be satisfied that the motor fuels specified in such application for refund have been legitimately used for the purpose specified in the refund permit issued to such applicant, he shall issue to such applicant a warrant upon the state treasurer for the said taxes paid on such motor fuels under this article.

(e) No refund of tax or taxes shall be paid on motor fuels except under a refund permit and to the person, association, firm, or corporation named in said refund permit in the manner herein provided for.

(f) If the commissioner of revenue shall be satisfied that the holder of any refund permit issued under the provisions of this article has violated the conditions thereof, or has collected or sought to collect any refund of tax or taxes thereunder upon any motor fuels not used in strict accordance with said refund permit, he shall issue notice to the holder of such refund permit to show cause why the refund permit should not be cancelled, which notice shall state a time and place of hearing upon said notice. If upon such hearing the commissioner shall find as a fact that the permit holder has violated the terms of his permit, he shall cancel such refund permit and the holder thereof shall be required to repay all tax or taxes which have been refunded to him under such permit.

(g) Any applicant for a refund permit or any holder of a refund permit may appeal from the decision of the commissioner of revenue upon any matters arising under this section to the state board of assessment, who shall hear the matters presented on such appeal at a time and place to be fixed by said state board of assessment. Such state board of assessment shall have authority to cause the attendance of witnesses in behalf of such applicant or of the commissioner of revenue, and shall have authority to administer oaths and take testimony.

(h) The commissioner of revenue is hereby authorized and directed, if at any time in his opinion there is reason to doubt the accuracy of the facts set forth in any application for tax refund, to refer the matter to any agent of the department of revenue or to any member of the state highway patrol, and such person so designated shall make a careful investigation of all the facts and circumstances relating to said application in the use of the motor fuel therein referred to, and shall have a right to have access to the books and records of any retailer or distributor of motor fuel products for the purpose of obtaining the necessary information concerning such matters, and shall make due report thereof to the commissioner of revenue.

(i) If any court of last resort shall hold that the provisions for refund herein set out shall render the levying and collecting of the tax hereinbefore provided invalid, it is the intention of the general assembly that such provisions for refund shall be annulled and the tax shall be levied without any provisions for such refund and that this article shall be so construed.

Any person making a false return or affidavit for the purpose of securing a refund to which he is not entitled under the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00), or imprisoned not exceeding two years, in the discretion of the court. 1931, c. 145, s. 24, c. 304; 1933, c. 211; 1937, c. 111; 1941, c. 15.)

§ 105-447. Reports of carriers. — Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of, or transporting motor fuel, whether common carrier or otherwise, and whether by rail, water, pipe line or over public highways, either in interstate or in intrastate commerce, to points within the state of North Carolina, and every person, firm or corporation transporting motor fuel by whatever manner to a point in the state of North Carolina from any point outside of said state shall be required to keep for a period of two years from the date of each delivery records on forms prescribed by, or satisfactory to, the commissioner of revenue of all receipts and deliveries of motor fuel so received or delivered to points within the state of North Carolina, including duplicate original copies of delivery tickets or invoices covering such receipts and deliveries, showing the date of the receipt or delivery, the name and address of the party to whom each delivery is made, and the amount of each delivery; and shall report, under oath, to the commissioner of revenue, on forms prescribed by said commissioner of revenue, all deliveries of motor fuel so made to points within the state of North Carolina. Such reports shall cover monthly periods, shall be submitted within the first ten days of each month covering all shipments transported and delivered for the previous month, shall show the name and address of the person to whom the deliveries of motor fuel have actually and in fact been made, the name and address of the originally named consignee if motor fuel has been delivered to any other than the originally named consignee, the point of origin, the point of delivery, the date of delivery, and the number and initials of each tank car, and the number of gallons contained therein if shipped by rail; the name of the boat, barge or vessel, and the number of gallons contained therein, and the consignor and consignee if shipped by water; the license number of each tank truck and the number of gallons contained therein, and the consignor and consignee if transported by motor truck; if delivered by other means the manner in which such delivery is made; and such other additional information relative to shipments of motor fuel as the commissioner of revenue may require: Provided, that the commissioner of revenue may modify or suspend the provisions of this section with regard to reports of interstate or intrastate shipments or deliveries upon application of any licensed distributor: Provided, also, that the commissioner of revenue shall have full power to require any distributor to make additional reports and to produce for examination duplicate originals of delivery tickets or invoices covering both receipts and deliveries of products as herein provided. The reports herein provided for shall cover specifically gasoline, kerosene, benzine, naphtha, crude oil, or any distillates from crude petroleum. Any person, firm or corporation refusing, failing or neglecting to make such report shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1929, c. 230, s. 1; 1933, c. 137, s. 1.)

§ 105-448. Forwarding of information to other states.—The commissioner of revenue of the state of North Carolina shall, upon request duly received from the officials to whom are intrusted the enforcement of the motor fuel tax laws of any other state, forward to such officials any information which he may have in his possession relative to the manufacture, receipt, sale, use, transportation or shipment by any person of motor fuel. (1933, c. 137, s. 1.)

§ 105-449. Exemption of gasoline used in public school transportation; false returns, etc. — 1. Any person, firm or corporation holding a North Carolina state contract for the sale of gasoline to be used in public school transportation in North Carolina shall invoice gasoline so sold and delivered to the county boards of education at the prevailing contract price, less the state tax on gasoline. A copy of such invoice showing the board of education to whom the gasoline is delivered, the kind of gasoline sold, the gallons sold, and the contract price per gallon, shall be submitted to the North Carolina department of revenue each month, supported with an official purchase order from the county board or boards of education, which invoice or invoices and supporting purchase order shall exempt the gasoline purchased by said board or boards of education for use in North Carolina public school transportation from the six cents tax per gallon state gasoline tax.

2. The commissioner of revenue of North Carolina is hereby authorized and directed to accept such invoices and supporting purchase orders, duly notarized, in lieu of the six cents per gallon tax imposed by the laws of North Carolina upon said gasoline: Provided, when any authorized dealer has already paid the state gasoline gallon tax and furnishes the commissioner of revenue with proper invoices and supporting purchase orders as required in subsection one of this section, then such dealer shall be entitled to a refund by the commissioner of revenue of six cents per gallon from the gasoline fund for each gallon so sold and delivered to the county boards of education for use in public school transportation in school busses, service trucks, and gasoline delivery wagons used only for school purposes.

3. It is the intent and purpose of this section to relieve gasoline used in the public school system of North Carolina from the six cents gasoline tax now imposed by the state and thereby to that extent reduce the cost of public school transportation.

4. Any person making a false return or affidavit for the purpose of securing a refund to which he is not entitled under the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00), or imprisoned not exceeding two years, in the discretion of the court. (1941, c. 119.)

SUBCHAPTER VI. TAX RESEARCH.

Art. 37. Department of Tax Research.

§ 105-450. Provision for department of tax research.—The governor may, in his discretion, separate the statistical and research unit of the department of revenue and designate it as a department of tax research. (1941, c. 327, s. 1.)

§ 105-451. Appointment of director; salary.—When so designated the department shall be directed by an officer to be designated as the director of the department of tax research, who shall be appointed by and responsible to the governor, and shall serve at the will of the governor. The director shall be paid an annual salary to be fixed by the governor with the approval of the advisory budget commission, payable in monthly installments, and shall likewise be allowed his traveling expenses when away from Raleigh on official business. (1941, c. 327, s. 2.)

§ 105-452. Clerical assistants and office equipment.—The director is authorized to employ such additional clerical assistants and to obtain such additional office equipment as may be approved by the governor and the advisory budget commission. (1941, c. 327, s. 3.)

§ 105-453. Study of taxation; data for governor and general assembly; examination of persons, papers, etc.—It shall be the duty of the director to make a statistical analysis by groups and by counties of receipts under each article of the Revenue Act, and to make a thorough study of the subject of taxation as it relates to taxation within and by the state of North Carolina, including cities, counties, and subdivisions, their exercise and power of taxation; and to make a study of the taxation in other states, including the subjects of listing property for taxation, the classification of property for taxation, exemptions, and tax collections and tax collecting, and he shall have the power and authority to make a comparative study of the subject of taxation in all its phases, including the relation between state taxation and federal taxation, and said director shall assemble, classify and digest for practical use all available data on the subject of taxation, to the end that the same may be submitted to the governor and general assembly and may also be available for all citizens and officials of the state who are interested therein.

To carry out the purposes of this article, the director of the department of research shall have the same authority as given the state board of assessment in § 105-276, to examine persons, papers and records and to acquire reports from state departments and counties, cities and towns. (1941, c. 327, s. 4.)

§ 105-454. Purpose of creation of department.—The creation of the department of tax research is for the purpose of securing for the public and the general assembly, as well as for the executive department of the state, at a minimum cost, all such information that the public and the general assembly and the executive department should have relative to tax matters, including methods and systems of taxation in other states, to the end that the executive department and the general assembly in dealing with matters of revenue and taxation may have such information and tax data available for consideration. (1941, c. 327, s. 5.)

§ 105-455. Submission of proposed amendments to budget advisory commission.—The director of the department of tax research shall prepare and submit to the budget advisory commission such amendments to the Revenue and Machinery Acts as the survey made by the director indicates should be made, for their consideration in preparing amendatory Revenue and Machinery Acts for the general assembly. (1941, c. 327, s. 7.)

§ 105-456. Publication of biennial report.—The director of the department of tax research shall make and publish two thousand (2,000) copies of a biennial report, combined with the biennial report of the state board of assessment, of such scope as may be approved by the governor, which shall include recommendations and a digest of the most important factual statistics of state and local taxation. (1941, c. 327, s. 8.)

§ 105-457. Expenses of department of tax research.—All expenses of the department of tax research, except the appropriation for the statistical and research unit and such allotments as may be made by the governor from the contingency and emergency fund, shall be borne by the state department of revenue and all accounts kept by, and vouchers issued by, the accounting division of the department of revenue. (1941, c. 327, s. 9.)

SUBCHAPTER VII. PAYMENTS RECEIVED FROM TENNESSEE VALLEY AUTHORITY IN LIEU OF TAXES.

Art. 38. Equitable Distribution between State and Local Governments.

§ 105-458. Apportionment of payments in lieu of taxes between state and local units.—The payments received by the state and local governments from the Tennessee Valley Authority in lieu of taxes under section thirteen of the Act of Congress creating it, and as amended, shall be apportioned between the state and the local governments in which the property is owned or an operation is carried on, on the basis of the percentage of loss of taxes to each, determined as hereinafter provided: Provided, however, that the minimum annual payment to any local government from said fund, including the amounts paid direct to said local government by the Authority, shall not be less than the amount of annual actual tax loss to such local government based upon the two year average of taxes on said property next prior to its being taken over by the Authority. (1941, c. 85, s. 1.)

§ 105-459. Determination of amount of taxes lost by virtue of T. V. A. operation of property; proration of funds.—The state board of assessment shall determine each year, on the basis of current tax laws, the total taxes that would be due to both the state of North Carolina and the local governments in the same manner as if the property owned and/or operated by the Authority were owned and/or operated by a privately owned public utility: Provided, however, in making said calculations the state board of assessment shall use the tax rate fixed by the local government unit and taxing district involved for the tax year next preceding such calculations. The state board of assessment and the treasurer of the state of North Carolina shall then prorate the funds received from the Authority by the state and local governments between the state and local governments upon the basis of the foregoing calculations. (1941, c. 85, s. 2.)

§ 105-460. Distribution of funds by state treasurer.—The treasurer of the state of North Carolina shall then ascertain the payments to be made to the state and local governments upon the basis of the provisions of § 105-459 and he is authorized and directed to distribute the same between the state and local governments in accordance with the foregoing provisions of § 105-459. The treasurer of the state of North Carolina is further authorized and directed to pay said sums to the state and local governments each month or so often as he shall receive payments from the Authority, but not more often than once each month, after first deducting from any sum to be paid a local government such amount as has theretofore been paid direct to said local government by the Authority for the same period: Provided, however, that the minimum annual payment to any local government from said fund shall not be less than the average annual tax on the property taken by the Authority for the two years next preceding the taking. (1941, c. 85, s. 3.)

§ 105-461. Duty of county accountant, etc.—The county accountant or other proper officer of each local government to which this subchapter is applicable shall:

(a) Certify to the state board of assessment and the treasurer of the state of North Carolina the tax rate fixed by the governing body of such local government immediately upon the fixing of the same;

(b) certify each month to the treasurer of the state of North Carolina a statement of the amount received by the local government direct from the Authority. No local government shall be entitled to receive its distributive share of said fund from the treasurer of the state of North Carolina until the foregoing information has been properly furnished. If any such local government shall fail to furnish the information herein required within ten days from and after receipt by it from the state board of assessment of request for the same, forwarded by registered mail, then and in that event it shall be barred from participating in the benefits provided for the period for which the same is requested. (1941, c. 85, s. 4.)

§ 105-462. Local units entitled to benefits; prerequisite for payments.—Any local governments within the state in which the authority now or may hereafter own property or carry on an operation shall be entitled to the benefits arising under this subchapter: Provided, however, that no payment shall be made to them by the treasurer of the state of North Carolina until such time as such local governments shall have certified to the state board of assessment and the treasurer of the state of North Carolina the average annual tax loss it has sustained by the taking of said property for the two years immediately preceding the taking thereof: Provided, further, that in the event of any disagreement between said local governments and the treasurer of the state of North Carolina as to such annual tax loss, then the same shall be determined by the state board of assessment, and its decision thereon shall be final. (1941, c. 85, s. 5.)

§ 106-1. Constitutional provision.—The general assembly shall establish a department of agriculture, immigration, and statistics, under such regulations as may best promote the agricultural interests of the state, and shall enact laws for the adequate protection and encouragement of sheep husbandry. (Rev., s. 3930; Const., Art. III, s. 17; C. S. 4666.)

§ 106-2. Department of agriculture, immigration, and statistics established; board of agriculture, membership, terms of office, etc.—The department of agriculture, immigration, and statistics is created and established and shall be under the control of the commissioner of agriculture, with the consent and advice of a board to be styled "The Board of Agriculture." The board of agriculture shall consist of the commissioner of agriculture, who shall be ex officio a member and chairman thereof and shall preside at all meetings, and of ten other members from the state at large, so distributed as to reasonably represent the different sections and agriculture of the state. In the appointment of the members of the board the governor shall also take into consideration the different agricultural interests of the state, and shall appoint one member who shall be a practical tobacco farmer to represent the tobacco farming interest, one who shall be a practical cotton grower to represent the cotton interest, one who shall be a practical truck farmer or general farmer to represent the truck and general farming interest, one who shall be a practical dairy farmer to represent the dairy and livestock interest of the state, one who shall be a practical poultry man to represent the poultry interest of the state, one who shall be a practical peanut grower to represent the peanut interest, one who shall be a man experienced in marketing to represent the marketing of products of the state. The members of such board shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate, when the terms of the incumbents respectively expire. The term of office of such members shall be six years and until their successors are duly appointed and qualified. The terms of office of the five members constituting the present board of agriculture shall continue for the time for which they were appointed. In making appointments for the enlarged board of agriculture, the governor shall make the appointments so that the term of three members will be for two years, three for four and four for six years. Thereafter the appointments shall be made for six years. Vacancies in such board shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired term. The commissioner of agriculture and the members of the board of agriculture shall be practical farmers engaged in their profession. (Rev., s. 3931; Code, s. 2184; 1901, c. 479, ss. 2, 4; 1907, c. 497, s. 1; 1931, c. 360, s. 1; 1937, c. 174; C. S. 4667.)

§ 106-3. Compensation of members. — Each member of the board of Agriculture shall receive compensation for each day he attends a session of the board and for each day necessarily spent in traveling to and from his residence. He shall also receive necessary traveling expenses for the distance to and from Raleigh. When attending any committee meeting each member of the committee, other than the chairman, shall receive the same per diem rate and mileage as is fixed for attending meetings of the board. (Rev., s. 3932; 1901, c. 479, s. 3; 1919, c. 247, s. 10½; C. S. 4668.)

§ 106-4. Meetings of board.—The board of agriculture, herein established, hereafter called "the board," shall meet for the transaction of business in the city of Raleigh at least twice a year, and oftener, if called by the commissioner of agriculture. (Rev., s. 3935; 1901, c. 479, s. 3; 1921, c. 24; 1929, c. 252; 1931, c. 360, s. 2; C. S. 4669.)

§ 106-5. Executive committee and finance committee.—The board shall elect from its numbers an executive committee of four, of which committee the commissioner shall also be ex officio a member and chairman. The board shall elect a finance committee of five from its numbers. The board shall prescribe the powers and duties of these committees, and the commissioner may call meetings of these committees whenever in his opinion such meetings are desirable for the good of the department. (Rev., s. 3936; 1907, c. 876, s. 1; C. S. 4670.)

§ 106-6. Moneys received to be paid into state treasury.—All moneys arising from tonnage charges on fertilizers and fertilizing materials, inspection taxes on cottonseed meal and concentrated commercial feeding stuff, and from the sale of any property seized and condemned under the provisions of this chapter, and all other moneys which may come into the hands of the commissioner of agriculture or other officer, member or employee of the department of agriculture by virtue of this chapter, shall be paid into the state treasury by the commissioner of agriculture, and shall be kept on a separate account by the treasurer as a fund for the exclusive use and benefit of the department of agriculture. (Rev., s. 3937; Code, s. 2208; 1876-7, c. 174, s. 22; C. S. 4671.)

§ 106-7. Power of board.—The board shall be empowered to hold in trust and exercise control over donations or bequests made to it for promoting the interests or purposes of the department. (Rev., s. 3933; 1901, c. 479, s. 3; C. S. 4672.)

§ 106-8. May require bonds of officers.—Bonds may be required for such amounts as the board may think best for all officers of the department who handle funds. (Rev., s. 3934; 1901, c. 479, s. 14; C. S. 4673.)

§ 106-9. Annual report.—The board shall annually make a report to the governor, to be transmitted by him to the general assembly the years when in session, of its work and matters relating thereto, which report shall contain a statement of all receipts and expenditures and the objects for which expended. (1907, c. 876, s. 2; C. S. 4674.)

Part 2. Commissioner of Agriculture.

§ 106-10. Election; term; vacancy.—The commissioner of agriculture shall be elected at the general election for other state officers, shall be voted for on the same ballot with such officers, and his term of office shall be four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. Any vacancy in the office of such commissioner shall be filled by the governor, the appointee to hold until the next regular election to the office and the qualification of his successor. (Rev., s. 3938; 1901, c. 479, s. 4; C. S. 4675.)

§ 106-11. Salary of commissioner of agriculture.—The salary of the commissioner of agriculture shall be six thousand dollars a year, payable monthly. (Rev., s. 2749; 1901, c. 479, s. 4; 1905, c. 529; 1907, c. 887, s. 1; 1913, c. 58; 1921, c. 25, s. 1; 1933, c. 282, s. 5; 1935, c. 293; 1937, c. 415; 1939, c. 338; C. S. 3872.)

§ 106-12. To appoint secretary and other officials.—The commissioner of agriculture shall appoint a secretary and prescribe his duties, and shall appoint such employees as may be necessary to the efficient prosecution of the duties of the department of agriculture. He shall, subject to the approval of a majority of the board, appoint heads of divisions and their assistants. (Rev., s. 3939; 1901, c. 479, s. 4; 1913, c. 202; C. S. 4676.)

§ 106-13. To investigate purchases, sources, and manufacture of fertilizer. — The commissioner of agriculture shall investigate all complaints made by purchasers of fertilizers, and render such services as he may be able in bringing about an adjustment and satisfactory settlement of such complaints. It shall be his duty to ascertain as near as may be the actual cost of blood tankage, fish-scrap, nitrate of soda, cotton-seed meal, and other materials from which ammonia or nitrogen is obtained; the cost of all phosphate rock, together with a description of the treatment with acids, the grinding and general manufacture of acid phosphate, and the actual cost thereof as near as may be, and to communicate with dealers, both in this country and in Germany, as to the cost of muriate of potash, kainit, and other sources of potash, and to publish the same in The Bulletin; but he shall not expose to the public the name of any manufacturer in this state who may give him information on this subject, nor shall he divulge any information concerning the private business of any corporation or company manufacturing fertilizers solely in this state: Provided, such corporation or company is not a part or branch of any trust or combination. He shall also make and publish in every fertilizer bulletin a price-list of the market value of all the materials of which fertilizers are made, and revise the same as often as may be necessary. (Rev., s. 3940; 1901, c. 479, s. 4; C. S. 4677.)

§ 106-14. To establish regulations for transportation of livestock.—The commissioner of agriculture, by and with the consent and advice of the board of agriculture, shall promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper transporting of livestock by motor vehicle, and may require a permit for such vehicles if it becomes necessary in order to prevent the spread of animal diseases. This section shall not apply to any county having a local law providing for the vaccination of hogs against cholera. (1937, c. 427, ss. 1, 2.)

(Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 43; C. S. 4685.)

§ 106-21. Timber conditions to be investigated and reported.—The department of agriculture shall investigate and report upon the conditions of the timber in North Carolina, and recommend such legislation as will promote the growth thereof and preserve the same. (Rev., s. 3942; 1901, c. 479, s. 13; C. S. 4686.)

§ 106-22. Joint duties of commissioner and board.—The commissioner of agriculture, by and with the consent and advice of the board of agriculture, shall:

1. General.—Investigate and promote such subjects relating to the improvement of agriculture, the beneficial use of commercial fertilizers and composts, and for the inducement of immigration and capital as he may think proper; but he is especially charged—

2. Commercial Fertilizers.—With such supervision of the trade in commercial fertilizers as will best protect the interests of the farmers, and shall report to solicitors and to the general assembly information as to the existence or formation of trusts or combinations in fertilizers or fertilizing materials which are or may be offered for sale in this state, whereby the interests of the farmers may be injuriously affected, and shall publish such information in The Bulletin of the department;

3. Cattle and Cattle Diseases.—With investigations adapted to promote the improvement of milk and beef cattle, and especially investigations relating to the diseases of cattle and other domestic animals, and shall publish and distribute from time to time information relative to any contagious diseases of stock, and suggest remedies therefor, and shall have power in such cases to quarantine the infected animals and to regulate the transportation of stock in this state, or from one section of it to another, and may coöperate with the United States department of agriculture in establishing and maintaining cattle districts or quarantine lines, to prevent the infection of cattle from splenic or Spanish fever. Any person willfully violating such regulations shall be liable in a civil action to any person injured, and for any and all damages resulting from such conduct, and shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor;

4. Honey and Bee Industry.—With investigations adapted to promote the improvement of the honey and bee industry in this state, and especially investigations relating to the diseases of bees, and shall publish and distribute from time to time information relative to such diseases, and such remedies therefor, and shall have power in such cases to quarantine the infected bees and to control or eradicate such infections and to regulate the transportation or importation into North Carolina from any other state or country of bees, honey, hives, or any apiary equipment, or from one section of the state to another, and may cooperate with the United States department of agriculture in establishing and maintaining quarantine lines or districts. The commissioner of agriculture, by and with the consent and advice of the board of agriculture, shall have power to make rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this section; and in event of failure to comply with any such rules and regulations, the commissioner of agriculture or his duly authorized agent is authorized to confiscate and destroy any infected bees and equipment and any bees and/or used apiary equipment moved in violation of these regulations.

5. Insect Pests.—With investigations relative to the ravages of insects and with the dissemination of such information as may be deemed essential for their abatement, and making regulations for destruction of such insects. The willful violation of any of such regulations by any person shall be a misdemeanor;

6. New Agricultural Industries.—With investigations and experiments directed to the introduction and fostering of new agricultural industries, adapted to the various climates and soils of the state, especially the culture of truck and market gardens, the grape and other fruits;

7. Drainage and Irrigation; Fertilizer Sources.—With the investigation of the subject of drainage and irrigation and publication of information as to the best methods of both, and what surfaces, soils, and locations may be most benefited by such improvements; also with the collection and publication of information in regard to localities, character, accessibility, cost, and modes of utilization of native mineral and domestic sources of fertilizers, including formulæ for composting adapted to the different crops, soils, and materials;

8. Farm Fences.—With the collection of statistics relating to the subject of farm fences, with suggestions for diminishing their cost, and the conditions under which they may be dispensed with altogether;

9. Sales of Fertilizers, Seeds, and Food Products.—With the enforcement and supervision of the laws which are or may be enacted in this state for the sale of commercial fertilizers, seeds and food products, and with authority to make regulations concerning the same;

10. Inducement of Capital and Immigration.—With the inducement of capital and immigration by the dissemination of information relative to the advantages of soil and climate and to the natural resources and industrial opportunities offered in this state, by the keeping of a land registry and by the publication of descriptions of agricultural, mineral, forest, and trucking lands which may be offered the department for sale; which publication shall be in tabulated form, setting forth the county, township, number of acres, names and addresses of owners, and such other information as may be needful in placing inquiring home-seekers in communication with landowners; and he shall publish a list of such inquiries in the Bulletin for the benefit of those who may have land for sale;

11. Diversified Farming.—With such investigations as will best promote the improvement and extension of diversified farming, including the rotation of crops, the raising of home supplies, vegetables, fruits, stock, grasses, etc.;

12. Farmers' Institutes.—With the holding of farmers' institutes in the several counties of the state, as frequently as may be deemed advisable, in order to instruct the people in improved methods in farming, in the beneficial use of fertilizers and composts, and to ascertain the wants and necessities of the various farming communities; and may collect the papers and addresses made at these institutes and publish the same in pamphlet form annually for distribution among the farmers of the state. He may secure such assistants as may be necessary or beneficial in holding such institutes.

13. Publication of Bulletin.—The commissioner shall publish bulletins which shall contain a list of the fertilizers and fertilizing materials registered for sale each year, the guaranteed constituents of each brand, reports of analyses of fertilizers, the dates of meeting and reports of farmers' institutes and similar societies, description of farm buildings suited to our climate and needs, reports of interesting experiments of farmers, and such other matters as may be deemed advisable. The department may determine the number of bulletins which shall be issued each year.

14. Reports to Legislature.—He shall transmit to the general assembly at each session a report of the operations of the department with suggestions of such legislation as may be deemed needful.

15. State Museum.—He shall keep a museum or collection to illustrate the cultural and other resources and the natural history of the state. (Rev., ss. 3294, 3724, 3944; 1901, c. 479, s. 4; 1917, c. 16; 1939, c. 173; C. S. 4688.)

Part 4. Coöperation of Federal and State Governments in Agricultural Work.

§ 106-23. Legislative assent to Adams act for experiment station.—Legislative assent be and the same is hereby given to the purpose of an act of congress approved March sixteenth, one thousand nine hundred and six, entitled "An act to provide for an increased annual appropriation for agricultural experiment stations, and regulating the expenditure thereof," known as the Adams act, and the money appropriated by this act be and the same is hereby accepted on the part of the state for the use of the agricultural experiment station, and the whole amount shall be used for the benefit of the said agricultural experiment station, in accordance with the act of congress making appropriations for agricultural experiment stations and governing the expenditure thereof. (1907, c. 793; C. S. 4689.)

Part 5. Coöperation Between Department and United States Department of Agriculture, and County Commissioners.

§ 106-24. Collection and publication of information relating to agriculture; coöperation.—The department of agriculture shall collect, compile, systematize, tabulate, and publish statistical information relating to agriculture. The said department is authorized to coöperate with the United States department of agriculture and the several boards of county commissioners of the state, to accomplish the purpose of §§ 106-24 to 106-26. (1921, c. 201, s. 1; 1941, c. 343; C. S. 4689(a).)

§ 106-25. Department to furnish report books or forms for procuring and tabulating information; duties of tax supervisors and list takers; information confidential.—The said department shall annually provide and submit report books or forms to the official in charge of tax listing in each county of the state, as may be necessary for procuring and tabulating all statistical survey information required by §§ 106-24 to 106-26. The tax supervisor or other person charged with tax supervision of each county in the state shall prepare each township book and supply to each list taker of each county the report books or forms provided herein, and shall instruct such list taker as to his duties in carrying out the provisions of §§ 106-24 to 106-26. Such report books or forms shall be furnished the list taker before he enters upon his duties as list taker. It shall be the duty of each list taker and his assistants in each county of the state to fill out or cause to be filled out in the report books or forms, herein provided for and received by him, authentic information required to be tabulated therein, and, upon completion of such tabulation, shall return and deliver the said books or forms to the tax supervisor or other person performing such duties, within ten days after the time prescribed by law for securing the tax lists of his county. The tax listing supervisor or other person charged with tax supervision in such county shall inspect said books or forms for the purpose of determining whether or not at least ninety per cent of the tracts of land of such county are reported on in such report books or forms before accepting or paying the person performing these duties for his services. Upon being satisfied that the report books or forms are properly filled out in accordance with §§ 106-24 to 106-26, the tax supervisor or other person charged with tax listing supervision shall, within ten days after acceptance thereof, transmit and deliver such report books or forms to the department of agriculture. The information required in §§ 106-24 to 106-26 shall be held confidential by the tax supervisor or other person charged with this duty of tax supervision, by the list taker or his assistants obtaining the same, and by the department of agriculture. No information shall be required hereunder on farm tracts consisting of less than three acres. (1921, c. 201, s. 2; 1941, c. 343; C. S. 4689(b).)

§ 106-26. Compensation of list takers; examination of report books, etc., by department of agriculture.—As compensation for services performed under the provisions of §§ 106-24 to 106-26, the list taker or his assistants shall be paid an amount to be determined by the board of county commissioners of the county in which such services are performed. Upon receipt by the department of agriculture of the report books or forms, herein provided for, they shall be examined in order to determine whether or not they have been properly filled out in accordance with the provisions of §§ 106-24 to 106-26. Upon being satisfied that the information desired is in proper form, the tax supervisor or other person charged with tax supervision delivering the same shall be receipted therefor. If report books or forms are not complete in accordance with the provisions of §§ 106-24 to 106-26, they shall be duly returned to such tax supervisor or person charged with his duties, in order that the same may be properly completed. (1921, c. 201, s. 3; 1941, c. 343; C. S. 4689(c).)

Art. 2. North Carolina Fertilizer Law of 1933.

§ 106-27. Title.—This article shall be known by the short title of "The North Carolina fertilizer law of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three," as amended by the legislature of one thousand nine hundred and forty-one. (1933, c. 324, s. 1; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-28. Enforcing official.—This article shall be administered by the commissioner of agriculture of the state of North Carolina, hereinafter referred to as the "commissioner." (1933, c. 324, s. 2; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-29. Definitions.—When used in this article:

(a) The word "person" includes individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations.

(b) Words importing the singular number may extend and be applied to several persons or things, and words importing the plural number may include the singular.

(c) The term "manufacturer" means a person engaged in the business of preparing, mixing or manufacturing mixed fertilizers or fertilizer materials; and the term "manufacture" means preparation, mixing or manufacturing.

(d) The word "sell" or "sale" includes exchange.

(e) The term "fertilizer material" means any substance containing nitrogen, phosphoric acid, potash, other recognized plant foods, or combinations of these ingredients in forms available to plants, which is or may be used with another such substance in the compounding of mixed fertilizers, or for direct application to the soil, excepting unmanipulated animal manures and vegetable products.

(f) The term "mixed fertilizer" means any combination or mixture of fertilizer materials designed and fitted for use in inducing crop yields or plant growth when applied to the soil.

(g) The term "brand name" means the name under which any individual mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material is offered for sale and may include a number, trade mark, or other designation.

(h) The term "grade" means the minimum percentage of total nitrogen (N); phosphoric acid (P_2O_5) in available form (comprising the water and citrate soluble phosphoric acid) except as provided for in paragraph (e) of § 106-30; and available potash (K_2O). These are to be stated in this order, and when applied to mixed fertilizers, in whole numbers only.

(i) The term "official sample" means any sample of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material registered under this article which is taken by an authorized inspector of the department of agriculture according to the methods prescribed under § 106-35, paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f).

(j) The word "ton" means a ton of 2,000 pounds avoirdupois.

(k) The term "per cent" or "percentage" means the percentage by weight.

(l) The word "formula" as used in this article means a statement of all materials used in compounding the mixed fertilizer and the amount of each of such materials used in a ton, or a statement of the pounds or fractional parts of the nitrogen, available phosphoric acid and available potash that are derived from each fertilizer material used. When the formula of any mixed fertilizer is printed on a tag attached to the container this constitutes an open formula. An open formula shall express the quantity and grade of the crude stock materials used in making a fertilizer mixture. For example: 1000 lbs. superphosphate, 16% P_2O_5; 277 lbs. cotton seed meal, 5.76% N; 200 lbs. nitrate of soda, 16% N; 156 lbs. sulphate of ammonia, 20.5% N; 160 lbs. muriate of potash, 50% K_2O; and 207 lbs. limestone. (1933, c. 324, s. 3; 1937, c. 430, s. 1; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-30. Registration.—(a) All manufacturers, dealers or agents who may desire to sell or offer for sale hereafter in this state any fertilizers or fertilizer materials shall register annually on or before the first day of December or before offering for sale with the commissioner of agriculture upon forms furnished by said commissioner the name of each brand and grade of fertilizer or fertilizer material which they may desire to sell or offer for sale in the state, either by themselves or their agents together with the name and address of the applicant, and the following information with respect to each brand, grade or analysis in the following order:

(1) Net weight of each package in pounds.

(2) Brand name and grade.

(3) Guaranteed analysis showing the minimum percentages of plant food and other information in the following order:

A. In mixed fertilizers: (Other than those branded for tobacco.)

Total nitrogen, per cent (whole numbers only): Provided, further that the wording "total available nitrogen" may be stated and printed on the bag or tag, but that such guarantee be interpreted as "total nitrogen."

Water insoluble nitrogen, per cent of total, in multiples of five;

Available phosphoric acid, per cent (whole numbers only);

Available potash, per cent (whole numbers only);

Whether the fertilizer is acid forming or non-acid forming;

The potential basicity or acidity expressed as equivalent of calcium carbonate in multiples of five per cent (or one hundred pounds per ton) only.

B. In mixed fertilizers: (Branded for tobacco.)

Total nitrogen, per cent (whole numbers only): Provided, further that the wording "total available nitrogen" may be stated and printed on the bag or tag, but that such guarantee be interpreted as "total nitrogen."

(Optional) nitrogen in the form of nitrate, per cent of total in multiples of five;

Water insoluble nitrogen, per cent of total in multiples of five;

Available phosphoric acid, per cent (whole numbers only);

Available potash, per cent (whole numbers only); and the maximum percentage of chloride expressed as:

Chlorine, per cent.

Whether the fertilizer is acid forming or non-acid forming.

The potential basicity or acidity expressed as equivalent of calcium carbonate in multiples of five per cent (or one hundred pounds per ton) only.

C. In fertilizer materials: (if claimed).

Total nitrogen, per cent: Provided, further, that the wording "total available nitrogen" may be stated and printed on the bag or tag, but that such guarantee be interpreted as "total nitrogen."

Available phosphoric acid, per cent;

Available potash, per cent;

Or other recognized plant foods, per cent.

(4) The name and address of the person guaranteeing the registration.

(5) The sources from which such nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash are derived.

(6) Whether or not the brand will be sold with an open formula.

(b) The grade of any brand of mixed fertilizer shall not be changed during the registration period, but the guaranteed analysis may be changed in other respects and the sources of materials may be changed: Provided, prompt notification of such change is given to the commissioner and the change is noted on the container or tag: Provided, further, that the guaranteed analysis shall not be changed if it, in any way, lowers the quality of the fertilizer.

(c) The person offering for sale or selling any brand of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material shall not be required to register the same if it has already been registered under this article by a person entitled to do so and such registration is then outstanding.

(d) In the case of bone, tankage and other organic materials in which the phosphoric acid content is not shown by laboratory methods to be available but eventually becomes available in the soil, the phosphoric acid may be guaranteed as total phosphoric acid: Provided, that unacidulated mineral phosphatic materials and basic slag shall be guaranteed as to both total and available phosphoric acid.

(e) In no case, except in the case of unacidulated mineral phosphates and basic slag, shall the term total phosphoric acid and available phosphoric acid be used in the same statement of analysis.

(f) For the privilege of such registrations, the person engaged in the manufacture and sale of fertilizers and fertilizer materials shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture of the state of North Carolina at the time of offering the same for registration the sum of two dollars ($2.00) for each grade and brand name registered by each person shipping into or manufacturing fertilizer or fertilizer materials in this state and no grade and brand name shall be registered without the payment of said sum. The brand name registered by a person shall not be entitled to registration by another person and the person having first registered and used said brand name shall be entitled to it even should said brand name not be offered for current registration. The registration of all grades and brands of fertilizers or fertilizer materials shall expire on November thirtieth of the year for which they are registered. Brands that were registered during a previous year shall be required to be registered before they are again offered for sale in North Carolina: Provided that all persons heretofore registering fertilizer or fertilizer material with the commissioner of agriculture and having paid the registration fee required by chapter three hundred and twenty-four, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, shall be given credit on future registration fees required under this article for the unearned or unused portion of the fees so paid on a pro rata basis of the period covered by said fee.

(g) Every person proposing to manufacture or deal in mixed fertilizers and fertilizer materials shall, after filing the statement above provided for with the commissioner of agriculture, receive from the said commissioner a certificate stating that he has complied with the foregoing sections, which certificate shall be furnished by the commissioner without any charge therefor. The said certificate when furnished shall authorize the party receiving the same to manufacture for sale in this state, or to sell in this state, directly or through dealers or agents, the brands and grades named in said certificate. No person who has failed to pay the fee, to file the statement, and to receive the certificate of authority shall be authorized to manufacture or offer for sale in this state mixed fertilizers and fertilizer materials; and any person so manufacturing for sale in this state, or so dealing or selling without having paid the fee, filed the statement, and received the certificate, except dealers and agents selling, or offering for sale, fertilizers on which the fee has been paid by, and certificate issued to, the manufacturers as provided for in the preceding sections of this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor for each violation and shall be subject to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00). (1933, c. 324, s. 4; 1937, c. 430, s. 2; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-31. Marking.—(a) Each person who sells or offers for sale mixed fertilizer or fertilizer materials in this state shall associate with each shipment the information required by items (1) to (4), both inclusive, of paragraph (a) and by paragraph (d) of § 106-30. If shipped in bags, barrels or other containers commonly used, the brand name and either the grade or guaranteed analysis (total nitrogen, available phosphoric acid and available potash) shall be printed on the package. If more than one grade is sold under one brand name, the grade shall be printed on the package. Additional information required by this section shall appear either on the package or on a tag, affixed at the end of the package and in the case of bags with ears, the tag, if used, shall be affixed between the ears.

(b) If shipped in bulk by rail, said information shall be printed on a suitable label which shall be fastened on the inside wall of the car near the door.

(c) If shipped in bulk by boat, truck, wagon, or other vehicle, said information shall be attached to the copy of the invoice delivered to the purchaser or other receiver.

(d) If shipped in packages weighing less than fifty pounds, said information shall be printed on the tag or container in which the material is delivered to the purchaser.

(e) If the fertilizer is registered for sale with an open formula it is required that a separate tag be attached to the container, which tag shall state only the formula, the brand name and the name and address of the person guaranteeing the registration.

(f) The statement on the open formula tag shall constitute a guarantee of the kinds, amounts, and analysis of fertilizer materials in the container to which the tag is attached.

(g) If the analysis of any brand of fertilizer sold or offered for sale with an open formula shall show that this statement is false, the commissioner may revoke the right to sell or offer for sale such brand with an open formula for a period of two years.

(h) Any manufacturer or other producer who shall have suffered three such revocations in any two year period shall not be permitted to register any brand with an open formula for two years following the last revocation.

(i) The tags, labels or certificates, when required by this section, shall be furnished by the manufacturer.

(j) Magnesium oxide (MgO), calcium oxide (CaO), and sulphur (S) may be claimed as ingredients in all mixed fertilizers, but when so claimed the minimum percentages of total magnesium oxide (MgO), total calcium oxide (CaO) and total sulphur (S) shall be guaranteed; excepting that the sulphur guarantees for fertilizers branded for tobacco shall be both the maximum and the minimum percentages.

(k) Additional plant food, elements, compounds, or classes of compounds determinable by chemical control methods, may be guaranteed only by permission of the commissioner by and with the advice of the director of the North Carolina Experiment Station. When any such additional plant food, elements, compounds, or classes of compounds are included in the guarantee, they shall be subject to inspection, and analysis in accordance with the methods and regulations that may be prescribed by the commissioner. The commissioner shall also fix penalties for failure to fulfill such guarantees. (1933, c. 324, s. 5; 1937, c. 430, s. 3; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-32. Use of the term "high grade".—The words "high grade" shall not appear upon any tag, bag, or other container of any mixed fertilizer which contains, by the guaranteed analysis, a total of less than twenty per cent of available plant food (total nitrogen—available phosphoric acid—available potash). (1933, c. 324, s. 6; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-33. Tonnage tax.—(a) Inspection Tax of Fertilizer; Tax Tags.—For the purpose of defraying expenses of the inspection and of otherwise determining the value of mixed fertilizers and fertilizer materials in this state, there shall be paid to the department of agriculture a charge of twenty-five cents per ton or one cent for each individual package containing fifty pounds net or less and more than five pounds on such mixed fertilizers and fertilizer materials, which charge shall be paid before a delivery is made to agents, dealers, or consumers in this state. On individual packages of five pounds or less, there shall be paid in lieu of the tonnage tax an annual registration fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each brand or grade offered for sale in packages of five pounds or less. Each bag, barrel, or other container of such mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material shall have attached thereto a tag to be furnished by the department of agriculture stating that all charges specified in this section have been paid, and the commissioner, with the advice and consent of the board of agriculture is hereby empowered to prescribe a form for such tags, and to adopt such regulations as will insure the enforcement of this article. Whenever any manufacturer of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer materials shall have paid the charges required by this section, his goods shall not be liable to further tax, whether by city, town, or county: Provided, this shall not exempt the mixed fertilizer or fertilizer materials from an ad valorem tax.

(b) Issuance and Exchange of Tax Tags.—The tax tags required under this section shall be issued each year by the commissioner and be sold to persons applying for the same at the tax rate provided in paragraph (a) of this section. Undetached tags left in the possession of persons registering mixed fertilizers or fertilizer materials at the end of any calendar year may be exchanged for tags of the succeeding year, on or before March first.

(c) Tax Tags on Shipments in Bulk.—If any manufacturer, dealer, agent or other seller of fertilizer shall desire to ship in bulk any mixed fertilizer or fertilizer materials, the said manufacturer or seller of fertilizer shall send with the bill of lading sufficient cancelled tax tags to pay the tax on the amount of goods shipped, and the agent of the railroad or other transportation company shall deliver the tags to the consignee when the goods are delivered. (1933, c. 324, s. 7; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-34. Inspection.—It shall be the duty of the commissioner, personally or by agents, duly authorized in writing, to make such inspection of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material in this state, to have such samples taken, and to have such analyses made as in his judgment may be necessary to ascertain whether or not persons offering, selling or distributing mixed fertilizer or fertilizer materials are complying with the provisions of this article. (1933, c. 324, s. 8; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-35. Official sample, liability for deficiency or damage.—(a) Samples of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material complying with the definition set forth in paragraph (i) of § 106-29 and taken as hereafter prescribed in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of this section shall constitute official samples.

(b) For the purposes of analysis by the commissioner or his duly authorized chemists and for comparison with the guarantee supplied to the commissioner in accordance with §§ 106-30 and 106-31, the commissioner, or an official inspector duly appointed by him, shall take an official sample of not less than one pound from containers of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material. No sample shall be taken from less than five containers. If the lot comprises five (5) or more containers, portions shall be taken from each one up to a total of ten (10) containers. If the lot comprises from ten (10) to one hundred (100) containers, portions shall be taken from ten (10) containers. Of lots comprising more than one hundred (100) containers, portions shall be taken from ten (10) per cent of the total number of containers.

(c) In sampling mixed fertilizer or fertilizer materials, in bulk, either in a factory or a car, at least ten portions shall be drawn and these from different places so as fairly to represent the pile or car lot.

(d) In sampling, a core sampler shall be used that removes a core from the bag or other package from top to bottom, and the cores taken shall be mixed on clean oil cloth or paper, and if necessary shall be reduced after thoroughly mixing, by quartering, to the quantity of sample required. The composite sample taken from any lot of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material under the provision of this paragraph shall be placed in a tight container and shall be forwarded to the commissioner with proper identification marks.

(e) The commissioner may modify the provisions of this section to bring them into conformity with any changes that may hereafter be made in the official methods of and recommendations for sampling mixed fertilizers or fertilizer materials which shall have been adopted by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists. Thereafter, such methods and recommendations shall be used in all sampling done in connection with the administration of this article in lieu of those prescribed in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this section.

(f) All samples taken under the provisions of this section shall be taken from original unbroken bags or containers, the contents of which have not been damaged by exposure, water or otherwise.

(g) The commissioner shall refuse to analyze all samples except such as are taken under the provisions of this section and of § 106-36.

(h) No suit for damages claimed to result from the use of any lot of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material may be brought unless it shall be shown by an analysis of a sample taken and analyzed in accordance with the provisions of this article, that the said lot of fertilizer as represented by a sample or samples taken in accordance with the provisions of this section and § 106-36 do not conform to the provisions of this article with respect to the composition of the mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material, unless it shall appear to the commissioner that the manufacturer of the fertilizer in question has, in the manufacture of other goods offered in this state during such season, employed such ingredients as are outlawed by the provisions of this article, or unless it shall appear to the commissioner that the manufacturer of such fertilizer has offered for sale during that season any kind of dishonest or fraudulent goods.

(i) In the trial of any suit or action wherein there is called in question the value or composition of any lot of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material, a certificate signed by the fertilizer chemist and attested with the seal of the department of agriculture, setting forth the analysis made by the chemists of the department of agriculture, of any sample of said mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material, drawn under the provisions of this section or § 106-36 and analyzed by them under the provisions of the same, shall be prima facie proof that the fertilizer was of the value and constituency shown by said analysis. And the said certificate of the chemist shall be admissible in evidence to the same extent as if it were his deposition taken in said action in the manner prescribed by law for the taking of depositions. (1933, c. 324, s. 9; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-36. Samples by purchaser or consumer.—Any purchaser or consumer may take and have a sample of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material analyzed if taken in accordance with the following rules and regulations:

(a) At least five days before taking a sample, the purchaser or consumer shall notify the manufacturer or seller of the brand in writing, at his permanent address, of his intention to take such a sample and shall request the manufacturer or seller to designate a representative to be present when the sample is taken.

(b) The sample shall be drawn in the presence of the manufacturer, seller or a representative designated by either party together with two disinterested freeholders; or in case the manufacturer, seller, or representative of either refuses or is unable to witness the drawing of such a sample, a sample may be drawn in the presence of three disinterested freeholders; Provided, any such sample shall be taken with the same type of sampler as used by the inspector of the department of agriculture in taking samples and shall be drawn, mixed and divided as directed in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of § 106-35, except that the sample shall be divided into two parts each to consist of at least one pound. Each of these is to be placed in a separate, tight container, securely sealed, properly labeled, and one sent to the commissioner for analysis and the other to the manufacturer. A certified statement in a form which will be prescribed and supplied by the commissioner must be signed by the parties taking and witnessing the taking of the sample. Such certificate is to be made and signed in duplicate and one copy sent to the commissioner and the other to the manufacturer or seller of the brand sampled. The witnesses of the taking of any sample, as provided for in this section, shall be required to certify that such sample has been continuously under the observation from the taking of the sample up to and including the delivery of it to an express agency, a post office or to the office of the commissioner. No sample may be taken under the provisions of this section except within thirty days after the actual delivery to the consumer.

(c) Samples drawn in conformity with the requirements of this section shall have the same legal status in the courts of the state as those drawn by an official inspector of the department as provided for in § 106-35. (1933, c. 324, s. 10; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-37. Chemical analyses.—(a) the commissioner shall have the power at all times and in all places to have collected by an authorized inspector, samples of any mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material offered for sale in the state and to have the same analyzed.

(b) The official methods of analysis prescribed by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists shall be followed in making the chemical analyses provided for in this section.

(c) If the state chemist is required by law to make analyses or determinations for any ingredients before the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists shall have adopted an official, or tentative, method for such determination, then the state chemist shall prescribe a method of analysis to be used and he shall send a copy of such methods to every manufacturer, whose brands are registered in this state, at least six months before such provisions of the law become effective. (1933, c. 324, s. 11; 1937. c. 430, s. 4; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-38. Plant food deficiency.—(a) The commissioner, in determining for administrative purposes whether or not any mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material is deficient in plant food, shall be guided solely by the official sample as defined in § 106-29, and as provided for in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of § 106-35 and the samples taken under the provisions of § 106-36.

(b) If the analysis shall show that any mixed fertilizer falls as much as five per cent and not more than ten per cent below the guaranteed analysis in the total value of the guaranteed nitrogen, available phosphoric acid and available potash, twice the value of such deficiency shall be assessed against the manufacturer, dealer, or agent who sold such fertilizer. If the fertilizer shall fall over ten per cent below the guaranteed analysis in the total value of the guaranteed nitrogen, available phosphoric acid and available potash, the penalty assessed shall be four times the value of the deficiency: Provided, that in no case shall the total assessed penalties exceed the value of the goods to which it applies.

If the analysis shall show that any fertilizer or fertilizer material falls short of the guaranteed analysis in any one ingredient, a penalty shall be assessed in accordance with the following tolerances and penalties:

(c) Total Nitrogen and/or Total Available Nitrogen.—A penalty of three times the value of the deficiency, if such deficiency is in excess of twenty points (which shall mean 0.20 of one per cent) on goods that are guaranteed two per cent nitrogen; twenty-five points (which shall mean 0.25 of one per cent) on goods that are guaranteed three per cent nitrogen; thirty-five points (which shall mean 0.35 of one per cent) on goods that are guaranteed four per cent; forty points (which shall mean 0.40 of one per cent) on goods that are guaranteed five per cent up to and including eight per cent; and fifty points (which shall mean 0.50 of one per cent) on goods guaranteed over eight per cent.

(d) Available Phosphoric Acid.—A penalty of three times the value of the deficiency, if such deficiency exceeds forty points (which shall mean 0.40 of one per cent) on goods guaranteed up to and including ten per cent; and fifty points (which shall mean 0.50 of one per cent) on goods guaranteed over ten per cent available phosphoric acid.

(e) Available Potash.—A penalty of three times the value of the deficiency, if such deficiency is in excess of twenty points (which shall mean 0.20 of one per cent) on goods that are guaranteed two per cent potash; thirty points (which shall mean 0.30 of one per cent) on goods guaranteed three per cent of potash; forty points (which shall mean 0.40 of one per cent) on goods guaranteed four per cent; fifty points (which shall mean 0.50 of one per cent) on goods that are guaranteed four per cent up to and including eight per cent; and sixty points (which shall mean 0.60 of one per cent) on goods guaranteed from nine per cent to twenty per cent; and one hundred points (which shall mean 1.00 per cent) on goods guaranteed over twenty per cent.

(f) Chlorine.—If the chlorine content of any lot of fertilizer branded for tobacco shall exceed the maximum amount guaranteed by more than five-tenths (0.5) per cent, a penalty shall be assessed equal to ten per cent of the value of the fertilizer for each additional five-tenths (0.5) per cent of excess or fraction thereof.

(g) Should the basicity or acidity as equivalent of calcium carbonate of any sample of fertilizer be found upon analysis to differ more than five per cent (or one hundred pounds calcium carbonate equivalent per ton) from the guarantee, then a penalty of fifty cents per ton for each fifty pounds calcium carbonate equivalent, or fraction thereof in excess of the one hundred pounds allowed, may be assessed and paid as under paragraph (a) of this section.

(h) Calcium Oxide.—If the calcium oxide content guaranteed falls as much as one per cent below the minimum amount guaranteed, a penalty of fifty cents per ton for each additional one-half unit or fraction thereof shall be assessed.

(i) Magnesium Oxide.—If the magnesium oxide content falls as much as five-tenths (0.5) per cent below the minimum amount guaranteed, a penalty of fifty cents per ton shall be assessed for each additional one-fourth per cent deficiency or fraction thereof.

(j) Sulphur.—If the sulphur content is found to be as much as one and one-half per cent below the minimum amount guaranteed in the case of all mixed fertilizers, including mixed fertilizers branded for tobacco, a penalty of fifty cents per ton for each additional one-half unit or fraction thereof, shall be assessed; and in the case of mixed fertilizers branded for tobacco, if the maximum sulphur content shall exceed the guarantee by more than one and one-half per cent, a penalty of fifty cents per ton for each additional one-half unit or fraction there, shall be assessed.

(k) Water Insoluble Nitrogen.—A penalty of three times the value of the deficiency shall be assessed, if the deficiency shall exceed ten points (which shall mean 0.10 of one per cent) for goods guaranteed up to and including fifty-hundredths per cent (0.50%); twenty points (which shall mean 0.20 of one per cent) for goods guaranteed from five-tenths per cent to one per cent; thirty points (which shall mean 0.30 of one per cent) for goods guaranteed from one per cent to two per cent; and fifty points (which shall mean 0.50 of one per cent) for goods guaranteed above two per cent and up to and including five per cent and 100 points (which shall mean 1.00 per cent) tolerance above five per cent.

(l) Nitrate Nitrogen.—A penalty of three times the value of the deficiency shall be assessed if the deficiency shall exceed ten points (0.10 of one per cent) for goods guaranteed up to and including five-tenths (0.50 per cent); fifteen points (0.15 of one per cent) for goods guaranteed from five-tenths (0.50 per cent) to one (1) per cent; twenty-five points (0.25 of one per cent) for goods guaranteed from one (1) per cent to two (2) per cent and thirty-five points (0.35 of one per cent) for goods guaranteed above two (2) per cent.

(m) Additional Plant Foods.—If any additional plant foods, elements or compounds are guaranteed, tolerances and penalties for same shall be set up by the commissioner.

(n) All penalties assessed under this section shall be paid to the consumer of the lot of fertilizer represented by the sample analyzed within three months from date of notice by the commissioner to the manufacturer, dealer or agent, receipts taken therefor, and promptly forwarded to the commissioner of agriculture: Provided, that penalties shall not be assessed for both deficiency in total value and deficiencies in individual ingredients, but whichever shall be determined to be the greater shall be assessed. If said consumers can not be found, the amount of penalty assessed shall be paid to the commissioner of agriculture who shall deposit the same into the department of agriculture fund, of which the state treasurer is custodian. Such sums as shall thereafter be found to be payable to consumers on lots of fertilizer against which said penalties were assessed shall be paid from said fund on order of the commissioner of agriculture, and may be used by the commissioner of agriculture as he may see fit for the purposes of promoting the agricultural program of the state. (1933; c. 324, s. 12; 1937, c. 430, s. 5; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-39. Commercial value. — The approximate retail value per pound and per unit of the various ingredients of mixed fertilizers and fertilizer materials, namely: Nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, may be computed by the commissioner and be used to establish the relative value of the mixed fertilizers and fertilizer materials sold or offered for sale in this state. The commissioner is authorized to furnish such relative values to any persons engaged in the manufacture or sale of mixed fertilizers or fertilizer materials in this state upon application and to publish the same under the provisions of § 106-46. (1933, c. 324, s. 14; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-40. Minimum plant food content; branding of low grade fertilizers.—No superphosphate, no fertilizer with a guarantee of two plant food ingredients, or no complete mixed fertilizer shall be sold or offered for sale for fertilizer purposes within this state which contains less than fourteen per cent of plant food (total nitrogen—available phosphoric acid—potash). This shall not apply to natural animal or vegetable products not mixed with other materials.

Any mixed fertilizer containing two plant food ingredients, or any mixed fertilizer containing less than sixteen units of plant food (total nitrogen—available phosphoric acid—potash) shall be branded "low grade" and shall carry a "red tag" reading as follows:

"THIS IS A LOW GRADE FERTILIZER.

It costs too much per unit of nitrogen—available phosphoric acid and potash because it contains only fourteen or fifteen units (whichever the case may be) of these plant foods. You are paying too much for bagging, freight, labor, etc., on too much inert material." (1933, c. 324, s. 15; 1937, c. 430, s. 6; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-41. Injurious fillers.—It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, offer for sale or sell in this state any mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material containing any substance used as a filler that is injurious to crop growth or deleterious to the soil, or to use in such mixed fertilizer or fertilizer materials as a filler any substance that contains inert plant food material or any other substance for the purpose or with the effect of deceiving or defrauding the purchaser. (1933, c. 324, s. 16; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-42. Materials containing unavailable plant food. — (a) It shall be unlawful for any person to offer for sale or to sell in this state for fertilizer purposes any raw or untreated leather, hair, wool waste, hoof, horn, rubber or similar nitrogenous materials, the plant food content of which is largely unavailable, either as such or mixed with other fertilizer materials.

(b) This section shall not apply to the substances mentioned in paragraph (a) when they have been treated or processed in such manner as to make available the plant food constituents contained therein. (1933, c. 324, s. 17; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-43. Deception and fraud. — It shall be unlawful for any person to make any false or misleading representation in regard to any mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material shipped, sold or offered for sale by him in this state, or to use any misleading or deceptive trade mark or brand name in connection therewith. The commissioner is hereby authorized to refuse registration for any mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material with respect to which this section is violated. The sale or offer for sale of any mixture of nitrogenous fertilizer materials under a name or other designation descriptive of only one of the components of the mixture shall be considered deceptive or fraudulent. (1933, c. 324, s. 18; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-44. Sales of materials to consumers.— Nothing in this article shall abridge the right of a consumer of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer materials to buy materials from any manufacturer or dealer for his own use and not for resale, provided the tonnage tax has been paid thereon, if subject thereto, and that the provisions of this article otherwise in respect to such materials have been complied with. (1933, c. 324, s. 19; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-45. Reports of shipments.—It is required of each person registering mixed fertilizers and fertilizer materials under this article that he furnish the commissioner with a written statement of the tonnage of each grade of fertilizer sold by him in this state. Said statement shall include all sales for the periods of January first to and including June thirtieth and of July first to and including December thirty-first of each year. The commissioner may, in his discretion, either invoke a penalty on, or cancel the registration of, any person failing to comply with this section if the above statement is not made within thirty days from date of notification. The commissioner, however, in his discretion, may grant a reasonable extension of time. (1933, c. 324, s. 20; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-46. Publications. — The commissioner is authorized to publish at such time and in such form as he may deem proper information concerning the production and use of mixed fertilizers and fertilizer materials, and shall publish an annual report which shall contain a statement of money received and expended from the sale of tax tags and appropriately classified statistics of fertilizer sales in this state. Reports of the department chemists' findings based on official samples of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material sold within the state as compared with the guaranteed analyses registered under §§ 106-30 and 106-31 shall be published by the commissioner as promptly as possible after the completion of analyses, or at least annually. (1933, c. 324, s. 21; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-47. Regulations. — The board of agriculture by and with agreement of the director of the North Carolina Experiment Station is empowered to adopt from time to time grades of mixed fertilizer which shall be sold in this state: Provided, the number of grades shall not be less than thirty-five or in excess of fifty grades, and to issue rules, regulations and set standards as may be necessary for the enforcement of this article. (1933, c. 324, s. 22; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-48. Misdemeanors.—Each of the following offenses shall be a misdemeanor and any person upon conviction thereof shall be punished as provided by law for the punishment of misdemeanors:

(a) The violation of any of the provisions of §§ 106-41, 106-42, or 106-43.

(b) The filing with the commissioner of any false statement of fact in connection with the registration under § 106-30 of any mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material.

(c) Forcibly obstructing the commissioner or any official inspector authorized by the commissioner in the lawful performance by him of his duties in the administration of this article.

(d) Knowingly taking a false sample of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material for use under any provision of this article; or knowingly submitting to the commissioner for analysis a false sample thereof; or making to any person any false representation with regard to any mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material sold or offered for sale in this state for the purpose of deceiving or defrauding such other person.

(e) The fraudulent tampering with any lot of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material so that as a result thereof any sample of such mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material taken and submitted for analysis under this article may not correctly represent the lot; or tampering with any sample taken or submitted for analysis under this article, if done prior to such analysis and disposition of the sample under the direction of the commissioner.

(f) The delivery to any person by the fertilizer chemist or his assistants or other employees of the commissioner of a report that is wilfully false and misleading on any analysis of mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material made by the department in connection with the administration of this article.

(g) Selling or offering for sale in this state mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material without marking the same as required by § 106-31.

(h) Selling or offering for sale in this state mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material containing less than the minimum content required by § 106-40. (1933, c. 324, s. 23; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-49. Penalties for unauthorized sale, sale without tax tags, and misuse of tax tags.—(a) Forfeiture for Unauthorized Sale, Release from Forfeiture.—All fertilizers and fertilizer materials sold or offered for sale contrary to the provisions of this article as stated in paragraphs (a), (b), and (e) of § 106-30, and (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (g) of § 106-31 and § 106-32 shall be subject to seizure, condemnation, and sale by the commissioner. The net proceeds of such sale shall be placed to the credit of the state treasurer for the use of the department of agriculture. The commissioner, however, may, in his discretion, release the fertilizers so seized and condemned upon payment of the required tax or charge, a fine of ten dollars ($10.00), and all costs and expenses incurred by the department in any proceedings connected with such seizure and condemnation, and upon compliance with all other requirements of this article.

(b) Method of Seizure and Sale of Forfeiture.—Such seizure and sale shall be made under the direction of the commissioner by any officer or agent of the department. The sale shall be made at the courthouse door in the county in which seizure is made, after thirty days advertisement in some newspaper published in such county, or if no newspaper is published in such county, then by like advertisement in a newspaper published in the nearest county thereto having a newspaper. The advertisement shall state the brand name or name of the goods, the quantity, and why seized and offered for sale.

(c) Sale without Tag; Misuse of Tag; Penalty; Forfeiture.—Every merchant, trader, manufacturer, broker, or agent who shall sell or offer for sale any mixed fertilizer or fertilizer material without having attached thereto such tags as are required by paragraphs (a) and (c) of § 106-33, or who shall use the required tags a second time to avoid the payment of the tonnage charge, and every person who shall aid in the fraudulent selling or offering for sale of any such fertilizer, shall be liable to a penalty of the price paid the manufacturer for each separate bag, barrel, or package sold, or offered for sale, or removed, said penalty to be recovered by the commissioner by suit brought in the name of the state, and any amount so recovered shall be paid, one-half to the informer and one-half to the state treasurer for the use of the department of agriculture. If any such fertilizer shall be condemned as provided by law, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to have an analysis made of the same and cause printed tags or labels expressing the true chemical ingredients thereof to be put upon each bag, barrel, or package, and fix the commercial value at which it may be sold. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale or remove any such fertilizer, or for agent of any railroad or other transportation company to deliver any such fertilizer in violation of this section. Any person who shall sell or offer for sale or remove any fertilizer in violation of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(d) Deficiencies of Weight Made Good.—Any fertilizer which is found by an inspector of the department of agriculture to be short in weight, the manufacturer of said fertilizer shall within five days of official notice from the department of agriculture make good such deficiency and pay to the consumer a penalty equal to four times the value of the actual shortage. The commissioner in his discretion may allow reasonable tolerances for short weight not due to loss through handling and transporting. (1933, c. 324, s. 24; 1941, c. 368.)

§ 106-50. Sales and exchanges between manufacturers, etc.—Nothing in this article shall be construed to restrict or avoid sales or exchanges of fertilizer or fertilizer materials to each other by importers, manufacturers or manipulators who mix fertilizer materials for sale, or as preventing the free and unrestricted shipments of fertilizers or fertilizer materials to manufacturers or manipulators who have registered their brands as required by the provisions of this article. (1941, c. 368.)

Art. 3. Fertilizer Laboratories.

§ 106-51. Certification of fertilizer laboratories.—The commissioner of agriculture, or his authorized agent, shall, upon the application of any commercial laboratory that analyzes fertilizer or fertilizer materials, make such examination as he shall consider fit of the work of said laboratory, and when, in his opinion, the examination shall show the work of the said laboratory to be accurate and reliable, he shall certify said laboratory to that effect.

To those manufacturers requesting names of certified laboratories, the commissioner of agriculture shall supply such information. (1933, c. 551.)

Art. 4. Insecticides and Fungicides.

§ 106-52. Rules and standards. — The department of agriculture shall have power to make rules, regulations and adopt standards to carry out the designs and purposes of this article. (1927, c. 53, s. 1.)

§ 106-53. Registration. — Before any manufacturer or dealer shall sell, offer or expose for sale in this State any paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide he shall register with the Department of Agriculture the name of each brand of said preparation, the name and address of the manufacturer or dealer, the minimum per cent of each and every toxic chemical or compound present, and the specific name of each active ingredient used in its manufacture and the weight of the packages in which the material is packed. The words "paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate and all other insecticides and fungicides" mentioned and used in this article, shall apply only to insecticides and fungicides used on cotton, tobacco, all field crops, gardens, orchards, fruits, etc., for the control or destruction of insect life and fungus diseases. (1927, c. 53, s. 2.)

§ 106-54. Labels to be affixed.—Every lot, package or parcel of paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate, or any other insecticide or fungicide, offered or exposed for sale within this State, shall have affixed thereto a tag or label, in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof containing a legible and plainly printed statement in the English language clearly and truly certifying

(a) the net weight of the lot, package or parcel;

(b) the name, brand or trademark;

(c) the name and address of the manufacturer, importer, jobber, firm, association, corporation, dealer or person, etc., responsible for placing the commodity on the market;

(d) the minimum per cent of each and every toxic chemical or compound present.

(e) the specific name of each active ingredient used in its manufacture. (1927, c. 53, s. 3.)

§ 106-55. Refusal and cancellation of registration.—The Commissioner shall have the power to refuse to register any paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide under a name, brand or trademark, which would be misleading or deceptive. Should any paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide be registered in the State and it is afterward discovered that such registration is in violation of any of the provisions of this article, the Commissioner shall cancel such registration. (1927, c. 53, s. 4.)

§ 106-56. Registration fee; expiration of registration certificate; renewal.—All manufacturers or distributors, for the purpose of defraying the expenses connected with the enforcement of this article, before selling, offering or exposing for sale in this state any paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticides and fungicides, shall pay annually to the department of agriculture a registration fee of ten dollars ($10.00) for each and every brand of the aforementioned insecticides and fungicides registered as required under § 106-53. All certificates of registration shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next following the date of issuance and shall be subject to renewal upon receipt of annual registration fees. (1927, c. 53, s. 5; 1939, c. 284, s. 1.)

§ 106-57. Certificates entitling manufacturers or distributors to sell; unlawful sale, etc. — To manufacturers or distributors who have duly registered their brands and have paid registration fees on paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or other insecticides and fungicides in compliance with the requirements of this article, there shall be issued by the department of agriculture certificates which shall entitle said manufacturers or distributors to sell all duly registered brands until the expiration of such certificates as provided under § 106-56. When any manufacturer or distributor shall have duly complied with the provisions of this article, no other agency representing such manufacturer or distributor shall be required to register or pay registration fees on such brands as have been duly registered. It shall be unlawful for any manufacturer or distributor, or their agents to sell, offer or expose for sale in this state any of the aforementioned insecticides or fungicides which have not been duly registered and for which annual registration fees have not been paid. (1927, c. 53, s. 6; 1939, c. 284, s. 1.)

§ 106-58. Requirement of identifying color or medium.—For the purpose of safeguarding the legitimate uses of paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate and all other insecticides and fungicides and to prevent the poisoning of man or animal by confusion with or mixing with foods and feeds, either by accident or intent, it shall be required as a qualification for registration that all such aforesaid insecticides and fungicides which are likely to be confused with or which are not readily apparent when mixed with such foods or feeds, shall bear or contain some identifying added color or medium to differentiate them from, or to show their presence when contained in such foods or feeds; provided that no commodity intended for insecticidal, fungicidal or similar purposes which is already developed, or new products for these purposes which may appear from time to time shall be excluded from registration where there is not available or has not been developed a suitable identifying color or medium; and, provided that in the absence of a suitable identifying color or medium, the commissioner shall have authority himself or through representatives designated by him to co-operate with manufacturers and distributors in the development of suitable safe guards; final decision, with due right of appeal, resting in the discretion of the board of agriculture. (1927, c. 53, s. 7; 1929, c. 196, s. 1; 1939, c. 284, s. 1.)

§ 106-59. Statement mailed; what shown.—Every manufacturer and dealer who has registered paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide for sale within the state of North Carolina shall mail to the commissioner on forms provided by the commissioner, within forty-eight hours of each sale, shipment or delivery into or within North Carolina, a statement showing the official name of the insecticide or fungicide, the guaranteed analysis, the quantity and the name and address of the purchaser to whom sold, and the initials and numbers of the car, if sold in car lots. (1927, c. 53, s. 8; 1933, c. 233; 1939, c. 284, s. 4.)

§ 106-60. Entrance for inspection or sampling; analysis.—The Commissioner in person, or by deputy, shall have the power to enter into any car, warehouse, store, building, boat, vessel or place supposed to contain insecticides or fungicides, for the purpose of inspection or sampling, and shall have the power to take samples for analysis from any lot, package or parcel of insecticides or fungicides. It shall be unlawful for any person to oppose entrance of said Commissioner or deputy or in any way interfere with the discharge of his duty. All analyses shall be made by the official methods of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists of the United States, and shall be made by chemists of the Department of Agriculture. Where a method of analysis is required before the association of official agricultural chemists has adopted an official or tentative one, and pending appearance of an official method by the association of official agricultural chemists, such methods as may be available or may be developed, subject to approval by the board of agriculture, may be used; provided that such method upon being used shall be immediately available for use and checking to all persons, firms or corporations concerned, and results from such methods shall be subject to a reasonable period of consideration and hearings before any proceedings based upon them are instituted. (1927, c. 53, s. 9; 1939, c. 284, s. 2.)

§ 106-61. Use of stamp a second time; adulterated and misbranded articles; injunction.—It shall be unlawful for any manufacturer or distributor to sell, offer or expose for sale in this state any paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticides or fungicides which are adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this article. Any paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate and any other insecticide or fungicide shall be deemed to be adulterated if its strength or purity fall below the professed standard or quality under which it is sold; or if any substance has been substituted wholly or in part for the article; or if any valuable constituent of the article has been wholly or in part abstracted; or if it be in any way depreciated or be in departure from the true and honest value represented. Paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate and all other insecticides and fungicides shall be deemed to be misbranded if it carries any false or misleading statement upon or attached to the lot, package or parcel, or, if any false or misleading statements concerning its value are made on the lot, package or parcel, or in any printed advertising matter issued by the manufacturer or dealer that registered paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate, or any other insecticide or fungicide, or if the number of net pounds set forth upon the package, lot, or parcel is not correct. It shall be the duty of the Attorney-General when requested by the Commissioner, to institute suit to enjoin any manufacturer, or dealer, resident or non-resident, from manufacturing or selling or soliciting orders for the sale of paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate, or any other insecticide or fungicide, for use in this State without complying with all the provisions in this article, which injunction may be issued without bond or advance cost. (1927, c. 53, s. 10; 1939, c. 284, s. 3.)

§ 106-62. Seizure of articles.—Any paris green, calcium arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide sold, offered or exposed for sale within this State in violation of any provisions of the article shall be liable to seizure at the instance of the Commissioner. Upon complaint being filed by the Commissioner in person or by duly authorized deputy, with any district judge or a justice of the peace, describing the paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide and the place where it is believed paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide is sold, offered or exposed for sale in violation of the law, such district judge or justice of the peace shall issue his warrant directing the sheriff or any of his deputies to search such place, and if the law is being violated to seize the paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate, or any other insecticide or fungicide, and it shall be the duty of the officer to whom such warrant is delivered to search the place described in the warrant and to seize all paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide found there in violation of the law, and if the admission into such place is refused, the officer executing said warrant is hereby authorized to force open the same. If it shall appear at the hearing before the district judge or a justice of the peace, who issued said writ, that the paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide was sold, exposed or offered for sale in violation of any provisions of this article, said paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide shall be condemned and delivered to an officer or agent of the Commissioner, to be destroyed or to be sold at his discretion. The sale shall be made at the court-house in the county in which the seizure is made. Said paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide shall be sampled and subjected to analysis if necessary or tagged, or branded and otherwise brought into compliance with the requirements of this article, before being sold. The Commissioner, however, may, in his discretion, release the paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide seized or condemned upon the payment of the required tax or charge and all costs and expenses incurred in any proceedings connected with such seizure and condemnation, and upon compliance with all other requirements of this article. (1927, c. 53, s. 11.)

§ 106-63. Copy of analysis in evidence.—A copy of the analysis made by any chemist of the Department of Agriculture of any paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide certified to by him shall be admissible as evidence in any court of the State on trial of any issue involving the merits of the insecticides and fungicides covered by this article. (1927, c. 53, s. 12.)

§ 106-64. Articles in transit. — Nothing contained in this article shall interfere with paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide passing through the State in transit, nor shall it apply to the delivery of materials to manufacture paris green, calcium arsenate, lead arsenate or any other insecticide or fungicide for manufacturing purposes. (1927, c. 53, s. 13.)

§ 106-65. Violation of article.—Any manufacturer or dealer violating any provision or section in this article, or any rule, regulation or standard of the Department of Agriculture promulgated under this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars for each offense. (1927, c. 53, s. 14.)

Art. 5. Seed Cotton and Peanuts.

§ 106-66. Sale of seed-cotton or peanuts.—If any person shall buy, sell, deliver or receive for a price, or for any reward whatever, any cotton in the seed where the quantity is less than what is usually baled, or any peanuts, and shall fail to enter upon a book to be kept by him for such purpose, and to be open to inspection by the public at all business hours, the date of such buying or receiving, the number of pounds in each lot, the true name of the person or persons from whom bought or received and that he is the owner thereof, the name of the owner of the land on which such cotton is raised, and the price paid for the same per pound, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. In all prosecutions under this section it shall only be necessary for the state to allege and prove that the defendant bought or received the seed-cotton or peanuts as charged, and the burden shall be upon the defendant to show that the provisions of this section have been complied with. (Rev., s. 3812; 1887, c. 199; 1905, cc. 201, 523; 1929, c. 281, s. 1; C. S. 5083.)

§ 106-67. Traveling seed-cotton buyers must report; failure a misdemeanor.—Any person engaged in traveling from house to house or from place to place buying or trading for seed-cotton shall keep a correct record of the name and post-office address of each person from whom he buys or with whom he trades for seed-cotton, together with the number of pounds he buys or trades for from each person and the amount paid in each case.

On or before the third day of each month such person shall file a sworn statement with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he made such purchases or trades for seed-cotton, showing the name and postoffice address of each person from whom he bought or with whom he traded during the next preceding month, together with the amount paid and the number of pounds of such cotton received from each person.

Any person failing or refusing to comply with this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor for each offense, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1919, c. 43; C. S. 5084.)

Art. 6. Cotton-Seed Meal.

§ 106-68. Cotton-seed meal defined; inspection tax.—Cotton-seed meal is a product of the cotton seed only, composed principally of the kernel with such portion of the fiber or hull and oil as may be left in the course of manufacture of cotton-seed oil, and when sold for use as fertilizer or feed shall be subject to an inspection tax of twenty-five cents per ton and be subject to inspection as other fertilizers or fertilizing materials, unless sold to manufacturers for use in manufacturing fertilizers or feed. (1917, c. 242, s. 1; 1939, c. 286; C. S. 4704.)

§ 106-69. Bags to be branded with specified particulars.—All cotton-seed meal offered for sale, unless sold to manufacturers for use in manufacturing fertilizers or feed, shall have plainly branded on the bag containing it, or on the tag attached thereto, the following data:

1. Cotton-seed meal (with brand and grade).
2. Weight of package.
3. Ammonia and protein.
4. Name and address of manufacturer. (1917, c. 242, s. 2; C. S. 4705.)

§ 106-70. Grades and standards established.—No person, firm, or corporation shall offer for sale any cotton-seed meal except as provided in § 106-69, graded and classed as follows:

1. Prime cotton-seed meal by analysis must contain at least seven and one-half per cent of ammonia or thirty-eight and fifty-six one-hundredths per cent of protein.
2. Good cotton-seed meal by analysis must contain at least seven per cent of ammonia, or thirty-six and no one-hundredths per cent of protein.
3. Ordinary cotton-seed meal by analysis must contain at least six and one-half per cent of ammonia, or thirty-three and forty-four hundreths per cent of protein. (1917, c. 242, s. 3; C. S. 4706.)

§ 106-71. Rules to enforce statute; misdemeanor.—The board of agriculture is empowered and directed to make such rules and regulations as are necessary to a proper carrying into effect of the provisions of this article, and to provide for all such tags as manufacturers may demand, upon paying the tax therefor. Any person wilfully violating any of the regulations made by the board of agriculture in connection with the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1917, c. 242, s. 4; C. S. 4707.)

§ 106-72. Sales without tag; misuse of tag; penalty; forfeiture.—Every merchant, trader, manufacturer, or agent who shall sell or offer for sale any cotton-seed meal without having attached thereto such labels, stamps, and tags as are required by law, or who shall use the required tag a second time to avoid the payment of the tonnage charge, and every person who shall aid in the fraudulent selling or offering for sale of any cotton-seed meal, shall be liable to a penalty of the price paid the manufacturer for each separate bag, barrel, or package sold, offered for sale, or removed, to be recovered by the commissioner of agriculture by suit brought in the name of the state, and any amount so recovered shall be paid one-half to the informant and one-half to the state treasurer for the use of the department of agriculture. If any such cotton-seed meal shall be condemned, as provided by law, it shall be the duty of the department to have an analysis made of the same; cause printed tags or labels expressing the proper grade to be put upon each bag, barrel, or package, and shall fix the commercial value at which it may be sold; and it shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, or remove any such cotton-seed meal, or for any agent of any railroad or other transportation company to deliver any such cotton-seed meal in violation of this section. (1917, c. 242, s. 4; C. S. 4708.)

§ 106-73. Sales contrary to article a misdemeanor.—Any person, firm, or corporation who shall sell or offer for sale or shall act as agent of or broker for the manufacturer of or dealer in any cotton-seed meal contrary to the provisions above set forth shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3814; 1917, c. 242, s. 5; 1919, c. 13, s. 2; C. S. 4709.)

§ 106-74. Forfeiture for unauthorized sale; release from forfeiture.—All cotton-seed meal sold or offered for sale contrary to the provisions above set forth shall be subject to seizure, condemnation, and sale by the commissioner of agriculture. The net proceeds from such sale shall be placed in the general fund of the department and accounted for upon its books. The commissioner, however, shall have the discretion to release the meal so seized and condemned upon compliance with the law as set forth above and the payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the department in any proceedings connected therewith. (1917, c. 242, s. 5; C. S. 4710.)

§ 106-75. Method of seizure and sale on forfeiture.—Such seizure and sale shall be made under the direction of the commissioner of agriculture by an officer or agent of the department; the sale to be made at the courthouse door in the county in which the seizure is made, after thirty days advertisement in some newspaper published in said county, or if no newspaper is published in said county, then by like advertisement in a newspaper published in the nearest county thereto having a newspaper. The advertisement shall state the grade of the meal, the quantity, why seized and offered for sale. (1917, c. 242, s. 5; C. S. 4711.)

§ 106-76. Collection and analysis of samples.—The department of agriculture shall have the same authority and powers for taking and analyzing samples of cotton-seed meal as are provided in case of commercial fertilizers and fertilizer materials; and the same procedure as to law and regulations shall be followed in taking such samples of cotton-seed meal as are prescribed and followed for taking samples of fertilizer and fertilizer materials. (1919, c. 271; C. S. 4712.)

§ 106-77. Sales below guaranteed quality; duties of commissioner.—When the commissioner of agriculture shall be satisfied that any cotton-seed meal is five per cent below the guaranteed analysis, it shall be his duty to assess twice the value of said deficiency against the manufacturer, and if said cotton-seed meal shall fall as much as ten per cent below the guaranteed analysis it shall be his duty to assess three times the value of said meal and require that his findings of said deficiency be made good to all persons who, in the opinion of the commissioner, have purchased the said meal; and the commissioner may seize any meal belonging to said company, to the value of the deficiency, if the deficiency shall not be paid within thirty days after notice to the company. If the commissioner shall be satisfied that the deficiency in analysis was due to intention or fraud of the manufacturer, then the commissioner shall assess and collect from the manufacturer twice the amount above provided for and pay over the same to parties who purchased said meal. If any manufacturer shall resist such collection or payment, the commissioner shall immediately publish the analysis and the facts in the bulletin and in such newspapers in the state as he may deem necessary. (1917, c. 242, s. 7; C. S. 4713.)

§ 106-78. Adulteration prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any manufacturer to adulterate cotton-seed meal in the process of manufacture or otherwise. (1917, c. 242, s. 8; C. S. 4714.)

Art. 7. Pulverized Limestone and Marl.

§ 106-79. Board of agriculture authorized to make and sell lime to farmers.—The North Carolina board of agriculture is authorized and directed, for the purpose of furnishing marl or limestone to the farmers of the state, to make such arrangements as they deem advisable for this purpose, and to this end may lease or purchase oyster shells in large quantities and beds of limestone, and erect machinery suitable for the preparation of the material for use by the farmers; and any lime so prepared and any by-products shall be sold for agricultural purposes to the citizens of the state at a reasonable cost which shall produce an amount of money sufficient to maintain and operate the plant. (1919, c. 182, s. 1; C. S. 4715.)

§ 106-80. Convict labor authorized.—With the approval of the governor, when requested by the board of agriculture, the chairman of state highway and public works commission may furnish a superintendent with a squad of able-bodied convicts, not to exceed fifty, to do such work as the commissioner, with the authority of the board, may deem necessary to mine, prepare, load and dispose of the material. The board shall pay the state quarterly such amount as shall be agreed upon by the chairman of state highway and public works commission and the board of agriculture for their work, out of the proceeds of the sales, and the state shall guard, feed, clothe, and work such convicts: Provided, that after the first year's operations the expenses of the work shall not exceed the amount of the sales. (1919, c. 182, s. 2; 1933, c. 172, s. 18; C. S. 4716.)

Art. 8. Sale, etc., of Agricultural Liming Material, etc.

§ 106-81. Regulation of sale, etc., of agricultural liming material, etc.—All agricultural liming material, agricultural liming material with potash, and land plaster, hereinafter named either as the aforesaid separate items, or collectively as "materials coming under this article," or as "said materials", to be sold, offered, or exposed for sale in this state, shall be subject to regulation as provided by the following sections of this article. (1941, c. 275, s. 1.)

§ 106-82. Registration of brands by manufacturers and vendors.—Every manufacturer or vendor proposing to sell, offer or expose for sale in this state, the materials coming under this article shall, annually on or before the first day of January of each year, or before offering said materials for sale in this state, register with the commissioner of agriculture, on forms to be furnished by said commissioner, each brand of the said materials that he proposes to offer for sale during the next ensuing calendar year, or remainder thereof, giving for each brand the information prescribed in the following subsections:

(a) Net weight when sold in packages.

(b) A brand or trade name truly descriptive of the product.

(c) The guaranteed analysis showing:

(1) In case of agricultural liming materials; the minimum per cent of calcium expressed as calcium carbonate ($CaCO_3$) and of magnesium expressed as magnesium carbonate ($MgCO_3$) if the product be unburned or a mixture of both burned and unburned material; or as calcium oxide (CaO) and magnesium oxide (MgO) if the product be in the burned state and, in either case, the total neutralizing value expressed as calcium carbonate equivalent or neutralizing equivalent, and the fineness of the material, excepting that guarantee of screen analysis shall not be required for the products from completely burned limestone or shells. (The terms "Calcium Carbonate Equivalent" and "Neutralizing Equivalent," for the purpose of this article, shall mean one and the same thing. Fineness shall be determined by screens complying with the specifications of the United States Bureau of Standards.)

(2) In case of agricultural liming material with potash, the same requirement as for agricultural liming material, subsection (c) (1) of this section, but including also the minimum per cent of available potash as the oxide (K_2O). (The potash content of agricultural liming material with potash shall not be below four percent, and the guarantee for said potash content shall be in whole numbers only.)

(3) In case of land plaster, the minimum per cent of calcium sulfate ($CaSO_4$).

(d) The name and address of the manufacturer or vendor guaranteeing the registration.

(e) In case of combinations of materials from different sources, the source, chemical form, and minimum per cent of each material in truly descriptive terms. (1941, c. 275, s. 2.)

§ 106-83. Labelling.—All of the said materials sold, offered, or exposed for sale in this state shall have attached thereto, or be accompanied by a plainly printed statement giving the information as required under § 106-82, subsections (a), (b), (c), (d) and (e). In case of materials sold in packages, the said information shall be plainly printed upon the package, or upon a tag or label attached thereto, of such quality and in such manner that it shall withstand normal handling, and, in case of material sold in bulk, the said statement shall be delivered to the purchaser either with the material, or with the invoice therefor. (1941, c. 275, s. 3.)

§ 106-84. Registration and tonnage fees; tags showing payment; license certificates.—(a) For the purpose of defraying expenses connected with the registration, inspection and analysis of the materials coming under this article, there shall be paid, by the manufacturers or vendors, to the department of agriculture, for each brand or grade of said materials registered as required under § 106-82, an annual registration fee of five dollars ($5.00) for each calendar year or part thereof, said fee to be paid at the time of registration.

(b) Likewise, in addition to the above stated registration fee there shall be paid upon said materials sold in this state, in the manner specified under subsection (c) of this section, tonnage fees as follows: For agricultural liming material, five cents per ton; for agricultural liming material with potash, twenty-five cents per ton; and for land plaster, five cents per ton; excepting that these fees shall not apply to materials which are sold to fertilizer manufacturers for the sole purpose of use in the manufacture of fertilizer.

(c) Each bag, parcel, or shipment of said materials shall have attached thereto a tag, or label, to be furnished by the department of agriculture, stating that all charges specified in this article have been paid, and the commissioner of agriculture, with the advice and consent of the board of agriculture is hereby empowered to prescribe a form for such tags, or labels, and to adopt such regulations as will insure enforcement of this article. Whenever any manufacturer or vendor shall have paid the required charges, his goods shall not be liable to any further tax, whether by city, town or county. Tax tags or labels shall be issued each year by the commissioner of agriculture, and sold to persons applying for same at the tax rate provided herein. Tags or labels left in the possession of persons registering the materials coming under this article, at the end of a calendar year, may be exchanged for tags or labels for the next succeeding year.

(d) To manufacturers or vendors of the materials covered in this article, who have registered their brands of the said materials and paid registration fees as required herein, shall be issued by the commissioner of agriculture, without further charge, certificates licensing said manufacturers or vendors, themselves or through their agents, to sell in this state the brands of materials named in said certificate, for the period of time designated therein. (1941, c. 275, s. 4.)

§ 106-85. Report of sales.—In addition to the statement required under § 106-82, each manufacturer or vendor of the materials covered in this article shall, on or before the first day of February of each year, file with the department of agriculture a written report showing the total number of net tons of each brand and grade of the said materials sold by him, or his representatives or agents in this state, during the last preceding year. License for the sale of said materials within this state shall not be issued for a succeeding year to any manufacturer or vendor for the continued sale of his product unless and until said report has been made. (1941, c. 275, s. 5.)

§ 106-86. Administration; inspections, sampling and analysis.—It shall be the duty of the commissioner of agriculture to institute the necessary proceedings and have prepared the necessary equipment to put into effect the provisions of this article, and to authorize the collecting of official samples of the materials covered by it, to have them analyzed, and to have results published for the information of the public. For this purpose such inspectors or representatives as he may duly authorize shall have full access, ingress and egress to and from all places of business, manufacture, storage, transportation, handling or sale of any of the said materials. They shall also have power to open any container or package containing or supposed to contain any of the said materials, and to take therefrom samples for analysis. The official methods and recommendations of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists as to sampling and analyzing shall be used in administering this article. (1941, c. 275, s. 6.)

§ 106-87. Deficiencies; refunds to consumers.—Should any of the materials coming under this article be found, by procedures authorized thereunder, to be deficient in the constituents as claimed by the manufacturer or vendor thereof, said manufacturer or vendor, upon being officially notified of such deficiency by the commissioner of agriculture, shall, within ninety days following such notification, make refunds to the consumers of the deficient materials as follows: In case of "agricultural liming material" or "agricultural liming material with potash", excepting potash deficiency of the latter, if the deficiency be five per cent or more, there shall be refunded an amount equal to three times the value of such deficiency. In case of "potash" deficiency in "agricultural liming material with potash," there shall be refunded an amount equal to three times the value of the deficiency, if such deficiency is in excess of forty points (which shall mean 0.40 of one per cent) on goods guaranteed four per cent; fifty points (which shall mean 0.50 of one per cent) on goods that are guaranteed five per cent up to and including eight per cent; and sixty points (which shall mean 0.60 of one per cent) on goods guaranteed nine per cent and up to and including twenty per cent; and one hundred points (which shall mean 1.00 per cent) on goods guaranteed over twenty per cent; and in case of land plaster, for deficiencies in excess of one per cent, there shall be refunded an amount equal to three times the value of the deficiency. Values shall be based on the selling price of said materials. When said consumers cannot be found within the above specified time, refunds shall be forwarded to the commissioner of agriculture for deposit with the state treasurer to the credit of the department of agriculture, where said refund shall be held for payment to the proper consumer upon order of said commissioner. Where the consumer to whom the refund is due cannot be found within a period of two years, such refund shall, after said period, revert to the department of agriculture for expenditure by said commissioner in promoting the agricultural program of the state. (1941, c. 275, s. 7.)

§ 106-88. Violations and penalties.—Any person or persons selling, offering or exposing for sale in this state any of the materials covered in this article, without first having registered said materials, paid the fees required, secured the required license, and otherwise complied with the requirements of this article; or who shall have caused to be submitted, or to be associated with said registrations or materials, false, fraudulent, or misleading statements; or who shall have caused to be incorporated into said materials any substances which shall be harmful to plants or plant growth; shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00) for the first offense and not less than one hundred dollars for each subsequent offense. (1941, c. 275, s. 8.)

§ 106-89. Certified analysis as evidence.—In the trial of any suit or action wherein there is called in question the value of composition of any of the materials covered by this article, a certified statement of the analysis made by the chemists of the department of agriculture shall be admissible as prima facie evidence of the content, value, or composition of said materials. (1941, c. 275, s. 9.)

§ 106-90. Revocation of licenses; seizure of materials.—The commissioner of agriculture is hereby authorized to revoke any license and require forfeit of fees paid under such license when it is ascertained that the registration upon which said license was issued has given false information in its statement relative to the kind, quality, composition or fineness of the materials sold, or offered for sale, under the provisions of this article; and to seize and withhold from sale or distribution any such materials where it is shown that they are being dispensed in violation of said article. (1941, c. 275, s. 10.)

§ 106-91. Regulations and standards.—The commissioner of agriculture, under the authority of the board of agriculture, is further empowered to prescribe and enforce such reasonable rules and regulations relating to the sale of the materials covered in this article as are consistent with the purpose of the article and are deemed necessary to carry into effect its full intent and meaning; and, conjointly with the state board of agriculture and the director of the North Carolina Experiment Station, to formulate and prescribe such definitions and standards as may be required for said purpose. (1941, c. 275, s. 11.)

§ 106-92. Construction of article.—Nothing in this article shall be construed to restrict or avoid sales or exchanges of the materials coming under this article to each other by importers, manufacturers or manipulators who mix said materials for sale, or as preventing the free and unrestricted shipments of said materials to manufacturers or manipulators who have registered their brands as required by the provisions of this article. (1941, c. 275, s. 12.)

Art. 9. Commercial Feeding Stuffs.

§ 106-93. Packages to be marked with statement of specified particulars.—Every lot or parcel of concentrated commercial feeding stuff sold, offered or exposed for sale within this state shall have affixed thereto or printed thereon, in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof, a legible and plainly printed statement in the English language clearly and truly certifying the weight of the package; the name, brand, or trade-mark under which the article is sold; the name and address of the manufacturer, jobber, or importer; the names of each and all ingredients of which the article is composed; a guarantee that the contents are pure and unadulterated, and a statement of the maximum percentage it contains of crude fiber, and the percentage of crude fat, and the percentage of crude protein, and the percentage of carbohydrates, allowing one per cent of nitrogen to equal six and one-fourth per cent of protein, all four constituents to be determined by the methods in use at the time by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists of the United States. (1909, c. 149, s. 1; C. S. 4724.)

§ 106-94. Weight of packages prescribed.—All concentrated commercial feeding stuffs shall be in standard-weight bags or packages of twenty-five, fifty, seventy-five, one hundred, one hundred twenty-five, one hundred fifty, one hundred seventy-five, and two hundred pounds. (1909, c. 149, s. 1; C. S. 4725.)

§ 106-95. "Concentrated commercial feeding stuffs" defined.—The term "concentrated commercial feeding stuffs" shall be held to include all feeds used for live stock, poultry and other animals, except hays, straws, and corn stover, when the same are not mixed with other materials, nor shall it apply to the whole seeds or grains of cereals when not mixed with other materials. (1909, c. 149, s. 2; 1939, c. 354, s. 1; C. S. 4726.)

§ 106-96. Copy of statement and sample filed for registration.—Each and every manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent, or seller, before selling, offering or exposing for sale in this state any concentrated commercial feeding stuff, shall, for each and every feeding stuff bearing a distinguishing name or trade-mark, file for registration with the commissioner of agriculture a copy of the statement required in § 106-93, and accompany said statement, on request, by a sealed glass jar or bottle containing at least one pound of such feeding stuff to be sold, exposed or offered for sale, which sample shall correspond within reasonable limits to the feeding stuff which it represents in the percentages of crude protein, crude fat, crude fiber, and carbohydrates which it contains. For each and every statement so filed, there shall be paid to the commissioner of agriculture an annual registration fee of one dollar ($1.00), payable at the time of registration and thereafter on or before the last day of December of each year. (1909, c. 149, s. 3; 1939, c. 354, s. 2; C. S. 4727.)

§ 106-97. Agent released by statement of manufacturer.—When a manufacturer, importer, or jobber of any concentrated commercial feeding stuffs files a statement, as required by § 106-96, no agent or seller of such manufacturer, importer, or jobber, shall be required to file such statement. (1909, c. 149, s. 4; C. S. 4728.)

§ 106-98. Power to refuse or to cancel registration.—The commissioner of agriculture shall have the power to refuse the registration of any concentrated commercial feeding stuff under a name which would be misleading as to the materials of which it is composed, or when the names of each and all ingredients of which it is composed are not stated, or where it does not comply with the standards and rulings adopted by the board of agriculture. Should any concentrated commercial feeding stuffs be registered and it is afterwards discovered that they are in violation of any of the provisions of this article, the commissioner of agriculture shall have the power to cancel such registration. (1909, c. 149, s. 5; C. S. 4729.)

§ 106-99. Inspection tax on feeding stuffs; tax tags.—Each and every manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent, or seller of any concentrated commercial feeding stuff, as defined in this article, shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture an inspection tax of twenty-five cents per ton for each ton of such commercial feeding stuff sold, offered or exposed for sale or distributed in this state, and shall affix to or accompany each car shipped in bulk, and to each bag, barrel, or other package of such concentrated commercial feeding stuff, a tag or stamp to be furnished by the commissioner of agriculture stating that all charges specified in this section have been paid: Provided, whenever any concentrated commercial feeding stuff, as herein above defined, is kept for sale in bulk, stored in bins or otherwise, the manufacturer, dealer, jobber, or importer keeping the same for sale shall keep on hand cards of proper size, upon which the statement required in § 106-93 is plainly printed; and if the feeding stuff is sold at retail in bulk, or if it is put up in packages belonging to the purchaser, the manufacturer, dealer, jobber, or importer shall furnish the purchaser with one of said cards upon which is or are printed the statement or statements described in this section, together with sufficient tax tags or stamps to cover same: Provided, that the inspection tax of twenty-five cents per ton shall not apply to whole seeds and grains when not mixed with other materials. It is further provided that, upon demand, said inspection tags or stamps shall be redeemed by the department issuing said tags or stamps, upon surrender of same, accompanied by an affidavit that the same have not been used: Provided, said tags or stamps shall be returned for redemption within the time fixed by the board of agriculture: Provided further, that nothing in this article shall be construed to restrict or prohibit the sale of concentrated commercial feeding stuff in bulk to each other by importers, manufacturers, or manipulators who mix concentrated commercial feeding stuff for sale. The commissioner of agriculture is hereby empowered to prescribe the form of such tax tags or stamps. (1909, c. 149, s. 6; 1939, c. 286; C. S. 4730.)

§ 106-100. Sale unauthorized by article or below grade; forfeiture; release from forfeiture.—Any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent, or dealer who shall sell, offer or expose for sale or distribution in this state, any concentrated commercial feeding stuff, as defined above in this article, without complying with the requirements of the preceding sections of this article, or who shall sell or offer or expose for sale or distribution any concentrated commercial feeding stuff which contains substantially a smaller percentage of crude protein or crude fat or carbohydrates or a larger percentage of crude fiber than certified to be contained, or who shall adulterate any feeding stuff with foreign, mineral, or other substance or substances, such as rice chaff or hulls, peanut shells, corn cobs, oat hulls, or similar materials of little or no feeding value, or with substances injurious to the health of domestic animals, shall be guilty of a violation of this article, and the lot of feeding stuff in question shall be subject to seizure, condemnation, and sale by the commissioner of agriculture, and the proceeds from said sales shall be covered into the state treasury for the use of the department executing the provisions of this article. The commissioner of agriculture, however, may in his discretion release the feeding stuff so withdrawn when the requirements of the provisions of this article have been complied with, and upon payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the department of agriculture in any proceedings connected with such seizure and withdrawal. (1909, c. 149, s. 7; C. S. 4731.)

§ 106-101. Method of seizure and sale on forfeiture.—Such seizure and sale shall be made under the directon of the commissioner of agriculture, or an officer of the department of agriculture. The sale shall be made at the courthouse door in the county in which the seizure is made, after thirty days advertisement in some newspaper published in such county, or if no newspaper is published in such county, then by like advertisement published in the nearest county thereto having a newspaper. The advertisement shall state the name or brand of the goods, the quantity, and why seized and offered for sale. (1909, c. 149, s. 7; C. S. 4732.)

§ 106-102. Collection and analysis of sample.—The commissioner of agriculture, together with his deputies, agents, and assistants, shall have free access to all places of business, mills, buildings, carriages, cars, vessels, and packages of whatsoever kind used in the manufacture, importation, or sale of any concentrated commercial feeding stuff, and shall have power and authority to open any package containing or supposed to contain any concentrated commercial feeding stuff, and, upon tender and full payment of the selling price of said samples, to take therefrom, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, samples for analysis; and he shall annually cause to be analyzed at least one sample so taken of every concentrated commercial feeding stuff that is found, sold, or offered or exposed for sale in this state under the provisions of this article. Said sample, not less than one pound in weight, shall be taken from not less than ten bags or packages, or if there be less than ten bags or packages, then the sample shall be taken from each bag or package, if it be in bag or package form, or if such feeding stuff be in bulk, then it shall be taken from ten different places of the lot. The sample or samples taken shall be kept a reasonable length of time by the department of agriculture, and on demand a portion of such sample or samples shall be furnished to the manufacturer, importer, or jobber of his feeds for examination by the chemists or other experts of said manufacturer, importer, or jobber. The department of agriculture is hereby authorized to publish from time to time in reports or bulletins the results of the analysis of such sample or samples, together with such additional information as circumstances advise: Provided, however, that if such sample or samples as analyzed differ from the statement prescribed in § 106-93, then, at least thirty days before publishing the results of such analysis, written notice shall be given of such results to the manufacturer, importer, agent, or jobber of such stock, if the name and address of such manufacturer, jobber, or importer be known: Provided further, that if the analysis of any such sample does not differ within reasonable limits from the statement prescribed in § 106-93 appearing upon the goods, the manufacturer shall be considered as having complied with the requirements of this article. (Rev., s. 3808; 1909, c. 149, s. 9; C. S. 4733.)

§ 106-103. Rules and standards to enforce statute.—The board of agriculture is empowered to adopt standards for concentrated commercial feeding stuffs and such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this article, and a violation of such rules and regulations shall be a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3808; 1909, c. 149, s. 9; C. S. 4734.)

§ 106-104. Sales without tag; misuse of tag; counterfeiting tag.—Any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent, or dealer who shall sell, offer or expose for sale or distribute in this state any concentrated commercial feeding stuff without having attached thereto or furnished therewith such tax stamps, labels, or tags as required by the provisions of this article, or who shall use the required tax stamps, labels, or tags a second time to avoid the payment of the tonnage tax, or any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent, or dealer who shall counterfeit or use a counterfeit of such tax stamps, labels, or tags, shall be guilty of a violation of the provisions of this article. (1909, c. 149, s. 10; C. S. 4735.)

§ 106-105. Refusal to comply with the article or hindering its enforcement.—Any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent, or dealer who refuses to comply with the requirements of the provisions of this article, or any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent, or dealer or person who shall impede, obstruct, hinder, or otherwise prevent or attempt to prevent any chemist, inspector, or other authorized agent in the performance of his duty in connection with the provisions of this article, shall be guilty of a violation of such provisions. (Rev., s. 3827; 1903, c. 325, s. 8; 1909, c. 149, s. 11; C. S. 4736.)

§ 106-106. Violation of article a misdemeanor.—Any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent, or dealer who shall violate any of the provisions of this article, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars for the first offense nor more than two hundred dollars for each subsequent offense, and the proceeds from such fines shall be covered into the state treasury for use of the department of agriculture in executing the provisions of this article. (1909, c. 149, s. 12; C. S. 4737.)

§ 106-107. Notice of charges to accused; hearing before commissioner.—Whenever the commissioner of agriculture becomes cognizant of any violation of the provisions of this article he shall immediately notify in writing the manufacturer, importer, or jobber and dealer, if same be known. Any party so notified shall be given an opportunity to be heard, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioner and the board of agriculture. (1909, c. 149, s. 13; C. S. 4738.)

§ 106-108. Commissioner to certify solicitor and furnish analysis.—If it appears that any of the provisions of this article have been violated the commissioner of agriculture shall certify the facts to the solicitor in the district in which such sample was obtained, and furnish that officer with a copy of the results of the analysis or other examinations of such article, duly authenticated by the analyst or other officer making such examination, under the oath of such officer. (1909, c. 149, s. 13; C. S. 4739.)

§ 106-109. Solicitor to prosecute violations.—It shall be the duty of every solicitor to whom the commissioner of agriculture shall report any violation of this article to cause proceedings to be prosecuted without delay for the fines and penalties in such cases prescribed. (1909, c. 149, s. 14; C. S. 4740.)

§ 106-110. Certificate of analyst as evidence.—In all prosecutions arising under this article the certificate of the analyst or other officer making the analysis or examination, when duly sworn to by such officer, shall be prima facie evidence of the fact or facts therein certified. (1909, c. 149, s. 13; C. S. 4741.)

Art. 10. Mixed Feed Oats.

§ 106-111. Unlawful to sell mixed feed oats unless ground.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell, or offer or expose for sale or distribution within the State the feeding material known as "mixed feed oats" unless it first be ground. The duty of enforcing this section and carrying out its provisions and requirements shall be vested in the Commissioner of Agriculture. The Department of Agriculture shall adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the efficient enforcement of this section. Every violation of the provisions of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars. (1931, c. 106.)

Art. 11. Stock and Poultry Tonics.

§ 106-112. Application and affidavit for registration.—Before any condimental, patented, proprietary or trade-marked "stock or poultry tonic," "stock or poultry regulator," "stock or poultry conditioner," or any similar preparation, regardless of the specific name or title under which it is sold, which is represented as containing "tonic", "remedial," or other "medicinal" properties, either is sold, offered or exposed for sale in the state, the manufacturer, importer, dealer, agent or person who causes it to be sold or offered for sale, by sample or otherwise, within this state shall file with the commissioner of agriculture a statement that he desires to offer such "stock or poultry tonic," "stock or poultry regulator" "stock or poultry conditioner," or similar preparation for sale in this state, and also a certificate, the execution of which shall be sworn to before a notary public or other proper official, for registration, stating the name of the manufacturer, the location of the principal office of the manufacturer, and the name, brand, or trademark under which the said preparation or preparations will be sold, together with the guaranty that said preparation or preparations are not injurious to the health of domestic animals and that they do not conflict with the drug requirements of article 12 of the chapter, Foods, Drugs and Cosmetics, and that the name or trade-mark under which the article is sold shall not mislead or deceive the purchaser in any way; also, that any statement, design, or device on the label or package regarding the substances contained therein shall be true and correct, and any claim made for the feeding, condimental, tonic, or medicinal value shall not be false or misleading in any particular, and file with the commissioner of agriculture a labeled package of each brand of goods, showing claims made for same, which labeling and claims shall not be changed during the fiscal year for which registration is made without the consent of the commissioner of agriculture. (1909, c. 556, s. 1; C. S. 4742.)

§ 106-113. Registration fee.—For the expense incurred in registering, inspecting, and analyzing "stock or poultry tonics," "stock or poultry regulators," "stock or poultry conditioners," and similar preparations defined in this article, a registration fee of twenty dollars for each separate brand shall be paid by the manufacturers or sellers of same to the commissioner of agriculture during the month of January in each year, said fees to be used by the commissioner of agriculture for executing the provisions of this article. (1909, c. 556, s. 2; C. S. 4743.)

§ 106-114. Sale of unregistered tonics a misdemeanor. — Any person, company, corporation, or agent that shall offer for sale or expose for sale any package or sample or any quantity of any condimental, patented, proprietary, or trademarked "stock or poultry tonic," "stock or poultry regulator," "stock or poultry conditioner," or any similar preparation, regardless of the title under which it is sold, which has not been registered as required by § 106-112, or which may have been registered, but subsequently found by an analysis or examination made by or under the direction of the commissioner of agriculture to violate any of the provisions of this article, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in the sum of fifty dollars for the first offense and in the sum of one hundred dollars for each subsequent offense. (1909, c. 556, s. 3; C. S. 4744.)

§ 106-115. Notice of violation charged; hearing before commissioner.—Whenever the commissioner of agriculture becomes cognizant of any violation of any of the provisions of this article he shall immediately notify, in writing, the manufacturer, importer, jobber, or dealer, if same be known. Any party so notified shall be given an opportunity to be heard, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioner and the board of agriculture. (1909, c. 556, s. 4; C. S. 4745.)

§ 106-116. Issuance of "stop sale" orders by commissioners; confiscation or sale of products.—If it appears that any of the provisions of this article have been violated, the commissioner of agriculture or his authorized representative is hereby authorized to issue a "stop sale" order which shall prohibit further sale of any product offered in violation of this article until the law has been complied with or said violation has otherwise been legally disposed of. The commissioner of agriculture or his authorized representative is further authorized to confiscate and seize any product sold or offered for sale in violation of this article and shall have the authority to sell said product if it can be made to conform to this article or to destroy same if it cannot be made to conform with this article. Such sale shall be made at the courthouse door in the county in which the seizure is made, after 30 days advertisement in some newspaper published in such county, or if no newspaper is published in such county, then by like advertisement in a newspaper published in the nearest county thereto having a newspaper. The advertisement shall state the name of the product, the quantity, why seized and offered for sale. The proceeds from such sale, after deducting the necessary expense of said sale, shall be deposited with the state treasurer for the use of the department of agriculture. (1909, c. 556, s. 4; 1941, c. 199, s. 1; C. S. 4746.)

§ 106-117. Prosecution of violations.—If any person, firm or corporation shall violate any provision of this article, it shall be the duty of the commissioner of agriculture or his authorized representative to cause proceedings to be commenced and prosecuted in a court of competent jurisdiction in the district where the violation occurred. (1909, c. 556, s. 5; 1941, c. 199, s. 2; C. S. 4747.)

§ 106-118. Certificate of analyst as evidence.—In all prosecutions arising under this article the certificate of the analyst or other officer making the analysis or examination, when duly sworn to by such officer, shall be prima facie evidence of the fact or facts therein certified. (1909, c. 556, s. 4; C. S. 4748.)

§ 106-119. Purpose of article.—This article does not repeal any part of any concentrated commercial feeding-stuff law which may be in effect in this state, but is designed to fully cover all preparations commonly known as condimental, patented, proprietary, or trade-marked "stock or poultry tonics," "stock or poultry regulators," "stock or poultry conditioners," and all similar preparations used for "tonic," "regulative," or "condition" purposes, and to protect the public from deception and fraud in the sale of these specific products. (1909, c. 556, s. 6; C. S. 4749.)

Art. 12. Food, Drugs and Cosmetics.

§ 106-120. Title of article.—This article may be cited as the North Carolina Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. (1939, c. 320, s. 1.)

§ 106-121. Definitions.—For the purpose of this article—

(a) The term "commissioner" means the commissioner of agriculture; the term "department" means the department of agriculture, and the term "board" means the board of agriculture.

(b) The term "person" includes individual, partnership, corporation, and association.

(c) The term "food" means (1) articles used for food or drink for man or other animals, (2) chewing gum, and (3) articles used for components of any such article.

(d) The term "drug" means (1) articles recognized in the official United States Pharmacopœia, official Homœopathic Pharmacopœia of the United States, or official National Formulary, or any supplement to any of them; and (2) articles intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease in man or other animals; and (3) articles (other than food) intended to affect the structure or any function of the body of man or other animals; and (4) articles intended for use as a component of any article specified in clauses (1), (2), or (3); but does not include devices or their components, parts, or accessories.

(e) The term "device" (except when used in paragraph (k) of this section and in §§ 106-122, subsection (j), 106-130, subsection (f), 106-134, subsection (c) and 106-137, subsection (c) means instruments, apparatus and contrivances, including their components, parts and accessories, intended (1) for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease in man or other animals; or (2) to affect the structure or any function of the body of man or other animals.

(f) The term "cosmetic" means (1) articles intended to be rubbed, poured, sprinkled, or sprayed on, introduced into, or otherwise applied to the human body or any part thereof for cleansing, beautifying, promoting attractiveness, or altering the appearance, and (2) articles intended for use as a component of any such articles, except that such terms shall not include soap.

(g) The term "official compendium" means the official United States Pharmacopœia, official Homœopathic Pharmacopœia of the United States, official National Formulary, or any supplement to any of them.

(h) The term "label" means a display of written, printed or graphic matter upon the immediate container of any article; and a requirement made by or under authority of this article that any word, statement, or other information appear on the label shall not be considered to be complied with unless such word, statement, or other information also appears on the outside container or wrapper, if any there be, of the retail package of such article, or is easily legible through the outside container or wrapper.

(i) The term "immediate container" does not include package liners.

(j) The term "labeling" means all labels and other written, printed, or graphic matter (1) upon an article or any of its containers or wrappers, or (2) accompanying such article.

(k) If an article is alleged to be misbranded because the labeling is misleading, or if an advertisement is alleged to be false because it is misleading, then in determining whether the labeling or advertisement is misleading, there shall be taken into account (among other things) not only representations made or suggested by statement, word, design, device, sound, or any combination thereof, but also the extent to which labeling or advertisement fails to reveal facts material in the light of such representations or material with respect to consequences which may result from the use of the article to which the labeling or advertisement relates under the conditions of use prescribed in the labeling or advertisement thereof or under such conditions of use as are customary or usual.

(l) The term "advertisement" means all representations disseminated in any manner or by any means, other than by labeling, for the purposes of inducing, or which are likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase of food, drugs, devices or cosmetics.

(m) The representation of a drug, in its labeling or advertisement, as an antiseptic shall be considered to be a representation that it is a germicide, except in the case of a drug purporting to be, or represented as, an antiseptic for inhibitory use as a wet dressing, ointment, dusting powder, or such other use as involves prolonged contact with the body.

(n) The term "new drug" means (1) any drug the composition of which is such that such drug is not generally recognized, among experts qualified by scientific training and experience to evaluate the safety of drugs, as safe for use under the conditions prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling thereof; or (2) any drug the composition of which is such that such drug, as a result of investigations to determine its safety for use under such conditions, has become so recognized, but which has not, otherwise than in such investigation, been used to a material extent or for a material time under such conditions.

(o) The term "contaminated with filth" applies to any food, drug, device or cosmetic not securely protected from dust, dirt, and as far as may be necessary by all reasonable means, from all foreign or injurious contaminations.

(p) The provisions of this article regarding the selling of food, drugs, devices, or cosmetics, shall be considered to include the manufacture, production, processing, packing, exposure, offer, possession, and holding of any such article for sale; and the sale, dispensing, and giving of any such article; and the supplying or applying of any such article in the conduct of any food, drug or cosmetic establishment.

(q) The term "Federal Act" means the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act (Title 21 U. S. C. 301 et seq.; 52 Stat. 1040 et seq.) (1939, c. 320, s. 2.)

§ 106-122. Certain acts prohibited.—The following acts and the causing thereof within the state of North Carolina are hereby prohibited:

(a) The manufacture, sale, or delivery, holding or offering for sale of any food, drug, device, or cosmetic that is adulterated or misbranded.

(b) The adulteration or misbranding of any food, drug, device, or cosmetic.

(c) The receipt in commerce of any food, drug, device, or cosmetic that is adulterated or misbranded, and the delivery or proffered delivery thereof for pay or otherwise.

(d) The sale, delivery for sale, holding for sale, or offering for sale of any article in violation of §§ 106-131 or 106-135.

(e) The dissemination of any false advertisement.

(f) The refusal to permit entry or inspection, or refusal to permit the taking of a sample, as authorized by § 106-140.

(g) The giving of a guaranty or undertaking which guaranty or undertaking is false, except by a person who relied on a guaranty or undertaking to the same effect signed by, and containing the name and address of the person residing in the state of North Carolina from whom he received in good faith the food, drug, device or cosmetic.

(h) The removal or disposal of a detained or embargoed article in violation of § 106-125.

(i) The alteration, mutilation, destruction, obliteration, or removal of the whole or any part of the labeling of, or the doing of any other act with respect to a food, drug, device or cosmetic, if such act is done while such article is held for sale and results in such article being misbranded.

(j) Forging, counterfeiting, simulating, or falsely representing, or without proper authority using any mark, stamp, tag, label or other identification device authorized or required by regulations promulgated under the provisions of this article.

(k) The using, on the labeling of any drug or in any advertisement relating to such drug, of any representation or suggestion that an application with respect to such drug is effective under § 106-135, or that such drug complies with the provisions of such section. (1939, c. 320, s. 3.)

§ 106-123. Injunctions restraining violations. — In addition to the remedies hereinafter provided the commissioner of agriculture is hereby authorized to apply to the superior court for, and such court shall have jurisdiction upon hearing and for cause shown, to grant a temporary or permanent injunction restraining any person from violating any provision of § 106-122; irrespective of whether or not there exists an adequate remedy at law. (1939, c. 320, s. 4.)

§ 106-124. Violations made misdemeanor.—(a) Any person who violates any of the provisions of § 106-122 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall on conviction thereof be subject to imprisonment in county jail for not more than six months or a fine of not more than two hundred dollars, or both such imprisonment and fine; but if the violation is committed after a conviction of such person under this section has become final, such person shall be subject to imprisonment in county jail for not more than twelve months, or a fine of not more than four hundred dollars, or both such imprisonment and fine.

(b) No person shall be subject to the penalties of subsection (a) of this section, for having violated § 106-122, subsection (a) or (c) if he establishes a guaranty or undertaking signed by, and containing the name and address of, the person residing in the state of North Carolina from whom he received in good faith the article, to the effect that such article is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this article, designating this article.

(c) No publisher, radio-broadcast licensee, or agency or medium for the dissemination of an advertisement, except the manufacturer, packer, distributor, or seller of the article to which a false advertisement relates, shall be liable under this section by reason of the dissemination by him of such false advertisement, unless he has refused on the request of the commissioner of agriculture to furnish the commissioner the name and post office address of the manufacturer, packer, distributor, seller or advertising agency, residing in the state of North Carolina who caused him to disseminate such advertisement. (1939, c. 320, s. 5.)

§ 106-125. Detention of product or article suspected of being adulterated or misbranded.—(a) Whenever a duly authorized agent of the department of agriculture finds or has probable cause to believe, that any food, drug, device or cosmetic is adulterated, or so misbranded as to be dangerous or fraudulent within the meaning of this article, he shall affix to such article a tag or other appropriate marking giving notice that such article is, or is suspected of being, adulterated or misbranded and has been detained or embargoed, and warning all persons not to remove or dispose of such article by sale or otherwise until permission for removal or disposal is given by such agent or the court. It shall be unlawful for any person to remove or dispose of such detained or embargoed article by sale or otherwise without such permission.

(b) When an article detained or embargoed under subsection (a) has been found by such agent to be adulterated, or misbranded, he shall petition the judge of any recorder's, county, or superior court in whose jurisdiction the article is detained or embargoed for an order for condemnation of such article. When such agent has found that an article so detained or embargoed is not adulterated or misbranded, he shall remove the tag or other marking.

(c) If the court finds that a detained or embargoed article is adulterated or misbranded, such article shall, after entry of the decree be destroyed at the expense of the claimant thereof, under the supervision of such agent; and all court costs and fees, and storage and other proper expenses, shall be taxed against the claimant of such article or his agent: Provided, that when the adulteration or misbranding can be corrected by proper labeling or processing of the article, the court, after entry of the decree and after such costs, fees, and expenses have been paid and a good and sufficient bond, conditioned that such article shall be so labelled or processed, has been executed, may by order direct that such article be delivered to the claimant thereof for such labeling or processing under the supervision of an agent of the department of agriculture. The expense of such supervision shall be paid by the claimant. Such bond shall be returned to the claimant of the article on representation to the court by the department of agriculture that the article is no longer in violation of this article, and that the expenses of such supervision have been paid.

(d) Whenever any duly authorized agent of the department of agriculture shall find in any room, building, vehicle of transportation or other structure, any meat, sea food, poultry, vegetable, fruit or other perishable articles which are unsound, or contain any filthy, decomposed or putrid substance, or that may be poisonous or deleterious to health or otherwise unsafe, the same being hereby declared to be a nuisance, the agent shall forthwith condemn or destroy the same, or in any other manner render the same unsalable as human food. (1939, c. 320, s. 6.)

§ 106-126. Prosecutions of violations.—It shall be the duty of any solicitor of a recorder's county, or superior court to whom the commissioner of agriculture reports any violation of this article, to cause appropriate proceedings to be instituted in the proper courts without delay and to be prosecuted in the manner required by law. Before any violation of this article is reported to any such solicitor for the institution of a criminal proceeding, the person against whom such proceeding is contemplated shall be given appropriate notice and an opportunity to present his views before the commissioner of agriculture or his designated agent, either orally or in writing, in person or by attorney, with regard to such contemplated proceeding. (1939, c. 320, s. 7.)

§ 106-127. Report of minor violations in discretion of commissioner.—Nothing in this article shall be construed as requiring the commissioner of agriculture to report for the institution of proceedings under this article, minor violations of this article, whenever the commissioner believes that the public interest will be adequately served in the circumstances by a suitable written notice or warning. (1939, c. 320, s. 8.)

§ 106-128. Establishment of reasonable standards of quality by board of agriculture.—Whenever in the judgment of the board of agriculture such action will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers, the board shall promulgate regulations fixing and establishing for any food or class of food a reasonable definition and standard of identity, and/or reasonable standard of quality and/or fill of container. In prescribing a definition and standard of identity for any food or class of food in which optional ingredients are permitted, the board shall, for the purpose of promoting honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers, designate the optional ingredients which shall be named on the label. The definitions and standards so promulgated shall conform so far as practicable to the definitions and standards promulgated by the secretary of the United States department of agriculture under authority conferred by section four hundred one (401) of the Federal Act. (1939, c. 320, s. 9.)

§ 106-129. Foods deemed to be adulterated.—A food shall be deemed to be adulterated—

(a) (1) If it bears or contains any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render it injurious to health; but in case the substance is not an added substance such food shall not be considered adulterated under this clause if the quantity of such substance in such food does not ordinarily render it injurious to health; or (2) if it bears or contains any added poisonous or added deleterious substance which is unsafe within the meaning of § 106-132; or (3) if it consists in whole or in part of a diseased, contaminated, filthy, putrid or decomposed substance, or if it is otherwise unfit for food; or (4) if it has been produced, prepared, packed or held under insanitary conditions whereby it may have become contaminated with filth, or whereby it may have been rendered diseased, unwholesome or injurious to health; or (5) if it is the product of a diseased animal or an animal which has died otherwise than by slaughter, or that has been fed upon the uncooked offal from a slaughterhouse; or (6) if its container is composed, in whole or in part, of any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render the contents injurious to health.

(b) (1) If any valuable constituent has been in whole or in part omitted or abstracted therefrom; or (2) if any substance has been substituted wholly or in part therefor; or (3) if damage or inferiority has been concealed in any manner; or (4) if any substance has been added thereto or mixed or packed therewith so as to increase its bulk or weight, or reduce its quality or strength or make it appear better or of greater value than it is.

(c) If it is confectionery and it bears or contains any alcohol or nonnutritive article or substance except harmless coloring, harmless flavoring, harmless resinous glaze not in excess of four-tenths of one per centum, harmless natural gum, and pectin: Provided, that this paragraph shall not apply to any confectionery by reason of its containing less than one-half of one per centum by volume of alcohol derived solely from the use of flavoring extracts, or to any chewing gum by reason of its containing harmless nonnutritive masticatory substances.

(d) If it bears or contains a coal-tar color other than one from a batch which has been certified by the United States department of agriculture. (1939, c. 320, s. 10.)

§ 106-130. Foods deemed misbranded.—A food shall be deemed to be misbranded—

(a) If its labeling is false or misleading in any particular.

(b) If it is offered for sale under the name of another food.

(c) If it is an imitation of another food, unless its label bears, in type of uniform size and prominence, the word "imitation" and, immediately thereafter, the name of the food imitated.

(d) If its container is so made, formed or filled as to be misleading.

(e) If in package form, unless it bears a label containing (1) the name and place of business of the manufacturer, packer, or distributor; and (2) an accurate statement of the quantity of the contents in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count: Provided, that under clause (2) of this paragraph reasonable variations shall be permitted, and exemptions as to small packages shall be established, by regulations prescribed by the board of agriculture.

(f) If any word, statement, or other information required by or under authority of this article to appear on the label or labeling is not prominently placed thereon with such conspicuousness (as compared with other words, statements, designs, or devices, in the labeling) and in such terms as to render it likely to be read and understood by the ordinary individual under customary conditions of purchase and use.

(g) If it purports to be or is represented as a food for which a definition and standard of identity has been prescribed by regulations as provided by § 106-128, unless (1) it conforms to such definition and standard, and (2) its label bears the name of the food specified in the definition and standard, and, in so far as may be required by such regulations, the common names of optional ingredients (other than spices, flavoring, and coloring) present in such food.

(h) If it purports to be or is represented as (1) a food for which a standard of quality has been prescribed by regulations as provided by § 106-128 and its quality falls below such standard unless its label bears, in such manner and form as such regulations specify, a statement that it falls below such standard; or (2) a food for which a standard or standards of fill of container have been prescribed by regulation as provided by § 106-128, and it falls below the standard of fill of container applicable thereto, unless its label bears, in such manner and form as such regulations specify, a statement that it falls below such standard.

(i) If it is not subject to the provisions of paragraph (g) of this section, unless its label bears (1) the common or usual name of the food, if any there be, and (2) in case it is fabricated from two or more ingredients, the common or usual name of each such ingredient; except that spices, flavorings, and colorings, other than those sold as such, may be designated as spices, flavorings, and colorings without naming each: Provided, that, to the extent that compliance with the requirements of clause (2) of this paragraph is impracticable or results in deception or unfair competition, exemptions shall be established by regulations promulgated by the board of agriculture.

(j) If it purports to be or is represented for special dietary uses, unless its label bears such information concerning its vitamin, mineral, and other dietary properties as the board of agriculture determines to be, and by regulations prescribes as, necessary in order to fully inform purchasers as to its value for such uses.

(k) If it bears or contains any artificial flavoring, artificial coloring, or chemical preservative, unless it bears a label stating that fact: Provided, that to the extent that compliance with the requirements of this paragraph is impracticable, exemptions shall be established by regulations promulgated by the board of agriculture: Provided, further, that for the purpose of complying with the provisions of this article, as it pertains to bottled soft drinks, either the bottle crown or the crown together with the blown-in-the-bottle or annealed-to-the-bottle statements, now in usual and common use in this state, shall be deemed sufficient labeling and no paper label shall be necessary. (1939, c. 320, s. 11.)

§ 106-131. Permits governing manufacture of foods subject to contamination with micro-organisms.—(a) Whenever the commissioner of agriculture finds after investigation by himself or his duly authorized agents, that the distribution in North Carolina of any class of food may, by reason of contamination with micro-organisms during manufacture, processing, or packing thereof in any locality in this state, be injurious to health, and that such injurious nature cannot be adequately determined after such articles have entered commerce, the commissioner, then, and in such case only, shall promulgate regulations providing for the issuance, to manufacturers, processors, or packers of such class of food in such locality, of permits to which shall be attached such conditions governing the manufacture, processing, or packing of such class of food, for such temporary period of time, as may be necessary to protect the public health; and after the effective date of such regulations, and during such temporary period, no person shall introduce or deliver for introduction into commerce any such food manufactured, processed, or packed by any such manufacturer, processor, or packer unless such manufacturer, processor, or packer holds a permit issued by the commissioner as provided by such regulations.

(b) The commissioner of agriculture is authorized to suspend immediately upon notice any permit issued under authority of this section if it is found that any of the conditions of the permit have been violated. The holder of a permit so suspended shall be privileged at any time to apply for the reinstatement of such permit, and the commissioner shall immediately after prompt hearing and an inspection of the establishment, reinstate such permit if it is found that adequate measures have been taken to comply with and maintain the conditions of the permit, as originally issued, or as amended.

(c) Any officer or employee duly designated by the commissioner of agriculture shall have access to any factory or establishment, the operator of which holds a permit from the commissioner of agriculture for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the conditions of the permit are being complied with, and denial of access for such inspection shall be ground for suspension of the permit until such access is freely given by the operator. (1939, c. 320, s. 12.)

§ 106-132. Regulations by board of agriculture as to use of deleterious substances.—Any poisonous or deleterious substance added to any food, except where such substance is required in the production thereof or cannot be avoided by good manufacturing practice, shall be deemed to be unsafe for purposes of the application of clause (2) of § 106-129, subsection (a); but when such substance is so required or cannot be so avoided, the board of agriculture shall promulgate regulations limiting the quantity therein or thereon to such extent as the board finds necessary for the protection of public health, and any quantity exceeding the limits so fixed shall also be deemed to be unsafe for the purposes of the application of clause (2) of § 106-129, subsection (a). While such a regulation is in effect limiting the quantity of any such substance in the case of any food, such food shall not, by reason of bearing or containing any added amount of such substance, be considered to be adulterated within the meaning of clause (1) § 106-129, subsection (a). In determining the quantity of such added substance to be tolerated in or on different articles of food, the board shall take into account the extent to which the use of such substance is required or cannot be avoided in the production of each such article, and the other ways in which the consumer may be affected by the same or other poisonous or deleterious substances. (1939, c. 320, s. 13.)

§ 106-133. Drugs deemed to be adulterated.—A drug or device shall be deemed to be adulterated—

(a) (1) If it consists in whole or in part of any filthy, putrid or decomposed substance; or (2) if it has been produced, prepared, packed, or held under insanitary conditions whereby it may have been contaminated with filth, or whereby it may have been rendered injurious to health, or (3) if it is a drug and its container is composed, in whole or in part, of any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render the contents injurious to health; or (4) if it is a drug and it bears or contains, for purposes of coloring only, a coal-tar color other than one from a batch certified by the United States department of agriculture.

(b) If it purports to be or is represented as a drug the name of which is recognized in an official compendium, and its strength differs from, or its quality or purity falls below, the standard set forth in such compendium. Such determination as to strength, quality, or purity shall be made in accordance with the tests or methods of assay set forth in such compendium, or in the absence of or inadequacy of such tests or methods of assay, those so prescribed by the United States department of agriculture. No drug defined in an official compendium shall be deemed to be adulterated under this paragraph because it differs from the standard of strength, quality, or purity therefor set forth in such compendium, if its difference in strength, quality, or purity from such standard is plainly stated on its label. Whenever a drug is recognized in both the United States Pharmacopoeia and the Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States it shall be subject to the requirements of the United States Pharmacopoeia unless it is labeled and offered for sale as a homoeopathic drug, in which case it shall be subject to the provisions of the Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States and not to those of the United States Pharmacopoeia.

(c) If it is not subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section and its strength differs from, or its purity or quality falls below, that which it purports or is represented to possess.

(d) If it is a drug and any substance has been (1) mixed or packed therewith so as to reduce its quality or strength; or (2) substituted wholly or in part therefor. (1939, c. 320, s. 14.)

§ 106-134. Drugs deemed misbranded.—A drug or device shall be deemed to be misbranded—

(a) If its labeling is false or misleading in any particular.

(b) If in package form unless it bears a label containing (1) the name and place of business of the manufacturer, packer, or distributor; and (2) an accurate statement of the quantity of the contents in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count: Provided, that under clause (2) of this paragraph reasonable variations shall be permitted, and exemptions as to small packages shall be established, by regulations prescribed by the board of agriculture.

(c) If any word, statement, or other information required by or under authority of this article to appear on the label or labeling is not prominently placed thereon with such conspicuousness (as compared with other words, statements, designs or devices, in the labeling) and in such terms as to render it likely to be read and understood by the ordinary individual under customary conditions of purchase and use.

(d) If it is for use by man and contains any quantity of the narcotic or hypnotic substance alphaeucaine, barbituric acid, betaeucaine, bromal, cannabis, carbromal, chloral, coca, cocaine, codeine, heroin, marihuana, morphine, opium, paraldehyde, peyote, of sulphonmethane; or any chemical derivative of such substances, which derivative has been by the board after investigation, found to be, and by regulations under this article, designated as, habit forming; unless its label bears the name and quantity or proportion of such substance or derivative and in juxtaposition therewith the statement "Warning—May be habit forming."

(e) If it is a drug and is not designated solely by a name recognized in an official compendium unless its label bears (1) the common or usual name of the drug, if such there be; and (2) in case it is fabricated from two or more ingredients, the common or usual name of each active ingredient, including the kind and quantity or proportion of any alcohol, and also including, whether active or not, the name and quantity or proportion of any bromides, ether, chloroform, acetanilid, acetphenedtidin, amidopyrine, antipyrine atropine, hyoscine, hyoscyamine, arsenic, digitalis, digitalis glucosides, mercury, ouabain, strophanthin, strychnine, thyroid, or any derivative or preparation of any such substances, contained therein: Provided, that to the extent that compliance with the requirements of clause (2) of this paragraph is impracticable, exemptions shall be established by regulations promulgated by the board of agriculture.

(f) Unless its labeling bears (1) adequate directions for use; and (2) such adequate warnings against use in those pathological conditions or by children where its use may be dangerous to health, or against unsafe dosage or methods or duration of administration or application, in such manner and form, as are necessary for the protection of users: Provided, that where any requirement of clause (1) of this paragraph, as applied to any drug or device, is not necessary for the protection of the public health, the board of agriculture shall promulgate regulations exempting such drug or device from such requirements.

(g) If it purports to be a drug the name of which is recognized in an official compendium, unless it is packaged and labeled as prescribed therein: Provided, that the method of packing may be modified with the consent of the board of agriculture. Whenever a drug is recognized in both the United States Pharmacopoeia and the Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States, it shall be subject to the requirements of the United States Pharmacopoeia with respect to packaging and labeling unless it is labeled and offered for sale as a homoeopathic drug, in which case it shall be subject to the provisions of the Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States and not to those of the United States Pharmacopoeia.

(h) If it has been found by the department of agriculture to be a drug liable to deterioration, unless it is packaged in such form and manner, and its label bears a statement of such precautions, as the board of agriculture shall by regulations require as necessary for the protection of public health. No such regulation shall be established for any drug recognized in an official compendium until the commissioner of agriculture shall have informed the appropriate body charged with the revision of such compendium of the need for such packaging or labeling requirements and such body shall have failed within a reasonable time to prescribe such requirements.

(i) (1) If it is a drug and its container is so made, formed, or filled as to be misleading; or (2) if it is an imitation of another drug; or (3) if it is offered for sale under the name of another drug.

(j) If it is dangerous to health when used in the dosage, or with the frequency or duration prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling thereof.

(k) If it is a drug sold at retail for use by man and contains any quantity of aminopyrine, barbituric acid, cinchophen, dinitrophenol, or sulfanilamide; unless it is sold on a written prescription signed by a member of the medical, dental or veterinary profession who is licensed by law to administer such drug, and its label bears the name and place of business of the seller, the serial number and date of such prescription, and the name of such member of the medical, dental or veterinary profession.

(l) A drug sold on a written prescription signed by a member of the medical, dental or veterinary profession (except a drug sold in the course of the conduct of a business of selling drugs pursuant to a diagnosis by mail) shall be exempt from the requirements of this section if—(1) such member of the medical, dental or veterinary profession is licensed by law to administer such drug, and (2) such drug bears a label containing the name and place of business of the seller, the serial number and date of such prescription, and the name of such member of the medical, dental or veterinary profession. (1939, c. 320, s. 15.)

§ 106-135. Regulations for sale of new drugs. —(a) No person shall sell, deliver, offer for sale, hold for sale or give away any new drug unless (1) an application with respect thereto has become effective under section five hundred and five of the Federal Act, or (2) when not subject to the Federal Act unless such drug has been tested and has not been found to be unsafe for use under the conditions prescribed, recommended or suggested in the labeling thereof, and prior to selling or offering for sale such drug, there has been filed with the commissioner of agriculture an application setting forth (a) full reports of investigations which have been made to show whether or not such drug is safe for use; (b) a full list of the articles used as components of such drug; (c) a full statement of the composition of such drug; (d) a full description of the methods used in, and the facilities and controls used for, the manufacture, processing, and packing of such drug; (e) such samples of such drug and of the articles used as components thereof as the commissioner may require; and (f) specimens of the labeling proposed to be used for such drug.

(b) An application provided for in subsection (a) (2) of this section shall become effective on the sixtieth day after the filing thereof, except that if the commissioner of agriculture finds after due notice to the applicant and giving him an opportunity for a hearing, that the drug is not safe for use under the conditions prescribed, recommended or suggested in the proposed labeling thereof, he shall, prior to the effective date of the application, issue an order refusing to permit the application to become effective.

(c) This section shall not apply—(1) to a drug intended solely for investigational use by experts qualified by scientific training and experience to investigate the safety of drugs provided the drug is plainly labeled "For investigational use only": or (2) to a drug sold in this state at any time prior to the enactment of this article or introduced into interstate commerce at any time prior to the enactment of the Federal Act; or (3) to any drug which is licensed under the virus, serum, and toxin Act of July first, one thousand nine hundred and two (U. S. C. one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four ed. title forty-two, chapter four).

(d) A drug dispensed on a written prescription signed by a physician, dentist, or veterinarian (except a drug dispensed in the course of the conduct of a business of dispensing drugs pursuant to diagnosis by mail), shall be exempt from the requirements of this section if (1) such physician, dentist, or veterinarian is licensed by law to administer such drug, and (2) such drug bears a label containing the name and place of business of the dispenser, the serial number and date of such prescription, and the name of such physician, dentist, or veterinarian.

(e) An order refusing to permit an application under this section to become effective may be revoked by the commissioner of agriculture. (1939, c. 320, s. 16.)

§ 106-136. Cosmetics deemed adulterated. — A cosmetic shall be deemed to be adulterated—

(a) If it bears or contains any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render it injurious to users under the conditions of use prescribed in the labeling or advertisement thereof, or under such conditions of use as are customary or usual: Provided, that this provision shall not apply to coal-tar hair dye, the label of which bears the following legend conspicuously displayed thereon: "Caution—This product contains ingredients which may cause skin irritation on certain individuals and a preliminary test according to accompanying directions should first be made. This product must not be used for dyeing the eyelashes or eyebrows; to do so may cause blindness," and the labeling of which bears adequate directions for such preliminary testing. For the purposes of this paragraph and paragraph (e) the term "hair dye" shall not include eyelash dyes or eyebrow dyes.

(b) If it consists in whole or in part of any filthy, putrid, or decomposed substance.

(c) If it has been produced, prepared, packed, or held under insanitary conditions whereby it may have become contaminated with filth, or whereby it may have been rendered injurious to health.

(d) If its container is composed, in whole or in part, of any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render the contents injurious to health.

(e) If it is not a hair dye and it bears or contains a coal-tar color other than one from a batch which has been certified by the United States department of agriculture. (1939, c. 320, s. 17.)

§ 106-137. Cosmetics deemed misbranded.—A cosmetic shall be deemed to be misbranded—

(a) If its labeling is false or misleading in any particular.

(b) If in package form unless it bears a label containing (1) the name and place of business of the manufacturer, packer, or distributor; and (2) an accurate statement of the quantity, of the contents in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count: Provided, that under clause (2) of this paragraph reasonable variations shall be permitted, and exemptions as to small packages shall be established by regulations prescribed by the board of agriculture.

(c) If any word, statement, or other information required by or under authority of this article to appear on the label or labeling is not prominently placed thereon with such conspicuousness (as compared with other words, statements, designs, or devices, in the labeling) and in such terms as to render it likely to be read and understood by the ordinary individual under customary conditions of purchase and use.

(d) If its container is so made, formed, or filled as to be misleading. (1939, c. 320, s. 18.)

§ 106-138. False advertising.—(a) An advertisement of a food, drug, device or cosmetic shall be deemed to be false if it is false or misleading in any particular.

(b) For the purpose of this article the advertisement of a drug or device representing it to have any effect in albuminuria, appendicitis, arteriosclerosis, blood poison, bone disease, Bright's disease, cancer, carbuncles, cholecystitis, diabetes, diphtheria, dropsy, erysipelas, gallstones, heart and vascular diseases, high blood pressure, mastoiditis, measles, meningitis, mumps, nephritis, otitis, media, paralysis, pneumonia, poliomyelitis, (infantile paralysis), prostate gland disorders, pyelitis, scarlet fever, sexual impotence, sinus infection, smallpox, tuberculosis, tumors, typhoid, uremia, or venereal diseases, shall also be deemed to be false; except that no advertisement not in violation of subsection (a) shall be deemed to be false under this subsection if it is disseminated only to members of the medical, dental, pharmaceutical, or veterinary professions, or appears only in the scientific periodicals of these professions, or is disseminated only for the purpose of public health education by persons not commercially interested, directly or indirectly, in the sale of such drugs or devices: Provided, that whenever the Department of Agriculture determines that an advance in medical science has made any type of self-medication safe as to any of the diseases named above, the board shall by regulation authorize the advertisement of drugs having curative or therapeutic effect for such disease, subject to such conditions and restrictions as the board may deem necessary in the interest of public health: Provided, that this subsection shall not be construed as indicating that self-medication for diseases other than those named herein is safe or efficacious. (1939, c. 320, s. 19.)

§ 106-139. Regulations by board of agriculture.—(a) The authority to promulgate regulations for the efficient enforcement of this article is hereby vested in the board of agriculture, except that the commissioner of agriculture is hereby authorized to promulgate regulations under § 106-131. The board is hereby authorized to make the regulations promulgated under this article conform, in so far as practicable with those promulgated under the federal act.

(b) Hearings authorized or required by this article shall be conducted by the commissioner of agriculture or such officer, agent, or employee as the commissioner may designate for the purpose.

(c) A representative duly designated by the North Carolina board of pharmacy, and a representative duly designated by the North Carolina board of health shall sit with the commissioner of agriculture, or his duly authorized agent, and assist in all hearings conducted in accordance with the provisions of § 106-134, subsections (d), (f), (g), and (h); and in all cases of hearings and/or investigations, under § 106-134, subsections (d), (f), (g), and (h) and under § 106-135, subsections (a), (b), and (d), transcripts of all findings and recommendations shall be submitted to the board of pharmacy and the board of health for approval.

(d) Before promulgating any regulation contemplated by §§ 106-128; 106-130, subsection (j); 106-131; 106-134, subsections (d), (f), (g), and (h), or 106-138, subsection (b), the commissioner of agriculture shall give appropriate notice of the proposal and of the time and place for a hearing. The regulation so promulgated shall become effective on a date fixed by the board of agriculture (which date shall not be prior to ninety days after its promulgation, except such regulations as may be promulgated under § 106-131, which regulations shall become effective on the date of promulgation). Such regulation may be amended or repealed in the same manner as is provided for its adoption; except that in the case of a regulation amending or repealing any such regulation the board, to such an extent as it deems necessary in order to prevent undue hardship, may disregard the foregoing provisions regarding notice, hearing, or effective date.

(e) All proposed definitions and standards for drugs shall, prior to promulgation by the board of agriculture be submitted to the board of pharmacy and the board of health for approval. (1939, c. 320, s. 20.)

§ 106-140. Further powers of commissioner of agriculture for enforcement of article.—The commissioner of agriculture or his duly authorized agent shall have free access at all reasonable hours to any factory, warehouse, or establishment in which foods, drugs, devices or cosmetics are manufactured, processed, packed, or held for introduction into commerce, or are held after such introduction, or to enter any vehicle being used to transport or hold such foods, drugs, devices or cosmetics in commerce, for the purpose: (1) of inspecting such factory, warehouse, establishment, or vehicle and all pertinent equipment, finished and unfinished materials, containers, and labeling therein, to determine if any of the provisions of this article are being violated, and (2) to secure samples or specimens of any food, drug, device or cosmetic after paying or offering to pay for such sample. It shall be the duty of the commissioner of agriculture to make or cause to be made examination of samples secured under the provisions of this section to determine whether or not any provision of this article is being violated. (1939, c. 320, s. 21.)

§ 106-141. Appointment of inspectors. — (a) In the appointment of any drug inspector in carrying out the provisions of this article, the commissioner of agriculture shall confer with the North Carolina board of pharmacy.

(b) The commissioner of agriculture is authorized to conduct the examinations and investigations for the purposes of this article through officers and employees of the department or through any health, food or drug officer or employee of the state, or any political subdivision thereof: Provided, that when examinations and investigations are to be conducted through any officer or employee of any agency other than the department of agriculture the arrangements for such examinations and investigations shall be approved by the directing head of such agency. (1939, c. 320, s. 22.)

§ 106-142. Publication of reports of judgments, decrees, etc.—(a) The commissioner of agriculture may cause to be published from time to time reports summarizing all judgments, decrees, and court orders which have been rendered under this article, including the nature of the charge and the disposition thereof.

(b) The commissioner of agriculture may also cause to be disseminated such information regarding food, drugs, devices, and cosmetics as he deems necessary in the interest of public health and the protection of the consumer against fraud. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the commissioner of agriculture from collecting, reporting, and illustrating the results of the investigations of the department. (1939, c. 320, s. 23.)

§ 106-143. Article construed supplementary.—Nothing in this article shall be construed as in any way amending, abridging, or otherwise affecting the validity of any law or ordinance relating to the state board of health, or any local health department, in their sanitary work in connection with public and private water supplies, sewerage, meat, milk, milk products, shellfish, fin fish, or other foods, or food products, or the production, handling, or processing thereof; but this article shall be construed to be in addition thereto. (1939, c. 320, s. 24½.)

§ 106-144. Exemptions.—Meats and meat products subject to Federal Meat and Inspection Act approved March four, one thousand nine hundred and seven, as amended, are exempted from the provisions of this article so long as such meats and meat products remain in possession of the processor. (1939, c. 320, s. 24⅔.)

§ 106-145. Effective date.—This article shall be in full force and effect from and after January first, one thousand nine hundred and forty: Provided, that the provisions of § 106-139 shall become effective on April 3, 1939 and thereafter the commissioner of agriculture is authorized hereby to conduct hearings, and the board is authorized to promulgate regulations which shall become effective on and after the effective date of this article as the board shall direct. (1939, c. 320, s. 25.)

Art. 13. Canned Dog Foods.

§ 106-146. Labeling of canned dog food required.—Every can of dog food sold, offered or exposed for sale within this state shall have printed thereon, in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof, a legible and plainly printed statement in the English language clearly and truly certifying the net weight of the can (provided, that all canned dog foods shall be in cans of one-half pound, or one pound, or multiples of one pound); the name, brand or trade mark under which the article is sold; the name and address of the manufacturer; the name of each and all ingredients of which the article is composed; a guarantee that the contents are wholesome and unadulterated, and a statement of the maximum percentage it contains of crude fiber, and the percentage of crude fat, and the percentage of crude protein, all three constituents to be determined by the methods in use at the time by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists of the United States. (1939, c. 307, s. 1; 1941, c. 290, s. 1.)

§ 106-147. "Canned dog food" defined.—The term "canned dog food" shall be held to include any article of food, packed in cans or hermetically sealed containers, and used for food for dogs or cats. (1939, c. 307, s. 2.)

§ 106-148. Registration of copies of labels with commissioner of agriculture.—Each and every manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent or seller, before selling, offering or exposing for sale in this state any canned dog food, shall, for each and every canned dog food bearing a distinguishing name or trademark, file for registration with the commissioner of agriculture a copy of the statement required in § 106-146, giving in addition the percentage of moisture contained in said products, and accompany said statement, upon request, by a sealed can containing at least one pound of said dog food. (1939, c. 307, s. 3; 1941, c. 290, s. 2.)

§ 106-149. Power of commissioner of agriculture to refuse or revoke registration upon failure to comply with regulations.—The commissioner of agriculture shall have the power to refuse the registration of any canned dog food under a name which would be misleading as to the materials of which it is composed, or when the names of each and all ingredients of which it is composed are not stated, or where it does not comply with the standards and rulings adopted by the board of agriculture. Should any canned dog foods be registered and it is afterwards discovered that they are in violation of any of the provisions of this article, the commissioner of agriculture shall have the power to cancel such registration. (1939, c. 307, s. 4.)

§ 106-150. Annual registration fee; tax stamps.—Upon registration of each brand or kind of dog food, the manufacturer, agent or distributor thereof shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture an annual registration fee of five dollars ($5.00) payable at the time of registration, and thereafter on or before the last day of June of each year. Furthermore, each such manufacturer, agent or distributor shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture an inspection tax at the rate of two cents for each carton of forty-eight cans and shall affix to each such carton a stamp to be furnished by the commissioner of agriculture stating that all charges specified in this section have been paid. Said stamps shall be redeemed by the department issuing said stamps, upon surrender of same, accompanied by an affidavit that the same have not been used: Provided, said stamps shall be returned for redemption within the time fixed by the board of agriculture. (1939, c. 307, s. 5.)

§ 106-151. Samples for analysis.—The commissioner of agriculture, together with his deputies, agents and assistants, shall have free access to all places of business, mills, buildings, carriages, cars, vessels and packages of whatsoever kind used in the manufacture, importation or sale of any canned dog food, and shall have power and authority to open any package containing or supposed to contain any canned dog food, and to take therefrom, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, samples for analysis, upon tender and full payment of the selling price of said sample. The department of agriculture is hereby authorized to publish from time to time in reports or bulletins the results of the analysis of such samples. (1939, c. 307, s. 6.)

§ 106-152. Adoption of standards, etc.—The board of agriculture is empowered to adopt standards for canned dog foods and such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this article. (1939, c. 307, s. 7.)

§ 106-153. Confiscation and sale by commissioner of agriculture in event of violation.—Any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent or dealer who shall sell, offer or expose for sale or distribution in this State any canned dog food, as defined in § 106-147, without complying with the requirements of the preceding sections of this article, or who shall sell or offer or expose for sale or distribution any canned dog food which contains substantially a smaller percentage of crude protein or crude fat or a larger percentage of crude fiber or moisture than certified to be contained, or who shall adulterate any canned dog food with foreign substances, of little or no food value, or with injurious substances, shall be guilty of a violation of this article, and the lot of canned dog food in question shall be subject to seizure, condemnation and sale by the commissioner of agriculture, and the proceeds from said sales shall be covered into the state treasury for the use of the department executing the provisions of this article. Such seizure and sale shall be made under the direction of the commissioner of agriculture by an officer of the department of agriculture. The sale shall be made at the courthouse door in the county in which the seizure is made, after advertisement in some newspaper published or circulating in such county. The advertisement shall state the brand or name of the goods, the quantity and why seized and offered for sale. The commissioner of agriculture, however, may in his discretion release the canned dog food so withdrawn when the requirements of the provisions of this article have been complied with, and upon payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the department of agriculture in any proceedings connected with such seizure and withdrawal. (1939, c. 307, s. 8.)

§ 106-154. Failure to use tax stamps or improper use of stamps.—Any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent or dealer who shall sell, offer or expose for sale or distribute in this state any canned dog food without having attached thereto or furnished therewith tax stamps, as required by the provisions of this article, or who shall use the required tax stamps a second time to avoid the payment of the tax, or any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent or dealer who shall counterfeit or use a counterfeit of such tax stamps, shall be guilty of a violation of the provisions of this article. (1939, c. 307, s. 9.)

§ 106-155. Failure to comply with requirements.—Any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent or dealer who refuses to comply with the requirements of the provisions of this article, or any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent or dealer or person who shall impede, obstruct, hinder or otherwise prevent or attempt to prevent any chemist, inspector or other authorized agent in the performance of his duty in connection with the provisions of this article, shall be guilty of a violation of the provisions of this article. (1939, c. 307, s. 10.)

§ 106-156. Violations made misdemeanor.—Any manufacturer, importer, jobber, agent or dealer who shall violate any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not exceeding one hundred dollars for the first offense, nor more than two hundred dollars for each subsequent offense. (1939, c. 307, s. 11.)

§ 106-157. Notification by commissioner as to violations.—Whenever the commissioner of agriculture becomes cognizant of any violation of the provisions of this article he shall immediately notify in writing the manufacturer, importer or jobber and dealer, if same be known. Any party so notified shall be given an opportunity to be heard, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commissioner and the board of agriculture, and if it appears that any of the provisions of this article have been violated the commissioner of agriculture shall certify the facts to the solicitor of the district in which such sample was obtained, and furnish that officer with a copy of the results of the analysis or other examinations of such article, duly authenticated by the analyst or other officer making such examination, under the oath of such officer. In all prosecutions arising under this article the certificate of the analyst or other officer making the analysis or examination, when duly sworn to by such officer, shall be prima facie evidence of the fact or facts therein certified. (1939, c. 307, s. 12.)

§ 106-158. Prosecution of violations.—It shall be the duty of every solicitor to whom the commissioner of agriculture shall report any violation of this article to cause proceedings to be commenced and prosecuted without delay for the fines and penalties in such cases prescribed: Provided, that the provisions of this article shall not apply to any canned dog foods now in the hands or in the stock of any dealer or manufacturer. (1939, c. 307, s. 13.)

Art. 14. State Inspection of Slaughterhouses.

§ 106-159. Application for permit.—Any persons, firms or corporations engaged in the slaughter of meat-producing animals within the State of North Carolina, may make application to the Commissioner of Agriculture for a permit to transport, convey, and sell their products at any place within the limits of the State of North Carolina. (1925, c. 181, s. 1.)

§ 106-160. Investigation of sanitary conditions; issuance of permit.—It shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Agriculture, on receipt of such application described above, to cause to be made a thorough investigation of the sanitary conditions existing in such establishment, the efficiency of the inspection provided, and the manner in which the food products of such establishment are slaughtered and prepared. If such establishment is found to be operating in accordance with the regulations of the Commissioner of Agriculture as provided for in this article, a numbered permit shall be issued to the persons, firms, or corporations making application for same. (1925, c. 181, s. 2.)

§ 106-161. Municipalities, inspection of meats.—Municipal corporations shall have power and authority under this article to establish and maintain the inspection of meats and meat products, at establishments located within their corporate limits, and county commissioners shall have power and authority to establish and maintain inspection of meats and meat products at establishments not located in municipal corporations, but located within the boundaries of their county. (1925, c. 181, s. 3.)

§ 106-162. Fees for inspection.—The officials of municipalities or counties in which such inspection is maintained, shall have full power and authority to fix and collect fees for inspection of any and all meat animals or meat products necessary to the maintenance of such inspection, but no further inspection charge shall be made within the State. (1925, c. 181, s. 4.)

§ 106-163. Inspection conducted by veterinarian.—No permit shall be issued to any establishment except where the meat inspection is conducted under the supervision of a graduate veterinarian approved by the State Veterinarian of North Carolina or the North Carolina Veterinary Medical Examining Board. (1925, c. 181, s. 5.)

§ 106-164. Number of permit to identify meats; revocation of permit.—To each establishment complying with the provisions of this article, the numbered permit shall be the establishment's official State number, and such number may be used to identify all passed meats and meat products prepared in such establishment. Such permit may be revoked by the Commissioner of Agriculture at any time when the establishment issued such permit violates any of the regulations prescribed for efficient inspection and sanitation. (1925, c. 181, s. 6.)

§ 106-165. Carcasses marked when inspected.—All meat carcasses inspected and passed in accordance with this article shall be branded with a rubber stamp bearing the number of the establishment and the words "N. C. Inspected and Passed." (1925, c. 181, s. 7.)

§ 106-166. Rules and regulations for inspection; power of commissioner.—The Commissioner of Agriculture shall have full power and authority to make and adopt all necessary rules and regulations for the efficient inspection, preparation and handling of meats and meat products in such establishments, and for the disposal of all condemned meats, and such rules and regulations shall govern the inspection of all meats and meat products at establishments operating under this article. (1925, c. 181, s. 8.)

§ 106-167. Failure of butchers to keep record misdemeanor.—If any butcher shall fail to keep a book of registration and register the ear-mark, brand, or flesh-mark of all cattle, sheep, swine, or goats, and the name of the parties purchased from, in said registration, and the date of said purchase, which registration shall be open to the inspection of all persons, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall pay a fine of fifty dollars for each offense: Provided, this shall apply only to the counties of Rockingham, Bertie, Edgecombe, Halifax, Martin, Orange, Pitt, Wilson, Wayne, Jones, Warren, Johnston, Richmond, Northhampton, Franklin, Craven, Chowan, Harnett, and Gates, and Warsaw township in Duplin county. (Rev., s. 3803; 1889, c. 318; 1895, c. 363; 1891, c. 38; 1891, c. 557; 1893, c. 116; 1903, c. 82; 1905, c. 31; 1909, c. 865, s. 1; C. S. 5099.)

§ 106-168. Local: Sales of calves for veal.—It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, or corporation to buy or sell, or engage in the business of buying and selling or shipping calves for veal under the age of six months, either dead or alive: Provided, that this section shall not apply to persons buying or selling heifer calves to be raised for milk cows, nor to bull calves for raising purposes or work stock.

Any person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall pay a penalty of not less than fifteen dollars nor more than thirty dollars, or be imprisoned for not less than twenty nor more than thirty days, or both, in the discretion of the court, for each and every offense.

This section shall apply to the following counties only: Alamance, Alexander, Ashe, Cherokee, Clay, Franklin, Gaston, Lee, Madison, McDowell, Mitchell, Robeson, Rutherford, Sampson, Wake and Wilson. (Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 80; 1915, c. 2; 1917, c. 93; Pub. Loc. 1917, cc. 299, 470; 1921, c. 85; 1925, c. 11; Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 143.)

Local Modification.—Alamance: Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 616; Pub. Loc. 1917, c. 391; Alexander: Pub. Loc. 1917, c. 180; Alleghany: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 473; Anson: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 422; Avery: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 143; Buncombe: Pub. Loc. 1919, c. 191; Durham: 1915, c. 155; Lincoln: Pub. Loc. 1919, c. 159; Haywood, Macon, Swain, Graham and Jackson: Pub. Loc. 1297, c. 472; Transylvania: Pub. Loc. 1919, c. 191; Watauga: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 473; Wilkes: Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 731; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 12.

Art. 15. Inspection of Meat and Meat Products by Counties and Cities.

§ 106-169. Inspection; meat stamped as approved or condemned.—All persons, firms, or corporations engaged in the business of operating a meat packing plant or plants within the State of North Carolina where more than one thousand beef cattle are slaughtered per annum, or more than ten thousand hogs or swine are slaughtered per annum, or more than five hundred sheep are slaughtered per annum shall have the meat or beef of said slaughtered cattle inspected by a veterinary surgeon duly licensed by the State of North Carolina; that said inspector shall be elected by the governing body of the municipal corporation wherein said packing plant or plants is or are situated, or, if said packing plan be not situated within a municipal corporation, then by the board of county commissioners of the county wherein said packing plant is situated. Said inspector shall condemn all meats found to be unfit for human consumption. Said inspector shall cause all meats so condemned either to be destroyed or put to some use which shall not be dangerous for the public health. Each and every piece of meat or beef not condemned by said inspector shall be stamped by him in the usual manner; the stamp to be used to stamp said meat or beef shall bear the following words: "North Carolina State Meat Inspection—Approved (insert name of inspector), Inspector." All meat or beef condemned by said inspector shall be stamped by a similar stamp, except that the word "condemned" shall be inserted thereon instead of the word "approved." (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 11, s. 1.)

§ 106-170. Fees for inspection.—The charges for said inspection shall be as follows: twenty-five cents for each and every beef cattle or cow inspected; ten cents for each and every hog inspected, and ten cents for each and every sheep inspected; ten cents for each and every veal calf inspected; no further inspection shall be necessary within the State except such inspection as is provided for in §§ 106-120 to 106-145. No further or other inspection charges for the inspection of meat or beef inspected as provided herein shall be made within the State. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 11, s. 2; 1925, c. 311.)

§ 106-171. Veterinary not available; who to inspect.—Should no regularly licensed veterinary surgeon be available for the purposes of this article, then the duties provided herein to be performed by said inspector shall be performed by some competent person to be elected by the governing body of the municipal corporation wherein said packing plant is located, or if said packing plant be not located within a municipal corporation, then by the board of county commissioners of the county wherein said packing plant is located. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 11, s. 3.)

§ 106-172. Collection of fees; remuneration of inspector.—The fees or inspection charges herein provided for shall be collected by the municipal corporation wherein said packing plant is located, or if said packing plant be not located within a municipal corporation, then by the board of county commissioners of the county wherein said plant is located; said fees or charges so collected shall be placed in the general fund of the municipal corporation or county collecting the same; the salary or remuneration of the inspector shall be fixed and paid by the municipal corporation or county by which said inspector is elected. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 11, s. 4.)

§ 106-173. Slaughter houses, etc., under federal inspection, exempt from provisions of state inspection laws.—The provisions of §§ 106-159 to 106-172 shall not be applicable to any slaughter house or meat packing plant, or any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of the operation thereof, where such slaughter house or meat packing plant is operated under federal inspection pursuant to the provisions of the meat inspection act of the United States, approved March 4, 1907, as amended. (1939, c. 329.)

Art. 16. Bottling Plants for Soft Drinks.

§ 106-174. Specifications of places of manufacture and sale.—Every building or room used for the manufacture, bottling or preparation for sale of any soft drink shall be properly lighted and ventilated, and shall have floors of some material which can be flushed and washed clean with water. All manufacturing or bottling of soft drinks shall be conducted with due regard for the purity and wholesomeness of the product therein produced. (1935, c. 372, s. 1.)

§ 106-175. Soft drink defined.—The term "soft drink" as used herein shall include all soda waters, orangeade, root beers, and similar beverages, carbonated or otherwise, or ingredients used in the preparation of same. (1935, c. 372, s. 2.)

§ 106-176. Establishment and equipment kept clean; containers sterilized. — The floors, walls, ceilings, furniture, receptacles, implements, and machinery of every establishment where soft drinks are manufactured, bottled, stored, sold, or distributed shall at all times be kept in a clean sanitary condition; all vessels, receptacles, utensils, tables, shelves, and machinery used in moving, handling, mixing, or processing must be thoroughly cleaned daily, all bottles and other containers used must be sterilized in caustic soda or alkali solution in not less than three per cent alkali or other solution of the equivalent sterilizing effect as prescribed by the rules and regulations adopted by the board of agriculture. (1935, c. 372, s. 3; 1937, c. 232.)

§ 106-177. Protection from contamination. — Soft drinks in the process of manufacture, preparation, bottling, storing, or distribution must be protected from flies, other insects and filthy products, and, as far as may be necessary, from all other foreign or injurious contamination. (1935, c. 372, s. 4.)

§ 106-178. Refuse removed daily.—All refuse and other waste products subject to decomposition and decay incident to the manufacture, preparation, storing, selling, or distribution of soft drinks must be removed from the plant daily. (1935, c. 372, s. 5.)

§ 106-179. Syrup room screened.—The doors, windows and other openings of the syrup room used for the preparation of soft drinks by bottling establishments shall be fitted with wire screens of not coarser than fourteen-mesh wire gauze and the door or doors shall be fitted with self-closing screens. (1935, c. 372, s. 6.)

§ 160-180. Washroom and toilet.—Every bottling establishment shall be provided with washroom, and, if a toilet is attached, it must be of sanitary construction, and such toilet shall be separate and apart from any room used for the manufacture or bottling of soft drinks. (1935, c. 372, s. 7.)

§ 106-181. Use of deleterious substances prohibited.—The use of soap bark or any other substance deleterious to health in soft drinks is prohibited, and the container must bear the name of the material and the name and address of the manufacturer or jobber. (1935, c. 372, s. 8.)

§ 106-182. Enforcement by commissioner of agriculture; inspectors; obstruction a misdemeanor.—It shall be the duty of the commissioner of agriculture to enforce the provisions of this article. The food inspectors or experts of the department of agriculture shall have authority, during business hours, to enter, for the purpose of inspection, all buildings or rooms used for the manufacture, bottling or handling of soft drinks, and to examine the condition of same, including products before and after manufacture, machinery and all implements used; and any person who shall hinder or prevent any inspector or expert of the department in the performance of his duty in connection with this article shall be guilty of a violation thereof. (1935, c. 372, s. 9.)

§ 106-183. Violation of article a misdemeanor.—Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not to exceed twenty-five dollars for the first offense, and for each subsequent offense in the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 372, s. 10.)

§ 106-184. Bottler's inspection fee.—For the purpose of defraying expenses incurred in the enforcement of the provisions of this article, the owner, proprietor, or operator of each bottling plant or place where soft drinks are made or bottled operated in this State shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture an inspection fee of ten dollars during the month of June of each year or before any such bottling plant shall be operated thereafter. (1935, c. 372, s. 11.)

Art. 17. Marketing and Branding Farm Products.

§ 106-185. Establishment of standard packages, etc., authorized.—The purpose of this article is to give authority to investigate marketing conditions and to establish and maintain standard grades and packages and state brands for farm and horticultural crops and animal products. The term "farm products" as used hereafter in this article shall be construed to mean any or all of the crops or products named above in this section. (1919, c. 325, s. 1; 1921, c. 140; C. S. 4781.)

§ 106-186. Power to employ agents and assistants.—The board of agriculture is charged with the execution of the provisions of this article, and has authority to employ such agents and assistants as may be necessary, fix their compensation and define their duties, and may require bonds in such amount as they may deem advisable, conditioned upon the faithful performance of duties by any employee or agent. (1919, c. 325, s. 2; C. S. 4782.)

§ 106-187. Board of agriculture to investigate marketing of farm products.—It shall be the duty of the board of agriculture to investigate the subject of marketing farm products, to diffuse useful information relating thereto, and to furnish advice and assistance to the public in order to promote efficient and economical methods of marketing farm products, and authority is hereby given to gather and diffuse timely information concerning the supply, demand, prevailing prices, and commercial movement of farm products, including quantities in common and cold storage, and may interchange such information with the United States department of agriculture. (1919, c. 325, s. 3; C. S. 4783.)

§ 106-188. Promulgation of standards for receptacles, etc.—After investigation, and from time to time as may be practical and advisable, the board shall have authority to establish and promulgate standards of opened and closed receptacles for, and standards for the grade and other classification of farm products, by which their quantity, quality, and value may be determined, and prescribe and promulgate rules and regulations governing the marks, brands, and labels which may be required for receptacles for farm products, for the purpose of showing the name and address of the producer or packer; the quantity, nature and quality of the product, or any of them, and for the purpose of preventing deception in reference thereto, and for the purpose of establishing a state brand for any farm product produced in North Carolina: Provided, that any standard for any farm product or receptacle therefor, or any requirement for marking receptacles for farm products, now or hereafter established under authority of the congress of the United States, shall forthwith, as far as applicable, be established or prescribed and promulgated as the official standard or requirement in this state: Provided, that no standard established or requirement for marking prescribed under this article shall become effective until the expiration of thirty days after it shall have been promulgated. (1919, c. 325, s. 4; C. S. 4784.)

§ 106-189. Sale and receptacles of standardized products must conform to requirements.—Whenever any standard for the grade or other classification of any farm product becomes effective under this article no person thereafter shall pack for sale, offer to sell, or sell within this state any such farm product to which such standard is applicable, unless it conforms to the standard, subject to such reasonable variations therefrom as may be allowed in the rules and regulations made under this article: Provided, that any farm product may be packed for sale, offered for sale, or sold, without conforming to the standard for grade or other classification applicable thereto, if it is especially described as not graded or plainly marked as "Not graded."

Whenever any standard for an open or closed receptacle for a farm product shall be made effective under this article no person shall pack for sale in and deliver in a receptacle, or sell in and deliver in a receptacle, any such farm product to which such standard is applicable, unless the receptacle conforms to the standard, subject to such variations therefrom as may be allowed in the rules and regulations made under this article, or unless the receptacle be of a capacity twenty-five per cent less than the capacity of the minimum standard receptacle for the product: Provided, that any receptacle for such farm product of a capacity within twenty-five per cent of, or larger than, the minimum standard receptacle for the product may be used if it be specifically described as not a standard size, or be conspicuously marked with the phrase, "Not standard size," in addition to any other marking which may be prescribed for such receptacles under authority given by this article.

Whenever any requirement for marking a receptacle for a farm product shall have been made effective under this article no person shall sell and deliver in this state any such farm product in a receptacle to which such requirement is applicable unless the receptacle be marked according to such requirements. (1919, c. 325, s. 5; C. S. 4785.)

§ 106-190. Inspectors or graders authorized; revocation of license.—The board is authorized to employ, license, or designate persons to inspect and classify farm products and to certify as to the grade or other classification thereof, in accordance with the standards made effective under this article, and shall fix, assess and collect, or cause to be collected, fees for such services. Whenever, after opportunity for a hearing is afforded to any person employed, licensed, or designated under this section, it is determined that such person has failed to classify farm products correctly in accordance with the standards established therefor under this article, or has violated any provision of this article, or of the rules and regulations made hereunder, the board may suspend or revoke the employment, license, or designation of such person. Pending investigation the person in charge of this work may suspend or revoke any such appointment, license, or designation temporarily without hearing. (1919, c. 325, s. 6; C. S. 4786.)

§ 106-191. Appeal from classification. — The owner or person in possession of any farm product classified in accordance with the provisions of this article may appeal from such classification under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed. (1919, c. 325, s. 7; C. S. 4787.)

§ 106-192. Certificate of grade prima facie evidence.—A certificate of the grade or other classification of any farm product issued under this article shall be accepted in any court of this state as prima facie evidence of the true grade or other classification of such farm product at the time of its classification. (1919, c. 325, s. 8; C. S. 4788.)

§ 106-193. Unwholesome products not classified; health officer notified.—Any person employed, licensed, or designated shall neither classify nor certify as to the grade or other classification of any farm product which, in his judgment, is unwholesome or unfit for food of man or other animal. If, in the performance of his official duties, he discovers any farm product which is unwholesome or unfit for food of man or for other animal for which it is intended, he shall promptly report the fact to a health officer of the state or of any county or municipality thereof. (1919, c. 325, s. 9; C. S. 4789.)

§ 106-194. Inspection and sampling of farm products authorized.—Agents and employees are authorized from time to time to ascertain the amount of any farm products in this state, to inspect the same in the possession of any person engaged in the business of marketing them in this state, and to take samples of such products. In carrying out these purposes agents and employees are authorized to enter on any business day, during the usual hours of business, any storehouse, warehouse, cold storage plant, packing-house, stockyard, railroad yard, railroad car, or any other building or place where farm products are kept or stored by any person engaged in the business of marketing farm products. (1919, c. 325, ss. 10, 11; C. S. 4790.)

§ 106-195. Rules and regulations; how prescribed.—The board of agriculture is authorized to make and promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this article. Such rules and regulations shall be made to conform as nearly as practicable to the rules and regulations of the secretary of agriculture of the United States, prescribed under any act of congress of the United States relating to the marketing of farm products. (1919, c. 325, s. 12; C. S. 4791.)

§ 106-196. Violation of article or regulations a misdemeanor.—Any person who violates any provision of this article, or of the rules and regulations made under the article for carrying out its provisions, or fails or refuses to comply with any requirement thereof, or who willfully interferes with agents or employees in the execution, or on account of the execution, of his or their duties, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person convicted of a misdemeanor under this article shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than thirty days, or by both in the discretion of the court. (1919, c. 325, ss. 13, 14; C. S. 4792.)

Art. 18. Shipper's Name on Receptacles.

§ 106-197. Shipping fruit or vegetables not having grower's or shipper's name stamped on receptacle a misdemeanor.—Any person or persons, firm or corporation selling or offering for sale or consignment any barrel, crate, box, or other case, package or receptacle containing any berries, fruit, melons, potatoes, vegetables, truck or produce of any kind whatsoever, to be shipped to any point within or without the state, without the true name of the grower or packer either written, printed, stamped or otherwise placed thereon in distinct and legible characters, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. This section shall not apply to railroads, express companies and other transportation companies selling or offering for sale for transportation or storage charges or any other charges accruing to said railroads, express companies or other transportation companies any barrel, crate, box, or other case, package or receptacle containing berries, fruit, melons, potatoes, vegetables, truck or produce. (1915, c. 193; C. S. 5087.)

Art. 19. Trademark for Standardized Farm Products.

§ 106-198. Adoption, design and copyright of trademark, etc.—The board of agriculture shall adopt an official trademark, brand, or label, the design of which shall incorporate the words "Tar Heel" superimposed on an outline map of North Carolina, to identify North Carolina farm products of grade and quality in keeping with standards to be set up by the board governing its use. The board of agriculture shall cause this trademark to be copyrighted to prevent imitation and infringement. (1941, c. 155, s. 1.)

§ 106-199. Regulation of use of trademark.—The trademark may be used only in the manner prescribed by the board of agriculture and under the rules and regulations to be laid down by the board for its protection and use, and only on products meeting the quality, condition, pack and grade standards prescribed by the board consistent with §§ 106-185 to 106-196. No person, firm or corporation shall use this trademark on any product until the official inspection service of the department of agriculture certifies that the product meets the requirements of quality, condition, pack and grade standard set up by the board for the product. (1941, c. 155, s. 2.)

§ 106-200. License for use of trademark.—Growers, handlers, shippers or processors may procure a license to use the trademark on standardized products by applying to the commissioner of agriculture. The commissioner may investigate the integrity and business methods of each applicant and may refuse licenses to applicants whose use might endanger the reputation of the trademark. The commissioner may suspend, revoke or cancel the license of any user who violates the terms of his license or of any rule or regulation of the board concerning its use. The board of agriculture may charge reasonable and uniform fees for the issuance of these licenses and for the use of the trademark by these licensees, and shall use these revenues to apply on the cost of administering this article and to carry out a program of merchandising and advertising for standardized identified North Carolina farm products. (1941, c. 155, s. 3.)

§ 106-201. Licensing of providers of approved designs; furnishing list of growers, etc.—To facilitate the procurement of tags, labels, packages, bags or containers properly designed and constructed to display the official North Carolina state trademark, the following regulations shall be established:

(a) Manufacturers or distributors of tags, labels, packages, bags or containers shall apply to the commissioner of agriculture for a provider's license, and shall submit samples or designs of such tags, labels, packages, bags or containers for the commissioner's approval as to their construction, adaptability and practicability for the use planned. The commissioner shall license manufacturers or distributors of approved designs as approved providers of such articles, subject to rules, regulations and a reasonable license fee to be prescribed by the board of agriculture.

(b) No such license shall be issued until the provider agrees to furnish such trademarked supplies only to persons, partnerships or corporations within the state licensed to use the trademark. The approved provider shall immediately report to the commissioner of agriculture, on blanks provided for that purpose, each sale and shipment of such authorized supplies, the name of the purchaser, the quantity and type of supplies sold, and the point to which it was shipped or delivered. The commissioner shall furnish approved providers with current lists of growers, shippers, handlers or processors licensed to use the North Carolina trademark.

(c) The commissioner of agriculture may suspend, revoke or cancel licenses of approved providers for violation of any of the terms of this license, in which case equitable arrangements will be made for disposal of manufactured goods in stock. (1941, c. 155, s. 4.)

§ 106-202. Violation made misdemeanor.—Any person, firm or corporation who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this article or any of the rules and regulations promulgated under it by the board of agriculture, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, for each offense. (1941, c. 155, s. 5.)

Art. 20. Standard Weight of Flour and Meal.

§ 106-203. Standard-weight packages for corn products; violation a misdemeanor.—It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to pack for sale, or offer for sale in this state, any corn meal, grits, hominy, or corn flour, except in bags or packages containing by standard net avoirdupois weight one pound, two pounds, three pounds, four pounds, five pounds, ten pounds, twenty-five pounds, fifty pounds, and one hundred pounds, or multiples of one hundred pounds, respectively. Each bag or package shall have plainly and legibly printed or marked thereon the net weight of contents thereof, in pounds, avoirdupois, and such weights shall be a true and correct statement thereof: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to the retailing of meal direct to customers from bulk stock, when purchased and delivered by actual weight or measure, or to exchange of corn for meal by mills grinding for toll. Any violation of this section shall be a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, the offender shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. (1919, c. 74, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 4794.)

§ 106-204. Flour to be sold in standard-weight and stamped packages.—It shall be unlawful for any person to pack for sale, sell, or offer for sale in this state, flour, except in packages containing by standard weight twelve pounds, twenty-four pounds, forty eight pounds, ninety-eight pounds, or one hundred and ninety-six pounds of flour, with the weight plainly stated on the outside of the package. This section is not applicable to the retailing of flour direct to customers, nor to the packing or selling of flour in packages less than one-eighth of a bushel. (1909, c. 555, s. 3; 1911, c. 145; 1915, c. 10; C. S. 4795.)

§ 106-205. Inspections to enforce article.—The board of agriculture shall cause to be made from time to time, under rules and regulations to be prescribed by them in accordance with the provisions of this article, such inspections or examinations as may be necessary to determine whether the provisions of this article have been violated. (1909, c. 555, s. 4; C. S. 4796.)

§ 106-206. Commissioner to notify solicitor of violations and certify facts.—If it shall appear from such inspection or examination that any of the provisions of this article have been violated, the commissioner of agriculture shall certify the fact to the solicitor in the district in which the violation was committed, and furnish that officer with the facts in the case, duly authenticated by the inspector, under oath, who made the examination. (1909, c. 555, s. 4; C. S. 4797.)

§ 106-207. Violation of article a misdemeanor.—Any person or persons violating any provision of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the court except as otherwise provided in § 106-203. (1909, c. 555, s. 5; C. S. 4798.)

§ 106-208. Forfeiture for unauthorized sale; release from forfeiture.—Meal or flour offered for sale in violation of this article shall be subject to seizure, condemnation, and sale by the commissioner of agriculture, as is provided for the seizure, condemnation, and sale of commercial fertilizers; and the proceeds thereof, if sold, less the legal costs and charges, shall be paid into the treasury for the use of the department of agriculture in executing the provisions of this article: Provided, that the commissioner of agriculture may in his discretion order the release of the meal or flour seized when the owner of same shall offer to pack it in accordance with the provisions of §§ 106-203 and 106-204 in this article, and it shall appear to the satisfaction of the commissioner that said owner did not intend to violate the provisions of the law. (1909, c. 555, s. 5; C. S. 4799.)

§ 106-209. Rules to enforce article.—The board of agriculture shall have authority to make uniform rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this article. (1909, c. 555, s. 6; C. S. 4800.)

Art. 21. Artificially Bleached Flour.

§ 106-210. Collection and analysis of samples; publication of results.—For the purpose of regulating the labeling and sale of artificially bleached flour, the board of agriculture shall cause inspection to be made from time to time, and samples of flour offered for sale in the state obtained, and shall cause same to be analyzed or examined by the state food chemist or other experts of the department of agriculture for the purpose of determining if same has been artificially bleached or sold in violation of this article. The board of agriculture is hereby authorized to make such publication of the results of the examination, analysis, and so forth as they may deem proper. (1917, c. 249, s. 1; C. S. 4801.)

§ 106-211. Entry to secure samples.—The food inspectors of the department of agriculture shall have authority, during business hours, to enter all stores, warehouses, and other places where food products are stored or offered for sale for the purpose of inspection and obtaining samples of same. (1915, c. 278, s. 2; C. S. 4802.)

§ 106-212. Commissioner to notify solicitor of violations and certify facts.—If it shall appear from such inspection or examination or both that any of the provisions of this article have been violated, the commissioner of agriculture shall certify the facts to the solicitor in the district in which the violation was committed, and furnish that officer with the facts in the case, duly authenticated by the expert, under oath, who made the examination. (1915, c. 278, s. 3; C. S. 4803.)

§ 106-213. Label for artificially bleached flour.—Flour artificially bleached with nitrogen peroxide or chlorine or any other agent, when offered for sale in North Carolina, shall have plainly marked or printed in a conspicuous place on the sack, barrel, or other package, in letters not smaller than five-eighths of an inch in size, the legend: "Artificially Bleached." (1915, c. 278, s. 4; C. S. 4804.)

§ 106-214. Statement required to be filed before sale.—Before any artificially bleached flour shall be offered for sale in this state the manufacturer, dealer, agent, or person who causes it to be sold or offered for sale, by sample or otherwise, within this state shall file with the commissioner of agriculture a statement that it is desired to offer such bleached flour for sale in North Carolina, and the name of the manufacturer or jobber and the brand name of the flour if it has such. (1915, c. 278, s. 5; C. S. 4805.)

§ 106-215. Inspection fee for registering brands.—For the purpose of defraying expenses incurred in the enforcing of the provisions of this article, for each and every separate brand of artificially bleached flour registered and before being offered for sale in the state, the manufacturer, dealer, or agent registering same shall pay to the commissioner of agiculture an inspection fee of fifteen dollars, and during the month of January in each year, or before such flour is offered for sale in the state, said fees to be used by the board and commissioner of agriculture for executing the provisions of this article. (1917, c. 249, s. 2; C. S. 4806.)

§ 106-216. Violation of article a misdemeanor.—Any person or persons, firm or corporation, by himself or agent, who shall sell, offer for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell any artificially bleached flour not labeled or branded as required in § 106-213, or who shall violate any of the provisions of the article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for such offense, upon conviction of same, shall be fined not to exceed fifty dollars for the first offense and for each subsequent offense not to exceed one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not to exceed six months, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1915, c. 278, s. 7; C. S. 4807.)

§ 106-217. Forfeiture for unauthorized sale; release from forfeiture.—The flour offered for sale in violation of this article shall be subject to seizure, condemnation, and sale by the commissioner of agriculture, as is provided for the seizure, condemnation, and sale of commercial fertilizers; and the proceeds thereof, if sold, less the legal costs and charges, shall be paid into treasury for use in executing the provisions of this article: Provided, that the commissioner of agriculture may, in his discretion, for the first offense, order the release of the flour seized, upon payment by the owner of the flour of the expenses incurred by the department in the seizure of the same, and upon compliance with the requirements of this article, when it shall appear to the commissioner that said owner did not intend to violate the law. (1915, c. 278, s. 7; C. S. 4808.)

§ 106-218. Seller to furnish samples on payment.—Every person who offers for sale or delivers flour to a purchaser shall, within business hours, and upon tender or payment of the selling price, furnish a sample of flour as demanded, to any person duly authorized by the board of agriculture to secure same, and who shall apply for such sample. (1915, c. 278, s. 8; C. S. 4809.)

§ 106-219. Refusing samples or obstructing article a misdemeanor.—Any manufacturer or dealer who refuses to comply, upon demand, with the requirements of § 106-218, or any person who shall wilfully impede, hinder, or otherwise prevent or attempt to prevent, any chemist or inspector in the performance of his duty in connection with this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction be fined not less than ten dollars and not more than one hundred dollars, or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1915, c. 278, s. 8; C. S. 4810.)

Art. 22. Inspection of Bakeries.

§ 106-220. Sanitary condition of rooms; drainage; toilets.—Every room or other place occupied or used as a bakery for the preparation, production, storage, or display of bread, cakes, or other bakery products intended for sale for human consumption, shall be clean, properly lighted, and ventilated. The floors, walls, and ceilings of the rooms in which the dough or pastry is mixed, handled, or prepared for baking, or in which the bakery products or ingredients of such products are otherwise handled, stored, or displayed, shall be kept and maintained in a clean and sanitary condition. All openings into such rooms, including windows and doors, shall be properly screened to exclude flies. Every such bakery shall be provided with adequate drainage and suitable wash sinks. If a toilet or water closet is maintained in connection with such bakery, it must be of sanitary construction, and such toilet or water closet shall be well ventilated and kept in a sanitary condition. (1921, c. 173, s. 1; C. S. 7251(k).)

§ 106-221. Tables, shelves, and implements; refuse; sleeping rooms.—All tables, shelves, troughs, trays, receptacles, utensils, implements, and machinery used in preparing, mixing or handling bakery products or the ingredients of same, must be thoroughly cleaned daily when in use, and kept in a clean, sanitary condition. All refuse, dirt, and waste matter subject to decomposition and decay incident to the production of bakery products must be removed from the bakery daily. The work rooms of bakeries, where bakery products are made, stored or displayed, shall not be used as sleeping or living rooms, and shall at all times be separate and closed from any such room. (1921, c. 173, s. 2; C. S. 7251(l).)

§ 106-222. Employees; sitting or lying on tables; cleanliness.—No employee or other person shall sit or lie upon any of the tables, troughs, shelves, etc., which are used for the dough or other bakery products. Before beginning the work of preparing or mixing the ingredients, or after using toilet or water closet, every person engaged in the preparation or handling of bakery products shall wash the hands and arms thoroughly, and for this purpose sufficient wash basins or sinks, together with soap and clean towels, shall be provided by the bakery. (1921, c. 173, s. 3; C. S. 7251(m).)

§ 106-223. Use of tobacco.—No person shall use tobacco in any form in any bakery or bread manufacturing plant where bread or other bakery products are manufactured or stored. (1921, c. 173, s. 3a; C. S. 7251(n).)

§ 106-224. Ingredients and materials.—All ingredients used in the manufacture or making of bread or any other bakery products shall be pure and wholesome, and shall contain no substance that is poisonous or deleterious to health. All materials and ingredients used in bakery products shall be stored, handled, and kept in a way to protect them from spoilage and contamination, and no material shall be used which is spoiled or contaminated, or which may render the product unwholesome or unfit for food. (1921, c. 173, s. 4; C. S. 7251(o).)

§ 106-225. Adulterants; stale products; infections.—No material or ingredient may be used which may deceive the purchaser, or which lowers or lessens the nutritive value of the product. No bread or other bakery products shall be sold or offered for sale for human food that has by age or otherwise become stale. All handling or sale of bread or other bakery products and all practices connected therewith shall be conducted so as to prevent the distribution of contamination or diseases and so as to prevent the distribution of the bakery infection in bread commonly known as "rope" or other bakery infections. No bread or other bakery products shall be returned by any dealer, restaurant, cafe or hotel keeper to bakery or distributor after same has been in stock where it may have been subject to contamination, and no bakery or distributor shall directly or indirectly accept any such bread or other bakery products or make any allowance for such products. (1921, c. 173, s. 5; 1925, c. 286; C. S. 7251(p).)

§ 106-226. Department of agriculture to enforce law; examination of plant and products.—It shall be the duty of the department of agriculture to enforce this article, and the board of agriculture shall cause to be made by the experts of the department such examinations of plants and products named herein as are necessary to insure proper compliance with the provisions of this article. For the purpose of inspection, the authorized experts of the department shall have authority, during business hours, to enter all bakeries or storage rooms where bakery products are made, stored, or kept, and any person who shall prevent or attempt to prevent any duly authorized expert in the performance of his duty in connection with this article, shall be guilty of a violation of this article. (1921, c. 173, s. 6; C. S. 7251(q).)

§ 106-227. Closing of plant; report of violation of article to solicitor.—If it shall appear from examination that any provision of this article has been violated, the commissioner of agriculture shall have authority to order the bakery or place closed until the law has been complied with. If the owner or operator of same refuses or fails to comply with the law, the commissioners shall then certify the facts in the case to the solicitor in the district in which the violation was committed. (1921, c. 173, s. 7; C. S. 7251(r).)

§ 106-228. Regulations; establishment; violation.—The board of agriculture is authorized to establish such regulations, not in conflict with this article, as may be necessary to make provisions of this article effective, and to insure the proper compliance of same, and a violation of the regulations shall be deemed to be a violation of this article. (1921, c. 173, s. 8; C. S. 7251(s).)

§ 106-229. Inspection fee.—For the purpose of defraying expenses incurred in the enforcement of this article the owner or operator of each public bakery or bakery furnishing bakery products to the public operated in this state shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture during the month of May of each year, an inspection fee of ten dollars.

Provided, that no inspection fee shall be required of farm women in North Carolina who make cakes and breads and sell the same on the home demonstration curb markets. (1921, c. 173, s. 9; 1937, c. 281; C. S. 7251(t).)

§ 106-230. Violation of article a misdemeanor.—Any person, firm, or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not to exceed twenty-five dollars for the first offense, and for each subsequent offense in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 173, s. 10; C. S. 7251(u).)

§ 106-231. Inspectors.—The inspectors who shall carry out the provisions of this article shall be the same inspectors who shall be sent out by the department of agriculture to inspect bottling works and general food inspections. (1921, c. 173, s. 10a; C. S. 7251(v).)

§ 106-232. Article supplemental to municipal ordinances.—Nothing in this article shall have the effect of repealing or rendering void ordinances upon this subject now in force in any municipality in North Carolina, but this article shall be construed to be supplemental and in addition thereto. (1921, c. 173, s. 11; C. S. 7251(w).)

Art. 23. Oleomargarine.

§ 106-233. Definitions.—(a) The word "person" shall mean person, firm, or corporation, either principal or agent.

(b) Any word used shall indicate the singular or plural as the case demands.

(c) The word "oleomargarine" shall mean: all substance heretofore known as oleomargarine, oleo, oleomargarine oil, butterine, lardine, suine, and neutral; all mixtures and compounds of tallow, beef extracts, suet, lard, lard oil, fish oil, or fish fat, vegetable oil, annato, and other coloring matter, intestinal fat and offal fat, if (first) made in imitation or semblance of butter, or (second) calculated or intended to be sold as butter or for butter, or (third) churned, emulsified, or mixed in cream, milk, water, or other liquid and containing moisture in excess of one per centum of common salt. This section shall not apply to puff-pastry shortening not churned or emulsified in milk or cream, and having a melting point of one hundred and eighteen degrees Fahrenheit or more, nor to any of the following containing condiments or spices: salad dressings, mayonnaise dressings, or mayonnaise products. (1931, c. 229, s. 1.)

§ 106-234. Sale of colored oleomargarine prohibited.—It shall be unlawful to sell, offer for sale, or merchandise in any manner whatsoever oleomargarine which is of a yellow color in imitation or semblance of butter as defined in § 106-235. (1931, c. 229, s. 2.)

§ 106-235. License to sell uncolored oleomargarine. — Every person desiring to manufacture, sell, or offer or expose for sale, or have in possession with intent to sell, oleomargarine not made or colored so as to look like butter, shall make application for a license to do so in such form as prescribed by the State Commissioner of Agriculture, but this provision shall not apply to any person engaged in the retail sale of oleomargarine.

If the said application is satisfactory to the State Commissioner of Agriculture, there shall be issued to the applicant a license authorizing him to engage in the manufacture or sale of oleomargarine, which shall not contain any color or ingredient that causes it to resemble yellow butter, for which said license the applicant shall pay: If a wholesaler or distributor, the sum of seventy-five dollars ($75.00) annually for each separate plant or establishment operated or maintained in this State by such wholesaler or distributor. The said license fees shall be collected by the State Department of Agriculture, and covered into the State Treasury as a part of the Agricultural Fund. This license shall not authorize the manufacture, sale, exposing for sale, or having in possession with intent to sell any oleomargarine made or colored so as to look like yellow butter as herein provided. For the purpose of this article oleomargarine or articles or products in semblance of butter shall be deemed to look like and be in semblance of or in imitation of butter or a shade of butter when it has a tint or shade containing more than one and six-tenths degrees of yellow, or of yellow and red collectively, but with an excess of yellow over red, as measured in terms of Lovibond tintometer scale, or its equivalent.

All licenses shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of each year. (1931, c. 229, s. 3; 1939, c. 282, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 106-236. Display of signs.—It shall be unlawful for any person or any agent thereof to sell or offer, or expose for sale, or have in possession with intent to sell, any oleomargarine not in imitation of yellow butter which is not marked and distinguished by the word oleomargarine on the outside of each tub, package, or parcel. A placard with the words, OLEOMARGARINE SERVED HERE, printed in Gothic letters one inch long, shall be displayed in some conspicuous place in each dining-room, cafe, hotel, or wherever oleomargarine is served to the public as a food. The provisions of this section shall not apply to boarding houses. A boarding house is defined as being any person or establishment selling or offering for sale meals under contract, only on a daily basis or multiple of days. (1931, c. 229, s. 4; 1939, c. 282, s. 3.)

§ 106-237. Article enforced by Commissioner of Agriculture.—This article shall be administered and enforced by the State Department of Agriculture, which shall prescribe necessary rules and regulations therefor. Any license which is issued under the terms and conditions prescribed in § 106-235 can be revoked by the State Commissioner of Agriculture upon the submission to him of evidence that this article has been violated by the holder of such license. (1931, c. 229, s. 5.)

§ 106-238. Penalties. — Every person, firm, or corporation, and every officer, agent, servant, or employee of such person, firm, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than three months, or both, at the discretion of the court. (1931, c. 229, s. 6.)

Art. 24. Excise Tax on Certain Oleomargarines.

§ 106-239. Tax imposed; rules and regulations; penalties; disposition of proceeds.—There is hereby imposed an excise tax of ten cents per pound on all oleomargarine sold, offered or exposed for sale, or exchanged in the State of North Carolina, containing any fat and/or oil ingredient other than any of the following fats and/or oils: Cottonseed oil, peanut oil, corn oil, soya bean oil, oleo oil from cattle, oleo stock from cattle, oleo stearine from cattle, neutral lard from hogs, or milk fat. Such excise tax shall be in the form of a revenue stamp in such denominations as will best carry out the provisions of the law. Said stamps shall be properly safeguarded as to their manufacture, preservation and distribution and shall be in the charge of the state department of agriculture.

The state department of agriculture is hereby empowered to promulgate such rules and regulations as are consistent with the provisions of this section.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section, or any of the rules or regulations promulgated by the state department of agriculture for the purpose of carrying out its provisions, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200.00), or imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed two months, or both fined and imprisoned.

All moneys derived from the sale of revenue stamps hereunder shall be paid into the state department of agriculture for the enforcement of this section. (1935, c. 328).

Art. 25. Sale of Eggs.

§ 106-240. Regulation of marketing and branding of eggs.—The regulation of marketing and branding eggs shall be only as authorized under the provisions of this article and of §§ 106-185 to 106-196. (1939, c. 193.)

§ 106-241. Containers of cold storage eggs required to be labeled as such.—Any person, firm or corporation offering for sale cold storage eggs either wholesale or retail, shall cause crates containing the eggs or any other type of container to be stamped or printed with the words "Cold Storage Eggs." (1939, c. 291, s. 1.)

§ 106-242. Restaurant, etc., menu or card required to show cold storage eggs.—Any hotel, restaurant, inn, or any other establishment serving cold storage eggs to the public shall cause to be written on their menu, or printed on a card, "Cold Storage Eggs." (1939, c. 291, s. 2.)

§ 106-243. Labelling of invoices.—Every person selling eggs which have been in storage thirty days or more, either within or without the state, to a retail store, hotel, restaurant, inn, or any other establishment, shall furnish an invoice with the wording "Cold Storage Eggs." A copy of such invoice shall be kept on file by the person selling and the one buying at their respective places of business for a period of sixty days and shall be available and open for inspection at all reasonable times by the department of agriculture. (1939, c. 291, s. 3.)

§ 106-244. Examination of eggs by commissioner of agriculture, etc., authorized.—In all cases the final determination as to the meeting of the above requirements shall be made by candling. In carrying out the provisions of this article, the commissioner of agriculture, his employees, or agents are authorized to enter on any business day, during the usual hours of business, any store, warehouse, market or place where eggs are sold or offered for sale and to make such examination as is necessary to determine the class of eggs sold or offered for sale. (1939, c. 291, s. 4.)

§ 106-245. Violations made misdemeanor.—Any person wilfully or intentionally violating the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned within the discretion of the court. (1939, c. 291, s. 5.)

Art. 26. Inspection of Ice Cream Plants, Creameries, and Cheese Factories.

§ 106-246. Cleanliness and sanitation enjoined; wash rooms and toilets, living and sleeping rooms; animals.—For the protection of the health of the people of the state, all places where ice-cream, frozen custard, milk sherbet, sherbet, water ices, and other similar frozen food products are made for sale, all creameries, butter and cheese factories, when in operation, shall be kept clean and in a sanitary condition. The floors, walls, and ceilings of all work rooms where the products of plants named herein are made, mixed, stored or handled shall be such that same can be kept in a clean and sanitary condition. All windows, doors, and other openings shall be effectively screened during fly season. Suitable wash rooms shall be maintained, and if a toilet is attached, it shall be of sanitary construction and kept in a sanitary condition. No person shall be allowed to live or sleep in such factory unless rooms so occupied are separate and apart from the work or storage rooms. No horses, cows, or other animal shall be kept in such factories or close enough to contaminate products of same unless separated by impenetrable wall without doors, windows, or other openings. (1921, c. 169, s. 1; 1933, c. 431, s. 1; C. S. 7251(a).)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg and Cabarrus: 1933, c. 431, s. 5; Burke and Catawba: 1939, c. 294.

§ 106-247. Cleaning and sterilization of vessels and utensils.—Suitable means or appliances shall be provided for the proper cleaning or sterilizing of freezers, vats, mixing cans or tanks, conveyors, and all utensils, tools and implements used in making or handling cream, ice-cream, butter or cheese and all such apparatus shall be thoroughly cleaned as promptly after use as practicable. (1921, c. 169, s. 2; C. S. 7251(b).)

§ 106-248. Purity of products.—All cream, ice-cream, butter, cheese, or other products produced in places named herein shall be pure, wholesome, and not deleterious to health, and shall comply with the standards of purity, sanitation, and rules and regulations of the board of agriculture provided for in § 106-253, and whole milk, sweet cream, and ice cream mix shipped into this state from other states shall meet the same requirements and be subject to the same regulations and shall carry a tag or label showing grade or standard of quality of product. (1921, c. 169, s. 3; 1933, c. 431, s. 2; C. S. 7251(c).)

§ 106-249. Receivers of products to clean utensils before return.—Every person, company, or corporation who shall receive milk, cream, or ice-cream which is delivered in cans, bottles, or other receptacles, shall thoroughly clean same as soon as practicable after the contents are removed and before the said receptacles are returned to shipper or person from whom the same was received or before such receptacles are delivered to any carrier to be returned to shipper. (1921, c. 169, s. 4; C. S. 7251(d).)

§ 106-250. Correct tests of butter fat; tests by board of agriculture.—Creameries and factories that purchase milk and cream from producers of same on a butter-fat basis, and pay for same on their own test, shall make and pay on correct test, and any failure to do so shall constitute a violation of this article. The board of agriculture, under regulations provided for in § 106-253, shall have such test made of milk and cream sold to factories named herein that will show if dishonest tests and practices are used by the purchasers of such products. (1921, c. 169, s. 5; C. S. 7251(e).)

§ 106-251. Department of agriculture to enforce law; examinations.—It shall be the duty of the department of agriculture to enforce this article, and the board of agriculture shall cause to be made by the experts of the department such examinations of plants and products named herein as are necessary to insure the compliance with the provisions of this article. For the purpose of inspection, the authorized experts of the department shall have authority, during business hours, to enter all plants or storage rooms where cream, ice-cream, butter, or cheese or ingredients used in the same are made, stored, or kept, and any person who shall hinder, prevent, or attempt to prevent any duly authorized expert of the department in the performance of his duty in connection with this article shall be guilty of a violation of the article. (1921, c. 169, s. 6; C. S. 7251(f).)

§ 106-252. Closure of plants for violation of article; certificate to sclicitor of district.—If it shall appear from the examinations that any provision of this article has been violated, the commissioner of agriculture shall have authority to order the plant or place of manufacture closed until the law is complied with. If the owner or operator of place refuses or fails to comply with the order, law, or regulations, the commissioner shall then certify the facts in the case to the solicitor in the district in which the violation was committed. (1921, c. 169, s. 7; C. S. 7251(g).)

§ 106-253. Standards of purity and sanitation.—The board of agriculture is authorized to make such definitions and to establish such standards of purity for products and sanitation for plants or places of manufacture named herein with such regulations, not in conflict with this article, as shall be necessary to make provisions of this article effective and insure the proper enforcement of same, and the violation of said standards of purity or regulations shall be deemed to be a violation of this article. (1921, c. 169, s. 8; 1933, c. 431, s. 3; C. S. 7251(h).)

§ 106-254. Inspection fees; wholesalers; retailers and cheese factories.—For the purpose of defraying the expenses incurred in the enforcement of this article, the owner, proprietor, or operator of each ice-cream factory where ice cream, frozen custard, milk sherbet, sherbet, water ices and/or other similar frozen food products are made or stored or cheese factory or creamery in this state that disposes of its product at wholesale to retail dealers, to be resold, shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture during the month of July of each year an inspection fee of twenty dollars ($20), and each maker of ice-cream, frozen custard, milk sherbet, sherbet, water ices, and/or other similar frozen food products who disposes of his product at retail only, and cheese factories, shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture an inspection fee of five dollars ($5) during the month of July of each year. (1921, c. 169, s. 9; 1933, c. 431, s. 4; C. S. 7251(i).)

§ 106-255. Violation of article a misdemeanor; punishment.—Any person, firm, or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not to exceed twenty-five dollars for the first offense, and for each subsequent offense in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 169, s. 10; C. S. 7251(j).)

Art. 27. Records of Purchases of Milk Products.

§ 106-256. Annual reports to dairy division by creameries, milk distributing plants, etc.—Every person, firm or corporation owning or operating a milk processing plant, creamery, milk distributing or cream buying station in this state, where milk or cream is received, shall file on or before April first of each year, upon blanks furnished, a report to the dairy division of the state department of agriculture, showing the amount of milk and cream received by such plants or stations during the calendar year preceding. The said report shall show the amount of butter, cheese, ice cream or other dairy products manufactured. (1939, c. 327, s. 1.)

§ 106-257. Records of purchases of cream.—Records of the purchase of cream shall be kept at each plant or station for a period of six months from the date of purchase, and shall show the date of purchase, the net pounds of cream purchased, the butterfat tests, the price of butterfat, and the amount paid therefor, in such manner as may be required on the report blanks provided. When payment for cream is made in cash, receipts of such payments shall be kept with the records, otherwise canceled checks or facsimile impressions shall be kept as receipts with records. Such records shall be available for inspection by any authorized representative of the commissioner of agriculture. (1939, c. 327, s. 21.)

§ 106-258. Individual plant records treated as confidential.—Any individual plant records shall be treated as confidential by anyone handling them and such individual records shall not be published or made accessible to any unauthorized person or representative. (1939, c. 327, s. 3.)

§ 106-259. Failure to comply with provisions of article made misdemeanor.—Any person, firm or corporation owning or operating a creamery, cheese plant, condensed milk plant, ice cream plant, milk depot, or milk distributing plant, or milk or cream buying station, failing to comply with the provisions of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1939, c. 327, s. 4.)

Art. 28. Records and Reports of Milk Distributors and Processors.

§ 106-260. "Milk" defined.—Wherever the word "milk" appears hereinafter in this article, it shall be construed to include all whole milk, cream, chocolate milk, buttermilk, skim milk, special milk and all flavored milk. (1941, c. 162, s. 1.)

§ 106-261. Reports to commissioner of agriculture as to milk purchased and sold.—Every person, firm, or corporation that purchases milk on a classification basis and/or that purchases both inspected and uninspected milk for processing and distribution and sale in North Carolina shall, not later than the twenty-fifth of each month following the month such business is carried on, furnish information to the commissioner of agriculture, upon blanks to be furnished by him which will show a detailed statement of the quantities of the various classifications of milk purchased and the class in which this milk was distributed or sold. Such reports shall include all milk purchased from producers and/or purchased, sold, or transferred between plants, distributors, affiliates and subsidiaries. (1941, c. 162, s. 2.)

§ 106-262. Powers of commissioner of agriculture.—The commissioner of agriculture shall have the power:

(a) to require such reports as will enable him to determine the quantities of milk purchased and the classification in which it was disposed;

(b) to designate any area of the state as a natural marketing area for the sale of milk;

(c) to set up the classifications of milk that may be necessary to properly carry out and enforce the provisions of this article for each marketing area after full, complete and impartial hearing. Due notice of such hearing shall be given. (1941, c. 162, s. 3.)

§ 106-263. Distribution of milk in classification higher than that in which purchased.—It shall be unlawful for any operator of a milk processing plant or any milk distributor, required to make reports under this article, or their affiliates or subsidiaries, to sell, use, transfer, or distribute any milk in a classification higher than the classification in which it was purchased, except in an emergency declared and approved in writing by the local board of health having supervision of operators and distributors on such market for a period of two weeks, and such period may be extended if, in the opinion of the local board of health, an emergency still exists at the end of such two weeks period. (1941, c. 162, s. 4.)

§ 106-264. Inspections and investigations by commissioner.—For the purpose of administering this article the commissioner of agriculture or his agent is hereby authorized to enter at all reasonable hours all places where milk is being stored, bottled, or processed, or where milk is being bought, sold, or handled, or where books, papers, records, or documents relating to such transactions are kept, and shall have the power to inspect and copy the same in any place within the state, and may take testimony for the purpose of ascertaining facts which in the judgment of the commissioner are necessary to administer this article. The commissioner shall have the power to determine the truth and accuracy of said books, records, papers, documents, accounts, and reports required to be furnished by milk distributors, their affiliates or subsidiaries in accordance with the provisions of this article. (1941, c. 162, s. 5.)

§ 106-265. Failure to file reports, etc., made unlawful.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business herein regulated to fail to furnish the information and file the reports required by this article, and each day's failure to furnish the reports required hereunder shall constitute a separate offense. (1941, c. 162, s. 6.)

§ 106-266. Violation made misdemeanor.—Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or be imprisoned for not more than one year, or both fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1941, c. 162, s. 7.)

Art. 29. Inspecting, Grading, and Testing Milk and Dairy Products.

§ 106-267. Inspecting, grading, and testing milk products by department of agriculture.—The state department of agriculture shall have full power to make and promulgate rules and regulations for the dairy division of the department of agriculture in its inspection and control of the purchase and sale of milk and other dairy products in North Carolina; to make and establish definitions, not inconsistent with the laws pertaining thereto; to qualify and determine the grade and contents of milk and of other dairy products sold in this state; to regulate the manner of testing the same not inconsistent with the standard methods as promulgated by the American public health association, and of all inspections which may be lawfully made except those relating to public health and sanitation, in the handling, treatment, and sale of the said milk products, and such other rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law as may be necessary in connection with the authority hereby given to the commissioner of agriculture on this subject, and may license Babcock testers and revoke license.

The commissioner of agriculture shall be given authority to inspect all Babcock testers, glassware, and scales, as provided for in these regulations, and condemn such as are not found accurate and in good repair. He shall visit either in person, or by a deputy, all creameries, cheese factories, milk depots, etc., where milk and cream, and milk products are sold in this state, as often as may be necessary, and shall supervise in any practical way, the work of all licensed testers as provided for in this section.

The commissioner of agriculture and his deputies shall be authorized and empowered to make such tests as are necessary to settle disputes when called upon by either buyer or seller of milk, cream, or other dairy products where such disputes arise over dissatisfaction regarding weight or tests of dairy products. Such tests shall be regarded as correct, and shall be used as a basis for settlement in such disputes. (1933, c. 550, ss. 1-3.)

§ 106-268. Misbranding milk or cream prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to sell or offer for sale in any city, county, or other unit of local government which has adopted the public health service milk ordinance, or within one mile of the boundaries thereof, milk or cream in any container, bottle, or can bearing any legend, letter or symbol likely to be misleading, or indicating that such milk or cream has been graded, unless said milk or cream does conform in every respect with the requirements of said public health service milk ordinance. Any person violating the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be subject to a fine of not more than $50.00, nor less than $10.00. (1933, c. 343, s. 1.)

Art. 30. Farm Crop Seed Improvement Division.

§ 106-269. Creation and purpose; election of director.—There is hereby created in the Agricultural Extension Service of the State College of Agriculture and Engineering a division to be known as the Farm Crop Seed Improvement Division, and it shall be the duty and function of this division to foster and promote the development and distribution of pure strains of crop seeds among the farmers of North Carolina. The Director of said Division shall be selected as the heads of other divisions of the State College of Agriculture and Engineering are selected and said division shall have the necessary cooperation of all other members of the college staff of said State College of Agriculture and Engineering for the proper carrying out of the purposes of this article. (1929, c. 325, s. 1.)

§ 106-270. State board of farm crop seed improvement.—The Governor, the Commissioner of Agriculture and the Dean of the School of Agriculture of the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, are hereby created a State Board of Farm Crop Seed Improvement. (1929, c. 325, s. 2.)

§ 106-271. Powers of Board.—The said board shall have control, management and supervision of the production, distribution and certification of pure-bred crop seeds under the provisions of this article. (1929, c. 325, s. 3.)

§ 106-272. Co-operation of other departments with Board; rules and regulations; fees for certification.—In so far as any of the State departments or agencies shall have to do with the testing, development, production, certification and distribution of farm crop seeds, such departments or agencies shall actively co-operate with the said Board in carrying out the purpose of this article. The said Board shall have authority to make, establish and promulgate all needful rules and regulations, including rules and regulations fixing fees for certification and fixing the market price of certified seed, necessary for the proper exercise of the duties conferred upon said Board and for the carrying out the full purposes of this article. (1929, c. 325, s. 4.)

§ 106-273. North Carolina Crop Improvement Association.—For the purpose of carrying out more fully the provisions of this article and of fostering the development, certification and distribution of pure seeds the said Board shall have authority to promote the organization and incorporation of an association of farmers to be known as the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association, which said Association when so organized and incorporated shall, subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by said Board, adopt all necessary rules and regulations and collect from their members such fees as shall be necessary for the proper functioning of such organizations. (1929, c. 325, s. 5.)

§ 106-274. Certification of crop seeds.—For the purposes of this article the certification of crop seeds hereunder shall be defined to be a guarantee by the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association herein provided for that the said seed conform to the stated origin, adaptation, variety name, variety purity, quality, germination, seed purity, and any other qualification necessary for the determining of the proper quality or value of crop seed. (1929, c. 325, s. 6.)

§ 106-275. False certification of pure-bred crop seeds made misdemeanor.—It shall be a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the court, for any person, firm, association, or corporation, selling seeds, tubers, plants, or plant parts in North Carolina, to use any evidence of certification, such as a blue tag or the word "certified" or both, on any package of seed, tubers, plants, or plant parts, nor shall the word "certified" be used in any advertisement of seeds, tubers, plants, or plant parts, unless such commodities used for plant propagation shall have been duly inspected and certified by the agency of certification provided for in this article, or by a similar legally constituted agency of another state or foreign country. (1933, c. 340, s. 1.)

§ 106-276. Supervision of certification of crop seeds.—Certification of crop seeds in so far as it concerns the origin, adaptation, variety name, variety purity and quality shall be subject to the supervision of the director of the Division of Farm Crop Seed Improvement. Certification of crop seeds in so far as it concerns germination and purity tests shall be subject to the supervision of the State Department of Agriculture. The North Carolina Crop Improvement Association may certify any crop seeds when the certification thereof shall have been approved by both the director of the Division of Farm Crop Seed Improvement and by the State Department of Agriculture. (1929, c. 325, s. 7.)

Art. 31. North Carolina Seed Law.

§ 106-277. Short title.—This article shall be known by the short title of "The North Carolina Seed Law." (1941, c. 114, s. 1.)

§ 106-278. Administration.—This article shall be administered by the commissioner of agriculture of the state of North Carolina hereinafter referred to as the "commissioner." (1941, c. 114, s. 2.)

§ 106-279. Definitions.—When used in this article:

a. The word "person" includes a person, firm, partnership, corporation, company, society, association, trustee, or receiver.

b. The term "agricultural seeds" shall include the seeds of grass, forage, cereal, and fiber crops and any other kinds of seeds commonly recognized within this state as agricultural or field seeds, and mixtures of such seeds.

c. The term "vegetable seeds" shall include the seeds of those crops which are grown in gardens or on truck farms and are generally known and sold under the name of vegetable seeds.

d. The term "inert matter" includes sand, dirt, chaff, and other foreign substances, and broken seed incapable of germination.

e. The term "weed seeds" shall mean the seeds of all plants generally recognized within this state as weeds, and shall include noxious weed seed.

f. Noxious weed seeds shall be divided into two classes, "primary noxious weed seeds" and "secondary noxious weed seeds," which are defined in (1) and (2) of this subsection:

(1) "Primary noxious weed seeds" are the seeds of perennial weeds such as not only reproduce by seed but also spread by underground roots or stems, and which when established, are highly destructive and difficult to control in this state by ordinary good cultural practice.

(2) "Secondary noxious weed seeds" are the seeds of such weeds as are very objectionable in fields, lawns, or gardens of this state, but can be controlled by good cultural practice.

g. The term "labeling" includes all labels, and other written, printed, or graphic representations, in any form whatsoever, accompanying and pertaining to any seed whether in bulk or in containers, and includes invoices.

h. The term "grower" shall mean any person who produces directly as landlord, tenant, sharecropper, or lessee, the seed sold.

i. The term "dealer" shall mean any person not classified as a "grower," selling or offering for sale any seeds for planting purposes, and shall include any person who has seed grown under contract for resale for planting purposes. (1941, c. 114, s. 3.)

§ 106-280. Attachment of seed analysis tags to containers of seeds for sale; information required on tags.—Each container of agricultural or vegetable seeds weighing ten (10) pounds or more which is sold, offered for sale, or exposed for sale within this state for planting purposes, shall have attached thereto a North Carolina seed analysis tag purchased from the department of agriculure, for one cent each, and in case such seed are shipped into this state said tag shall be secured by the person shipping such seed into the state before shipment to agent, retailer or other person, on which is plainly written or printed the following information:

a. For Agricultural Seeds:

(1) Lot number or other identification.

(2) Commonly accepted name of kind or kind and variety of each agricultural seed component in excess of five per cent (5%) of the whole and the percentage by weight of each. Where more than one component is required to be named the word "mixture" or "mixed" shall be associated with the name on the label.

(3) Origin, if known; if unknown, so stated.

(4) Percentage by weight of agricultural seeds other than those required to be named on the label.

(5) Percentage by weight of inert matter.

(6) Percentage by weight of all weed seeds.

(7) The name and approximate number per pound of secondary noxious weed seeds when present singly or collectively in excess of the tolerances prescribed in the rules and regulations under this article.

(8) For each named agricultural seed.

(a) Percentage of germination exclusive of hard seed.

(b) Percentage of hard seed, if present.

(c) The calendar month and year the test was completed to determine such percentages.

(9) Name and address of the person who labeled said seed or who sells, offers or exposes said seed for sale. Provided that the provisions of (2), (4), (5), (6), and (7) of subsection "a" of this section shall not apply to cotton, corn, and tobacco except the name of kind or kind and variety, shall be shown as required in (2).

b. For Vegetable Seeds:

(1) Name of kind and variety of seeds.

(2) For seeds on which the germination equals or exceeds the standards last adopted under the rules and regulations of this article the words "NORTH CAROLINA STANDARD" may be used in lieu of the actual germination.

(3) For seeds which germinate less than the standard last established by the commissioner and board of agriculture under this article:

(a) Percentage of germination exclusive of hard seed.

(b) Percentage of hard seed, if present.

(c) Calendar year and month the test was completed to determine such percentages.

(d) The words "BELOW STANDARD."

(4) The name and address of person who labeled said seed or who sells, offers, or exposes said seed for sale: Provided, that in cases where the required analysis and other information regarding the seed is present on the seedsman's label or tag, accompanied by the official North Carolina seed analysis tag on which is written, stamped or printed the words "See Attached Tag for Seed Analysis" or other words to that effect, the provisions of this section shall be deemed to have been complied with, and undefaced tags or labels of the previous year may be exchanged for tags or labels of the current year. Provided, further, that no tag or label shall be required, unless requested, on seeds sold directly to, and in the presence of, the consumer and taken from a bag or container properly labeled in accordance with the provisions of this section, but this shall in no way exempt from the analysis given on the tag or label attached to such container.

c. For vegetable seeds in containers of less than ten (10) pounds which germinate less than the standards last adopted by the commissioner and board of agriculture the actual germination shall be shown.

d. Provided, that the official tag or label of the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association shall be considered a "North Carolina seed analysis tag" when fees applicable to said tag have been paid to the department of agriculture. (1941, c. 114, s. 4.)

§ 106-281. Prohibited acts.—It shall be unlawful:

a. For any person within this state to sell, offer or expose for sale any seed defined in this article for seeding purposes:

(1) Unless the test to determine the percentage of germination shall have been completed within a nine-month period exclusive of the calendar month in which the test was completed prior to sale or exposure for sale.

(2) Not labeled in accordance with the provisions of this article, or having a false or misleading label: Provided that the provisions of § 106-280 shall not apply to seed consigned to or in storage in a seed cleaning or processing establishment for cleaning or processing when each lot of such seed is labeled "to be cleaned or processed," or to seed being sold by a grower to a dealer. Provided further that any labeling or other representation which may be made with respect to such seed shall be subject to this article.

(3) Any seeds containing primary noxious weed seeds, subject to tolerances prescribed in the rules and regulations under this article.

b. For any person within this state:

(1) To detach, alter, deface or destroy any label provided for in this article or to alter or substitute seed in a manner that may defeat the purposes of this article.

(2) To hinder or obstruct in any way any authorized person in the performance of his duties under this article.

(3) To fail to comply with an order of the commissioner or his authorized agent to withdraw from sale any seed which do not comply with the requirements of this article. (1941, c. 114, s. 5.)

§ 106-282. Authority of commissioner and his agents.—For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this article, authority is hereby delegated to the commissioner or his authorized agents:

a. To sample, inspect, make analysis of and test agricultural and vegetable seeds transported, sold, offered or exposed for sale within this state for seeding purposes, at such time and place and to such extent as he may deem necessary to determine whether or not this article has been complied with.

b. To adopt and prescribe, by and with the advice of the board of agriculture, rules and regulations governing the methods of sampling, inspecting, making analyses, testing and examining agricultural and vegetable seeds, and to make regulations governing tolerances allowed in the administration of this article; also to adopt grades and standards for seeds and to name noxious weed seeds.

c. To issue "stop sale" orders which shall prohibit further sale of any lot of seed which the commissioner or his authorized agent has reason to believe is being offered or exposed for sale in violation of any of the provisions of this article, until the law has been complied with, or said violation otherwise legally disposed of.

d. To establish and maintain a seed laboratory with adequate facilities and personnel for such inspecting, sampling, and testing as may be necessary for the efficient enforcement of this article.

e. To publish or cause to be published at intervals information covering the findings of the seed laboratory.

f. To withdraw from sale seed not having a reasonable viability or that are extremely impure, or that are of distinct low quality otherwise, notwithstanding they may be properly labeled, when such withdrawal is in the interest of normal crop production.

g. To make rules and regulations under which any person, of this state shall have the privilege of having samples of seed tested free of charge in the state seed laboratory. (1941, c. 114, s. 6.)

§ 106-283. Sources of funds for expenses; licensing of seed dealers; inspection stamps.—For the purpose of providing a fund to defray the expenses of the inspection, examination, and analysis prescribed in this article:

a. Each seed dealer selling, offering or exposing for sale in, or export from, this state any agricultural, vegetable, or flower seeds, other than packet or package seeds, for seeding purposes, shall register with the department of agriculture the name of such dealer and shall obtain a license annually on January first of each year, and shall pay for such license as follows:

(1) Twenty-five dollars ($25.00), if a wholesaler, or a wholesaler and retailer.

(2) Ten dollars ($10.00), if a retailer with sales in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for the calendar year. Each branch of any wholesaler or retailer shall be required to obtain a retail license.

(3) One dollar ($1.00), if a retailer at a permanent location with sales not in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00). Provided, that if and when the seed sales for the calendar year shall exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00), application must be made for a ten dollar ($10.00) license, credit to be given for the one dollar ($1.00) license previously secured: Provided, further that no owner or operator of any harvester or threshing machine operating on a share basis and selling only the seed obtained in this manner shall come under the provisions of this section.

b. A one dollar ($1.00) inspection stamp shall be purchased from the department of agriculture for each seventy-two (72) dozen packets or packages of vegetable or flower seeds, or fraction thereof. The said stamp shall be secured by the producer, grower, jobber or other person, firm or corporation shipping such seed into the state before shipment to agent or retailer, and shall be furnished to said agent or retailer for attachment to display case: Provided, also, that any producer, grower, jobber or other person, firm or corporation, residing within this state shall secure said stamp before furnishing any such seed to any agent or retailer within the state for resale. The said stamp or stamps shall be attached to the display case before the seed are offered or exposed for sale, and shall expire at the end of the calendar year for which issued: Provided further that in cases where package seed of one kind or variety are offered or exposed for sale in boxes or display cases not in excess of three dozen packages, a ten cent stamp shall be purchased from the department of agriculture and attached to said box or display case. (1941, c. 114, s. 7.)

§ 106-284. Violations made misdemeanor; prosecutions; release of seeds after compliance.—Every violation of the provisions of this article shall be deemed a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00), and if the commissioner shall find, upon examination, analysis, or test, that any person has violated any of the provisions of this article, he or his duly authorized agent or agents may institute proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction against such person; or the commissioner, in his discretion, may report the results of such examination to the attorney general, together with sworn statement of the analyst, duly acknowledged, and such other evidence of such violation as he shall deem necessary. Said sworn statement shall be admitted as evidence in any court of this state in any proceeding instituted under this article; but, upon a motion of the accused, such analyst shall be required to appear as a witness and be subject to cross-examination: Provided, however, that no prosecution for violation of this article, if such violations are based on tests or analyses, shall be instituted except in the manner following: When the commissioner of agriculture finds that this article has been violated, as shown by test, examination or analysis, he shall give notice to the person responsible for labeling the seeds, designating a time and place for a hearing. This hearing shall be private, and the person or firm involved shall have the right to introduce evidence, either in person, or by agent or attorney. If, after said hearing, or without said hearing, in case said person fails or refuses to appear, the commissioner decides that the evidence warrants prosecution, he shall proceed as herein provided. Moreover, it shall be the duty of the attorney general, or, in his discretion, he may act through the attorney of the county or city in which such violation has occurred, to institute proceedings at once against the person charged with such violations: Provided, such proceedings for violations shall be instituted according to the laws of this state: Provided, further that when the provisions of this article have been fully complied with regarding any seeds which have been withdrawn from sale, or have been ordered by the commissioner to be disposed of for other than seeding purposes, the commissioner, may in his discretion, release the same for sale upon the payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the department of agriculture in any proceedings connected with such withdrawal. (1941, c. 114, s. 8.)

Art. 32. Linseed Oil.

§ 106-285. Inspection and analysis authorized.—For the purpose of protection of the people of the state from imposition by the fraudulent sale of adulterated or misbranded linseed oil or flaxseed oil as pure linseed oil or flaxseed oil, the board of agriculture shall cause inspection to be made from time to time and samples of such oil offered for sale in the state obtained, and shall cause the same to be analyzed or examined or tested by the oil chemist or other experts of the department of agriculture for the purpose of ascertaining or determining if same is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this article or is otherwise offered for sale in violation of this article. (1917, c. 172, s. 1; C. S. 4832.)

§ 106-286. "Raw" and "boiled" linseed oil defined.—The term "raw linseed oil" as used herein shall be construed to mean the oil obtained wholly from commercially pure linseed or flaxseed, and the term "boiled linseed oil" as used herein shall be construed to mean linseed oil that has been heated in the process of its manufacture to a temperature of not less than two hundred and twenty-five degrees Fahrenheit. (1917, c. 172, s. 2; C. S. 4833.)

§ 106-287. "Adulterated" linseed oil defined.—For the purpose of this article linseed oil shall be deemed to be adulterated if it be not wholly the product of commercially pure and well cleaned linseed or flaxseed, and unless the oil also fulfills the requirements of the chemical test for pure linseed oil, described in the edition of the United States Pharmacopœia for the year nineteen hundred. (1917, c. 172, s. 3; C. S. 4834.)

§ 106-288. Sale of prohibited products; statement required of dealer.—No person, firm, or corporation, by himself or agent or as the agent of any other person, firm, or corporation, shall manufacture or mix for sale, sell, offer or expose for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell under the name of raw linseed oil or boiled linseed oil, or under any name or device that suggests raw or boiled linseed oil, any article which is not wholly the product of commercially pure linseed or flaxseed, or that is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this article, except as is hereinafter provided, and any manufacturer, wholesaler, or jobber desiring to do business in the state shall file with the commissioner of agriculture a statement to that effect and furnish the name of the oil or oils which he proposes to sell by sample or otherwise, and that the oil or oils will comply with the requirements of this article. (1917, c. 172, s. 4; C. S. 4835.)

§ 106-289. Drying agents; label to state name and percentage.—Boiled linseed oil which has been heated to a temperature of not less than two hundred and twenty-five degrees Fahrenheit may contain drying agents not to exceed four per cent by volume, provided that the name and per cent of each drying agent present be plainly stated in connection with the name of the oil on the receptacle containing same: and Provided further, that the statement is printed in letters that meet the requirements of the regulations adopted by the board of agriculture under this article. (1917, c. 172, s. 5; C. S. 4836.)

§ 106-290. Compounds, imitations, and substitutes regulated.—Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit the sale of compound linseed oil, or imitation linseed oil, or any substance to be used as a substitute for linseed oil, provided the receptacle containing same shall be plainly and legibly stamped, stenciled, or marked compound linseed oil, or imitation oil, or with the name of the substance to be used for linseed oil, as the case may be: and Provided further, that the name is stenciled or marked on the container of same in a manner that will meet the requirements of the regulations adopted by the board of agriculture under this article. (1917, c. 172, s. 6; C. S. 4837.)

§ 106-291. Containers to be marked with specified particulars.—Before any raw linseed oil or any boiled linseed oil or any boiled linseed oil with drying agents added or any compound linseed oil or any imitation linseed oil or any other substance used or intended to be used as a substitute for linseed oil shall be sold or offered for sale in this state, the container in which same is kept for sale or sold shall have distinctly, legibly, and durably painted, stamped, stenciled, or marked thereon the true name of such oil or substance, setting forth in bold-face capital letters that meet the regulations prescribed by the board of agriculture, whether it be raw linseed oil or boiled linseed oil with drying agent added, or a compound linseed oil or an imitation linseed oil or a substitute for linseed oil, as the case may be; and the container, if a wholesale package, shall also bear the name and address of the manufacturer or jobber of such oil. (1917, c. 172, s. 7; C. S. 4838.)

§ 106-292. Entry for samples authorized.—The inspectors or agents of the department of agriculture, authorized to make inspection under this article, shall have authority, during business hours, to enter all stores, warehouses, or any other place where products named in this article are stored or sold or offered for sale, for the purpose of inspection and obtaining samples of such products. (1917, c. 172, s. 8; C. S. 4839.)

§ 106-293. Refusing samples or obstructing article forbidden.—Every person who offers for sale or delivers to a purchaser any article named in this article shall furnish, within business hours and upon the payment or tender of the selling price, a sample of such product to any person duly authorized to secure the same, and who shall apply to such vender for such sample of such article in his possession; and any dealer or vender who refuses to comply, upon demand, with the requirements of this section, or any person who shall impede, hinder, or obstruct or otherwise prevent or attempt to prevent any chemist, inspector, or agent of the department in the performance of his duty in connection with this article, shall be guilty of a violation of this article. (1917, c. 172, s. 8; C. S. 4840.)

§ 106-294. Violations of article a misdemeanor.—Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for such offense, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not exceeding one hundred dollars for the first offense and for each subsequent offense in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 172, s. 9; C. S. 4841.)

§ 106-295. Forfeiture for unauthorized offer; disposal of proceeds.—The oil offered for sale in violation of this article shall be subject to seizure, condemnation, and sale by the commissioner of agriculture, as is provided for the seizure, condemnation, and sale of commercial fertilizer; and the proceeds thereof, if sold, less the legal cost and charges, shall be paid into the treasury for the use of the department of agriculture in executing the provisions of this article. (1917, c. 172, s. 9; C. S. 4842.)

§ 106-296. Commissioner to notify solicitor of violations and certify facts.—If it shall appear from the inspection or other examination of oils that any of the provisions of this article have been violated, besides the action above provided for, the commissioner of agriculture shall certify the facts to the solicitor in the district in which the violation was committed, and furnish the officer with the facts in the case, duly authenticated by the expert, under oath, who made the examination. (1917, c. 172, s. 10; C. S. 4843.)

§ 106-297. Solicitor to prosecute.—It shall be the duty of the solicitor to prosecute such cases for fines and penalties provided for in this article in courts of competent jurisdiction. (1917, c. 172, s. 10; C. S. 4844.)

§ 106-298. Inspection tax.—For the purpose of defraying expenses incurred in the enforcement of the provisions of this article there shall be paid to the commissioner of agriculture an inspection tax of one-half cent per gallon for any and all linseed oil or compound linseed oil or any substance used or intended to be used as a substitute for linseed oil, which payment shall be made before the delivery of such oil to any agent, retail dealer, or consumer in this state. (1917, c. 172, s. 11; C. S. 4845.)

§ 106-299. Tax tags.—Each can, barrel, tank, or other container of oils named in this article shall have attached thereto an inspection tag or stamp stating that the inspection charges specified in this article have been paid; and the commissioner of agriculture, with the advice and consent of the board, is hereby authorized to prescribe a form for such tags or stamps: Provided, that they shall be such as to meet the requirements of the trade of linseed oil. (1917, c. 172, s. 11; C. S. 4846.)

§ 106-300. Refilling containers and misuse of tags prohibited.—The refilling of a container bearing an inspection tag or stamp on which the inspection tax has not been paid or the use of an inspection tag or stamp a second time shall constitute a violation of this article. (1917, c. 172, s. 12; C. S. 4847.)

§ 106-301. Rules to enforce article; misdemeanor.—The board of agriculture is hereby authorized to adopt such rules and regulations in regard to handling linseed oil, refilling containers, and use of inspection tags or stamps a second time, as will insure the enforcement of the provisions of this article, and a violation of the said rules or regulations shall constitute a violation of this article. (1917, c. 172, s. 13; C. S. 4848.)

§ 106-302. Dealer released by guaranty of wholesaler.—No dealer shall be prosecuted under the provisions of this article when he can establish a guaranty signed by the manufacturer, jobber, wholesaler, or other party from whom he purchased such article, designating it, to the effect that the same is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this article. Said guaranty, to afford protection, shall contain the name and address of the party or parties making the sale of such article to such dealer, and in such cases said party or parties, if in this state, shall be amenable to the prosecutions, fines, and other penalties which would attach, in due course, to the dealer under the provisions of this article: Provided, that the above guaranty shall not afford protection to any dealer after the first offense in connection with a product from a particular manufacturer, jobber, or wholesaler, or for the sale of oil which is not properly labeled, branded, stamped, or tagged, or on which the inspection tax has not been paid. (1917, c. 172, s. 14; C. S. 4849.)

Art. 33. Adulterated Turpentine.

§ 106-303. Sale of adulterated turpentine misdemeanor.—If any person shall adulterate or cause to be adulterated any spirits turpentine, or shall knowingly sell or offer for sale as pure spirits turpentine any adulterated spirits turpentine, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than fifty dollars or imprisoned for thirty days. (Rev., s. 3830; 1897, c. 482; C. S. 5089.)

Art. 34. Animal Diseases.

Part 1. Quarantine.

§ 106-304. Proclamation of live-stock quarantine.—Upon the recommendation of the commissioner of agriculture, it shall be lawful for the governor to issue his proclamation forbidding the importation into this state of any and all kinds of live stock from any state where there is known to prevail contagious or infectious diseases among the live stock of such state. (1915, c. 174, s. 1; C. S. 4871.)

§ 106-305. Proclamation of infected feedstuff quarantine.—Upon the recommendation of the commissioner of agriculture, it shall be lawful for the governor to issue his proclamation forbidding the importation into this state of any hay, feedstuff, or other article dangerous to live stock as a carrier of infectious or contagious disease from any state where there is known to prevail contagious or infectious disease among the live stock of such state. (1915, c. 174, s. 2; C. S. 4872.)

§ 106-306. Rules to enforce quarantine.—Upon such proclamation being made, the commissioner of agriculture shall have power to make rules and regulations to make effective the proclamation and to stamp out such infectious or contagious diseases as may break out among the live stock in this state. (1915, c. 174, s. 3; C. S. 4873.)

§ 106-307. Violation of proclamation or rules.—Any person, firm, or corporation violating the terms of the proclamation of the governor, or any rule or regulation made by the commissioner of agriculture in pursuance thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1915, c. 174, s. 4; C. S. 4874.)

Part 2. Foot and Mouth Disease.

§ 106-308. Appropriation to combat the disease.—If the foot and mouth disease shall occur or seem likely to appear in this state and the agricultural department has no funds available to immediately meet the situation in coöperation with the United States department of agriculture, the state treasurer, upon the approval of the governor, shall set aside out of funds not otherwise appropriated such sum as the governor shall deem necessary and who will notify the treasurer of the amount, to be known as the foot and mouth appropriation, to be used by the state agricultural department in the work of preventing or eradicating this disease.

The same shall be paid only for work in this connection upon warrants approved by the commissioner of agriculture. (1915, c. 160, s. 1; C. S. 4875.)

§ 106-309. Disposition of surplus funds.—If said disease shall have appeared and shall have been eradicated and work is no longer necessary in connection with it, the state treasurer shall return such part of the appropriation as is not expended to the general fund, and the commissioner of agriculture shall furnish the governor an itemized statement of the money expended, and all moneys set aside out of the state funds and used for the purpose of eradicating said disease under the provisions of this article shall be paid back to the state funds by the department of agriculture out of the first funds received by said agricultural department available for such purpose. (1915, c. 160, s. 2; C. S. 4876.)

Part 3. Hog Cholera.

§ 106-310. Burial of hogs dying natural death required.—It shall be the duty of every person, firm, or corporation who shall lose a hog by any form of natural death to have the same buried in the earth to a depth of at least two feet within twelve hours after the death of the animal. Any person, firm, or corporation that shall fail to comply with the terms of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than ten for each offense, at the discretion of the court. (1915, c. 225; C. S. 4877.)

§ 106-311. Hogs affected with cholera to be segregated and confined.—If any person having swine affected with the disease known as hog cholera, or any other infectious or contagious disease, who discovers the same, or to whom notice of the fact shall be given, shall fail or neglect for one day to secure the diseased swine from the approach of or contact with other hogs not so affected, by penning or otherwise securing and effectually isolating them, so that they shall not have access to any ditch, canal, branch, creek, river or other water-course which passes beyond the premises of the owners of such swine, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3297; 1889, c. 173, s. 1; 1891, c. 67, ss. 1, 3; 1903, c. 106; 1899, c. 47; 1913, c. 120; C. S. 4490.)

§ 106-312. Shipping hogs from cholera-infected territory.— It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation in any district or territory infected by cholera to bring, carry, or ship hogs into any stock-law section or territory, unless such hogs have been certified to be free from cholera either by the farm demonstration agent of the county or some other suitable person to be designated by the clerk of the superior court. Any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor. (1917, c. 203; C. S. 4491.)

§ 106-313. Price of serum to be fixed.—The department of agriculture shall fix the price of anti-hog-cholera serum at such an amount as will cover the cost of production. (1917, c. 275, s. 1; 1919, c. 6; C. S. 4878.)

§ 106-314. Manufacture and use of serum and virus restricted.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to distribute, sell, or use in the state anti-hog-cholera serum unless said anti-hog-cholera serum is produced at the serum plant of the state department of agriculture, or produced in a plant which is licensed by the United States department of agriculture, bureau of animal industry, allowing said plant to do an interstate business.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to distribute, sell, or use in the state of North Carolina, virulent blood from hog-cholera-infected hogs, or virus, unless said virulent blood, or virus, is produced at the serum plant of the state department of agriculture or produced in a plant which is licensed by the United States department of agriculture, bureau of animal industry, allowing said plant to do an interstate business. No virulent blood from hog-cholera-infected hogs, or virus, shall be distributed, sold or used in the state unless and until permission has been given in writing by the state veterinarian for such distribution, sale or use. Said permission to be canceled by the state veterinarian when necessary.

Any person, firm, or corporation guilty of violating the provisions of this section or failing or refusing to comply with the requirements thereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1915, c. 88; 1919, c. 125, ss. 1, 2, 3; C. S. 4879.)

Local Modification.—Edgecombe: 1933, c. 139; Nash: 1935, cc. 67, 222; Pitt: 1935, c. 352; Wilson: 1933, c. 58.

§ 106-315. Written permit from state veterinarian for sale, use or distribution of hog cholera virus, etc.—No hog cholera virus or other product containing live virus or organisms of animal diseases shall be distributed, sold, or used within the state unless permission has been given in writing by the state veterinarian for such distribution, sale, or use, said permission to be cancelled by the state veterinarian when he deems same necessary: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any county having a local law providing for the vaccination of hogs against cholera. (1939, c. 360, s. 5.)

§ 106-316. Counties authorized to purchase and supply serum.—If the county commissioners of any county in the state deem it necessary to use anti-hog-cholera serum to control or eradicate the disease known as hog cholera, they are authorized within their discretion to purchase from the state department of agriculture sufficient anti-hog-cholera serum and virus for use in their county and supply same free of cost to the residents of the county, or pay for any portion of the cost of said serum, the remaining portion to be paid by the owners of the hogs.

The use of anti-hog-cholera serum and virus and the quarantine of diseased animals shall remain under the supervision of the state veterinarian.

Nothing in this section shall in any way interfere with existing laws and regulations covering the use of anti-hog-cholera serum and virus and the quarantine and control of contagious diseases, or any laws or regulations that may become necessary in the future. (1919, c. 132; C. S. 4881.)

§ 106-317. Regulation of transportation or importation of hogs into state.—To prevent the spread of hog cholera or other contagious or infectious hog disease in the state of North Carolina, it is hereby declared to be unlawful to transport or import, into this state any hog from any other state or territory for any purpose whatsoever, except upon the certificate of a duly licensed practicing veterinarian in the county or corresponding territorial district where the shipment originated that such hog is not infected with cholera or other contagious or infectious hog disease and is not transported or imported from a locality in which hog cholera or other contagious or infectious hog disease is prevalent; said certificate shall be issued within ten days prior to inspection: Provided, §§ 106-317 to 106-322 shall not apply to hogs brought into this state for immediate delivery to recognized slaughter houses intended for immediate slaughter and hogs destined to public livestock markets operating under the supervision of the department of agriculture, but the burden shall be on the person transporting said hogs to prove the fact that such hogs are so destined: Provided, further, that the presentation of a way bill of lading on any shipment of hogs being transported by a common carrier shall satisfy this burden. (1941, c. 373, s. 1.)

§ 106-318. Veterinarian's certificate subject to inspection by police officers, etc. — Until delivery of any such hog, the owner or agent in charge shall at all times have in his possession said certificate of the licensed veterinarian and, upon request, he shall produce it for inspection by any police officer or inspection agent of this state or any county thereof. (1941, c. 373, s. 2.)

§ 106-319. Burial of hogs dying in transit.—It shall be the duty of any owner or agent having in charge any hog being transported or imported, into this state who shall, before delivery, lose a hog by any form of natural or unnatural death to have the same buried in the earth to a depth of at least two feet within twelve hours after the death of said hog. (1941, c. 373, s. 3.)

§ 106-320. Duty of county commissioners to provide for inspections. — It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county of the state of North Carolina to provide sufficient and adequate inspection of hogs transported or imported into said county from any other state or territory, and to examine into the authenticity and sufficiency of the certificate of the veterinarian, and to refuse admittance into the county of any hog not certified as provided by §§ 106-317 to 106-322. (1941, c. 373, s. 4.)

§ 106-321. Violation of sections 106-317 to 106-322 made misdemeanor.—Any person violating the provisions of §§ 106-317 to 106-322 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1941, c. 373, s. 5.)

§ 106-322. Effect of sections 106-317 to 106-322.—Sections 106-317 to 106-322 shall not repeal article 34, chapter 106, but shall be complementary thereto. (1941, c. 373, s. 6.)

Part 4. Compensation for Killing Diseased Animals.

§ 106-323. State to pay part of value of animals killed on account of disease.—If it appears to be necessary for the control or eradication of Bang's disease and tuberculosis and para-tuberculosis in cattle, or glanders in horses and mules, to destroy such animals affected with such diseases and to compensate owners for loss thereof, the state veterinarian is authorized, within his discretion, to agree on the part of the state, in the case of cattle destroyed for Bang's disease and tuberculosis, and para-tuberculosis to pay one-third of the difference between the appraised value of each animal so destroyed and the value of the salvage thereof: Provided, that in no case shall any payment by the state be more than twelve dollars and fifty cents for any grade animal nor more than twenty-five dollars for any pure-bred animal. In the case of horses or mules destroyed for glanders to pay one-half of the appraised value, said half not to exceed one hundred dollars. (1919, c. 62, s. 1; 1929, c. 107; 1939, c. 272, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 4882.)

§ 106-324. Appraisal of cattle affected with Bang's disease and tuberculosis.—Cattle affected with Bang's disease and tuberculosis and para-tuberculosis shall be appraised by three men—one to be chosen by the owner, one by the United States bureau of animal industry, and one by the state veterinarian. If the United States bureau of animal industry is not represented, then the appraisers shall be chosen, one by the owner, one by the state veterinarian, the third to be chosen by the first two named. The finding of such appraisers shall be final. (1919, c. 62, s. 2; 1929, c. 107; 1939, c. 272, s. 1; C. S. 4883.)

§ 106-325. Appraisal of animals affected with glanders; report.—Animals affected with glanders shall be appraised by three men—one to be chosen by the owner, one to be chosen by the state veterinarian, the third to be named by the first two chosen, the finding of such appraisers to be final. The report of appraisal to be made in triplicate on forms furnished by the state veterinarian, and a copy sent to the state veterinarian at once. (1919, c. 62, s. 3; C. S. 4884.)

§ 106-326. Report of appraisal of cattle affected with Bang's disease and tuberculosis to state veterinarian; contents.—Appraisals of cattle affected with Bang's disease or tuberculosis shall be reported on forms furnished by the state veterinarian, which shall show the number of animals, the appraised value of each per head, or the weight and appraised value per pound, and shall be signed by the owners and the appraisers. This report must be made in triplicate and a copy sent to the state veterinarian: Provided, that the state veterinarian may change the forms for making claims so as to conform to the claim forms used by the United States department of agriculture. (1919, c. 62, s. 4; 1939, c. 272, ss. 1, 3; C. S. 4885.)

§ 106-327. Marketing of cattle affected with Bang's disease and tuberculosis.—Each owner of cattle affected with Bang's disease or tuberculosis, which have been appraised, and which have been authorized by the state veterinarian to be marketed, shall market the cattle within thirty days and shall obtain from the purchaser a report in triplicate. One copy to be sent to the state veterinarian at once, certifying as to the amount of money actually paid for the animals, all animals to be identified on report. (1919, c. 62, s. 5; 1939, c. 272, s. 1; C. S. 4886.)

§ 106-328. Report on salvage.—When the appraised cattle have been slaughtered and the amount of salvage ascertained, a report, on forms furnished by the state veterinarian, in triplicate shall be made, signed by the owner and the United States bureau of animal industry or state inspector and the appraisers by which the animals were appraised and destroyed, showing the difference between the appraised value and salvage. Two copies are to be attached to the voucher in which compensation is claimed, and one copy to be furnished by the owner of cattle. (1919, c. 62, s. 6; C. S. 4887.)

§ 106-329. Compensation when killing ordered.—Compensation for animals destroyed on account of glanders will only be paid when such destruction is ordered by the state veterinarian or his authorized representative. When the owner of the animals presents his claim he shall support same with the original report of the appraiser, together with the report of the inspector who destroyed the animal, to the state veterinarian. (1919, c. 62, s. 7; C. S. 4888.)

§ 106-330. Ownership of destroyed animals; outstanding liens.—When animals have been destroyed pursuant to this article the inspector shall take reasonable precautions to determine, prior to his approval of vouchers in which compensation is claimed, who is the owner of and whether there are any mortgages or other liens outstanding against the animals. If it appears that there are outstanding liens, a full report regarding same shall be made and shall accompany the voucher. Every such report shall include a description of the liens, the name of the person or persons having possession of the documentary evidence, and a statement showing what arrangements, if any, have been made to discharge the liens outstanding against the animals destroyed of which the inspector may have knowledge. (1919, c. 62, s. 8; C. S. 4889.)

§ 106-331. State not to pay for feed of animals ordered killed.—Expense for the care and feeding of animals held for slaughter shall not be paid by the state. (1919, c. 62, s. 9; C. S. 4890.)

§ 106-332. Disinfection of stockyards by owners.—Stockyards, pens, cars, vessels and other premises and conveyances will be disinfected whenever necessary for the control and eradication of disease by the owners at their expense under the supervision of an inspector of the United States bureau of animal industry or state veterinarian. (1919, c. 62, s. 10; C. S. 4891.)

§ 106-333. Payments made only on certain conditions.—No payments shall be made for any animal slaughtered in the following cases:

1. If the owner does not disinfect premises, etc., as directed by an inspector of the United States bureau of animal industry or the state veterinarian.

2. For any animals destroyed where the owner has not complied with all lawful quarantine regulations.

3. Animals reacting to a test not approved by the state veterinarian.

4. Animals belonging to the United States.

5. Animals brought into the state in violation of the state laws and regulations.

6. Animals which the owner or claimant knew to be diseased, or had notice thereof, at the time they came into his possession.

7. Animals which had the disease for which they were slaughtered or which were destroyed by reason of exposure to the disease, at the time of their arrival in the state.

8. Animals which have not been within the state of North Carolina for at least one hundred and twenty days prior to the discovery of the disease.

9. Where owner does not use reasonable care in protecting animals from disease.

10. Where owner has failed to submit the necessary reports as required by this article.

11. Any unregistered bull. (1919, c. 62, s. 11; 1939, c. 272, s. 4; C. S. 4892.)

§ 106-334. Owner's claim for indemnity supported by reports.—The owner must present his claim for indemnity to the state veterinarian for approval, and the claim shall be supported with the original report of the appraisers, the original report of the sale of the animals in the case of cattle destroyed on account of Bang's disease and tuberculosis, the certificate of the state or United States bureau of animal industry inspector, and a summary of the claim. All of which shall constitute a part of the claim.

The owner must state whether or not the animals are owned entirely by him or advise fully of any partnership, and describe fully any mortgages or other liens against animals. (1919, c. 62, s. 12; 1939, c. 272, s. 1; C. S. 4893.)

§ 106-335. State veterinarian to carry out provisions of article; how moneys paid out.—The state veterinarian is authorized, himself or by his representative, to do all things specified in this article. All moneys authorized to be paid shall be paid from the state treasury on warrants approved by the auditor, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized to make such payment. (1919, c. 62, s. 13; C. S. 4894.)

Part 5. Tuberculosis.

§ 106-336. Animals reacting to tuberculin test.—All animals reacting to a tuberculin test applied by a qualified veterinarian shall be known as reactors and be forever considered as affected with tuberculosis. (1921, c. 177, s. 1; C. S. 4895(a).)

§ 106-337. Animals to be branded.—All veterinarians who, either by clinical examination or by tuberculin test, find an animal affected with tuberculosis, shall, unless the animal is immediately slaughtered, properly brand said animal for identification on the left jaw with the letter "T", not less than two inches high, and promptly report the same to the state veterinarian. (1921, c. 177, s. 2; C. S. 4895(b).)

§ 106-338. Quarantine; removal or sale; sale and use of milk.—The owner or owners of an animal affected with tuberculosis shall keep said animal isolated and quarantined in such a manner as to prevent the spread of the disease to other animals or man. Said animals must not be moved from the place where quarantined or sold, or otherwise disposed of except upon permission of the state veterinarian, and then only in accordance with his instructions. The milk from said animals must not be sold, and if used shall be first boiled or properly pasteurized. (1921, c. 177, s. 3; C. S. 4895(c).)

§ 106-339. Seller liable in civil action.—Any person or persons who sell or otherwise dispose of to another an animal affected with tuberculosis shall be liable in a civil action to any person injured, and for any and all damages resulting therefrom. (1921, c. 177, s. 4; C. S. 4895(d).)

§ 106-340. Responsibility of owner of premises where sale is made.—When cattle are sold or otherwise disposed of in this state by a nonresident of this state, the person or persons on whose premises the cattle are sold or otherwise disposed of with his knowledge and consent shall be equally responsible for violation of this law and the regulations of the department of agriculture. (1921, c. 177, s. 5; C. S. 4895(e).)

§ 106-341. Sale of tuberculin.—No person, firm, or corporation shall sell or distribute or administer tuberculin, or keep the same on hand for sale, distribution, or administration, except qualified veterinarians, licensed physicians, or licensed druggists, or others lawfully engaged in the sale of biological products. (1921, c. 177, s. 6; C. S. 4895(f).)

§ 106-342. Notice to owner of suspected animals; quarantine.—When the state veterinarian receives information, or has reason to believe that tuberculosis exists in any animal or animals, he shall promptly notify the owner or owners, and recommend that a tuberculin test be applied to said animals, that diseased animals shall be properly disposed of, and the premises disinfected under the supervision of the state veterinarian, or his authorized representative. Should the owner or owners fail or refuse to comply with the said recommendations of the state veterinarian within ten days after said notice, then the state veterinarian shall quarantine said animals on the premises of the owner or owners. Said animals shall not be removed from the premises where quarantined and milk or other dairy products from same shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of. Said quarantine shall remain in effect until the said recommendations of the state veterinarian have been complied with, and the quarantine canceled by the state veterinarian. (1921, c. 177, s. 7; C. S. 4895(g).)

§ 106-343. Appropriations by counties; elections.—The several boards of county commissioners in the state are hereby expressly authorized and empowered to make such appropriations from the general funds of their county as will enable them to coöperate effectively with the state and federal departments of agriculture in the eradication of tuberculosis in their respective counties: Provided, that if in ten days after said appropriation is voted, one-fifth of the qualified voters of the county petition the board of commissioners to submit the question of tuberculosis eradication or no tuberculosis eradication to the voters of the county, said commissioners shall submit such questions to said voters. Said election shall be held and conducted under the rules and regulations provided for holding stock-law elections in §§ 68-16, 68-20 and 68-21. If at any such election a majority of the votes cast shall be in favor of said tuberculosis eradication, the said board shall record the result of the election upon its minutes, and coöperative tuberculosis eradication shall be taken up with the state and federal departments of agriculture. If, however, a majority of the votes cast shall be adverse, then said board shall make no appropriation. (1921, c. 177, s. 8; C. S. 4895(h).)

§ 106-344. Petition for election if commissioners refuse coöperation; order; effect.—If the board of commissioners of any county should exercise their discretion and refuse to coöperate as set out in § 106-343, then if a petition is presented to said board by one-fifth of the qualified voters of the county requesting that an election be held as provided in § 106-343 to determine the question of tuberculosis eradication in the county, the board of commissioners shall order said election to be held in the way provided in § 106-343, and if a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of tuberculosis eradication, then said board shall coöperate with the state and federal governments as herein provided. (1921, c. 177, s. 9; C. S. 4895(i).)

§ 106-345. Importation of cattle.—Whenever a county board shall coöperate with the state and federal governments, whether with or without an election, no cattle except for immediate slaughter shall be brought into the county unless accompanied by a tuberculin test chart and health certificate issued by a qualified veterinarian. (1921, c. 177, s. 10; C. S. 4895(j).)

§ 106-346. Amount of appropriation. — When coöperative tuberculosis eradication shall be taken up in any county as provided for in §§ 106-336 to 106-350, the county commissioners of such counties shall appropriate from the general county fund an amount sufficient to defray one-half of the expense of said coöperative tuberculosis eradication. (1921, c. 177, s. 11; C. S. 4895(k).)

§ 106-347. Qualified veterinarian.—The words "qualified veterinarian" which appear in §§ 106-336 to 106-350 shall be construed to mean a veterinarian approved by the state veterinarian and the chief of the United States bureau of animal industry for the tuberculin testing of cattle intended for interstate shipment. (1921, c. 177, s. 12; C. S. 4895(l).)

§ 106-348. Rules and regulations.—The commissioner of agriculture, by and with the consent of the state board of agriculture, shall have full power to promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary to control and eradicate tuberculosis. (1921, c. 177, s. 13; C. S. 4895(m).)

§ 106-349. Violation of law a misdemeanor.—Any person or persons who shall violate any provision set forth in §§ 106-336 to 106-350, or any rule or regulation duly established by the state board of agriculture or any officer or inspector who shall willfully fail to comply with any provisions of this law, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1921, c. 177, s. 14; C. S. 4895(n).)

§ 106-350. Sale of affected animals a felony.—Any person or persons who shall willfully and knowingly sell or otherwise dispose of any animal or animals known to be affected with tuberculosis without permission as provided for in § 106-338 shall be guilty of a felony, and punishable by imprisonment of not less than one year or not more than five years in the state prison. (1921, c. 177, s. 15; C. S. 4895(o).)

Part 6. Cattle Tick.

§ 106-351. Systematic dipping of cattle or horses.—Systematic dipping of all cattle or horses infested with or exposed to the cattle tick, (Margaropus annulatus) shall be taken up in all counties or portions of counties that shall at anytime be found partially or completely infested with the cattle tick (Margaropus annulatus) under the direction of the state veterinarian acting under the authority as hereinafter provided in §§ 106-351 to 106-363 and as provided in all other laws and parts of laws of North Carolina and the livestock sanitary laws and regulations of the state board of agriculture not in conflict with §§ 106-351 to 106-363. (1923, c. 146, s. 1; C. S. 4895(p).)

§ 106-352. Counties not embraced in quarantine zones.—If it shall be determined by the state veterinarian or an authorized quarantine inspector, that any county or counties shall be partially or completely infested with the cattle tick (Margaropus annulatus), the county commissioners of said counties which are partially or completely infested with the cattle tick (Margaropus annulatus) shall immediately take up the work of systematic tick eradication as hereafter provided and continue same until the cattle tick (Margaropus annulatus) is completely eradicated and notice in writing of same is given by the state veterinarian. (1923, c. 146, s. 3; C. S. 4895(r).)

§ 106-353. Dipping vats; counties to provide; cost.—The county commissioners of the aforesaid counties shall provide such numbers of dipping vats as may be fixed by the state veterinarian or his authorized representative, and provide the proper chemicals and other materials necessary to be used in the work of systematic tick eradication in such counties, which shall begin on said dates and continue until the cattle tick (Margaropus annulatus) is completely eradicated and notice in writing of same is given by the state veterinarian. The cost of said vats and chemicals, or any other expense incurred in carrying out the provisions of §§ 106-351 to 106-363, except §§ 106-354 and 106-358, shall be paid out of the general county fund. (1923, c. 146, s. 4; C. S. 4895(s).)

§ 106-354. Local state inspectors; commissioned as quarantine inspectors; salaries, etc.—The state veterinarian shall appoint the necessary number of local state inspectors to assist in systematic tick eradication, who shall be commissioned by the commissioner of agriculture as quarantine inspectors. The salaries of said inspectors shall be sufficient to insure the employment of competent men. If the services of any of said inspectors is not satisfactory to the state veterinarian, his services shall be immediately discontinued and his commission canceled. (1923, c. 146, s. 5; 1925, c. 275, s. 6; C. S. 4895(t).)

§ 106-355. Enforcement of compliance with law.—If the county commissioners shall fail, refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of §§ 106-351 to 106-363, the state veterinarian shall apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for a writ of mandamus, or shall institute such other proceedings as may be necessary and proper to compel such county commissioners to comply with the provisions of §§ 106-351 to 106-363. (1923, c. 146, s. 6; C. S. 4895(u).)

§ 106-356. Owners of stock to have same dipped; supervision of dipping; dipping period.—Any person or persons, firms or corporations, owning or having in charge any cattle, horses or mules in any county where tick eradication shall be taken up, or is in progress under existing laws, shall, on notification by any quarantine inspector to do so, have such cattle, horses or mules dipped regularly every fourteen days in a vat properly charged with arsenical solution as recommended by the United States bureau of animal industry, under the supervision of said inspector at such time and place and in such manner as may be designated by the quarantine inspector. The dipping period shall be continued as long as may be required by the rules and regulations of the state board of agriculture, which shall be sufficient in number and length of time to completely destroy and eradicate all cattle ticks (Margaropus annulatus) in such county or counties. (1923, c. 146, s. 7; C. S. 4895(v).)

§ 106-357. Service of notice.—Quarantine and dipping notice for cattle, horses and mules, the owner or owners of which cannot be found, shall be served by posting copy of such notice in not less than three public places within the county, one of which shall be placed at the county courthouse. Such posting shall be due and legal notice. (1923, c. 146, s. 8; C. S. 4895(w).)

§ 106-358. Cattle placed in quarantine; dipping at expense of owner.—Cattle, horses or mules infested with or exposed to the cattle tick (Margaropus annulatus) the owner or owners of which, after five days written notice from a quarantine inspector of such animals as is provided for in § 106-357, shall fail or refuse to dip such animals regularly every fourteen days in a vat properly charged with arsenical solution, as recommended by the United States bureau of animal industry, under the supervision of a quarantine inspector, shall be placed in quarantine, dipped and cared for at the expense of the owner or owners, by the quarantine inspector. (1923, c. 146, s. 9; C. S. 4895(x).)

§ 106-359. Expense of dipping as lien on animals; enforcement of lien.—Any expense incurred in the enforcement of § 106-358 and the cost of feeding and caring for animals while undergoing the process of tick eradication shall constitute a lien upon any animal, and should the owner or owners fail or refuse to pay said expense, after three days' notice, they shall be sold by the sheriff of the county after twenty days advertising at the courthouse door and three other public places in the immediate neighborhood of the place at which the animal was taken up for the purpose of tick eradication. The said advertisement shall state therein the time and place of sale, which place shall be where the animal is confined. The sale shall be at public auction and to the highest bidder for cash. Out of the proceeds of the sale the sheriff shall pay the cost of publishing the notices of the tick eradication process, including dipping, cost of feeding and caring for the animals and cost of the sale, which shall include one dollar and fifty cents in the case of each sale to said sheriff. The surplus, if any, shall be paid to the owner of the animal if he can be ascertained. If he cannot be ascertained within thirty days after such sale, then the sheriff shall pay such surplus to the county treasurer for the benefit of the public school fund of the county: Provided, however, that if the owner of the animal shall, within twelve months after the fund is turned over to the county treasurer, as aforesaid, prove to the satisfaction of the board of county commissioners of the county that he was the owner of such animal, then, upon the order of said board, such surplus shall be refunded to the owner. (1923, c. 146, s. 10; C. S. 4895(y).)

§ 106-360. Duty of sheriff.—It shall be the duty of the sheriff, in any county in which the work of tick eradication is in progress, to render all quarantine inspectors any assistance necessary in the enforcement of §§ 106-351 to 106-363 and the regulations of the North Carolina department of agriculture. If the sheriff of any county shall neglect, fail or refuse to render this assistance when so required, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be punishable at the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 146, s. 11; C. S. 4895(z).)

§ 106-361. Rules and regulations.—The commissioner of agriculture, by and with the consent of the state board of agriculture, shall have full power to promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations that may hereafter be necessary to complete tick eradication in North Carolina. (1923, c. 146, s. 12; C. S. 4895(aa).)

§ 106-362. Penalty for violation.—Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any provisions set forth in §§ 106-351 to 106-363 or any rule or regulation duly established by the state board of agriculture, or any officer or inspector who shall willfully fail to comply with any provision of §§ 106-351 to 106-363 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1923, c. 146, s. 13; C. S. 4895(bb).)

§ 106-363. Damaging dipping vats a felony.—Any person or persons who shall wilfully damage or destroy by any means any vat erected, or in the process of being erected, as provided for tick eradication, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be imprisoned not less than two years nor more than ten years in the state prison. (1923, c. 146, s. 14; C. S. 4895(cc).)

Part 7. Rabies.

§ 106-364. Definitions. — The following definitions shall apply to §§ 106-364 to 106-387:

(a) The term "dog" shall mean dogs of any sex.

(b) The term "vaccination" shall be understood to mean the administration of anti-rabic vaccine approved by the department of agriculture, containing not less than twenty percent (20%) of fixed virus material, non-virulent and potent as shown by the required tests of the United States bureau of animal industry. (1935, c. 122, s. 1.)

§ 106-365. Annual vaccination of all dogs.—In all counties where a campaign of vaccination is being conducted, it shall be the duty of the owner of every dog to have same vaccinated annually by a rabies inspector in accordance with the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387. And it shall be the further duty of the owner of said dog to properly restrain same and to assist the rabies inspector in administering the vaccine. (1935, c. 122, s. 2; 1941, c. 259, s. 2.)

Local Modification.—Person and Union: 1941, c. 259, s. 12½.

§ 106-366. Appointment and qualifications of rabies inspectors; preference to veterinarians.—It shall be the duty of the county health officers of the several counties, and in those counties where health officers are not employed, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners, to appoint, subject to the approval and confirmation of the commissioner of agriculture of North Carolina, a sufficient number of rabies inspectors to carry out the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387. In the appointment of rabies inspectors preference shall always be given to graduate licensed veterinarians and said veterinarians may be appointed to carry out the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 in the entire county. No person shall be appointed as a rabies inspector unless such person is of good moral character and by training and experience can demonstrate the ability to perform the duties required under §§ 106-364 to 106-387. (1935, c. 122, s. 3; 1941, c. 259, s. 3.)

Local Modification.—Davie: 1937, c. 255. Person and Union: 1941, c. 259, s. 12½.

§ 106-367. Time of vaccination.—The vaccination of all dogs in the counties shall begin annually on April first and shall be completed within ninety (90) days from the date of beginning the vaccination in the several counties. (1935, c. 122, s. 4.)

§ 106-368. Publication of notice of date of vaccination; duty of owner.—The rabies inspector shall give due notice through the newspaper of the county and by posting notice at the court house and at one or more public places in each township of the county of the date on which the vaccination of all dogs shall be started in a county and it shall be the duty of the owner of every dog in said county to have said dog, or dogs, at either of two or more points in the township for the purpose of having same vaccinated, said points and date to be designated by the rabies inspector. (1935, c. 122, s. 5; 1941, c. 259, s. 4.)

§ 106-369. Vaccine and cost; metal tag to be worn by dog; certificate of vaccination.—The state department of agriculture shall purchase the proper rabies vaccine provided for in §§ 106-364 to 106-387 and supply same to the rabies inspector at a cost of not to exceed fifty cents per dose. and a uniform metal tag, serially numbered and suitably lettered and to show the year issued. At the time of vaccination the rabies inspector shall give to the owner or person in charge of each dog vaccinated a numbered metal tag together with a certificate. The certificate shall be issued in duplicate, the rabies inspector to retain a copy. The metal tag shall be worn by the dog at all times. (1935, c. 122, s. 6; 1941, c. 259, s. 5.)

§ 106-370. Notice to sheriff of each county and his duty to assist.—The rabies inspector shall notify the sheriff of the county of the date when the vaccination of dogs in said county shall begin and it shall be the duty of the sheriff and his deputies to assist the rabies inspector in the enforcement of §§ 106-364 to 106-387. (1935, c. 122, s. 7; 1941, c. 259, s. 6.)

§ 106-371. Canvass of dogs not wearing metal tags; notice to owners to have dogs vaccinated; killing of ownerless dogs.—When the rabies inspector has carried out the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 as to § 106-368 in all townships of the county, it shall be the duty of the sheriff with the assistance of the rabies inspector to make a thorough canvass of the county and frequently thereafter to determine if there are any dogs that are not wearing the metal tag provided for in § 106-369. If such dogs are found the sheriff shall notify the owner to have same vaccinated by a rabies inspector and to produce the certificate provided for in § 106-369, within three days. If the owner shall fail to do this he shall be prosecuted in accordance with the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387. If the owner of a dog not wearing a tag cannot be found it shall be the duty of said officer to destroy said dog. (1935, c. 122, s. 8.)

§ 106-372. Fee for vaccination; dog tax credit; penalty for late vaccinations.—The rabies inspector shall collect from the owner of each dog vaccinated as provided for in § 106-368, not more than seventy-five cents for each dog, the same to be credited on the dog tax when certificate of vaccination is presented to the sheriff or tax collector of said county. Any owner who fails to have his dog vaccinated at the time the rabies inspector is in the township in which the owner resides as provided in § 106-368, shall have said dog vaccinated in accordance with § 106-371 and shall pay the rabies inspector the additional sum of twenty-five cents to be retained by him for each dog treated: Provided, that in cases where dogs are vaccinated in accordance with § 106-371, the total charge for such treatment shall not exceed seventy-five cents, only fifty cents of which shall be credited on such dog tax. (1935, c. 122, s. 9; 1941, c. 259, s. 7.)

Local Modification.—Edgecombe, Nash and Wilson: 1941, c. 259, s. 7. Person and Union: 1941, c. 259, s. 12½.

§ 106-373. Vaccination of dogs after annual vaccination period.—It shall be the duty of the owner of any dog born after the annual vaccination of dogs in his county or any dog that was not six months old at the time of said annual vaccination to take the same when six months old to a rabies inspector for the purpose of having same vaccinated. The fee charged in such cases by the rabies inspector shall not exceed seventy-five cents per animal. (1935, c. 122, s. 10, c. 344; 1941, c. 259, s. 8.)

Local Modification.—Edgecombe, Nash and Wilson: 1941, c. 259, s. 8. Person and Union: 1941, c. 259, s. 12½.

§ 106-374. Vaccination and confinement of dogs brought into state.—All dogs shipped or otherwise brought into this State, except for exhibition purposes where the dogs are confined and not permitted to run at large, shall be securely confined and vaccinated within one week after entry, and shall remain confined for two additional weeks after vaccination unless accompanied by a certificate issued by a qualified veterinarian showing that said dog is apparently free from rabies and has not been exposed to same and that said dog has received a proper dose of rabies vaccine not more than six months prior to the date of issuing the certificate. (1935, c. 122, s. 11.)

§ 106-375. Quarantine of districts infected with rabies.—The county health officer may declare quarantine against rabies in any designated district when in its judgment this disease exists to the extent that the lives of persons are endangered and all dogs in said district shall be confined on the premises of the owner or in a veterinary hospital: Provided a dog may be permitted to leave the premises of the owner if on leash or under the control of its owner or other responsible person. (1935, c. 122, s. 12; 1941, c. 259, s. 9.)

Local Modification.—Person and Union: 1941, c. 259, s. 12½.

§ 106-376. Killing stray dogs in quarantine districts. — When quarantine has been established, and dogs continue to run at large, uncontrolled by owners or persons responsible for their control, any police officer or deputy sheriff shall have the right after reasonable effort has been made on the part of the officers to apprehend the dogs running at large to kill said dogs and properly dispose of their bodies. (1935, c. 122, s. 13.)

§ 106-377. Infected dogs to be killed; protection of dogs vaccinated.—Every animal having rabies, and every animal known to have been bitten by another animal having rabies, shall be killed immediately by its owner or a peace officer: Provided that if any animal known to have been bitten by a dog having rabies, but which has not developed the disease, shall have been vaccinated in accordance with §§ 106-364 to 106-387 before being bitten, such animal shall be closely confined until it shall have been determined by the rabies inspector or a registered veterinarian that the animal has rabies, before it shall be required to be killed. (1935, c. 122, s. 14.)

§ 106-378. Confinement of suspected dogs.—Every person who owns or has possession of an animal which is suspected of having rabies or which has symptoms of or has been exposed to the disease, shall confine such animal at once in some secure place for at least three weeks and until released by a rabies inspector for the purpose of determining whether such animal has the disease. (1935, c. 122, s. 15, c. 344; 1941, c. 259, s. 10.)

Local Modification.—Person and Union: 1941, c. 259, s. 12½.

§ 106-379. Dogs having rabies to be killed; heads ordered to a laboratory.—Every animal, after it has been determined that it has rabies, shall be killed at once by a peace officer or its owner, and the head of every animal suspected of having rabies which may have died shall be properly prepared and sent at once to the laboratory approved by the state board of health. (1935, c. 122, s. 16.)

§ 106-380. Notice to county health officer and rabies inspector when person bitten; confinement of dog.—When a person has been bitten by a dog or animal, which has rabies or which is suspected of having rabies, it shall be the duty of such person, or his parent or guardian if such person is a minor, and the person owning such animal or having the same in his possession or under his control, to immediately notify the county health officer and give their names and addresses; and the owner of person having such dog or animal in his possession or under his control shall immediately notify the rabies inspector and shall securely confine said animal on his premises or surrender it to a veterinary hospital for inspection and observation. After the preliminary examination and observation the animal may be released in the custody of the owner to be kept under quarantine and observation for twenty-one (21) days, and until released by the rabies inspector, if the animal is found not to have rabies. (1935, c. 122, s. 17; 1941, c. 259, s. 11.)

Local Modification.—Person and Union: 1941, c. 259, s. 12½.

§ 106-381. Confinement or leashing of vicious dogs.—When an animal becomes vicious, and a menace to the public health the owner of such animal or person harboring or having such animal in his possession shall not permit such animal to run at large unless on leash in the care of a responsible person, or muzzled with a proper fitting muzzle, securely fastened to prevent such animal from biting a person or another animal. (1935, c. 122, s. 18.)

§ 106-382. Administration of law in cities and larger towns; coöperation with sheriffs.—In towns or cities with a population of five thousand (5000), or more, the responsibility for assistance in the enforcement of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 shall be with the public safety or police department of said town or city, and this department shall be subject to the same rules, regulations and penalties as the sheriffs of the several counties; and it shall further be the duty of the public safety or police department in towns or cities assisting in the enforcement of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 to co-operate with the sheriff of any county in the carrying out of the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 for a distance of one mile beyond the city limits. (1935, c. 122, s. 19.)

§ 106-383. Regulation of content of vaccine; doses.—Rabies vaccine intended for use on dogs and other animals shall not be shipped or otherwise brought into North Carolina, used, sold or offered for sale unless said rabies vaccine shall contain not less than twenty percent (20%) of fixed virus material and be non-virulent and potent as shown by the required tests of the United States bureau of animal industry. Said rabies vaccine shall be recommended in doses of not less than five (5) c. c. each for dogs and other small animals; relatively larger doses being recommended for larger animals. (1935, c. 122, s. 20.)

§ 106-384. Law declared additional to other laws on subject.—The provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 shall not be construed to repeal or change any laws heretofore enacted but shall be in addition thereto except insofar as said laws heretofore enacted and enforced shall actually conflict with the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 and prevent the proper enforcement of said provisions. And the said laws enacted and now in force shall remain in full force and effect except as they do actually conflict with the enforcement of the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 in which §§ 106-364 to 106-387 and the provisions thereof shall prevail. (1935, c. 122, s. 21.)

§ 106-385. Violation made misdemeanor.—Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 or any provision of any regulation of quarantine established thereunder shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than ten ($10.00) dollars or more than fifty ($50.00) dollars, or to imprisonment of not less than ten (10) days or more than thirty (30) days in the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 122, s. 23.)

§ 106-386. Present dog tax limited.—No county, city or town shall levy any additional taxes on dogs other than the tax now levied. (1935, c. 122, s. 24.)

§ 106-387. Disposition of funds.—Any money collected under the provisions of §§ 106-364 to 106-387 in excess of the cost of operations and enforcement shall become a part of the agricultural fund of the State of North Carolina. (1935, c. 190.)

Part 8. Bang's Disease.

§ 106-388. Animals affected with, or exposed to Bang's disease, declared subject to quarantine, etc.—It is hereby declared that the disease of animals known as Bang's disease, contagious abortion, abortion disease, bovine infectious abortion, or Bang's bacillus disease, is of a contagious and infectious character, and animals affected with, or exposed to, or suspected of being carriers of said disease shall be subject to quarantine and the rules and regulations of the department of agriculture. (1937, c. 175, s. 1.)

§ 106-389. "Bang's disease" defined; co-operation with federal department of agriculture. — Bang's disease shall mean the disease wherein an animal is infected with the Bang bacillus, irrespective of the occurrence or absence of an abortion. An animal shall be declared infected with Bang's disease if it reacts to a seriological test, or if the Bang bacillus has been found in the body or its secretions or discharge, or if it has been treated with a live culture of the Bang bacillus. The control and eradication of Bang's disease in the herds of the state shall be conducted as far as the funds of the department of agriculture will permit, and in accordance with the rules and regulations made by the said department. Said department of agriculture is hereby authorized to co-operate with the United States department of agriculture in the control and eradication of Bang's disease. (1937, c. 175, s. 2.)

§ 106-390. Blood samples; diseased animals to be branded and quarantined; sale, etc.—All blood samples for a Bang's disease test shall be drawn by a qualified veterinarian whose duty it shall be to brand all animals affected with Bang's disease with the letter "B" on the left hip or jaw, not less than three or more than four inches high, and to tag such animals with an approved cattle ear tag and to report same to the state veterinarian. Cattle affected with Bang's disease shall be quarantined on the owner's premises. No animal affected with Bang's disease shall be sold, traded or otherwise disposed of except for immediate slaughter, and it shall be the duty of the person disposing of such infected animals to see that they are promptly slaughtered and a written report of same is made to the state veterinarian. (1937, c. 175, s. 3.)

§ 106-391. Civil liability of vendors.—Any person or persons who knowingly sell or otherwise dispose of, to another, an animal affected with Bang's disease shall be liable in a civil action to any person injured, and for any and all damages resulting therefrom. (1937, c. 175, s. 4.)

§ 106-392. Sales by non-residents.—When cattle are sold, or otherwise disposed of, in this state, by a non-resident of this state, the person or persons on whose premises the cattle are sold, or otherwise disposed of, with his knowledge and consent, shall be equally responsible for violations of §§ 106-388 to 106-399 and the regulations of the department of agriculture. (1937, c. 175, s. 5.)

§ 106-393. Duties of state veterinarian; quarantine for failure to comply with recommendations.—When the state veterinarian receives information, or has reason to believe that Bang's disease exists in any animal or animals, he shall promptly notify the owner or owners, and recommend that a test be applied to said animals, that diseased animals shall be properly disposed of, and the premises disinfected under the supervision of the state veterinarian or his authorized representative. Should the owner or owners fail or refuse to comply with the said recommendations of the state veterinarian within ten days after said notice, then the state veterinarian shall quarantine said animals on the premises of the owner or owners. Said animals shall not be removed from the premises where quarantined. Said quarantine shall remain in effect until the said recommendations of the state veterinarian have been complied with and the quarantine is canceled by the state veterinarian. (1937, c. 175, s. 6.)

§ 106-394. Co-operation of county boards of commissioners.—The several boards of county commissioners in the state are hereby expressly authorized and empowered within their discretion to make such appropriations from the general funds of their county as will enable them to co-operate effectively with the state and federal departments of agriculture in the eradication of Bang's disease in their respective counties. (1937, c. 175, s. 7.)

§ 106-395. Compulsory testing. — Whenever a county board shall co-operate with the state and federal governments, as provided for in §§ 106-388 to 106-399, the testing of all cattle in said county shall become compulsory, and it shall be the duty of the cattle owners to give such assistance as may be necessary for the proper testing of said cattle, and no cattle, except for immediate slaughter, shall be brought into the county unless accompanied by a proper test chart and health certificate issued by a qualified veterinarian, showing that the cattle have passed a proper test for Bang's disease. (1937, c. 175, s. 8.)

§ 106-396. "Qualified veterinarian" defined. — The words "qualified veterinarian" shall be construed to mean a veterinarian approved by the state veterinarian and chief of the United States bureau of animal industry for the testing of cattle intended for interstate shipment. (1937, c. 175, s. 9.)

§ 106-397. Authority to promulgate and enforce rules and regulations.—The commissioner of agriculture, by and with the consent of the state board of agriculture, shall have full power to promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of §§ 106-388 to 106-399 and for the effective control and eradication of Bang's disease. (1937, c. 175, s. 10.)

§ 106-398. Violation made misdemeanor.—Any person or persons who shall violate any provision set forth in §§ 106-388 to 106-399, or any rule or regulation duly established by the state board of agriculture, or any officer or inspector who shall wilfully fail to comply with any provisions of §§ 106-388 to 106-399, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1937, c. 175, s. 11.)

§ 106-399. Punishment for sales of animals known to be infected.—Any person or persons who shall wilfully and knowingly sell or otherwise dispose of any animal or animals known to be affected with Bang's disease, except as provided for in §§ 106-388 to 106-399, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars and not more than two hundred dollars, or imprisoned for a term of not less than thirty days or more than two years. (1937, c. 175, s. 12.)

Part 9. Control of Livestock Diseases.

§ 106-400. Permit from state veterinarian for sale, transportation, etc., of animals affected with disease.—No person or persons shall sell, trade, offer for sale or trade, or transport by truck or other conveyance on any public road or other public place within the state any animal or animals affected with a contagious or infectious disease, except upon a written permit of the state veterinarian and in accordance with the provisions of said permit. The state veterinarian, or his authorized representative, is hereby empowered to examine any livestock that are being transported or moved, sold, traded, offered for sale or trade on any highway or other public place within the state for the purpose of determining if said animals are affected with a contagious or infectious disease, or are being transported or offered for sale or trade in violation of §§ 106-400 to 106-405. If the animals are found to be diseased or are being moved, sold, offered for sale or trade in violation of §§ 106-400 to 106-405, they shall be placed under quarantine in accordance with the provisions of §§ 106-400 to 106-405 in a place to be determined by the state veterinarian or his authorized representative. Any animal or animals shipped or otherwise moved into this state in violation of federal laws or regulations shall be handled in accordance with the provisions of §§ 106-400 to 106-405. (1939, c. 360, s. 1.)

§ 106-401. Notice of quarantine; removal of quarantine.—The state veterinarian, or his authorized representative, is hereby authorized to quarantine any animal or animals affected with, exposed to, or injected with any material capable of producing a contagious or infectious disease, and to give public notice of such quarantine by posting or placarding the entrance to or any part of the premises on which the animals are held with a suitable quarantine sign, said animal or animals to be maintained by the owner or person in charge, as provided for in §§ 106-400 to 106-405, at the owner's expense. No animal or animals under quarantine shall be moved from the premises except upon a written permit from the state veterinarian or his authorized representative. Said quarantine shall remain in effect until cancelled by official notice from the state veterinarian and shall not be cancelled until the sick and dead animals have been properly disposed of and the premises have been properly cleaned and disinfected. (1939, c. 360, s. 2.)

§ 106-402. Confinement and isolation of diseased animals required.—Any animal or animals affected with or exposed to a contagious or infectious disease shall be confined by the owner or person in charge of said animal or animals in such a manner, by penning or otherwise securing and actually isolating same from the approach or contact with other animals not so affected; they shall not have access to any ditch, canal, branch, creek, river, or other watercourse which passes beyond the premises of the owner or person in charge of said animals, or to any public road, or to the premises of any other person. (1939, c. 360, s. 3.)

§ 106-403. Disposition of dead animals and fowls.—It shall be the duty of the owner or person in charge of any animals or fowls that die from any cause and the owner, lessee, or person in charge of any land upon which any animals or fowls die, to bury the same to a depth of at least three feet beneath the surface of the ground, or to completely burn said animals or fowls, within twenty-four hours after the death of said animals or fowls, or to otherwise dispose of the same in a manner approved by the state veterinarian. It shall be unlawful for any person to remove the carcasses of dead animals or fowls from his premises to the premises of any other person without the written permission of the person having charge of such premises and without burying said carcasses as above provided. (1919, c. 36; 1927, c. 2; 1939, c. 360, s. 4; C. S. 4488.)

§ 106-404. Animals affected with glanders to be killed. — If the owner of any animal having the glanders or farcy shall omit or refuse, upon discovery or knowledge of its condition, to deprive the same of life at once, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3296; Code, s. 2489; 1891, c. 65; 1881, c. 368, s. 8; C. S. 4489.)

§ 106-405. Violation made misdemeanor. — Any person or persons who shall knowingly and willfully violate any provisions of §§ 106-400 to

106-405 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1939, c. 360, s. 6.)

Local Modification.—Macon: 1939, c. 360, s. 7.

Art. 35. Public Livestock Markets.

§ 106-406. Permits for public livestock markets.—Any person, firm or corporation operating a public livestock market within the state of North Carolina shall be required to obtain from the commissioner of agriculture a permit authorizing the operation of such market. Application for a permit shall be made on forms furnished by the commissioner of agriculture and shall show full name and address of all persons having financial interest in the market, name of the officers, manager and person in charge, the name under which the market will operate, location, and facilities for holding and segregating animals, and such other information as the commissioner of agriculture may require. In considering such application, the commissioner of agriculture shall take into consideration the markets already in existence, the applicant's general reputation for fair dealing, the facilities for conducting a market and such other facts as he may have, and may, after proper hearing of the parties concerned, decline to issue a permit or may revoke a permit already issued if, in his judgment, it is for the best interest of the livestock industry. (1941, c. 263, s. 1.)

§ 106-407. Bonds required of operators; exemptions as to permits and health requirements.—The commissioner of agriculture shall require the operator of said livestock market to furnish a bond acceptable to the commissioner of agriculture of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) to secure the performance of all obligations incident to the operation of the livestock market, including prompt payment of proceeds for purchase or sale of livestock: Provided, that said bond shall not be required by a livestock market association organized under a law which requires such association to be bonded or a market operating under the Federal Packers and Stockyards Act. A livestock market where horses and mules are sold exclusively, or a market that sells only finished livestock that are shipped for immediate slaughter, shall be exempt from the health requirements of this article, as set forth in §§ 106-409 and 106-410 and shall not be required to secure a permit as provided for in § 106-406. (1941, c. 263, s. 2.)

§ 106-408. Marketing facilities prescribed; records of purchases and sales.—All public livestock markets operating under this article shall have proper facilities for handling livestock, which shall include proper pens for holding and segregating animals, properly protected from weather; an adequate water supply; satisfactory scales if animals are bought, sold, or exchanged by weight, said scales to be approved by the North Carolina division of weights and measures; and such other equipment as the commissioner of agriculture may deem necessary for the proper operation of the market. The premises, including yards, pens, alleys, and chutes shall be cleaned and disinfected at least weekly in accordance with the regulations issued in accordance with this article. Said market shall keep a complete permanent record showing from whom all animals are received and to whom sold, the weight, if purchased or sold by weight, the price paid and the price received, such record to be available to the commissioner of agriculture or his authorized representative. (1941, c. 263, s. 3.)

§ 106-409. Health certificates for cattle removed for nonslaughter purposes; identification; information form; bill of sale. — No cattle except those for immediate slaughter shall be removed from any public livestock market unless they are accompanied by a health certificate issued by a qualified veterinarian, said veterinarian to be approved by the commissioner of agriculture, showing that such animals are apparently healthy and come directly from a herd all of which animals in the herd have passed a negative test for Bang's disease within twelve months prior to the date of sale, or that said animal or animals have passed a satisfactory test for Bang's disease made within thirty days prior to sale and such other tests and vaccinations as the commissioner of agriculture may require. Every such animal shall be identified by an approved numbered ear tag and description. A copy of said certificate shall be kept on file by the market. No test for Bang's disease shall be required on steers and all cattle less than six months of age, but such animals shall be subject to all other provisions of this article. All cattle removed from any public livestock market for immediate slaughter shall be identified in an approved manner and the person removing same shall sign a form in duplicate showing number of cattle, their description, where same are to be slaughtered or resold for slaughter within ten days, said animals to be accompanied by bill of sale properly endorsed, or if used for other purposes, said animals must meet the health requirements of this section, and such other information as may be required. (1941, c. 263, s. 4.)

§ 106-410. Health certificates for swine removed for nonslaughter purposes; identification; information form; bill of sale.—No swine, except those for immediate slaughter, shall be removed from any public livestock market unless they are accompanied by a health certificate issued by a qualified veterinarian, said veterinarian to be approved by the commissioner of agriculture, showing that such animals are apparently healthy and that they have received a proper dose of anti-hog cholera serum not more than twenty-one days or a proper dose of serum and virus not less than thirty days prior to the date of sale, and such other vaccinations as may be required by the commissioner of agriculture. All such swine shall be identified by an approved, numbered ear tag and descriptions which shall be entered on the health certificate. A copy of said certificate shall be kept on file by the market. All swine removed from any public livestock market for immediate slaughter shall be identified by a distinguishing paint mark or by other methods approved by the commissioner of agriculture and the person removing same shall sign a form in duplicate showing number of hogs, their description, where same are to be slaughtered or resold for slaughter within ten days, said animals to be accompanied by bill of sale properly endorsed, or if used for other purposes, said animals must meet the health requirements of this section, and such other information as may be required. (1941, c. 263, s. 5.)

§ 106-411. Regulation of use of livestock removed from market.—Any person or persons who shall remove from a livestock market any cattle, swine, or other livestock for immediate slaughter shall use them for immediate slaughter only or resale for slaughter within ten days, said animals to be accompanied by bill of sale properly endorsed, or if used for other purposes, said animals must meet the health requirements of this article. The owner of said animals shall be charged with the responsibility of having said animals slaughtered or made to comply with the health provisions of this article and shall be liable for all damages resulting from diverting them to other uses or failing to have them slaughtered, in addition to the criminal liability imposed in this article. (1941, c. 263, s. 6.)

§ 106-412. Admission of animals to market; quarantine of diseased animals; sale prohibited; regulation of trucks, etc.—No animal known to be affected with a contagious or infectious disease shall be received or admitted into any public livestock market except upon special permit issued by the commissioner of agriculture or his authorized representative. All animals affected with or exposed to any contagious or infectious disease of animals or any animal that reacts to a test indicating the presence of such a disease, shall be quarantined separate and apart from healthy animals and shall not be sold, traded, or otherwise disposed of except upon permission of the commissioner of agriculture or his authorized representative, and for immediate slaughter only. The owner of the animals shall be responsible for the cost of maintaining the quarantine, the necessary treatment, and the feed and care of the animals while under quarantine and said cost shall constitute a lien against all of said animals. All trucks, trailers, and other conveyances used in transporting livestock shall be cleaned and disinfected in accordance with the regulations issued by authority of this article. (1941, c. 263, s. 7.)

§ 106-413. Application of article; private sales by farmers exempt.—The private sale of any animal or animals by a farmer on the farm shall not be subject to the provisions of this article except that no person or persons shall sell, trade, or otherwise dispose of any animal or animals affected with a contagious or infectious disease or that the owner or person in charge has reason to believe are so affected, except upon permission of the commissioner of agriculture or his authorized representative, and for immediate slaughter only. The provisions of this article shall apply to all animals sold on any public highway, right of way, street, or other public place, and no animal affected with a contagious or infectious disease shall be offered for sale, sold, traded, or otherwise disposed of on any public highway, right of way, street, or other public place, except upon permission of the commissioner of agriculture or his authorized representative and for immediate slaughter only. (1941, c. 263, s. 8.)

§ 106-414. Transportation, sale, etc., of diseased livestock; burden of proving health.—No cattle, swine, or other livestock affected with a contagious or infectious disease shall be transported or otherwise moved on any public highway or street in this state except upon written permission of the commissioner of agriculture or his authorized representative for immediate slaughter only to a designated slaughter point. The burden of proof to establish the health of any animal transported on the public highways of this state, sold, traded, or otherwise disposed of in any public place shall be upon the vendor. Any person who shall sell, trade, or otherwise dispose of any animal affected with a contagious or infectious disease knowingly, or who has reasons to believe that the animal is so affected, shall be liable for all damages resulting from such sale or trade. (1941, c. 263, s. 9.)

§ 106-415. Fees for permits; term of permits; cost of tests, serums, etc.—The commissioner of agriculture is hereby authorized to collect a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each permit issued to a public livestock market under the provisions of this article. The fees provided for in this article shall be used exclusively for the enforcement of this article. All permits issued under the provisions of this article shall be effective until the following July first unless cancelled for cause. The cost of all tests, serums, vaccine, and other medical supplies necessary for the enforcement of this article and the protection of livestock against contagious and infectious diseases shall be paid for by the owner of said livestock and said cost shall constitute a lien against all of said animals. (1941, c. 263, s. 10.)

§ 106-416. Rules and regulations.—The commissioner of agriculture, by and with the consent of the state board of agriculture, shall have full power to promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations that may hereafter be necessary to carry out the provisions of this article. (1941, c. 263, s. 11.)

§ 106-417. Violation made misdemeanor; responsibility for health, etc., of animals.—Any person, firm, or corporation who shall knowingly violate any provisions set forth in this article or any rule or regulation duly established by the state board of agriculture, or any officer or inspector who shall wilfully fail to comply with any provision of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. A market operating under this article shall not be responsible for the health or death of an animal sold through such market if the provisions of this article have been complied with. (1941, c. 263, s. 12.)

§ 106-418. Exemption from health provisions.—The health provisions of this article shall not apply to no-sale cattle offered for sale by a bona fide farmer owning said stock for at least sixty days at any public livestock auction market in North Carolina. (1941, c. 263, s. 12½.)

Art. 36. Crop Pests.

§ 106-419. Crop pest commission.—The board of agriculture shall be the crop pest commission. (1909, c. 90, s. 1; C. S. 4896.)

§ 106-420. Powers and duties of commission; establish regulations.—The board of agriculture shall, from time to time, as it may deem necessary, prepare and publish a list of dangerous crop pests, known to be within the state, or liable to be introduced, and shall also publish methods for exterminating such pests as it may deem capable of being economically exterminated, for repressing such as cannot be economically exterminated, and for preventing their spread within the state. It may also adopt regulations not inconsistent with the laws or constitutions of this state and of the United States, for preventing the introduction of dangerous crop pests from without the state, and for governing common carriers in transporting plants liable to harbor such pests to and from the state; which regulations shall have the force of law. Any violation of any such regulations shall be a misdemeanor, and the person violating the same shall upon conviction be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3980; 1897, c. 264, s. 2; 1909, c. 90, s. 1; C. S. 4897.)

§ 106-421. Crop pests declared nuisance; method of abatement.—No person shall knowingly and wilfully keep upon his premises any plant infested by any dangerous crop pest, listed and published as such by the board of agriculture, or permit dangerous weed pests to mature seed or otherwise multiply upon his land, except under such regulations as the board of agriculture may prescribe. All such infested plants and premises are hereby declared public nuisances. The owner of such plants or premises shall, when notified to do so by the board of agriculture, take such measures as may be prescribed to eradicate such pests. If such action is not taken, or is improperly executed within ten days after such notification, the board of agriculture shall cause such premises to be freed from such pests by the best available method. The cost of such work shall be a lien upon the premises, and may be recovered, together with cost of action, before any court having jurisdiction. The notice shall be written and mailed to the usual or known address, or left at the ordinary place of business of the owner or his agent. No damages shall be awarded the owner of such premises for entering thereon and destroying or otherwise treating any infested plant or crop, when done by the order of the board of agriculture. (Rev., s. 3981; 1897, c. 264, s. 3; 1909, c. 90, s. 1; C. S. 4898.)

§ 106-422. Right to enter and inspect premises.—Whenever the board of agriculture has reason to suspect that any pest, listed as dangerous, exists in any portion of the state, it shall cause an investigation to be made by some person capable of determining the specific identity of such pest, and, if it be found to exist, the board of agriculture shall further appoint a competent person as its agent to inspect such infested premises, and to take such measures for treating the same as the board may direct. Any duly authorized agent of the board of agriculture shall have authority to enter upon and inspect any premises between the hours of sunrise and sunset during every working day of the year. (Rev., s. 3982; 1897, c. 264, s. 4; 1909, c. 90, s. 1; C. S. 4899.)

§ 106-423. Preventing inspection or hindering execution of article a misdemeanor.—If any one shall seek to prevent inspection of his premises as provided in § 106-422, or shall otherwise interfere with any agent of the commission, or board of agriculture while in performance of his duties under § 106-422, he shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than five nor more than fifty dollars for each offense, or may be imprisoned for not less than ten nor more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3713; 1907, c. 876; C. S. 4900.)

Art. 37. Cotton Grading.

§ 106-424. Federal standards recognized.—The standards or grades of cotton established or which may be hereafter established by the secretary of agriculture by virtue of acts of congress shall be recognized as the standards in transactions by and between citizens of this state in transactions relating to cotton. (1915, c. 23, s. 1; C. S. 4901.)

§ 106-425. Duplicates of federal samples may be used. — The commissioner of agriculture shall obtain from the secretary of agriculture a duplicate of each of these samples as represent cotton produced in this state for the use of the citizens of the state who may desire to use them in settlement of any disputed transaction. (1915, c. 23, s. 2; C. S. 4902.)

§ 106-426. Expert graders to be employed; cooperation with United States Department of Agriculture.—The North Carolina department of agriculture shall have authority to employ expert cotton graders to grade cotton in this state under such rules and regulations as they may adopt. The above institutions may seek the aid of the United States department of agriculture in the prosecution of this work, and shall have authority to enter into such contracts or arrangements as shall be mutually agreeable in furtherance of the object and purpose of this article. (1915, c. 175, s. 1; C. S. 4903.)

§ 106-427. County commissioners to coöperate.—Any board of commissioners of any county in North Carolina is authorized and empowered to coöperate with either, or both, of the above-named institutions in aid of the purposes of this article; and shall have authority to appropriate such sums of money as the said board shall deem wise and expedient. (1915, c. 175, s. 2; C. S. 4904.)

§ 106-428. Grading done at owner's request; grades as evidence.—The expert graders employed by either of the above-named institutions, or by the United States government, shall have full right, power, and authority to grade any cotton in North Carolina upon the request of the owner of said cotton; and said graders shall grade and classify, agreeable to and in accordance with the standards or grades of cotton which are now or may hereafter be established by the secretary of agriculture by virtue of any act of congress. The grade, or classification, pronounced by said expert graders of all cotton graded by them shall be prima facie proof of the true grade or classification of said cotton, and shall be the basis of all cotton sales in this state. (1915, c. 175, s. 3; C. S. 4905.)

§ 106-429. Grader's certificate admissible as evidence.—In the event of any dispute or trial pending in any of the courts of this state, the certificate of any expert grader, employed as above provided, and acknowledged or proven before any clerk of the superior court of any county in the state, shall be admissible in evidence as to the grade or classification of cotton graded or classified by said expert. (1915, c. 175, s. 4; C. S. 4906.)

Art. 38. Marketing Cotton and Other Agricultural Commodities.

§ 106-430. Purpose of law.—In order to protect the financial interests of North Carolina by stimulating the development of an adequate warehouse system for cotton and other agricultural commodities, in order to enable growers of cotton and other agricultural commodities more successfully to withstand and remedy periods of depressed prices, in order to provide a modern system whereby cotton and other agricultural commodities may be more profitably and more scientifically marketed, and in order to give these products the standing to which they are justly entitled as collateral in the commercial world, a warehouse system for cotton and other agricultural products in the state of North Carolina is hereby established as hereinafter provided. (1919, c. 168, s. 1; 1921, c. 137, s. 1; 1941, c. 337, s. 1; C. S. 4925(a).)

§ 106-431. Definition of "other agricultural commodities." — The term "other agricultural commodities" as used in this article shall mean such agricultural commodities other than cotton as shall be designated by the board of agriculture, through rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this article, as suitable to be stored in the warehouses operating under this article. (1941, c. 337, s. 1½.)

§ 106-432. Board of agriculture administers law, makes rules, appoints superintendent. — The provisions of this article shall be administered by the state board of agriculture, through a suitable person to be selected by said board, and known as the state warehouse superintendent. In administering the provisions of this article the board of agriculture is empowered to make and enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary to make effective the purposes and provisions of this article, and to fix and prescribe reasonable charges for storing cotton and other agricultural commodities in the local warehouses and publish the same from time to time as it may deem necessary. (1919, c. 168, s. 2; 1921, c. 137, s. 2; 1941, c. 337, s. 2; C. S. 4925(b).)

§ 106-433. Employment of officers and assistants. — The board of agriculture shall have authority to employ a warehouse superintendent and necessary assistants, local managers, examiners, inspectors, expert cotton classers, and such other employees as may be necessary in carrying out the provisions of this article, and fix and regulate their duties. (1919, c. 168, s. 3; 1921, c. 137, s. 3; C. S. 4925(c).)

§ 106-434. Bonds of superintendent and employees.—The person named as state warehouse superintendent shall give bond to the state of North Carolina in the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to guarantee the faithful performance of his duties, the expense of said bond to be paid by the state, to be approved as other bonds for state officers. The superintendent shall, to safeguard the interests of the state, require bonds from other employees authorized in § 106-433 in amounts as large at least as he may find ordinary business experience in such matters would suggest as ample. (1919, c. 168, s. 4; 1921, c. 137, s. 4; C. S. 4925(d).)

§ 106-435. Fund for support of system; collection and investment.—In order to provide a sufficient indemnifying or guarantee fund to cover any loss not covered by the bonds hereinbefore mentioned, in order to provide the financial backing which is essential to make the warehouse receipt universally acceptable as collateral, and in order to provide that a state warehouse system intended to benefit all cotton growers in North Carolina shall be supported by the class it is designed to benefit, it is hereby declared: That on each bale of cotton ginned in North Carolina during the period from the ratification of this bill until June thirty, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, twenty-five (25) cents shall be collected through the ginner of the bale and paid into the state treasury, to be held there as a special guarantee or indemnifying fund to safeguard the state warehouse system against any loss not otherwise covered. The state tax commission shall provide and enforce the machinery for the collection of this tax, which shall be held in the state treasury to the credit of the state warehouse system. Not less than ten per centum of the entire amount collected from the per bale tax shall be invested in United States government or farm loan bonds or North Carolina bonds, and the remainder may be invested in amply secured first mortgages to aid and encourage the establishment of warehouses operating under this system, such investments to be made by the board of agriculture with the approval of the governor and attorney-general: Provided, such first mortgages shall be for not more than one-half the actual value of the warehouse property covered by such mortgages, and run not more than ten years: Provided further, that the interest received from all investments shall be available for the administrative expense of carrying into effect the provisions of this law, including the employment of such persons and such means as the state board of agriculture in its discretion may deem necessary: Provided further, that the guarantee fund, raised under the provisions of §§ 4907 to 4925 of the Consolidated Statutes of 1919, shall become to all intents and purposes a part of guarantee fund to be raised under this law and subject to all the provisions hereof. (1919, c. 168, s. 5; 1921, c. 137, s. 5; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 28; C. S. 4925(e).)

§ 106-436. Registration of gins; gin records and reports; payment of tax.—If the special levy authorized by § 106-446 is made, it shall be the duty of the commissioner of agriculture to require the registration of all gins operating within the state, and to furnish the certificates of registration, numbered serially, free upon application; and each person, firm, partnership, or corporation receiving the said certificate of registration shall post it conspicuously in the gin to which it applies. For failure to make application and secure such certificate of registration, and to post same as required in this section, before beginning operation, each person, firm, partnership, or corporation shall be subject to a penalty of five dollars ($5) for each and every day such gin shall be operated prior to securing and posting such certificate of registration. The penalty herein provided for shall be recovered by the state in a civil action to be brought by the state commissioner of agriculture in any court of competent jurisdiction, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to prosecute all such actions. Each person, firm, partnership, or corporation operating a gin shall keep a record, on forms furnished or approved by the commissioner of agriculture, showing the names and addresses of the owners of the cotton ginned, the number of bales ginned, and the date of each ginning; and each such operator of a gin shall report the number of bales ginned, and pay the tax levied in § 106-435 to the state at least once every thirty days after beginning operation, and shall send a true copy of the report to the commissioner of agriculture. (1921, c. 137, s. 6; C. S. 4925(f).)

§ 106-437. Qualifications of warehouse manager.—No man shall be employed as manager of a warehouse unless the members of the board of county commissioners and the president of some bank in the county in which the warehouse is operated shall certify to the state warehouse superintendent that the person desiring to be warehouse manager is in their opinion a man of good character, competent, and of good reputation, deserving the confidence of the people. (1919, c. 168, s. 6; 1921, c. 137, s. 7; C. S. 4925(g).)

§ 106-438. Warehouse superintendent to accept federal standards. — The state warehouse superintendent shall accept as authority the standards and classifications of cotton established by the federal government. (1919, c. 168, s. 9; 1921, c. 137, s. 8; C. S. 4925(h).)

§ 106-439. Duties of superintendent; manner of operating warehouse system.—The state warehouse superintendent shall have the power to lease for stated terms property for the warehousing of cotton and other agricultural commodities: Provided, no rent shall be paid until the operating expenses of each such warehouse so leased shall have been paid from the income of the warehouse so leased, and in no case shall the state be responsible for any rent except from the income of such warehouse so leased in excess of operating expenses; and said superintendent shall fix the terms upon which private or corporate warehouses may obtain the benefits of state supervision and operation. It shall be his special duty to foster and encourage the erection of warehouses in the various cotton-growing and agricultural counties of the state for operation under the terms of this article, and to provide an adequate system of inspection, and of rules, forms, and reports to insure the security of the system, such matters to be approved by the state board of agriculture. The violation of such rules by any officer of the system shall be a misdemeanor. Cotton and other agricultural products may be stored in such warehouses by any person owning them, and receive all of the benefits accruing from such state management; and any person permitted to store cotton or other products in any such warehouse shall pay to the manager of the warehouse such sum or sums for rent or storage as may be agreed upon, subject to § 106-432, by the manager, and such person desiring storage therein. (1919, c. 168, s. 10; 1921, c. 137, s. 9; 1941, c. 337, s. 3; C. S. 4925(i).)

§ 106-440. Power of superintendent to sue or to be sued; liability for tort.—The said superintendent shall also have the power to sue, or to be sued, in the courts of this state in his official capacity, but not as an individual, except in case of tort or neglect of duty, when the action shall be upon his bond. Suits may be brought in the county of Wake or in the county in which the cause of action arose. (1919, c. 168, s. 11; 1921, c. 137, s. 10; C. S. 4925(j).)

§ 106-441. Grading and weighing of products; negotiable receipts; authentication of receipts. — When agricultural commodities other than cotton have been stored in warehouses operated under this article and have been graded and standardized in conformity with the grades and standards heretofore or hereafter promulgated by the board of agriculture, acting under the provisions of §§ 106-185 to 106-196, negotiable warehouse receipts of form and design approved by the board of agriculture may be issued. As soon as possible after any lint cotton, properly baled, is received for storage, the local manager shall, if it has not been done previously, have it graded and stapled by a federal or state classifier and legally weighed. Official negotiable receipts of the form and design approved by the board of agriculture shall be issued for such cotton under the seal and in the name of the state of North Carolina, stating the location of the warehouse, the name of the manager, the mark on said bale, the weight, the grade, and the length of the staple, so as to be able to deliver on surrender of the receipt the identical cotton for which it was given. On request of the depositor, negotiable receipts may be issued under this section omitting the statement of grade or staple, such receipt to be stamped on its face, "Not graded or stamped on request of the depositor." The warehouse manager shall fill in receipts issued under this section and they shall be signed by him or by the state warehouse superintendent or his duly authorized agent. If the local manager cannot issue a negotiable receipt complete for cotton or other agricultural commodities, he shall issue nonnegotiable memorandum receipts therefor, said memorandum receipts to be taken up and marked "canceled" by the local manager upon the delivery of negotiable receipts for such commodities. If the official negotiable receipt is issued for cotton or other agricultural commodities of which the manager is the owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership must appear on the face of the receipt. No responsibility is assumed by the state warehouse system for fluctuations in weight due to natural causes; but in other respects the receipts issued under this section for cotton and other agricultural commodities shall be supported and guaranteed by the indemnifying fund provided in § 106-435. (1919, c. 168, s. 12; 1921, c. 137, s. 11; 1925, c. 225; 1941, c. 337, s. 4; C. S. 4925(k).)

§ 106-442. Transfer of receipt; issuance and effect of receipt.—The official negotiable receipt issued under § 106-441 for cotton or other agricultural commodity so stored is to be transferable by written assignment and actual delivery, and the cotton or other agricultural commodity which it represents is to be deliverable only upon a physical presentation of the receipt, which is to be marked "Canceled," with date of cancellation, when the cotton or other agricultural commodity is taken from the warehouse. The said official negotiable receipt carries absolute title to the cotton or other agricultural commodity, it being the duty of the local manager accepting same for storage to satisfy himself as to the title to the same by requiring the depositor of the cotton or other agricultural commodity to sign a statement appearing on the face of the official receipt to the effect that there is no lien, mortgage, or other valid claim outstanding against such cotton or other agricultural commodity, and any person falsely signing such a statement shall be punished as provided for false pretenses in § 14-100. (1921, c. 137, s. 12; 1941, c. 337, s. 5; C. S. 4925(l).)

§ 106-443. Issuance of false receipt a felony; punishment.—The manager of any warehouse, or any agent, employee, or servant, who issues or aids in issuing a receipt for cotton or other agricultural commodity without knowing that such cotton or other agricultural commodity has actually been placed in the warehouse under the control of the manager thereof shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction be punished for each offense by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for a period of not less than one or more than five years, or by a fine not exceeding ten times the market value of the cotton or other agricultural commodity thus represented as having been stored. (1919, c. 168, s. 13; 1921, c. 137, s. 13; 1941, c. 337, s. 6; C. S. 4925(m).)

§ 106-444. Delivery of cotton without receipt or failure to cancel receipt.—Any manager, employee, agent, or servant who shall deliver cotton or other agricultural commodity from a warehouse under this article without the production of the receipt therefor, or who fails to mark such receipt "Canceled" on the delivery of the cotton or other agricultural commodity, shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or imprisonment not more than five years, or both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (1919, c. 168, s. 14; 1921, c. 137, s. 14; 1941, c. 337, s. 7; C. S. 4925(n).)

§ 106-445. Rules for issuance of duplicate receipts.—The state warehouse superintendent, or his duly authorized agent, and the manager of the local warehouse are authorized to issue a duplicate receipt for a lost or destroyed receipt, due record of the original receipt being found upon the books of the warehouse, only upon affidavit of the owner of the original that the original receipt has been lost or destroyed, and upon the owner's giving the state warehouse superintendent bond with approved security in an amount equal to the double value of the cotton or other agricultural commodity represented by the original receipt to indemnify the state warehouse superintendent and the local manager from loss or damage and the cost of any litigation. In determining the amount of the bond required under this section, the value of cotton shall be estimated at the highest market price of middling cotton during the preceding two years. The value of other agricultural commodities shall be estimated for this purpose in accordance with regulations to be prescribed by the board of agriculture. (1919, c. 168, s. 15; 1921, c. 137, s. 15; 1941, c. 337, s. 8; C. S. 4925(o).)

§ 106-446. State not liable on warehouse debts; tax on cotton continued if losses sustained. — No debt or other liability shall be created against the state by reason of the lease or operation of the warehouse system created by this article or the storage of cotton or other agricultural commodities therein, it being the purpose of this article to establish a self-sustaining system to operate as nearly as practicable at cost, without profit or loss to the state, except that expenses of supervision may be paid by the board of agriculture. While it is believed that the provisions and safeguards mentioned in this article, including the bonds required of all officers and supplemental indemnifying or guarantee fund mentioned in § 106-435, will insure the security of the system beyond any reasonable possibility of loss, nevertheless, in order to establish the principle that this system should be supported by those for whose especial financial benefit it is established, it is hereby provided that in the eventuality that the system should suffer at any time any loss not fully covered by the aforementioned bonds and indemnifying fund, such losses shall be made good by having the State Board of Assessment repeat for another twelve months selected by it the special levy on ginned cotton, as prescribed in § 106-435, for the two years ending June thirtieth of the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three. (1919, c. 168, s. 16; 1921, c. 137, s. 16; 1941, c. 337, s. 9; C. S. 4925(p).)

§ 106-447. Insurance of cotton; premiums; lien for insurance and storage charges.—The superintendent shall insure, or shall require the local manager to insure and keep insured for its full value, upon the best terms obtainable, by individual or blanket policy, all cotton and other agricultural commodities on storage. In case of loss, the superintendent shall collect the insurance due and pay the same, ratably, to those lawfully entitled to it, insurance policies to be in the name of the state and the premium collected from the owners of the cotton and other agricultural commodities, the state to have a lien on the cotton and other agricultural commodities for insurance and storage charges as in the case of other public warehouses in the state. (1919, c. 168, s. 17; 1921, c. 137, s. 17; 1941, c. 337, s. 10; C. S. 4925(q).)

§ 106-448. Superintendent to negotiate loans on receipts and sell cotton for owners.—The state warehouse superintendent, in addition to the duties hereinbefore vested in him, is also permitted and empowered, upon the request of the owner or owners of the warehouse receipts and cotton or other agricultural commodities stored in such warehouses to aid, assist, and coöperate, or as the duly authorized agent of such owner or owners (which authorization shall be in writing), to secure and negotiate loans upon the warehouse receipts. And upon like written request or authorization of said owner or owners, and his or their duly authorized agent, he may sell and dispose of such warehoused cotton or other agricultural commodities for such owner or owners, either in the home or foreign markets, as may be agreed upon between such owner or owners and the said superintendent, in writing. And for said loan or sales the said superintendent shall charge reasonable and just commissions, without discrimination, all of which shall be accounted for and held as part of the fund for the maintenance and operation of the state warehouse system: Provided however, that the state incurs no liability whatever for any act or representation of the superintendent in exercising any of the permissions or powers vested in him in this section: Provided, further, that the bond of the superintendent will be liable for any unfaithful or negligent act of his by reason of which the owner or owners of such warehoused cotton or other agricultural commodities suffers damage or loss. (1919, c. 168, s. 18; 1921, c. 137, s. 18; 1941, c. 337, s. 11; C. S. 4925(r).)

§ 106-449. Construction of the 1941 amendment.—The provisions of Chapter 337 of the Public Laws of 1941, amending this article, shall not apply to the storage of tobacco in any form. (1941, c. 37, s. 11½.)

§ 106-450. Compliance with United States warehouse law.—The state warehouse superintendent may, upon approval of the board of agriculture, operate or cause to be operated, subject to the United States warehouse act, any or all of the warehouses leased by him under the provisions of this article, and he is authorized to comply with said United States warehouse act and the regulations thereunder. (1921, c. 137, s. 19; C. S. 4925(s).)

§ 106-451. Numbering of cotton bales by public ginneries; public gin defined.—Any person, firm or corporation operating any public cotton gin; that is, any cotton gin other than one ginning solely for the individual owner, owners, or operators thereof, shall hereafter be required to distinctly and clearly number, serially, each and every bale of cotton ginned, in one of the following ways: (1) mark in color upon the bagging of the bale, in figures; (2) attach a metal strip carrying the serial number to one of the ties of the bale and ahead of the tie lock, and so secure it that ordinary handling will not remove or disfigure the number; (3) impress the serial number upon one of the bands or ties around the bale. Any person, firm or corporation failing or refusing to comply with this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor for each and every offense, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1923, c. 167.)

Art. 39. Leaf Tobacco Warehouses.

§ 106-452. Maximum warehouse charges.—The charges and expenses of handling and selling leaf tobacco upon the floor of tobacco warehouses shall not exceed the following schedule of prices, viz.: For auction fees, fifteen cents on all piles of one hundred pounds or less, and twenty-five cents on all piles over one hundred pounds; for weighing and handling, ten cents per pile for all piles less than one hundred pounds, for all piles over one hundred pounds at the rate of ten cents per hundred pounds; for commissions on the gross sales of leaf tobacco in said warehouses, not to exceed two and one-half per centum: Provided, that tobacco warehouses selling burley tobacco only may charge commissions on the gross sales of burley leaf tobacco not to exceed four per centum. (Rev., s. 3042; 1895, c. 81; 1941, c. 291; C. S. 5124.)

§ 106-453. Oath of tobacco weigher.—All leaf tobacco sold upon the floor of any tobacco warehouse shall first be weighed by some reliable person, who shall have first sworn and subscribed to the following oath, to wit: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will correctly and accurately weigh all tobacco offered for sale at the warehouse of ....., and correctly test and keep accurate the scales upon which the tobacco so offered for sale is weighed." Such oath shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said warehouse is situated. (Rev., s. 3043; 1895, c. 81, s. 2; C. S. 5125.)

§ 106-454. Warehouse proprietor to render bill of charges; penalty.—The proprietor of each and every warehouse shall render to each seller of tobacco at his warehouse a bill plainly stating the amount charged for weighing and handling, the amount charged for auction fees, and the commission charged on such sale, and it shall be unlawful for any other charges or fees to be made or accepted. For each and every violation of the provisions of this article a penalty of ten dollars may be recovered by any one injured thereby. (Rev., s. 3044; 1895, c. 81, ss. 3, 4; C. S. 5126.)

§ 106-455. Tobacco purchases to be paid for by cash or check to order.—The proprietor of each and every warehouse shall pay for all tobacco sold in said warehouse either in cash or by giving to the seller a check payable to his order in his full name or in his surname and initials and it shall be unlawful to use any other method. Every person, firm or corporation violating the provisions hereof shall, in addition to any and all civil liability which may arise by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punishable by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1931, c. 101, s. 1; 1939, c. 348.)

Art. 40. Leaf Tobacco Sales.

§ 106-456. Accounts of warehouse sales required.—On and after the first day of August, one thousand nine hundred and seven, the proprietor of each and every leaf tobacco warehouse doing business in this state shall keep a correct account of the number of pounds of leaf tobacco sold upon the floor of his warehouse daily. (1907, c. 97, s. 1; C. S. 4926.)

§ 106-457. Monthly reports to commissioner; results classified.—On or before the tenth day of each succeeding month the said warehouse proprietors shall make a statement, under oath, of all the tobacco so sold upon the floor of his warehouse during the past month and shall transmit the said statement, at once, to the commissioner of agriculture at Raleigh, North Carolina. The report so made to the commissioner of agriculture shall be so arranged and classified as to show the number of pounds of tobacco sold for the producers of tobacco from first hand; the number of pounds sold for dealers; and the number of pounds resold by the proprietor of the warehouse for his own account or for the account of some other warehouse. (1907, c. 97, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 76; C. S. 4927.)

§ 106-458. Commissioner to keep record and publish in bulletin.—The commissioner of agriculture shall cause said statements to be accurately copied into a book to be kept for this purpose, and shall keep separate and apart the statements returned to him from each leaf tobacco market in the state, so as to show the number of pounds of tobacco sold by each market for the sale of leaf tobacco; the number of pounds sold by producers, and the number of pounds resold upon each market. The commissioner of agriculture shall keep said books open to the inspection of the public, and shall, on or before the fifteenth day of each month, after the receipt of the reports above required to be made to him on or before the tenth day of each month, cause the said reports to be published in the bulletin issued by the agricultural department and in one or more journals published in the interest of the growth, sale, and manufacture of tobacco in the state, or having a large circulation therein. (1907, c. 97, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 76; C. S. 4928.)

§ 106-459. Penalty for failure to report sales.—Any warehouse failing to make the report as required by § 106-457 shall be subject to a penalty of twenty-five dollars and the costs in the case, to be recovered by any person suing for same in any court of a justice of the peace; and the magistrate in whose court the matter is adjudicated shall include in the cost of each case where the penalty is allowed one dollar, to be paid to the department of agriculture for expense of advertising. (1915, c. 31, s. 1; C. S. 4929.)

§ 106-460. Commissioner to publish failure; certificate as evidence. — The commissioner shall, on the 14th day of each month, publish in some newspaper the names of the tobacco warehouses that have failed to comply with this article.

The certificate of the commissioner under seal of the department shall be admissible as evidence the same as if it were deposition taken in form as provided by law. (1915, c. 31, ss. 2, 3; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 76; C. S. 4930.)

§ 106-461. Nested, shingled or overhung tobacco.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or offer for sale, upon any leaf tobacco warehouse floor, any pile or piles of tobacco, which are nested, or shingled, or overhung, or either as hereinafter defined:

1st. Nesting tobacco: That is, so arranging tobacco in the pile offered for sale that it is impossible for the buyer thereof to pull leaves from the bottom of such pile for the purpose of inspection;

2nd. Shingling tobacco: That is, so arranging a pile of tobacco that a better quality of tobacco appears upon the outside and tobacco of inferior quality appears on the inside of such pile; and

3rd. Overhanging tobacco: That is, so arranging a pile of tobacco that there are alternate bundles of good and sorry tobacco. (1933, c. 467, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Alamance, Person, Rockingham, Surry, Vance and Warren: 1933, c. 467, s. 5.

§ 106-462. Sale under name other than that of true owner prohibited. — It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or offer for sale or cause to be sold, or offered for sale, any leaf tobacco upon the floors of any leaf tobacco warehouse, in the name of any person, firm or corporation, other than that of the true owner or owners thereof, which true owner's name shall be registered upon the warehouse sales book in which it is being offered for sale. (1933, c. 467, s. 2.)

Local Modification.—Alamance, Person, Rockingham, Surry, Vance and Warren: 1933, c. 467, s. 5.

§ 106-463. Allowance for weight of baskets and trucks.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation in weighing tobacco for sale to permit or allow the basket and truck upon which such tobacco is placed for the purpose of obtaining such weight to vary more than two pounds from the standard or uniform weight of such basket and truck. (1933, c. 467, s. 3.)

Local Modification.—Alamance, Person, Rockingham, Surry, Vance and Warren: 1933, c. 467, s. 5.

§ 106-464. Violation made misdemeanor. — Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of §§ 106-461 to 106-463 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1933, c. 467, s. 4.)

§ 106-465. Organization and membership of tobacco boards of trade; rules and regulations; price fixing prohibited. — Tobacco warehousemen and the purchasers of leaf tobacco, at auction, on warehouse floors, are hereby authorized to organize, either as non-stock corporations, or voluntary associations, tobacco boards of trade in the several towns and cities in North Carolina in which leaf tobacco is sold on warehouse floors, at auction.

Such tobacco boards of trade as may now exist, or which may hereafter be organized, are authorized to make reasonable rules and regulations for the economical and efficient handling of the sale of leaf tobacco at auction on the warehouse floors in the several towns and cities in North Carolina in which an auction market is situated.

The tobacco boards of trade in the several towns and cities in North Carolina are authorized to require as a condition to membership therein the applicants to pay a reasonable membership fee and the following schedule of maximum fees shall be deemed reasonable, to-wit:

A membership fee of fifty dollars ($50.00) in those towns in which less than three million pounds of tobacco was sold at auction between the dates of August 20, 1931, and May 1, 1932; A fee of one hundred dollars ($100.00) in those towns in which during said period of time more than three million and less than ten million pounds of tobacco was sold; A fee of one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00) in those towns in which during said period of time more than ten million and less than twenty-five million pounds of tobacco was sold; A fee of three hundred dollars ($300.00) in those towns in which during said period of time more than twenty-five million pounds of tobacco was sold.

Membership, in good standing, in a local board of trade shall be deemed a reasonable requirement by such board of trade as a condition to participating in the business of operating a tobacco warehouse or the purchase of tobacco at auction therein.

It shall be unlawful and punishable as of a misdemeanor for any bidder or purchaser of tobacco upon warehouse floors to refuse to take and pay for any basket or baskets so bid off from the seller when the seller has or has not accepted the price offered by the purchaser or bidder of other baskets. That any person suspended or expelled from a tobacco board of trade under the provisions of this section may appeal from such suspension to the superior court of the county in which said board of trade is located.

Nothing in this section shall authorize the organization of any association having for its purpose the control of prices or the making of rules and regulations in restraint of trade. (1933, c. 268.)

Art. 41. Dealers in Scrap Tobacco.

§ 106-466. Application for license; amount of tax; exceptions.—Every person, firm or corporation desiring to engage in the business of buying and/or selling scrap or untied tobacco in the state of North Carolina shall first procure from the commissioner of revenue of North Carolina a license so to do, and for that purpose shall file with the said commissioner of revenue an application setting forth the name of the county or counties in which such applicant proposes to engage in the said business and the place or places where his, their or its principal office (if any) shall be situated; and shall pay to the said commissioner of revenue of North Carolina, to be placed in the general fund for the use of the state, an annual license tax of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each and every county in North Carolina in which the applicant proposes to engage in such business. Every such license issued hereunder shall run from the date thereof and shall expire on the thirty-first day of May of the next year following its issue. No license shall be issued for less than the full amount of tax prescribed. Any lot of parts of leaves of tobacco, or any lot in which parts of leaves of tobacco are commingled with whole leaves of tobacco, or any other leaf or leaves of tobacco, or parts of leaves of tobacco not permitted, under the rules and regulations of tobacco warehouses, to be offered for sale at auction on tobacco warehouse floors, shall be deemed to be "scrap or untied" tobacco within the meaning and purview of this article: Provided, that the tax herein levied shall not apply in cases where the producer delivers his scrap or untied tobacco to a tobacco warehouse or tobacco redrying plant. (1935, c. 360, s. 1; 1937, c. 414, s. 1; 1939, c. 389, s. 1; 1941, c. 246.)

§ 106-467. Report to commissioner of agriculture each month.—On or before the tenth day of each month every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business set forth in § 106-466 shall make a report to the commissioner of agriculture of North Carolina, setting forth the number of pounds of scrap or untied tobacco purchased and the price paid therefor during the preceding month in each of the counties in which the said person, firm or corporation is doing business and also the purposes for which such scrap tobacco is bought or sold. (1935, c. 360, s. 2; 1937, c. 414, s. 2.)

§ 106-468. Display of license; no fixed place of business; agents, etc.; licensing of processors, redriers, etc. — (a) If any person, firm or corporation licensed to engage in the business aforesaid has a warehouse, office or fixed place of business, the license issued by the commissioner of revenue as herein provided shall be displayed in a conspicuous place in said warehouse, office or place of business. Such license so obtained shall not be transferable and shall authorize such person, firm or corporation to engage in the business described in this article only on the premises described in the license. Only one original license shall be issued to any person, firm or corporation, which will authorize such person, firm or corporation to engage in such business in the county for which such license is issued. If such person, firm or corporation shall have no warehouse, office, or fixed place of business in the county where such business is carried on, if the original license is to be issued to a firm, partnership or copartnership, there shall be designated on such license the name of the individual who is to exercise the privilege granted on behalf of such firm, partnership or copartnership. If such license is to be issued to a corporation, there shall be designated on such license the name of the individual who is to exercise the privilege granted on behalf of such corporation and the license so issued will authorize only the individual designated thereon to engage in such business for or on behalf of such person, firm, partnership, copartnership or corporation, and none other. If such person, firm or corporation carries on the business herein described through agents, representatives, solicitors, or peddlers other than those named on the original license issued, as herein provided, additional and like licenses, for which there shall be paid the sum of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00), shall be obtained for such additional agents, representatives, solicitors, or peddlers for each county in which such business is carried on, in the manner hereinafter set out, and all original and additional licenses issued to persons, firms or corporations which have no warehouse, office or fixed place of business shall be carried on the person of such licensee and shall be exhibited when requested or demanded by any law enforcement officer of North Carolina, or any person from whom such tobacco is bought, or to whom the same may be sold.

Any person, firm or corporation applying for and obtaining a license under this article may employ traveling representatives, agents, peddlers, or solicitors for the purpose of buying and/or selling scrap tobacco, but such traveling representatives, agents or peddlers shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a separate additional license on behalf of such person, firm or corporation whom or which he represents and shall pay for such license a tax of two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) for each additional license so issued. Every such additional license issued hereunder shall run from the date thereof and shall expire on the thirty-first day of May of the next year following its issue. No license shall be issued for less than the full amount of tax prescribed. Such traveling representative, agent or peddler engaged in such business shall carry on his person the license so obtained, which shall be exhibited when requested or demanded by any law enforcement officer of North Carolina or any person from whom such tobacco is bought or to whom the same may be sold.

(b) Any such person, firm or corporation described in subsection (a) of this section, who is engaged in the business of buying and/or selling scrap tobacco within the meaning of this article, and who maintains and operates in connection therewith a plant or factory where such scrap tobacco is processed, manufactured, or redried, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a license to engage in such business and for that purpose shall file with the commissioner of revenue an application setting forth the name of the county or counties in which such applicant proposes to engage in such business, and the place or places where his, their, or its principal office is situated, and shall pay for such license a tax of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each county in this state in which the applicant proposes to engage in such business. The license so issued shall authorize the person, firm or corporation to whom it is issued to engage in such business only on the premises designated in the license. Persons, firms or corporations taxed under this subsection shall not be required to pay the license tax provided for in subsection (a) of this section. Every such license issued hereunder shall run from the date thereof and shall expire on the thirty-first day of May of the next year following its issue and no license shall be issued for less than the full amount of the tax prescribed. (1935, c. 360, s. 3; 1937, c. 414, s. 3; 1939, c. 389, s. 2.)

§ 106-469. Violation made misdemeanor. — Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 414, s. 4.)

§ 106-470. Exemptions.—Nothing in this article shall have any effect upon or apply to any stocks of leaf and scrap tobacco grown prior to the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, or to purchases or sales of scrap or untied tobacco which has been processed, redried or manufactured. (1937, c. 414, s. 4½; 1939, c. 389, s. 3.)

Art. 42. Production, Sale, Marketing and Distribution of Tobacco.

§ 106-471. Definitions.—As used in this article, unless otherwise stated or unless the context or subject matter clearly indicates otherwise:

"Person" means any individual, partnership, firm, joint-stock company, corporation, association, trust, estate, or any agency of the state or federal government.

"Similar act" means an act of another state containing provisions substantially the same as this article, except that the omission of provisions requiring the establishment of acreage quotas for individual farms shall not be deemed a substantial variation from this article.

"Kind of tobacco" means one or more types of tobacco as classified in the service and regulatory announcement number one hundred and eighteen of the bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture as listed below, according to the name or names by which known:

Types eleven, twelve, thirteen and fourteen, known as flue-cured tobacco.

Type thirty-one, known as burley tobacco.

"Crop year" means the period from May first of one year to April thirtieth of the succeeding year, both dates inclusive.

"Surplus tobacco" means the quantity of tobacco marketed from the crop produced on a farm in any crop year in excess of the marketing quota for such farm for such year.

"Buyer or handler" means any person who buys tobacco from the producer thereof, or who sells tobacco for the producer thereof, and pays the producer for such tobacco, or who redries or otherwise processes tobacco for the producer thereof prior to the sale of such tobacco by the producer, or any producer who markets tobacco produced by him directly to the consumer.

"Dealer" means any person who buys and resells tobacco prior to the redrying, conditioning, or processing thereof.

"Producer" means any person who has the right during any year to sell, or to receive a share of the proceeds derived from the sale of, tobacco produced by him or on land owned or leased by him.

"Operator" means any person who, as owner-operator, or as cash rent, standing rent, or share rent tenant, operates a farm (i. e., a tract or tracts of land operated as a unit with the same machinery and other equipment) on which tobacco is produced, and includes a share-cropper who operates a farm if the owner-operator or tenant does not provide for the obtaining of marketing certificates with respect to the tobacco crop of the farm. (1937, c. 22, s. 1.)

§ 106-472. North Carolina tobacco commission created; members; county and district committeemen; vacancies; compensation.—There is hereby created a commission to be known as the North Carolina tobacco commission (hereinafter referred to as the "commission"). The commission shall consist of seven (7) members, and each of the four (4) tobacco belts, viz: eastern belt, middle belt, old belt and border belt, shall have one or more representatives selected as follows: When this article becomes effective, the director of the state argicultural extension service shall arrange for a meeting of tobacco producers in each county (any county in which there are less than one hundred tobacco producers shall be grouped with another adjoining county), at which three (3) tobacco producers shall be elected, by the producers attending the meeting, to serve as county committeemen for one crop year. The director of the state agricultural extension service shall divide the state into six (6) districts and arrange for a meeting of the county committeemen elected in each district, at which meeting the county committeemen in each district shall nominate from among their number three (3) producers to serve as district committeemen. From the three (3) district committeemen nominated in each district the governor shall appoint one producer to serve for a period of one crop year as a member of the commission. The director of the state agricultural extension service shall serve, or shall appoint one member of his staff to serve, as a member of the commission. Vacancies on the commission during any crop year shall be filled by the governor by the appointment of another district committeeman for the remainder of such year from the district in which the vacancy occurs: Provided, that the director of the state agricultural extension service shall fill the vacancy in the case of the member of the commission appointed by him. At the end of each crop year the tobacco commission shall be selected for the succeeding crop year in the manner provided above. Each member of the commission not already in the employment of the state shall be paid the sum of ten dollars ($10.00) for each day actually spent in the performance of his duties, and shall be reimbursed for subsistence, not exceeding five dollars ($5.00) per day, and for necessary travel expenses. (1937, c. 22, s. 2.)

§ 106-473. Compacts with governors of other states; referendum on question of enforcement. — The governor is authorized and directed to negotiate and enter into a compact with respect to each kind of tobacco with the governor of each of the states producing such kind of tobacco: Provided, (1) that any compact shall not become effective until it has been entered into by the states of North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia, and any compact with respect to burley tobacco shall not become effective until it has been entered into by the states of North Carolina, Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee; (2) that a compact with respect to any kind of tobacco shall not become effective during any crop year unless entered into prior to the first day of such crop year, and (3) that any provisions in such compact or compacts which relate to the establishment of tobacco acreage quotas as provided herein shall not become effective unless and until the consent of the congress of the United States shall be given to a compact or compacts providing for the establishment of tobacco acreage quotas. This article shall be enforced with respect to any kind of tobacco upon the establishment of a compact with respect to such kind of tobacco, and its enforcement with respect to such kind of tobacco shall be suspended upon the withdrawal from such compact by any state required as a party thereto. If an injunction issued by a court of competent jurisdiction against the enforcement of a similar act of any state is made permanent so as to stop the administration of said act in such state during any crop year, the enforcement of this article may be suspended by the commission with respect to the kind of tobacco covered by such compact until such time as the compact is again made effective or the injunction dissolved, as the case may be. Upon the filing with the commission of a petition or petitions by fifteen per cent or more of the producers of any kind of tobacco in this state requesting that the enforcement of this article be suspended with respect to such kind of tobacco, the commission shall conduct a referendum within sixty days after the receipt of such petition or petitions to determine whether the producers of such kind of tobacco in the state are in favor of the enforcement of this article, and if the commission finds that one-third or more of the producers who vote in the referendum are not in favor of the enforcement of the article, such findings of the commission shall be certified to the governor, who shall proclaim the article inoperative for the crop year next succeeding the crop year in which the referendum is conducted. (1937, c. 22, s. 3.)

§ 106-474. Cooperation with other states and secretary of agriculture in making determinations. —The commission shall meet and co-operate with the tobacco commissions of other states that are parties to a compact, and any persons designated by the secretary of agriculture of the United States to serve in an advisory capacity, for the purposes of making certain determinations enumerated in this section, and when such determinations are agreed upon by a majority of the members of the commission for this state, and a majority of the members of the commissions for other states, such determinations shall be accepted and followed in the administration of this article.

(a) Determine from statistics of the United States department of agriculture a marketing quota, which for any kind of tobacco shall be that quantity of such kind of tobacco produced in the United States which is estimated to be required for world consumption during any crop year, increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the amount by which the world stocks of such kind of tobacco at the beginning of such crop year are less than or greater than the normal world stocks of such kind of tobacco.

(b) Determine a tobacco marketing quota for each state, for each kind of tobacco, for each crop year for which this article is in effect with respect to such kind of tobacco. The marketing quota for each state for each kind of tobacco shall be that percentage of the quantity determined under sub-section (a) of this section which is equal to the percentage that the total production of such kind of tobacco in the state for the year or years set forth below is of the total production of such kind of tobacco in the United States for such year or years:

Flue-cured tobacco, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, and burley tobacco, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four, and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.

(c) Determine a base tobacco yield for each state for each kind of tobacco. The base tobacco yield for each kind of tobacco for each state shall be the total production of such kind of tobacco in such state in the year or years named in sub-section (b) of this section, divided by the total harvested acreage of such kind of tobacco in such state in such year or years.

(d) Determine and make such adjustments from year to year in the percentage of the marketing quota to be assigned to each state, or in the base yield for each state, or both (as determined pursuant to sub-sections (b) and (c) of this section and as adjusted in any preceding year pursuant to this sub-section), not exceeding two per cent (2%) decrease or five per cent (5%) increase in any crop year of the percentage of the said marketing quota assigned to each state, or five per cent (5%) decrease or increase of the base yield for each state in any crop year, as are determined to be necessary to correct for any abnormal conditions of production during the year or years specified in subsection (b) of this sec tion, and trends in production during or since such year or years in any state as compared with other states: Provided, that the percentages of the marketing quota for any kind of tobacco for all states producing such kind of tobacco, as adjusted pursuant to this sub-section, for any year shall equal one hundred per cent (100%).

(e) Determine and make adjustments in the marketing quota established pursuant to sub-sections (b) and (d) of this section for any kind of tobacco for any crop year, not exceeding ten per cent (10%) of said quota, from time to time during that period from August first to December fifteenth of such year if, upon the study of supply and demand conditions for such kind of tobacco, the commission finds that such adjustments are required to effectuate the purpose of this article and of similar acts of other states: Provided, that any such adjustment shall apply uniformly to all states and only during the crop year in which such adjustment is made.

(f) Determine regulations with respect to the transfer of marketing certificates among producers of any kind of tobacco within the states which are parties to a compact with respect to such kind of tobacco, and such other regulations as may be deemed appropriate to the uniform administration and enforcement of this article and of similar acts of other states. (1937, c. 22, s. 4.)

§ 106-475. Tobacco acreage and marketing quotas for each farm.—The commission shall establish tobacco acreage and tobacco marketing quotas for each crop year for any farm on which tobacco is grown, such quotas to be determined as follows:

(a) For any farm for which a base tobacco acreage and a base tobacco production have previously been determined by the agricultural adjustment administration of the United States department of agriculture, as shown by the available records and statistics of that department, the base tobacco acreage and base tobacco production so last determined shall constitute the tobacco acreage and tobacco marketing quotas, subject to such adjustments as are recommended by the county committee of the county in which the farm is located and approved by the commission as being in conformity with the provisions of sub-sections (c) and (d) of this section.

(b) For any farm for which a base tobacco acreage and base tobacco production have not been previously determined by the agricultural adjustment administration of the United States department of agriculture, the tobacco acreage and tobacco marketing quotas shall be established in conformity with the provisions of sub-sections (c) and (d) of this section: Provided, that the total of the tobacco acreage and of the tobacco marketing quotas established for such farms in any crop year shall not exceed two per cent (2%) of the total tobacco acreage and tobacco marketing quotas, respectively, established pursuant to sub-section (a) of this section, plus the tobacco acreage and the tobacco marketing quotas established for farms in preceding years pursuant to this sub-section.

(c) The tobacco acreage and the tobacco marketing quotas established for each farm shall be fair and reasonable as compared with the tobacco acreage and the tobacco marketing quotas for other farms which are similar with respect to the following: The past production of tobacco on the farm and by the operator thereof; the percentage of total cultivated land in tobacco and in other cash crops; the land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco; the crop rotation practices and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco. The acreage quota for farms in a county shall not exceed such maximum percentage of the cultivated acreage as shall be fixed by the county committee, and the maximum so set by the county committee shall not exceed a percentage which will insure the adjustment of the inequalities existing in such county.

(d) The total of the tobacco acreage quotas for any kind of tobacco established for all farms in the state in any crop year shall not exceed a tobacco acreage quota for the state determined by dividing the marketing quota for such kind of tobacco for the state by the base tobacco yield for such kind of tobacco for the state, determined in accordance with sub-sections (c) and (d) of § 106-474.

The tobacco acreage and the tobacco marketing quotas for any kind of tobacco established for each farm in any crop year pursuant to sub-sections (a) and (b) of this section shall be adjusted so that the aggregate of the tobacco acreage quotas and the aggregate of the tobacco marketing quotas for all farms in the state does not exceed the tobacco acreage and the tobacco marketing quotas, respectively, for such kind of tobacco established for the state for such year; and the commission shall prescribe such regulations with respect to such adjustments as will tend to protect the interests of small producers.

(e) If, after marketing quotas are established for farms for any kind of tobacco in any crop year, there is an adjustment, pursuant to sub-section (e) of § 106-474, in the marketing quota for such kind of tobacco for the state for such year, the marketing quotas for all farms in the state shall be adjusted accordingly.

(f) If a base tobacco yield is not determined by the several state commissions the commission for this state shall determine a base yield for the state in accordance with the procedure specified in sub-sections (c) and (d) of § 106-474.

(g) In each county there shall either be published in one local newspaper the following information for each township of the county: (1) the name of each tobacco grower in that township; (2) the number of his tobacco tenants; (3) his total cultivated acres; (4) his total tobacco acreage and tobacco marketing quota; (5) the per cent of his cultivated land represented by his tobacco acreage quota, or else there shall be posted in at least five public places in each township a report for that township showing this information. One copy of such information shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court in the county.

(h) No reduction shall be required in the flue-cured tobacco acreage quota established for any farm if such quota is three and two-tenth acres or less: Provided, that if the operator of the farm reduces the acreage of tobacco grown on the farm in any year below the acreage quota, a proportionate reduction may be required in the marketing quota for the farm.

(i) The terms of this article, relating to the fixing of acreage or marketing quotas, shall not apply to any grower of burley tobacco, with or without an established acreage base, whose acreage is two acres or less. (1937, c. 22, s. 5; c. 24, ss. 1-3.)

§ 106-476. Notification of quotas established and adjustments; marketing and resale certificates; charge for surplus tobacco; administrative committees, agents and employees; hearings and investigations; collection of information; regulations. — The commission is authorized and directed:

(a) To notify as promptly as possible the operator of each farm, for which acreage and marketing quotas are established, of the amount of such quotas for the farm and of any adjustment thereof which may be made from time to time pursuant to this article.

(b) Upon application therefor by the operator of the farm, or by the person marketing the tobacco grown thereon, to issue to the buyer or handler who purchases or handles such tobacco, marketing certificates for an amount of tobacco not in excess of the marketing quota for the farm (as adjusted pursuant to subsection (d) of § 106-475, on which such tobacco is produced, or not in excess of the quantity of tobacco harvested from the crop produced on such farm, whichever is smaller: Provided, that the commission (in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commission) may provide for the issuance and transfer of marketing certificates for an amount of tobacco equal to the amount by which the said quantity marketed falls below the said marketing quota for any farm: Provided further, that any regulations pertaining to such issuance and transfer shall be uniform as to the same kind of tobacco in all states entering into a compact with respect to such kind of tobacco.

(c) Upon application therefor by any buyer or handler to issue marketing certificates for surplus tobacco produced on the farm upon payment of a charge of twenty-five per cent (25%) of the gross value, or of one and one-half cents (1½c) per pound, whichever is larger, of the tobacco covered by such certificates. The buyer or handler, in settling with the grower, shall deduct from the proceeds of sale of such surplus tobacco or, if not sold, from any advance or loan thereon, the amount of such charge, which charge shall be deemed an assessment upon the producer for the purposes of paying the costs, charges, and expenditures provided for by this article.

(d) Upon application therefor by any tobacco dealer to issue, under such terms and conditions as the commission shall by regulations prescribe, resale certificates for such tobacco purchased by any dealer during any day as such dealer specified will be resold prior to the redrying or processing thereof, where marketing certificates or resale certificates have been issued for such tobacco pursuant to the provisions of this article.

(e) To establish or provide for the establishment of such committees of tobacco producers, and to appoint such agents and employees as the commission finds necessary for the administration of this article, and to fix the compensation of the members of the county committees referred to in § 106-472, and of such agents and employees: Provided, that the rates of compensation for such committeemen, agents and employees shall be comparable with rates of compensation to persons employed in similar capacities in connection with the administration of the agricultural conservation program, and acceptable to the federal authority.

(f) To provide for the making of such investigations and the holding of such hearings as the commission finds necessary in connection with the establishment of acreage and marketing quotas for farms and to designate persons to conduct such investigations and hold such hearings in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commission.

(g) To provide for collection of such information pertaining to the acreage of tobacco grown for harvest on each farm as the commission may consider necessary for the purpose of checking such acreage with the acreage quota for the farm and to prescribe any such regulations as may be necessary in connection therewith.

(h) To prescribe such other regulations as the commission finds necessary to the exercise of the powers and the performance of the duties vested in it by the provisions of this article. (1937, c. 22, s. 6.)

§ 106-477. Board of adjustment and review for each county. — The county committee of each county shall be and it is hereby constituted the board of adjustment and review for its county, whose duty it shall be to adjust and distribute the total base acreage and marketing quotas allocated to the several farms in the county by the commission so as to effectuate the provisions of this article.

(a) The county board of adjustment and review may designate a clerk for such board.

(b) The board of adjustment and review shall meet on the first Monday in January of each and every year, after giving ten days' notice (by publication in a newspaper published in the county) of the time, place and purpose of the meeting, and may adjourn from day to day while engaged in the adjustment and review of the acreage and marketing quotas of the county, but shall complete their duties on or before the first Monday in February of each and every year: Provided, however, that the commission shall designate the time within which the said adjustment and review shall be made for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven.

(c) The board of adjustment and review, on request, shall hear any and all producers, operators, and applicants in the county in respect to their acreage or marketing quotas, or the quotas of others; and after due notice to the person or persons affected, shall allow, increase, or reduce such acreage or marketing quotas as in their opinion will make a fair and equitable allotment within the meaning of this article; and shall cause to be done whatever else may be necessary to make the distribution of county acreage and marketing quotas comply with the provisions of this article; and after the completion of the adjustment and review, a list showing the details thereof shall be prepared, and a majority of the board shall endorse thereon and sign the statement to the effect that the same is the fixed list of quotas for the current year, and said list, or a certified copy thereof, shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court within three days after the completion of the adjustment and review.

(d) Any producer, operator, or person claiming or challenging an allotment quota may except to the decision of the board of adjustment and review and appeal therefrom to the commission by filing in duplicate a written notice of such appeal with the county committee within ten days after the filing of the list of quotas in the office of the clerk of the superior court. At the time of filing such notice of appeal the appellant shall file with the county committee a statement in duplicate of the grounds of appeal; and within three days after the filing thereof the county committee shall forward or cause to be forwarded to the commission one copy each of the notice of appeal and statement of grounds of appeal. The commission shall, on or before the first Monday in March thereafter, hear and determine such appeal, after first giving due notice of the time and place of such hearing to the appellant and to the chairman of the county committee. At the hearing the commission shall hear relevant and pertinent testimony or affidavits offered by the appellant or county committee; and thereafter, by order, shall modify or confirm the decision of the county board of adjustment and review, and shall deliver to the county committee a certified copy of such order, which shall be binding upon all parties concerned for the current year. (1937, c. 24, s. 4.)

§ 106-478. Handling of funds and receiving payments.—The commission is authorized:

(a) To accept, deposit with the state treasurer and provide for the expenditure of such funds as the congress of the United States may advance or grant to the state for the purpose of administering this article. Such expenditures shall be in accordance with the act of congress authorizing or making such advance or grant.

(b) To receive, through such agents as it may designate, all payments covering the sale of marketing certificates pursuant to sub-section (c) of § 106-476; to provide for the fixing of an adequate bond for any person responsible for receiving and disbursing any funds of or administered by the commission; and to provide for the expenditure of such funds in the manner prescribed in § 106-480. (1937, c. 22, s. 7.)

§ 106-479. "Tobacco commission account" deposited with state treasurer.—All receipts from the sale of marketing certificates pursuant to subsection (c) of § 106-476 and all funds granted or advanced to the state by the congress of the United States for the purpose of administering this article shall be deposited with the state treasurer and shall be placed by him in a special fund known as the "Tobacco Commission Account," and the entire amount of such receipts and funds hereby is appropriated out of such tobacco commission account and shall be available to the commission until expended. (1937, c. 22, s. 8.)

§ 106-480. Purposes for which funds expended; reserve necessary.—Funds of or administered by the commission shall be expended, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commission, for the following purposes: First, to repay to the treasurer of the United States any funds advanced by the United States to the commission for the purpose of administering this article: Provided, the United States requires such repayment. Second, to pay any expenses lawfully incurred in the administration of this article, including expenses of any agency of the state incurred at the request of the commission. Third, to make payment to tobacco producers whose sales of tobacco, because of loss by fire or weather, or diseases affecting their tobacco crops adversely during any crop year, are less than the marketing quotas for their farms for such year. Such payments shall be at a rate per pound of such deficit determined by dividing the funds available for such payments by the total number of pounds by which the sales of tobacco by all producers fell below the marketing quotas for their farms: Provided, that such deficit is due to loss by fire or weather, or disease affecting their crops adversely; and Provided further, that such rate of payment shall in no event exceed five cents (5c) per pound, and that no such payments shall be made until there is established as a reserve an amount necessary to pay the expenses which the commission estimates will be incurred in the administration of this article for a period of one crop year. (1937, c. 22, s. 9.)

§ 106-481. Unlawful to sell, buy, etc., without marketing certificate; restrictions upon dealers.—Upon the establishment of marketing quotas for any kind of tobacco for individual farms for any crop year, pursuant to the provisions of this article, it shall be unlawful:

(a) For any person knowingly to sell, to buy, to redry or to condition or otherwise process any of such kind of tobacco harvested in such crop year unless the marketing certificates therefor have been issued as provided in this article.

(b) For any dealer to resell any of such kind of tobacco for which marketing certificates have not been issued as aforesaid prior to the redrying, conditioning, or processing thereof, except in his own name, or to resell any such tobacco except that purchased and owned by him and covered by a marketing certificate or resale certificate previously issued showing such dealer to be the purchaser of such tobacco, or to redry, condition, or process or to have redried, conditioned, or processed, prior to the resale thereof, any such tobacco covered by a resale certificate unless the resale certificate issued with respect thereto is surrendered to the commission. (1937, c. 22, s. 10.)

§ 106-482. Violation punishable by forfeiture of sum equal to three times value of tobacco.—Any person wilfully selling, buying, redrying, conditioning, or processing tobacco of any kind with respect to which this article is effective for which marketing certificates or resale certificates have not been issued as provided in this article, or any person wilfully participating or aiding in the selling, buying, redrying, conditioning, or processing of tobacco not covered by such marketing or resale certificates, or any person offering for sale or selling any tobacco except in the name of the owner thereof, shall forfeit to the state a sum equal to three times the current market value of such tobacco at the time of the commission of such act, which forfeiture shall be recoverable in a civil suit brought in the name of the state. (1937, c. 22, s. 11.)

§ 106-483. Forfeiture for harvesting from acreage in excess of quota. — Any operator wilfully harvesting or wilfully permitting the harvesting of tobacco on a farm from an acreage in excess of the acreage quota for the farm shall forfeit to the state a sum equal to fifty dollars ($50.00) per acre of that acreage harvested in excess of the acreage quota for the farm, which forfeiture shall be recoverable in a civil suit brought in the name of the state. (1937, c. 22, s. 12.)

§ 106-484. Violation of article a misdemeanor. — Any person violating any provisions of this article, or of any regulation of the commission issued pursuant thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined a sum of not more than fifty dollars ($50.00) for the first offense and not more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each subsequent offense. (1937, c. 22, s. 13.)

§ 106-485. Penalty for failure to furnish information on request of commission.—All tobacco producers, warehousemen, buyers, dealers, and other persons having information with respect to the planting, harvesting, marketing, or redrying or conditioning or processing of tobacco in this state for sale or resale to manufacturers, domestic or foreign, shall from time to time, upon the written request of the commission or its duly authorized representative, furnish such information and file such returns as the commission may find necessary or appropriate to the enforcement of this article. Any person wilfully failing or refusing to furnish such information or to file such return, or wilfully furnishing any false information or wilfully filing any false return, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined a sum of not more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each such offense. (1937, c. 22, s. 14.)

§ 106-486. Courts may punish or enjoin violations.—All courts of this state of competent jurisdiction are hereby vested with jurisdiction specifically to punish violations of this article, and the superior courts of the state are vested with jurisdiction, upon application of the commission, to enjoin and restrain any person from violating the provisions of this article or of any regulations issued pursuant to this article. (1937, c. 22. s. 15.)

§ 106-487. Attorneys for state to institute proceedings, etc., commission to report violations to solicitors, etc.—Upon the request of the commission it shall be the duty of the several attorneys for the state, in their respective jurisdictions, to institute proceedings to punish for the offenses, enforce the remedies, and to collect the forfeitures provided for in this article, and it shall be the duty of the commission to call to the attention of the prosecuting officers of the state any violation of any of the criminal provisions of this article. (1937, c. 22, s. 16.)

§ 106-488. Receipts from surplus produced in other states, paid to commission of such states; co-operation with other commissions. — In order to assure the proper co-ordination of the administration of this article with the administration of similar acts of other states, marketing certificates and resale certificates shall be issued by the commission, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commission, with respect to tobacco marketed in this state, or redried, conditioned, or processed in this state prior to the first sale thereof, or resold, even though such tobacco was produced in another state, and the receipts from sales of marketing certificates for surplus tobacco produced in such other state shall be paid to the commission of the state in which such tobacco was produced, and the commission shall co-operate with and assist the commission of any other state in obtaining such records as may be necessary to the administration of any similar act of such state. (1937, c. 22, s. 18.)

§ 106-489. Form and provisions of compact. — The compact referred to in § 106-473 shall contain the provisions shown below, subject to such alterations or amendments as shall not be in conflict with the provisions of this article, and as shall be agreed upon from time to time by the states which enter into such compact.

COMPACT

This agreement entered into this ..... day of ..... between the State of ..... by ....., Governor; the State of ..... by ....., Governor; the State of ..... by ....., Governor, and the State of ..... by ....., Governor, Witnesseth:

Whereas, the parties hereto have each enacted a state statute providing for the regulation and control of the production and sale of tobacco in the states, and providing for the protection of the producers' tobacco crops from the adversities of unfavorable weather, crop diseases, and fire; and

Whereas, it is the desire of the parties uniformly to enforce each state statute so as to accomplish the purposes for which each act was enacted:

Now, therefore, the parties do hereby jointly and severally agree as follows:

(1) To co-operate with each other in establishing for each crop year a marketing quota for each state for each kind of tobacco referred to in the respective state statutes with respect to which such state statutes are or will be in effect for such crop year.

(2) To co-operate with each other in formulating such regulations as will assure uniform and effective administration and enforcement of each of the aforesaid state statutes.

(3) Not to depart from or fail to enforce to the best of its ability any regulation concerning the enforcement of the state statutes without the consent of a majority of the members of the tobacco commissions of each of the several parties to this compact.

In witness whereof, the parties have hereunto set their hands as of the day of the year first above written.

Art. 43. Threshers of Wheat.

§ 106-490. Licensing of power threshers. — It shall be the duty of any person, firm or corporation who shall engage in power threshing in any county in North Carolina to first secure a license from the county in which the operator resides: Provided, that securing of a license in one county shall be sufficient to allow the person, firm or corporation to operate in any county of the State. (1935, c. 329, s. 1.)

§ 106-491. Issuance by registers of deeds; expiration date; fee; threshers of own crops exempted. —It shall be the duty of the register of deeds of each of the several counties of the State to issue a license to engage in threshing in that county to any person, firm or corporation applying for same. Every license issued under the provisions of this article shall expire on the first day of April succeeding the date of the issue of such license. To defray the necessary expenses involved, the register of deeds may make a charge not to exceed fifty cents for each license issued: Provided, that operators who thresh their own crops only shall be exempt from any license cost. (1935, c. 329, s. 2.)

§ 106-492. Records and reports of threshers, violation made misdemeanor.—It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation, who shall engage in threshing for others or themselves, in any county of the State, to keep a complete and accurate record of the acreages harvested and amounts threshed for each farm, and to promptly make, upon blanks to be furnished by the register of deeds of the county, reports showing the acreages and the amounts threshed by said person, firm or corporation, in said county during the preceding season. A violation of the provisions of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding twenty-five dollars: Provided, the register of deeds shall give thirty days' notice to the licensee before indictment is made, and if the licensee makes said report within said time no indictment shall be made. (1935, c. 329, s. 3.)

§ 106-493. Public notice of requirements; prosecution for noncompliance.—It shall be the duty of the register of deeds of each of the several counties of the State to give public notice of these requirements before the threshing seasons and to make diligent inquiry as to whether the provisions of § 106-492 have been complied with, and upon failure of any person, firm or corporation to comply with same, to swear out a warrant before some justice of the peace of the county and the procedure thereon shall be as in other criminal cases. (1935, c. 329, s. 4.)

§ 106-494. Report of register of deeds to commissioner of agriculture.—It shall be the duty of the register of deeds of each of the several counties in the State to promptly submit, upon blanks to be furnished by the commissioner of agriculture, a report to the commissioner of agriculture showing the crop acreages harvested and amounts that have been threshed in the said county in the preceding crop season. (1935, c. 329, s. 5.)

§ 106-495. Commissioner to furnish blank forms to registers of deeds; publication of reports.—It shall be the duty of the commissioner of agriculture to furnish to the registers of deeds of the several counties of the State, on or before the first day of May in each year, a sufficient number of blank forms for threshers' licenses, operators' threshing reports, and registers' of deeds summary reports. The commissioner of agriculture shall also collect and publish the county results of these reports prior to the next threshing season. (1935, c. 329, s. 6.)

Art. 44. Unfair Practices by Handlers of Farm Products.

§ 106-496. Protection of producers of farm products against unfair trade practices. — The board of agriculture is hereby authorized to make rules and regulations necessary to protect producers of farm products from loss through financial irresponsibility and unfair, harmful and unethical trade practices of persons, firms and corporations (hereinafter referred to as "handlers") and their agents, who incur financial liability for farm products. (1941, c. 359, s. 1.)

§ 106-497. Permits required of handlers of farm products not operating on cash basis. — No person shall act as a handler of farm products on any basis except a cash basis, until he obtains a permit from the commissioner of agriculture. The commissioner of agriculture may require from each applicant such verified information as he sees fit in order to determine the applicant's financial responsibility and reputation, and the board may make rules and regulations as to issuing permits. (1941, c. 359, s. 2.)

§ 106-498. Establishment of financial responsibility before permit issued; bond. — No such permit shall be issued to any handler who is not operating on a strictly cash basis and who is incurring or may incur financial liability to any grower, until such person, firm, or corporation shall furnish to the commissioner of agriculture sufficient and satisfactory evidence of their ability to carry out their contract or furnish a satisfactory bond in an amount not to exceed ten thousand ($10,000) dollars. The commissioner of agriculture may require a new bond or additional bonds up to the ten thousand dollar ($10,000.00) limit when he finds it necessary for the protection of the producer. Such bonds shall be payable to the state in favor of every contract producer or consignor of farm products, and shall be continued upon compliance with all the provisions of this article, and the faithful fulfilment of all contracts, and for the faithful accounting for and handling of produce by such handler, and for payment to the producer of the net proceeds of all consignments and sales. Any producer claiming to be injured by the fraud, deceit or wilful negligence of any commission merchant or contractor, or by his failure to comply with this article or with the terms of a written contract between such parties, may bring action on the bond against both principal and surety in any court of competent jurisdiction and may recover the damages found by the court to be caused by such acts complained of. (1941, c. 359, s. 3.)

§ 106-499. Contracts between handlers and producers; approval of commissioner.—No handler shall enter into any written contract with a producer in North Carolina, for the production, delivery, or sale of farm products, until he files with the commissioner of agriculture a true copy of the contract and it is examined and approved by the commissioner. The commissioner may withhold his approval in his discretion if he is of the opinion that the contract is illegal or unfair to the producer, or that the contractor is insolvent or financially irresponsible, or if for any other cause it reasonably appears to him that the contract in question might defeat the purpose of this article. (1941, c. 359, s. 4.)

§ 106-500. Additional powers of commissioner to enforce article.—In order to enforce this article, the commissioner of agriculture, upon his own motion or upon the verified complaint of any producer, shall have the following additional powers:

(a) To inspect or investigate transactions for the sale or delivery of farm products to persons acting as handlers; to require verified reports and accounts of all authorized handlers; to examine books, accounts, memoranda, equipment, warehouses, storage, transportation and other facilities, farm products and other articles connected with the business of the handlers; to inquire into failure or refusal of any handlers to accept produce under his contracts and to pay for it as agreed;

(b) To hold hearings after due notice to interested parties and opportunity to all to be heard; to administer oaths, take testimony and issue subpoenas; to require witnesses to bring with them relevant books, papers, and other evidence; to compel testimony; to make written findings of fact and on the basis of these findings to issue orders in controversies before him, and to revoke the permits of persons disobeying the terms of this article or of rules, regulations, and orders made by the board or the commissioner. Any party disobeying any order or subpoena of the commissioner shall be guilty of contempt, and shall be certified to the superior court for punishment. Any party may appeal to the superior court from any final order of the commissioner;

(c) To issue all such rules and regulations, with the approval of the board, and to appoint necessary agents and to do all other lawful things necessary to carry out the purposes of this article. (1941, c. 359, s. 5.)

§ 106-501. Violation of article or rules made misdemeanor.—Any person who violates the provisions of this article or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. (1941, c. 359, s. 6.)

Art. 45. Agricultural Societies and Fairs.

Part 1. State Fair.

§ 106-502. Land set apart. — For the purpose of the holding annually of a State Fair and exposition which will properly represent the agricultural, manufacturing, industrial and other interests of the State of North Carolina, there is hereby dedicated and set apart two hundred acres of land owned by the State or any department thereof within five miles of the State Capitol, the particular acreage to be selected, set apart, and approved by the Governor and Council of the State of North Carolina. (1927, c. 209, s. 1.)

§ 106-503. Board of agriculture to operate fair.—The State Fair provided for in § 106-502, shall be managed, operated and conducted by the board of agriculture established in § 106-2. To that end, said board of agriculture shall, at its first meeting after the ratification of this section, take over said State Fair, together with all the lands, buildings, machinery, etc., located thereon, now belonging to said State Fair and shall hold and conduct said State Fair with all the authority and power conferred upon the former board of directors, and it shall make such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary for the holding and conducting of said Fair, and/or lease said Fair properties so as to provide a State Fair. (1931, c. 360, s. 3.)

§ 106-504. Lands dedicated by State may be repossessed at will of general assembly.—Any lands which may be dedicated and set apart under the provisions of this article may be taken possession of and repossessed by the State of North Carolina, at the will of the General Assembly. (1927, c. 209, s. 4(a).)

Part 2. County Societies.

§ 106-505. Incorporation; powers and term of existence. — Any number of resident persons, not less than ten, may associate together in any county, under written articles of association, subscribed by the members thereof, and specifying the object of the association to encourage and promote agriculture, domestic manufactures, and the mechanic arts, under such name and style as they may choose, and thereby become a body corporate with all the powers incident to such a body, and may take and hold such property, both real and personal, not exceeding ten thousand dollars in value, as may be needful to promote the objects of their association.

The corporate existence shall continue as long as there are ten members, during the will and pleasure of the general assembly. (Rev., ss. 3868, 3869; Code, s. 2220; R. C., c. 2, ss. 6, 7; 1852, c. 2. ss. 1, 2, 3; C. S. 4941.)

§ 106-506. Organization; officers; new members.—Such society shall be organized by the appointment of a president, two vice-presidents, a secretary and treasurer, and such other officers as they may deem proper, who shall thereafter be chosen annually, and hold their places until others shall be appointed. And the society may from time to time, on such conditions as may be prescribed, receive other members of the corporation. (Rev., s. 3869; Code, s. 2221; R. C., c. 2, s. 7; 1852, c. 2, s. 3; C. S. 4942.)

§ 106-507. Exhibits exempt from state and county taxes.—Any society or association organized under the provisions of this chapter, desiring to be exempted from the payment of state, county, and city license taxes on its exhibits, shows, attractions, and amusements, shall each year, not later than sixty (60) days prior to the opening date of its fair, file an application with the commissioner of revenue for a permit to operate without the payment of said tax; said application shall state the various types of exhibits and amusements for which the exemption is asked, and also the date and place they are to be exhibited. The commissioner of revenue shall immediately refer said application to a committee consisting of the president of the North Carolina association of agricultural fairs, the commissioner of agriculture, and the director of the extension service of North Carolina State College for approval or rejection. If the application is approved by said committee, the commissioner of revenue shall issue a permit to said society or association authorizing it to exhibit within its fair grounds and during the period of its fair, without the payment of any state, county, or city license tax, all exhibits, shows, attractions, and amusements as were approved: Provided, however, that the commissioner of revenue shall have the right to cancel said permit at any time upon the recommendation of said committee. Any society or association failing to so obtain a permit from the commissioner of revenue or having its permit canceled shall pay the same state, county, and city license taxes as may be fixed by law for all other persons or corporations exhibiting for profit within the state shows, carnivals, or other attractions. (Rev., s. 3871; 1905, c. 513, s. 2; 1935, c. 371, s. 107; C. S. 4944.)

§ 106-508. Funds to be used in paying premiums.—All moneys so subscribed, as well as that received from the state treasury as herein provided, shall, after paying the necessary incidental expenses of such society, be annually paid for premiums awarded by such societies, in such sums and in such way and manner as they severally, under their by-laws, rules and regulations, shall direct, on such live animals, articles of production, and agricultural implements and tools, domestic manufactures, mechanical implements, tools and productions as are of the growth and manufacture of the county, and also such experiments, discoveries, or attainments in scientific or practical agriculture as are made within the county wherein such societies are respectively organized. (Rev., s. 3873; Code, s. 2223; R. C., c. 2, s. 9; 1852, c. 2, s. 7; C. S. 4945.)

§ 106-509. Annual statements to state treasurer.—Each agricultural society entitled to receive money from the state treasurer shall, through its treasurer, transmit to the treasurer of the state, in the month of December or before, a statement showing the money received from the state, the amount received from the members of the society for the preceding year, the expenditures of all such sums, and the number of the members of such society. (Rev., s. 3874; Code, s. 2224; R. C., c. 2, s. 10; 1852, c. 2, s. 8; C. S. 4946.)

§ 106-510. Publication of statements required.—Each agricultural society receiving money from the state under this chapter shall, in each year, publish at its own expense a full statement of its experiments and improvements, and reports of its committees, in at least one newspaper in the state; and evidence that the requirements of this chapter have been complied with shall be furnished to the state treasurer before he shall pay to such society the sum of fifty dollars for the benefit of such society for the next year. (Rev., s. 3875; Code, s. 2225; R. C., c. 2, s. 11; 1852, c. 2, s. 9; C. S. 4947.)

§ 106-511. Records to be kept; may be read in evidence.—The secretary of such society shall keep a fair record of its proceedings in a book provided for that purpose, which may be read in evidence in suits wherein the corporation may be a party. (Rev., s. 3876; Code, s. 2226; R. C., c. 2, s. 12; 1852, c. 2, s. 5; C. S. 4948.)

Part 3. Protection and Regulation of Fairs.

§ 106-512. Lien against licensees' property to secure charge. — All agricultural fairs which shall grant any privilege, license, or concession to any person, persons, firm, or corporation for vending wares or merchandise within any fair grounds, or which shall rent any ground space for carrying on any kind of business in such fair grounds, either upon stipulated price or for a certain per cent of the receipts taken in by such person, persons, firm, or corporation, shall have the right to retain possession of and shall have a lien upon any or all the goods, wares, fixtures, and merchandise or other property of such person, persons, firm, or corporation until all charges for privileges, licenses, or concessions are paid, or until their contract is fully complied with. (1915, c. 242, s. 1; C. S. 4950.)

§ 106-513. Notice of sale to owner. — Written notice of such sale shall be served on the owner of such goods, wares, merchandise, or fixtures or other property ten days before such sale, if he or it be a resident of the state, but if a nonresident of the state, or his or its residence be unknown, the publication of such notice for ten days at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county shall be sufficient service of the same. (1915, c. 242, s. 2; C. S. 4951.)

§ 106-514. Unlawful entry on grounds a misdemeanor.—If any person, after having been expelled from the fair grounds of any agricultural or horticultural society, shall offer to enter the same again without permission from such society; or if any person shall break over the enclosing structure of said fair grounds and enter the same, or shall enter the enclosure of said fair grounds by means of climbing over, under or through the enclosing structure surrounding the same, or shall enter the enclosure through the gates without the permission of its gatekeeper or the proper officer of said fair association, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3669; Code, s. 2795; 1901, c. 291; 1870-1, c. 184, s. 3; C. S. 4952.)

§ 106-515. Assisting unlawful entry on grounds a misdemeanor.—It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to assist any other person or persons to enter upon the grounds of any fair association when an admission fee is charged, by assisting such other person or persons to climb over or go under the fence or by pulling off a plank or to enter the enclosed grounds by any trick or device or by passing out a ticket or a pass or in any other way. Any violation of this section shall be a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not exceeding twenty dollars or imprisonment not exceeding ten days. (1915, c. 242, ss. 3, 4; C. S. 4953.)

§ 106-516. Vendors and exhibitors near fairs to pay license. — Every person, firm, officer, or agent of any corporation who shall temporarily expose for sale any goods, wares, foods, soft drinks, ice cream, fruits, novelties, or any other kind of merchandise, or who shall operate any merry-go-round, ferris wheel, or any other device for public amusement, within one-fourth of a mile of any agricultural fair during such fair, shall pay a tax of one hundred dollars in each county in which he shall carry on such business, whether as a principal or agent: Provided, this section shall not apply to any business established sixty days prior to the beginning of such fair. (1915, c. 242, s. 5; C. S. 4954.)

§ 106-517. Application for license to county commissioners.—Every such person mentioned in § 106-516 shall apply in advance for a license to the board of county commissioners of the county in which he proposes to peddle, sell, or operate, and the board of county commissioners may in their discretion issue license upon the payment of the tax to the sheriff, which shall expire at the end of twelve months from its date. (1915, c. 242, s. 6; C. S. 4955.)

§ 106-518. Unlicensed vending, etc., near fairs a misdemeanor.—Any person violating the provisions of §§ 106-516 and 106-517 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed fifty dollars or imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, at the discretion of the court. (1915, c. 242, s. 7; C. S. 4956.)

§ 106-519. Commissioners may refuse to license shows within five miles.—The county commissioners of any county in North Carolina in which there is a regularly organized agricultural fair may refuse to allow any circus, menagerie, wild west show, dog and pony show, carnival show, to exhibit within five miles of such fair from its beginning to its ending: Provided, that notice is given the sheriff by the commissioners of said county not to issue such license to said entertainments sixty days prior to the date of such exhibition. (1913, c. 163, s. 1; C. S. 4957.)

§ 106-520. Local aid to agricultural, animal, and poultry exhibits.—Any city, town, or county may appropriate not to exceed one hundred dollars to aid any agricultural, animal, or poultry exhibition held within such city, town, or county. (1919, c. 135; C. S. 4958.)

Art. 46. Erosion Equipment.

§ 106-521. Counties authorized to provide farmers with erosion equipment.—The county commissioners in the several counties of the State are hereby authorized and empowered to purchase the necessary equipment to be used as provided in this article by farmers in the cultivation of their lands in such manner as may best tend to prevent erosion; and they are authorized to put such equipment as they deem necessary for the purpose in the hands of farmers who may apply for the same, either by way of resale to the said farmers, or upon a rental basis, or by guarantee, as may in their judgment be deemed best, of the purchase price of the said equipment directly sold to the said farmers. (1935, c. 172, s. 1.)

§ 106-522. Application for assistance.—Any person or persons, corporation or concern, engaged in the cultivation of a farm or farms in this State may apply to the county commissioners for assistance under this article, stating in the said application as nearly as may be the size or area of the cultivated lands, its condition, the kind of soil, the amount of erosion, if any, the topography of the farm, its present manner of drainage and the kinds of crops usually cultivated thereon. It shall also state what means have been used heretofore, if any, to prevent soil erosion, and specifically the extent to which erosion now exists upon the premises. At any time subsequent to the said application, if relief is extended to him, he shall, when so requested by the said county commissioners or any other person delegated by them to receive the information, make detailed reports as to the condition of his said cultivated lands, the extent to which provision has been made thereon to prevent soil erosion, with the results of same. There shall also be stated in the said application the kind and quantity of equipment which, in the judgment of the applicant, is necessary for use upon his farm. (1935, c. 172, s. 2.)

§ 106-523. Investigation and extending relief.—Upon the filing of such application the county commissioners shall cause due investigation to be made with reference thereto, and for their guidance; shall fully consider the same and if, in their opinion, the relief asked for should be extended, they shall thereupon proceed to supply or have supplied such equipment as in their judgment may be necessary under the circumstances, as provided in this article. (1935, c. 172, s. 3.)

§ 106-524. Purchase of equipment and furnishing to farmers; notes and security from applicants; rental contracts; guarantee of payment. — The county commissioners are authorized and empowered to purchase the equipment by them deemed to be necessary and supply the applicant therewith, upon such terms and conditions of purchase, rental or repayment as may be deemed by them just and proper, and which will save the county from loss in the matter. To that end, they are authorized to accept from the applicant such notes and security, if any by them are deemed necessary, or shall make with them such rental contracts as may be reasonably prudent and safe in the premises. They are further authorized and empowered, when in their judgment it may be deemed advisable, to guarantee the payment to the seller, for such equipment as may be directly purchased by the applicant for the use aforesaid: Provided, however, that the purchase of the said equipment has been previously approved by the county commissioners. (1935, c. 172, s. 4.)

§ 106-525. Guarantee of payment where equipment purchased by federal agencies. — Where the said equipment may be purchased by any federal agency and by it furnished to any person, persons, firm or corporation engaged in the actual cultivation of the soil, the county commissioners are authorized, under such terms and conditions as to them may seem advisable, and as shall conserve the public interest and be just and proper to the county, to guarantee the payment of the purchase price of such equipment in full or the interest upon the obligations made in their purchase, and may do so in full or in part. (1935, c. 172, s. 5.)

§ 106-526. Expense of counties extending relief made lien on premises of applicant.—In the event the county commissioners shall extend any relief under this article, to the extent of the money furnished or the obligation of the county with respect thereto, the same shall be a lien upon the premises, lands and tenements of the owner and applicant for such relief, securing the repayment of the funds furnished by the county and securing the county against any loss by reason of its obligation in any respect, the said lien to be foreclosed in all respects as provided in the law for deeds of trust or real estate mortgages: Provided, however, that in case the county itself has entered into an obligation in order to extend to any persons herein named the relief provided in this article, the county shall not be postponed in its relief until loss is actually incurred by it, but may proceed in accordance with the contract and agreement made with the applicant for relief, and when the obligations of the county in any respect are due: Provided, further, that the lien created by this section shall not be effective as against innocent purchasers for value unless and until notice of such lien shall be docketed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the land lies in the manner and form provided by law for perfecting laborer's or mechanic's liens against real property. (1935, c. 172, s. 6.)

§ 106-527. Counties excepted.—This article shall not apply to the counties of Alleghany, Alexander, Ashe, Avery, Bladen, Buncombe, Camden, Columbus, Cumberland, Davie, Gates, Haywood, Hyde, Jackson, Lincoln, Macon, Madison, Moore, New Hanover, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Rutherford, Sampson, Transylvania, Washington, Watauga, Wilkes, and Yadkin. (1935, c. 172, s. 7; 1937, c. 25.)

Art. 47. State Marketing Authority.

§ 106-528. State policy and purpose of article.—It is declared to be the policy of the state of North Carolina and the purpose of this article to promote, encourage and develop the orderly and efficient marketing of products of the home, farm, sea and forest; to establish, maintain, supervise and control, with the coöperation of counties, cities and towns, centrally located markets for the sale and distribution of such products, so as to promote a steady flow of commodities, properly graded and labelled, into the channels of trade at the time and place to enable the producer to get the market price and the consumer to get a product in keeping with the price paid. (1941, c. 39, s. 1.)

§ 106-529. State marketing authority created; members and officers; commodity advisers; meetings and expenses.—To secure these aims, there is hereby created an incorporated public agency of the state, to be known as the state marketing authority, hereinafter referred to as the "authority." It shall consist of the members of the state board of agriculture, and the commissioner of agriculture shall be the chairman. They shall perform the duties and exercise the powers herein set out as a part of their official duties as members of the board of agriculture. The governor shall appoint from time to time commodity advisers to plan with the authority the programs undertaken in their respective communities. The authority shall elect and prescribe the duties of a secretary-treasurer, who shall not be a member of the authority. He shall give bond in such amount as the authority shall determine in some reliable surety company doing business in North Carolina, and the authority shall pay the premiums. The authority shall meet in regular session annually at a fixed place and date, and shall meet in special session at such other times and places as the chairman may request. The members shall receive no salary, but shall receive actual expenses plus seven dollars per day for actual time spent in performing their duties. (1941, c. 39, s. 2.)

§ 106-530. Powers of authority.—The authority shall have the following powers:

(1) To sue and be sued in its corporate name in any court or before any administrative agency of the state or of the United States, and to enter into agreements with the United States department of agriculture or any other legally constituted state or federal agency, or with any county, city or town in the furtherance of the purposes of this article.

(2) To plan, build, construct, or cause to be built or constructed, or to purchase, lease or acquire the use of any warehouses or other facilities that may be necessary for the successful operation by the authority of wholesale markets for products of the home, farm, sea and forest at chosen points in North Carolina. The authority may make such contracts as may be needed for these purposes. In no case shall the authority be responsible for any rent except from the income of the market in excess of other operating expenses. The authority may select and employ for each market capable managers, who shall be familiar with the problems of the grower and the distributor, and of the marketing of farm products, and who shall have the business ability and training to operate a market and to plan for its proper development and growth in order best to serve the interests of producers, distributors, consumers in the area, and the general public. The managers may employ assistants and agents with the approval of the authority. The authority may make such regulations as will promote the policy of this article, as to the manner in which the markets shall be operated, the business conducted, and stalls sublet to dealers.

(3) To fix the terms upon which individual, coöperative or corporate wholesale merchants, warehouses or warehousemen may place their facilities or services under the supervision and regulation of the authority. The authority may extend to any such wholesale merchants, warehouses or warehousemen marketing benefits in the form of inspection, market informational and news service and may make regulations as to the operation of such facilities or services and as to forms, reports, handling, grades, weights, packages, labels, and other standards for the products handled by such merchants, warehouses or warehousemen.

(4) To fix rentals and charges for each type of service or facility in the markets under its control, taking into consideration the cost of such facility or service, the interest and amortization period required, a proper relationship between types of operators in the market, cost of operation, and the need for reasonable reserves for repairs, depreciation, expansion, and similar items. These rentals and charges shall not bring any profit to any agency over and above the costs of operation, necessary reserves, and debt service.

(5) To issue permits to itinerant dealers in intrastate commerce, who express a willingness to come under the program of the state marketing authority. Such permits shall enable the holders to solicit orders and to buy and sell produce under the rules and regulations of the authority and in conformance with §§ 106-185 to 106-196 and not inconsistent with the United States Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act, one thousand nine hundred and thirty (46 Stat. 531).

(6) To issue bonds and other securities to obtain funds to acquire, construct, and equip warehouses to be used in carrying out the purposes of this article. The bonds shall be entitled "North Carolina Marketing Authority Bonds" and shall be issued in such form and denominations and shall mature at such time or times, not exceeding thirty years after their date, and shall bear such interest, not exceeding five per cent per annum, payable either annually or semi-annually, as the authority shall determine. They shall be signed by the chairman of the authority, and the corporate seal affixed or impressed upon each bond and attested by the secretary-treasurer of the authority. The coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of the chairman officiating when the bonds are issued. Any issue of these bonds and notes may be sold publicly, or at private sale for not less than par to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other state or federal agency, or may be given in exchange to any county, city, town or individual for the lease or purchase of property to be used by the authority. To secure such indebtedness, the authority may give mortgages or deeds of trust, executed in the same manner as the bonds, on the property purchased or acquired, and may pledge the revenues from the markets in excess of operating expenses, interest and insurance: Provided, that each market shall be operated on a separate financial basis, and only such revenues and properties of each separate market shall be liable for the obligations of that market. No obligations incurred by the authority shall be obligations of the state of North Carolina or any of its political subdivisions, or a burden on the taxpayers of the state or any political subdivision. This does not prevent the state or any of its agencies, departments or institutions, or any private or public agency from making a contribution to the authority, in money or services or otherwise.

Bonds and notes issued under this article shall be exempt from all state, county or municipal taxes or assessments of any kind; the interest shall not be taxable as income, nor shall the notes, bonds, nor coupons be taxable as part of the surplus of any bank, trust company or other corporation.

Any resolution or resolutions authorizing any bonds shall contain provisions which shall be a part of the contract with the holders of the bonds, as to:

(a) Pledging the fees, rentals, charges, dues, tolls, and inspection and sales fees, and other revenues to secure payment of the bonds;

(b) the rates of the fees or tolls to be charged for the use of the facilities of the warehouse or warehouses, and the use and disposition of the revenues from its operation;

(c) the setting aside of reserves or working funds, and the regulation and disposition thereof;

(d) limitations on the purposes to which the proceeds of sale of any issue of bonds may be applied;

(e) limitations on the issuance of additional bonds; and

(f) the procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with bondholders may be amended or abrogated, the amount of bonds the holders of which must consent thereto, and the manner in which such consent may be given.

(7) To accept grants in aid or free work.

(8) To adopt, use and alter a corporate seal.

(9) To dispossess tenants for nonpayment of rent and for failure to abide by the regulations of the authority.

(10) To hire necessary agents, engineers, and attorneys, and to do all things necessary to carry out the powers granted by this article. (1941, c. 39, s. 3.)

§ 106-531. Discrimination prohibited; restriction on use of funds.—The authority shall not permit:

(1) Any discrimination against the sale, on any of the markets under their control, of any farm product because of type of operator or area of production.

(2) The use of any of its funds for any purpose other than for the support, necessary expansion, and operation of this state marketing system, or the use of any of its funds to establish any retail market or to build or furnish more than one market in any town. (1941, c. 39, s. 4.)

§ 106-532. Fiscal year; annual report to governor.—The authority shall operate on a fiscal year, which shall be from July first to June thirtieth. The commissioner of agriculture shall file an annual report with the governor containing a statement of receipts and disbursements and the purposes of such disbursements, and a complete statement of the financial condition of the authority, and an account of its activities for the year. (1941, c. 39, s. 5.)

§ 106-533. Application of revenues from operation of warehouses. — All rentals and charges, fees, tolls, storage and sales commissions and revenues of any sort from operation of each warehouse shall be applied to the payment of the cost of operating and administering the warehouse and market facilities including interest on bonds and other evidences of indebtedness issued therefor, and the cost of insurance against loss by injury to persons or property, and the balance shall be paid to the secretary-treasurer of the authority and be used to provide a sinking fund to pay at or before maturity all bonds and notes and other evidences of indebtedness incurred for and on behalf of the building, constructing, maintaining and operating of each warehouse. A separate sinking fund account shall be kept for each market, and no market shall be liable for the obligations of any other market. (1941, c. 39, s. 6.)

§ 106-534. Exemption from taxes and assessments. — The authority shall be regarded as performing an essential governmental function in constructing, operating or maintaining these markets, and shall be required to pay no taxes or assessments on any property acquired or used by it for the purposes herein set out. (1941, c. 39, s. 7.)

Art. 48. Relief of Potato Farmers.

§ 106-535. Guaranty of minimum price to growers of Irish potatoes under share planting system. —From and after March 15, 1941, every person, firm, or association or corporation engaged in the practice of supplying growers of Irish potatoes in this state with seed potatoes and fertilizer and other supplies for the purpose of growing a crop of Irish potatoes under the system commonly known as the share planting system and who enter into a contract with such grower and/or growers on or before planting them to furnish such grower with seed potatoes, fertilizer or other necessary supplies, or to perform services in connection with the gathering of such crop and marketing the same, shall at the time of entering into such contract, agree in writing, with such grower that he or it will guarantee that the grower shall receive at the time such potatoes are marketed an amount of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) for each bag of seed potatoes planted by the grower or growers from such person, firm, association or corporation who, under the agreement, furnished such seed potatoes and other supplies to the grower or growers thereof. (1941, c. 354, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Bladen, Durham, Greene, Lenoir, Pender, Randolph, Rockingham, Sampson and Union: 1941, c. 354, s. 5.

§ 106-536. Additional net profits due grower not affected. — The minimum amount to be paid the grower by those furnishing said supplies under the terms of this article shall in no wise affect any additional net profit due the grower, should any such additional profits be shown. (1941, c. 354, s. 2.)

§ 106-537. Minimum payments only compensation for labor and use of equipment, land, etc. — The payment of the stipulated ten dollars ($10.00) per bag of said seed potatoes furnished said grower or growers by any firm, person, association or corporation shall be compensation only for labor and work done and for the use of any animal or machine and equipment used or furnished by said grower or growers, and also use of land in growing said potato crop, and this amount shall be paid to said grower from returns from said crops so produced; and the said ten dollars ($10.00) shall not be computed as any part of any other expenses furnished by said person, firm, association or corporation furnishing other materials or supplies for the purpose of said share planting. (1941, c. 354, s. 3.)

§ 106-538. Time of payments; article not applicable to landlord-tenant contracts.—The said sum of ten dollars ($10.00) per bag of seed potatoes shall be paid to said grower or growers by said firm, person, association or corporation as herein provided, for share planting of potatoes, not later than thirty (30) days after the delivery of last potatoes grown under the share planting contract existing between said grower or growers and the said person, firm, association or corporation: Provided that nothing in this article shall apply to contracts entered into between landowners and their respective tenants. (1941, c. 354, s. 4.)

107-12. Payment for work done.
107-13. Record book kept by clerk.
107-14. Assessment rolls; preparation; contents; execution.
107-15. Filing and collection of assessment rolls; to be lien on land.
107-16. When assessments due; sale of delinquent lands.
107-17. Settlement by tax collector.
107-18. Payment of interest and installments on bonds; county treasurer's liability.
107-19. New assessment on sale of land.
107-20. Advertisement of intention to issue bonds.
107-21. Landowner's waiver.
107-22. Bond issue.
107-23. Fees allowed sheriff and treasurer.
107-24. Fees and expenses under chapter.
107-25. Liberal construction; defects in proceeding.

§ 107-1. Clerk's power to establish; public use. —The clerk of the superior court (hereinafter called the "clerk" or "the court") of any county of the state of North Carolina shall have jurisdiction, power, and authority to establish agricultural development districts in his county for the purpose of clearing and putting in suitable condition for the beginning of cultivation good grades of lands, forested or cut-over, suitable for agriculture, and it is hereby declared that the said development shall be considered a public benefit and conducive to the public welfare. (1917, c. 131, s. 1; C. S. 4959.)

§ 107-2. Landowners' petition and deposits. — Whenever a petition signed by all the landowners in a proposed agricultural development district shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of any county in which a part of said lands is located, setting forth and certifying that it is their desire and intention to form an agricultural development district (hereinafter called "the district") of an area aggregating not less than one thousand acres, and that it is their purpose, when cleared and put into condition for cultivation, to sell the said land to settlers on long time terms and at reasonable prices.

They shall deposit with the clerk—

a. A certified check for not less than one thousand dollars, plus ten cents per acre for each additional acre in the proposed district, from which funds the clerk shall from time to time meet the actual expenses of examining and verifying and other expenses incidental to forming the district.

b. A complete map of the lands to be included in the district.

c. A soil map showing the types of soils.

d. A drainage map showing the natural drainage of the lands, and any proposed system of drainage it is intended to establish.

e. Certificates of title by a reputable attorney of the county.

f. An estimate of the cost of improvements under the plan submitted.

g. A certificate that the lands when improved will have a market value of at least twice the amount of the total cost of the proposed improvement. (1917, c. 131, s. 2; C. S. 4960.)

§ 107-3. Viewers' appointment. — The clerk shall then appoint a board of viewers (hereinafter called "the viewers"), composed of three members, one a competent civil engineer and the other two practical agriculturists, to examine the lands and data submitted to the clerk by the landowners, and report as to the facts being virtually as stated, or to give their opinion as to any variations. (1917, c. 131, s. 2; C. S. 4961.)

§ 107-4. Viewers' report. — Their written report shall be filed within two weeks from the date of their appointment. The clerk shall consider this report. If the viewers report that the project is not practicable or will not be for the public welfare, and the clerk shall approve such findings, the petition shall be dismissed at the cost of the petitioners. (1917, c. 131, s. 2; C. S. 4962.)

§ 107-5. Plan submitted to department of conservation and development.—If the viewers report that the project is practicable, and that it will be for the public welfare and conducive to the general welfare of the community, and the court shall so find, then all of the data and reports of the proceedings shall be submitted to the department of conservation and development, who shall designate:

1. An engineer to survey and approve of the boundaries and drainage and road plans.

2. An attorney of reputation to examine and approve of the chains of title submitted.

3. A forester to make an estimate of the cost of clearing.

4. A soil expert to report on the availability of the land for agricultural purposes. (1917, c. 131, s. 3; C. S. 4963.)

§ 107-6. District established, if department approves.—The department of conservation and development shall consider these reports, data, and plans, and, if he approves the same, shall so certify to the clerk of the court, who shall then declare the district established. (1917, c. 131, s. 3; C. S. 4964.)

§ 107-7. Board of agricultural development commissioners appointed. — After the said district shall have been declared established as aforesaid, and the complete plans therefor approved, the clerk shall appoint two persons, one of whom shall be a landowner of the district, the other a practical agriculturist of good character, not a landowner of the district, and these two shall choose a third, who may or may not be a landowner of the district, and the three so appointed and chosen shall be designated as the Board of Agricultural Development Commissioners of ..... District. (1917, c. 131, s. 4; C. S. 4965.)

§ 107-8. Commissioners incorporated; powers; officers; superintendent's bond. — Such commissioners when so appointed and chosen shall be immediately created a body corporate under the name and style of the Board of Agricultural Development Commissioners of .... District (hereinafter called "the commissioners" or "the board of commissioners"), with the right to hold property and convey the same, to sue and be sued, and shall possess such other powers as usually pertain to corporations. They shall organize by electing from among their number a chairman and vice-chairman. They shall also elect a secretary, within or without their body, and shall adopt by-laws for the government of their proceedings. The treasurer of the county in which the proceedings are instituted shall be ex officio treasurer of such board of commissioners. Such board of commissioners shall adopt a seal, which it may alter at pleasure. They shall have and possess such powers as are herein granted. The name of such district shall constitute a part of its corporate name. The commissioners shall appoint a competent person as superintendent of construction; such person shall furnish a bond, to be approved by the commissioners, in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned upon the honest and faithful performance of his duties. Such bond shall be in favor of the board of commissioners. In the event of any vacancy in the membership of the board of commissioners the remaining members shall fill such vacancy, subject to the approval of the court. (1917, c. 131, s. 4; C. S. 4966.)

§ 107-9. Classification of lands according to benefits.—It shall be the further duty of the viewers to personally examine the lands in the district and classify them with reference to the benefits they will receive from the improvements to be made. The land benefits shall be separated into five classes. The land receiving the highest benefit shall be marked Class A; that receiving the next highest benefit, Class B; that receiving the next highest benefit, Class C; that receiving the next highest benefit, Class D; and that receiving the smallest benefit, Class E. The holdings of any one landowner need not necessarily be all in one class, but the number of acres in each class shall be ascertained, though its boundary need not be marked on the ground or shown on the map. The total number of acres owned by one person in each class and the total number of acres benefited shall be determined, and the total number of acres in each class in the entire district shall be ascertained and presented in tabulated form. The scale of assessment upon the several classes of land returned by the viewers shall be in the ratio of five, four, three, two, and one; that is to say, as often as five cents per acre is assessed against the land in Class A, four cents per acre shall be assessed against the land in Class B, and three cents per acre in Class C, and two cents per acre in Class D, and one cent per acre in Class E. This shall form the basis of assessment for benefits to the lands of the district. (1917, c. 131, s. 5; C. S. 4967.)

§ 107-10. Appeal from viewers' report. — Any party aggrieved may, within ten days after the confirmation of the viewers' report, appeal to the superior court in term-time. Such an appeal shall be taken and prosecuted as now provided in special proceedings. Such an appeal shall be based and heard only upon such exceptions theretofore filed by the complaining party, either as to issue of law or fact, and no additional exceptions shall be considered by the court upon the hearing of the appeal. (1917, c. 131, s. 6; C. S. 4968.)

§ 107-11. Letting contract for construction. — The commissioners shall cause notice to be given for two consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the county wherein said district is located, and such additional publication elsewhere as they deem expedient, of time and place of letting the work of construction, and in such notice they shall specify the approximate amount of work to be done, the time fixed for the completion thereof, and the date appointed for the letting. They, together with the superintendent of the district, shall convene and let to the lowest responsible bidder, either as a whole or in part, or in sections, as they deem most advantageous for the district, the proposed work. The landowners may bid on the work, and in the event of their securing the contract, the work shall be done at actual cost, it being distinctly understood that the landowners are to receive no profit from said contract, and any saving effected shall inure to the benefit of the district. No bids shall be entertained that exceed the estimated cost, except for good and satisfactory reasons it shall be shown that the original estimate was erroneous. The commissioners shall have the right to reject all bids and advertise again the work, if in their judgment the interest of the district will be subserved by so doing. The successful bidder shall be required to enter into a contract with the board of commissioners, and to execute a bond for the faithful performance of such contract, with sufficient surety, in favor of the board of commissioners for the use and benefit of the district, in an amount equal to twenty-five per centum of the estimated cost of the work awarded to him. In canvassing bids and letting the contract the superintendent of construction shall act only in an advisory capacity to the board of commissioners. The contract shall be based on the plans and specifications submitted by the commissioners in a report, and confirmed by the court, the original of which shall remain on file in the office of the clerk and shall be open to the inspection of all prospective bidders. All bids shall be sealed and shall not be opened except under authority of the commissioners, and on the date therefor appointed for the opening of bids. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for three per centum of the amount of the bid. (1917, c. 131, s. 7; C. S. 4969.)

§ 107-12. Payment for work done. — The superintendent of construction shall make monthly estimates of the amount of work done and shall furnish one copy to the contractor and file the other with the secretary of the board of commissioners, and the commissioners shall within five days after filing of such estimate meet and direct the secretary to draw a warrant in favor of the contractor for ninety per centum of the work done according to the specifications and contract; and upon the presentation of such, properly signed by the chairman or vice-chairman and secretary, to the treasurer of the district, he shall pay the amount due thereon. When the work is fully completed and accepted by the superintendent, he shall make an estimate for the whole amount due, including the amounts withheld on the previous monthly estimates, which shall be paid from the fund as before provided. In the event that the landowners receive the contract, the monthly payments shall cover only the actual cost of the work, as certified by the superintendent of construction, to whose certificates shall be attached all payrolls and vouchers. If any contractor to whom said work shall have been let shall fail to perform the same according to the terms specified in his contract, action may be had in behalf of the commissioners against such contractor and his bond in the superior court, for damages sustained in the district, and recovery made against such contractor and his sureties. In such an event the work shall be advertised and relet in the same manner as the original letting. (1917, c. 131, s. 8; C. S. 4970.)

§ 107-13. Record book kept by clerk.—The clerk shall provide a suitable book to be known as the Record Book of the Agricultural Development Commissioners of ..... District, in which he shall cause to be recorded every petition, motion, order, record, judgment, or finding of the board of commissioners in every transaction which may come before it, in such a way as to make a complete and continuous record of the case; copies of all the maps and plans are to be furnished by the commissioners, and marked by the clerk "Official Copy," which shall be kept on file by him in his office, and one of the copies shall be pasted or otherwise attached to his record. (1917, c. 131, s. 9; C. S. 4971.)

§ 107-14. Assessment rolls; preparation; contents; execution.—After the classification of the land and ratios of assessment of the different classes to be made thereon has been confirmed by the court, the commissioners shall ascertain the total cost of improvement, including all incidental expenses, and shall certify under the hand of the chairman and secretary of the board of commissioners to the clerk the said total cost, and said certificate shall be forthwith recorded in the record book and open to the inspection of any landowner in the district. The commissioners shall immediately prepare in duplicate the assessment rolls or agricultural improvement tax lists, giving therein the names of the owners of the land in the district as ascertained from the public records, a brief description of the several tracts of land assessed, and the assessment against each tract of land. The first of these assessment rolls shall provide assessments sufficient for the payment of interest on the bond issue to accrue the third year after their issue and the installment of principal to fall due at the expiration of the third year after the date of issue, together with such amounts as shall have to be paid for the collection and handling of the same. The second assessment roll shall make like provision for the fourth year, and in like manner assessment rolls shall make provision for each succeeding year during the life of the bonds. Each of the said assessment rolls shall specify the time when collectible, and shall be numbered in their order, and the amounts assessed against the several tracts of land shall be in accordance with the benefits received, as shown by the classification and ratio of the assessment made by the viewers. These assessment rolls shall be signed by the clerk and by the secretary of the board of commissioners. (1917, c. 131, s. 10; C. S. 4972.)

§ 107-15. Filing and collection of assessment rolls; to be lien on land.—One copy of each of said assessment rolls shall be filed in the record book and one copy shall be delivered to the sheriff or other county tax collector, after the clerk has appended thereto an order directing the collection of said assessment, and the said assessment shall thereupon have the force and effect of a judgment as in the case of state and county taxes. These assessments shall constitute a first and paramount lien, second only to state and county taxes, upon the lands assessed for the payment of the bonds and interest thereon as they become due, and shall be collected in the same manner, by the same officers, as the state and county taxes are collected. (1917, c. 131, s. 10; C. S. 4973.)

§ 107-16. When assessments due; sale of delinquent lands.—The said assessments shall be due and payable on the first Monday in September each year, and if the same shall not be paid in full by the thirty-first day of December following, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to sell the land or lands so delinquent. The sale of lands for failure to pay such assessments shall be made at the courthouse door in the county in which the lands are located, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and four o'clock in the afternoon, on the first Monday of February of each year; and if for any necessary cause the sale cannot be made on that date, the sale may be continued from day to day for not exceeding four days, or the land may be readvertised and sold on the first Monday in March succeeding, during the same hours, without any order therefor. In all other respects, except as to the time of the sale of the land, the existing laws as to the collection of state and county taxes shall have application to the collection of assessments under this article. (1917, c. 131, s. 10; C. S. 4974.)

§ 107-17. Settlement by tax collector.—It shall be the duty of the sheriff or tax collector to pay over to the county treasurer promptly the moneys so collected by him upon said tax assessments, to the end that the said treasurer may have funds in hand to meet the payment of interest and principal due upon outstanding bonds as they mature. (1917, c. 131, s. 10; C. S. 4975.)

§ 107-18. Payment of interest and installments on bonds; county treasurer's liability.—It shall be the duty of the county treasurer, and without any previous order from the commissioners, to provide and pay the installments of interest at the time and place as evidenced by the coupons attached to said bonds, and also to pay the annual installments of principal due on said bonds at the time and place as evidenced by said bonds; and the said county treasurer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject, on conviction, to fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, if he shall neglect or fail to make prompt payment of said interest and principal of said bonds, and shall likewise be liable in a civil action for all damages which may accrue to the board of commissioners or holders of said bonds, to either or both of which a right of action is hereby given. (1917, c. 131, s. 10; C. S. 4976.)

§ 107-19. New assessment on sale of land.—When any land in the district is sold, as provided in § 107-16, the court shall assess the new owner thereof, and deduct the amount of the new assessment from the assessment of the former owner, and correct the assessment rolls accordingly. (1917, c. 131, s. 10; C. S. 4977.)

§ 107-20. Advertisement of intention to issue bonds.—The commissioners shall give notice for three weeks, by publication in some newspaper published in the county in which the district or a part of the district is situated, and shall also post a written or printed notice at the door of the courthouse and at five conspicuous places in the district, reciting that they propose to issue bonds for the payment of the total cost of improvement, giving the amount of the bonds to be issued, the rate of interest they are to bear, and the time when payable. Any landowner in the district not wanting to pay interest on the bonds may within fifteen days after the publication of said notice pay to the county treasurer the full amount for which his land is liable, to be assessed from the classification sheet and certificate of the board of commissioners, showing the total cost of improvements, and have his lands released from liability to be assessed for such improvements. (1917, c. 131, s. 11; C. S. 4978.)

§ 107-21. Landowner's waiver.—Each and every person owning land in the district who shall fail to pay to the county treasurer the full amount for which his land is liable as aforesaid, within the time above specified, shall be deemed as consenting to the issuance of the bonds, and in consideration of the right to pay his proportion in installments, he hereby waives his right of defense to the payment of any assessment which may be levied for the payment of the bonds because of any irregularity or defect in the proceedings prior to this time, except in the case of an appeal as hereinbefore provided, which is not affected by this waiver. (1917, c. 131, s. 12; C. S. 4979.)

§ 107-22. Bond issue.—At the expiration of fifteen days after the expiration of the notice of the bond issue, the board of commissioners may issue bonds of the district for an amount equal to the total estimated cost of the improvements, less such amounts as shall have been paid in in cash to the county treasurer, plus an amount sufficient to pay interest on the bond issue for the three years next following the date of the issue: Provided, that the total principal amount of the bonds to be issued shall not exceed fifty dollars per acre for the land to be improved.

These bonds shall bear six per cent interest per annum, payable semiannually, and shall be paid in twenty equal installments. The first installment of the principal shall mature at the expiration of three years from the date of issue, and one installment for each succeeding year for nineteen additional years. The commissioners shall sell these bonds at not less than par and apply the proceeds to the payment of interest on said bonds for the three years next following the date of issue, and the payment of other expenses of the district provided for in this chapter. The proceeds from such bonds shall be for the exclusive use of the district specified on their face. The bonds shall be numbered by the board of commissioners and recorded in the record book, which record shall set out specifically the lands embraced in the district on which the tax has not been paid in full, which land is to be assessed as hereinbefore provided. If any installment of principal or interest represented by said bonds shall not be paid at the time and in the manner when the same shall be due and payable, and such default shall continue for a period of six months, the holder or holders of such bond or bonds upon which default has been made shall have a right of action against said district, or the board of commissioners of said district, wherein the court may issue a writ of mandamus against said district, its officers, including the tax collector and treasurer, directing the levying of a tax or specific assessment as herein provided and the collection of the same in such sum as may be necessary to meet any unpaid installment of principal and interest and the cost of said action; and such other remedies are hereby vested in the holder or holders of such bond or bonds in default as may be authorized by law; and the right of action is hereby vested in the holder or holders of such bond or bonds upon which default has been made authorizing them to institute suit against any officer on his official bond for failure to perform any duty imposed by the provisions of this chapter. The official bonds of the tax collector and the county treasurer shall be liable for the faithful performance of the duties herein assigned them. Such official bonds may be increased by the board of county commissioners. (1917, c. 131, s. 13; C. S. 4980.)

§ 107-23. Fees allowed sheriff and treasurer. — The fee allowed the sheriff or the tax collector for collecting the tax as prescribed in this chapter shall be two per centum of the amount collected, and the fee allowed the county treasurer for disbursing the revenue obtained from the sale of the bonds shall be one per centum of the amount disbursed: Provided, no fee shall be allowed to the sheriff or other tax collector, or to the county treasurer, for collecting or receiving the revenue obtained from the sale of said bonds, nor for disbursing the revenue raised for paying off said bonds: Provided further, that in those counties where the sheriff, tax collector, and treasurer are on a salary basis, no fee whatever shall be allowed for collecting or disbursing the funds of the district. (1917, c. 131, s. 13, (2d); C. S. 4981.)

§ 107-24. Fees and expenses under chapter. — Any engineer employed under the provisions of this chapter shall receive such compensation for his services as shall be fixed and determined by the commissioners. The viewers, other than the engineer, shall receive five dollars per day; the rodman, axeman, chainman, and other laborers shall receive not to exceed two dollars per day. All other fees and costs incurred under the provisions of this chapter shall be the same as are usual for like services in other cases. Said costs and expenses shall be paid, by order of the court, out of the funds provided for that purpose, and the board of commissioners shall issue warrants therefor when funds shall be in the hands of the treasurer. Any engineer, viewer, superintendent of construction, or other person appointed under this chapter may be removed by the court, upon petition, for corruption, neglect of duty, or other good and satisfactory cause shown. (1917, c. 131, s. 14; C. S. 4982.)

§ 107-25. Liberal construction; defects in proceeding.—The provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed to promote the objects herein declared and for the general welfare of the state. The collection of assessments shall not be defeated, whether proper notices have been given, by reason of any defect in the proceedings occurring prior to the order of the court confirming the final report of the commissioners; but such orders shall be conclusive and final that all prior proceedings were regular and according to law, unless they were appealed from. If on appeal the court shall deem it just and proper to release any person, or modify his assessment or liability, it shall in no manner affect the rights and legality of any other person than the appellant, and the failure to appeal from the order of the court within the time specified shall be a waiver of any illegality in the proceedings, and the remedies provided for in this chapter shall exclude all other remedies. (1917, c. 131, s. 15; C. S. 4983.)

Art. 1. State Board of Charities and Public Welfare.

§ 108-1. Election, term of office, and compensation.—There shall be elected by the general assembly, upon the recommendation of the governor, seven persons who shall be styled "The State Board of Charities and Public Welfare," and at least one of such persons shall be a woman. At the session of the general assembly for the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen all the members of such board shall be elected, three for a term of two years, two for a term of four years, and two for a term of six years, and thereafter the term shall be six years for all. The election shall be by a concurrent vote of the general assembly, and appointments to fill vacancies in the board arising from any cause whatsoever, except expiration of term, shall be made for the residue of such term by the governor. The governor shall designate the chairman of the board so selected, which chairmanship so designated may be changed as the governor may deem best to promote the efficiency of the service. The members of the board shall serve without pay, except that they shall receive their necessary expenses: Provided, however, that the chairman of the said board, when acting as a member of the state board of allotments and appeal—established in article 3 of this chapter—shall receive a per diem to be fixed by the director of the budget, together with actual expenses incurred in attending meetings. (Rev., s. 3913; Code, s. 2331; 1868-9, c. 170, s. 1; 1909, c. 500; 1917, c. 170, s. 1; 1937, c. 319, s. 1; C. S. 5004.)

§ 108-2. Meetings of board.—The board shall hold meetings at least quarterly, and whenever called in session by the chairman, and shall make such rules and orders for the regulation of its own proceedings as it deems proper. (Rev., ss. 2807, 3914; Code, s. 2332; 1868-9, c. 170, s. 2; 1909, c. 899; 1917, c. 170, s. 1; C. S. 5005.)

§ 108-3. Powers and duties of board.—The board shall have the following powers and duties, to-wit:

1. To investigate and supervise, through and by its own members or its agents or employees, the whole system of the charitable and penal institutions of the state, and to recommend such changes and additional provisions as it may deem needful for their economical and efficient administration.

2. To study the subjects of nonemployment, poverty, vagrancy, housing conditions, crime, public amusement, care and treatment of prisoners, divorce and wife desertion, the social evil and kindred subjects and their causes, treatment, and prevention, and the prevention of any hurtful social condition.

3. To study and promote the welfare of the dependent and delinquent child and to provide, either directly or through a bureau of the board, for the placing and supervision of dependent, delinquent, and defective children.

4. To inspect and make report on private orphanages, institutions, maternity homes, and persons or organizations receiving and placing children, and to require such institutions to submit such annual reports and information as the state board may determine: Provided, that the term "maternity homes" used hereinbefore in this sub-section shall be construed to include institutions or homes maintained not only for the purpose of receiving pregnant women for care previous to, during and following delivery, but institutions or lying-in homes wherein pregnant women are received for care previous to and following delivery, the said delivery taking place in a hospital to which this statute does not apply.

5. To grant license for one year to such persons or agencies to carry on such work as it believes is needed and is for the public good, and is conducted by reputable persons or organizations, and to revoke such license when in its opinion the public welfare or the good of the children therein is not being properly subserved; Provided, subsection five shall not apply to any orphanage chartered by the laws of the State of North Carolina, owned by a religious denomination or a fraternal order, and having a plant and assets not less than sixty thousand dollars ($60,000), nor shall it apply to orphanages operated by fraternal orders, under charters of other states, which have complied with the corporation laws of North Carolina and have that amount of property.

6. To issue bulletins and have same printed and in other ways to inform the public as to social conditions and the proper treatment and remedies for social evils.

7. To issue subpœnas and compel attendance of witnesses, administer oaths, and to send for persons and papers whenever it deems it necessary in making the investigations provided for herein or in the other discharge of its duties, and to give such publicity to its investigations and findings as it may deem best for the public welfare.

8. To employ, by and with the approval of the governor, a trained investigator of social service problems who shall be known as the commissioner of public welfare, and to employ such other inspectors, officers, and agents as it may deem needful in the discharge of its duties.

9. To recommend to the legislature social legislation and the creation of necessary institutions.

10. To have the authority to establish, maintain and provide rules and regulations for the administration of a system of personnel standards on a merit basis with a uniform schedule of compensation for all employees of the state board and of the county welfare departments: Provided, that the compensation schedule for employees of the state board shall be established in conformity with the provisions of the State Personnel Act.

11. To attend, either through its members or agents, social service conventions and similar conventions, and to assist in promoting all helpful publicity tending to improve social conditions of the state, and to pay out of the funds appropriated to the state board office expenses, salaries of employees, and all other expenses incurred in carrying out the duties and powers hereinbefore set out.

12. To receive, hold and administer for the purposes for which it is organized, any funds donated to it, either by will or deed, and to administer said funds in accordance with the instructions of the will or deed creating them.

13. To accept donations and gifts or any and all kinds of commodities, services or moneys which may be donated or given by the Federal or State government, or by any political subdivision of the State. Such donations shall be used exclusively by said board for relief purposes in this State, and said board is hereby fully authorized and empowered, under rules and regulations adopted by it, to provide for the distribution thereof.

14. To furnish to the Federal Government, or any of its agencies, such services as may be required in selecting. certifying, or referring persons who may be eligible for Civilian Conservation Corps, or persons who may be eligible for employment by the Work Projects Administration, the Resettlement Administration, the Surplus Commodities Corporation, or any other agency of the Federal Government engaged in relief or Allied activities. The State Board of Charities and Public Welfare is also authorized to certify to the Surplus Commodities Corporation the persons eligible to receive such commodities as may be distributed for relief purposes. (Rev., ss. 3914, 3915; Code, ss. 2332, 2333; 1868-9, c. 170, s. 3; 1917, c. 170, s. 1; 1919, c. 46, ss. 1, 2; 1925, c. 90, ss. 1, 2; 1927, c. 65; 1931, c. 175; 1937, c. 319, s. 2; 1937, c. 436, ss. 3, 5; 1941, c. 270, s. 1; C. S. 5006.)

§ 108-4. Investigate and report on mental and physical infirmities. — The board shall also give special attention to the causes of insanity, defect or loss of the several senses, idiocy, and the deformity and infirmity of the physical organization. They shall, besides their own observation, avail themselves of correspondence and exchange of facts of the labors of others in these departments, and thus be able to afford the general assembly data to guide them in future legislation for the amelioration of the condition of the people, as well as to contribute to enlighten public opinion and direct it to interests so vital to the prosperity of the state. The state board shall keep and report statistics of the matters hereinbefore referred to and shall compile these reports and analyze them with a view of determining and removing the cause in order to prevent crime and distress. (Rev., s. 3916; Code, s. 2334; 1868-9, c. 170, s. 4; 1917, c. 170, s. 1; C. S. 5007.)

§ 108-5. Inspection of county prisons; reports required. — The state board shall have power to inspect county jails, county homes, and all prisons and prison camps and other institutions of a penal or charitable nature, and to require reports from sheriffs of counties and superintendents of public welfare and other county officers in regard to the conditions of jails or almshouses, or in regard to the number, sex, age, physical and mental condition, criminal record, occupation, nationality and race of inmates, or such other information as may be required by the state board. The plans and specifications of all new jails and almshouses shall, before the beginning of the construction thereof, be submitted for approval to the state board. (Rev., s. 3917; Code, s. 2335; 1868-9, c. 170, s. 5; 1917, c. 170, s. 1; C. S. 5008.)

§ 108-6. Biennial reports to general assembly. —The state board shall biennially prepare and submit to the general assembly a complete and full report of its doings during the preceding two years, showing the actual condition of all the state institutions under its supervision, with such suggestions as it may deem necessary and pertinent, which shall be printed, and shall report such other matters as it may think for the benefit of the people of the state. (Rev., s. 3918; Code, s. 2338; 1868-9, c. 170, s. 8; 1870-1, c. 106; 1917, c. 170, s. 1; C. S. 5009.)

§ 108-7. Attention secured for insane and other unfortunates. — Whenever the board shall have reason to believe that any insane person, not incurable, is deprived of proper remedial treatment, and is confined in any almshouse or other place, whether such insane person is a public charge or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the board to cause such insane person to be conveyed to the proper state hospital for the insane, there to receive the best medical attention. So, also, it shall be their care that all the unfortunate shall receive benefit from the charities of the state. (Rev., s. 3919; Code, s. 2336; 1868-9, c. 170, s. 6; 1917, c. 170, s. 1; C. S. 5010.)

§ 108-8. Public institutions to furnish information.—The board may require the superintendents or other officers of the several charitable and penal institutions of the state to report to them any matter relating to the inmates of such institutions, their manner of instruction and treatment, with structure of their buildings, and to furnish them any desired statistics upon demand. (Rev., s. 3920; Code, s. 2337; 1868-9, c. 170, s. 7; 1917, c. 170, s. 1; C. S. 5011.)

§ 108-9. Relatives ineligible to appointment in state institutions.—No person shall be appointed to any place or position in any of the state institutions under the supervision of the state board who is related by blood or marriage to any member of the state board or to any of the principal officers, superintendents, or wardens of state institutions. (1917, c. 170, s. 1; C. S. 5012.)

§ 108-10. Failure of officers to furnish information. — If the board of commissioners of any county or the justices of the peace of any township, or any officer or employee of any charitable or penal institution of the state shall fail, refuse, or neglect to furnish any information required by law to be furnished to the state board of charities and public welfare, when they have been provided with the necessary blank forms for such reports, or shall fail upon request to afford proper facilities for the examination of any charitable or penal institution of the state, they shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3566; Code, s. 2341; 1891, c. 491, s. 2; 1869-70, c. 154, s. 3; C. S. 5013.)

Art. 2. County Boards of Charities and Public Welfare.

§ 108-11. County welfare boards; appointment; duties.—Each of the several counties of the state shall have a county welfare board composed of three members who shall be appointed as follows: The board of county commissioners shall appoint one member who may be one of their own number to serve as ex officio member of the county welfare board with the same powers and duties as the other two members, or they may appoint a person not of their own number to serve on the county welfare board; the state board of charities and public welfare shall appoint one member; and the two members so appointed shall select the third member. In the event the two members thus appointed are unable to agree upon the selection of the third member, such third member shall be appointed by the resident judge of the superior court of the district in which the county is situated.

The respective appointments shall be made on or before the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and shall be effective as of that date. In order to secure overlapping terms of office and to give continuity of policy, the first appointment of the county commissioners shall be for a term of two years; the first appointment of the state board shall be for a term of three years, and the first appointment of the third member shall be for a term of one year; but at the expiration of the terms of the three appointees their successors shall be appointed for terms of two years each. Prior service on a county welfare board shall not disqualify any person for service under this article, but no member shall be eligible in the future to succeed himself after three successive terms as a member of a county welfare board: Provided, however, that no member shall serve more than six successive years.

The county welfare boards of the several counties shall have the duty of selecting the county superintendent of public welfare, shall act in advisory capacity to county and municipal authorities in developing policies and plans in dealing with problems of dependency and delinquency, distribution of the poor funds, and with bettering social conditions generally, including cooperation with other agencies in placing indigent persons in gainful enterprises, shall prepare the administrative budget for the county welfare department for submission to and approval by the board of county commissioners, and shall have such other powers and duties as may be prescribed by law, particularly those set forth in the laws pertaining to old age assistance and aid to dependent children. The county welfare board shall meet with the superintendent of public welfare and advise with him in regard to problems pertaining to his office, and the superintendent of public welfare shall be the executive officer of the board and shall act as its secretary. (1917, c. 170, s. 1; 1919, c. 46, s. 3; 1937, c. 319, s. 3; 1941, c. 270, s. 2; C. S. 5014.)

Local Modification.—Wake: 1941, c. 270, s. 2; Wilkes: 1939, c. 106.

§ 108-12. Meetings of the board.—The county welfare boards so appointed shall meet immediately after their appointment and organize by electing a chairman, who shall serve for the term of his appointment, and shall forward notice of said chairman's election and the third member's appointment immediately to the state board, and shall meet at least once a month with the superintendent of welfare and advise with him in regard to problems pertaining to his office. Members of the county board may be reimbursed for expenses incurred in the attendance at official meetings. (1917, c. 170, s. 1; 1919, c. 46, s. 4; 1937, c. 319, s. 4; 1941, c. 270, s. 3; C. S. 5015.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg: 1941, c. 270, s. 3.

§ 108-13. County superintendent of welfare; appointment; salary.—On the first Monday in June, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, or as soon thereafter as practical, the several county welfare boards shall appoint a superintendent of public welfare for the county in accordance with the rules and regulations of the merit system plan adopted by the state board of charities and public welfare. In making such appointment the county board may reappoint the superintendent of public welfare whose term expires on the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and who was serving as superintendent of public welfare prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty, if such person is certified by the merit system supervisor as having passed the merit system examination on a qualifying basis; or the county board may appoint as superintendent of public welfare any person who was employed by a county welfare department prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty and who has been promoted to the duties and responsibilities of superintendent if such person meets the minimum requirements of the position of superintendent of public welfare and shall be certified by the merit system supervisor as having passed the merit system examination; or the county board may appoint as superintendent of public welfare a person from an open competitive or promotional register as certified by the merit system supervisor. The superintendent so appointed shall assume his duties on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one. All subsequent vacancies in the position of superintendent of public welfare shall be filled by the county board from an open competitive or promotional register.

The county welfare board may dismiss a superintendent of public welfare in accordance with the merit system rules of the state board of charities and public welfare and any superintendent so dismissed shall have the right of appeal to the merit system council, as provided for in the merit system plan.

The county welfare board shall determine the salary to be paid the superintendent of public welfare, in accordance with the merit system compensation plan, either at the time of his appointment or at such time as they may be in regular or called session for the purpose, and the salary shall be paid by the respective counties from federal, state and county funds: Provided that in counties where financial conditions render it urgently necessary, the state board may cause to be paid out of any state or federal fund available for the purpose, such portion of the salary of the superintendent of welfare of any county as, in the discretion of the state board, may be necessary. Levy of taxes for the special purpose of payment of the salary of the county welfare superintendent is hereby authorized and directed. (1917, c. 170, s. 1; 1919, c. 46, ss. 3, 4; 1921, c. 128; 1929, c. 291, s. 1; 1931, c. 423; 1937, c. 319, s. 5; 1941, c. 270, s. 4; C. S. 5016.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg: 1941, c. 270, s. 4.

§ 108-14. Powers and duties of county welfare superintendent. — The county superintendent of public welfare shall have the following powers and duties:

1. To act as executive officer of county welfare board and to appoint office personnel in accordance with merit system regulations of the state board of charities and public welfare, whose salaries shall be paid by the county from federal, state and county funds: Provided, that in counties where financial conditions render it urgently necessary, the state board may cause to be paid out of any state and federal funds available for the purpose such portion of the salaries as, in the discretion of the state board may be necessary.

2. To admininster old age assistance and aid to dependent children under the supervision of the state board of charities and public welfare and in accordance with the provisions of the old age assistance and aid to dependent children acts.

3. To have the care and supervision of indigent persons in the county and to administer funds provided by the county commissioners for such purposes.

4. To act as agent for the state board of charities and public welfare in relation to any work to be done by the state board in the county; and to make, under the direction of the state board, such investigations in the county in the interest of social welfare as the state board may desire or direct.

5. To issue employment certificates to children in such form and under such regulations as may be prescribed by the state department of labor.

6. To prepare and submit to the eugenics board of North Carolina petitions for sterilization of county institutional and non-institutional cases and to arrange for operations authorized by the eugenics board.

7. To serve as investigating officer and chief probation officer for all juvenile courts in the county and to have oversight of dependent and delinquent children including those on parole or probation, of such dependent children as may be placed in the county by the state board, and of those children conditionally released from state institutions for juvenile delinquents.

8. To assist and cooperate with the commissioner of paroles and the parole supervisor in the oversight and actual supervision of persons on parole in the county and to coöperate with probation commission and its representatives.

9. Under direction of the state board to look after and keep up with the condition of persons discharged from hospitals for the insane.

10. To investigate cases for adoption and supervise placements for adoption.

11. To supervise boarding homes under rules and regulations of the state board.

12. To cooperate with existing agencies in the promotion of wholesome recreation facilities in the county. (1917, c. 170, s. 1; 1919, c. 46, s. 3; 1941, c. 270, s. 5; C. S. 5017.)

Art. 3. Division of Public Assistance.

§ 108-15. Division of public assistance created.—There is hereby created in the state board of charities and public welfare a division of public assistance, including (a) assistance to aged needy persons, and (b) aid to dependent children, as administered under authority of this article. (1937, c. 288, s. 1.)

§ 108-16. Director of public assistance.—The commissioner of welfare, with the advice and approval of the governor, shall employ a whole-time executive to be known as "director of public assistance." Such director, under the authority and supervision of the commissioner of welfare, shall have charge of the administration of the division herein created, and shall actively direct its affairs; and shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by the rules and regulations adopted by the state board. He shall see that this article is properly administered, that the requirements thereof are carried out in a timely and orderly manner, that administration of this division shall be kept at all times properly co-ordinated and efficiently maintained in agreement with other agencies of the state and with the federal government; and shall perform such other duties as are customary in his position.

The director of public assistance shall receive such salary and compensation as may be fixed by the director of the budget; and his tenure of office shall be such as may be fixed by rules and regulations of the department relative thereto and approved by the governor, subject to termination when, in the opinion of the governor and the commissioner of welfare, the public interest may demand it. (1937, c. 288, s. 2.)

Part 1. Old Age Assistance.

§ 108-17. Short title.—This title may be cited as the "Old Age Assistance Act." (1937, c. 288, s. 30.)

§ 108-18. Establishment of relief.—The care and relief of aged persons who are in need and who are unable to provide for themselves is a legitimate obligation of government which cannot be ignored or avoided without injustice to such persons and serious detriment to the purposes of organized society. Such care and relief is hereby declared to be a matter of state concern and necessary to promote the public health and welfare. In order to provide such care and relief at public expense, to the extent that the same may be proper, with due regard to the revenues which the state may equitably enjoy, and with due regard for other necessary objects of public expenditure, a state-wide system of old age relief is hereby established, to operate uniformly throughout the state and in every county thereof, and with due regard to the varying living conditions and the financial, physical, and other conditions of the recipient of such relief, more particularly dealt with in this article. The provisions of this article are mandatory on the state, and each and every county thereof, and, whenever the levy of any tax is required or directed herein, it shall be understood that the said tax is levied for a special purpose; and full authority is hereby given to the boards of county commissioners of the several counties to levy, impose, and collect the taxes herein required for the special purpose of old age assistance, as defined and provided for in this article. (1937, c. 288, s. 3.)

§ 108-19. Definitions.—As used in this article, "state board" shall mean the state board of charities and public welfare, established by this chapter.

"The county board of welfare" shall mean the county board of charities and public welfare of each of the several counties, as now established by law, subject to such modification as may be made by law.

"Applicant" shall mean any person who has applied for relief under this title.

"Recipient" shall mean any person who has received assistance under the provisions of this title.

"Assistance" as used under this title means the money payments to needy aged persons.

"Deputies" and "supervisors" shall mean such persons as may be designated and appointed by the state board to exercise its power and duty of supervision under this article.

"Social security board" shall be interpreted to include any agency or agencies of the federal government which may be substituted therefor by law. (1937, c. 288, s. 4; 1939, c. 395, s. 1.)

§ 108-20. Acceptance of federal grants.—The provisions of the Federal Social Security Act, relating to grants in aid to the state for old age assistance and the benefits thereunder, are hereby accepted and adopted, and the provisions of this article shall be liberally construed in relation to the said Federal Social Security Act, so that the intent to comply therewith shall be made effectual. (1937, c. 288, s. 5.)

§ 108-21. Eligibility. — Assistance shall be granted under this article to any person who:

(a) Is sixty-five years of age and over;

(b) Is a citizen of the United States or has been residing in the United States for a period of ten years and has legally declared his intention to become a citizen;

(c) Has not sufficient income, or other resources, to provide a reasonable subsistence compatible with decency and health;

(d) Is not an inmate of any public institution at the time of receiving assistance. An inmate of such institution may, however, make application for such assistance, but the assistance, if allowed, shall not begin until after he ceases to be an inmate.

(e) Has not made an assignment or transfer of property for the purpose of rendering himself eligible for assistance under this article at any time within two years prior to the filing of application for assistance pursuant to the provisions of this article.

(f) Has been a resident of this state for two out of the five years preceding his application and for one year immediately preceding the same: Provided, that this requirement shall not render ineligible any resident of the state who has resided therein five years during the nine years immediately preceding the application for old age assistance, and has resided therein continuously for one year immediately preceding the application. Residents of the state who have not resided in any one county for the one year period necessary to acquire a settlement therein shall, if otherwise eligible, receive assistance out of the state appropriation to the full amount of the benefits awarded. Eligibility of such persons upon application shall be determined as in other cases and reported to the state board of allotments and appeal.

Eligibility of applicants to receive benefits under this title, and the amount of assistance given, and such other conditions of award as it may be necessary to determine shall be determined in the manner hereinafter set out.

The amount of assistance which any person shall receive shall be determined with due regard to the resources and necessary expenditures of the individual and the conditions existing in each case, and in accordance with the rules and regulations made by the state board; and shall be sufficient when added to all other income and support of recipients to provide such person with a reasonable subsistence compatible with decency and health, but not exceeding thirty dollars ($30.00) per month or three hundred sixty dollars ($360.00) during one year; and of this not more than fifteen dollars ($15.00) per month nor more than one hundred eighty dollars ($180.00) in one year shall be paid out of state and county funds. (1937, c. 288, s. 6; 1939, c. 395, s. 1; 1941, c. 232.)

§ 108-22. State old age assistance fund. — A fund shall be created to be known as "The State Old Age Assistance Fund." This fund shall be created by appropriations made by the state from its ordinary revenues and such grants as may be made for old age assistance under the Federal Social Security Act. Said fund shall be used exclusively for the relief of aged persons coming within the eligibility provisions of this title and the cost of administration of the same. The appropriations to be made by the state for such purpose shall be supplemented by the amount provided under the Federal Social Security Act for old age assistance and such further amount as the state may appropriate for the administration of this article. From said fund there shall be paid as hereinafter provided three-fourths of the benefit payments to aged persons in accordance with the provisions hereof, and the other one-fourth of said payments shall, subject to the provisions of § 108-74, be provided by the several counties of the state as hereinafter required. The cost of administering the provisions of this title shall be, in part, paid from said fund in accordance with § 108-39. (1937, c. 288, s. 7.)

§ 108-23. State appropriation.—At its present session, and biennially thereafter, the general assembly shall appropriate out of its ordinary revenues, for the use of such fund, such amount as shall be reasonably necessary to carry out the provisions of this article, and provide relief to the aged persons coming within the eligibility provisions herein set out, to such an extent as may be proper upon due consideration of the ability of the state to produce sufficient revenues, and with due regard to other necessary objects of public expenditure. (1937, c. 288, s. 8.)

§ 108-24. County fund.—Annually, at the time other taxes are levied in each of the several counties of the state, there shall be levied and imposed a tax sufficient to raise such an amount as shall be found necessary, in the manner hereinafter provided, to supplement the state and federal funds available for expenditure in said county for old age assistance. The amount so ascertained shall be an obligation of the county, and the taxes imposed shall be collectible as other taxes. (1937, c. 288, s. 9.)

§ 108-25. Appropriations not to lapse.—No appropriation made for the purposes of this article shall lapse or revert; but the unexpended balances may be considered in the making of further appropriations. Any proceeds of county taxation for the purposes of this article remaining unexpended shall be taken into account in determining the amount to be raised by taxation during the ensuing year, but shall not be used for any purpose not authorized by this article. (1937, c. 288, s. 10.)

§ 108-26. Custody and receipt of funds.—The treasurer of the state of North Carolina is hereby made ex officio treasurer of the State Old Age Assistance Fund herein established, including therein such grants in aid for old age assistance as may be received from the federal government for administration and distribution in this state; and the said treasurer is hereby designated as the proper officer to receive grants in aid from the federal government. The treasurer shall keep the funds in a separate account, to be known as the "State Old Age Assistance Fund," and shall be responsible therefor on his official bond; and the said funds shall be protected by proper depository security as other state funds. The said fund shall be drawn upon and disbursed as hereinafter provided. (1937, c. 288, s. 11.)

§ 108-27. Department of charities and public welfare.—The powers and duties of the state board of charities and public welfare, established under Article XI, section seven, of the Constitution of North Carolina, and this chapter, and of the office of commissioner of welfare established thereunder, are not hereby abridged. The powers and duties herein given shall be in addition to those heretofore exercised under existing law; and the state board of charities and public welfare, through the commissioner of welfare as the executive head of the department, is hereby empowered to organize the department into such bureaus and divisions as may be deemed advisable, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, in order that the work of the entire department shall be co-ordinated on an efficiency basis and duplication of effort may be avoided. (1937, c. 288, s. 12.)

§ 108-28. Certain powers and duties of state board of charities and public welfare.—The state board shall:

(a) Supervise the administration of assistance to the needy aged under this article by the county boards;

(b) Make such rules and regulations and take such action as may be necessary or desirable for carrying out the provisions of this article. All rules and regulations made by the state board shall be binding on the counties and shall be complied with by the respective boards of county commissioners and county boards of welfare;

(c) Prescribe the form of and print and supply to the county boards and agencies such forms as it may deem necessary and advisable;

(d) Co-operate with the federal government in matters of mutual concern pertaining to assistance to the needy aged, including the adoption of such methods of administration as are found by the federal government to be necessary for the efficient operation of the plan for such assistance;

(e) Make such reports, in such form and containing such information, as the federal government may from time to time require, and comply with such provisions as the federal government may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports;

(f) Publish an annual report and such interim reports as may be necessary;

(g) Enter into reciprocal agreements with public welfare agencies in other states relative to providing for assistance and services to residents, non-residents or transients, and co-operate with other agencies of the state and federal governments in providing such assistance and services and in the study of the problems involved;

(h) The state board is hereby authorized and empowered to receive grants in aid from the federal government or any state or federal agency for general relief or for any other relief purposes; and all such grants so made and received shall be paid to the state treasurer and credited to the account of the North Carolina state board of charities and public welfare, to be used in carrying out the provisions of this article. (1937, c. 288, s. 13; 1939, c. 395, s. 1.)

§ 108-29. Certain powers and duties of local boards—county welfare boards. — The county boards of welfare shall perform the duties herein required of them with relation to the administration of this article in the several counties, under the supervision and direction of the state board, and in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by said state board.

The county boards of welfare shall:

(a) Report to the state board at such times and in such manner and form as the state board may from time to time direct;

(b) Submit to the state board the information required in this article preliminary to determination of the county's quota of funds and the determination of the amount required to be raised by taxation, together with its estimate and supporting data, setting forth the amount of money needed to carry out the provisions of this article; also submit to the board of county commissioners a duplicate of the estimate and supporting data furnished by it to the state board. Make and report to the state board and to the county board of commissioners such investigation as may be required in order that said state board and boards of county commissioners may be fully informed as to the assistance required by aged persons coming within the eligibility provisions of this article, and may have such other information as may be required for proper determination upon any matter coming before the said boards;

(c) Perform any other duties required of them under this article or by proper rules and regulations made by the state board under authority thereof. (1937, c. 288, s. 14.)

§ 108-30. Application for assistance; determination therein.—Applications for assistance under this article shall be made to the county welfare board of the county in which the applicant resides. Such application shall be in writing and in duplicate, in compliance with the rules and regulations established by the state board, which is required to furnish forms for such applications. Where the applicant is unable to present his application in writing by reason of illiteracy or other cause, the application shall be reduced to writing and filed in duplicate, on such forms as may be supplied by the state board, or substantially in agreement therewith. The county board of welfare, and the county welfare officer, shall render to applicants for assistance under this article such aid and assistance in the preparation of applications as may be necessary. The application shall contain a statement of the amount of property, both real and personal, in which the applicant has an interest, and of all income which he may have at the time of filing the application, and shall contain such other information as may be required by the rules and regulations of the state board. One copy of the application shall be forwarded to the state board.

Whenever a county board of welfare receives an application for assistance under this article, an investigation and record shall promptly be made of the circumstances of the applicant, in order to ascertain the facts supporting the application, and in order to obtain such other information as may be required by the rules of the state board. In the making of such investigation, the county welfare board and the county welfare officer shall make diligent investigation and record promptly all the information which it is reasonably possible to obtain with respect to such application.

Upon the completion of the investigation, the county board of welfare shall, upon due consideration, determine whether the applicant is eligible for assistance under the provisions of this article, and shall determine the amount of such assistance and the date on which it shall begin, but such award shall in no case exceed thirty dollars ($30.00) per month or three hundred sixty dollars ($360.00) in one year, and there shall not be paid thereupon out of state and county funds more than fifteen dollars ($15.00) per month or more than one hundred eighty dollars ($180.00) in one year. Such award so made when effective shall thereafter be paid in advance monthly to the applicant, disbursement being made in the same manner and under the same procedure as in case of other county funds.

The county board of welfare shall promptly notify by mail each applicant of its action disallowing the application or granting assistance, stating, in case award is made, the amount of the award and when assistance shall be paid. A copy of such notice shall be immediately forwarded to the board of county commissioners and a duplicate copy forwarded to the state board of allotments and appeal. The state board is hereby authorized and empowered to establish and enforce reasonable rules and regulations governing the custody, use and preservation of the records, papers, files and communications relating to applicants and recipients. It shall be unlawful, except for purposes directly connected with the administration of old age assistance and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state board for any person or persons to solicit, disclose, receive, make use of, or to authorize, knowingly permit, participate in, or acquiesce in the use of, any list of or names of, or any information concerning, persons applying for or receiving old age assistance, directly or indirectly derived from the records, papers, files, or communications of the state board or the county welfare board or acquired in the course of the performance of official duties. (1937, c. 288, s. 15; 1939, c. 395, s. 1; 1941, c. 232.)

§ 108-31. Action by county commissioners.—The board of county commissioners, in the event that they shall be of the opinion that any award made by the county board of welfare should be reconsidered and reviewed by them, shall have the right to review such award. In case of such action by the board of county commissioners, notice shall be given to the applicant fixing the time and place at which such reconsideration will be held. In the event the board of county commissioners deems that any award should be in any respect changed, an order shall be made thereon accordingly and notice thereof given to the applicant and a copy sent to the county board of welfare and the state board of allotments and appeal. (1937, c. 288, s. 16.)

§ 108-32. Assistance not assignable.—The assistance granted under this article shall not be transferable or assignable at law or in equity; and none of the money paid or payable under this article shall be subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment, or other legal process, or to the operation of any bankruptcy or insolvency law. (1937, c. 288, s. 17.)

§ 108-33. State board of allotments and appeal. — For the purpose of making allotment of state and federal funds to the several counties, and of giving to applicants appealing from the county boards a fair hearing and determination upon such applications and appeal, there shall be created within the state board of charities and public welfare and as an agency of said board, subject to its supervision and control by rules and regulations adopted by it, a body to be known as "The State Board of Allotments and Appeal," consisting of three members as follows:

The chairman of the state board of charities and public welfare;

The commissioner of welfare;

The director of public assistance, established by this article; all of whom shall be ex officio members of the state board of allotments and appeal. The chairman of the state board of charities and public welfare shall be the chairman of the board of allotments and appeal.

If an application is not acted upon by the county welfare board within a reasonable time, or is denied in whole or in part, or if any award of assistance is modified or canceled under any provisions of this article, the applicant or recipient may appeal to the board of allotments and appeal in the manner and form prescribed by the said board of allotments and appeal. The board of allotments and appeal shall, upon receipt of such an appeal, give the applicant or recipient, the board of county commissioners and the county board of welfare reasonable notice and opportunity for a fair hearing. Upon such hearing the applicant or recipient shall have an opportunity of presenting his claim in full to the board upon such evidence as may be pertinent or proper; and the board of allotments and appeal shall diligently inquire into the matter, and shall approve or disapprove or modify the action of the county board of welfare or the board of county commissioners, as in the judgment of the board of allotments and appeal may be just and proper.

Upon any appeal from the board of county commissioners or county board of welfare, it shall be the duty of such board to forward to the board of allotments and appeal a certified copy of the order refusing assistance or granting the same, with such information, in brief, as may bear upon the application and the action of the board of commissioners or county board of welfare, and such papers and documents or other matter as may be required under the rules of the state board of allotments and appeal, or under its order in the particular matter.

When the state board of allotments and appeal shall have made its final decision upon the matter, notice thereof shall be given to the applicant or recipient and to the board of county commissioners and county board of welfare. The decision of the state board of allotments and appeal shall be final.

The state board of allotments and appeal may also, on notice to the board of county commissioners and county board of welfare, upon its own motion, review any decision of the board of county commissioners or county board of welfare, and may consider any application upon which a decision has not been made within thirty days. The state board of allotments and appeal may make such additional investigation as it may deem necessary in all cases, and make such decision thereupon as in its opinion is justified and in conformity with the provisions of this article. Applicants, or recipients, affected by such decision of the state board of allotments and appeal shall, upon request, be given reasonable notice and opportunity for a fair hearing by the state board of allotments and appeal. All decisions of the state board of allotments and appeal shall be final and shall be binding upon the county involved, and shall be complied with by the board of county commissioners and county board of welfare.

The state board may authorize hearings of appeals in any county by other representatives selected by said board, subject to final determination by the state board of allotments and appeal. (1937, c. 288, s. 18; 1939, c. 395, s. 1.)

§ 108-34. Periodic reconsideration and changes in amount of assistance. — All assistance grants made under this article shall be reconsidered as frequently as may be required by the rules of the state board. It shall be the duty of the county welfare board, with the assistance of the county welfare officer, to keep fully advised as to questions concerning old age assistance and the propriety and necessity of the continuance thereof to recipients and as to such changed conditions relating to recipients as may affect the necessity for such assistance or the amount thereof.

Where changes have occurred in the condition of any recipient requiring a modification or cancellation of an award, the county board of welfare is authorized and empowered to make such changes as the facts and circumstances may justify and in accordance with the provisions of this law. Prompt notice of such action shall be given to the recipient, and a copy of such notice shall be sent to the state board and board of county commissioners. Such action on the part of the county board shall be subject to review by the state board as provided in cases of original awards, and the recipient shall have the right to appeal therefrom to the state board of allotments and appeal as in cases of original awards. (1937, c. 288, s. 19.)

§ 108-35. Removal to another county. — Any recipient who moves to another county in this state shall be entitled to receive assistance in the county to which he has moved, and the board of county commissioners of the county from which he has moved shall transfer all necessary records relating to the recipient to the county board of commissioners of the county to which he has moved. The county from which the recipient moves shall pay the assistance for a period of three months following such removal, not in excess of amount paid before removal, and thereafter assistance shall be paid by the county to which such recipient has moved.

In the event that a resident of this state has not lived in any county of the state for the twelve months period necessary to acquire a settlement therein, nevertheless, if otherwise eligible, such resident shall be allowed assistance upon application to the board of welfare of the county in which he has been domiciled, in the same manner as assistance is allowed to persons in the county who have acquired a settlement therein; but such allowance of assistance shall be paid entirely out of the State Old Age Assistance Fund, without participation of the county therein; and in allocating funds to the county for the purpose of disbursement to recipients under this article, the state board of allotments and appeal is authorized and empowered to reserve out of such allocations and to transmit to the counties concerned a sufficient amount of the state fund to provide for disbursement to such residents who have not acquired settlement in any county. (1937, c. 288, s. 20.)

§ 108-36. Procedure preliminary to allotments and county taxation; investigation and report.—It shall be the duty of the county welfare boards to make diligent investigation within the county and obtain and record statistical and other information concerning aged persons in the county entitled to assistance under this article, and to keep such information compiled in convenient accessible form. Therefrom they shall, annually, on or before the first day of May, compile and make a report to the board of county commissioners, for their better information and guidance, which report shall contain a concise statement or estimate of the total amount necessary to be expended within the county to carry out the provisions of this article for the next ensuing fiscal year, accompanied by such supporting data as the state board of allotments and appeal may require. Such reports shall be made on forms furnished by the state board, or in compliance with the rules and regulations of said state board. A copy thereof shall be immediately forwarded to the state board.

Upon the information so furnished, and such other information as may be available, or may be obtained upon such further investigation as the board of commissioners may see proper to make, the board of commissioners shall make a careful estimate of the amount necessary to be expended within the county for the purposes of this article for the ensuing fiscal year, and, separately stated, the amount necessary to be raised by county taxation. The board of county commissioners shall, annually, on or before the first day of May, make a report to the state board of allotments and appeal, which report shall contain the said estimates, with supporting data, in such form and detail as the board of allotments and appeal may require. (1937, c. 288, s. 21.)

§ 108-37. Allocation of funds.—As soon as may be practicable after receiving the said reports, and before the time for the annual levy of taxes in the respective counties, the state board of allotments and appeal shall proceed to ascertain and determine the amount of state and federal funds available for disbursement in the counties for the purposes of this article for the next ensuing fiscal year. The board shall, at the same time, determine the amount to be raised in each of the respective counties by taxation to supplement the state and federal funds allotted to such county. The allotment of state and federal funds to any county shall not exceed three times the amount to be raised in said county by local taxation, except as provided in § 108-73.

The determination of such amount by the board of allotments and appeal shall be final and binding upon the several counties respectively, and shall be a part of the county budget. The county commissioners shall, at the time of levying other taxes, levy and impose upon all the taxable subjects within the county a tax sufficient to produce such amount; and the same shall be collected as other taxes.

The proceeds of such taxes shall be kept in a separate fund in the county treasury, and shall be subject to the provisions of the Local Government Act with respect to depository security and control, and shall be used only for the purposes of this article. It shall be the duty of the board of allotments and appeal to inquire into the condition of the said fund from time to time and to require that such protection be afforded the funds as occasion may demand. The funds shall be disbursed for the purposes of this article on warrants drawn on the county treasurer or other designated county officials where there is no county treasurer, signed by the secretary of the county welfare board, countersigned by the county auditor and chairman of the welfare board, for both payments of grants to recipients and for administrative purposes. (1937, c. 288, s. 22; 1939, c. 395, s. 1.)

§ 108-38. Administration expenses.—The state board of allotments and appeal shall annually allocate to the several counties of the state, in accordance with the total amount of benefit payments to be paid in each county for old age assistance therein, the sum provided by the federal government under the Social Security Act for payment of administrative expenses. Any amounts in excess of said allotments to the several counties, which are necessary to the proper administration of this article by the several counties, shall be determined by the state board of allotments and appeal upon budgets submitted to said board by the county welfare boards in each county. Said determination shall be made on or before the first day of June in each year.

After being so determined, one-half of such costs shall be allocated and paid to the respective counties by the state board of allotments and appeal from the appropriation made by the state for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this article. The other half of said county administrative expenses shall be paid by the respective counties. The state board of allotments and appeal shall, on or before the first day of June in each year, notify the board of county commissioners in each county as to the amount of administrative expenses such county is required to provide, and upon receipt of such notice it shall be mandatory upon each county that taxes shall be levied within said county to provide for the payment of such part of such county's administrative expenses.

The county board of commissioners and the county board of welfare, in joint session, shall determine the number and salary of employees of the county board of welfare, having been advised by the county superintendent of welfare and the state board of charities and public welfare. (1937, c. 288, s. 23; 1939, c. 395, s. 1; 1941, c. 232.)

§ 108-39. Transfer of state and federal funds to the counties.—The state old age assistance fund shall be drawn out on the warrant of the state auditor, issued upon order of the state board, evidenced by the signature of the commissioner of welfare. Quarterly, and oftener, if in the sound judgment of the state board it may be necessary, the state board shall transfer to the several counties such part of the county allotment as may be necessary for disbursement in such county, in connection with county-raised funds, for a reasonable period. Before transferring said funds the state board may, in its discretion, require that the county shall certify, through its auditor or fiscal agent, that sufficient county funds are on hand to pay the county quota of disbursement corresponding to the amount of state funds to be so transferred. The state board of allotments and appeal is authorized, in its discretion, to transfer to any county for the first quarter in any fiscal year an amount sufficient to pay in full the awards approved in such county, one-fourth of said amount being advanced to the county in anticipation of the collection of taxes. Such amount so advanced shall be deducted from allotments thereafter to be made to such county within the fiscal year.

The funds so transferred shall go into the county old age assistance fund, and be subject to all the provisions of the Local Government Act as to custody and depository protection; and the state board may require such additional protection to such funds as they may deem proper.

When in the judgment of the state board the disbursement of funds in the counties to recipients entitled to assistance is being unduly delayed, or the payments to such recipients jeopardized, the state board may require, as a condition for the allotment or transmission of any funds to the county for disbursement, that such awards shall be promptly paid, and may withhold the funds from such counties until satisfied that the awards are being paid with promptness and certainty. When in its judgment the public interest may require and the funds collected in the county for disbursement hereunder may be better protected, and greater promptness and certainty may be secured in payment of awards to recipients entitled to receive same, the state board may demand and require that the funds raised by taxation in any county be transmitted to the treasurer of the state, subject to disbursement under such rules and regulations as the state board may adopt. Immediately upon notice to the board of county commissioners of the county affected, and to the officials of the said county having any such funds in custody, such board of county commissioners and officials shall immediately transfer all of such funds and pay over the same to the state treasurer for disbursement, under the rules and regulations aforesaid. (1937, c. 288, s. 24.)

§ 108-40. Accounts and reports from county officers. — The boards of county commissioners shall cause proper accounts to be kept of the receipts and disbursements under this article, and shall make a quarterly report to the state board in detail, showing such receipts and the persons to whom disbursements have been made, and the amount thereof. Such reports may be required by the state board as often as may be deemed necessary. The accounts shall at all times be open to inspection by the state board and its authorized auditors, supervisors and deputies. (1937, c. 288, s. 25.)

§ 108-41. Further powers and duties of state board.—The state board is authorized and directed to make such reports as may be required by the federal government under the Social Security Act; to keep the funds received from the federal government in such manner and in such account, and cause the same to be disbursed as may be required by such federal administrative authority, notwithstanding any provisions hereof; and the provisions of this article with respect to the handling, disbursement of federal funds, where contrary to the rules and regulations of federal authority, shall be deemed directory only, so that such rules and regulations shall prevail; but otherwise they shall be mandatory. (1937, c. 288, s. 26.)

§ 108-42. Fraudulent acts made misdemeanor.—Whoever knowingly obtains, or attempts to obtain, or aids or abets any person to obtain, by means of a wilfully false statement or representation or by impersonation, or other fraudulent device, assistance to which he is not entitled, or assistance greater than that to which he is justly entitled; and whoever aids or abets in buying or in any way disposing of the property, either real or personal, of a recipient of assistance with the intent to defeat the purposes of this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 288, s. 27.)

§ 108-43. Limitations of article. — All assistance granted under this article shall be deemed to be granted and to be held subject to the provisions of any amending or repealing act that may hereafter be passed, and no recipient shall have any claim for compensation, or otherwise, by reason of his assistance being affected in any way by any amending or repealing act. (1937, c. 288, s. 28.)

Part 2. Aid to Dependent Children.

§ 108-44. Short title.—This title may be cited as the "Aid to Dependent Children Act." (1937, c. 288, s. 60.)

§ 108-45. Establishment of relief. — The care and relief of dependent children who are in need and who are unable to provide for themselves is a legitimate obligation of government which cannot be ignored or avoided without injustice to such persons and serious detriment to the purposes of organized society. Such care and relief is hereby declared to be a matter of state concern and necessary to promote the public health and welfare. In order to provide such care and relief at public expense, to the extent that the same may be proper, with due regard to the revenues which the state may equitably enjoy, and with due regard for other necessary objects of public expenditure, a statewide system of aid to dependent children is hereby established, to operate uniformly throughout the state and in every county thereof, and with due regard to the varying living conditions and the financial, physical, and other conditions of the recipient of such relief, more particularly dealt with in this article. The provisions of this article are mandatory on the state, and each and every county thereof, and whenever the levy of any tax is required or directed herein, it shall be understood that the said tax is levied for a special purpose; and full authority is hereby given to the boards of county commissioners of the several counties to levy, impose, and collect the taxes herein required for the special purpose of aid to dependent children as defined and provided for in this article. (1937, c. 288, s. 31.)

§ 108-46. Definitions.—As used in this article, "state board" shall mean the state board of charities and public welfare, established by this chapter.

"The county board of welfare" shall mean the county board of charities and public welfare of each of the several counties, as now established by law, subject to such modifications as may be made by law.

"Applicant" shall mean any person who has applied for relief for dependent children under this title.

"Recipient" shall mean any person who has received assistance for dependent children under the provisions of this title.

"Assistance" as used under this title means the money payments for aid to dependent children.

"Social security board" shall be interpreted to include any agency or agencies of the federal government which may be substituted therefor by law. (1937, c. 288, s. 32; 1939, c. 395, s. 1.)

§ 108-47. Acceptance of federal grants.—The provisions of the Federal Social Security Act, relating to grants in aid to the state for aid to dependent children, and the benefits thereunder, are hereby accepted and adopted, and the provisions of this article shall be liberally construed in relation to the said Federal Social Security Act, so that the intent to comply therewith shall be made effectual. (1937, c. 288, s. 33.)

§ 108-48. Amount of relief. — The maximum amount to be allowed per month under this article shall not exceed eighteen dollars ($18.00) for one child and twelve dollars ($12.00) additional per month for each of the other dependent children in the home eligible to assistance under this article: Provided, the total amount shall not exceed sixy-five dollars ($65.00), except in extraordinary circumstances in which it appears to the satisfaction of the state board that a total of sixty-five dollars ($65.00) per month would be insufficient to secure the purpose above set forth. (1937, c. 288, s. 34.)

§ 108-49. Dependent children defined. — The term "dependent child" as used in this article shall mean a child under sixteen years of age, or under eighteen years of age if regularly attending school, who is living with his or her father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, brother, sister, stepfather, stepmother, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle or aunt, adoptive father, adoptive mother, grandfather-in-law, great grandfather, grandmother-in-law, great-grandmother, brother of the half-blood, brother-in-law, adoptive brother, sister of the half-blood, sister-in-law, adoptive sister, uncle-in-law, aunt-in-law, great-uncle, and great-aunt, in a place of residence maintained by one or more of such relatives as his or their own home; who has resided in the state of North Carolina for one year immediately preceding the application for aid; or who was born within the state within one year immediately preceding the application if the mother has resided in the state for one year immediately preceding the birth, and who has been deprived of parental support or care by reason of the death, physical or mental incapacity or continued absence from the home of a parent, and who has no adequate means of support: Provided, that in all cases of desertion every effort shall be made in compliance with the provisions of §§ 14-322—14-335 inclusive, to apprehend the parent and charge him with the support of the said child, but this provision shall in no wise affect the eligibility of a dependent child, or children, for aid to dependent children, or the right of the county board of welfare to make awards therefor. (1937, c. 288, s. 35; 1939, c. 395, s. 1; 1941, c. 232.)

§ 108-50. Eligibility.—To be eligible to receive aid for a dependent child or children as hereinbefore defined in § 108-49, the said father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, brother, sister, stepfather, stepmother, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, or aunt, adoptive father, adoptive mother, grandfather-in-law, great-grandfather, grandmother-in-law, great-grandmother, brother of the half-blood, brother-in-law, adoptive brother, sister of the half-blood, sister-in-law, adoptive sister, uncle-in-law, aunt-in-law, great-uncle, and great-aunt, in whose own home the said dependent child resides shall maintain a safe and proper home for himself, or themselves, and said dependent child or children. (1937, c. 288, s. 36; 1941, c. 232.)

§ 108-51. State aid to dependent children fund.—A fund shall be created to be known as "The State Aid to Dependent Children Fund." This fund shall be created by appropriations made by the state from its ordinary revenues and such grants as may be made for aid to dependent children under the Federal Social Security Act. Said fund shall be used exclusively for the relief of dependent children coming within the eligibility provisions of this title and the cost of administration of the same. The appropriations to be made by the state for such purpose shall be supplemented by the amount provided under the Federal Social Security Act for aid to dependent children and such further amount as the state may appropriate for the administration of this article. From said fund there shall be paid as hereinafter provided three-fourths of the benefit payments to dependent children in accordance with the provisions hereof, the other one-fourth of said payments shall, subject to the provisions of § 108-74, be provided by the several counties of the state as hereinafter required. The cost of administering the provisions of this title shall be, in part, paid from said funds in accordance with § 108-68.

In the event that the Federal Social Security Act is amended by providing for a larger percentage of contributions to said fund, the provisions herein made shall be construed to accept such additional grants, and the amounts to be provided for aid to dependent children by state and counties shall be adjusted proportionately. (1937, c. 288, s. 37; 1941, c. 232.)

§ 108-52. State appropriation.—At its present session, and biennially thereafter, the general assembly shall appropriate out of its ordinary revenues, for the use of such fund, such amount as shall be reasonably necessary to carry out the provisions of this article, and provide relief to the dependent children coming within the eligibility provisions herein set out, to such an extent as may be proper upon due consideration of the ability of the state to produce sufficient revenues, and with due regard to other necessary objects of public expenditure. (1937, c. 288, s. 38.)

§ 108-53. County fund.—Annually, at the time other taxes are levied in each of the several counties of the state, there shall be levied and imposed a tax sufficient to raise such an amount as shall be found necessary, in the manner hereinafter provided, to supplement the state and federal funds available for expenditure in said county for aid to dependent children. The amount so ascertained shall be an obligation of the county, and the taxes imposed shall be collectible as other taxes. (1937, c. 288, s. 39.)

§ 108-54. Appropriations not to lapse.—No appropriation made for the purpose of this article shall lapse or revert; but the unexpended balances may be considered in the making of further appropriations. Any proceeds of county taxation for the purposes of this article remaining unexpended shall be taken into account in determining the amount to be raised by taxation during the ensuing year, but shall not be used for any purpose not authorized by this article. (1937, c. 288, s. 40.)

§ 108-55. Custody and receipt of funds.—The treasurer of the state of North Carolina is hereby made ex officio treasurer of the state aid to dependent children fund herein established, including therein such grants in aid to dependent children as may be received from the federal government for administration and distribution in this state; and the said treasurer is hereby designated as the proper officer to receive grants in aid from the federal government. The treasurer shall keep the funds in a separate account, to be known as the state aid to dependent children fund, and shall be responsible therefor on his official bond; and the said funds shall be protected by proper depository security as other state funds. The said fund shall be drawn upon and disbursed as hereinafter provided. (1937, c. 288, s. 41.)

§ 108-56. General powers and duties of department of charities and public welfare.—The powers and duties of the state board of charities and public welfare established under Article XI, section seven, of the Constitution of North Carolina, and this chapter, and of the office of commissioner of welfare established thereunder, are not hereby abridged. The powers and duties herein given shall be in addition to those heretofore exercised under existing law; and the state board of charities and public welfare, through the commissioner of welfare as the executive head of the department, is hereby empowered to organize the department into such bureaus and divisions as may be deemed advisable, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, in order that the work of the entire department shall be co-ordinated on an efficiency basis and duplication of effort may be avoided. (1937, c. 288, s. 42.)

§ 108-57. Certain powers and duties of state board of charities and public welfare.—The state board shall:

(a) Supervise the administration of assistance to dependent children under this article by the county boards;

(b) Make such rules and regulations and take such action as may be necessary or desirable for carrying out the provisions of this article. All rules and regulations made by the state board shall be binding on the counties and shall be complied with by the respective boards of county commissioners and county boards of welfare;

(c) Prescribe the form of and print and supply to the county boards and agencies such forms as it may deem necessary and advisable;

(d) Co-operate with the federal government in matters of mutual concern pertaining to assistance to dependent children, including the adoption of such methods of administration as are found by the federal government to be necessary for the efficient operation of the plan for such assistance;

(e) Make such reports, in such form and containing such information, as the federal government may from time to time require, and comply with such provisions as the federal government may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports;

(f) Publish an annual report and such interim reports as may be necessary.

(g) Enter into reciprocal agreements with public welfare agencies in other states relative to providing for assistance and services to residents, non-residents or transients, and co-operate with other agencies of the state and federal governments in providing such assistance and services and in the study of the problems involved.

(h) The North Carolina state board of charities and public welfare is hereby authorized and empowered to receive grants in aid from the federal government or any state or federal agency for general relief or for any other relief purposes; and all such grants so made and received shall be paid to the state treasurer and credited to the account of the North Carolina state board of charities and public welfare, to be used in carrying out the provisions of this article. (1937, c. 288, s. 43; 1939, c. 395, s. 1.)

§ 108-58. Certain powers and duties of local boards—county welfare boards. — The county boards of welfare shall perform the duties herein required of them with relation to the administration of this article in the several counties, under the supervision and direction of the state board, and in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by said state board.

County boards of welfare shall:

(a) Report to the state board at such times and in such manner and form as the state board may from time to time direct;

(b) Submit to the state board the information required in this article preliminary to determination of the county's quota of funds and the determination of the amount required to be raised by taxation, together with its estimate and supporting data, setting forth the amount of money needed to carry out the provisions of this article; also submit to the board of county commissioners a duplicate of the estimate and supporting data furnished by it to the state board. Make and report to the state board and to the county board of commissioners such investigation as may be required in order that the said state board and boards of county commissioners may be fully informed as to the assistance required by dependent children coming within the eligibility provisions of this article; and may have such other information as may be required for proper determination upon any matter coming before the said boards;

(c) Perform any other duties required of them under this article or by proper rules and regulations made by the state board under authority thereof. (1937, c. 288, s. 44.)

§ 108-59. Application for assistance; determination thereon.—Applications for assistance under this article shall be made to the county welfare board of the county in which the applicant resides. Such application shall be in writing and in duplicate, in compliance with the rules and regulations established by the state board, which is required to furnish forms for such applications. Where the applicant is unable to present his application in writing by reason of illiteracy or other cause, the application shall be reduced to writing and filed in duplicate, on such forms as may be supplied by the state board, or substantially in agreement therewith. The county board of welfare, and the county welfare officer, shall render to applicants for assistance under this article such aid and assistance in the preparation of the applications as may be necessary. One copy of the application shall be forwarded to the state board.

Whenever a county board of welfare receives an application for assistance under this article, an investigation and record shall promptly be made of the circumstances of the children for whom application is made, in order to ascertain the facts supporting the application, and in order to obtain such other information as may be required by the rules of the state board. In the making of such investigation, the county welfare board and the county welfare officer shall make diligent investigation, and record promptly all the information which it is reasonably possible to obtain with respect to such application.

Upon the completion of the investigation the county board of welfare shall, upon due consideration, determine whether the applicant is eligible for assistance under the provisions of this article, and shall determine the amount of such assistance and the date on which it shall begin, but such award shall in no case exceed eighteen dollars ($18.00) for one child and twelve dollars ($12.00) additional per month for each of the other dependent children in the home eligible to assistance under this article: Provided, the total amount shall not exceed sixty-five dollars ($65.00) except in extraordinary circumstances in which it appears to the satisfaction of the state board that a total of sixty-five dollars ($65.00) per month would be insufficient to secure the purposes above set forth. Such award so made when effective shall thereafter be paid in advance monthly to the applicant, disbursement being made in the same manner and under the same procedure as in the case of other county funds.

The county board of welfare shall promptly notify by mail each applicant of its action disallowing the application for granting assistance, stating, in case award is made, the amount of the award and when assistance shall be paid. A copy of such notice shall be immediately forwarded to the board of county commissioners and a duplicate copy forwarded to the state board of allotments and appeal.

The state board is hereby authorized and empowered to establish and enforce reasonable rules and regulations governing the custody, use and preservation of the records, papers, files and communications relating to applicants and recipients. It shall be unlawful, except for purposes directly connected with the administration of aid to dependent children and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state board for any person or persons to solicit, disclose, receive, or make use of, or to authorize, knowingly permit, participate in, or acquiesce in the use of, any list of or names of, or any information concerning, persons applying for or receiving aid to dependent children, directly or indirectly derived from the records, papers, files, or communications of the state board or the county welfare board or acquired in the course of the performance of official duties. (1937, c. 288, s. 45; 1939, c. 395, s. 1; 1941, c. 232.)

§ 108-60. Action by county commissioners.—The board of county commissioners, in the event that they shall be of the opinion that any award made by the county board of welfare should be reconsidered and reviewed by them, shall have the right to review such award. In case of such action by the board of county commissioners, notice shall be given to the applicant fixing the time and place at which such reconsideration will be held. In the event the board of county commissioners deem that any award should be in any respect changed, an order shall be made thereon accordingly and notice thereof given to the applicant and a copy sent to the county board of welfare and the state board of allotments and appeal. (1937, c. 288, s. 46.)

§ 108-61. Assistance not assignable.—The assistance granted under this article shall not be transferable or assignable at law or in equity; and none of the money paid or payable under this article shall be subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment, or other legal process, or to the operation of any bankruptcy or insolvency law. (1937, c. 288, s. 47.)

§ 108-62. State board of allotments and appeal.—For the purpose of making allotment of state and federal funds to the several counties, and of giving to applicants appealing from the county boards a fair hearing and determination upon such applications and appeal, the state board of allotments and appeal, created under § 108-33 shall as an agency of the state board have complete and final jurisdiction. If an application is not acted upon by the county welfare board within thirty days or is denied in whole or in part, or if any award of assistance is modified or canceled under any provisions of this article, the applicant or recipient may appeal to the board of allotments and appeal in the manner and form prescribed by the said board of allotments and appeal. The board of allotments and appeal shall, upon receipt of such an appeal, give the applicant or recipient and the board of county commissioners and county board of welfare reasonable notice and opportunity for a fair hearing. Upon such hearing the applicant or recipient shall have an opportunity of presenting his claim in full to the board upon such evidence as may be pertinent or proper; and the board of allotments and appeal shall diligently inquire into the matter, and shall approve or disapprove or modify the action of the county board of welfare and the board of county commissioners, as in the judgment of the board of allotments and appeal may be just and proper.

Upon any appeal from the board of county commissioners, it shall be the duty of such board to forward to the state board of allotments and appeal a certified copy of the order refusing assistance or granting the same, with such information, in brief, as may bear upon the application and the action of the board of commissioners, and such papers and documents or other matter as may be required under the rules of the board of allotments and appeal, or under its order in the particular matter.

When the state board of allotments and appeal shall have made its final decision upon the matter, notice thereof shall be given to the applicant or recipient and to the board of county commissioners and the county board of welfare. The decision of the state board of allotments and appeal shall be final.

The state board of allotments and appeal may also on notice to the board of county commissioners and county board of welfare, upon its own motion, review any decision of the board of county commissioners or county board of welfare and may consider any application upon which a decision has not been made within thirty days. The state board of allotments and appeal may make such additional investigation as it may deem necessary in all cases and make such decision thereupon as in its opinion is justified and in conformity with the provisions of this article. Applicants, or recipients, affected by such decision of the state board of allotments and appeal shall, upon request, be given reasonable notice and opportunity for a fair hearing by the board of allotments and appeal. All decisions of the state board of allotments and appeal shall be final and shall be binding upon the county involved, and shall be complied with by the board of county commissioners and the county board of welfare.

The state board may authorize hearings of appeals in any county by other representatives selected by said boards, subject to final determination by the state board of allotments and appeal. (1937, c. 288, s. 48.)

§ 108-63. Periodic reconsideration and changes in amount of assistance. — All assistance grants made under this article shall be reconsidered as frequently as may be required by the rules of the state board. It shall be the duty of the county welfare board, with the assistance of the county welfare officer, to keep fully advised as to questions concerning aid to dependent children and the propriety and necessity of the continuance thereof to recipients and as to such changed conditions relating to recipients as may affect the necessity for such assistance or the amount thereof.

Where changes have occurred in the condition of any recipient requiring a modification or cancellation of an award, the county board of welfare is authorized and empowered to make such changes as the facts and circumstances may justify and in accordance with the provisions of this law. Prompt notice of such action shall be given to the recipient and a copy of such notice shall be sent to the state board and board of county commissioners. Such action on the part of the county board shall be subject to review by the state board as provided in cases of original awards, and the recipient shall have the right to appeal therefrom to the state board of allotments and appeal as in cases of original awards. (1937, c. 288, s. 49.)

§ 108-64. Removal to another county.—Any resident who moves to another county and continues to have such dependent children in custody in this state shall be entitled to receive assistance in the county to which he has moved, and the board of county commissioners of the county from which he has moved shall transfer all necessary records relating to the recipient to the county board of commissioners of the county to which he has moved. The county from which the recipient moves shall pay the assistance for a period of three months following such removal, and thereafter assistance shall be paid by the county to which such recipient has moved.

In the event that the applicant and the dependent children are residents of this state and have not lived in any county of the state for the twelve months' period necessary to acquire a settlement therein, nevertheless, if otherwise eligible, such residents shall be allowed assistance upon application to the board of welfare of the county in which he has been domiciled, in the same manner as assistance is allowed to persons in the county who have acquired a settlement therein; but such allowance of assistance shall be paid entirely out of the state aid to dependent children fund, without participation of the county therein; and in allocating funds to the county for the purpose of disbursement to recipients under this article, the state board of allotments and appeal is authorized and empowered to reserve out of such allocations and to transmit to the counties concerned a sufficient amount of the state fund to provide for disbursement to such residents who have not acquired settlement in any county. (1937, c. 288, s. 50.)

§ 108-65. Procedure preliminary to allotments and county taxation; investigation and report.—It shall be the duty of the county welfare boards to make diligent investigation within the county and obtain and record statistical and other information concerning dependent children in the county entitled to assistance under this article, and to keep such information compiled in convenient accessible form. Therefrom they shall, annually, on or before the first day of May, compile and make a report to the board of county commissioners, for their better information and guidance, which report shall contain a concise statement or estimate of the total amount necessary to be expended within the county to carry out the provisions of this article for the next ensuing fiscal year, accompanied by such supporting data as the state board of allotments and appeal may require. Such reports shall be made on forms furnished by the state board or in compliance with the rules and regulations of said state board. A copy thereof shall be immediately forwarded to the state board.

Upon the information so furnished, and such other information as may be available, or may be obtained upon such further investigation as the board of commissioners may see proper to make, the board of commissioners shall make a careful estimate of the amount necessary to be expended within the county for the purpose of this article for the ensuing fiscal year, and, separately stated, the amount necessary to be raised by county taxation. The board of county commissioners shall, on or before the first day of April, make a report to the state board of allotments and appeal, which report shall contain the said estimates, with supporting data, in such form and detail as the board of allotments and appeal may require. (1937, c. 288, s. 51.)

§ 108-66. Allocation of funds.—As soon as may be practicable after receiving the said reports, and before the time for the annual levy of taxes in the respective counties, the state board of allotments and appeal shall proceed to ascertain and determine the amount of state and federal funds available for disbursement in the counties for the purposes of this article for the next ensuing fiscal year. The board shall, at the same time, determine the amounts to be raised in each of the respective counties by taxation to supplement the state and federal funds allotted to such county. The allotment of state and federal funds to any county shall not exceed three times the amount to be raised in said county by local taxation, except as provided in § 108-73.

The determination of such amount by the board of allotments and appeal shall be final and binding upon the several counties respectively, and shall be a part of the county budget. The county commissioners shall, at the time of levying other taxes, levy and impose upon all the taxable subjects within the county a tax sufficient to produce such amount; and the same shall be collected as other taxes.

The proceeds of such taxes shall be kept in a separate fund in the county treasury, and shall be subject to the provisions of the Local Government Act with respect to depository security and control, and shall be used only for the purposes of this article. It shall be the duty of the board of allotments and appeal to inquire into the condition of the said fund from time to time and to require that such protection be afforded the funds as occasion may demand. The funds shall be disbursed for the purposes of this article on warrants drawn on the county treasurer or other designated county officials where there is no county treasurer, signed by the secretary of the county welfare board, countersigned by the county auditor and chairman of the welfare board, for both payments of grants to recipients and for administrative purposes. (1937, c. 288, s. 52; 1939, c. 395, s. 1; 1941, c. 232.)

§ 108-67. Administration expenses.—The state board of allotments and appeal shall annually allocate to the several counties of the state, in accordance with the total amount of benefit payments to be paid in each county for aid to dependent children therein, the sum provided by the federal government under the Social Security Act for payment of administrative expenses. Any amounts in excess of said allotments to the several counties, which are necessary to the proper administration of this article by the several counties, shall be determined by the state board of allotments and appeal upon budgets submitted to said board by the county welfare boards in each county. Said determination shall be made on or before the first day of June in each year.

After being so determined, one-half of such costs shall be allocated and paid to the respective counties by the state board of allotments and appeal from the appropriation made by the state for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this article. The other half of said county administrative expenses shall be paid by the respective counties. The state board of allotments and appeal shall, on or before the first day of June in each year, notify the board of county commissioners in each county as to the amount of administrative expenses such county is required to provide, and upon receipt of such notice, it shall be mandatory upon each county that taxes shall be levied within said county to provide for the payments of such part of such county's administrative expenses. (1937, c. 288, s. 53; 1941, c. 232.)

§ 108-68. Transfer of state and federal funds to the counties. — The aid to dependent children fund shall be drawn out on the warrant of the state auditor, issued upon order of the state board, evidenced by the signature of the commissioner of welfare. Quarterly, and oftener, if in the sound judgment of the state board it may be necessary, the state board shall transfer to the several counties such part of the county allotment as may be necessary for disbursement in such county, in connection with county-raised funds for a reasonable period. Before transferring said funds the state board may, in its discretion, require that the county shall certify, through its auditor or fiscal agent, that sufficient county funds are on hand to pay the county quota of disbursement corresponding to the amount of state funds to be so transferred. The state board of allotments and appeal is authorized, in its discretion, to transfer to any county for the first quarter in any fiscal year an amount sufficient to pay in full the awards approved in such county, one-third of said amount being advanced to the county in anticipation of the collection of taxes. Such amount so advanced shall be deducted from allotments thereafter to be made to such county within the fiscal year.

The funds so transferred shall go into the county aid to dependent children fund, and be subject to all the provisions of the Local Government Act as to custody and depository protection; and the state board may require such additional protection to such funds as they may deem proper.

When in the judgment of the state board the disbursement of funds in the counties to recipients entitled to assistance is being unduly delayed, or the payments to such recipients jeopardized, the state board may require, as a condition for the allotment or transmission of any funds to the county for disbursement, that such awards shall be promptly paid, and may withhold the funds from such counties until satisfied that the awards are being paid with promptness and certainty. When in its judgment the public interest may require and the funds collected in the county for disbursement hereunder may be better protected, and greater promptness and certainty may be secured in payment of awards to recipients entitled to receive same, the state board may demand and require that the funds raised by taxation in any county be transmitted to the treasurer of the state, subject to disbursement under such rules and regulations as the state board may adopt. Immediately upon notice to the board of county commissioners of the county affected, and to the officials of the said county having any such funds in custody, such board of county commissioners and officials shall immediately transfer all of such funds and pay over the same to the state treasurer for disbursement, under the rules and regulations aforesaid. (1937, c. 288, s. 54.)

§ 108-69. Accounts and reports from county officers. — The boards of county commissioners shall cause proper accounts to be kept of the receipts and disbursements under this article, and shall make a quarterly report to the state board in detail, showing such receipts and the persons to whom disbursements have been made, and the amount thereof. Such reports may be required by the state board as often as may be deemed necessary. The accounts shall at all times be open to inspection by the state board and its authorized auditors, supervisors, and deputies. (1937, c. 288, s. 55.)

§ 108-70. Further powers and duties of state board.—The state board is authorized and directed to make such reports as may be required by the federal government under the Social Security Act; to keep the funds received from the federal government in such manner and in such account, and cause the same to be disbursed as may be required by such federal administrative authority, notwithstanding any provisions hereof; and the provisions of this article with respect to the handling, disbursement of federal funds, where contrary to the rules and regulations of federal authority, shall be deemed directory only, so that such rules and regulations shall prevail; but otherwise they shall be mandatory. (1937, c. 288, s. 56.)

§ 108-71. Fraudulent acts made misdemeanor. —Whoever knowingly obtains, or attempts to obtain, or aids or abets any person to obtain by means of wilfully false statement or representation or by impersonation, or other fraudulent device, assistance to which he is not entitled, or assistance greater than that to which he is justly entitled, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 288, s 57.)

§ 108-72. Limitations of article. — All assistance granted under this article shall be deemed to be granted and to be held subject to the provisions of any amending or repealing act that may hereafter be passed, and no recipient shall have any claim for compensation, or otherwise, by reason of his assistance being affected in any way by any amending or repealing act. (1937, c. 288, s. 58.)

§ 108-73. Equalizing fund.—The state board of allotments and appeal is authorized and directed to set apart and reserve out of the appropriation authorized to be made by the state under § 108-23, relating to old age assistance, and under § 108-52, relating to aid to dependent children, such an amount of said funds appropriated by the state to the respective funds as shall be found by the state board of allotments and appeal to be necessary for the purpose of equalizing the burden of taxation in the several counties of the state, and the benefits received by the recipients of awards under this article, and such amount shall be expended and disbursed solely for the use and benefit of needy aged persons and dependent children coming within the eligibility provisions of this article. Said amount shall be distributed to the counties according to the needs therein in conformity with the rules and regulations adopted by the state board of allotments and appeal, producing, as far as practicable, a just and fair distribution thereof: Provided, however, that no county shall be entitled to share in such equalizing fund unless the rate of tax necessary to be levied in such county for the purposes of this article is in excess of ten cents on the one hundred dollar valuation of taxable property therein: Provided further, the state board of allotments and appeal shall not allot to any county from such equalizing fund more than three-fourths of the cost to such county in excess of the amount produced in such county by a levy and collection of a tax rate of ten cents on the one hundred dollar valuation of taxable property therein.

After determining the amount to be allotted to any county from such equalizing fund, the state board of allotments and appeal shall determine the amount to be raised in such county by taxation to supplement the state and federal funds allotted to said county as in this article otherwise provided, and it shall be mandatory upon the boards of county commissioners in the several counties to annually levy taxes in accordance therewith. (1937, c. 288, s. 62.)

General Provisions.

§ 108-74. Organization; appointment of agencies; employment.—The state board shall have opportunity to set up such organization as may in its judgment be deemed proper to secure the economic and efficient administration of this article, not inconsistent with other provisions hereof. It may delegate such powers as may be lawfully delegated to such persons and agencies as will expedite the prompt execution of the duties of the board in ministerial matters; may appoint auditors, accountants, supervisors, and deputies, and other agents to aid it in its supervisory powers and to secure the proper care of the funds and administration of the law; and may employ clerical and other assistance. Except as herein otherwise provided, the salaries and compensation paid to the personnel shall be fixed by the budget commission, and the number of salaried persons and employees shall be subject to the approval of the budget commission. The organization shall likewise be such as to meet the approval of the Federal Social Security Authority in charge of the old age assistance.

The board is further authorized to pay ordinary expenses incident to administration, and to fix and pay per diem compensation to members of boards to whom new duties have been given and of whom additional service is required under this article. Such compensation shall be subject to the approval of the director of the budget. (1937, c. 288, s. 63.)

§ 108-75. County funds; how provided.—Wherever in this article provisions are made requiring the several counties to annually levy or annually levy and collect taxes to provide for such amounts as such counties are required to pay for old age assistance, or for aid to dependent children, or for the cost of administration, such provisions shall be construed to mean that such counties may provide the sums to be raised by them from any sources of county income or revenue (including borrowing in anticipation of collection of taxes) which may be available for use for such purposes by such counties. (1937, c. 288, s. 63½.)

§ 108-76. Termination of federal aid.—If for any reason there should be a termination of federal aid as anticipated in this article, then and in that event this article shall be ipso facto repealed and rendered null and void: Provided, however, such repeal shall not become or be in force unless and until the governor of the state of North Carolina has issued a proclamation, duly attested by the secretary of state of the state of North Carolina, to the effect that there has been a termination of such federal aid. In the event that this article should be ipso facto repealed as herein provided, the state funds on hand shall be converted into the general fund of the state for such use as may be authorized by the director of the budget, and the county funds accumulated by the provisions of this article in the respective counties of the state shall be converted into the general fund of such counties for such use as may be authorized by the county commissioners. (1937, c. 288, s. 63½-A.)

Art. 4. Home Boarding Fund.

§ 108-77. State boarding home fund created.—The general assembly of North Carolina shall make appropriations to the state board of charities and public welfare for the purpose of providing aid for needy and dependent children and paying their necessary subsistence in boarding homes. The state board of charities and public welfare, from said appropriations, shall maintain a fund to be known and designated as the state boarding home fund, from which said fund there shall be paid, in accordance with the rules and regulations adopted by the state board of charities and public welfare, the amount necessary to provide homes for the needy and dependent children coming within the eligibility provisions of this article. (1937, c. 135, s. 1.)

§ 108-78. No benefits to children otherwise provided for.—No needy or dependent child shall be eligible for the benefits provided in this article if such child is eligible for benefits provided by

Part 2 of Article 3 entitled "Aid to Dependent Children." (1937, c. 135, s. 2.)

§ 108-79. Administration of fund by state board of charities and public welfare.—From the fund so provided, the state board of charities and public welfare may provide for payment of the necessary costs of keeping needy and dependent children in suitable boarding homes, including the children committed to the state board of charities and public welfare under the provisions of § 110-29, provided such children so committed to such state board of charities and public welfare are ineligible for assistance under the "Aid to Dependent Children Act" hereinbefore referred to. Said fund shall be expended under the rules and regulations adopted by the state board of charities and public welfare. (1937, c. 135, s. 3.)

Art. 5. Regulation of Organizations and Individuals Soliciting Public Alms.

§ 108-80. Regulation of organizations, institutions, etc., soliciting public aid for charitable purposes.—All organizations, institutions or associations formed outside the state of North Carolina for charitable purposes, who through agents or representatives or by mail publicly solicit and receive public donations or sell memberships in this state, and all individuals, firms, or organizations selling merchandise, periodicals, books for advertising space of any kind, upon the representation or under the pretense that the whole or any part of the profit derived from the sale or barter of such merchandise, periodicals, books or advertising space, shall be used for charitable purposes, shall be required to file with the state board of charities and public welfare a statement setting forth the name and location of such organization, institution or association, the purposes for which said organization, institution or association exists, the names of its principal officers and soliciting agents, the purposes for which the money solicited is to be expended and the terms under which solicitors are employed. In the case of the selling of merchandise, periodicals, books for advertising space of any kind for charitable purposes, such statement shall set forth the full name of the individual, firm or organization conducting the same, the location at which the sale is to be conducted, the names of all organizations, institutions or associations for whose benefit the sale is conducted, the purposes for which the proceeds thereof are to be expended and the terms, including salaries and commissions, under which all employees are employed. (1939, c. 144, s. 1.)

§ 108-81. License required for soliciting alms, etc.—It shall be unlawful for an individual to engage in the business of soliciting alms or begging charity for his or her own livelihood upon the streets or highways of this state or through door to door solicitation without first securing a license from the proper licensing agency hereinafter provided for. Any person desiring to engage in the business of begging or soliciting alms shall file with the proper licensing agency hereinafter provided for a written application for a license, stating in the application the name of the person desiring the license, his or her address for the past five years, the purpose for which he or she desires to solicit alms, the manner in which said funds shall be disbursed, and any other reasonable information which may be requested on the license form. The carrying of merchandise by the individual soliciting alms or begging charity shall not exempt the individual so begging from the provisions of this article. (1939, c. 144, s. 1.)

§ 108-82. Issuance of license for blind persons by state commission for blind.—If the individual soliciting alms is blind or visually handicapped, or if the organization, institution or association is soliciting public aid in behalf of the blind or visually handicapped, the application for license shall be referred to the North Carolina state commission for the blind, which application shall be approved or disapproved, giving reasons therefor. If the said application is approved, the license shall be issued by the North Carolina state commission for the blind to said individual, organization, institution or association, its agents and representatives, without expense, authorizing said individual, organization, institution or association to publicly solicit alms or to publicly solicit and receive public donations or sell memberships in any county, city or township in the state. (1939, c. 144, s. 1.)

§ 108-83. Issuance by state department of vocational rehabilitation for crippled, etc., persons.—If the individual soliciting alms is handicapped, or if the organization, institution or association is soliciting public aid in behalf of the crippled, the application for license shall be referred to the North Carolina state department of vocational rehabilitation, which application shall be approved or disapproved, giving reasons therefor. If the said application is approved, the North Carolina state department of vocational rehabilitation shall issue to said individual, organization, institution or association, its agents and representatives, a license, without expense, authorizing said individual, organization, institution or association to publicly solicit alms or to publicly solicit and receive public donations or sell memberships in any county, city or township in the state. (1939, c. 144, s. 1.)

§ 108-84. License for deaf persons issued by bureau of labor for the deaf.—If the individual publicly soliciting alms has impaired hearing, or if the organization, institution or association is soliciting public aid in behalf of the deaf or hard of hearing, the application for license shall be referred to the bureau of labor for the deaf, which application shall be approved or disapproved, giving reasons therefor. If the said application is approved, the bureau of labor for the deaf shall issue to said individual or to said organization, institution or association, its agents and representatives, a license, without expense, authorizing said individual or said organization, institution or association to publicly solicit alms or to publicly solicit and receive public donations or sell memberships in any county, city, or township in the state. (1939, c. 144, s. 1.)

§ 108-85. Other licenses issued by state board of charities and public welfare.—All other applicants desiring to solicit alms publicly, and all other organizations, institutions or associations desiring to solicit public aid for charitable purposes shall make application to the state board of charities and public welfare, and the application for license shall be approved or disapproved, with the reasons therefor. If said application is approved, the state board of charities and public welfare shall issue to the said individual or to the said organization, institution or association, its agents and representatives, a license, without expense, authorizing said individual or said organization, institution or association to publicly solicit alms or to publicly solicit and receive public donations, or sell memberships in any county, city or township in the state. Such license shall be valid for one year from and after the date of its issuance, and may be renewed from time to time in the same manner as is herein provided for the original granting thereof. Any license issued to an individual or to an organization, institution or association, under the provisions of this article, may be revoked by the issuing agency for cause shown, and after reasonable notice to said individual or to said organization, institution or association and after due opportunity to be heard. Nothing in this article, however, shall be construed to prohibit any local organization, institution or association from publicly soliciting funds or donations within the county in which such organization, institution or association is located. (1939, c. 144, s. 1.)

§ 108-86. Solicitors required to have on person, copy of license with photograph attached.—It shall be unlawful for any agent or representative of any organization, institution or association formed for charitable purposes, which is licensed under the provisions of this article, to publicly solicit and receive donations in this state, unless such agent or representative is provided with a copy of the license of the organization, institution or association which he represents, or by whom he is employed. Attached to such copy of said license, there shall be a photograph of the individual soliciting made within the past twelve months, which photograph must be attested and countersigned by the president, secretary or treasurer of said organization, institution or association by which such agent or representative is employed, or which he represents, certifying that such agent or representative is authorized by such organization, institution or association, to publicly solicit and receive donations for the same. (1939, c. 144, s. 2.)

§ 108-87. Exemptions.—The provisions of this article shall not apply to any appeal or solicitation made in a public religious or charitable or educational service or in a meeting of any lodge or church or Sunday school or charitable organization, or through the public press, American Legion and other patriotic organizations. (1939, c. 144, s. 2a.)

§ 108-88. Violations made misdemeanor.—Any person who shall violate any provisions of this article or who shall solicit alms without first applying for and obtaining a license as herein provided, or who shall solicit funds under any such license and thereafter divert the same to purposes other than that for which they were contributed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not to exceed six months. (1939, c. 144, s. 3.)

§ 108-89. Repeal of laws.—Sections 14-336, 14-337 and 14-338 are hereby repealed only in so far as they are in direct conflict with the provisions of this article. (1939, c. 144, s. 5.)

§ 108-90. Application of article.—Nothing in this article shall apply to any church, religious denomination, civic club, or lodge, which is either located in, resident in, or has communicants or members resident in this state, or their officers, employees or representatives, or to institutions or agencies fostered or promoted by the same. (1939, c. 144, s. 5a.)

Art. 1. Official Bonds.

§ 109-1. Irregularities not to invalidate.—When any instrument is taken by or received under the sanction of the board of county commissioners, or by any person or persons acting under or in virtue of any public authority, purporting to be a bond executed to the state for the performance of any duty belonging to any office or appointment, such instrument, notwithstanding any irregularity or invalidity in the conferring of the office or making of the appointment, or any variance in the penalty or condition of the instrument from the provision prescribed by law, shall be valid and may be put in suit in the name of the state for the benefit of the person injured by a breach of the condition thereof, in the same manner as if the office had been duly conferred or the appointment duly made, and as if the penalty and condition of the instrument had conformed to the provisions of law: Provided, that no action shall be sustained thereon because of a breach of any condition thereof or any part of the condition thereof which is contrary to law. (Rev., s. 279; Code, s. 1891; R. C., c. 78, s. 9; 1842, c. 61; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 16; C. S. 324.)

§ 109-2. Penalty for officer acting without bond.—Every person or officer of whom an official bond is required, who presumes to discharge any duty of his office before executing such bond in the manner prescribed by law, is liable to a forfeiture of five hundred dollars to the use of the state for each attempt so to exercise his office. (Rev., s. 278; Code, s. 1882; R. C., c. 78, s. 8; C. S. 325.)

§ 109-3. Condition and terms of official bonds.—Every clerk, treasurer, sheriff, coroner, register of deeds, surveyor, and every other officer of the several counties who is required by law to give a bond for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, shall give a bond for the term of the office to which such officer is chosen. (Rev., s. 308; Code, s. 1874; 1869-70, c. 169; 1876-7, c. 275, s. 5; 1895, c. 207, s. 4; 1899, c. 54, s. 54; C. S. 326.)

§ 109-4. When county may pay premiums on bonds.—In all cases where the officers or any of them named in § 109-3 are required to give a bond, and the said officer or officers are paid by a set or fixed salary, the county commissioners of the county in which said officer or officers are elected are authorized and empowered to pay the premiums on the bonds of any and all such officer or officers. (1937, c. 440.)

§ 109-5. Annual examination of bonds; security strengthened.—The bonds of the officers named in § 109-3 shall be carefully examined on the first Monday in December of every year, and if it appears that the security has been impaired, or for any cause become insufficient to cover the amount of money or property or to secure the faithful performance of the duties of the office, then the bond shall be renewed or strengthened, the insufficient security increased within the limits prescribed by law, and the impaired security shall be made good; but no renewal, or strengthening, or additional security shall increase the penalty of said bond beyond the limits prescribed for the term of office. (Rev., s. 308; Code, s. 1874; 1869-70, c. 169; 1876-7, c. 275, s. 5; 1895, c. 207, s. 4; 1899, c. 54, s. 54; C. S. 327.)

§ 109-6. Effect of failure to renew bond.—Upon the failure of any such officer to make such renewal of his bond, it is the duty of the board of commissioners, by an order to be entered of record, to declare his office vacant, and to proceed forthwith to appoint a successor, if the power of filling the vacancy in the particular case is vested in the board of commissioners; but if otherwise, the said board shall immediately inform the proper person having the power of appointment of the fact of such vacancy. (Rev., s. 309; Code, s. 1875; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 2; C. S. 328.)

§ 109-7. Justification of sureties.—Every surety on an official bond required by law to be taken or renewed and approved by the board of commissioners shall take and subscribe an oath before the chairman of the board or some person authorized by law to administer an oath, that he is worth a certain sum (which shall be not less than one thousand dollars) over and above all his debts and liabilities and his homestead and personal property exemptions, and the sum thus sworn to shall in no case be less in the aggregate than the penalty of the bond. But nothing herein shall be construed to abridge the power of the said board of commissioners to require the personal presence of any such surety before the board when the bond is offered, or at such subsequent time as the board may fix, for examination as to his financial condition or other qualifications as surety. (Rev., s. 310; Code, s. 1876; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 3; 1879, c. 207; 1889, c. 7; 1891, c. 385; 1901, c. 32; C. S. 329.)

§ 109-8. Compelling justification before judge; effect of failure.—When oath is made before any judge of the superior court by five respectable citizens of any county within his district that after diligent inquiry made they verily believe that the bond of any officer of such county, which has been accepted by the board of commissioners, is insufficient either in the amount of the penalty or in the ability of the sureties, it is the duty of such judge to cause a notice to be served upon such officer requiring him to appear at some stated time and place and justify his bond by evidence other than that of himself or his sureties. If this evidence so produced fails to satisfy the judge that the bond is sufficient, both in amount and the ability of the sureties, he shall give time to the officer, not exceeding twenty days, to give another bond, fixing the amount of the new bond, when there is a deficiency in that particular. And upon failure of the said officer to give a good bond to the satisfaction of the judge within the twenty days, the judge shall declare the office vacant, and if the appointment be with himself, he shall immediately proceed to fill the vacancy; and if not, he shall notify the persons having the appointing power that they may proceed as aforesaid. (Rev., s. 316; Code, s. 1885; 1874-5, c. 120; C. S. 330.)

§ 109-9. Successor bonded; official bonds considered liabilities.—The person so appointed shall give bond before the judge, and the bond so given shall in all respects be subject to the requirements of the law in relation to official bonds; and all official bonds shall be considered debts and liabilities within the meaning of § 109-7. (Rev., s. 317; Code, s. 1886; 1874-5, c. 120, s. 2; C. S. 331.)

§ 109-10. Judge to file statement of proceedings with commissioners.—When a vacancy is declared by the judge, he shall file a written statement of all his proceedings with the clerk of the board of commissioners, to be recorded by him. (Rev., s. 318; Code, s. 1887; 1874-5, c. 120, s. 3; C. S. 332.)

§ 109-11. Approval, acknowledgment and custody of bonds.—The approval of all official bonds taken or renewed by the board of commissioners shall be recorded by their clerk. Every such bond shall be acknowledged by the parties thereto or proved by a subscribing witness, before the chairman of the board of commissioners, or before the clerk of the superior court, registered in the register's office in a separate book to be kept for the registration of official bonds, and the original bond, with the approval of the commissioners endorsed thereon and certified by their chairman, shall be deposited with the clerk of the superior court, except the bond of said clerk, which shall be deposited with the register of deeds, for safe keeping. (Rev., s. 311; Code, s. 1877; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 4; 1879, c. 207, s. 2; C. S. 333.)

§ 109-12. Clerk records vote approving bond; penalty for neglect.—It is the duty of the clerk of the board of commissioners to record in the proceedings of the board the names of those commissioners who are present at the time of the approval of any official bond, and who vote for such approval. Every clerk neglecting to make such record, besides other punishment, shall forfeit his office. Any commissioner may cause his written dissent to be entered on the records of the board. (Rev., s. 312; Code, ss. 1878, 1881; 1869-70, c. 169, ss. 5, 8; R. C., c. 78, s. 7; 1790, c. 327; 1809, c. 777; C. S. 334.)

§ 109-13. When commissioner liable as surety.—Every commissioner who approves an official bond, which he knows to be, or which by reasonable diligence he could have discovered to have been, insufficient in the penal sum, or in the security thereof, shall be liable as if he were a surety thereto, and may be sued accordingly by any person having a cause of action on said bond. (Rev., s. 313; Code, s. 1879; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 6; C. S. 335.)

§ 109-14. Record of board conclusive as to facts stated.—In all actions under § 109-13 a copy of the proceedings of the board of commissioners in the particular case, certified by their clerk under his hand and the seal of the county, is conclusive evidence of the facts in such record alleged and set forth. (Rev., s. 314; Code, s. 1881; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 8; C. S. 336.)

§ 109-15. Person required to approve bond not to be surety.—No member of the board of commissioners, or any other person authorized to take official bonds, shall sign as surety on any official bond upon the sufficiency of which the board of which he is a member may have to pass. (Rev., s. 315; Code, s. 1887; 1874-5, c. 120, s. 3; C. S. 337.)

Art. 2. Bonds in Surety Company.

§ 109-16. State officers may be bonded in surety company.—All persons who are required to give bond to the state of North Carolina to be received by the governor or by any department of the state government, in lieu of personal security, may give as security for said bond and for the performance of the duties named in the said bond any indemnity or guaranty company authorized to do business in the state of North Carolina, subject to such regulations as the governor or department may prescribe, and with power in them to demand additional security at any time. Any person presenting any indemnity or guaranty company as surety shall accompany his bond with a statement of the insurance commissioner as to the condition of such company as required by law. (Rev., s. 272; 1901, c. 754; C. S. 338.)

§ 109-17. When surety company sufficient surety on bonds and undertakings.—A bond or undertaking by the laws of North Carolina required or permitted to be given by a public official, fiduciary, or a party to an action or proceeding, conditioned for the doing or not doing of an act specified therein, shall be sufficient when it is executed or guaranteed by a corporation authorized in this state to act as guardian or trustee, or to guarantee the fidelity of persons holding places of public or private trust, or to guarantee the performance of contracts, other than insurance policies, or to give or guarantee bonds and undertakings in actions or proceedings.

The bond or undertaking of a corporation having such power shall be sufficient, although the law or regulation in accordance with which it i given requires two or more sureties, or requires the sureties to be residents or freeholders. But the clerk of the superior court may exercise his discretion as to accepting such a corporation's surety on the bonds of fiduciaries or parties to actions or proceedings. (Rev., s. 273; 1895, c. 270; 1899, c. 54, s. 45; 1901, c. 706; C. S. 339.)

§ 109-18. Clerk to notify county commissioners of condition of company. — Each clerk of the superior court shall furnish the chairman of the board of county commissioners of his county with notice of each surety company licensed in this state, and of each surety company whose license has been revoked, in which any officer of the county has been bonded. (Rev., ss. 295, 4803; C. S. 340.)

§ 109-19. Release of company from liability.—A company executing such bond, obligation or undertaking, may be released from its liability or security on the same terms as are or may be by law prescribed for the release of individuals upon any such bonds, obligations or undertakings. (Rev., s. 274; 1899, c. 54, s. 48; C. S. 341.)

§ 109-20. Company not to plead ultra vires.—Any company which executes any bond, obligation or undertaking under the provisions of this article is estopped, in any proceeding to enforce the liability which it assumes to incur, to deny its corporate power to execute such instrument or assume such liability. (Rev., s. 275; 1899, c. 54, s. 49; 1901, c. 706, s. 1, subsec. 5; C. S. 342.)

§ 109-21. Failure to pay judgment is forfeiture.—If a surety company against which a judgment is recovered fails to discharge the same within sixty days from the time such final judgment is rendered, it shall forfeit its right to do business in this state, and the insurance commissioner shall cancel its license. (Rev., s. 275; 1901, c. 706, s. 1, subsec. 5; C. S. 343.)

§ 109-22. On presentation of proper bond officer to be inducted.—Upon presentation to the person authorized by law to take, accept and file official bonds, of any bond duly executed in the penal sum required by law by the officer chosen to any such office, as principal, and by any surety company, as security thereto, whose insurance or guaranty is accepted as security upon the bonds of United States bonded officials (such insurance company having complied with the insurance laws of the state of North Carolina), or by any other good and sufficient security thereto, such bond shall be received and accepted as sufficient, and the principal thereon shall be inducted into office. (Rev., s. 276; 1899, c. 54, s. 53; 1901, c. 706, s. 1, subsec. 5; C. S. 344.)

§ 109-23. Expense of fiduciary bond charged to fund.—A receiver, assignee, trustee, committee, guardian, executor or administrator, or other fiduciary required by law to give a bond as such, may include as part of his lawful expenses such sums paid to such companies for such suretyship to the extent of bond premiums actually paid per annum on the account of such bonds as the clerk, judge or court may allow. (Rev., s. 277; 1901, c. 706, s. 1, subsec. 5; 1939, c. 382; C. S. 345.)

Art. 3. Mortgage in Lieu of Bond.

§ 109-24. Mortgage in lieu of bond required to be given. — An administrator, executor, guardian, collector or receiver, or an officer required to give an official bond, or the agent or surety of such person or officer, may execute a mortgage on real estate, of the value of the bond required to be given by him to the state of North Carolina, conditioned to the same effect as the bond should be, were the same given, with a power of sale, which power of sale may be executed by the clerk of the superior court, with whom said mortgage shall be deposited, upon a breach of any of the conditions of said mortgage, after advertisement for thirty days. (Rev., s. 265; Code, s. 118; 1874-5, c. 103, s. 2; C. S. 346.)

§ 109-25. Mortgage in lieu of security for appearance, costs, or fine.—Any person required to give a bond or undertaking, or required to enter into a recognizance for his appearance at any court, in any criminal proceeding, or for the security of any costs or fine in any criminal action, may also execute a mortgage on real or personal property of the value of such bond or recognizance, payable to the state of North Carolina, conditioned as such bond or recognizance would be required, with power of sale, which power shall be executed by the clerk or justice of the peace in whose court said mortgage is executed, upon a breach of any of the conditions of said mortgage.

Where such mortgage upon real property is executed before a justice of the peace the power of sale shall be enforced by the clerk of the court of the county in which the criminal proceeding is had.

No such mortgage on real property executed for the security for costs or fine shall allow a longer time for payment of said costs or fine than six months from the execution thereof, and no mortgage on personal property a longer time than three months, except in cases of appeal, when the time allowed shall be counted from the date of the final decision in the cause.

All legitimate expenses of sale, which shall only be made after due advertisement according to law, shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the mortgaged property, as shall also the following fees, to wit: For each sale of real property mortgaged under this section the clerk shall receive two dollars, and for each sale of personal property mortgaged under this section the clerk or justice of the peace who enforces the power of sale shall receive one dollar. (Rev., s. 266; Code, s. 120; 1874-5, c. 103, s. 3; 1891, c. 425, ss. 1, 2, 3; C. S. 347.)

§ 109-26. Cancellation of mortgage in such proceedings.—Any mortgage given by any person in lieu of bond as administrator, executor, guardian, collector, receiver or as an officer required to give an official bond, or as agent or surety of such person or officer, or in lieu of bond or undertaking or recognizance for his appearance at any court in any criminal proceeding, or for the security of any cost or fine in a criminal action which has been registered, when such party as administrator, executor, guardian, collector, or receiver has filed his final account and when the time required by statute for the bond given by any administrator, executor, guardian, collector, or receiver to remain in force for the purpose of action thereon has expired, or when the officer required to give an official bond has fully complied with the conditions of such bond and the time within which suit is allowed by law to be brought thereon has expired, or when the person giving such mortgage in lieu of bond has made his appearance at the court to which he was bound and did not depart the court without leave, or paid the cost or fine required, may be canceled or discharged by the clerk of the Superior Court of the county where such action was pending or where the mortgage in lieu of bond is recorded by entry of 'satisfaction' upon the margin of the record where such mortgage is recorded in the presence of the register of deeds, or his deputy, who shall subscribe his name as a witness thereto, and such cancellation shall have the effect to discharge and release all the right, title and interest of the State of North Carolina in and to the property described in such mortgage. (Rev., s. 267; 1905, c. 106; 1921, c. 29, ss. 1, 2; 1925, c. 252, s. 1; C. S. 348.)

§ 109-27. Validating statute.—All acts heretofore done by the several Superior Court clerks, canceling or satisfying any mortgage, or other instruments, herein mentioned and specified are hereby validated. (1925, c. 252, s. 2.)

§ 109-28. Clerk of court may give surety by mortgage deposited with register.—In all cases where the clerk of the superior court may be required to give surety, he may deposit a mortgage with the register of deeds, payable to the state, and conditioned, as the bond would have been required, with power of sale. The power of sale shall be executed by the register of deeds, upon a breach of any of the conditions of said mortgage; and the register of deeds shall in all cases immediately register the same, at the expense of the said clerk. (Rev., s. 268; Code, s. 122; 1874-5, c. 103, s. 6; C. S. 349.)

§ 109-29. Mortgage in lieu of bond to prosecute or defend in civil case.—It is lawful for any person desiring to commence any civil action or special proceeding, or to defend the same, his agent or surety, to execute a mortgage on real estate of the value of the bond or undertaking required to be given, at the beginning of said action, or at any stage thereof, to the party to whom the bond or undertaking would be required to be made, conditioned to the same effect as such bond or undertaking, with power of sale, which power of sale may be executed upon a breach of any of the conditions of the said mortgage after advertisement for thirty days. (Rev., s. 269; Code, s. 117; 1874-5, c. 103, s. 1; C. S. 350.)

§ 109-30. Affidavit of value of property required.—In all cases where a mortgage is executed, as hereinbefore permitted, it is the duty of the clerk of the court in which it is executed, or of the justice, to require an affidavit of the value of the property mortgaged to be made by at least one witness not interested in the matter, action or proceeding in which the mortgage is given. (Rev., s. 270; Code, s. 121; 1874-5, c. 103, s. 4; C. S. 351.)

§ 109-31. When additional security required.—If, from any cause, the property mortgaged in lieu of a bond becomes of less value than the amount of the bond in lieu of which the mortgage is given, and it so appears upon affidavit of any person having any interest in the matter as a security for which the mortgage was given, it is the duty of the mortgagor to give additional security by a deposit of money, or the execution of a mortgage on more property, or justify as required in cases where bond or undertaking is given. (Rev., s. 271; Code, s. 119; 1874-5, c. 103, s. 5; C. S. 352.)

Art. 4. Cash Deposit in Lieu of Bond.

§ 109-32. Cash deposit in lieu of bond; conditions and requirements.—In lieu of any written undertaking or bond required by law in any action pending in any court of the state, the party required to make such undertaking or bond may make a cash deposit of the amount required by law in lieu of the said undertaking or bond, and such cash deposit shall be subject to all of the same conditions and requirements as are provided for in written undertakings or bonds, in lieu of which such deposit is made. (1923, c. 58; C. S. 352(a).)

Art. 5. Actions on Bonds.

§ 109-33. Bonds in actions payable to court officer may be sued on in name of state.—Bonds and other obligations taken in the course of any proceeding at law, under the direction of the court, and payable to any clerk, commissioner, or officer of the court, for the benefit of the suitors in the cause, or others having an interest in such obligation, may be put in suit in the name of the state. (Rev., s. 280; Code, s. 51; R. C., c. 13, s. 11; C. S. 353.)

§ 109-34. Liability and right of action on official bonds.—Every person injured by the neglect, misconduct, or misbehavior in office of any clerk of the superior court, register, entry-taker, surveyor, sheriff, coroner, constable, county treasurer, or other officer, may institute a suit or suits against said officer or any of them and their sureties upon their respective bonds for the due performance of their duties in office in the name of the state, without any assignment thereof; and no such bond shall become void upon the first recovery, or if judgment is given for the defendant, but may be put in suit and prosecuted from time to time until the whole penalty is recovered; and every such officer and the sureties on his official bond shall be liable to the person injured for all acts done by said officer by virtue or under color of his office. (Rev., s. 281; Code, s. 1883; R. C., c. 78, s. 1; 1793, c. 384, s. 1; 1833, c. 17; 1825, c. 9; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 10; C. S. 354.)

§ 109-35. Complaint must show party in interest; election to sue officer individually.—Any person who brings suit in manner aforesaid shall state in his complaint on whose relation and in whose behalf the suit is brought, and he shall be entitled to receive to his own use the money recovered; but nothing herein contained shall prevent such person from bringing at his election an action against the officer to recover special damages for his injury. (Rev., s. 282; Code, s. 1884; R. C., c.

78, s. 2; 1793, c. 384, ss. 2, 3; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 11; C. S. 355.)

§ 109-36. Summary remedy on official bond. — When a sheriff, coroner, constable, clerk, county or town treasurer, or other officer, collects or receives any money by virtue or under color of his office, and on demand fails to pay the same to the person entitled to require the payment thereof, the person thereby aggrieved may move for judgment in the superior court against such officer and his sureties for any sum demanded; and the court shall try the same and render judgment at the term when the motion shall be made, but ten days notice in writing of the motion must have been previously given. (Rev., s. 283; Code, s. 1889; R. C., c. 78, s. 5; 1819, c. 1002; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 14; 1876-7, c. 41, s. 2; C. S. 356.)

§ 109-37. Officer unlawfully detaining money liable for damages.—When money received as aforesaid is unlawfully detained by any of said officers, and the same is sued for in any mode whatever, the plaintiff is entitled to recover, besides the sum detained, damages at the rate of twelve per centum per annum from the time of detention until payment. (Rev., s. 284; Code, s. 1890; R. C., c. 78, s. 9; 1819, c. 1002, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 169; C. S. 357.)

§ 109-38. Evidence against principal admissible against sureties.—In actions brought upon the official bonds of clerks of courts, sheriffs, coroners, constables, or other public officers, and also upon the bonds of executors, administrators, collectors or guardians, when it may be necessary for the plaintiff to prove any default of the principal obligors, any receipt or acknowledgment of such obligors, or any other matter or thing which by law would be admissible and competent for or toward proving the same as against him, shall in like manner be admissible and competent as presumptive evidence only against all or any of his sureties who may be defendants with or without him in said actions. (Rev., s. 285; Code, s. 1345; R. C., c. 44, s. 10; 1844, c. 38; 1881, c. 8; C. S. 358.)

§ 109-39. Officer liable for negligence in collecting debt.—When a claim is placed in the hands of any sheriff, coroner or constable for collection, and he does not use due diligence in collecting the same, he shall be liable for the full amount of the claim notwithstanding the debtor may have been at all times and is then able to pay the amount thereof. (Rev., s. 286; Code, s. 1888; R. C., c. 78, s. 3; 1844, c. 64; 1869-70, c. 169, s. 12; C. S. 359.)

Art. 1. Child Labor Regulations.

§ 110-1. Minimum age.—No minor under sixteen years of age shall be employed, permitted or allowed to work in, about, or in connection with any gainful occupation at any time: Provided, that minors between fourteen and sixteen years of age may be employed outside school hours and during school vacations, but not in a factory or in any occupation otherwise prohibited by law; and Provided, that boys twelve years of age and over securing a certificate from the department of labor, may be employed outside school hours in the sale or distribution of newspapers, magazines or periodicals subject to the provisions of § 110-8 relating to employment of minors in street trades and to such rules and regulations as may be provided under § 95-11. Nothing in this article shall be construed to apply to the employment of a minor engaged in domestic or farm work performed under the direction or authority of the minor's parent or guardian. (1937, c. 317, s. 1.)

§ 110-2. Hours of labor. — No minor under sixteen years of age shall be employed, permitted or allowed to work in, about or in connection with any gainful occupation more than six consecutive days in any one week, or more than forty hours in any one week, or more than eight hours in any one day, nor shall any minor under sixteen years of age be so employed, permitted or allowed to work before seven o'clock in the morning or after six o'clock in the evening of any day. No minor over sixteen years of age and under eighteen years of age shall be employed, permitted or allowed to work in or about or in connection with any gainful occupation for more than six consecutive days in any one week, or more than forty-eight hours in any one week, or more than nine hours in any one day, nor shall any minor between sixteen and eighteen years of age be so employed, permitted or allowed to work before six o'clock in the morning or after twelve o'clock midnight of any day, except boys between the ages of sixteen and eighteen may be permitted to work until one o'clock in the morning as messengers where the offices of the company for which they work do not close before that hour: Provided, that no girl between sixteen and eighteen years of age shall be so employed, permitted, or allowed to work before six o'clock in the morning or after nine o'clock in the evening of any day; and Provided further, that boys twelve years of age and over, employed in the sale or distribution of newspapers, magazines or periodicals outside school hours shall be subject to the provisions of § 110-8 relating to employment of minors in street trades, and to such rules and regulations as may be provided under § 95-11: Provided further, that minors under eighteen years of age may be employed in a concert or a theatrical performance, under such rules and regulations as the state commissioner of labor may prescribe, up to twelve o'clock midnight; and provided further, that telegraph messenger boys in towns where a full-time service is not maintained on Sundays may work seven days per week, but not for more than two hours on Sunday. The combined hours of work and hours in school of children under sixteen employed outside school hours shall not exceed a total of eight per day. (1937, c. 317, s. 2.)

§ 110-3. Lunch period.—No minor under sixteen years of age shall be employed or permitted to work for more than five hours continuously without an interval of at least thirty minutes for a lunch period, and no period of less than thirty minutes shall be deemed to interrupt a continuous period of work. (1937, c. 317, s. 3.)

§ 110-4. Posting of hours. — Every employer shall post and keep conspicuously posted in the establishment wherein any minor under eighteen is employed, permitted, or allowed to work, a printed abstract of this article and a list of the occupations prohibited to such minors, to be furnished by the state department of labor. (1937, c. 317, s. 4.)

§ 110-5. Time records.—Every employer shall keep a time-book and/or record, which shall state the name of each minor employed, and which shall indicate the number of hours worked by said minor on each day of the week, and the amount of wages paid during each pay period. Such time record shall be kept on file for at least one year after the entry of the record, and shall be open to the inspection of the state department of labor. (1937, c. 317, s. 5.)

§ 110-6. Hazardous occupations prohibited for minors under sixteen.—No minor under sixteen years of age shall be employed, permitted or allowed to work on or in connection with power-driven machinery. No minor under sixteen years of age shall be employed, permitted or allowed to work in or about or in connection with: Construction work of any kind, ship building, mines or quarries, stone cutting or polishing, the manufacture, transportation or use of explosives or highly inflammable substances, ore-reduction works, smelters, hot rolling mills, furnaces, foundries, forging shops or any other place in which the heating, melting or heat treatment of metals is carried on; lumbering or logging operations, saw or planing mills, pulp or paper mills, or in operating or assisting in operating punch presses or stamping machines, if the clearance between the ram and the die or the stripper exceeds one-fourth inch; power-driven wood-working machinery, cutting machines having a guillotine action, openers, pickers, cards or lappers, power shears, machinery having a heavy rolling or crush-action, corrugating, crimping, or embossing machines, meat grinding machines, dough brakes or mixing machines in bakeries or cracker making machinery, grinding, abrasive, polishing or buffing machines: Provided, that apprentices operating under conditions of bona fide apprenticeship may grind their own tools; machinery used in the cold rolling of heavy metal stock, metal plate bending machines, power-driven metal planing machines, circular saws, power-driven laundry or dry cleaning machinery, oiling, cleaning or wiping machinery or shafting or applying belts to pulleys; or in the operation or repair of elevators or other hoisting apparatus, or as drivers of trucks or other motor vehicles, or in the operation of any unguarded machinery. (1937, c. 317, s. 6.)

§ 110-7. Hazardous occupations prohibited for minors under eighteen.—No minor under the age of eighteen years shall be employed, permitted, or allowed to work at any processes where quartz or any other form of silicon dioxide or an asbestos silicate is present in powdered form, or at work involving exposure to lead or any of its compounds in any form, or at work involving exposure to benzol or any benzol compound which is volatile or which can penetrate the skin, or at work in spray painting, or in the handling of unsterilized hides or animal or human hair. Nor shall any minor under eighteen be employed or permitted to work in, about or in connection with any establishment where alcoholic liquors are distilled, rectified, compounded, brewed, manufactured, bottled, sold, or dispensed, or in a pool or billiard room. Nor shall any girl under the age of eighteen years be employed, permitted or allowed to work as a messenger in the distribution or delivery of goods or messages for any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of transmitting or delivering goods or messages.

Nor shall any minor under eighteen years of age be employed, permitted, or allowed to work in any place of employment, or at any occupation hazardous or injurious to the life, health, safety or welfare of such minor. It shall be the duty of the state department of labor and the said state department of labor shall have power, jurisdiction, and authority, after due notice and after hearings duly held, to issue general or special orders, which shall have the force of law, prohibiting the employment of such minors in any place of employment or at any occupation hazardous or injurious to the life, health, safety or welfare of such minors. (1937, c. 317, s. 7.)

§ 110-8. Employment of minors in street trades; sale or distribution of newspapers, etc. — No boy under fourteen years of age and no girl under eighteen years of age shall distribute, sell, expose or offer for sale newspapers, magazines, periodicals, candies, drinks, peanuts, or other merchandise in any street or public place, or exercise the trade of bootblack in any street or public place. No boy under sixteen years of age shall be employed or permitted or allowed to work at any of the trades or occupations mentioned in this section after seven p. m. or before 6 a. m., or unless he has an employment certificate issued in accordance with § 110-9. The state commissioner of labor shall have authority to make, promulgate and enforce such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary for the enforcement of this section, not inconsistent with this article or existing law.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent male persons over fourteen years of age from distributing newspapers, magazines and periodicals on fixed routes, seven days per week: Provided, that such persons shall not be employed nor allowed to work after eight o'clock p. m. and before five o'clock a. m., and that the hours of work and the hours in school do not exceed eight in any one day, except boys twelve years of age and over who have secured a certificate from the department of labor for the sale or distribution of newspapers, magazines or periodicals: Provided further, that such person shall not be permitted or allowed to work more than four hours per day nor more than twenty-four hours per week: Provided further, that nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent boys twelve years of age and over, upon securing a proper certificate from the department of labor, from being employed outside school hours in the sale or distribution of newspapers, magazines and periodicals (where not more than seventy-five customers are served in one day): Provided, that such boys shall not be employed between the hours of seven o'clock p. m. and six o'clock a. m., nor for more than ten hours in any one week. (1937, c. 317, s. 8.)

§ 110-9. Employment certificate required. — Before any minor under eighteen years of age shall be employed, permitted or allowed to work in, about or in connection with any gainful occupation, the person employing such minor shall procure and keep on file an employment certificate for such minor, issued as hereinafter prescribed. In case of a minor engaged in street trade where the relationship of employer and employee does not exist between such minor and the supplier of the merchandise which the minor sells, the parent or guardian of such minor shall be deemed the employer of such minor and shall procure and keep on file the employment certificate herein required. (1937, c. 317, s. 9.)

§ 110-10. Officers authorized to issue certificates.—The employment certificate required by this article shall be issued only by county or city superintendents of public welfare in such form and under such conditions as may be prescribed by the state department of labor. (1937, c. 317, s. 10.)

§ 110-11. Refusal and revocation of employment certificate.—The person designated to issue employment certificates may refuse to grant such certificate, or may revoke such certificate after issuance if, in his judgment, the best interests of the minor would be served by such refusal or revocation. Employer, parent or guardian of the minor whose employment certificate has been refused or revoked may appeal to the commissioner of labor. (1937, c. 317, s. 11.)

§ 110-12. Method of issuing employment certificates.—The person designated to issue employment certificates shall issue such certificates only upon the application in person of the minor desiring employment, and after having approved and filed the following papers:

(1) A promise of employment signed by the prospective employer or by some one duly authorized by him, setting forth the specific nature of the occupation in which he intends to employ such minor, and the number of hours per day and days per week which said minor shall be employed.

(2) Evidence of age showing that minor is of the age required by this article, which evidence shall consist of one of the following proofs of age and shall be required in the order herein designated, as follows:

(a) A duly attested transcript of the birth certificate filed according to law with a registrar of vital statistics, or other officer charged with the duty of recording births; or

(b) A baptismal certificate or transcript of the record of baptism, duly certified, and showing the date and place of birth; or

(c) Other documentary record of age (other than a school record or an affidavit of age) such as a Bible record, passport or transcript thereof, duly certified, or life insurance policy which shall appear to the satisfaction of the issuing officer to be good and sufficient evidence of age; or

(d) In the case none of the aforesaid proofs of age shall be obtainable, and only in such case, the issuing officer may accept the signed statement of the physician authorized to make the physical examinations required by this section, stating that, after examination, it is his opinion that the minor has attained the age required by law for the occupation in which he expects to engage. Such statement shall be accompanied by an affidavit, signed by the minor's parents or guardian, certifying to the name, date and place of birth of the minor and that the proofs of age specified in the preceding sub-divisions of this section cannot be produced.

(3) A statement of physical fitness, signed by a public health, public school or other physician assigned to this duty by the issuing officer with the approval of the state department of labor, setting forth that such minor has been thoroughly examined by such physician and that he is either physically fit to be employed in any legal occupation, or that he is physically fit to be employed under certain limitations, specified in the statement. If the statement of physical fitness is limited, the employment certificate issued thereon shall state clearly the limitations upon its use, and shall be valid only when used under the limitations so stated. The minor shall not be charged a fee for such examination or statement of physical fitness. The method of making such examinations shall be prescribed by the state department of labor.

(4) A school record signed by the principal of the school which the minor has last attended or by some one duly authorized by him, giving the full name, date of birth, grade last completed, and residence of the minor.

The employment certificate shall be delivered to the prospective employer of the minor for whom the employment certificate is issued, and such certificate shall be valid only for the employer named therein and for the occupation designated in the promise of employment. (1937, c. 317, s. 12.)

§ 110-13. Employment certificate as evidence.—Said employment certificate duly issued shall be conclusive evidence of the age of the minor for whom issued in any proceeding involving the employment of the minor under the child labor or workmen's compensation law or any other labor law of the state, as to any act occurring subsequent to its issuance. (1937, c. 317, s. 13.)

§ 110-14. Regular and vacation employment certificates.—Employment certificates shall be of two kinds, regular certificates permitting employment during school hours, and vacation certificates, permitting employment during the school vacation and during the school term at such time as the public schools are not in session. (1937, c. 317, s. 14.)

§ 110-15. Duties of employers in regard to employment certificates.—Every employer receiving an employment certificate shall, during the period of the minor's employment, keep such certificate on file at the place of employment and accessible to any certificate-issuing officer, attendance officer, inspector, or other person authorized to enforce this article. The failure of any employer to produce for inspection such employment certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the unlawful employment of the minor. (1937, c. 317, s. 15.)

§ 110-16. Certificates of age. — Upon request, it shall be the duty of the officer authorized to issue employment certificates to issue to any person between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one desiring to enter employment a certificate of age upon presentation of the same proof of age as is required for the issuance of employment certificates under this article, and such certificate duly issued shall be conclusive evidence of the age of the minor for whom issued in any proceeding involving the employment of the minor under the child labor or workmen's compensation law or any other labor law of the state, as to any act occurring subsequent to its issuance. (1937, c. 317, s. 16.)
